26 ¶ And when Joab was gone out from David, hee sent messengers after Abner, which brought him againe from the well of Siriah unknowing to David.

27 And when Abner was come againe to Hebron, Joab rooke him aside in the gate to speake with him secretly, and smote him under the fifth rib, that he dyed, for the blood of Michal his wyther.

28 ¶ And when afterwarde it came to Dauid's eare, he said, I and my kingdom are guiltlesse before the Lord for ever, concerning the blood of Abner the sonne of Ner. Let the blood fall on the head of Joab, & on all his fathers house, that the house of Joab be neuer without some that haue running waters, or deeper, or that leaueh on a stake, or that doest fall on the sword, or that lacketh bread.

30 (So Joab & Abishai his brother slawe Abner, because hee had slaine their brother Ishbosheth at Gibeon in battell)

31 And David saide to Joab, and to all the people that were with him, Rent your clothes, and put on sackcloth, & mourne before Abner: and king David himselfe followed the bier.

32 And when they had buried Abner in Hebron, the king rose by his voyce, and wept beside the sepulchre of Abner, and

CHAPTER III.

9 Baanah and Rechab slay Ish-bosheth the son of Saul. 13 David commends them to be slain.
AND WHEN SAULS ^a sonne heard that Abner was dead in Hebron, then his handes were ^b feeble, and all Israel was afraid.
 2 And Sauls sonne had two men that were captaynes of bandes: the one called Baanah, and the other called Rechab, the sonnes of Kishunim a Berroeth of the children of Benjamin, (for Berroth was reckened to Benjamin).
 3 Because the Berroethes ^c fled to Gittaim, and foulered there, vnto this day) 4 And Jonathan Sauls sonne had a sonne that was lame on his fete: hee was fiew pere olde when the tidings came of Saul and Jonathan out of Israel: then his nurse tooke him, and fled away. And as shee made haste to flee, the childe fell, and became to halt, and his name was Ephibosheth.
 5 And the sonnes of Kishunim the Berroth, Rechab and Baanah went & came in the heat of the day to the house of Ish-bosheth (who slept on a bed at noon)
 6 And beholde, Rechab and Baanah his boyher came into the midds of the house, as they^d would haue w^eake, and they^e tooke him vnder the fift rib, and fled.
 7 For when they came into the house, hee slept on his bed in his bed chamber, and they smote him, and flew him, and beheaded him, and tooke his head, & gate them away through the^f plaine all the night.
 8 And they brought the head of Ish-bosheth vnto David to Hebron, and tolde to him. And he tolde the head of Ish-bosheth Sauls sonne thine enemy, unto forgiue after the life: and the Lord hath awaked me lord the king this day of Saul and of his fete.

9 Then David answered Achish & Saanah his brother, the Gomer of Kition the Beerothite, and said vnto them, as the Lord liueth, who hath deliuered me out of all aduersitie,

10 When one* tolde me, & said that Saul was dead, (thinking to haue brought good tidings) Iooke him and slew him in Ziklag, who thought that I would haue giuen him a reward for his tidings:

11 How much more, when wicked men haue slayne a righteous person in his owne house, & vpon his bed? Shall I not now therefore requite his blood at your hand, and take you from the earth?

12 Then David commaunded his young men, and they slew them, and cut off their handes and their feet, and hanged them vpon the trees in Hebron: but they tooke the head of Ish-bobeth, and buried it in the sepulchre of Abner in Hebron.

CHAP. V.

3 David is made King over all Israel. 7 He taketh the fort of Zion. 19 He asketh counsel of the Lord,
20 and overcometh the Philistines twice.
1 THEN came all the tribes of Israel to David unto Hebron, and sayde thus, Behold, we are thy bones and thy flesh.
2 And in time past when Saul was our king, thou leddest Israel in and out: and the Lord hath sayde to thee, Thou shalt feede up people Israel, and thou shalt be a captaine over Israel.
3 So all the Elders of Israel came to the king to Hebron: and King David made a covenant with them in Hebron before the Lord: and they anoynted David King over Israel.
4 ¶ David was thirtie yere olde when he began to reigne: and hee reigned fouentie yere.
5 In Hebron he reigned over Judah seven yere, and five monethes: and in Jerusalem he reigned thirtie and thre yeres as ner all Israel and Judah.
6 ¶ The King also and his men went to Jerusalem unto the Jebusites, the inhabitants of the land: who spake unto David, saying, Except thou take us alive, we be blind and lame, thou shalt not come in hither: thinking that David could not come thither.
7 But David took the fort of Zion: this is the citie of David.
8 Nowe David had sayde the same day, Whosoever smiteth the Jebusites, and getteth up to the gaters and smeth the lame and blinde, which Dauids men hath, I will preferre him: therefore they sayde, The blinde and the lame shall not come into that house.
9 So David dwelt in that fort, & called it the citie of David, & David built rounde about it, from Gilead and inward.
10 And David prospered and grew: for the Lord God of hostes was with him.
11 ¶ Hiram also king of Tyrus sent messengers to David, and cedar trees, and precious stones, and wishons for mailes: and

16 And Elisua, & Eliada, & Eliphalet.

17 * But when the Philistines heard that they had anointed Dauid King ouer Israel, all the Philistines came vp to seeke Dauid: and when Dauid heard, he went downe to a fort.

18 But the Philistines came, & spied their selues in the valley of Iephtaim.

19 Then Dauid asked counsell of the Loyd, saying, Shall I go vp to the Philistines: wilt thou deliuer them into mine hands? And the Loyd answered Dauid, Go vp: for I will doubtlesse deliuer the Philistines into thine hands.

20 * Then Dauid came to Baal perasim, and smote them there, and said, The Loyde hath deuised mine enemies alinder before me, as waters be deuised alinder: therefore he called the name of that place, * Baal perasim.

21 And there they left their images, and Dauid and his men¹ burnt them.

22 Against the Philistines came vp, & spied themselves in the valley of Iephtaim.

23 And when Dauid asked counsell of the Loyd, he answered, Thou shalt not go by, but turne about behind them, & come vpon them ouer against the mulberie trees.

24 And when thou hearest the noise of one going in the toppes of the mulberie trees, then remoue: for then shall the Loyd go out before thee, to smite the hoste of the Philistines.

25 Then Dauid did so as the Loyd had commaunded him, and smote the Philistines from Geba, vntill thou come to Gayer.

CHAP. VI.

1 The Arke is brought forth of the house of Abinadab. 7 Vzzah is stricken, & death. 14 Dauid dauncech before it. 15 And is therefore despised of his wife Michal.

1 And came Dauid gathered together all the choyren men of Israel, euen thirtie thousand.

2 * And Dauid arose and went with all the people that were with him, from Baale of Iudab to bring vp from thence the Arke of God, whose name is called by the name of the Loyde of hostes, that dwelleth vpon it betwene the Cherubims.

3 And they yue the Arke of God vpon a new cart, and brought it out of the house of Abinadab that was in Gibeon. And Vzzah and Ahio the sonnes of Abinadab did drawe the new cart.

4 And when they brought the Arke of God

out of the house of * Abinadab, that was at Gibeon, Ahio went before the Arke. And Dauid and all the house of Israel played before the Loyd on all instruments made of firre, and on harpes, & on Psalteries, and on tymbels, and on corgers, & on cymbals.

5 * And when they came to Machon, breiching some, Vzzah put his hands to the Arke of God, and heide it: for the open bid thake it.

6 And the Loyde was very wroth with Vzzah, and God smote him in the same place for his fault, and there he dyed by the Arke of God.

7 And Dauid was displeased, because the Loyd had * smitten Vzzah: and he called do any thing in the name of the place * Perez Vzzah vntill this day.

8 Therefore Dauid that day feared the Loyd, and said, How shall the Arke of the Loyd come to me?

9 So Dauid would not bring the Arke of the Loyd into him into the cite of Dauid, but Dauid caried it into the house of Dauid-bed-room: a Citie.

10 And the Arke of the Loyd continued in the house of Dauid-bed-room the Citie, thre moneths, & the Loyd blessed Dauid-bed-room, and all his household.

11 And one told king Dauid, saying, The Loyd hath blessed the house of Dauid-bed-room, & all that he hath, because of the Arke of God: therefore Dauid went & brought the Arke of God from the house of Dauid-bed-room, into the cite of Dauid with gladnesse.

12 And when they that bare the Arke of the Loyd had gone thr paces, hee offered an ore, and a fat beaft.

13 And Dauid daunced before the Loyde with all his might, and was girded with a linnen * Cythod.

14 So Dauid and all the house of Israel, brought the Arke of the Loyd with shouting, and sound of trumpet.

15 And as the Arke of the Loyd came into the cite of Dauid, Michal Dauids daughter looked throug a window, and sawe king Dauid leape, and daunce before the Loyd, and shee despised him in her heart.

16 And when they had brought in the Arke of the Loyd, they set it in his place, in the mids of the Tabernacle that Dauid had pitched for it: the Dauid offered burnt offerings, & peace offerings before the Loyd.

17 And also as Dauid had made an end of offering burnt offerings and peace offerings, hee blessed the people in the name of the Loyd of hostes.

18 And game among all the people, euen among the whole multitude of Israel, as well to the women as men, to every one a cake of bread, and a pice of flesh, and a bottle of wine: so all the people departed every one to his house.

19 And when Dauid returned to bless his house, and Michal the daughter of Dauid came out to meete Dauid, and said, How glorious to towne the King of Israel this day, which hath brought it to a pass in the eyes of the maidens neighbours, to see the King of Israel.

2 David would build God an house, but is forbidden by the Prophet Nathan. 8 God putteth David in minds of his benefites. 12 He promisseth continuance of his kingdom and posteritie.

1 Chron. 17. 1.

1 Afterward when a king came in his house, & the Lojbe had given him rest round about from all his enemies,

2 The king David unto Nathan the Prophet, Behold, now I dwell in an house of cedar trees, and the Arke of God remaineth within the curtains.

3 Then Nathan said unto the king, Doe, and doe all that is in thine heart: for the Lojbe is with thee.

4 And the same night the woide of the Lojbe came unto Nathan, saying,

5 Doe, and tell my seruant David, Thus saith the Lojbe, Shalt thou build me an house for my dwelling?

6 For I have dwelt in no house since the time that I brought the children of Israel out of Egypt vnto this day, but haue walked in a tent and tabernacle.

7 In all the places wherein I haue walked with all the children of Israel, spake I one woide with any of the tribes of Israel when I commanded the Iudges to seeke my people Israel: or said I, Whoe buildeth me not me an house of cedar trees?

8 Nowe therefore so say vnto my seruant David, Thus saith the Lojbe of hostes, I tooke thee from the shepheard following the shepe, that thou mightest be ruler over my people, over Israel.

9 And I was with thee wheresoever thou hast walked, and haue destroyed all thine enemies out of thy sight, and hast made thee a great name, like vnto the name of the great men that are in the earth.

10 And I will appoint a place for my people Israel, & will plant it, that they may dwell in a place of their owne, and moue no more, neither shall wicked people trouble them any more as before time.

11 And since the time that I set Iudges ouer my people of Israel, and I will giue thee rest from all thine enemies: also the Lojbe telleth thee, that he will make thee an house.

12 And when thy dayes be fulfilled, thou shalt sleepe with thy fathers, and I will set up thy seede after thee, which shall proceede out of thy body, and will stablish his kingdom.

13 He shall build an house for my name, and I will stablish the throne of his kingdom for euer.

14 I will be his father, and he shall be my sonne: and if he sinne, I will chasten him with the rod of men, & with the plagues of the children of men.

15 But my mercie shall not depart away from him, as Iooke it fro Saul to his children. I haue put away before thee.

16 And thine house shall be stablished & thy kingdom for euer before thee, even thy throne shall be stablished for euer.

17 According to all these woides, & according to all this vision, Nathan spake thus vnto David.

18 Then King David went in, & sate before the Lojbe, and sayde, Who am I, O Lojbe God, and what is mine house, that thou hast brought me hitherto?

19 And this was yet a small thing in thy sight, O Lojbe God, therefore thou hast spoken also of thy seruants house for a great while: but both this appertaineth to Nathan, O Lojbe God?

20 And what can David say vnto thee: for thou, O Lojbe God, knowest thy seruants heart.

21 For thy woides sake, and according to thine owne heart hast thou done all these great things, to make them knowne vnto thy seruants.

22 Wherefore thou art great, O Lojbe God: for there is none like thee, neither is there any God besides thee, acrobing to all that we haue heard with our eares.

23 And what one people in the earth is like thy people, like Israel: whose God went and redeemed them to himselfe, that they might be his people, & that he might make him a name, and doe for you great things, and terrible for thy land, O Lojbe, k And in her even for thy people, whome thou redeemedst to thee out of Egypt, from the nations, and their gods?

24 For thou hast redeemed to thy selfe thy gyptians & their people Israel to be thy people for euer: and thou Lojbe art become their God.

25 Nowe therefore, O Lojbe God, confirme that Godfree for euer the woide that thou hast spoken election is concerning thy seruants & his house, and do as thou hast said.

26 And let thy name be magnified for euer by them that shall say, The Lojbe of be his people: hostes is the God ouer Israel: and let the house of thy seruants be stablished before thee.

27 For thou, O Lojbe of hostes, God of Israel, hast reuered vnto thy seruants, sayes: seek Gods glory, I will build thee an house: therefore shall thy seruants bene bold to pray this compliment of his promise.

28 Therefore now, O Lojbe God, for thou art God, & thy woide be true, & thou hast tolde this goodnesse vnto thy seruants.

29 Therefore now let it please thee to blesse the house of thy seruants, that it may continue for euer before thee: for thou, O Lojbe God, hast spoken it: and let the house of thy seruants be blessed for euer, with thy blessing.

CHAP. IX.

After this now, David smote the Philistines, and subdued them, and David tooke the bulke of bondage out of the hand of the Philistines.

And he smote Moab, and measured them with a cubbe, and cast them downe to the ground: he measured them with two cubbes to put them to death, and with one full cubbe to keepe them alive: so became the Moabites Davids servants, and brought gifts.

David smote also Hadadezer king of Rehob king of Zobah as he went to recover his boyler at the river Euphrates.

And David tooke of them a thousand and seven hundred horsemen, and twenty thousand footmen, and David destroyed all the chariots, but he reserved an hundred chariots of them.

Then came the Aramites of Damascus to succoure Hadadezer king of Zobah, but David slew of the Aramites two and twenty thousand men.

And David put a garrison in Ram of Damascus: and the Aramites became servants to David, and brought gifts. And the Lord sanctified David wheresoever he went.

And David took the shields of gold that belonged to the servants of Hadadezer, and brought them to Jerusalem.

And out of Be'er, and Be'erotai (cities of Hadadezer) king David brought exceeding much byasse.

Then Toi king of Hamath heard howe David had smitten all the host of Hadadezer.

Therefore Toi sent Toiarm his sonne to king David, to salute him, & to restore to him by cause he had fought against Hadadezer, and beaten him (for Hadadezer had warre with Toi) who brought with him vessels of silver, and vessels of golde and vessels of byasse.

And king David did dedicate them unto the Lord with the silver and gold that he had dedicated of all the nations, which he had subdued.

So Ram, & of Moab, and of the children of Ammon, and of the Philistines, and of Haleb, & of the people of Hadadezer the sonne of Rehob king of Zobah.

So David gave a name after that he returned, and had thine of the Aramites in the valley of salt eight thousand men.

And he put a garrison in Edom: whosoever out of Edom put he out, & all the king of Edom became Davids servants: the Lord kept David, & whithersoever he went.

Thus David reigned over all Israel, & executed judgement and justice unto all his people.

And Joab the sonne of Neriah was over the host, and Jothaphat the sonne of Achitub was recorder.

And Zadoh the sonne of Achitub, and Ahimelech the sonne of Abiathar were the priests, and Seraiah the scribe.

And Beniahuih the sonne of Jehoiada, and the Cherethites & the Pelethites, and Davids souldiers were chiefe rulers, David restored all the landes of Saul to Mephibosheth the sonne of Jonathan. His appointeth Ziba to see to the profits of his land.

And David saide, Is there yet any man left of the house of Saul, that I may shewe him mercie for Jonathan sake?

And there was of the household of Saul a servant whose name was Ziba, and when they had called him unto David, the king said unto him, Art thou Ziba? And he said, I thy servant am he.

Then the king said, Remaineth there yet none of the house of Saul, on whom I may shewe the mercie of God? Ziba then answered the king, Jonathan hath yet a sonne, I knowe of his feete.

Then the king said unto him, Where is he? And Ziba saide unto the king, Behold, he is in the house of Barzai the sonne of Anniel of Gedar.

Then king David sent, and tooke him out of the house of Barzai the sonne of Anniel of Gedar.

Now when Mephibosheth the sonne of Jonathan, the sonne of Saul was come unto David, he fell on his face, and did reverence, and David saide, Mephibosheth: And he answered, Behold thy servant.

Then David said unto him, Feare not: for I will surely shewe thee kindness for Jonathan thy fathers sake, and will restore thee all the feildes of Saul thy fathers, and thou shalt eate bread as my table continually.

And he bowed himself, and said, What is thy servant, that thou shouldest looke upon such a dead dog as I am?

Then the king called Ziba Davids servant, and saide unto him, I have given unto thy masters sonne all that pertained to Saul and to all his house.

Thou therefore and thy souldiers and thy servants shall till the land for him, and being in that thy masters sonne may have food to eat. And Mephibosheth thy masters sonne shall eate bread alway at my table (nowe Ziba had fiftene souldiers, and twentie servants).

Then said Ziba unto the king, According to all that my lord the king hath commanded his servant, so shall thy servant doe, that Mephibosheth may eate at my table, as one of the kings souldiers.

Mephibosheth also had a pong sonne named Micha, and all that dwelled in the house of Ziba, were servants unto Mephibosheth.

And Mephibosheth dwelt in Jerusalem: for he did eate continually at the kings table, and was laide on both his feet.

2 Then said Dauid, I will shew kindnesse vnto Hanun & some of Gabaah, as his father & shewed kindnesse vnto me. And Dauid sent his seruants to comfort him for his father. So Dauid's seruants came into the land of the children of Ammon.

3 And the princes of the children of Ammon sayd vnto Hanun their lord, Thinkest thou that Dauid doeth honour thy father, that he hath sent comforters to thee: hath not Dauid rather sent his seruants vnto thee, to search the cite, and to spy it out, and to overthrow it?

4 Wherefore Hanun tooke Dauid's seruants, & shamed off & halfe of their beard, and cut off their garments in the middle, and sent them away.

5 When it was told vnto Dauid, he sent to comforte them: for the men were exceedingly ashamed: and the king sayd, Tarie at Iericho, vntill your beards be grown, then returne.

6 And when the children of Ammon saw that they stanke in the sight of Dauid, the children of Ammon sent and hired the Ammonites of the house of Rehob, and the Ammonites of Zoba, twentie thousand footmen, and of king Maach a thousande men, and of Jith-tob twelue thousand men.

7 And when Dauid heard of it, he sent Joab, and all the hoste of the strong men.

8 And the children of Ammon came out, & put their annie in aray at the entering in of the gate: and the Ammonites of Zoba, and of Rehob, and of Jith-tob, and of Maach were by them in the field.

9 When Joab saw that the front of battell was against him before and behinde, he chose of all the choise of Israel, and put them in aray against the Ammonites.

10 And the rest of the people he deliuered into the hand of Abisai his brother, that he might put them in aray against the children of Ammon.

11 And he said, If the Ammonites be stronger then I, thou shalt helpe me, and if the children of Ammon be too strong for thee, I will come, and succour thee.

12 Be strong & let vs be valiant for our people, & for the cities of our God, & let & I goe do that which is good in his eyes.

13 Then Joab, and the people that was with him, ioynd in battell with the Ammonites, who fled before him.

14 And when the children of Ammon saw that the Ammonites fled, they fled also before Abisai, and entered into the cite. So Joab returned from the children of Ammon, and came to Ierusalem.

15 And when the Ammonites saw that their king was slaine before Israel, they gathered them together.

16 And Hadadzer sent, and brought out the Ammonites that were beyond the River: and they came to Helan, and Shobach the captaine of the hoste of Hadadzer went before them.

17 When it was shewed Dauid, then hee gathered all Israel together, and passed ouer Iordan, and came to Helan: and the Ammonites set them in aray against Dauid, and fought with him.

18 And the Ammonites fled before Israel: & Dauid destroyed & ten thousande chariots of the Ammonites, & fourtie thousand footmen, and more Shobach the captaine of his hoste, who died there.

19 And when all the kings, that were seruants to Hadadzer, saw that they fel before Israel, they made peace with Israel, & serued them: & the Ammonites feared to helpe the children of Ammon any more.

CHAP. XL

1 The cite Rabbah is besieged. 2 Dauid committeth adulterie. 17 Uriah is slaine. 29 Dauid marrieth Bath-sheba.

1 And when the yere was expired in the time when kings goe forth to battell, Dauid sent Joab, and his seruants to him, & all Israel, who destroyed & the children of Ammon, & besieged Rabbah: but Dauid remained in Ierusalem.

2 And when it was evening tide, Dauid arose out of his bed, and walked vpon the rooffe of the kings palace: & from the rooffe he saw a woman washing her selfe: & the woman was very beautifull to looke vpon.

3 And Dauid sent and inquired what woman it was: and one saide, Is not this Bath-sheba daughter of Eliam, wife to Uriah the Hittite?

4 Then Dauid sent messengers, and tooke her away: and she came vnto him and he lay with her: (now she was purified from her uncleannes) and she returned vnto her house.

5 And the woman conceived: therefore she sent and told Dauid, and saide, I am with childe.

6 Then Dauid sent to Joab saying, Send me Uriah the Hittite. And Joab sent Uriah to Dauid.

7 And when Uriah came vnto him, Dauid demanded him how Joab did, and how the people fared, & how the warre prospered.

8 Afterward Dauid said to Uriah, Goe downe to thine house, and wash thy feet. So Uriah departed out of the kings palace, and the king sent a present after him.

9 But Uriah slept at the doore of the kings palace with all the seruants of his lord, and went not downe to his house.

10 Then they tolde Dauid, saying, Uriah went not downe to his house: and Dauid saide vnto Uriah, Commest thou not from thy iourney? why dost thou not goe downe to thine house?

11 Then Uriah answered Dauid, The Ark & Israel, and Iudah be in tents: and my lord Joab & the seruants of my lord abide in the open fields: shall I then goe into mine house to eat & drinke, and he with my wife & by thy life, and by the life of thy soule, I will not do this thing.

12 Then Dauid saide vnto Uriah, Tarry yet this day, and to morrow I will send thee away. So Uriah abode in Ierusalem that day, and the morrow.

13 Then Dauid called him, and he did eat

his couch with the seruants of his lord,
but went not downe to his house.

14 And on þe morowe Dauid wrote a letter to Ioaþ, & sent it by the hande of Uriah.
15 And he wrote " thus in the letter, " But pe Uriah in the forefront of the strength of the battell, and recule ye backe from him, that he may be slayned, and die.

16 So when Ioaþ beseged the cite, he assigned Uriah vnto a place, where he knewe that strong men were.

17 And the men of the cite came out, and fought with Ioaþ: and there fell of the people of the seruants of Dauid, and Uriah the Hittite also dyed.

18 Then Ioaþ sent and tolde Dauid all the things concerning the warre.

19 And he charged the messenger, saying,
when thou hast made an ende of telling al
the matters of the warre vnto the King.

20 And if the Kings anger arise, so that he say vnto thee, Wherefore approachedst pe vnto the cite to fight? knowe ye not that they would hurle from the wall?

21 Who anote Abimelech sonne of Jeri-beloth? did not a woman cast a piece of a millstone vpon him from the wall, and he died in Thebez? why went ye nie the wall? Then say thou, Thy seruant Uriah
the Hittite is also dead.

22 So þe messenger went, & came & shewed Dauid all that Ioaþ had sent him for.

23 And the messenger sayde vnto Dauid,
Certainly the men persuaded against vs,
and came out vnto vs into the fildes, but we " pursued them vnto the entering of the gate.

24 But the shooters shot from the wall against thy seruants, & some of the Kings seruants be dead: and thy seruant Uriah
the Hittite is also dead.

25 Then Dauid sayde vnto the messenger, Thus shalt thou say vnto Ioaþ, Let not this thing trouble thee: for the sword de-noureth " one as well as an other: make thy battell more strong against the cite & destroy it, and encourage thou him.

26 And when the wife of Uriah hearde that her husbande Uriah was dead, she mourned for her husband.

27 So when the mourning was past, Da-uid sent and tooke her into his house, and he became his wife, & bare him a sonne:
but the thing that Dauid had done, displeased the Lord.

CHAP. XII.

1 David reproued by Nathan confesseth his sinne. 28
The child continued in adulterie, dyeth. 29 Solomon is borne. 26 Rehabs is taken. 31 The citizens are graciously punished.

Then the Lord " sent Nathan vnto Dauid, who came to him, and sayde vnto him, There were two men in one cite, the one rich, and the other poore.

2 The rich man had exceeding many sheepe
and oxen:

3 But the poore had none at all, save one little sheepe which he had bought, & nourished by: and it grew by with him, and with his children also, and did care of his owne moulde, and diantle of his owne cupp, and slept in his bosome, and was vnto him as his daughter.

4 Nowe there came a " stranger vnto the riche man, who " refused to take of his owne sheepe, and of his owne oxen to dresse for the stranger that was come vnto
him, but tooke the poore mans sheepe, and drest it for the man that was come
to him.

5 Then " Dauid was exceeding wroth with the man, & said to Nathan, As the Lord liueth, the man that hath done this thing, " shall surely die,

6 And he shall restore the lambe " foure of death, foldes, because he did this thing, and had no pittie therof.

7 Then Nathan sayd to Dauid, Thou art the man. Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, " I anointed thee King ouer Israel, &
deliuered thee out of the hand of Saul,

8 And gaue thee thy lordes " house, and thy lordes " wines into thy bosome, and gave thee the house of Israel, and of Iudah, and wouldest moreouer (if that had bene too little) haue giuen thee " such and such things.

9 Wherefore hast thou despised the commandement of the Lord to doe euill in his sight? thou hast killed Uriah the Hittite with the sword, & hast taken his wife to be thy wife, and hast slaine him with the sword of the " children of Ammon.

10 Nowe therefore the sword shall neuer depart from thine house, because thou hast despised me, and taken the wife of Uriah the Hittite to be thy wife.

11 Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will raise vp euill against thee out of thine owne house, and will " take thy wives before thine eyes, and give them vnto thy neighbour, & he shall lie with thy wives
in the sight of this sunne.

12 For thou diddest it secretly: but I will doe this thing before all Israel, and before the sunne.

13 The Dauid said vnto Nathan, " I haue sinned against the Lord. And Nathan sayde vnto Dauid, The Lord also hath put away thy sinne, thou shalt not die.

14 Notwithstanding by this deed thou hast caused the enemies of the Lord to " blaspheme, the child that is borne vnto thee shall surely die.

15 So Nathan departed vnto his house:
& the Lord strooke the child that Uriahs wife bare vnto Dauid, and it was sicke.

16 Dauid therefore besought God for the child, and fasted and " went in, and lape
all night vpon the earth.

17 Then the Elders of his house arose to come vnto him, and to cause him to rise from the ground: but he would not, neither did he eate " meate worth them.

18 So on the seventh day the child dyed:
and the seruants of Dauid feared to tell him that the child was dead: for they said, Beholde, while the child was a liue, we spake vnto him, and he would not

CHAPTER XIII.

¹⁴ Amnon Dauids sonne defiled his sister Tamar.
¹⁵ Tamar is comforted by her brother Absalom,
¹⁶ Absalom therefore killeth Amnon.

^a After this so it was, that Absalom the sonne of Dauid hauing a faire sister, whose name was " Tamar, Amnon þ sonne of Dauid loued her.
^b And Amnon was so loyered, that he fell sicke for his sister Tamar: for she was a virgin, and it seemed hard to Amnon b And therefore kept in her fathers house, as virgins were accustomed.

^c But Amnon had a friend called Jonabab, the sonne of Shimeah Dauids brother: & Jonabab was a very subtil man.

^d Who saide vnto him, Why art thou the kings sonne so leane front day to day? wilt thou not tell me? Then Amnon answered him, I loue Tamar my brother Absaloms sister.

^e And Jonabab saide vnto him, " Lie downe on thy bed, and make thy selfe sicke: and when thy father shall come to see thee, say vnto him, I pray thee, let my sister Tamar come, and giue me meate, and let her lacke council byrse meate in my sight, that I may see it, and eate it of her hand.

^f So Amnon lay downe, & made himselfe sicke: and when the king came to see him, Amnon sayd vnto the king, I pray thee, let Tamar my sister come, and make me a couple of cakes in my sight, that I may receiue meate at her hand.

^g Then Dauid sent home to Tamar, saying, Goe now to thy brother Ammons house, and byrse him meate.

^h So Tamar went to her brother Ammons house, and he lay downe: and she tooke flour, and knead it, and made cakes in his sight, & did bake the cakes.

ⁱ And she tooke a pan, and powdered them before him, but he would not eate. Then Amnon sayde, Cause þe euery man to goe out from me: so euery man went out from him.

^j Then Amnon saide vnto Tamar, Bring the meate into the chamber, that I may eate of thine hand. And Tamar tooke the cakes which she had made, and brought them into the chamber to Amnon her brother.

^k And when she had set them before him to eate, he tooke her, and sayde vnto her, Come, lie with me, my sister.

^l But she answered him, Nay, my brother, doe not force me: for no such thing ought to be done in Israel: commit not this follie.

^m And "I, whether shal I cause my shame to goe? and thou shalt be as one of the foolkes in Israel: now therefore, I pray thee, speake to the king, for he will not doe me vnto thee.

ⁿ Howbeit he would not hearken vnto her voyce, but being stronger then she, forced her, and lay with her.

^o Then Amnon hated her exceedingly, so that the hatred wherewith he hated her, was greater then the loue, wherewith he had loued her: and Amnon sayd vnto her, Vp get thee hence.

^p And she answered him, " There is no canst: this euill (to put me away) is greater then the other that thou biddest vnto me: but he would not heare her,

^q But called his seruant that serued him, and sayde, But this woman nowise out from me, and locke the doore after her.

^r (And she had a garment of diuers colours vpon her: for with such garments were the kings daughters that mation, Gen 38 were virgins, apparelled) Then his servant brought her out, & locked the doore after her.

19 And Tamar put ashes on her head and rent p garment of divers colours which was on her, & laid her hand on her head, and went her way crying.

20 And Abshalom her brother said unto her, hath Amnon thy brother done to thee? show me: for I will kill my sister: he is thy brother: I will not thine thing grieue thine heart. So Tamar remained desolate in her brothers Abshaloms house.

21 ¶ But when king David heard all these things, he was very wroth.

22 And Abshalom sayde unto his brother Amnon neither good nor bad: for Abshalom hated Amnon, because he had forced his sister Tamar.

23 ¶ And after the time of two yerres, Abshalom had shepheaters in Beal-hazon, which is beside Ephraim, and Abshalom called all the kings sonnes.

24 And Abshalom came to the king & said, Beholde now, thy servant hath shepheaters: I pray thee, that the king with his servants would go with thy servant.

25 But the king answered Abshalom, I pray some, I pray thee, let us not goe all, least we be chargeable unto thee. Yet Abshalom layd force upon him: howbeit hee would not go, but thanked him.

26 Then sayd Abshalom, But, I pray thee, that not my brother Amnon goe with us? And the king answered him, Why should he goe with thee?

27 But Abshalom was instant upon him, and he sent Amnon with him, and all the kings children.

28 ¶ Nowe had Abshalom commanded his servants, saying, Sparke now when Ammons heart is merry with wine, and whi I lay unto you, smite Amnon, kill him, feare not, for haue not I commanded you: be bolde therefore, and slay p men.

29 And the servants of Abshalom did unto Amnon, as Abshalom had commanded: and all the kings sonnes arose, and euery man gat him vp upon his mule, & fled.

30 ¶ And while they were in the way, tidings came to David, saying, Abshalom hath slaine all the kings sonnes, and there is not one of them left.

31 Then the king arose, and tare his garments, and lay on the ground, & all his servants stood by with their clothes rent.

32 And Jonadab the sonne of Shimeah Dauids brother answered & said, Let not my lord suppose that they haue slayne all the pong men the kings sonnes: for Amnon only is dead, because Abshalom had repoyled so, since hee forced his sister Tamar.

33 Now therefore let not my lord the king take the thing so grievously, to thinke that all the kings sonnes are dead: for Amnon onely is dead.

34 ¶ Then Abshalom fled: and the pong man kept the watch, lift vp his eyes, and looked, and beheld: there came much people by the way of the hill side behind him, 35 And Jonadab said unto the king, Beholde, the kings sonnes come: as thy servant sayd, so it is.

36 And as soone as hee left speaking, beholde, the kings sonnes came, and lift vp their voyces, and wept: and the king also & all his servants wept exceedingly so.

37 But Abshalom fled away, and went to Talmai the sonne of Ammihur king of Geshur: and David mourned for his sonne euery day.

38 So Abshalom fled, and went to Geshur, and was there thre yerres.

39 And king David desired to goe forth unto Abshalom, because hee was pacified concerning Amnon, seeing hee was dead.

4 ¶ Then the woman of Rehoah spake vnto the king, and set downe on her face to the ground, and did obeisance, and sayde, Helpe, O king.

5 Then the king sayde vnto her, What aileth thee? And shee answered, I am in deede a widow, & mine husband is dead:

18 Then the king answered, and sayd vnto the woman, Hide not from me, I pray thee, the thing that I shall aske thee. And the woman sayde, Let my lord the king now speake.

19 And the king sayd, Is not ⁱ the hande of Iob with thee in all this? Then the woman answered, and said, As thy soule liueth, my lord the king, I wil not turne to the right hand nor to h left, from ought that my lord the king hath spoken: for euen thy seruante Iob had me, and hee put al these wordes in the mouth of thine handmaid.

20 For to the intent that I should charge the foine of speech, thy seruante Iob hath done this thing: but ⁱ my lord is wise according to the wisdom of an Angell of God to understand al things that are in the earth.

21 ¶ And the king said vnto Iob, Behold now, I haue done this thing: goe then, & bying the yong man Absalom againe.

22 And Iob fel to the ground on his face, & bowed him selfe, and thanked the king. Then Iob sayd, This day thy seruante knoweth, that I haue found grace in thy sight, my lord the king, in that the king hath fulfilled h request of his seruante.

23 ¶ And Iob arose, and went to Bethur, and brought Absalom to Jerusalem.

24 And the king sayde, Let him ⁱ turne to his owne house, and not see my face. So Absalom turned to his owne house, and saw not the kings face.

25 Now in all Israel there was none to be so much praised for beautie as Absalom: from the sole of his foote euen to the top of his head there was no blemish in him.

26 And when hee polled his head, (for at euery yeeres end he polled it: because it was too heauie for him, therfore hee polled it) hee weighed the heare of his head at two hundredth shekels by the kings weight.

27 And Absalom had thre sonnes, and one daughter named Tamar, which was a faire woman to looke vpon.

28 ¶ So Absalom dwelt the space of two yeeres in Jerusalem, and sawe not the kings face.

29 Therfore Absalom sent for Iob to send him to the king, but he would not come to him: and when hee sent againe, he would not come.

30 Therfore he said vnto his seruants, Behold, Iob hath a field by my place, and hath barley therein: go, & set it on fire: & Absaloms seruants set the field on fire.

31 Then Iob arose, and came to Absalom vnto his house, & sayd vnto him, Wherofore haue thy seruants burnt my field with fire?

32 And Absalom answered Iob, Behold, I sent for thee, saying, Come thou hither, and I wil send thee to the king for to lay, Wherofore am I come from Bethur? He had bene better for me to haue bene there still: nowe therfore let me see the kings face: and if there be any trespass in me, let him kill me.

33 Then Iob came to the king, and tolde him: so he called for Absalom, who came to the king, and bowed himselfe to the ground on his face before the king, and the king kissed Absalom.

1 After this, Absalom prepared him chariots and horses, and sitted men to runne before him.

2 And Absalom rose up early, & stood hard by the entering in of the gate: and euery man that had any matter, and came to the king for iudgement, him did Absalom call vnto him, and sayd, Of what citie art thou? and he answered, Thy seruante is of one of the tribes of Israel.

3 Then Absalom sayd vnto him, See, thy matters are good & righteous, but there is no man depoued of h king to heare thee.

4 Absalom said moreover, O that I were iudge in the land, that euery man which hath any matter of controuersie, might come to me, that I might doe him iustice.

5 And when any man came nere to him, and did him obedience, hee put forth his hand, and tooke him, and kissed him.

9 And the king said unto him, Go in peace. So he arose, and went to Hebron.
10 Then Abalom sent spies throughout all the tribes of Israel, saying, When ye heare the founde of the trumpet, ye shall say, Abalom reigneth in Hebron.
11 And with Abalom went two hundred men out of Jerusalem, that were called: and they went in their simplicity, knowing nothing.
12 Also Abalom sent for Ahithophel the Gilonite Davids counsellor, from his citie Gihon, while he offered sacrifices: and the treason was great: for the people increased still with Abalom.
13 Then came a messenger to David, saying, The heartes of the men of Israel are turned after Abalom.
14 Then David said unto all his servants that were with him at Jerusalem, Up, & let us flee: for ye shall not escape from Abalom: make speede to depart, lest he come suddenly and take us, and bring euill upon vs, and smite the cite with the edge of the twojbe.
15 And the kings servants said unto him, Beholde, thy servants are ready to do as thou shalt say: but what shall we say to thee? for thy servants are ready to do as thou shalt say.
16 So the king departed and all his household after him, and the king left his concubines to keepe the house.
17 And the king went forth with all the people after him, and tarped in a place farre off.
18 And all his servants went about him, and all the Cherethites and all the Pelishtines and all the Gittites, even six hundred men which were come after him from Gath, went before the king.
19 Then said the king to Ittai the Gittite, Wherefore comest thou also with vs? Returne and abide with the king, for thou art a stranger: depart thou therefore to the place.
20 Thou canst pesterday, and shouldest I cause thee to wander to day & goe with vs? I will goe whither I can: therefore returne thou, and say againe thy brethren: mercy and truth be with thee.
21 And Ittai answered the king, and said, As the Lord liveth, and as my lord the king liveth, in what place my lord the king shall be, whether in death or life, even there surely will thy servant be.
22 Then David said to Ittai, Come, and go forward. And Ittai the Gittite went, and all his men, and all the children that were with him.
23 And all the countrey wept with a loud voice, and all the people went forward, but the king pass'd over the brooke Baradon: and all the people went over towards the way of the wilderness.
24 And loe, Zadok also was there, and all the Levites with him, bearing the Arke of the Covenant of God: and they set downe the Arke of God, and Abiathar went up until the people were all come out of the cite.

25 Then the king said unto Zadok, Carry the Arke of God againe into the cite: if I shall finde favour in the eyes of the Lord, he will bring me againe, and I shall see both it, and the Tabernacle thereof.
26 But if he thus say, I have no delight in thee, behold, I am here, let him doe to me as seemeth good in his eyes.
27 The king said againe unto Zadok the Priest, Art not thou a Seer? returne into the cite in peace, & pour two tonnes with you: to wit, Ahimaaz thy sonne, and Jonathan the sonne of Abiathar.
28 Beholde, I will tarpe in the fields of the wilderness, until there come some word from you to be tolde me.
29 Zadok therefore and Abiathar carried the Arke of God againe to Jerusalem, & they tarped there.
30 And David went by the mount of Olives and wept as he went by, & had his head covered, and went barefooted: and all the people that was with him, had every man his head covered, and as they went by, they wept.
31 Then one tolde David, saying, Ahithophel is one of them that have conspired with Abalom: and David said, O Lord, I pray thee, turne the counsel of Ahithophel into foolishnes.
32 Then David came to the toppe of the mount where he worshipped God: and behold, Gushai the Hittite came against him with his soare toyne, and having earth upon his head.
33 Unto whome David said, If thou goe with me, thou shalt be a burthen unto me.
34 But if thou returne to the cite, and say unto Abalom, I will be thy servant, (as I have bene in time past thy fathers servant, so will I now be thy fathers servant) then thou mayest bring me the counsel of Ahithophel to nought.
35 And hast thou not there with thee Zadok and Abiathar the Priests? therefore whatsoever thou shalt heare out of the Kings house, thou shalt shewe to Zadok and Abiathar the Priests.
36 Behold, there are with them their two tonnes: Ahimaaz Zadoks sonne, and Jonathan Abiathars sonne: by them also shalt thou send me every thing that ye can heare.
37 So Gushai Davids friend went into the cite: & Abalom came into Jerusalem.

4 Then said the king to Ziba, Behold, thine are all that pertained unto David's household. And Ziba said, "I beseech thee, let me finde grace in thy sight, my lord, & king."

5 And when king David came to Baurim, behold, thence came out a man of the familie of the house of Saul, named Shimei the sonne of Gera: and he came out, and cursed.

6 And he cast stones at David, & at all the servants of king David: and all the people, and all the men of warre were on his right hand, and on his left.

7 And thus said Shimei when he cursed, Come forth, come forth thou "murderer, and "wicked man."

8 The Lord hath brought upon thee all the blood of the house of Saul, in whose stead thou hast reigned: and the Lord hath delivered thee kingdome into the hands of Abisalom thy sonne: and behold, thou art taken in thy wickedness, because thou art a murderer.

9 Then said Abisalom the sonne of Zeruiah unto the king, Whyp doest thou "dead dog curse my lord the king: let me goe, I pray thee, and take away his head."

10 But the king said, What have I to doe with you, ye sonnes of Zeruiah? for he curseth, even because the Lord hath "hidden him curse David: who dare then say, Wherefore hast thou done so?

11 And David saidp to Abisalom, and to all his servants, Beholde, my sonne which came out of mine owne bowels, seeketh my life: then how much more now may this sonne of Zeruiah? Suffer him to curse: for the Lord hath hidden him.

12 It may be that the Lord will looke on mine affliction, and so me good for his cursing this day.

13 And as David and his men went by the wap, Shimei went by the side of the mountaine over against him, and cursed as he went, and threw stones against him, and cast dust.

14 Then came the king and all the people that were with him wearp, and refreshed themselves there.

15 And Abisalom, and all the people, the men of Israel came to Jerusalem, and Achishophel with him.

16 And when Hushai the Archite David's friend was come unto Abisalom, Hushai said unto Abisalom, "God saue the king, God saue the king."

17 Then Abisalom said to Hushai, Is this thy kindnesse to thy friend? Whyp wens test thou not with thy friend?

18 Hushai then answered unto Abisalom, Nay, but whome the Lord, and this people, and all the men of Israel chuse, his will I be, and with him will I dwell.

19 And "no more unto whom shall I do service: not to his sonne? As I served before thy father, so will I befoe thee.

20 Then spake Abisalom to Achishophel, Give counsell what we shall doe.

21 And Achishophel said unto Abisalom, Goe into thy fathers concubines, which he hath left to keepe the house: and when all Israel shall heare, that thou art abused of the father, the hands of all that are with thee, shall be strong.

22 So they spread Abisalom a tent upon the toppe of the house, and Abisalom went in to his fathers concubines in the sight of all Israel.

23 And the counsell of Achishophel which he counselled in those dayes, was like as one had asked "counsell at the oracle of God: so was all the counsell of Achishophel bory with David and with Abisalom.

CHAP. XVII.

2 And I will come upon him: for he is wearie, and weake hande: so I will feare him, and all the people that are with him, shall see, and I will smite the king onely, further the king, the people shall be in peace."

3 And I will bring againe all the people unto thee, & when all shall returne, ("the wicked man whome thou seekest being slayne) all David, the people shall be in peace."

4 And the saying "pleased Abisalom well, and all the Elders of Israel."

5 Then said Abisalom, Call nowe Hushai the Archite also, and let vs heare likewise "what he sayth."

6 So when Hushai came to Abisalom, Abisalom spake unto him, saying, Achishophel hath "spoken thus: shall we do after his saying, or not? tell thou."

7 Hushai then answered unto Abisalom, The counsell that Achishophel hath given, is not "good at this time."

8 For, sayd Hushai, thou knowest thy father, & his men, that they be strong men, and are chased in minde, as a beare robbed of her whelpes in the fildes: also thy father is a valiant warrior, and wil not "lodge with the people."

9 Beholde, he is hid nowe in some cave, or in some place: and though some of them be overthrowen at the first, yet the people shall heare, and say, The people that followe Abisalom, "be overthrowen."

10 Then he also that is valiant, whose heart is as a heart of a lion, shall "thinke and saynt: for all Israel knoweth, that thy father is valiant, and they which be with him, stout men."

11 Therefore my counsell is, that all Israel be gathered unto thee, from Dan unto Beer-sheba as the sands of the Sea in number, and that thou goe to battell in thine owne person.

12 So shall we come upon him in some place, where we shall finde him, and we will upon him as the dewe falleth on the ground:

this night: and that will be worse unto thee, then all the evil that fel on thee from the pouth hitherto.

8 Then the king arose, and late in the gate: and they tolde unto al the people, saying, Beholde, the king doeth sit in the gate: and all the people came before the king: for Israel had fled every man to his tent.

9 ¶ Then all the people were at strife throughout all the tribes of Israel, saying, The king saued vs out of the hand of our enemies, & he deliuered vs out of the hand of the Philistines, and now he is fled out of the land for Abialon.

10 And Abialon, whom we anointed ouer vs, is dead in battell: therfore why are ye so slow to bing the king againe?

11 But king David sent so Zadok and to Abiathar the ² ~~High~~ Priests, saying, Speake unto the Elders of Iudah, and say, Why are ye belinde to bing the king againe to his house, (for the saying of all Israel is come unto the king, even to his house)?

12 Ye are my brethren: in my bones and my flesh are ye: wherefore then are ye the last that bing the king againe?

13 Also say ye to Amasa, Art thou not my bone & my flesh? God do so to me & more also, if thou be not captainne of the hoste to me for euer in the ³ ~~house~~ route of Iouda.

14 So he bowed the hearts of all the men of Iudah, as of one man: therfore they sent to the king, saying, Returne thou with all thy seruants.

15 ¶ So the king returned, and came to Iordan. And Iudah came to Gilgal, for to go to meete the king, & to conduct him ouer Iordan.

16 ¶ And Shimei the sonne of Gera, the sonne of Jeimur, which was of Basurim, halsted & came downe with the men of Iudah to meete king David,

17 And a thousand men of Benjamin with him, and Abba the seruante of the house of Saul, & his fifteene sonnes and twentie seruants with him: and they went ouer Iordan before the king.

18 And there went ouer a boate to carrie ouer the kings household, and to do him pleasure. Then Shimei the sonne of Gera fel before the king, when he was come ouer Iordan,

19 And said vnto the king, Let not my lord impute wickednes vnto me, nor reuenge because the thing that thy seruante did: wike kedy when my lord the king departed out of Ierusalem, that the king should take it to his heart.

20 For thy seruante doeth know, that I haue done amiss: therfore beholde, I am the first this day of al the house of Ioseph, that am come to go downe to meete my lord the king.

21 But Abiathar the sonne of Neriah answered, & said, Shall not Shimei doe for this, because he cursed thy lord's anointed?

22 And David said, What haue I to doe with you, ye sonnes of Neriah, that this day ye should be aduersaries vnto mee? shall there any mid die this day in Israel?

for doe I knowe, that I am in this day king ouer Israel?

23 Therfore the king saide vnto Shimei, Thou shalt not dye, and the king sware vnto him.

24 ¶ And Mephibosheth the sonne of Saul came downe to meete the king, and had neither washed his feete, nor dressed his beard, nor washed his clothes from the time the king departed, until he returned in peace.

25 And when he was come to Ierusalem, and met the king, the king sayde vnto him, Wherefore wentest thou not with me, Mephibosheth?

26 And hee answered, My lord the king, my seruante became me: for thy seruante said, I would haue mine asse tailed to ride thereon for to goe with the king, because thy seruante is lame.

27 And he hath accused thy seruante vnto my lord the king: but my lord the king is as an Angel of God: doe therfore thy pleasure.

28 For all my fathers house were dead men before my lord the king, yet didest thou set thy seruante among them that did eate at thine owne table: what right therfore haue I yet to cry any more vnto the king?

29 And the king sayde vnto him, Why speakest thou any more of thy matters? I haue said, Thou, and Abba denide the ⁴ ~~landes~~ landes.

30 And Mephibosheth said vnto the king, Yea, let him take all, seeing my lord the king is come home in peace.

31 ¶ Then Barzillai the Gileadite came downe from Rogaim, and went ouer Iordan with the king, to conduct him ouer Iordan.

32 Now Barzillai was a very aged man, even foure score yere old, and he had inhabited the king of Iustenance, while he lay at Mahanaim: for he was a man of very great substance.

33 And the king said vnto Barzillai, Come ouer with me, and I will feede thee with me in Ierusalem.

34 And Barzillai sayde vnto the king, How long haue I to liue, that I should goe vp with the king to Ierusalem?

35 I am this day foure score yere old: and can I discerne betwene good & euill? hath thy seruante any taste in that I eate or in that I drinke? can I heare any more the voyce of singing men and women? wherefore then should thy seruante be any more a burthen vnto my lord the king?

36 Thy seruante wil goe a little way ouer Iordan with the king: & why wil thy king recompence it me with such a reward?

37 I pray thee, let thy seruante turne backe againe, that I may be in mine owne cistie, & be buried in the grave of my fathers and of my mother: but bestow thy seruante a Chimham, let him goe with my lord the king, & do to him what shal please the king.

38 And the king answered Chimham, that he should goe with me, and I will doe to him what thou shalt be content with: & what shal I doe for thee?

1 Shebanastriveth Israel against David, to Joab killeth Amasa treacherously. 22 The head of Sheba delivered to Joab. 23 Davids chiefs officers.

1 ¶ When there was come a wicked man (named Sheba the sonne of Bichai, a man of Beniamin) and he blew the trumpet, and sayd, We hane no part in David, neither hane we inheritance in the sonne of Ishai: every man to his tents, O Israel.

2 So every man of Israel went from David & followed Sheba the sonne of Bichai: but the men of Judah clave fall unto their king, from Jordan even to Jerusalem. When David then came to his house to Jerusalem, the king took the ten women his concubines, that he had left behinde him to keepe the house, and put them in ward, and fed them, but lap no moze with them: but they were enclosed unto the day of their death, living in widowhood.

4 ¶ Then sayde the king to Amasa, Assemble me the men of Judah within thre dayes, and be thou here present.

5 So Amasa went to assemble Judah, but he tarped longer then the tyme which he had appointed him.

6 ¶ Then David sayde to Abishai, Howe shall Sheba the sonne of Bichai doe vs moze harme then did Absalon: take thou therefore the swordes servants and follow after him, least he get him walled cities, and escape us.

7 And there went out after him Joabs men, and the Cherethites and the Pelishtites, and all the mighty men: and they departed out of Jerusalem, to followe after Sheba the sonne of Bichai.

8 ¶ When they were at the great stone, which is in Gibeon, Amasa went before them, and Joabs garment, that he had put on, was girded unto him, and upon his coat, that he it was a sword girded, which hanged on vied to wear in his loynes in the sheath, and as he went, the sword, it used to fall out.

9 And Joab sayde to Amasa, Art thou in health, my brother? And Joab took him by the beard with the right hand to kisse him.

10 But Amasa tooke no heed to the sword that was in Joabs hand: for therewith he smote him in the fifth rib, and shed out his bowels to the ground, and smote him not the second tyme: so he dyed. Then Joab and Abishai his brother followed after Sheba the sonne of Bichai.

11 And one of Joabs men stoode by him, & he said, He that savoureth Joab, & he that is of Davids part, let him go after Joab.

12 And Amasa wallowed in blood in the middes of the way: & when the man sawe that all the people stoode still, he removed Amasa out of the way into the fildes, and cast a cloth upon him, because he saw that every one that came by him, stoode still.

13 ¶ When hee was removed out of the way, every man went after Joab, to follow after Sheba the sonne of Bichai.

14 And hee went through all the tribes of Israel unto Abel, and Bethmaachab, all places of Beniamin: and they gathered together, & went also after him.

15 So they came, and besieged him in Bethmaachab, and they cast by a mount against the citie, & the people thereof stoode on the rampier, and all the people that was with Joab, & destroyed and cast downe the wall.

16 ¶ Then cryed a wise woman out of the citie, Heare, heare I pray you, lay unto Joab, Come thou hither, that I may speake with thee.

17 And when he came nere unto her, the woman sayd, Art thou Joab? And he answered, Yea. And she sayde to him, Heare the wordes of thine handmaide, And he answered, I doe heare.

18 ¶ Then shee spake thus, They spake in the olde tyme, saying, They should aske of Abel, and so hane they continued.

19 ¶ I am one of them, that are peaceable and faithful in Israel: and thou goest about to destroy a citie, and a mother in Israel: why wilt thou denounce the inheritance of the Lord?

20 And Joab answered, and sayde, God forbid, God forbid it me, that I should denounce, or destroy it.

21 ¶ The matter is not so, but a man of mount Ephraim (Sheba the sonne of Bichai by name) lift up his hand against the king, even against David: deserveth hee his owne death, & I will depart from the citie, and the woman sayd unto Joab, Beholde, his head shall shewen to thee over the wall.

22 ¶ Then the woman went unto all the people with her wisdom, and they cut off the head of Sheba the sonne of Bichai, and cast it to Joab: then he blew the trumpet, & they retired from the citie, every

1 ¶ Then there was a famine in the dayes of Dauid, three yerres together: and Dauid asked counsel of the Lord, and the Lord answered, It is for Saul, and for his bloody house, because he slew the Gibeonites.

2 ¶ Then the king called the Gibeonites, and sayde unto them (Now the Gibeonites were not of the children of Israel, but a remnant of the Amorites, unto whome the children of Israel had swoyne: but Saul sought to slay them for his zeale toward the children of Israel and Judah.)

3 And Dauid sayde unto the Gibeonites, What shall I doe for you, and wheres with shall I make the atonement, that ye may blisse the inheritance of the Lord?

4 The Gibeonites then answered him, We will have no silver nor golde of Saul nor of his house, neither for us shalt thou kill a man in Israel. And he sayde, What ye shall say, that will I do for you.

5 ¶ Then they answered the king, The man that consumed us, & that imagined enill against us, so that we are destroyed from remaining in any coast of Israel,

6 Let seven men of his sonnes be delivered unto us, and we will hang them up unto the Lord in Gibeath of Saul, the Lords chosen. And the king sayde, I will give them.

7 But the king had compassion on Absalom, hee the sonne of Jonathan the sonne of Saul, because of the Lords othe, that was betwene them, even betwene Dauid and Jonathan the sonne of Saul.

8 But the king took two sonnes of Rizpah the daughter of Eliab, whom he bare unto Saul, even Armoni and Phibosh, and the five sonnes of Michal the daughter of Saul, whom he bare to Absalom.

9 And he delivered them unto the handes of the Gibeonites, which hanged them in the mountaine before the Lord: so they dyed all seven together, and they were flaine in the time of harvest: in the first daies, & in the beginning of barly harvest.

10 ¶ Then Rizpah the daughter of Eliab took sackcloth and hanged it up for her upon the rocke, from the beginning of harvest, until water droped upon them from the heauen, and suffered neither the birds of the ayre to light on them by day, nor bestes of the field by night.

11 ¶ And it was tolde Dauid, what Rizpah the daughter of Eliab the concubine of Saul had done.

12 And Dauid went and took the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathan his sonne from the citize of Jabesh Gilead, which had stolen them from the streete of Bethshan, where the Philistims had hanged them, when the Philistims had slaine Saul in Gibeon.

13 So he brought thence the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathan his sonne, and they gathered the bones of them that were hanged,

14 And the bones of Saul & of Jonathan his sonne buried they in the countrey of Benjamin in Bethel, in the grave of his father: & when they had performed all that the king had commaunded, God was then appealed with the land.

15 ¶ Againe the Philistims had warre with Israel: and Dauid went downe, and his servants with him, & they fought against the Philistims, & Dauid slayned.

16 ¶ Then Ishi-benob which was of the sonnes of Haraphah (the head of whose speare waied thre hundred hekeles of brasse) even he being garded with a newe sworde, thought to have slaine Dauid.

17 But Abishai the sonne of Neriah succoured him, and smote the Philistim, and killed him. Then Dauids men sware unto him, saying, Thou shalt see no more out with us to battell, lest thou quench the light of Israel.

18 ¶ And after this also there was a battell with the Philistims at Gob, then Bethan the Gubathite slew Saph, which was one of the sonnes of Haraphah.

19 And there was yet another battell in Gob with the Philistims, where Ehanah the sonne of Jaare-oegim, a Berthebrute slew Goliath the Gittite: the blasse of whose speare was like a weavers beame.

20 Afterwarde there was also a battell in Gath, where was a man of a great stature, and had on every hand six fingers, and on every foote six toes, four and twentie in number: who was also the sonne of Haraphah.

21 And when he reuled Israel, Jonathan the sonne of Shina the brother of Dauid slew him.

22 These foure were boine to Haraphah in Gath, and died by the hande of Dauid and by the hands of his servants.

number ye the people, that I may know the number of the people.

3 And Joab said vnto the king, The Lord God encrease the people an hundredfold more then they be, & that the ries of my lord þ king may see it: but why doeth my lord the king desire this thing?

4 Forwithstanding the kings woide prentailed against Joab and against the capitaines of the hoste: thereto Joab and the capitaines of the hoste went out from the presence of the king, to number the people of Israel.

5 And they passed ouer Jordan, and pitched in Aroer at the right side of the cite that is in the mids of the valley of Gad and toward Jazer.

6 Then they came to Gilead, and to Tahiti-hodshi, so they came to Dan Jaan, and so about to Zidon,

7 And came to the forresse of Ephraim and to all the cities of the Ginites and of the Canaanites, & went towards the South of Judah, euen to Beer-sheba.

8 And when they had gone about all the land, they returned to Ierusalem at the end of ninte moneths and twentie daies.

9 And Joab deliuered the number and summe of the people vnto the king: and there were in Israel eight hundredth thousand strong men that drew swoyds, and the men of Iudah were five hundredth thousand men.

10 Then Dauids heart smote him, after that he had numbered the people: and David said vnto the Lord, I haue sinned exceedingly in that I haue done: therefore now, Lord, I beseech thee, take away the trespass of thy seruant: for I haue done verp foolishly.

11 And when David was vp in the morning, the word of the Lord came vnto the Prophet, Gad Dauids Beer, saying,

12 Go, and say vnto David, Thus saith the Lord, I offer thee three things, chuse thee which of them I shall doe vnto thee:

13 So Gad came to David, & shewed him, and said vnto him, Whether that seven yeeres famine come vpon thee in thy lande, or wilt thou three moneths befoze thine enemies, they following thee, or that there be three daies pestilence in thy land: now aduise thee, and see what answer I shall giue to him that sent me.

14 And David said vnto Gad, I am in a wonderfull strait: let vs fall now into the hande of the Lord, (for his mercies are great) and let me not fall into the hand of man.

15 So the Lord sent a pestilence in Israel, from the morning euen to the time appointed: and there dyed of the people from Dan euen to Beer-sheba seuentie thousand men.

16 And when the Kingell stretched out his hand vpon Ierusalem to destroy it, the Lord repented of the euill, & said to the Kingell that destroyed þ people, It is sufficient, holde nowe thine hand. And the Kingell of the Lord was by the thessing place of Araunah the Iebusite.

17 And David spake vnto the Lord (when he saw the Kingell that smote the people) and said, Beholde, I haue sinned, pea, I haue done wickedly: but these sheepe, what haue they done? let thine hande, I pray thee, be against me & against my fathers house.

18 So Gad came the same day to David, and said vnto him, Goe vp, reare an altar vnto the Lord in the thessing floode of Araunah the Iebusite.

19 And David (according to the saying of Gad) went up, as þ Lord had commanded.

20 And Araunah looked, & saw the king & his seruants comming toward him, and Araunah went out, & bowed himselfe before the king on his face to the ground,

21 And Araunah said, Wherefoze to my lord the king come to his seruants? Then David answered, To bye the thessing floode of thee, for to build an altar vnto þ Lord, that the plague may cease from the people.

22 Then Araunah said vnto David, Let my lord the king take and offer what seemeth him good in his eyes: beyond þ oren for the burnt offering, & charcoles, and the instruments of the oren for wood.

23 (All these things did Araunah as a king giue vnto the king: and Araunah said vnto the king, The Lord thy God be fauourable vnto thee.)

24 Then þ king said vnto Araunah, Not so, but I wil bie it of thee at a price, & wil not offer burnt offering vnto the Lord my God, of þ which doeth cost me nothing. So David bought the thessing floode, & the oren for sixtie shekels of silver.

25 And David built there an altar vnto the Lord, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings, and the Lord was appeased toward the lande, and the plague ceased from Israel.

THE ARGUMENT.

BECAUSE the children of God should looke for no continuall rest and quietnes in this world, the Holy Ghost setteth before our eyes in this booke the varietie and change of thinges, which came to the people of Israel from the death of David, Salomon and the rest of the Kings, vnto the death of Ahab, declaring how that flourishing kingdome, except they be preferred by Gods protection, (who then fauoureth them when his worde is truly set forth, vertue esteemed, vice punished, and concord maintained) fall to decay and come to nought: as appeareth by the diuiding of the kingdome vnder Roboam, and Ieroboam, which before were but al one people, & now by the iust punishment of God were made two, wherof Iudah & Benjamin claued to Roboam: and

and this was called the kingdome of Iudah, and the other ten tribes helde with Ieroboam, and this was called the kingdome of Israel. The king of Iudah had his throne in Ierusalem, and the king of Israel in Samaria, after it was buyt by Amri Ahabs father. And because our Saviour Christ according to the flesh shoulde come of the stocke of David, the genealogie of the kings of Iudah here described, from Salomon to Ioram the sonne of Iosaphat, who reigned ouer Iudah in Ierusalem, as Ahab did ouer Israel in Samaria.

CHAP. I.

1 Adoniah keepeth David in his extreme age. 5 Adoniah usurpeth the kindome. 30 Salomon is anointed king. 50 Adoniah fleeth to the altar.

1 NOW when King David was olde, & stricken in yeeres, they couered him with clothes, but no heat came vnto him.

2 Wherefore his seruantes sayde vnto him, Let there be fought for my lord the king, a yong virgin, and let her stand before the king, and cherish him: and let her lie in thy bolome, that my lord the king may get heire.

3 So they sought for a yonge yong maye throughout all the coastes of Israel, and found one Abishag a Shunammite, and brought her to the king.

4 And the maide was exceeding faire, and cherished the king, and ministered to him, but the king knew her not.

5 ¶ Then Adoniah the sonne of Haggith exalted himselfe, saying, I will be king. And he gave him chariots and horsemen, and 500 men to runne before him.

6 And his father would not displease him from his childbed, to say, Why hast thou done so? And he was a very goodly man, and his mother bare him next after Abisalon.

7 And he tooke counsell of Joab the sonne of Zeruiah, and of Abiathar the Priest: and they helped forward Adoniah.

8 But Zadok the Priest, and Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada, and Nathan the Prophet, and Shimei, and Iai, and the men of might, which were with David, were not with Adoniah.

9 Then Adoniah sacrificed sheepe & orren, and fatte cattell by the stoue of Zopheth, which is by En-rogel, and called all his brethren the kings sonnes, & all the men of Iudah the kings seruantes.

10 But Nathan the Prophet, and Benaiah, and his brother he called not.

11 Wherefore Nathan spake vnto Bath-sheba the mother of Salomon, saying, Hast thou not heard, that Adoniah the sonne of Haggith both reignes, & David our lord knoweth it not?

12 Nowe therefore come, and I will nowe give thee counsell, howe to saue thine owne life, and the life of thy sonne Salomon.

13 For, and get thee in vnto King David, and say vnto him, Widdest thou, my lord, & King, sweare vnto thine handmaide, saying, Surely Salomon thy sonne shall reigne after me, and he shall sit vpon my throne? Why is then Adoniah king?

14 Beholde, while thou yet talkest there with the king, I also will come in after thee, and confirm the thy wordes.

15 ¶ So Bath-sheba went in vnto the king into the chamber, and the king was verp olde, and Abishag the Shunammite ministered vnto the king.

16 And Bath-sheba bowed & made obeysance vnto the king. And the king sayd, What is thy matter?

17 And she answered him, My lord, thou swarest by the Lord thy God vnto thine handmaide, saying, Surely Salomon thy sonne shall reigne after me, and he shall sit vpon my throne.

18 And behold, now is Adoniah king, and now, my lord, & King, thou knowest it not.

19 And he hath offered many orren, and fatte cattell, and sheepe, and hath called all the sonnes of the king, & Abiathar the Priest, & Joab the captain of the hoste: but Salomon thy seruant hath he not hidden.

20 And thou, my lord, & King, knowest that the eyes of Israel are on thee, that thou shouldest tell them, who shouldest sit on the throne of my lord the king after him.

21 For if I rise when my lord the king shall sleepe with his fathers, I and my sonne Salomon shalbe repaired life.

22 And loe, while they yet talked with the king, Nathan also the Prophet came in.

23 And he tolde the king, saying, Beholde, Nathan the Prophet. And when he was come in to the king, he made obeysance before the king vpon his face to the ground.

24 And Nathan said, My lord, & King, hast thou said, Adoniah shall reigne after me, and he shall sit vpon my throne?

25 For he is gone bolue this day, & hath slaine many orren, and fatte cattell, & sheepe, and hath called all the kings sonnes, and the captaynes of the hoste, and Abiathar the Priest: and behold, they eate and drinke before him, and say, God saue King Adoniah.

26 But mee thy seruant, and Zadok the Priest, and Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada, and thy seruant Salomon hath he not called.

27 Is this thing done by my lord the king, and thou hast not shewed it vnto thy seruant, who shouldest sit on the throne of my lord the king after him?

28 ¶ Then King David answered, and said, Call mee Bath-sheba. And she came into the kings presence, and stode before the king.

29 And the king sware, saying, As the Lord liueth, who hath redeemed my soule out of all aduersitie, 30 That as I sware vnto thee by the Lord thy God of Israel, saying, Surely Salomon thy sonne shall reigne after me, and he shall sit vpon my throne in my place, so will I certainly do this day.

31 Then Bath-sheba bowed her face to the king, and said, A.iii.

i The king being come with age, could not attend to the affairs of the realme, and also Adoniah had many flatterers which kept it from the king.

8 And behold, with thee is Shimei the sonne of Gera, the sonne of Terui, of Bahurim, which cursed me with an horrible curse in the daye when I went to Gabaon: but he came downe to merre me at Joyden, and I sware to him by the Loyde, saying, "I will not slay thee with the sword."

9 But thou shalt not count him innocent: for thou art a wise man, & knowest what thou oughtest to doe unto him: therefore thou shalt cause his hoare head to goe downe to the grave with a blood.

10 So Dauid slept with his fathers, and was buried in the cite of Ierusalem.

11 And the dayes which Dauid reigned upon Israel, were fourtie peeres: seven peeres reigned he in Hebron, & thirty and three peeres reigned he in Ierusalem.

12 Then late Salomon upon the thorne of Dauid his father, and his kingdom was established mightily.

13 And Adonijah the sonne of Agagith came to Bath-sheba the mother of Salomon: and he said, "Commest thou peaceably?" And he said, Yea.

14 He sayde moreover, I have a sute unto thee. And he sayd, Say on.

15 Then he sayde, Thou knowest that the kingdom was mine, and that all Israel set their faces on me, that I should be rigne: howbeit the kingdom is turned away, and is in thy dyers: for it came to him by the Loyd.

16 Now therefore I aske thee one request, "refuse me not." And he sayde unto him, Say on.

17 And he sayde, "Speake, I pray thee, unto Salomon the king, (for he will not saye thee nay) & he give me Abishag the Shunammite to wife."

18 And Bath-sheba saide, Well, I will speake for thee unto the king.

19 Bath-sheba therefore went unto king Salomon, to speake unto him for Adonijah: and the king rose to meete her, and bowed himselfe unto her, and late down on his thorne: and he caused a seate to be set for the kings mother, and she late at his right hand.

20 Then the sayde, I desire a small request of thee, for me not nay. Then the king sayd unto her, "He on, my mother: for I will not say thee nay."

21 She sayde then, Let Abishag the Shunammite be giuento Adonijah thy brother to wife.

22 But king Salomon answered & sayde unto his mother, And why dost thou aske Abishag the Shunammite for Adonijah? aske for him the kingdom also: for he is mine elder brother, and hath for him both Abiathar the Priest, and Iobab the sonne of Zeruiah.

23 Then king Salomon sware by the Loyd, saying, God doo to me and more alid, if Adonijah hath not spoken this wyde against his owne life.

24 Now therefore as the Loyd lieth, who hath established me, and set me on the thorne of Dauid my father, who also hath made me an house, as he promised, Adonijah shall surely die this day.

25 And king Salomon sent by the hand of Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada, and he sloute him that he dyed.

26 Then the king said unto Abiathar the Priest, "Go to Anathoth unto thine owne fieldes: for thou art unworthy of death: but I will not this day kill thee, because thou barest the Arke of the Loyde God before Dauid my father, & because thou hast suffered in all, wherein my father hath bene afflicted."

27 So Salomon cast out Abiathar from being Priest unto the Loyd, that he might fulfill the wordes of the Loyde, which he spake against the house of Eli in Shiloh.

28 Then tidings came to Iobab: (for Iobab had turned after Adonijah, but he returned not after Absalom) and Iobab fled unto the Tabernacle of the Loyde, and caught holde on the hoines of the altar.

29 And it was tolde king Salomon, that Iobab was fled unto the Tabernacle of the Loyde, & behold, he is by the altar. Then Salomon sent Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada, saying, "Go, fall upon him."

30 And Benaiah came to the Tabernacle of the Loyde, and said unto him, Thus saith the king, Come out. And he sayde, Nay, but I will die here. Then Benaiah brought the king word againe, saying, Thus saide Iobab, and thus he answered me.

31 And the king said unto him, Doe as he hath sayd, and sloute him, and bury him, that thou inapett take away the blood, which Iobab shed causelesse, from me and from the house of my father.

32 And the Loyd shall bring his blood upon his owne head: for he sloute two men more righteous and better then he, and slew them with the sword, and my father Dauid knewe not: to wit, Abner the sonne of Ner, captaine of the hoste of Israel, and Nabal the sonne of Bethur, captaine of the hoste of Judah.

33 Their blood shall therefore returne upon the head of Iobab, and on the head of his seed: but upon Dauid, and upon his seed, and upon his house, and upon his thorne shall there be peace for ever from the Loyd.

34 So Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada went by, and sloute him, and slew him, and he was buried in his owne house in the wilderness.

35 And the king put Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada in his rounne over the holle: and the king set Zadok the Priest in the rounne of Abiathar.

36 Afterward the king sent, and called Shimei, and sayd unto him, "Build thee an house in Ierusalem, and dwell there, and depart not thence any whitther."

37 For that day that thou goest out, and passest over the river of Kidon, knowe assuredly, that thou shalt die the death: thy blood shall be upon thine owne head.

40 And Shimei arose, and called his asse, and went to Gath to Achish, to seeke his seruants : and Shimei went, & byonght his seruants from Gath.

41 And it was tolde Salomon, that Shimei had gone from Ierusalem to Gath, and was come againe.

42 And the King sent and called Shimei, and sayd vnto him, Did I not make thee to sweare by the Lord, and protested vnto thee, saying, That day that thou goest out, and walkest any whither, knowe assuredly that thou shalt dye the death : And thou saydest vnto me, The thing is good, that I haue heard.

CHAP. III.

1 Salomon taketh Pharaohs daughter to wife. 5 The Lords appeareth to him, and giueth him wisdom. 17 The pleading of the two harlots, and Salomons sentence therein.

1 Salomon then made affinitie with Pharaoh King of Egypt, and tooke Pharaohs daughter, and brought her into the citie of Dauid, vntill he had made an end of building his owne house, and the house of the Loyd, and the wall of Ierusalem round about.

2 Onely the people sacrificed in the hye places, because there was no house built vnto the name of the Loyde, vntill those dayes.

3 And Salomon loued the Loyd, walking in the ordinance of Dauid his father : onely he sacrificed and offered incense in the hye places.

4 And the King went to Gibeon to sacrifice there, for that was the chiefe hye place : a thousand burnt offerings did Salomon offer vpon that altar.

5 In Gibeon the Loyd appeared to Salomon in a dreame by night : and God said, Make what I shall giue thee.

6 And Salomon sayd, Thou hast shewed vnto thy seruant Dauid my father great mercie, when he walked before thee in truety, and in rightnesse, and in by rightnesse of heart with thee : and thou hast kept for him this great mercie, and hast giuen him a sonne, to sitte on his thione, as appeareth this day.

7 And now, O Loyde my God, thou hast made thy seruant King in stead of Dauid my father : and I am but a yong child, & knowe not howe to go out and in.

8 And thy seruant is in the middes of thy people, which thou hast chosen, euen a executing this great people, which can not be tolde nor nombred for multitude.

9 Give therefore vnto thy seruant an vnderstanding heart, to iudge thy people, that I may discern betwene good and bad : for who is able to iudge this thy mightie people ?

10 And this pleased the Loyde well, that Salomon had desired this thing.

11 And God sayd vnto him, Because thou hast asked this thing, and hast not asked for thy selfe long life, neither hast asked riches for thy selfe, nor hast asked the life of thine enemies, but hast asked for thy selfe vnderstanding to heare iudgement,

12 Beholde, I haue done according to thy wordes : so, I haue giuen thee a wife and an vnderstanding heart, so that there hath bene none like thee before thee, neyther after thee shalt arise like vnto thee.

13 And I haue also giuen thee that, which thou hast not asked, both riches and honour, so that among the kings there shall be none like vnto thee all thy dayes.

14 And if thou wilt walke in my wayes, to keepe mine ordinance, and my commaundmentes, as thy father Dauid did walke, I will prolong thy dayes.

15 And when Salomon awoke, beholde, it was a dreame, and he came to Ierusalem, and stode before the Arke of the couenant of the Loyde, and offered burnt offrings and made peace offerings, & made a feast to all his seruants.

16 Then came two harlots vnto the King, and stode before him.

17 And the one woman sayd, My my lord, I and this woman dwell in one house, and I was deliuered of a childe vith her in the house.

18 And the third day after that I was deliuered, this woman was deliuered also : and we were in the house together : no stranger was with vs in the house, save we twaine.

19 And this womans sonne dyed in the night : for the overlap him.

20 And she rose at midnight, and tooke my sonne from my side, while thine hande slept, and layd him in her bosome, and laid her dead sonne in my bosome.

21 And when I rose in the morning to giue my sonne sucke, beholde, he was dead : and when I had well considered him in the morning, beholde, it was not my sonne, whome I had borne.

22 Then the other woman sayd, Nay, but my sonne lieth, and thy sonne is dead : againe she sayde, No, but thy sonne is dead and mine aliue : thus they spake before the King.

24 Then þ king sayd, "Bring me a sword: and they brought out a sword before the king.

25 And the king saide, Denide ye the liuing child in twaine, & giue the one halfe to the one, and the other halfe to the other.

26 Then spake the woman, whose the liuing child was, vnto the king, for her compassion was kumbled towarde her sonne, and she sayd, Oh my lord, giue her the liuing child, and "flap him not: but the other sayde, Let it be neither mine nor thine, but denide it.

27 Then the king answered, and said, Giue her the liuing child, & flap him not: this is his mother.

28 And all Israel heard the iudgement, which the king had iudged, & they feared the king: for they sawe that the wiſdom of God was in him to doe iustice.

13 The sonne of Geber in Ramoth Gilead, and his were the townes of 4 Tair, the sonne of Manasseh, which are in Gilead, and vnder him was the region of Argob, which is in Bashan: theſe ſcore great cities with walles and barres of braſſe.

14 And Abinadab the sonne of Abda had to 15 Ahimaas in Naphtali, & hee tooke Basemath the daughter of Salomon to wife: 16 Baanah the sonne of Nethai in Asher and in Moth:

17 Ichoshaphat the sonne of Paruah in Machar:

18 Shimai þ sonne of Eliah in Benjamin: 19 Geber the sonne of Uri in the countrey of Gilead, the land of Sihon King of the Amogites, & of Og King of Bashan, and was officer alone in the land.

20 Judah & Israel were many, as the sand of the sea in number, eating, drinking, and making merie.

21 And Salomon reigned ouer all kingdoms, from the Egipt vnto the land of the Philistines, & vnto the border of Egypt, & they brought yelentes, and serued Salomon all the dayes of his life.

22 And Salomons vittails for one day were thirtie measures of fine flour, and threſcore measures of meale:

23 Ten fat oxen, & twentie oren of the pastures, and an hundred sheepe, besides harts, & bucks, & bugles, and fat fowle.

24 For he ruled in al the region on the other side of the Riuer, from Tiphſah euen vnto 4 Azah, ouer all the 4 kings on þ other side the Riuer: and he had peace rounde about him on euery side.

25 And Judah & Israel dwelt without feare euery man vnder his vine, & vnder his figtree, from Dan, euen to Beer-sheba, al the dayes of Salomon.

26 And Salomon had fourty thousand stables of horses for his charres, & twelue thousand horsemen.

27 And these officers prouided vittails for king Salomon, and for alþ came to king Salomons table, euery man his moneth, and they suffred to lacke nothing.

28 Barſai also and strawe for the horses and mules brought they vnto the place where the officers were, euery man according to his charge.

29 And God gave Salomon wiſdom: & he vnderſtanding receiued much, & a large heart, euen as the sand þ is on þ sea shore.

30 And Salomons wiſdome excelled the great wiſdome of al the children of the East, and all the wiſdome of Egypt.

31 For he was wiſer then any mannes, then were Ethan the Ezrahite, then Herman, then Chalcol, then Barba the sonnes of Mahol: and he was famous throughout all nations round about.

32 And Salomon spake thre thousand 4 proverbes: and his songs were a thousand and five.

33 And he spake of trees, from the cedar tree that is in Lebanon, euen vnto the hyssope that springeth out of the wall: he spake also of beastes, and of fowles, and of creeping things, and of fishes.

34 And there came of al people to heare the wiſdom of Salomon, ſerual kings of þ earth, which had heard of his wiſdome.

18 And Salomons workemen, and the workemen of Hiram, and the maions hewed and prepared timber and stones for the building of the house.

CHAP. VI.

1 The building of the Temple and the forme thereof.

12 The frames of the Lord to Salomon.

AND β in the foure hundredth and foure score yere (after the children of Israel were come out of the land of Egypt) and in the fourth yere of the reigne of Salomon ouer Israel, in the moneth β Xif, (which is the second moneth) hee built the house of the Lozke.

2 And β house which king Salomon built of Aprill for β Lozke, was thye foote cubites long, and twentie broad, & thirtie cubites hie.

3 And the porch before the Temple of the house was twentie cubites long according to the breadth of the house, & ten cubites cle.

4 And in the house he made windowes, broad without, and narrow within.

5 And by the wal of the house hee made galleries round about euen by β walles of the house round about the Temple and the oracle, and made chambers rounde about.

6 The nethermost gallerie was five cubites broad, and the middlemost six cubites broad, and the third fien cubites broad: for he made β rests round about without the house, that the beames should not be fastened in the walles of the house.

7 And when the house was built, it was built of stone, perfite before it was hought, so that there was neither hammer, nor certain shoo are, nor any toole of yron heard in the house, while it was in building.

8 The doore of the middle chamber was in the righte side of the house, & men went vp with winding staires into β middlemost, and out of the middlemost into the thyrd.

9 So he built the house β finished it, and sieled the house being hauerted with sieles of cedar trees.

10 And he built the galleries vpon all the wal of the house of five cubites height, and they were topped to the house with beames of cedar.

11 And the wordes of the Lozke came to Salomon, saying,

12 Concerning this house which thou buildest, if thou wilt walke in mine ordinances, and execute my iudgements, and keepe al my commandements, to walke in them, then will β performe vnto thee my psones, β which β promised to Dauid thy father.

13 And β will dwell among the children of Israel, and will not forsake my people of Israel.

14 So Salomon built the house and finished it,

15 And built the walles of the house within, with boordes of cedar tree from the panement of the house vnto the walles
of the ceiling, and within he covered them with wood, and covered the floore of the house with planks of firc.

16 And he built twentie cubites in the sides of the house with boaydes of cedar, from the floore to the walles, and he prepared a place within it for the oracle, euen the most holp place.

17 But the house, that is, the temple be-foze it, was fourtie cubites long.

18 And the cedar of the house within was carued with knoppes, and grauen with flowes: al was cedar, so that no stone was seene.

19 Also he prepared the place of the oracle in the middes of the house within, to set the steele of the Couenant of the Loyde
there.

20 And the place of the oracle within was twentie cubites long, and twentie cubites broad, and twentie cubites hie, and hee covered it with pure golde, and covered the altar with cedar.

21 So Salomon covered the house within with pure golde: and he stut the place of the oracle with chapines of golde, and covered it with gold.

22 And he overlaid all the house with gold,
but all the house was made perfite. Also he covered the whole altar, that was before the oracle, with gold.

23 And within the oracle he made two Cherubims of olive tree, ten cubites hie.

24 The wing also of the one Cherub was fine cubites, and the wing of the other Cherub was fine cubites: from the utter-most part of one of his wings vnto the uttermost part of the other of his wings, were ten cubites.

25 Also the other Cherub was of tenne cu-bites: both the Cherubims were of one measure and one life.

26 For the height of the one Cherub was ten cubites, and so was the other Cherub.

27 And he put the Cherubims within the inner court, and the Cherubims stretched out their wings, so that the wing of the one touched the one wall, & the wing of the other Cherub touched the other wall: & their other wings touched one another in the middes of the house.

28 And he overlaid the Cherubims
with golde.

29 And he carued all the walles of the house
rounde about with grauen figures of Cherubims and of palme trees, and grauen flowers within and without.

30 And the floore of the house he covered with golde within and without.

31 And in the entering of the oracle he made two doores of olive tree: and the upper post and side postes were fine square.

32 The two doores also were of olive tree, and he graued them with grauing of Cherubims and palme trees, and grauen flowers, and covered them with gold, and laid thimne golde vpon the Cherubims
and vpon the palme trees.

33 And so made he for the doore of the Temple, postes of olive tree foure square.

34 And the two doores were of fine tree, the two sides of the one doore were rounde, and the two sides of the other doore were rounde.

35 And he graued Cherubims, and palme trees, and carued flowers, and covered the carued worke with golde, finely brought.

36 And he built the court within with three rowes of he web stone, and one rowe of beames of cedar.

37 In the fourth pere was the foundation of the house of the Loyde laide in the mo-neth of Zif:

38 And in the eleventh pere in the moneth of Bul, (which is the eight moneth) he finishe the house with all the furniture thereof, and in euery point: so was he seuen pere in building it.

C H A P. VII.

The building of the houses of Salomon. 15 The excellent workmanship of Hiram in the pieces which he made for the Temple.

1 But Salomon was building his own house: thirteen peeres, & finished all his house.

2 He built also an house called the forest
of Lebanon, and hundredth cubites long,
and fiftie cubites broad, and thirtie cu-bites hie, vpon foure rowes of cedar pillars: and cedar beames were layed vpon
the pillars.

3 And it was covered aboue with cedar vpon the beames, that lay on the fourtie and fise pillars, fiftene in a rowe.

4 And the windowes were in three rowes, and window was against window in
three rankes.

5 And all the doores, and the side postes
with the windowes were foure square, and window was ouer against window in
three rankes.

6 And he made a porch of pillars fiftie cu-bites long, and thirtie cubites broad, and the porch was before them, euen before them were thirtie pillars.

7 Then he made a porch for the throne,
where he sidge, euen a porch of iudges ment, and it was filded with cedar from paument to paument.

8 And in his house, where he dwelt, was an other hall more inward then the porche, which was of the same worke. Also Salomon made an house for Pharaohs daughter (whom he had taken to wife)
like vnto this porche.

9 All these were of costly stones, hewed
by measure, & sawed with sawes within and without, from the foundation vnto
the stones of an hand breadth, and on the outside to the great coltr.

10 And the foundation was of costly stones,
and great stones, euen of stones of tenne
cubits, and stones of eight cubits.

11 Above also were costly stones, squared by rule, and boordes of cedar.

12 And the great court round about was

13 ¶ Then King Salomon sent, and set one Hiram out of ^{Or, Tyus.}

14 He was a widower some of the tribe of Naphtali, his father being a man of Tyus, and wrought in baffe: he was full of wisdom, and understanding, and knowledge to worke all manner of worke in baffe: who came to King Salomon, & wrought all his worke.

15 ¶ For he cast two pillars of baffe: the height of a pillar was eightene cubites, and a thirde of twene cubites did compass: either of the pillars.

16 And he made two chapiters of molten baffe to set on the toppes of the pillars: the height of one of the chapiters was five cubites, and the height of the other chapiter was five cubites.

17 He made grates like networke, and wrothet worke like chapines for the chapiters that were on the toppes of the pillars, even ten for the one chapiter, and ten for the other chapiter.

18 So he made the pillars and two rowes of pomegranates round about in the one grate to cower the chapiters that were upon the toppes. And thus did he for the other chapiter.

19 And the chapiters that were on the top of the pillars were after ^{Or, like} worke in the porch, four cubites.

20 And the chapiters upon the two pillars had also above, ^{Or, ouer} against the belfry within the networke pomegranates: for two hundred pomegranates were in the two rankes about upon either of the chapiters.

21 And he set up the pillars in the porch of the Temple. And when he had set up the right pillar, he called the name thereof ^{Or, Jachin:} and when he had set up the left pillar, he called the name thereof ^{Or, Boas:}

22 And upon the toppes of the pillars was worke of lilies: so was the workmanship of the pillars finished.

23 ¶ And he made a molten sea ten cubites wide from hynt to hynt, rounde in compass, and five cubites hie, & a line of thirtie cubites did compass it about.

24 And vnder the brymme of it were knoppes like wilde cymmers compassing it round about, tene in one cubite, compassing the sea round about: and the two rowes of knoppes were cast, when it was molten.

25 It stood on twelue bulles, thre looking towarde the South, and thre towarde the West, and thre towarde the South, and thre towarde the East: and the sea stood above vpon them, and all their hinder partes were inward.

26 It was an hand breadth thicke, and the brymme thereof was like the worke of the brym of a cup with floures of lilies: it contained two thousand Bathes.

27 ¶ And he made tene bases of baffe, one base was foure cubits long, and foure cubites wyde, and thre cubites hie.

28 ¶ And the worke of the bases was on this manner, They had borders, and the borders were betweene the ledges:

29 And on the borders that were betweene the ledges, were ipons, bulles and Cherubims: and vpon the ledges there was a base above: and beneath the ipons and bulles, were additions made of thynne worke.

30 And euery base had foure brasse wheeles, and plates of baffe: & the foure corners had ^{Or, underletters:} under the caldron were underletters molten at the side of euery addition.

31 And the mouth of it was within the chapter & about to measure by the cubite: the great base for the mouth thereof was rounde made ^{Or, round} like a base, and it was a cubite and halfe into the chapter a cubite: and also vpon the mouth thereof were grauen worke, whose borders bare vpon the were foure square, and not rounde.

32 And vnder the borders were foure wheeles, and the axeltrees of the wheeles ioyned to the base: and the height of a wheele was a cubite and halfe a cubite.

33 And the facion of the wheeles was like the facion of a charret wheele, their axeltrees, and their names and their fellows, ^{Or, yokes:} and their iokes were all molten.

34 And foure underletters were vpon the foure corners of one base: and the underletters thereof were of the base it selfe.

35 And in the top of the base was a round compass of halfe a cubite hie rounde about: and vpon the toppes of the base the ledges thereof and the borders thereof were of the same.

36 And vpon the tables of the ledges thereof, & on the borders thereof he did graue Cherubims, ipons & palmie trees, on the side of euery one, and additions rounde about.

37 Thus made he the ten bases, they had all one casting, one measure, and one life.

38 ¶ Then made he ten caldrons of baffe, ^{Or, To keepe} one caldron contained fourtie Bathes: and euery caldron was foure cubites, one caldron was vpon one base throughout the ten bases.

39 And he set the bases, five on the right side of the house, and five on the left side of the house. And he set the sea on the right side of the house Eastward toward the South.

40 ¶ And Hiram made caldrons, and basins, and basens, and Hiram finished all the work that he made to King Salomon for the house of the Lord:

41 To wit, two pillars and two bowles of the chapiters that were on the top of the two pillars, and two grates to cower the two bowles of the chapiters which were vpon the toppes of the pillars.

42 And foure hundred pomegranates for the two grates, and two rowes of pomegranates for euery grate to cower the two bowles of the chapiters, that were vpon the pillars.

43 And the ten bases, and tene caldrons vpon the bases.

they bare the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle: those did the Priests and Levites bring by.

5 And king Salomon and all the Congregation of Israel, * were assembled unto him, were * in him before the Ark, offering sheep and bullocks, which could not be tolde, nor numbered for multitude.

6 So the * Priests brought the Ark of the covenant of the Lord unto his place, into the oracle of the house, into the most holy place, even under the wings of the Cheru-bins.

7 For the Cherubims stretched out their wings over the place of the Ark, and the Cherubims covered the Ark, and the barres thereof above.

8 And they * drew out the barres, that the endes of the barres might appear out of the Sacmarie before the oracle, but they were not * seen without: and there they are unto this day.

9 Nothing was in * the Ark * save the two tables of stone which Moses had put there at Horeb, where the Lord made a covenant with the children of Israel, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt.

10 And when the Priests were come out of the Sacmarie, the * cloud filled the house of the Lord,

11 So * the Priests could not stand to mis-sister, because of the cloud: for * the cloud of the Lord had filled the house of the Lord.

12 Then spake Salomon, The Lord * said, that he would dwell in the darker cloude.

13 I have built thee an house to dwell in, an habitation for thee to abide in for ever.

14 * And the king turned his face, & blessed all the congregation of Israel: for all the Congregation of Israel stood there.

15 And he said, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, who spake with his mouth unto David my father, and hath with his hand fulfilled it, saying,

16 Since the day that I brought my people Israel out of Egypt, I chose no citie
of all the tribes of Israel, to build an house that my name might be there: but I have chosen * David to be our king.

17 And it was in the heart of David my father to build an house to the name of the Lord God of Israel.

18 And the Lord said unto David my father, Where as it was in thine heart to build an house unto my name, thou diddest wel, that thou wast so minded:

19 Nevertheless thou shalt not build the house, but thy sonne, that shall come out of thy loines, he shall build the house unto my name.

20 And the Lord hath made * good his woyde that hee spake: and I am risen up in the throne of David my father, and sit on the throne of Israel, as the Lord promised, and have built the house for the name of the Lord God of Israel.

21 And I have prepared therein a place for the Ark, wherein is the * covenant of the Lord which he made with our fathers, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt.

22 * Then Salomon stood before the altar of the Lord in the sight of all the Congregation of Israel, and stretched out his hands toward heaven,

23 And said, * O Lord God of Israel, there is no God like thee in heaven or above, or in the earth beneath, thou that keepst covenant & mercie with thy servants that walke before thee with * all their heart,

24 Thou that hast kept with thy servant
David my father, * thou hast promised him: for thou spakest with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thine hand, as appeared this day.

25 Therefore now, O Lord God of Israel,
keepe with thy servant David my father: that thou hast promised him, saying, * Thou shalt not want a man in my sight to sit upon the throne of Israel: so that

He spake ac-

promises, which

54 And when Salomon had made an ende of praying all this * prayer and supplication unto the Loyde, he arose from before the altar of the Loyde, from kneeling on his knees, and stretching of his handes to heauen,

55 And stood & blessed all the Congregation of Israel with a loude voyce, saying,

56 Blessed be the Loyde that hath giuen rest vnto his people Israel, according to all that hee promised: there hath not failed one voyde of all his good promise which he promised by the hand of Moses his seruant.

57 The Loyde our God be with vs, as hee was with our fathers, that hee forsake vs not, neither leaue vs,

58 That he map * bowe our heartes vnto him, that we map walke in al his waies, and keepe his commandments, and his statutes, and his lawes, which hee commanded our fathers.

59 And these my wordes, which I haue prayed before the Loyde, be nare vnto the Loyd our God day and night, that hee defend the cause of his seruants, and the cause of his people Israel: alway as the matter requireth, 60 That all the people of the earth map know, that y Loyde is God, & none other.

61 Let your heart therefore be perfite with the Loyde our God to walke in his statutes, and to keepe his commandments, as this day.

62 ¶ And the king and all Israel with him offered sacrifice before the Loyd,

63 And Salomon offered a sacrifice of peace offerings which he offered vnto the Loyde, to wit, two and twentie thousand beeces, and an hundred and twentie thousande sheepe: so the king and all the children of Israel dedicated the y house of the Loyd.

64 The same day did the king halowe the middle of the court, that was before the house of the Loyd: for there he made burnt offerings, and the meat offerings, & the fat of the peace offerings, because the * bialen altar y was before the Loyd, was too litle to receiue the burnt offerings, & the meate offerings, & the fat of the peace offerings.

65 And Salomon made at that time a feast, and all Israel with him, a very great Congregation, euen from the entering in of Hamath vnto the river of Egypt, before the Loyd our God, seven dayes and seuen dayes, euen fourteen dayes.

66 And the eight day he sent the people a way: and they * thanked the king & went vnto their tentes iopous and with glad heart, because of all the goodnes that the Loyd had done for Dauid his seruant, and for Israel his people.

CHAP. IX.

1 The Loyde appeareth the second time to Salomon.
11 Salomon giueth cities to Hiram. 20 The Canaanites become tributaries. 28 He sendeth forth a name for gold.

I When Salomon had finished y building of y house of y Loyde, & the kings palace, & all that

Salomon desired and minded to do,
2 Then the Loyd appeared vnto Salomon the second time, as he appeared vnto him at Gibeon.

3 And the Loyde saide vnto him, I haue heard thy prayer and thy supplication, that thou hast made before me: I haue halowed this house (which thou hast built) to * put my name there for euer, and mine eyes, and mine heart shall be there perpetually.

4 And * if thou wilt walke before me (as Dauid thy father walked in purenesse of heart, & in righteousnesse) to do according to all that I haue commanded thee, and keepe my statutes, and my iudgements, Then will I stablish the throne of thy kingdom vpon Israel for euer, as I promised to Dauid thy father, saying, * Thou shalt not want a man vpon the throne of Israel:

6 But if ye and your children turne away from me, and will * not keepe my commandments, & my statutes, (which I haue set before you) but go & serue other gods, and worship them,

7 Then will I cut off Israel from the land, which I haue giuen them, and the house which I haue halowed * for my name, will I cast out of my sight, and Israel shall be a * plowthe, and a common talke among all people.

8 Euen this his house shall be so: every one that passeth by it, shall be astonied, & shall hiss, and they shall say, * Why hath the Loyd done thus vnto this land and to this house?

9 And they shall answer, Because they forsooke the Loyd their God, which brought their fathers out of the lande of Egypt, and haue taken holde vpon other gods, and haue worshipped them, * and serued them, therefore hath the Loyd brought vs on them all this euil.

10 * And at the ende of twentie yeeres, when Salomon had builded the two houses, the house of the Loyd, & the kings palace,

11 (For the which Hiram the King of Tyre had brought to Salomon timber of cedar, and firre trees, and gold, & whatsoeuer he desired) then King Salomon gaue to Hiram twentie cities in the land of Galil.

12 And Hiram came out from Tyre to see the cities which Salomon had giue him, and then pleased him not.

13 Therefore he sayd, What cities are these which thou hast giuen mee, my brother? And he called them the land of Cabul vnto this day.

14 And Hiram had sent the king * sixe score talents of gold.

15 ¶ And this is the cause of the tribute which King Salomon raised tribute, to build the house of the Loyde, and pound weight his owne house, and * Spillo, and the wale of Ierusalem, and Hazor, and Spheddo, and Ceser.

2 And she came to Jerusalem with a very great traine, and camels that bare sweete odours, and golde exceeding much, & precious stones: and she came to Salomon, and communed with him of all that was in her heart.

3 And Salomon declared vnto her all her questions: nothing was hid from y king, which he expounded not vnto her.

b That is, the whole order, and trade of his house.

4 Then the Queene of Sheba saw all Salomons wisdom, and the house that he had built.

5 And the meate of his table, & the sitting of his seruants, and the order of his ministers, and their apparell, and his drinking vessels, and his burnt offerings, that he offered in the house of the Lord, and he was greatly astonished.

6 And she sayde vnto the king, It was a true worde that I heard in mine owne land of the sayings, and of thy wisdom.

7 Nowbeit I beleened not this report, till I came: and had seene it with mine eyes: but lo, the one halfe was not tolde me: for thou hast more wisdom and prosperitie, then I haue heard by report.

9 Blessed be the Lord thy God, which doeth these, to set thee on the throne of Israel, because the Lord loueth Israel for euer, and made thee king, to doe equitie and dome of God righteousnesse.

10 And she gaue the king sixe scope talents of golde, and of sweete odours exceeding much, and precious stones. There came no more such abundance of sweet odours, as the Queene of Sheba gaue to king Salomon.

11 The nauie also of Hiram (that caried golde from Dypir) brought likewise the plenty of Alnuggim trees from Dypir, and precious stones.

12 And the king made of the Alnuggim trees pillars for the house of the Lord, & for the kings palace, and made harpes and placteries for singers. There came no more such Alnuggim trees, nor were any more sent vnto this day.

13 And king Salomon gaue vnto the Queene of Sheba, whatsoever she should aske, besides that, which Salomon gaue her: of his kingly liberalitie: so he returned and went to her owne countrey, both she, and her seruants.

14 ¶ Also the weight of gold, that came to Salomon in one yere, was sixe hundred, three scope and sixe talents of golde.

15 Besides that he had of marchant men and of the marchandises of them that solde spices, and of all the kings of Arabia, and of the princes of the countrey.

16 And king Salomon made two hundred targets of beaten golde, sixe hundred shekels of golde went to a target:

17 And three hundred sheldes of beaten golde, three pounde of golde went to one shelde: and the king put them in the house of the wood of Lebanon.

18 ¶ Then the king made a great throne of pauine, and couered it with the best golde.

29 There came by and went out of Egypt some chariet, worth five hundred shekels of silver: that is, one horse, an hundred and fiftie, and thus they brought horses to all the kings of the Hittites, & to the kings of Aram by their means.

CHAP. xli.

1 Salomon hath a thousande wives and concubines, which bring him to idolatrie. 14 Hu God raised up aduersaries agaynst him. 43 His death.

1 BE king Salomon loued many onnes blandish women: both the daughter of Pharaoh, and the women of Moab, Ammon, Edom, Idon and Beth.

2 Of the nations, whereof the Loide had said vnto the children of Israel, Go not ye in to them, nor let them come in to you: for surely they will turne your hearts after their gods. to them, I say, did Salomon iopne in lone.

3 And he had seven hundred wives, that were princesses, & three hundred concubines, and his wives turned awap his heart.

4 For whi Salomon was olde, his wives turned his heart after other gods, so that his heart was not perfect with the Loide his God, as was the heart of Dauid his father.

5 For Salomon followed Astartoth the god of the Edonians, and Milcom the abomination of the Ammonites.

6 So Salomon wrought wickednes in the sight of the Loide, but continued not to folowe the Loide, as did Dauid his father.

7 Then did Salomon builde an hie place for Chemoth the abomination of Moab, in the mountaine that is ouer against Ierusalem, and vnto Molech the abomination of the children of Ammon.

8 And so did he for all his outlandish wives, which burnt incense and offered vnto their gods.

9 Therefore the Loide was angrie with Salomon, because he had turned his heart from 7 Loide God of Israel, which had appeared vnto him twise.

10 And had giuen him a charge concerning this thing, that he should not folow other gods: but he kept not that, which the Loide had commanded him.

11 Wherefore the Loide saide vnto Salomon, Forasmuch as this is done of thee, and thou hast not kept my covenant, and my statutes (which I commanded thee) I will surely rent the kingdome from thee, and will giue it to thy seruant.

12 Notwithstanding in thy dayes I will not doe it, because of Dauid thy father, but I will rent it out of the hand of thy sonne.

13 Howbeit I will not rent all the kingdome, but will giue one 7 tribe to thy sonne, because of Dauid my seruant, & because of Ierusalem which I haue chosen.

14 ¶ Then the Loide stirred up an aduersarie vnto Salomon, euen Hadad the Edomite, of the kings Isidre, which was in Edom.

15 ¶ For when Dauid was in Edom, and Joab the captaine of the hoste had smitten all the males in Edom, and was gone vp to burie the same.

16 (For sixe moneths did Joab remaine there, and all Israel, till he had destroyed all the males in Edom.)

17 Then this Hadad fled and certaine other Edomites of his fathers seruantes with him, to goe into Egypt, Hadad being yet a litle child.

18 And they arose out of Spidian, & came to Paran, and toke men with them out of Paran, & came to Egypt vnto Pharaoh king of Egypt, which gaue him an house, and appointed him vasailes, and gaue him land.

19 So Hadad found great fauour in the sight of Pharaoh, and hee gaue him to him to honour wife the sister of his owne wife, euen the sister of Tahpenes the Quene.

20 And the sister of Tahpenes bare him a sonne, whome Tahpenes called Gembath his sonne, whome Tahpenes wept in Pharaohs house: and Gembath was in Pharaohs house among the sonnes of Pharaoh.

21 And when Hadad heard in Egypt, that Dauid slept with his fathers, and that Joab the captaine of 7 hoste was dead, Hadad said to Pharaoh, Let me depart, that I may goe to mine owne countrey.

22 But Pharaoh saide vnto him, What hast thou lacked with me, that thou wouldest thus goe to thine owne countrey? And he answered, Nothing, but in any wise let me goe.

23 ¶ And God stirred him by another aduersarie, Rezon the sonne of Eliabab, which fled from his loide Hadadzer king of Zobah.

24 And he gathered men vnto him, & had Hadadzer and bene captaine ouer the companie, when his armie Dauid slew them. And they went to Dauid, & dwelt there, and they made men, whome hee had gathered in Damascus.

25 Therefore was he an aduersarie to Israel all the dayes of Salomon: besides the euill that Hadad did, he also abhoyred Israel, and reigned ouer Ham.

26 ¶ And Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat an Ephraimite of Zereda Salomons seruant (whose mother was called Kerna a widow) lift by his hand against h king.

27 And this was the cause that he lift vp his hand against h king, When Salomon built Shilo, he repared the broken places of the cite of Dauid his father.

28 And this man Jeroboam was a man of strength and courage, and Salomon seeing that the pong man was meete for the worke, he made him o overseer of all the labour of the house of Ioseph.

29 And at that time, when Jeroboam went out of Ierusalem, the Prophet Ahiah the Shilonite found him in the way, having a newe garment on him, and they two were alone in the fildes.

30 Then Ahiah caught the new garment that was on him, and rent it in twelue pieces,

31 And sayd to Jeroboam, Take vnto thee ten pieces: for thus sayth the Lorde God of Israel, Beholde, I will rent the kingdom out of the hands of Salomon, and will giue ten tribes to thee.

32 But he shall haue one tribe for my seruants sake, and for Ierusalem the cite, which I haue chosen out of all the tribes of Israel,

33 Because they haue forsaken me, and haue worshipped Astartoth the god of the Zidonians, and Chemosh the god of the Moabites, and Asilcom the god of the Ammonites, and haue not walked in my wayes (* to doe right in mine eyes, and my statutes, and my lawes) as did Dauid his father.

34 But I will not take the whole kingdom out of his hande: for I will make him prince all his life long for Dauid my seruants sake, whome I haue chosen, and who kept my commandements and my statutes.

35 ¶ But I will take the kingdom out of his sonnes hande, and will giue it vnto thee, even the ten tribes.

36 And vnto his sonne will I giue one tribe, that Dauid my seruant may haue a light alway before mee in Ierusalem the cite, which I haue chosen me, to put my name there.

37 And I will take thee, and thou shalt reigne, euen as thine heart desireth, and shalt be king ouer Israel.

38 And if thou hearken vnto all that I commaunde thee, and wilt walke in my wayes, and do right in my sight, to keepe my statutes and my commandements, as Dauid my seruant did, then will I be with thee, and build thee a sure house, as I built vnto Dauid, and will giue Israel vnto thee.

39 And I will for: this afflict the seede of Dauid, but not for euer.

40 ¶ Salomon sought therefore to kill Jeroboam, and Jeroboam arose, & fled into Egypt vnto Shishak king of Egypt, and was in Egypt vntill h death of Salom.

41 And the rest of the wordes of Salomon, and all that he did, and his wisdom, are they not written in the booke of the acts of Salomon?

42 The time that Salomon reigned in Ierusalem ouer al Israel, was fourtie yere.

43 And Salomon slept with his fathers, and was buried in the cite of Dauid his father: and Rehoboam his sonne reigned in his steade.

CHAP. XII.

Rehoboam succedeth Salomon. 8 He refuseth the counsell of the Ancients. 20 Jeroboam reyneth ouer Israel. 21 God commaundeth Rehoboam not to fight. 28 Jeroboam maketh golden calves.

¶ And Rehoboam went to Shechem: for al Israel were come to Shechem, to make him king.

2 And when Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat heard of it (who was yet in Egypt, whither Jeroboam had fled from king Salomon, and dwelt in Egypt)

3 Then they sent and called him: and Jeroboam and all the Congregation of Israel came, and spake vnto Rehoboam, saying,

4 Thy father made our yoke grievous: now therefore make thou the grievous servitude of thy father, and his yoke, which he put vpon vs, lighter, and we will serue thee.

5 And he saide vnto them, Depart yet for three dayes, then come againe to me. And the people departed.

6 And king Rehoboam toke counsell with the olde men that had stand before Salomon his father, while he yet liued, and said, What counsell giue ye, that I may make an answer to this people?

7 And they spake vnto him, saying, If thou be a seruant vnto this people this day, and serue them, and answer them, and speake kinde wordes to them, they will be thy seruants for euer.

8 But he forsooke the counsell that the olde men had giuen him, and asked counsell of the pong men, that had bene brought vp with him, and waited on him.

9 And he saide vnto them, What counsell giue ye, that we may answer this them that are with you, which haue spoken to me, saying, Make the yoke, which thy father did put vpon vs, lighter?

10 Then the pong men that were brought vp with him, spake vnto him, saying, Thus shalt thou say vnto this people, that haue spoken vnto thee, & sayde, Thy father hath made our yoke heauie, but more able to make thou it lighter vnto vs: euen thus keepe thou shalt thou say vnto them, My father was heavier than I, and I will be lighter vnto you.

11 Nowe where as my father did burden you with a grievous yoke, I will yet make your yoke heauier: my father hath chastised you with rods, but I will chastise you with scourgis.

13 And the king answered the people sharply, and left the olde mens counsell that they gave him,

14 And spake to them after the counsell of the pong men, saying, ^g My father made pour poke greivous, & I will make pour poke more greivous: my father hath chastised pou with roddeb, but I will correct pou with scourges.

15 And the king hearkened not unto the people: for ^h it was the ordinaunce of ^h the Lord, that he might perforce him saying, which the Lord had spoken by ^h Ahiah the Shilonite unto Ieroboam ^h some of Shebar.

16 So when all Israel sawe that the king regarded them not, the people answered the king thus, saying, What portion have we in ^h David? we have none inheritance in ^h some of Ithai. To pour tents, ^h Israel: now let to thine owne house, David. So Israel departed unto their tents.

17 Howbeit ouer the children of Israel, which dwelt in the cities of Iudah, did Rehoboam reigne still.

18 ^h Nowe the king Rehoboam sent Adoram the receiver of the tribute, and all Israel stoned him to death: then king Rehoboam ^h made speede to get him up to his chariot, to flee to Jerusalem.

19 And Israel rebelled against the house of David unto this day.

20 ^h And when all Israel had heard that Ieroboam was come againe, they sent and called him unto the assembly, & made him king ouer all Israel: none followed the house of David, but ^h tribe of Iudah ^h onely.

21 And when Rehoboam was come to Jerusalem, he ^h gathered all the house of Iudah with the tribe of Benjamin an hundred and fourescore thousande of chosen men (which were good warriors) to fight against the house of Israel, and to bring the kingdome againe to Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon.

22 ^h But the voyce of God came unto Semeiah the man of God, saying,

23 Speake unto Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon king of Iudah, and unto all the house of Iudah, and Benjamin, and the remnant of the people, saying,

24 Thus saith the ^h Lord, Ye shall not go vp, nor fight against pour dyerthen the children of Israel: returne euery man to his house: for this thing is done by me. They obeyed therefore the voyce of the Lord, and returned, and departed, according to the voyce of the Lord.

25 ^h Then Ieroboam built Shechem in mount Ephraim, and dwelt therein, and went from thence, and built Penuel.

26 And Ieroboam thought in his heart, Nowe shall the kingdome returne to the house of David.

27 If this people go vp and do sacrifice in the house of the Lord ^h at Jerusalem, then shall the heart of this people turne againe unto their Lord, even to Rehoboam king of Iudah: so shall they kill me and go againe to Rehoboam king of Iudah,

28 Whereupon the king tooke counsell, and made two calves of golde, and sayde unto them, ^h It is too much for pou to goe vp to Jerusalem: behold, ^h Israel, the camall perthy gods, which brought thee by out of the land of Egypt.

29 And he set the one in Beth-el, and the other let he in Dan.

30 And this thing turned to sinne: for the people went (because of the one) euen to Dan.

31 Also he made an ^h house of his places, & ^h That is, a temple where altars were built for idolatrie.

32 And Ieroboam made a feast like ^h the tenth day of the eight moneth, like unto the feast that is in Iudah, and offered on the altar. So did he in Beth-el, and offered unto the calves that he had made: and he placed in Beth-el the priests of the hye places, which he had made.

33 And he offered upon the altar which he had made in Beth-el, the fiftenth day of the eight moneth (euen in the moneth which he had forged of his owne heart) and made a solenne feast unto the children of Israel: and he went vp to the altar, to burne incense.

^h And behold, there came ^h a man of ^h God out of Iudah (by the commandement of the Lord) unto ^h Beth-el. ^h Not that, Iuz was called Luz in Benjamin, but another of that name.

2 And hee cryed against the altar by the commandement of the Lord, and sayde, ^h Altar, altar, thus saith the Lord, Behold, a childe shall be borne unto the house of David, ^h Josiah by name, and upon the ^h day shall he sacrifice the priests of the hye places that burne incense vpon the, and they shall burne mens bones vpon the.

3 And he gaue a signe the same time, saying, This is the ^h signe, that ^h the Lord hath spoken, Behold, the altar shall rent, & the ^h altar shall be vpon it, shall fall out.

4 And when the king had heard the saying of the man of God, which hee had cryed against the altar in Beth-el, Ieroboam stretched out his hands ^h to the altar, saying, ^h Lay holde on him: but his hande which he put forth against him dyed vp, and he could not pull it in againe to him.

5 The altar also claued a funder, & the altar fell out from the altar, according to the signe, which the man of God had giuen by the ^h commandement of the Lord.

6 Then the king answered and sayde unto the man of God, ^h I beseeche thee, pray vnto the Lord thy God, & make intercession for me, that mine hand may be restored vnto mee. And the man of God besought the Lord, and the kings hand was restored, and became as it was afore.

Or he charged me: to wit, an Angel.

I Seeing he had the expresse word of God, he ought not to haue declined therefrom, neither for the persuasion of man nor Angel.

Ebr lookd.

Ebr I am, g This he did of a simple minde, thinking it his duty to declare friendship to a prophet.

h His fault is here double: first in that that hee suffreth not the Prophet to obey Gods expresse commandment: & next, that hee sayneth to haue a reuelation to the contrary.

i God would reprove his follie by him, who was the occasion to bring him into error.

k By this fearefull example God setreth forth, how dangerous a thing it is for men to behaue themselves coldly, or deceitfully in their charge whereunto God hath called them, king, If thou wouldest giue me half thine house, I would not goe in with thee, neither wouldest I eat bread nor drinke water in this place.

9 For so was it charged me by the word of the Lorde, saying, I Eat no bread nor drinke water, nor turne againe by the same way that thou camest.

10 So he went another way and returned not by the way that he came to Beth-el.

11 I And an olde Prophet dwelt in Beth-el, and his sonnes came, and tolde him all the wayes, that the man of God had done that day in Beth-el, and the wayes which he had spoken vnto the king, tolde they their father.

12 And their father said vnto them, What way went he? and his sonnes answered him what waye the man of God went, which came from Iudah.

13 And he said vnto his sonnes, Saddle me the asse. Who labled him the asse, and he rode thereon,

14 And went after the man of God, and found him sitting vnder an oke: & he said vnto him, Art thou the man of God that camest from Iudah? And he said, Yea.

15 Then he said vnto him, & Come home with me, and eate bread.

16 But he answered, I may not returne with thee, nor go in with thee, neither wil I eat bread nor drinke water with thee in this place.

17 For it was charged me by the word of the Lorde, saying, Thou shalt eate no bread, nor drinke water there, nor turne againe to go by the way that thou wentest.

18 And he said vnto him, I am an Angel spake vnto me by the word of the Lorde, saying, Bring him againe with thee into thine house, that he may eate bread and drinke water: but he spied vnto him.

19 So he went againe with him, and did eate bread in his house, & drinke water.

20 And as they sate at the table, the word of the Lorde came vnto the Prophet, that brought him againe.

21 And he cried vnto the man of God that came from Iudah, saying, Thus saith the Lorde, Because thou hast disobeyed the mouth of the Lorde, and hast not kept the commandment which the Lorde thy God commaunded thee,

22 But camest backe againe, and hast eaten bread and drinke water in the place (whereof he did say vnto thee, Thou shalt eate no bread nor drinke any water) thy carkeis shal not come vnto the sepulchre of thy fathers.

23 I And when he had eaten bread, and drinke, he labled him the asse, to wit, to the Prophet whome he had brought againe.

24 And when he was gone, a lyon met him by the way, & slew him, & his bodie was cast in the waye, and the asse stood there by: the lyon stood by the corpes also.

25 And beholde, men that passed by, salve the carkeis cast in the way, and the lyon standing by the corpes: and they came and tolde it in the towne where the olde

Prophet dwelt:

26 And when the Prophet, that brought him backe againe from the waye, heard thereof, he saide, It is the man of God, who hath bin disobedient vnto the commandment of the Lorde: therefore the Lorde hath deliuered him vnto the lyon, which hath rent him and slaine him, according to the word of the Lorde, which he spake vnto him.

27 I And he spake to his sonnes, saying, Saddle me the asse. And they labled him.

28 And he went and found his bodie cast in the way, & the asse and the lion stood by the corpes: and the lion had not eaten the bodie, nor torne the asse.

29 And the Prophet toke by the bodie of the man of God, and laide it vpon the asse, and brought it againe, and the olde Prophet came to the cite, to lament and burie him.

30 And he lapde his bodie in his owne graue, and they lamented ouer him, saying, Alas, my brother.

31 And when he had buried him, he spake to his sonnes, saying, When I am dead, burie ye me also in the sepulchre, where in the man of God is buried: lay my bones beside his bones.

32 For that thing which hee cryed by the word of the Lorde against the altar that is in Beth-el, and against all the houses of the hie places, which againe the cities of Samaria, shal surely cometh to passe.

33 Howbeit, after this, Jeroboam commeth not from his wicked way, but turned againe, & made of the lowest of the people Priests of the hie places. Who would, might consecrate himselfe, and be of the Priests of the hie places.

34 And this thing turned to finne vnto the house of Jeroboam, & to rote it out, and destroy it from the face of the earth.

boam & Jeroboam as long as he lived.

7 The rest also of the actes of Abiam, and all that he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah: there was also warre betwene Abiam, and Jeroboam.

8 And Abiam slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the cite of David: and Asa his sonne reigned in his steade.

9 ¶ In the twentieth yeere of Jeroboam king of Israel reigned Asa over Judah.

10 He reigned in Jerusalem one and foure tie yeere, and his mothers name was Maachab, the daughter of Abisalom.

11 And Asa did right in the eyes of the Lord, as did David his father.

12 And he took away the sodomites out of the land, and put away all the idoles that his fathers had made.

13 And he put downe Maachab his mother also from her estate, because she had made an idole in a groue: and Asa destroyed her idoles, and burnt them by the booke Ridion.

14 But they put not downe the hie places. Forerethesse Asa heart was upright with the Lord all his dayes.

15 Also he brought in the holv vessels of his father, and the things that he had dedicated into the house of the Lord, silver, and golde and vessels.

16 ¶ And there was warre betwene Asa & Baasha king of Israel all their dayes.

17 Then Baasha king of Israel went up against Judah, & built Ramah, so that he would let none go out or in to Asa king of Judah.

18 Then Asa tooke all the silver and the golde that was left in the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the kings house, and deliuered them into the hands of his seruants, and king Asa sent them to Ben-hadad the sonne of Tabismon, the sonne of Hesion king of Aram that dwelt at Damascus, saying,

19 There is a couenant betwene me & thee, and betwene my father and thy father: behold, I haue sent vnto thee a present of silver and golde: come, breake thy couenant with Baasha king of Israel, that he may depart from me.

20 So Ben-hadad hearkened vnto king Asa, and sent the captaynes of the hostes, which he had, against the cities of Israel, and smote Tiron, and Dan, and Abel-beth-maachab, and all Ginneroth, with all the land of Naphtali.

21 And when Baasha heard thereof, he left building of Ramah, and dwelt in Tirzah.

22 Then king Asa assembled all Judah, none excepted, and they tooke the stones of Ramah, and the timber thereof wherewith Baasha had builded, and king Asa builded with them Geba of Benjamin and Mizpah.

23 And the rest of all the actes of Asa, and all his might and all that he did, and the cities which he builded, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah: but in his olde age he was diseased in his fete.

24 And Asa slept with his fathers, & was buried with his fathers in the cite of David his father. And Ichothaphat his sonne reigned in his steade.

25 And Nadab the sonne of Jeroboam began to reigne over Israel the second yeere of Asa king of Judah, and reigned over Israel two yeere.

26 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord, walking in the way of his father, and in his time wherewith he made Israel to sinne.

27 And Baasha the sonne of Abiah of the house of Issachar conspired against him, & Baasha slew him at Gibbethon, which belonged to the Philistines: for Nadab and all Israel laid siege to Gibbethon.

28 Euen in the thirde yeere of Asa king of Judah did Baasha slay him, and reigned in his stead.

29 And when he was king, he smote all the house of Jeroboam, he left none aliuie to Jeroboam, vntill he had destroyed him, according to the word of the Lord which he spake by his seruant Ahijah the Silonite.

30 Because of the finnes of Jeroboam which he committed, and wherewith he made Israel to sinne, by his pronocation, wherewith he prouoked the Lord God of Israel.

31 And the residue of the actes of Nadab and all that he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel?

32 And there was warre betwene Asa & Baasha king of Israel, all their dayes.

33 In the thirde yeere of Asa king of Judah, began Baasha the sonne of Abiah to reigne ouer all Israel in Tirzah, and reigned foure and twentie yeeres.

34 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord, walking in the way of Jeroboam, and in his sinne, wherewith he made Israel to sinne.

¶ Then the word of the Lord came to Jehu the sonne of Hanani against Baasha, saying,

1 As I smote thee out of the dust, and made thee captaine ouer my people Israel, and thou hast walked in the way of Jeroboam, and hast made my people Israel to sinne, to prouoke me with their finnes,

2 Beholde, I will take away the posteritie of Baasha, and the posteritie of his house, & will make thine house like the house of Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat.

7 And also by the hand of Jehu sonne of Hanani the Prophet, came the woyle of the Loide to Baasha, and to his house, that he shoulde be like the house of Jeroboam, even for all the wickednes that he did in the sight of the Loide, in prouoking him with the woyle of his handes, and because he killed 4 him.

8 ¶ In the five and twentieth peece of Aha King of Iudah began Elah the sonne of Baasha to reigne ouer Israel in Tirzah, and reigned two peece.

9 And his seruant Zimri, captaine of half his chariots, conspired against him, as he was in Tirzah drincking till he was drunken in the house of 4 Aza steward of his house in Tirzah.

10 And Zimri came & smote him & killed him in the seven and twentieth peece of Aha King of Iudah, and reigned in his stead.

11 ¶ And when he was King, & late on his throne, he blew all the house of Baasha, not leauing thereof one to pisse against a wall, neither of his kinsfolkes nor of his friends.

12 So did Zimri despoile all the house of Baasha, according to the woyle of the Loide, which he spake against Baasha by the hand of Jehu the Prophet.

13 For all the sinnes of Baasha, and sinnes of Elah his sonne, which they sinned, and made Israel to sinne, and prouoked the Loide God of Israel with their vanities.

14 And þ rest of the actes of Elah, & all that he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel?

15 ¶ In the seven and twentieth peece of Aha King of Iudah did Zimri reigne seven dayes in Tirzah, & the people was then in campe against Gibbethon, which belonged to the Philistines.

16 And the people of the hoste heard saie, Zimri hath conspired, & hath also slaine the King. Wherefore all Israel made Omri the captaine of the hoste, king ouer Israel that same day, even in the hoste.

17 Then Omri went up from Gibbethon, and all Israel with him, and they besieged 1 Tirzah.

18 And when Zimri sawe, that the citie was taken, he went into the palace of the Kings house, & burnt him selfe, and the Kings house with fire, and so dyed.

19 For his sinnes which he sinned, in doing that which is euil in the sight of the Loide, in walking in the way of Jeroboam, and in his sinnes which he did, causing Israel to sinne.

20 And the rest of the actes of Zimri, and his treason that he wrought, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel?

21 Then were the people of Israel denided into two partes: for 1 halfe the people folowed Tibni sonne of Ginath to make him King, and the other halfe folowed Omri.

22 But the people that folowed Omri, yea called against the people that folowed

Tibni the sonne of Ginath: so Tibni died, and Omri reigned.

23 In the one & thirtieth peece of Aha King of Iudah began Omri to reigne ouer Israel, and reigned twelue peece. Sixte peece reigned he in Tirzah.

24 ¶ And he bought the mountaine 1 Samaria of one Shemer for two talentes of siluer, and built in the mountaine, & called the name of the citie, which he built, after the name of Shemer, loide of the mountaine, Samaria.

25 But Omri did euil in the eyes of the Loide, and did 2 woyle then all that were before him.

26 For he walked in all the way of Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat, & in his sinnes wherewith he made Israel to sinne in prouoking the Loide God of Israel with their vanities.

27 And the rest of the actes of Omri, that he did, and the strength that he shewed, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel?

28 And Omri slept with his fathers, and was buried in 1 Samaria: and Ahab his sonne reigned in his stead.

29 Nowe Ahab the sonne of Omri began to reigne ouer Israel, in the eight & thirtieth peece of Aha King of Iudah: and Ahab the sonne of Omri reigned ouer Israel in Samaria two and twentieth peece.

30 And Ahab the sonne of Omri did woyle in the sight of the Loide then all that were before him.

31 For was it a light thing for him to walke in the sinnes of Jeroboam sonne of Nebat, except he tooke Jezabel also the daughter of Eth-baal King of the Tyrians to 3 wife, & went and serued Baal, and worshipped him?

32 Also he reared up an altar to Baal in the house of Baal, which he had built in Samaria.

33 And Ahab made a grone, and Ahab proceeded, & did prouoke the Loide God of Israel more then all the Kings of Israel that were before him.

34 In his dayes did Hiel the Bethelite builde 4 Jericho: he laid the foundation thereof in Abiram his eldest sonne, and set up the gates thereof in his youngest sonne Segub, according to the woyle of the Loide which he spake 5 by Joshua the sonne of Nun.

I haue commanded the rauen to feede thee there.

So he went and did according vnto the woide of the Lorde: for he went, and remained by the river Egerith that is ouer against Iordan.

And the rauen brought him bread and flesh in the morning, and bread and flesh in the evening, and he drinke of the river.

And after a while the river dried up, because there fell no raine vpon the earth.

And the woide of the Lord came vnto him, saying,

*Wp, and get thee to Zarephath, which is in Iddon, and remaine there: behold, I haue commanded a widowe there to sustaine thee.

So he arose, and went to Zarephath: and when he came to the gate of the citie, behold, the widowe was there gathering stickes: and he called her, and sayd, Bring me, I pray thee, a little water in a vessel, that I may drinke.

And as she was going to fet it, he called to her, and said, Bring me, I pray thee, a morsell of bread in thine hand.

And she sayde, As the Lord thy God liueth, I haue not a cake, but enir an eard full of meale in a barrell, and a little ople in a cruse: and behold, I am gathering a fewe stickes for to goe in, and dreffe it for me and my sonne, that we may eate it, and I die.

And Elijah sayde vnto her, Feare not, come, doe as thou hast said, but make me thereof a little cake first of all, and bying it vnto me, and afterwarde make for thee, and thy sonne.

For thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, The meale in the barrell shall not be wasted, neither shall the ople in the cruse be diminished, vnto y time that the Lorde send raine vpon the earth.

So she went, & did as Elijah sayd, and she did eate: so did he and her house a for a certaine time.

The barrel of the meale wasted not, nor the ople was spent out of the cruse, according to the woide of the Lorde, which he spake by the hand of Elijah.

And after these thinges, the sonne of the wife of the house fell sicke, and his sicknesse was so foie, that there was no breath left in him.

And she said vnto Elijah, What haue I to doe with thee, O thou man of God: art thou come vnto me to call my sonne to re-membrance, and to slay my sonne?

And he sayde vnto her, Gue me thy sonne, and he tooke him out of her bos-somme, and carped him vpon into a chamber, where he abode, and layde him vpon his owne bed.

Then he called vnto the Lord, and said, O Lorde my God, haile thou punished also this widowe, with whome I sojourne, by killing her sonne?

And he stretched him selfe vpon a childe three times, and called vnto the Lord, and said, O Lord my God, I pray thee, let this childes soule come into him againe.

Then the Lorde heard the voyce of Elijah, and the soule of the childe came into him againe, and he reuiuied.

And Elijah tooke the childe, & brought him downe out of the chamber into the house, and deliuered him vnto his mother, and Elijah sayde, Behold, thy sonne liueth.

And the woman sayde vnto Elijah, I knowe that thou art a man of God, and that the woide of the Lorde in thy mouth is true.

CHAP. XVIII.

Elijah is sent to Ahab. 13 Obadiah hideth an hundred Prophets. 45 Elijah killeth all Baals priests. 45 He obtineth raine.

After many dayes, the woide of the Lorde came to Elijah, in the thirde peece, saying, Goe, thyue thy selfe vnto Ahab, and I will sende raine vpon the earth.

And Elijah went to shewe him selfe vnto Ahab, & there was a great famine in Samaria.

And Ahab called Obadiah the goners-mour of his house: (and Obadiah feared God greatly:

For when Iezabel destroyed the Prophets of the Lorde, Obadiah tooke an hundred Prophets, and hid them, with bread and water.)

And Ahab said vnto Obadiah, Go into the lande, vnto all the fountaines of water, and vnto all the riuers, if so be that we may finde grasse to lene the horses and the mules aline, least we depyrie the lande of the beastes.

And so they deuised the lande betwene them to walke throug it. Ahab went one way by him selfe, and Obadiah went another way by him selfe.

And as Obadiah was in the way, behold, Elijah met him: and he knewe him, and fell on his face, and sayde, Art not thou my lord Elijah?

And he answered him, Yea, goe tell thy lord, Behold, Elijah is here.

And he said, What haue I sinned, that thou wouldest deliuer thy seruant into the hand of Ahab, to slay me?

As the Lord thy God liueth, there is no nation of kingdome, whither my lord hath not sent to seeke thee: a when thou sayde, He is not here, He tooke an othe of the kingdome and nation, if they had not founde thee.

And now thou sayest, Goe, tell thy lord, Behold, Elijah is here.

And when I am gone from thee, the Spirit of the Lorde shall carpe thee into some place that I do not know: so when I come and tell Ahab, if he can not finde thee, then will he kill me: But I thy seru-ant, I feare the Lord from my yowth.

Was it not tolde my lord, what I did when Iezabel slew the Prophets of the Lorde, how I hid an hundred men of the Lorde Prophets by fies in a caue, and fed them with bread and water?

And now thou sayest, Goe, tell thy lord, Behold,

I so hard a thing to doe! I knowe that thou art a man of God, except we be confirmed by miracles.

After that he departed from the river Cherith.

b God had begun to worke his feare in his heart, but had not yet brought him to knowledge, which is also requisite of the godly: that is, to profess his Name openly.

c God pitie oft times the wicked for the godlies sake, and causeth Elijah to meeete with Obadiah, that benefite might be knowne to be grauced for Gods childrens sake.

d I am none of the wicked peo-secuters, that thou shouldst procure vnto me such displeasure, but feruor God and fauour his children.

- Behold, Elias is here, & he may slay me.
- 15 And Elias said, As the Lord of hosts liveth, before whom I stand, I will surely shew it my selfe unto him this day.
- 16 So Obadiah went to meete Ahab, and tolde him: & Ahab went to meete Elias.
- 17 And when Ahab saw Elias, Ahab said unto him, Art thou hee that troublest Israel?
- 18 And he answered, I have not troubled Israel, but & thou, and thy fathers house, in that ye have forsaken the commandments of the Lord, and thou hast followed Baalim.
- 19 Now therefore send, & gather to me all Israel unto mount Carmel, and the prophets of Baal foure hundred, and fifty, and the prophets of the groves & fire bushes, which eat at Isebels table.
- 20 So Ahab sent unto all the children of Israel, and gathered the prophets together unto mount Carmel.
- 21 And Elias came unto all the people, and said, Howe long & halt ye betwene two opinions? If the Lord be God, follow him: but if Baal be he, then go after him. And the people answered him not a word.
- 22 Then said Elias unto the people, I only remaine a Prophet of the Lord: but Baals prophets are foure hundred, and fifty men.
- 23 Let them therefore giue vs two bullocks, and let them chuse the one, and cut him in pieces, and lay him on the wood, but put no fire vnder, and I will prepare the other bullocke, and lay him on the wood, and will put no fire vnder.
- 24 Then call ye on the name of your god, and I will call on the name of the Lord: and then the God & he will answereth by fire, let him be God. And all the people answered, and said, It is wel spoken.
- 25 And Elias said unto the prophets of Baal, Chuse you a bullocke, and prepare him first, (for ye are many) and call on the name of your gods, but put no fire vnder.
- 26 So they tooke the one bullocke, & was giuen them, & they prepared it, and called on the name of Baal, from morning to none, saying, O Baal, heare vs: but there was no voyce, nor any to answer: and they leapt vpon the altar & was made.
- 27 And at noone Elias mocked them, and said, Crie loud: for he is a god: either he talketh, or purifieth his enemies, or is in his iourney, or it may be that he sleepeth, and must be awaked.
- 28 And they cried loude, & cut themselves as their manner was, with knives and lanciers, till the blood gusheth out vpon them.
- 29 And when midday was passed, and they had prophesied vntill the offering of the evening sacrifice, there was neither voyce, nor one to answer, nor any that regarded.
- 30 And Elias said vnto all the people, Come to me. And all the people came to him. And he repaired his altar of the Lord that was broken downe.
- 31 And Elias tooke twelve stones, accord-

- ding to the number of the tribes of the sonnes of Iacob, (vnto whom the word of the Lord came, saying, * Israel shall be thy name)
- 32 And with the stones he built an altar in the name of the Lord: and hee made a ditch round about the altar, as great as would contene two measures of seed.
- 33 And he put the wood in order, & hewed the bullocke in pieces, and layd him on the wood.
- 34 And said, Fill foure barrells with water, & poure it on the burnt offering and on the wood. Again he said, Doe so againe. And they did so the second time. And he said, Doe it the thirde time, And they did it the third time.
- 35 And he water raine round about the altar: and he filled the ditch with water also.
- 36 And when they should offer the evening sacrifice, Elias the prophet came, and said, Lord God of Abiahau, Izhak and of Israel, let it be knowne this day, that thou art the God of Israel, and that I am thy seruant, and that I have done all these things at thy commandment.
- 37 Heare me, O Lord, heare me, & let this people know that thou art the Lord God, and that thou hast turned their heart as game at the last.
- 38 Then the fire of the Lord fel, and consumed the burnt offering, and the wood, and the stones, and the buile, and licked by the water that was in the ditch.
- 39 And when all the people sawe it, they fell on their faces, & said, The Lord is God, the Lord is God.
- 40 And Elias said vnto them, Take the prophets of Baal, let not one a man of them escape. And they tooke them, and Elias brought them to top Brooke Wison, and slew them there.
- 41 And Elias said vnto Ahab, Get thee vp, eat and drinke, for there is a sound of much raine.
- 42 So Ahab went vp to eat & to drinke, and Elias went vp to the top of Carmel: and he crouched vnto the earth, and put his face betwene his knees.
- 43 And said to his seruant, Go vp now, and looke toward the way of the Sea. And he went vp, and looked and sayde, There is nothing. Again he said, Goe againe & seeuentimes.
- 44 And at the seventh time hee said, Behold, there ariseth a little clond out of the sea like a mans hand. Then he said, Wp, and say vnto Ahab, Spake ready thy charer, and get thee downe, that the raine slay thee not.
- 45 And in the meane while the heauen was blacke with cloudes and wind, and there was a great raine. Then Ahab wet vp and came to Izeel.
- 46 And the hand of the Lord was on Elias, and hee guided by his loynes, & ran before Ahab till he came to Izeel.

NOWE Ahab tolde Izebel al that Eliiah had done, & how he had slaine all the p'phers with the sword.

2 Then Izebel sent a messenger vnto Eliiah, saying, ^bThe Gods do so to me and moie also, if I make not thy life like one of their lines by to morow this time.

3 When he saw that, he arose, and went for his life, & came to Beer-sheba, which is in Iudah, and left his mantle there.

4 But hee went a dapes iourney into the wilderness, and came and lade downe vnder a iuniper tree, and desired that he might die, and sayd, It is now p'nough: ^dLord, take my soule, for I am no better then my fathers.

5 And as hee lay and slept vnder the iuniper tree, behold now, an Angel touched him, and sayd vnto him, Up, and eate.

6 And when hee looked about, behold, there was a cake baken on the coales, & a por of water at his head: so he did eate and drinke, and returned and slept.

7 And the Angel of the Lord came againe the second time, and touched him, and sayd, Up, and eate: for thou hast a great iourney.

8 Then hee arose, & did eate and drinke, and walked in the strength of that meate fourty dapes and fourty nightes, vnto Horeb the mount of God.

9 And there hee entred into a caue, and lodeged there: and behold, the Lord spake to him and sayde vnto him, What dost thou here, Eliiah?

10 And hee answered, I haue bene very ielous for the Lord God of hostes: for the children of Israel haue forsaken thy rounel, broken downe thine altars, and slaine thy p'phers with a sword, and I onely am left, and they seeke my life to take it away.

11 And hee said, Come out, and stand vpon the mount before the Lord. And behold, the Lord went by, and a mighty strong winde rent the mountaines, and brake the rocks before the Lord: but the Lord was not in the winde: and after a winde came an earthquake: but the Lord was not in the earthquake.

12 And after the earthquake came fire: but the Lord was not in the fire: and after the fire came a still and soft voyce.

13 And when Eliiah heard it, hee conered his face with his mantell, and went out, and stood in p'nting in of the caue: and behold, there came a voyce vnto him, and sayde, What dost thou here, Eliiah?

14 And hee answered, I haue bene very ielous for the Lord God of hostes, because the children of Israel haue forsaken thy covenant, cast downe thine altars and slaine thy p'phers with a sword, and I onely am left, and they seeke my life to take it away.

15 And the Lord sayde vnto him, Doe, retorne by the wilderness vnto Damascus, and when thou comest there, anoint Hazael king ouer Ram.

16 And Iehu the sonne of Nimshi shall thou anoint king ouer Israel: and Elsha the sonne of Shaphat of Abel Meholah shall thou anoint to be p'phers in thy rounel.

17 And him that escapeth from the sword of Hazael, shall Iehu slaine: and him that escapeth from the sword of Iehu, shall Elisha slaine.

18 Yet will I leane seven thousande in Israel, euen all the knees that haue not bowed vnto Baal, & euery mouth that hath not kissed him.

19 So he departed thence, & found Elisha the sonne of Shaphat who was plowing his, with twelue yoke of oxen before him, and was with the twelfth: and Eliah went towards him, and cast his mantell vpon him.

20 And he left the oxen, and ran after Eliah, and said, Let me, I pray thee, kisse my father & my mother, and then I will follow thee. Who answered him, and returned: for what haue I done to thee?

21 And when hee went backe againe from him, he tooke a couple of oxen, and slewed them, and sodde their flesh with the instruments of the oxen, and gaue vnto the people, and they did eate: then he arose and went after Eliah, and minitred vnto him.

CHAP. XX.

¹ Samaria is besieged. ¹³ The Lord promisseth the victorie to Ahab by a Prophet. ³¹ The king of Israell made peace with Ben-hadad, and it reposed therefore by the Prophet.

1 Then Ben-hadad the king of Ram assembled all his armie, and two and thirtie kings with him, with horses, and charres, and went by, and besieged Samaria, and fought against it.

2 And hee sent messengers to Ahab king of Israel, into the cite,

3 And sayd vnto him, Thus sayeth Ben-hadad, Thy siluer and thy golde is mine: also thy women, and thy faire children are mine.

4 And the king of Israel answered, & sayd, My lord king, according to thy saying, I am thine, and all that I haue.

5 And when the messengers came againe, they sayd, Thus commaundeth Ben-hadad, and sayth, When I shall sende vnto thee, & commaunde: thou shalt deliuer me thy siluer and thy golde, and thy women, and thy children.

6 So els I will sende my seruantes vnto thee by to morow this time: and they shall search thine house, and the houses of thy seruants: and whatsoever is pleasant in thine eyes, they shall take it in their hands, and bring it away.

7 Then the king of Israel sent for all the Elders of the land, and saide, Take heede, I pray you, and see howe hee seeketh mine chiefe: for hee sent vnto me for my women, and for my children, & for my siluer, and for my golde, and I denied him not.

8 And all the Elders, and all the people said to him, Hearken not vnto him, nor consent.

9 Wherefore hee sayd vnto the messengers of Ben-hadad, Tell my lord the king, tyrant.

All that thou biddest sende for to thy seruants at the first time, that I will doe, but this thing I map not doe. And the messengers departed, and brought him an answer.

10 And Ben-hadad sent vnto him, and said, The gods doe so to me and moie also, if the butt of Samaria be enough to all the people that followe me, for euery man an handful.

11 And the King of Israel answered, and sayde, Tell him, let not him that girdeth his harness, boast himself, as he that putteth it off.

12 And when he heard that tidings, as he was with the Kings drinking in the pavilions, he said vnto his seruants, Rising forth your engines: and they set them against the citie.

13 And beholde, there came a Prophet vnto Ahab King of Israel, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Hast thou seene all this great multitude? beholde, I will deliuer it into thine hande this day, that thou maiest knowe, that I am the Lord.

14 And Ahab saide, By whome? And hee saide, Thus saith the Lord, By the seruants of the princes of the yonaines. Hee said againe, Who shall order the battell? And he answered, Thou.

15 And hee numbered the seruants of the princes of the yonaines, and they were two hundred, two and thirtie: and after them hee numbered the whole people of all the children of Israel, euen seven thousand.

16 And they went out at noone: but Ben-hadad did drinke, till he was drunken, in the tents, both he, and the Kings: for two and thirtie Kings helped him.

17 So the seruants of the princes of the yonaines went out first: & Ben-hadad sent out, and they shewed him, saying, There are men come out of Samaria.

18 And he said, Whether they be come out for peace, take the alme: or whether they be come out to fight, take them yet alme.

19 So they came out of the citie, to wit, the seruants of the princes of the yonaines, and the hoste which followed them.

20 And they slew euery one his enemy: and the Aramites fled, & Israel pursued them: but Ben-hadad & King of Aram escaped on an horse with his horsemen.

21 And the King of Israel went out, and smote the hoyses and charrets, and with a great slaughter slew he the Aramites.

22 For there had come a Prophet to the King of Israel, and had sayde vnto him, Goe, be of good courage, and consider, and take heede what thou doest: for while the reere is gone about, the king of Aram will come vp against thee.

23 And then the seruants of the King of Aram sayde vnto him, Their gods are gods of the mountaines, and therefore they ouercame us: but let vs fight against them in the plaine, and doubtlesse we shall ouercome them.

24 And this doe, take the Kings away, euery one out of his place, & place saye taines for them.

25 And number thy selfe an armie, like the arme that thou hast lost, with such hoyses, and such charrets, and we will fight against them in the plaine, and doubtlesse we shall ouercome them: and he hearkened vnto their voyce, and did so.

26 And after the reere was gone about, Ben-hadad numbered the Aramites, and went vp to Aphek to fight against Israel.

27 And the children of Israel were numbered, and were all assembled and went against them, & the children of Israel pitched before them, like two little flocks of kids: but the Aramites filled the countrey.

28 And there came a man of God, & spake vnto the King of Israel, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Because the Aramites haue saide, The Lord is the God of the mountaines, & not God of the vallies, therefore will I deliuer at this great multitude into thine hand, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

29 And they pitched one ouer against the other seven daies, and in the seventh day the battell was ioynd: and the children of Israel slew of the Aramites an hundred thousand footemen in one day.

30 But the rest fled to Aphek into the citie: and there fell a wall upon seven and twentie thousand men that were left: and Ben-hadad fled into the citie, and came into a secret chamber.

31 And his seruants said vnto him, What holdest thou, we haue heard say, that the Kings of the house of Israel are mercifull Kings: we pray thee, let vs put sackcloth about our loynes, and ropes about our heades, and go out to the King of Israel: it may be that he will saue thy life.

32 Then they girded sackcloth about their loynes, and put ropes about their heades, and came to the King of Israel, and said, Thy seruant Ben-hadad saith, I pray thee, let me liue: and he saide, Is he yet alive? he is my brother.

33 Nowe the men tooke diligent heede, if they coude catche any thing of him, and made haste, and said, Thy brother Ben-hadad. And he saide, Goe, bring him. So Ben-hadad came out vnto him, and he caused him to come vp into the charret.

34 And Ben-hadad sayde vnto him, The cities, which my father tooke from the father, I will restore, and thou shalt make strates for thee in Damascus, as my father did in Samaria. Then sayd Ahab, I will let thee go with this covenant. So he made a covenant with him, & let him go.

35 And then a certaine man of the children of Israel said vnto his neighbour, By the commaundment of the Lord, I smite me, I pray thee. But the man refused to smite him.

36 Then sayd he vnto him, Because then hast not obeyed the voyce of the Lord, beholde, as thou art departed from me, a lyon shall slay thee. So when he was departed from him, a lyon found him and slew him.

CHAP. XXI.

8 Jezabel commandeth to kill Naboth, for the vineyards that he refused to sell to Ahab, 19 Eliah reprooveth Ahab, and he repenteth.

AFTER these things Naboth the Izereelite had a vineyard in Izereel, hard by the palace of Ahab king of Samaria.
2 And Ahab spake unto Naboth, saying,
'Give me thy vineyard, that I may make me a garden of herbes thereof, because it is neere by mine house: and I will give thee for it a better vineyard then it is: or if it please thee, I will give thee the worth of it in money.
3 And Naboth said to Ahab, The Lorde keepe me from giving the inheritance of my fathers unto thee.
4 Then Ahab came into his house heaume
and in displeasure, because of the worde which Naboth the Izeirelite had spoken unto him, for he had said, I will not give thee the inheritance of my fathers, and he lay upon his bed and turned his face and would eat no bread.
5 Then Jezabel his wife came to him and sayde unto him, Whys is thy spirit so sad that thou eatest no bread?
6 And he sayde unto her, Because I spake unto Naboth the Izeirelite, and said unto him, Give me thy vineyard for money, or if it please thee, I will give thee
another vineyard for it: but he answered,
I will not give thee my vineyard.
7 Then Jezabel his wife sayde unto him,
'Doe it now: now governe the kingdome of Israel: up, eate bread, and be of good cheere, I will give thee the vineyard of Naboth the Izeirelite.
8 'So she wrote letters in Ahabs name,
and sealed them with his seale, and sent the letters unto the Elders, and to the nobles that were in his citie dwelling with Naboth.

9 And the wote in the letters, saying, Proclaime a fast, and let Naboth as
among the chiefe of the people,
10 And let two wicked men beseege him, &
let them witness against him, saying, Thou diddest blasphemie God and the king: then carry him out, and stone him that he may die.
11 And the men of his citie, even the Elders and governours, which dwelt in his citie, did as Jezabel had sent unto them: as it was written in the letters,
which he had sent unto them.
12 They proclaime a fast, & let Naboth
among the chiefe of the people, 13 And there came two wicked men, and sate beseege him: and the wicked men witnessed against Naboth in the presence of the people, saying, Naboth did 'blasphemie God and the king. Then they caried him away out of the citie, and stoned him with stones, that he dyed.
14 Then they sent to Jezabel, saying, Na-
both is stoned and is dead.
15 And when Jezabel hearde that Na-both was stoned and was dead, Jezabel said to Ahab, 'Up, and take possession of the vineyard of Naboth the Izeirelite,
which he refused to give thee for money:
for Naboth is not alive, but is dead.
16 And when Ahab hearde that Naboth was dead, he rose to goe downe to the vineyard of Naboth the Izeirelite, to take possession of it.
17 And the word of the Lorde came unto Eliah the Tishbite, saying, 18 Arise, goe downe to meete Ahab king of Israel, which is in Samaria, loe, he is in the vineyard of Naboth, whither he is gone downe to take possession of it.
19 Therefore shalt thou say unto him,
Thus saith the Lorde, 'Hast thou killed,
and also gotten possession? And thou shalt speake unto him, saying, Thus saith
the Lorde, 'In the place where dogges licked the blood of Naboth, (shall dogges licke even thy blood also.)
20 And Ahab sayde to Eliah, Hast thou founde me, & mine enemy? And he answered, I have found thee: for thou hast sold thy selfe to worke wickednes in the sight of the Lorde.
21 'Beholde, I will bring evill upon thee,
and will take away thy posteritie, & will cut off from Ahab him that is 'pisseth against the wall, aswell him that is 'shut up, as him that is left in Israel, 22 And I will make thine house like the house of 'Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat, & like the house of 'Baasha the sonne of Achiah, for the provocacion wherewith thou hast provoked, and made Israel to sinne.
23 And also of Jezabel shall saye the Lorde,
'The dogges shall eate Jezabel, by the wall of Izeirel.

stocke, that dyeth in the citie: and him

26 And the king of Israel said, Take Michaiab, and carie him unto Ramoth the garnour of the cite, and unto Zohar the kings sonne.

27 And say, Thus saith the king, Put this man in the prison house, & feed him with bread of affliction, and with water of affliction, until I returne in peace.

28 And Michaiab said, If thou returne in peace, the Lord hath not spoken by me. And he said, Hearken all ye people.

29 So the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat the king of Iudah went up to Ramoth Gilead.

30 And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, I will change mine apparell, & will enter into the battell, but put thou on thine apparell. And the king of Israel changed himselfe, and went into the battell.

31 And the king of Aram commanded his two & thirtie captains over his charrets, saying, Fight neither with man, nor great, saue only against the king of Israel.

32 And when the captaines of the charrets saw Jehoshaphat, they said, Surely it is the king of Israel, & they turned to fight against him: and Jehoshaphat cried.

33 And when the captaines of the charrets saw that he was not the king of Israel, they turned backe from him.

34 Then a certaine man drew a bow mightily, & quate the king of Israel betweene the ioyntes of his brigandine. Wherefoze he sayde unto his charret man, Turne thine hand and carie me out of the hoste: for I am hurt.

35 And the battell increased that day, and the king stood still in his charret against the Aramites, and died at even: and the blood ranne out of the wounde into the middes of the charret.

36 And there went a proclamation throughout the hoste about the going downe of the sunne, saying, Euery man to his cite, and euery man to his owne countrey.

37 So the king died, and was brought to Samaria, and they buried the king in Samaria.

38 And one washed the charret in the pool of Samaria, and the dogs licked up his blood, (and they washed his armour) according unto the word of the Lord which he spake.

39 Concerning the rest of the actes of Ahab and al that hee did, and the people house which he built, and all the cities that hee built, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

40 So Ahab slept with his fathers, and Ahaziah his sonne reigned in his stead.

41 And Jehoshaphat the sonne of Asa began to reigne vpon Iudah in the fourth yere of Ahab king of Israel.

42 Jehoshaphat was fine and thirtie yere old, when he began to reigne, and reigned fine & twenty yere in Ierusalem. And his mothers name was Azubah the daughter of Shihhi.

43 And he walked in all the wayes of Asa his father, and declined not therefrom, but did that which was right in the eyes of the Lord. Nevertheless the high places were not taken away: for the people offered still and burnt incense in the high places.

44 And Jehoshaphat made peace with the king of Israel.

45 Concerning the rest of the actes of Jehoshaphat, and his worthy doings that hee did, and his battels which hee fought, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Iudah?

46 And the Sodomites, which remained in the daies of his father Asa, he put cleane out of the land.

47 There was then no king in Edom: the deputie was king.

48 Jehoshaphat made shippes of Charshish to saile to Ophir for golde, but they went not, for the shippes were broken at Ezion Gaber.

49 Then sayde Ahaziah the sonne of Ahab unto Jehoshaphat, Let my seruantes go with thy seruants in the shippes. But Jehoshaphat would not.

50 And Jehoshaphat did sleepe with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the cite of Dauid his father, and Jehoram his sonne reigned in his stead.

51 Ahaziah the sonne of Ahab began to reigne ouer Israel in Samaria the seuenth yere of Jehoshaphat king of Iudah, and reigned two yeres ouer Israel.

52 But hee did euil in the sight of the Lord, and in the way of his father, and in the way of his mother, and in the way of Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat, which made Israel to sinne.

53 For hee serued Baal & worshipped him, and prouoked the Lord God of Israel vnto wrath, according vnto al that his father had done.

a Meaning, that he was led with an error, thinking that they might still suffice to the Lord in those places, as he had they did before the temple was built.

The second booke of the Kings.

THE ARGUMENT.

THIS second booke containeth the actes of the Kings of Iudah and Israel: to wit, of Israel, from the death of Ahab vnto the last King Hoshea, who was imprisoned by the King of Assyria, and his cite Samaria taken, and the ten tribes by the iust plague of God for their Idolatrie and disobedience to God, led into captiuitie. And also of Iudah, from the reigne of Jehoram sonne of Jehoshaphat vnto Zedechia, who for contemning the Lordes commandement by his Prophets, and neglecting his sundry admonitions by famine and other meanes, was taken by his enemies, saw his sonnes most cruellie slaine before his face, and his owne eyes put out, as the Lord had declared to him before by his Prophet Ieremie: and also by the iust vengeance of God for contempt of his word Ierusalem was destroyed, the Temple burnt, and hee and all his his people were led away captives into Babylon. In this booke are notable examples of Gods fauour towards the rulers and people which obey his Prophets and embrace his wordes, and contrariwise, of his plagues towards those common weales which neglect his ministers, & do not obey his commandements.

CHAP. I.

3 Ahasiah by a fall falleth sick and consulteth with Baal-zabub. 3 He is reproued by Eliah. 10 The captiues ouer fiftie were sent to Eliah, wherof two were burnt with fire from heauen: by his prayer. 17 Ahasiah dieth, and Ichoram his brother succedeth him.

When Ichoram rebelled against Israel after the death of Ahasiah: And Ahasiah fell through the lattise windows in his upper chamber which was in Samaria: so he was sicke: then he sent messengers, to whom he said, Go, & inquire of Baal-zabub the God of Ekron, if I shall recover of this my disease.

Then the Angel of the Lord said to Eliah the Tishbite, Arise, & goe up to meet the messengers of the king of Samaria, and sape vnto them, & so it not because there is no God in Israel, that ye goe to enquire of Baal-zabub the god of Ekron?

Wherefore thus saith the Lord, Thou shalt not come downe from the bricke on which thou art gone up, but shalt dye the death. So Eliah departed. And the messengers returned vnto him, to whom he said, Why are ye now returned?

And they answered him, There came a man and met vs, and said vnto vs, Go, & returne vnto the King whither sent you, and sape vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, & so it not because there is no God in Israel, that thou sendest to enquire of Baal-zabub the god of Ekron? Therefore thou shalt not come downe from the bricke, on which thou art gone up, but shalt die the death.

And he said vnto them, What manner of man was he which came & met you, and tolde you these wordes?

And they saide vnto him, He was an hearie man, and girded with a girdle of lether about his loynes. Then saide he, It is Eliah the Tishbite.

Therefore the king sent vnto him a captaine ouer fiftie with his fiftie men, who went up vnto him: for beholde, he sat on the top of a mountaine, and he said vnto him, O man of God, the king hath commaunded that thou come downe.

But Eliah answered, and said to the captaine ouer the fiftie, If that I be a man of God, let fire come downe from the heauen, and deuoure thee and thy fiftie. So fire came downe from the heauen and deuoured him and his fiftie.

Againe also he sent vnto him another captaine ouer fiftie, with his fiftie. Who saide, & saide vnto him, O man of God, thus the king commaundet, Come downe quickly.

But Eliah answered, and saide vnto them, If I be a man of God, let fire come downe from the heauen, and deuoure thee and thy fiftie. So fire came downe from the heauen, and deuoured him and his fiftie.

¶ Yet againe he sent the third captaine ouer fiftie with his fiftie. And the third captaine ouer fiftie went vp, and came, and fell on his knees before Eliah, and besought him, and saide vnto him, O man of God, I pray thee, let my life and the life of these thy fiftie seruantes bee precious in thy sight.

Beholde, there came fire downe from the heauen and deuoured the two former captaines ouer fiftie with their fifties: therefore let my life now bee precious in thy sight.

And the Angel of the Lord saide vnto Eliah, Goe downe with him, be not ascraped of his presence. So he arose, and went downe with him vnto the king.

And he saide vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Because thou hast sent messengers to enquire of Baal-zabub the god of Ekron, (was it not because there was no God in Israel to inquire of his worde?) therefore thou shalt not come downe off the bed, on which thou art gone up, but shalt die the death.

So he died according to the word of the Lord which Eliah had spoken. And Jehoram began to reigne in his stead, in the second yere of Iehozabab the sonne of Iehoshaphat king of Iudah, because he had no sonne.

Concerning the rest of the actes of Ahasiah, that he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

CHAP. II.

8 Eliah denideth the waters with his cloye. 11 He is taken up into heauen. 23 Elifha taketh his cloye & denideth Iord. 20 The bitter & venomous waters are healed. 23 The children that mocke Elifha, are rent in pieces with beastes.

And when the Lord would take vp Eliah into heauen by a whirlwind, Elifha went with Elifha from Gilgal.

Then Eliah saide to Elifha, Tarry here, I pray thee: for the Lord hath sent mee to Beth-el. But Elifha saide, As the Lord liueth, & as thy soule liueth, I will not leaue thee. So they came downe to Beth-el.

And the children of the prophets that were at Beth-el, came out to Elifha, and saide vnto him, Knowest thou that the Lord will take thy master from thyne head this day? And he saide, Yea, I know it: holde ye pour prayer.

Againe Elifha saide vnto him, Elifha, tarry here, I pray thee: for the Lord hath sent me to Jericho. But he saide, As the Lord liueth, & as thy soule liueth, I will not leaue thee. So then came to Jericho, had reueiled in k Which habbe my selfe before god & his face. That is, spare my life & let me not die as the other two.

m Thus Lord giueth boldnesse to his, that they feare not the threatnings of tyrants, which otherwise of the felues are afraid to do Gods message.

n Iehoshaphat going to battel against Syrians, made his sonne Iehoram king in 17 yere of his reigne: & in the 18 yere, which was 1 yere of his sonne, Iehoram the sonne of Ahasiah reigned in Israel: & in the 5 yere of his Iehoram, Iehoshaphat died & Iehoram was confirmed to his sonne.

o Which was a place where the childre of Israel were circumcised after they came ouer Iorden, and had bene foure yeres in yildenes, as Iosh. 5. 2.

p So called, because they are gotten as it were anew by the heauenly doctrine.

q That is, from being any more thine head: for to be as I head, is to be as master.

r As to be at the feet, is to be a scholar.

s For the Lord had reueiled in a So that he was punished for his idolatrie after two sortes for the Moabites, which were wile to pay him tribute, re-bellid, & he fell downe at a graine which was vpon his waile to goe light beneath. b The Philistines which dwelt at Ekron, worshipped this idole, which signifieth the god of flies, thinking that he could preserue them from the biting of flies: or else was so called, because flies were legended in great abundance of blood of the sacrifices that were offered to this idole. c He likewise idolaters haue not true God, for as they would fecke to none but to him alone. d Ignorance is the mother of error & idolatrie. e Some thinke that this is ment of his garments which were rough and made of heare. f Towr Carmel. g He declarer what power Godsword hath in the mouth of his seruants, when they threaten Gods iudgements against wicked. h He spake this in mockerie, and therefore pronounced Gods wrath to much more.

c. i.

f And vnto him.

e Not onely at Beth-el, but at Jericho and other places were there Prophets, which had schollers, whom they instructed and brought vp in the true feare of God.

f To wit, of Iorden.

g Let thy Spirit haue double force in me, because of these dangerous times: or let me haue twice so much as the rest of the Prophets: or thy Spirit being deuided into three partes, let me haue two. Ecclus. 48. 9. 1. mo. 2. 38. h Thus God hath left a testimony in all ages (both before the Law, in the Law, and in the time of the Gospel) of our resurrection.

i The Spirit of prophetic is giuen to him, as it was to Eliah.

k Meaning, Eliah: for his bodie had bene cast in some mountaine. l Because the fact was extraordinary, they doubted where he was become, but Eliah was assured that he was taken vp to God. Or, killish the inhabitants.

5 And the children of the Prophets that were at Jericho, came to Eliah, & said vnto him, Knowest thou, that the Loyde will take thee master from thine head this day? And he said, Yea, I know it: holde ye your peace.

6 Forsooner Eliah said vnto him, Carie, I pray thee, here: for the Loyde hath sent me to Iorden. And he said, As the Loyde liueth, and as thy soule liueth, I will not leaue thee. So they went both together.

7 And fiftie men of the sonnes of the Prophets went and stood on the other side a farr off, and they two stood vp Iorden.

8 Then Eliah toke his cloke, & waipd it together, and smote the waters, and they were deuided hyer & thither, & they twaine went ouer on the dry land.

9 Nowe when they were passed ouer, Eliah said vnto Elshaz, Like what I shall doe for thee before I be taken from thee. And Elshaz sayde, I pray thee, let thy Spirit be double vpon me.

10 And he sayde, Thou hast asked an hard thing: yet if thou see me when I am taken from thee, thou shalt haue it so: if not, it shall not be.

11 And as they went walking and talking, behold, there appeared a charret of fire, and hoises of fire, & did separate them twain.

12 So Eliah went vp by a whitlewinde into heaven.

13 And Elshaz saw it, & he cryed, My father, my father, the charret of Israel, and the hostiemen thereof: and he saw him no more: and he toke his owne clothes, and rent them in two pieces.

14 And he tooke by also the cloke of Eliah that fell from him, and returned, & stood by the bankes of Iorden.

15 After, he toke the cloke of Eliah, that fell from him, and smote the waters, and sayd, Where is the Loyd God of Eliah? And so he also, after he had stricken the waters, so that they were deuided this way & that way, went ouer, euen Elshaz.

16 And when the children of the Prophets, which were at Jericho, sawe him on the other side, they said, The Spirit of Eliah doeth rest on Elshaz: and they came to meete him, and fell to the ground before him.

17 And said vnto him, Beholde now, there be with thy seruants fiftie strong men: let them go, we pray thee, & seeke thy master, if so be the Spirit of the Loyde hath taken him vp, and call him vpon some mountaine, or into some valley. But he said, I will not send.

18 Yet they were willing vpon him, till he was ashamed: wherefore he said, Send. So they sent fiftie men, which sought thre daies, but found him not.

19 Therefore they returned to him, (for he taried at Jericho) and he said vnto them, Did not I say vnto you, So not?

20 And the men of the citie sayde vnto Elshaz, Beholde, we pray thee: the situation of this citie is pleasant, as thou, my lord, seest, but the water is naught, and the ground barren.

20 Then he sayd, Bying me a newe cruse, and put salt therein. And they brought it to him.

21 And he went vnto the spring of the waters, and cast there the salt, and sayde, Thus saith the Loyde, I haue healed this water: death shall no more come thereof, neither barrennes to the ground.

22 So the waters were healed vntill this day, according to the worde of Eliah which he had spoken.

23 And he went vp from thence vnto Beth-el. And as he was going by the way, little children came out of the citie, & mocked him, & sayd vnto him, Come vp, thou bald head, come vp, thou bald head.

24 And he turned backe, & looked on them, and cursed them in the name of the Loyde. And two beares came out of the forest, and tare in pieces two and fourtie children of them.

25 So he went from thence to mount Carmel, and from thence he returned to Samaria.

CHAP. III.

1 The reigne of Ichoram. 6 He and Iehoshaphat go to warre against Moab, which rebelled. 13 Eliah reprooueth him. 17 And giueth them halfe water. 24 The Moabites are overcome. 27 Their king sacrificeth his sonne.

1 Nowe Iehoiain the sonne of Ahazbegan to reigne ouer Israel in Samaria, the eighteenth yeere of Iehoshaphat king of Iudah, and reigned twelue yeeres.

2 And he brought euill in the sight of the Loyde, but not like his father: for he tooke away the image of Baal that his father had made.

3 Nevertheless, he cleaued vnto the images of Ieroboam, the sonne of Nebat, which made Israel to sinne, and departed not therefrom.

4 Then Omriha king of Moab had stole of the shepe, and rendred vnto the king of Israel an hundred thousand lambs, and an hundred thousand rammes with the wooll.

5 But when Ahazb was dead, the king of Moab rebelled against the king of Israel.

6 Therefore king Iehoiain went out of Samaria the same season, and nombrd all Israel.

7 And went, & sent to Iehoshaphat king of Iudah, saying, The king of Moab hath rebelled against me: wilt thou goe with me to battell against Moab? And he answered, I will goe up: for I am, as thou darest, my people, as thy people, and mine hoises as thyne hoises.

8 Then sayde he, What way shall we goe by? And he answered, The way of the wilderness of Edom.

9 So went the king of Israel & the king of Iudah, and the king of Edom, & when they had compassed the way from Edom, they had no water for the hoise, nor for the cattell that followed them.

10 Therefore the king of Israel said, Alas, that I should have called these three kings, to giue them into the hand of Moab.

11 But Jehophaphat sayde, Is there not here a Prophet of the Lord, that we may inquire of the Lord by him? And one of the king of Israels seruantes answered, and sayde, There is Elisha the sonne of Shaphath, which poured water oute the hands of Eliah.

12 Then Jehophaphat said, The worde of the Lord is with him. Therefore the king of Israel, and Jehophaphat, and the king of Edom went downe to him.

13 And Elisha said vnto the king of Israel,
What haue I to doe with thee? get thee to the prophetes of thy father, and to the prophetes of thy mother. And the king of Israel said vnto him, I saye: for the Lord hath called these thre kings, to giue them into the hand of Shobab.

14 Then Elisha said, As the Lord of hostes liueth, in whose sight I stande, if it were not, that I regard vnto the presence of Jehophasphat the king of Iudah, I woude not haue looked toward thee, nor seen thee.

15 But nowe lying nre, a sunnfall. And whene he sunnfall played, the hande of the Lord came vpon him.

16 And he said, Thus saith the Lord, Spake
this valley full of ditches.

17 For thus saith the Lord, We shal neither see winter nor see summer, yet the valley shall be filled with water, that ye may drinke,
both ye & your cattell, and your beastes.

18 But this is a small thing in the sight of the Lord: for he will giue Moab into your hand.

19 And ye shall smite euery strong towne
and euery chiefe citie, and shall fell euery faire tree, and shall stop all the fountaines
of water, and marre euery good felde with stones.

20 And in the morning when the meat offering was offered, behold, there came water by the way of Edom: & the coun-treys were filled with water.

21 And when all the Moabites heard that the kinges were come by to fight against them, they gathered at that was able to put on harnesse, and upward, and stood in their dayes.

22 And they rose early in the morning,
when the sunne arose vpon the water, and the Moabites saw the water ouer as gainst them, as red as blood.

23 And they said, This is blood: the kinges are surely slaine: & one hath slayen another: now therefore, Moab, to the spoyle.

24 And when they came to the hoste of Israel, the Israelites arose by, and smote the Moabites, so that they fled before them;
but they intruded them, a sunne Moab.

25 And they bestowed the cities; and on all the good felde euery man cast his stone,
and filled them; & they stop all the fountaines of water, and felled all the good trees: only in Kir-hareseth left they the fountaines thereof: howbeit they went about it with slings, and smote it.

26 And when the king of Moab sawe that the battell was too forte for him, he toke with him seven hundred men that dyue
the sword to breake through vnto the king of Edom: but they could not.

27 Then he took his eldest sonne, that it should haue reigned in his stead, and offered him for a burnt offering vpon the wall: so that Israel was sore grieved, and he had taken in they departed from him, and returned to their countrey, but rather it seemed to be his owne sonne, whome he offered to his gods to pacfie them, which barbarous crueltie moued the Israelites hearts of pitye to depart.

2 Then Elisha sayde vnto her, What shall I doe for thee? tell me, what hast thou at home? And she sayd, Thine handmaide hath nothing at home, save a pitcher of oyle.

3 And he said, Go, and borrow thee vessels abroad of all thy neighbours, empty vessels, and haue not.

4 And when thou art come in, thou shalt shut the doore vpon thee, and vpon thy sonnes, and poure out into all those ves-

5 So he departed from him, and that the

they brought to her, and the poules out;

vessels. And the oyle ceased.

7 Then the oyle tolde the man of God,
And he sayd, Go, & sell the oyle, and pay
theu that thou art in det vnto, and liue thou and thy children of the rest.

8 And on a time Elisha came to Shunam, and there a woman of great estimation constrained him to eate bread: & as he

of the hoste: And she answered, I dwell among mine owne people.

14 Against he said, What is then to be done for her? Then Gehazi answered, In deede she hath no sonne, and her husband is olde.

15 Then said he, Call her. And he called her, and she stood in the doore.

16 And he saide, At this time appointed, according to the time of life, thou shalt embrace a sonne. And she said, Oh my ioye, thou man of God, doe not speake vnto thine handmaide.

17 So the woman conceived, and bare a sonne at that same season, according to the time of life, that Elisha had said vnto her.

18 And when the childe was growen, it fell on a day, that he went out to his father, and to the reapers.

19 And he said to his father, Myne head, mine head. Whoso said to his seruant, Beare him to his mother.

20 And heooke him and brought him to his mother, and he sate on her knees till noone, and died.

21 Then she went vp, and layd him on the bed of the man of God, and shut the doore vpon him, and went out.

22 ¶ Then he called to her husbande, and said, Send with me, I pray thee, one of thy young men and one of the asses: for I will haue to the man of God, & come againe.

23 And he said, Wherefore wilt thou go to him to day? it is neither a new moone nor Sabbath day. And she answered, All shall be well.

24 Then she sabled an ass, and saide to her seruant, Beine, and goe forwarde: stay not for me to get vp, except I bid thee.

25 ¶ So she went, and came vnto the man of God to mount Camel. And when the man of God sawe her, ouer against him, he saide to Gehazi his seruant, Beholde, the Shunammite.

26 And now, I say to mee, and say vnto her, Art thou in health? is thine husband in health? & is the childe in health? And she answered, We are in health.

27 And when she came to the man of God vnto the mountaine, she caught him by his fete: & Gehazi went to her, to thrust her away: but the man of God said, Let her alone: for her soule is vexed within her, and the Lord hath bid it from me, and hath not tolde it me.

28 Then she saide, Woe I desire a sonne of my ioye: did I not say, Because me not?

29 Then he said to Gehazi, Give thy ioyes, and take my staffe in thine hand, and goe thy way: & if thou meete any, salute him not: and if any salute thee, answere him not: and lay my staffe vpon the face of the childe.

30 And the mother of the childe sayde, As is the Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth, I will not leaue thee. Therefore he arose, and followed her.

31 But Gehazi was gone before them, and had layde the staffe vpon the face of the childe, but hee neither spake nor hearde: wherefore he returned to meete him, and tolde him, saying, The childe is not liueth.

32 ¶ Then came Elisha into the house, and beholde, the childe was dead, and layde vpon his bed.

33 He went in therefore, and shut the doore vpon them twaine, & prayed vnto the Lord.

34 After he went by, and & layde vpon the childe, and put his mouth on his mouth, and his eyes vpon his eyes, & his hands vpon his handes, and stretched himselfe vpon him, and the flesh of the childe waxed warme.

35 And hee went from him, and walked by and downe in the house, and went by and spied himselfe vpon him: then the childe nersed: & euen: & opened his eyes.

36 Then he called Gehazi, and sayde, Call this Shunammite. So hee called her, which came in vnto him. And he said vnto her, Take thy sonne.

37 And she came, and fell at his fete, and bowed her selfe to the grounde, and toke vp her sonne, and went out.

38 Afterward Elisha returned to Gilgal, and a fauine was in the lande, & the childe of the Prophets dwelt with him. And he saide vnto his seruant, Set on the great pot, and see the pottage for the childe of the Prophets.

39 And one went out into the field, to gather herbes, and founde, as it were, a wilde vine, & gathered thereof: wilde gourdes: his garment full: and came and shed them into the pottage: for they knew it not.

40 So they powred out for the men to eat: and when they did eate of the pottage, they crept out, and sayde, O thou man of God, & death is in the pot: and they could not eate thereof.

41 Then he said, Whyng meale. And he cast it into the pot, and sayde, Powre out for the people, that they may eate: and there was none euill in the pot.

42 ¶ Then came a maid from Baal-shalisha, and brought the man of God bread of the first fruite, euen twentie loaves of barley, and full eares of coyme in the bushe. And he saide, Give vnto the people, that they may eate.

43 And his seruant answered, How should I set this before an hundred men? Hee said againe, Give it vnto the people, that they may eate: for thus saith the Lord, They shall eate, and there shall remaine.

44 So he set it before them, and they did eate, and left ouer, according to the word of the Lord.

hands, and had taken a little maide of the lande of Israel, and the serueth Naamans wife.

3 And she sayde vnto her mistresse, Wouidst thou not be ginen to thy seruant two mites for the load of this earth? for thy seruant will henceforth offer it wher he desireth sacrifice, shouldst thou give also thy seruant unto any other god, saue vnto the Lord.

4 And when he went in, and tolde his lord, saying, Thus and thus sayeth the maide that is of the land of Israel.

5 And the king of Arain said, Goe thy way thither, and I will sende a letter vnto the king of Israel. And he departed, & wrote with him ten talents of siluer, and thre thousand pieces of gold, and ten change of raiments,

6 And brought the letter to the king of Israel to this effect, Shewe when this letter is come vnto thee, vnderstand, that I haue sent thee Naamaan my seruant, that thou mayest heale him of his leprosie.

7 And when the king of Israel had read the letter, he rent his clothes, and sayde, Alas I God, to kill and to giue life, that he doeth send to me, that I shoulde heale a man from his leprosie? Wherefore consider, I pray you, and see how he seeketh a quarrell against me.

8 But when Elisha the man of God had heard that the king of Israel had rent his clothes, he sent vnto the king, saying, Wherefore hast thou rent thy clothes? Let him come now to me, & he shal know that there is a Prophet in Israel.

9 ¶ Then Naamaan came with his horses, and with his charrets, and stood at the doore of the house of Elisha.

10 And Elisha sent a messenger vnto him, saying, Goe & wash thee in Jordan seven times, and thy flesh shall come againe to thee, and thou shalt be cleane.

11 But Naamaan was wroth, and went away, and sayd, Behold, I thought with my selfe, he will surely come out, & stand, and call on the name of the Lord his God, and put his hande on the place, and heale the leprosie.

12 Are not Abanah and Pharpar, riuers of Damascus, better then all the waters of Israel? may I not wash mee in them, and be cleane? so he turned, and departed in displeasure.

13 But his seruants came, and spake vnto him, and sayde, Father, if the Prophet had comanded thee a great thing, wouldest thou not haue done it? howe much rather then, when he sayth to thee, Wash, and be cleane?

14 Then went hee downe, and washed himselfe seven times in Jordan, according to the saying of the man of God: and his flesh came againe, like vnto the flesh of a little childe, and he was cleane.

15 And hee turned againe to the man of God, hee, and all his companie, and came and stood before him, and sayd, Behold, now I knowe that there is no God in all the world, but in Israel: now therefore, I pray thee, take a reward of thy seruant.

16 But he sayde, As the Lord liueth, (before whome I stand) I will not receiue it, and he woulde haue constrained him to receiue it, but he refused.

17 Wherouer Naaman sayde, Shall there not be giuen to thy seruant two mites for the load of this earth? for thy seruant will henceforth offer it wher he desireth sacrifice, shouldst thou give also thy seruant unto any other god, saue vnto the Lord.

18 Herein the Lord be mercifull vnto thy seruant, that when my master goeth into the house of Elisha, to worship there, and leaue on mine hande, and I bowe my selfe in the house of Baalim: when I doe bowe downe, I say, in the house of Baalim, the Lord be mercifull vnto thy seruant in this point.

19 Vnto whom he sayd, Go in peace. So he departed from him about halfe a dayes iourney of ground.

20 And Gehazi the seruant of Elisha the man of God sayde, Beholde, my master hath spared this Aramite Naaman, returning not those things at his hand that he brought: as the Lord liueth, I will run after him, and take somewhat of him.

21 So Gehazi followed speedily after Naaman. And when Naaman saw him running after him, hee lighted downe from the charret to meete him, and sayd, Is all well? And hee answered, All is well: my master hath sent me, saying, Beholde, there be come to mee, euen now from mount Ephraim two young men of the children of the Prophets: giue them, I pray thee, a talent of siluer, and two change of garments.

22 And Naaman sayde, Yea, take two talents: and hee compelled him, and bound two talents of siluer in two bagges, with two change of garments, and gaue them vnto two of his seruants, that they might beare them before him.

23 And when hee came to the rotoze, hee tooke them out of their handes, and lapde them in his house, and sent away the men: and they departed.

24 ¶ Then hee went in, and stood before his master. And Elisha said vnto him, Whence comest thou, Gehazi? And he sayde, Thy seruant went no whither.

25 But hee sayde vnto him, Went not mine heart with thee when the man turned againe from his charret to meete thee? Is this a time to take money, and to receiue garments, and shewe, and oxen, and men seruants, and maide seruants?

26 The leprosie therefore of Naaman shall cleaue vnto thee, & vnto thy seed for euer. And hee went out from his presence a leper white as snowe.

i Meaning, ſyrias his enemies, which came downe, thinking themſelves ſure of him.

k Thus he did being led by the Spirit of God, & not becauſe he fought his owne reuengence, but onely to ſet forth the glorie of God.

2 Let vs now goe to Iordain, that we may take thence euery man a beaſt, and make vs a place to dwell in. And hee answered, Go.

3 And one ſapbe, Douchſafe, I pray thee, to go with thy ſervants: and he answered, I will go.

4 So he went with them, and when they came to Iordain, they cut downe wood. And as one was ſelling of a tree, ſon fel into the water: then he cried, and ſapd, Alas maſter, it was but boyſword.

5 And the man of God ſapd, Where fellſt? And he ſhewed him the place. Then hee cut downe a piece of wood, and caſt in this ther, and he cauſed the prion to ſwimme.

6 Then he ſapd, Take it up to thee. And hee ſtreched out his hand, and tooke it.

7 Then the king of Iram warred againſt Iſrael and tooke counſell with his ſervants, and ſapd, In ſuch & ſuch a place ſhalbe my campe.

8 Therefore the man of God ſent vnto the king of Iſrael, ſaying, Beware thou goe not over to ſuch a place: for there the Iſraelites are come downe.

9 So the king of Iſrael ſent to the place which the ma of God told him, and warned him of, and cauſed him ſelfe from thence, not once, nor twice.

10 And the heart of the king of Iram was troubled for this thing: therefore he called his ſervants and ſapd vnto them, Will ye not ſhewe me, which of vs bewrayeth our counſell to the king of Iſrael?

11 Then one of his ſervants ſaide, None, my lord. & King, but Eliſha the Propher that is in Iſrael, telleth the king of Iſrael, even the wordes that thou ſpeakeſt in thy private chamber.

12 And he ſapd, Go and eſpie where he is, ſon I may ſend & ſetch him. And one tolde him, ſaying, Beholde, he is in Dorhan.

13 So he ſent thither hoſes and charrets, and a mightie hoſte: and they came by night, and compaſſed the citie.

14 And when the ſervant of the man of God aroſe early to goe out, beholde, an hoſte compaſſed the citie with hoſes and charrets. Then his ſervant ſaid vnto him, Alas maſter, how ſhall we doe?

15 And hee answered, & feare not: for they that be with vs, are more then they that be with them.

16 Then Eliſha prayd, & ſapd, Lord, I beſeeche thee, open his eyes, that hee may ſee. And the Lord opened the eyes of the ſervant, and hee looked, and beholde, the mountaine was full of hoſes and charrets of fire round about Eliſha.

17 So they came downe to him, but Eliſha prayd vnto the Lord, and ſaid, Smite this people, I pray thee, with blindness. And hee ſmote them with blindness, according to the word of Eliſha.

18 And Eliſha ſapd vnto them, This is not the nap, neither is this the citie: for I love me, and I will leade you to the man whom ye ſeek. But he led them to Samaria.

19 And when they were come to Samaria

ria, Eliſha ſaid, Iord, open their eyes, that they may ſee. And the Lord opened their eyes, and they ſaw, and beholde, they were in the middeſ of Samaria.

20 And the king of Iſrael ſapd vnto Eliſha when he ſawe them, I ſpy ſarther, than I ſmote them, ſhall I ſmite them?

21 And hee answered, Thou ſhalt not ſmite them: doſt thou not ſmite them that thou haſt taken with thy ſword, and with thy bowe? but ſet bread & water beſore them, that they may eat and drinke and goe to their maſter.

22 And hee made great preparation for them: and when they had eaten & drinke, they went to their maſter: and they went to their maſter. So the bads of Iram came no more into the land of Iſrael.

23 But afterward Ben-hadad king of ſyria gathered all his hoſte, and went by, and beſieged Samaria.

24 So there was a great famine in Samaria: for loe, they beſieged it until an aſſes head was at ſouretyſe pieces of ſilver, & they had bought the fourth part of a hab of bones doeing at five pieces of ſilver.

25 And as the king of Iſrael was going upon the wall, there cried a woman vnto him, ſaying, Helpe, my lord, & King.

26 And he ſaide, Seeing the Lord doeth not ſuccore thee, howe ſhalde I helpe thee with the & barne, or with the wines yeſſe?

27 Alſo the king ſapd vnto her, What aſſeſt thou? And hee answered, This woman ſapd vnto me, Come thy ſonne, that we may eat him to day, and we will eat my ſonne to morrow.

28 So we ſod my ſonne, and did eat him: and I ſaid to her the day after, Come thy ſonne, that we may eat him, but the party hid her ſonne.

29 And when the king had heard ſ words of the woman, hee rent his clothes, and as hee went upon the wall, the people lowked, and beholde, he had ſackcloth upon his ſheſh.

30 And he ſapd, God do ſo to me and moze alſo, if the head of Eliſha ſome of ſyria ſhall ſtand on him this day.

31 (Howe Eliſha ſate in his houſe, and the Elders ſate with him) And the King ſent a man beſore him: but beſore the meſſenger came to him, hee ſapd to the Elders, See ye not how this & murthers ſome hath ſent to take away mine head? take heede when the meſſenger cometh, and ſhut the doore, and handle him roughly at the doore: ſo is not the ſound of his maſters ſeere beſide him?

32 While hee per talked with them, beholde, the meſſenger came downe vnto him, and ſapd, Beholde, this evil cometh of the Lord: ſhould I attend on the Lord any longer?

CHAP. VII.

1 Eliſha propheteſie plentie of vitalls & other things to Samaria, 6 The Syrians runne away, and haue no man following them. 17 The princes that would not believe the word of Eliſha is ſtriden to death.

1 Then Elisha said, Heare ye the voyce of the Lord: thus saith the Lord, To morrow this time a measure of fine flour shall be sold for a shekel, and two measures of barley for a shekel in the gate of Samaria.

2 Then a prince, on whose hand the king leaned, answered the man of God, and said, Though the Lord would make windows in the heaven, could this thing come to passe? And he said, Behold, thou shalt see it with thine eyes, but thou shalt not eate thereof.

3 Nowe there were foure leprouse men at the entering in of the gate: and they said one to another, Why sit we here until we die?

4 If we say, We will enter into the citie, the famine is in the citie, and we shall die: and if we sit here, we die also. Nowe therefore come, and let vs fall into the campe of the Aramites: if they saue our liues, we shall liue: and if they kill vs, we are but dead.

5 So they rose vp in the twilight, to goe to the campe of the Aramites: and when they were come to the vniuersall part of the campe of the Aramites, loe, there was no man there.

6 For the Lord had caused the campe of the Aramites to heare a noise of charrets & a noise of hoies, and a noise of a great armie, so that they sayde one to another, Behold, the king of Israel hath hired against vs the kings of the Hittites, & the kings of the Egyptians to come vpon vs.

7 Wherefore they arose, and fled in the twilight, and left their tentes and their hoies, and their asses, euen the campe as it was, and fled for their liues.

8 And when these lepers came to the vniuersall part of the campe, they entered into one tent, and did eate and drinke, and caried thence siluer and gold, and raiment, and went and hid it: after they returned, and entered into another tent, and caried thence also, and went and hid it.

9 Then saide one to another, We doe not well: this day is a day of good tidings, and we hold our peace, if we tarie till day light, some mischief will come vpon vs. Nowe therefore come, let vs goe, and tell the kings household.

10 So they came, and called vnto the porters of the citie, and tolde them, saying, We came to the campe of the Aramites, and loe, there was no man there, neither voyce of man, but hoies rped and asses tied: and the tentes are as they were.

11 And the porters crept and declared to the kings house within.

12 Then the king arose in the night, & said vnto his seruantes, I will shewe you now, what the Aramites haue done vnto vs. They knowe that we are afflicted, therefore they are gone out of the campe to hide themselves in the field, saying, When they come out of the citie, we shall catche them alive, and get into the citie.

13 And one of his seruantes answered, and said, Let men take nowe five of the hoies that remaine, and are left in the city, (beside the hoies, they are euen as al the multitude of Israel that are left therein: behold, I say more left, but they are as the multitude of the Israelites that are consumed)

14 So they took two charrets of hoies, and the king sent after the hoste of the Aramites, saying, Goe and see.

15 And they went after them vnto Jordan, and loe, all the way was full of clothes and vessels which the Aramites had cast from them in their haste: and the messengers returned, and tolde the king.

16 Then the people went out and spoiled the campe of the Aramites: so a measure of fine flour was at a shekel, and two measures of barley at a shekel according to the word of the Lord.

17 And the king gaue the prince (on whose hand he leaned) the charge of the gate, and the people trode vpon him in the gate, and he dyed, as the man of God had said, which spake it, when the king came downe to him.

18 And it came to passe, as a man of God had spoken to the king, saying, Two measures of barley at a shekel, and a measure of fine flour shalbe at a shekel, in morrow about this time in the gate of Samaria.

19 But the prince had answered the man of God, & said, Though the Lord would make windows in the heaven, could it come so to passe? And he said, Behold, thou shalt see it with thine eyes, but thou shalt not eate thereof.

20 And so it came vnto him: for the people trode vpon him in the gate, and he died.

2 And the woman arose, and did after the saying of the man of God, & wrote both she and her household and sojourned in the land of the Philistines seven yeres.

3 And at the seuen yeres ende, the woman returned out of the land of the Philistines, and went to call vpon the king for her house and for her land.

4 And the king talked with Gehazi the seruant of the man of God, saying, Tell me, I pray thee, all the great actes that Elisha hath done.

5 And as he tolde the king, howe he had restored one dead to life, behold, the woman whose sonne he had raysted to life, he conuened, called vpon the king for her house and for her land. Then Gehazi said, My lord, I prepared an enking, this is the woman, and this is her sonne, whom Elisha restored to life.

6 And when the king asked the woman, she tolde him: so the king appointed her an Eunuch, saying, Kisse thou all that are here, and all the ⁴ fruits of her lands since the day she left the lande, even until this time.

7 ¶ Then Elisha came to Damascus, and Ben-hadad the king of Aram was sicke, and one tolde him, saying, The man of God is come hither.

8 And the king saide unto Hazeal, Take a present in thine hand, and goe meete the man of God, that thou mayest inquire of the Lord by him, saying, Shall I recover of this disease?

9 ¶ So Hazeal went to meete him, and tooke the present in his hand, & of every good thing of Damascus, even the burden of fourty camels, & came and stood before him, and said, Thy sonne Ben-hadad king of Aram hath sent me to thee, saying, Shall I recover of this disease?

10 And Elisha saide to him, Goe, and lay vnto him, Thou shalt recover: howbeit the Lord hath shewed me, that he shall surely die.

11 And he looked vpon him stedfastly till Hazeal was ashamed, & the man of God wept.

12 And Hazeal sayde, Why weepeth my lord? And he answered, Because I knowe the euill that thou shalt doe vnto the children of Israel: for their strong cities shalt thou set on fire, and their pongmen shalt thou slay with the sword, and shalt dash their infants against the stones, and rent in pieces their women with child.

13 Then Hazeal saide, What? is thy seruant a dogge, that I should doe this great thing? And Elisha answered, The Lord hath shewed me, that thou shalt be king of Aram.

14 ¶ So he departed from Elisha, & came to his master, who saide to him, What saide Elisha to thee? And hee answered, He tolde me that thou shouldst recover.

15 And on the morowe hee tooke a thicke cloth and dypt it in water, and spred it on his face, and he died: and Hazeal reigned in his stead.

16 ¶ Nowe in the fift yeere of Ioram the sonne of Ahab king of Israel, and of Jehoshaphat king of Iudah, Ichoram the sonne of Jehoshaphat king of Iudah began to reigne.

17 He was two and thirtie yeere old, when he began to reigne: and he reigned eight yeere in Ierusalem.

18 And he walked in the wayes of the kings of Israel, as did the house of Ahab: for the daughter of Ahab was his wife, and he did euill in the sight of the Lord.

19 Yet the Lord would not destroy Iudah, for Dauid his seruants sake, as he had promised him to giue him a light and to his children for euer.

20 ¶ In those daies Edom rebelled from vnder the hande of Iudah, and made a king ouer themselves.

21 Therefore Ioram went to Zair, and all his chariots with him, and hee arose by night, & smote the Edonites which were about him with the captaines of the chariots, and the people fled into their tents.

22 So Edom rebelled from vnder the hand of Iudah vnto this day. then Elishah rebelled at that same time.

23 Concerning the rest of the actes of Ioram and all that hee did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Iudah?

24 And Ioram slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the citie of Dauid. And Ahaziah his sonne reigned in his stead.

25 ¶ In the twelfth yeere of Ioram the sonne of Ahab king of Israel did Ahaziah the sonne of Iehoram king of Iudah beginne to reigne.

26 ¶ Two and twentie yeere olde was Ahaziah when he began to reigne, and hee reigned one yeere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Athaliah the daughter of Omri king of Israel.

27 And he walked in the way of the house of Ahab, and did euill in the sight of the Lord, like the house of Ahab: for he was the sonne in lawe of the house of Ahab.

28 And he went with Ioram the sonne of Ahab to warre against Hazeal king of Aram in Ramoth Gilead, and the Aramites smote Ioram.

29 And king Ioram returned to be healed in Israel of the woundes which the Aramites had giuen him at Ramoth, when he fought against Hazeal king of Aram. And Ahaziah the sonne of Iehoram king of Iudah went downe to see Ioram the sonne of Ahab in Israel, because he was sicke.

king: He goeth to Izreel,

for him over the people of the house, even over Israel.

7 And thou shalt smite the house of Shab-bim master, that I may avenge the blood of my servants the Prophets, and the blood of all the servants of the Lords * of the hand of Jezebel.

8 For the whole house of Iſrahel ſhall be deſtroyed: and * I will cut off from Iſrahel, him that maketh water againſt the wall, as well him that is ſhut up, as him that is left in Iſrael.

9 And I will make the house of Ahab like the house * of Jeroboam the sonne of Nesbar, and like the house * of Baasha the sonne of Ahiab.

10 And the dogges shal eate Jezebel in the fieldes of Izreel, & there shalbe none to burrie her. And he opened the dooze, and fled.

11 ¶ Then Iehu came out to the seruants of his lord. And one said vnto him, Is all well? wherefoze came this mad fellowe to thee? And he said vnto them, Ye know the man, and what his talke was.

12 And they said, It is false, tell vs it now.
Then he said, Thus and thus spake he to me, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I haue anointed thee for king ouer Israel.

13 Then they made haste, and tooke eunym
niah his garment, and put it vnder him on the toppe of the staires, and blew the trumpet, saying, Jehu is king.

14 So Iehu the sonne of Jehohaphat the sonne of Amishi conspired against Iorram (Howe Ioram kept Ramoth Gilead, hee and all Israel because of Hazael king of Aram.

15 And *king Jojam returned to be healed in Tzeel of the wounds, which the Hiramites had giue him, when he fought with Hazael king of Straim) and Iepu said, If it be your munde, let no man depart and escape out of the citie, to go and tell in Tzeel.

16 So Jehu gate up into a charet, & went to Israel: for Toijam lay there, and A^c haziah king of Tubah was come downe to see Toijam.

17 And the watchman that stood in the towre in Ieruel, spied the companie of Jehu as he came, and sayde, I see a com-panie. And Jehozabab saide, Take a horseman and send to meete them that he may say, Is it peace?

8 So there went one on horsebacke to meete him, & saide, Thus saith the king, Is it peace? And Iehu saide, What hast thou to doe with peace? I am beside me. And the watchman tolde, saying, The messenger came to them, but he coumeth
not againe.

19 Then he sent out another on horseback, which came to them, and saide, Thus saith the king, Is it peace? And Jehu answered, What hast thou to doe with peace? turne behinde me.

20 And the watchman tolde, saying, He came to them also, but cometh not as a gaine, and the marching is like the marching of Jehu the sonne of Nimshi: for he marcheth furiously.

21 ¶ Then Jehoram said, Make ready: and his chariot was made ready. And Jehoram king of Israel and Haziah king of Judah went out either of them in his chariot against Jehu, and met him in the field of Sareth the Threelire.

22 And when Iehojah saw Iehu, he said,
Is it peace, Iehu? And he answered,
What is peace, whilst the whoredoms of the mother Jezebel, and her witchcrafts are yet in great number?

23 Then Jehoiakim turned his hande, and fledde, and saide to Whaziah, O Whaziah, there is treason.

24 But Jehu took a bowe in his hande, & smote Jehojam betwene the shoulders, that the arrowe went through his heart: and he fell downe in his charr.

25 Then saide Iehu to Midhar a captaine, Take and cast him in some place of the fieldes of Naboth the Izerelite: for I remember that when I and thou rode together after Ahab his father, the Lorde laid this burden vpon him.

26 * Surelp I haue seene yesterday the blood of Ihaboth, and the blood of his sonnes, saide the boyde, and I will reme-ber it then in this field, sayeth the boyde:
nowe therefore take and cast him in the field. According to the word of the Lord.

27 But when Hystahai the king of Judah saw this, he fled by the way of the garden of house: and Jehu pursued after him, and said, Smite him also in the chariot: and they smote him in the going up to Gur, which is by Jbleau. And he fled to Sipsiddo, and there died.

28 And his servants carried him in a chariot to Jerusalem, & buried him in his sepulchre with his fathers in the citie of David.

29 ¶ And in the eleventh yeere of Zoiari the sonne of Ahab, beganne Haziahy to reigne ouer Tydah.

30 And when Jehu was come to Israel, Jezebel heard of it, and painted her face, and dressed her head, and looked out at a window.

And as Jehu entred at the gate, shee said, Had^m Zimri peace, which slewe his y master?

32 And he lift up his eyes to the window, and said, Who is on my side, who? Then two or three of her Cunniches looked on him.

33 And he saide, Cast her downe: and they cast her downe, * and he sprinkled of her blood vpon the wall, and vpon the holes, and he trode her vnder foote.

4 And when he was come in, her bid eate
and drinke, and sayd, Wilt thoue vnder curst woman, and bury her: for she is a kinges daughter.

35 And they went to bury her, but they found no moze of her then the skull, and the feet, and the palmes of her hands.

Chr. by the hands of.
2. King. 21. 29. e Meaning, which were the idolatrous priests.

A Abah had notue seuentie sonnes in Samaria. And Iehu wrote letters, and sent to Samaria vnto the rulers of Israel, and to the Elders, and to the byngers vp of Abahs children, to this effect,

2 Now when this letter cometh to you, (for ye haue vs you pour masters sonnes, ye haue with you both charrets & horses, and a defended cite, and armour)

3 Consider therfore which of your masters sonnes is best and most meete, and let him on his fathers thione, and fight for your masters house.

4 But they were exceedingly afraide, and said, Behold, two kings combe not stand before him, how shall we then stand?

5 And hee that was gouernour of Abahs house, and hee that ruled the cite, and the Elders, and the byngers vp of the children sent to Iehu, saying, We are thy seruants, and will doe all that thou shalt bid vs: we will make no king: doe what serueth good to thee.

6 Then he wrote another letter to them, saying, If ye be mine, and will obey my voyce, take the heades of the men that are your masters sonnes, and come to me to Israel by to morowe this time. (Now the kings sonnes, euen seuentie perions were with him great men of the cite, which brought them by)

7 And when the letter came to them, they took the kings sonnes, & slew the seuentie perions, and laid their heads in baskets, and sent them vnto him to Israel.

8 Then there came a messenger and tolde him, saying, They haue brought him heads of the kings sonnes. And he said, Let them lay them on two heapes at the entering in of the gate untill the morning.

9 And when it was day, he went out, and stood and spake to all the people, Yee be righteous: behold, I conspired against my master, and slewe him: but who slewe all these?

10 Knowe now that there shall fall vnto the earth nothing of the woide of the Lord, which the Lord spake concerning the house of Abah: for the Lord hath brought to passe the things that he spake by his seruant Eliiah.

11 So Iehu slewe all that remained of the house of Abah in Israel, & all that were great with him, & his familiars and his priests, so that hee left none of his remaine,

12 And he arose, and departed and came to Samaria. And as Iehu was in the way by an house where the shepheards did there,

13 Yee met with the brethren of Ahaziah king of Iudah, and sayde, Who are per? And they answered, We are the brethren of Ahaziah, and gor downe to salute the children of the king and the children of the Queene.

14 And hee sayde, Take them aline. And they took them aline, and slewe them at the well beside the house where they were: for hee had with him two and fourtie men, and hee left not one of them.

15 And when he was departed thence, he met with Iehonadab the sonne of Rechab comming to meete him, and hee blessed him, and said to him, As thine heart is right, as mine heart is toward thee: And Iehonadab answered, Yea, doubtlesse. Then giue me thine hand. And when hee had giuen him his hand, hee took him vp to him into the charret.

16 And he said, Come with me, and see the zeale that I haue for the Lord: so they made him ride in his charret.

17 And when he came to Samaria, he slew all that remained vnto Abah in Samaria, till hee had destroyed him, according to the woide of the Lord, which he spake to Eliiah.

18 Then Iehu assembled all the people, and said vnto them, Abah serued Baal a little, but Iehu shall serue him much more.

19 Nowe therfore call vnto me all the prophets of Baal, all his seruantes, and all his priests, and let not a man be lacking: for I haue a great sacrifice for Baal: whose fouer is lacking, hee shall not liue. But Iehu did it by a subtiltie to destroy the seruants of Baal.

20 And Iehu sayde, Whoclaime a sacrifice assemble for Baal. And they proclaimed it.

21 So Iehu sent vnto all Israel, and all the seruants of Baal came, and there was not a man left that came not. And they came into the house of Baal, and the poule of Baal was full from ende to ende.

22 Then hee said vnto him that had the charge of the vestment, Bring forth vestments for all the seruants of Baal. And hee brought the out vestments.

23 And when Iehu went, and Iehonadab the sonne of Rechab into the house of Baal, hee laid vnto the seruants of Baal, Searche diligently, and looke, least there be here with you any of the seruants of the Lord, but the seruants of Baal onely.

24 And when they went in to make sacrifice and burnt offering, Iehu appointed foure score men without, and said, If as much of the men whom I haue brought in to your handes escape, his soule shall be for his soule.

25 And when hee had made an ende of the burnt offering, Iehu saide to the gard, and to the captaines, Go in, slay them, let not a man come out. And they smote them with the edge of the sword. And the garde,

26 And they brought out the images of h temple of Baal, and burnt them.

27 And they destroyed the image of Baal, and threw downe the house of Baal, and made a lakes of it vnto this day.

28 So Jehu destroyed Baal out of Israel.

29 But from the sinnes of Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat which made Israel to sinne, Jehu departed not from them, neither from the golden calves that were in Beth-el and that were in Dan.

30 ¶ And the Lord said vnto Jehu, Because thou hast diligently executed that which was right in mine eyes, & hast done vnto the house of Ahab according to all things that were in mine heart, therefore shall thy sonnes vnto the fourth generation sit on the throne of Israel.

31 But Jehu regarded not to walke in the lawe of the Lord God of Israel with all his heart: for hee departed not from the sinnes of Jeroboam, which made Israel to sinne.

32 In those dayes the Lord began to lothe Israel, and Hazarai smote them in all the coastes of Israel.

35 And Jehu slept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria, and Jehoahaz his sonne reigned in his stead.

36 And the time that Jehu reigned ouer Israel in Samaria is eight and twentie yeres.

CHAP. XI.

1 Athaliah putteth to death all the kings sonnes, except Joash the sonne of Ahasiah. 4 Joash is appointed king. 15 Jehoiada causeth Athaliah to be slaine. 17 He maketh a couenant betweene God & the people. 18 Baal and his priests are destroyed.

¶ When Athaliah the mother of Ahasiah when shee sawe that her sonne was dead, the she arose, and destroyed all the kings seede.

2 But Jehosheba the daughter of King Joiam, & sister to Ahasiah, toke Joash the sonne of Ahasiah, and haid him from among the kings sonnes that shoulde be slaine, both him & his nurse, keeping them in the bed chamber, and they hid him from Athaliah, so that he was not slaine.

3 And he was with her hid in the house of h Lord six yeres: and Athaliah did reigne ouer the land.

4 ¶ And the seventh yere Jehoiada sent and tooke the captaines ouer hundredth, bocher captaines and them of the garde, and caused them to come vnto him into the house of the Lord, and made a couenant with them, and tooke an orde of the in the house of the Lord, and shewed them

the kings sonne.

And he commanded them, saying, This is it that ye must doe. The thirde part of pon, that cometh on the Sabbath, shall wardes toward the kings house.

6 And another thirde part in the gate of Sur: and another thirde part in the gate behinde the span of the garde: and per shall keepe watche in the house of Ahasiah.

7 And two parts of pou, that is, all that go out on the Sabbath day, shall keepe the watch of the house of the Lord about the king.

8 And ye shall compass the king round about, euery man with his weapon in his hande, and whosoever cometh within the ranges, let him be slaine: be pou with the king, as he goeth out and in.

9 ¶ And the captaines of the hundredth, and according to a: p Jehoiada the Priest commanded, and they tooke euery man his men that entered into their charge on the Sabbath, with them that went out of the house of the Lord, and came to Jehoiada the Priest.

10 And the Priest gaue to the captaines of hundredth the speeres and the shields, that were King Dauids, and were in the house of the Lord.

11 And the gard stood, euery man with his weapon in his hande, from the right side of the house to the left side, about h altar & about the house, round about the king.

12 Then he brought out the kings sonne, and put the crowne upon him, and gaue him the testimonie, and they made him king: also they anoynted him, and clapt their hands, & sayd, God saue the king.

13 ¶ And when Athaliah heard the noise of the running of the people, shee came in to the people in the house of the Lord.

14 And when she looked, behold, the king stood by a pillar, as the manner was, and the princes and the trumpeters by the king, and all the people of the lande reioyced, and blew with trumpets. Then Athaliah rent her clothes, & cryed, Treason, treason.

15 But Jehoiada the Priest commanded the captaines of the hundredth that had the rule of the host, and sayd vnto them, Haue her forth of the ranges, & he that followeth her, let him die by the sword: for the Priest had sayde, Let her not be slaine in the house of the Lord.

16 Then they layd hands on her, and shee went by the way, by the which the horses goe to the house of the king, and there was she slaine.

17 And Jehoiada made a couenant betwene the Lord and the king, and the people, that they shoulde be the Lordes people: likewise betwene the king and the people.

18 Then all the people of the lande went into the house of Baal, and destroyed it with his altars, and his images brake they downe contragiously, and slew upon the priest of Baal before the altars: and the Priest let a garde ouer the house of the Lord.

children of Israel dwell in their tentes as "boycottine."

6 Wherefore these they departed not from the sinnes of the house of Jeroboam which made Israel sinne, but walked in them, even the "grove also remained still in Samaria."

7 For he had left of the people to Jehoshaphat but fittie thousand, and ten chariots, and ten thousand footmen, because the king of Ram had destroyed them, and made them like butt beaten to powder.

8 Concerning the rest of the actes of Jehoshaphat, and all that he did, and his valiant deedes, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel?

9 And Jehoshaphat slept with his fathers, & they buried him in Samaria, and Joash his sonne reigned in his stead.

10 ¶ In þe leuen & thirtieth yere of Joash king of Iudah beganne Jehoshaphat the sonne of Jehoshaphat to reigne ouer Israel in Samaria, and reigned thirtie yere.

11 And did euill in the sight of the Lord: for he departed not from all the sinnes of Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat that made Israel to sinne, but he walked therein.

12 Concerning the rest of the actes of Joash and all that he did, and his valiant deedes, and how he fought against Amaziah king of Iudah, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of þe Kings of Israel?

13 And Joash slept with his fathers, and Jeroboam late upon his seate: and Joash was buried in Samaria among the kings of Israel.

14 ¶ When Eliza fell sicke of his sickness whereof he dyed, Joash the king of Israel came downe vnto him, and wept vpon his face, and sayde, O my father, my father, the charer of Israel, and the hoysmen of the same.

15 Then Eliza sayde vnto him, Take a bowe and arrowes. And he took vnto him bowe and arrowes.

16 And he sayde to the king of Israel, Put thine hande vpon the bowe. And he put his hande vpon it. And Eliza put his handes vpon the kings handes.

17 And said, Open þe window! Castward. And when he had opened it, Eliza sayd, Shoot. And he shot. And he said, Behold the arrowe of the Lords deliuerance and the arrowe of deliuerance against Ram: for thou shalt smite the Ramites in Asaph, till thou hast consumed them.

18 Again he sayd, Take the arrowes. And he took them. And he sayd vnto the king of Israel, Smite the grounde. And hee smote thyle, and cried.

19 ¶ Then the man of God was angry with him, and said, Thou shouldest haue smitten five or sixe times, so thou shouldest haue smitten Ram, till thou haddest consumed it: where nowe thou shalt smite Ram but thyle.

20 ¶ So Eliza dyed, & they buried him, and certaine bads of the Moabites came vnto the land that yere.

21 And as they were burying a man, despoile, they saue the foundiers: therofore they call the man into the sepulchre of Eliza. And when the man was downe, & touched the bones of Eliza, he reuiu. Ezech. 37. 14.

22 ¶ But Hazael king of Aram dyed. 1 Kings. 19. 15. And God confirmed all the dayes of Jehoshaphat.

23 Therofore the Lord had mercy on them, and pitied them, and had respect vnto them because of his covenant with Abia in his lite they ham, Ishaak, and Iacob, and would not destroy them, neither cast hee them from him as "pet."

24 So Hazael the king of Aram died: and Ben-hadad his sonne reigned in his stede.

25 Therofore Jehoshaphat the sonne of Jehoshaphat returned, and took out of the hande of Ben-hadad the sonne of Hazael the cities which he had taken away by warre out of the hand of Jehoshaphat his father: for these times did Joash beat him, and reuiued the cities vnto Israel.

Amaziah the king of Iudah purcheth to death them that slawe his father, 7. And after smiteth Edom.

15 Joash dyeth, and Jeroboam his sonne succeedeth him. 29 And after him reighneth Zachariah.

¶ The seconde yere of Joash sonne of Jehoshaphat king of Israel reigned Amaziah the sonne of Joash king of Iudah.

2 He was five and twentieth yere old when he began to reigne, and reigned nine and twentieth yere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Jehoabean of Ierusalem.

3 And her day was bright in the sight of the Lord, yet not like David his father, but did according to all that Joash his father had done.

4 Notwithstanding the hie places were not taken away: for as yet the people dyd sacrifice & burnt incense in the hie places.

5 And when the kingdome was confirmed in his hande, he slew his seruantes which had killed the king his father.

6 But the children of those that dyd slay him, he slew not, according vnto that that is written in the booke of the Law of Moses, wherein the Lord commanded, saying, ¶ The fathers shal not be put to death for the children, nor the children put to death for the fathers: but euery man shal be put to death for his owne sinne.

7 He slew also of Edom in the battell of salt ten thousande, and took the cite of Sela by warre, & called the name thereof Jokhele vnto this day.

8 ¶ Then Amaziah sent messengers to Jehoshaphat the sonne of Jehoshaphat, saying, Come, let us fight vs for one another in the face.

9 ¶ Then Jehoshaphat the king of Israel sent to Amaziah king of Iudah, saying, The this is in Lebanon, sent to the cedar tree, because of his great kingdome ouer ten tribes, and Amaziah to a thistle, because he ruled but ouer two tribes, and the wild beasts are Jehoashs foundiers that spoiled the cities of Iudah.

but they sent after him to Lachish, & slew
him there.

20 And they brought him on horses, and he was buried at Ierusalem with his fathers in the citie of Dauid.

21 ¶ Then all the people of Iudah tooke A-zariah, which was sixtene yere olde, and made him king for his father Amaziah.

22 He built Elath, & restored it to Iudah,
after that the king slept with his fathers.

23 ¶ In the sixteenth yere of Amaziah the sonne of Joash king of Iudah, was Jeroboam the sonne of Joash made king ou-er Israel in Samaria, & reigned one and fourtie yere.

24 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord:
for he departed not from all the sinnes of Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat, which made Israel to sinne.

25 ¶ He restored the coast of Israel, from the enuring of Hamath, vnto the Sea of the wildernesse, according to the worde of the Lorde God of Israel, which he spake by his seruāt Ionah p sonne of Amittai the Prophet, which was of Gath Hepher.

26 For the Lorde sawe the exceeding bitter affliction of Israel, so that there was none that shuld by, nor any left, neyther yet any that could helpe Israel.

27 ¶ Yet p Lord "had not decreed to put out
the name of Israel from vnder p heauen:
therefore he preferred them by the hande

2 Sixtene yere olde was he, when he was made king, and hee reigned two and fiftie yere in Ierusalem: and his mothers
name was Jerohiah of Ierusalem.

3 And hee did vprightly in the sight of the Lorde, according to all that his father Amaziah did.

4 But the hie places were not put away:
for the people pet offered, and burned his incense in the hie places.

5 And the Lorde smote the king: and he was a leper vnto the dape of his death,
and dwelt in an house apart, & Jorham
the kings sonne gouerned the house, and iudged the people of the land.

6 Concerning the rest of the actes of Azariah, and all that hee did, are they not witten

the space of a moneth in Samaria.

14 For Menahem the sonne of Gadi went up from Tirzah, and came to Samaria, and smote Shallum the sonne of Iabel in Samaria, and slew him, and reigned in his steade.

15 Concerning the rest of the acts of Shallum, and the treason which he wrought, beholde, they are written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel.

16 ¶ The Menahem destroyed Ephraim, and all that were therein, and the coastes thereof from Tirzah, because they opened not to him, and he smote it, and ript vp all their women with childe.

17 The nine and thirtieth yere of Azariah king of Iudah, began Menahem the sonne of Gadi to reigne ouer Israel, and reigned ten yeres in Samaria.

18 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord, and departed not all his dayes from the sinne of Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat, which made Israel to sinne.

19 ¶ Then Pul the King of Asshur came against the land: and Menahem gave Pul a thousand talents of silver, that his hande might be with him, and establish the kingdome in his hand.

20 And Menahem erected the money in Israel, that all men of substance should give the King of Asshur five shekels of silver a peece: so the King of Asshur returned and tarped not there in the land.

21 Concerning the rest of the actes of Menahem, and all that he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel?

22 And Menahem slept with his fathers, and Pekahiah his sonne did reigne in his steade.

23 ¶ In the fiftieth yere of Azariah King of Iudah, began Pekahiah the sonne of Menahem to reigne ouer Israel in Samaria, and reigned two yeres.

24 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord: for he departed not from the sinnes of Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat, which made Israel to sinne.

25 And Pekah the sonne of Remaliah, his captaine conspired against him, & smote him in Samaria in the place of the kings palace with Argob and Arieah, and with him fifty men of the Gileadites: so he killed him, and reigned in his steade.

26 Concerning the rest of the actes of Pekahiah, and all that he did, beholde, they are written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel.

27 ¶ In the two and fiftieth yere of Azariah King of Iudah began Pekah the sonne of Remaliah to reigne ouer Israel in Samaria, and reigned twenty yeres.

28 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord: for he departed not from the sinnes of Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat, that made Israel to sinne.

29 In the dayes of Pekah King of Israel came Tiglath Pileser King of Asshur, and tooke Iion, & Abel, Beth-maacah, and Janah, and Kedesh, & Hazor, and Gilead, & Galilee, & all the land of Naphtali, and carried them away to Asshur.

30 And Iotham the sonne of Elah wrought treason against Pekah the sonne of Remaliah, & smote him, and slew him, and reigned in his stead in the twentieth yere of Iotham the sonne of Uzziah.

31 Concerning the rest of the actes of Pekah, and all that he did, beholde, they are written in the booke of the Chronicles of the King of Israel.

32 ¶ In the second yere of Pekah the sonne of Remaliah King of Israel, began Iotham sonne of Uzziah King of Iudah to reigne.

33 Five & twentieth yere olde was he, when he began to reigne, and he reigned sixteen yeres in Jerusalem: and his mothers name was Jerusha the daughter of Zabok.

34 And he did uprightly in the sight of the Lord: he did according to all that his father Uzziah had done.

35 But the high places were not put away: for the people offered and burnt incense in the high places: he built the high gate of the house of the Lord.

36 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iotham, and all that he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudah?

37 In those dayes the Lord began to send against Iudah Rezin the King of Aram, and Pekah the sonne of Remaliah.

38 And Iotham slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the citie of David his father, and Ahaz his sonne reigned in his stead.

2 Twenty yere olde was Ahaz, when he began to reigne, & he reigned sixteen yere in Jerusalem, & did not uprightly in the sight of the Lord his God, like David his father: wicked Manasse.

3 But walked in the way of the Kings of Israel, yea, and made his sonne to goe in, and shewed through the fire, after the abominations of the heathen, whome the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

4 Also he offered and burnt incense in the high places, and on the hills, and under every greene tree.

5 Then Rezin King of Aram and Pekah the sonne of Remaliah King of Israel came up to Jerusalem to fight: and they besieged Ahaz, but could not overcome him.

6 At the same time Rezin King of Aram rejoyced Elath to Aram, and dyed the Jewes fro Elath: so the Aramites came to Elath, and dwelt there vnto this day.

7 Then Ahaz sent messengers to Tiglath Pileser King of Asshur, saying, I am thy servant and thy sonne: come up, and deliuer me out of the hands of the Aramites & the Philistines.

Hezekiah king of Israel is taken. And he and all his familie brought to the Assyrians. 18 For their idolatrie. 25 Sennacherib the Assyrian that dwelt in Samaria. 29 Every one worshippeth the God of his nation. 35 Contrary to the commandment of God.

1 At the twelfth yeere of Ahaz king of Judah began Hoshea the sonne of Elah to reigne in Samaria over Israel, & reigned nine yeeres. 2 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord, but not as the kings of Israel, but worse before him. 3 And Sargon king of Assyria came up against him, and Hoshea became his seruante, and gaue him presents. 4 And the king of Assyria found treason in Hoshea: for he had sent messengers to So king of Egypt, & brought no present unto the king of Assyria, as hee had done peretle: therefore the king of Assyria sent him up, and put him in prison. 5 Then the king of Assyria came by Samaria about the land, & went against Samaria, and besieged it three yeeres. 6 7 In the ninth yeere of Hoshea, the king of Assyria took Samaria, and caried Israel away unto Assyria, and put them in Halah, and in Habor by the river of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes. 8 For when the children of Israel sinned against the Lord their God, which had brought them out of the land of Egypt from under the hande of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and feared other gods, 9 And walked according to the fictions of the heathen, whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel, and after the manners of the kings of Israel, which they used, 10 And the children of Israel had done secretly things that were not upright before the Lord their God, and throughout all their cities had built high places, both from the towre of the watch, to the defensed citie, 11 And had made them images & grooves upon every high hill, & vnder every greene tree, 12 And there burnt incense in all the high places, as did the heathen, whom the Lord had taken away before them, and wrought wicked things to anger the Lord. 13 And serued moloch: wherof the Lord had said unto the children of Israel, saying, Ye shall do no such thing, norwithstanding the Lord testified to Israel, as to Judah, by all the Prophets, and by all the Seers, saying, Turne from your euill wayes, & keepe my commandments and my statutes, according to all the Lawe, which I commanded your fathers, and which I sent to you by my seruants the Prophets. 14 Nevertheless they would not obey, but hardened their neckes, like to the neckes of their fathers, that did not beleue in the Lord their God. 15 And they refused his statutes and his covenant, that hee made with their fathers, & his testimonies (whereby he testified vnto them) and they followed vanity, & became vaine, and followed the heathen that were rounde about them: concerning whom, the Lord had charged them, a Though hee sented no new idolatrie as the people did, yet hee taught his people at the same which God had forbidden. b For hee had paid tribute to the king of Assyria. c For at this time the king & Persians were subject to the Assyrians. d Hee kept forth a legall the cause of the king, which was a perpetual offence, to ascribe all power to the Lord God, and only worship him, to the end of his judgement. e Meaning the removal of the borders. f That is, by the hands of the king, 1 Kings 11. 1. 2 Kings 23. 1. g Or great multitude, which was a great multitude, but no doubt that we might call them all wicked.

- 5 He trusted in the Lojbe God of Israel: To that after him was none like him among all the kings of Judah, neither were there any like him before him.
- 6 For he came to the Lojbe and departed not from him, but kept his commandments, which the Lojbe had commanded Spokes.
- 7 So the Lojbe was with him, & he prospered in all things which he took in hand: also he rebelled against the king of Asshur, and served him not.
- 8 He smote the Philistines unto Uzzah, & the coasts thereof, from the watch tower unto the defended city.
- 9 ¶ And in the fourth year of king Hezekiah, (which was the twentieth year of Asa the sonne of Isiah king of Israel) Sennacherib king of Asshur came up against Samaria, and besieged it.
- 10 And after three years they took it, even in the first year of Hezekiah: that is, the ninth year of Isaiah king of Israel was Samaria taken.
- 11 Then the king of Asshur did carry away Israel unto Asshur, and put them in Ussah and in Ussah, by the river of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes.
- 12 Because they would not obey the voice of the Lojbe their God, but transgressed his covenant: that is, all that Spokes the servant of the Lojbe had commanded, and would neither obey nor do them.
- 13 ¶ Wherefore, in the fourteenth year of king Hezekiah, Sennacherib king of Asshur came up against all the strong cities of Judah, and took them.
- 14 Then Hezekiah king of Judah sent unto the king of Asshur to Harhath, saying, I have offended: depart from me, and what thou liest upon me, I will beate it. And the king of Asshur appointed unto Hezekiah king of Judah three hundred talents of silver, & thirtie talents of gold.
- 15 Wherefore Hezekiah gave all the silver that was found in the house of the Lojbe, and in the treasures of the king's house.
- 16 At the same season did Hezekiah pull off the plates of the doors of the Temple of the Lojbe, and the pillars (which the Lojbe Hezekiah king of Judah had covered over) & gave them to the king of Asshur.
- 17 ¶ And the king of Asshur sent Tartan, and Rab-laris, and Rabshakeh from Asshur to king Hezekiah with a great hoste against Jerusalem. And they went up, & came to Jerusalem, and when they were come up, they stood by the conduit of the upper pool, which is by the path of the fullers' field.
- 18 And called to the king. Then came out to them Eliahin the sonne of Yilkiah, which was steward of the house, and Sennacherib the chancellor, and Joah the sonne of Maaph the recorder.
- 19 And Rabshakeh spake unto them, Tell ye Hezekiah, I saye you, Thus saith the great King, even the great king of Asshur, Wher confidence is this wherein thou trustest?
- 20 Thou thinkest, Surely I have "etc

- quies, but comell and strength are for the warre. On whom thou dost thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?
- 21 Now, thou trustest in the Lojbe God of Asshur, if a man leave, it will goe into his hand, and pearce it: so is Asshur king of Asshur unto all that trust on him.
- 22 But if ye saye unto me, We trust in the Lojbe our God, is not that he whose Lojbe places, and whose altars Hezekiah hath taken away, & hath said to Judah and Jerusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar in Jerusalem?
- 23 Nowe therefore give hostages to me, Lojbe the king of Asshur, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou be able to set riders upon them.
- 24 For howe canst thou despise any rayne of the least of my masters servants, and put thy trust on Asshur for charrets and horsemen?
- 25 And I now come by without thee: Lojbe to this place, to destroy it: the Lojbe saye to me, Go by against this land, and destroy it.
- 26 Then Eliahin the sonne of Yilkiah, & Sennacherib, and Joah said unto Rabshakeh, Spoke, I saye thee, to the servants in the Asshurians language, for we be bakers, and can understand it, and talke not with us in the Asshurians tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.
- 27 But Rabshakeh said unto them, With my master sent me to the master, and to thee to speake these words, and not to the men which sit on the wall, that they may see their owne doing, and drinke their owne pisse with you?
- 28 So Rabshakeh stood and cried with a loud voice in the Asshurians language, and spake, saying, Heare the wordes of the great king of the king of Asshur.
- 29 Thus sayeth the king, Let not Hezekiah deceive you: for he shal not be able to deliver you out of mine hand.
- 30 Neither let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Lojbe, saying, The Lojbe will surely deliver us, & this cite shal not be given over into the hand of the king of Asshur.
- 31 Hearken not unto Hezekiah: for thus saith the king of Asshur, Spoke, "appointment with me, and come out to me, that every man may see of his owne vine, and every man of his owne figge tree, and drinke every man of the water of his owne well.
- 32 Till I come, & bring you to a land like your owne land, even a land of wheat & wine, a land of beehives and vineyardes, a land of olives oile, and hope that ye may live and not die: and obey not Hezekiah, for he deceiveth you, saying, The Lojbe will deliver us.
- 33 Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered his lande out of the hand of the king of Asshur?
- 34 Where is the God of Uram, and of Arpad? where is the god of Seraph nam, Uram & Arpad? how have they delivered Samaria out of mine hand?

f For, saith the Scripture.

35 Who are they among all the gods of the nations, that have delivered their lands out of mine hand, that the Lord should deliver Jerusalem out of mine hand?

36 But the people held their peace, and answered not him a word: for the kinges commandment was, saying, Answer not him.

37 Then Eliakim, the sonne of Hilkiah, which was steward of the house, and Shebna the chamberler, & Ioah the sonne of Nisai the recorder came to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and tolde him the wordes of Rabshakeh.

CHAP. XIX.

6 God promisseth by Isaiah's vision to Hezekiah. 39 The Angel of the Lord killeth an hundred & fourteens and five thousand men of the Assyrians. 37 Sennacherib is killed of his own sword.

1 AD when king Hezekiah heard it, he rent his clothes and put on sackcloth, and came into the house of the Lord.

2 And sent Eliakim which was steward of the house, and Shebna the chamberler, and the Elders of the Elders clothed in sackcloth, to Isaiah the Prophet the sonne of Amos.

3 And they said unto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of tribulation and of rebuke, & blasphemy: for the chylidren are come to the birth, and there is no strength to bring forth.

4 If so be the Lord thy God hath heard all the wordes of Rabshakeh, whom the king of Assyria his master hath sent to raile on the living God, and to reproch him with wordes which the Lord thy God hath heard, then lift thou up thy prayer for the remnant that are left.

5 So the servants of king Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

6 And Isaiah saide unto them, So shall ye say to your master, Thus saith the Lord, Be not afraid of the wordes which thou hast heard, wherewith the servants of the king of Assyria have blasphemed me.

7 Behold, I will send a blast upon him, and he shall heare a worde, and returne to his owne land: and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his owne land.

8 So Rabshakeh returned, and founde the king of Assyria fighting against Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish.

9 He heard also men say of Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, Behold, he is come out to fight against thee: he therefore departed and sent other messengers unto Hezekiah, saying,

10 Thus shall ye speake to Hezekiah king of Iudah, and say, Let not thy God deceive thee in whom thou trustest, saying, Jerusalem shall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Assyria.

11 Behold, thou hast heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands, howe they have destroyed them: and shalt thou be delivered?

12 Have the gods of the heathen delivered them which my fathers have destroyed?

in Gogai, and Haran, and Reseph, and the children of Eden, which were in the land of Elam.

13 Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arpad, and the king of the city of Sepharvaim, Hena and Iuah?

14 So Hezekiah received the letter of the hand of the messengers, and read it: and Hezekiah went by into the house of the Lord, and Hezekiah layed it before the Lord.

15 And Hezekiah prayed before the Lord, and sayde, O Lord God of Israel, which dwellest betwixt the Cherubims, thou art very God alone: our all the kingdome of the earth: thou hast made the heaven and the earth.

16 Lord, hold downe thine eare, & heare: Lord open thine eyes, and beholde, and heare the wordes of Sennacherib, who hath sent to blaspheme the living God.

17 Truth it is, Lord, that the kings of Assyria have destroyed the nations and their landes,

18 And have set fire on their gods: for they were no gods, but the worke of mans handes, even wood and stone: therefore they destroyed them.

19 Now therefore, O Lord our God, I beseeche thee, save thou us out of his hande, that all the kingdome of the earth may know, that thou, O Lord, art only God.

20 Then Isaiah the sonne of Amos sent to Hezekiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I have heard that which thou hast sayed mee, concerning Sennacherib king of Assyria.

21 This is the worde that the Lord hath spoken against him, O virgin, daughter of Zion, he hath despised thee, & laughed thee to scorne: & daughter of Jerusalem, he hath shaken his head at thee.

22 Whom hast thou railed on? and whom hast thou blasphemed? & against whom hast thou railed thy voice, and lifted up thine eyes on him? even against the Holy one of Israel.

23 Behold the messengers whom thou hast railed on, the Lord, and Sennacherib, the multitude of thy chariots I am come up to the top of the mountaine, by the sides of Lebanon, and will cut downe the cedars thereof, & the faire firs trees thereof, and I will go into the lodging of his borders, and into the forest of his Carmel.

24 I have digged, and drunke the waters of others, and with the plant of my fete have I dried all the floods dried in.

25 Hast thou not heard, howe I have of old time made it, & have foumed it long ago? & should I now bring it, that it should be destroyed, and layed on ruinous heapes, as cities destroyed?

26 Whose inhabitants have final power, and are afraid, and consourde: they are like the grasse of the field, & graine brabe, or grasse on the house toppes, or as cosine blasted before it be grown.

27 I knowe thy dwelling, yea, thy going time flourish, and out, and thy coming in, and thy furie against me.

h Before I Arke of the covenant,

i He sheweth what is the true refuge and succour in all dangers, to wit, to flee to the Lord by earnest prayer.

k Shew by effect that thou wilt not suffer thy name to be blasphemed.

l By this title he discerneth God from all idoles and false gods.

m He sheweth for what end the faithful desire of God to be delivered: to wit, n Because as yet Jerusalem had not bene taken by the enemy, therefore he calleth her virgin.

o God counteth that injury done to him, and will reuege it, which is done to any of his Saintes.

p Meaning, Jerusalem, which Isaiah calleth the height of his borders, to wit, q He declareth that so much as he is the author and beginning of his Church, he will never suffer it to be destroyed, as other cities and kingdomes.

r Thus he declares that which the wicked, which for a while flourish, and decay like a To have some new propheticall word to have comfort of him.

b The danger is less great: that we can neither avenge this blasphemy, nor help our selves, no more then a woman in her trouble.

c Meaning, for Jerusalem, which only remayned of all the cities of Iudah.

d The Lord can with one blast blow away all the strength of man and turne it into dust.

e That is, Sennacherib.

f For the kings of Ethiopia and Egypt joined together against the king of Assyria because of his oppression of other countries.

g The more neede that the wicked are to their destruction, the more they blaspheme.

I will bridle thy rage and turne thee to & fro, as please me.

God did not onely promise him the victorie, but giue him a signe to confirme his faith.

The Lord will multiply in great number that small remnant of Iudah that is escaped.

The loue that God beareth toward his Church shall overcome counsels and enterprises of men.

28 And because thou ragest against mee, & thy tumult is come vp to mine eares, I will put mine hook in thy nostrils, and mine bit in thy lips, and will bring thee backe againe: the same way thou camest.

29 And this shall be a signe vnto thee, O Hezekiah, Thou shalt eate this peece such thinges as growe of themselves, and the next peece as growe without sowing, and the third peece sowe ye and reape, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruites thereof.

30 And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Iudah, shall againe take a roote downward, and beare fruite byward.

31 For out of Ierusalem shall goe a remnant, and some that shall escape out of mount Zion: the zeale of the Lord of hostes shall do this.

32 Wherfore thus saith the Lord, concerning the king of Assur, He shall not enter into this cite, nor shoot an arrow there, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a mount againe it.

33 But he shall returne the waye he came, and shall not come into this cite, saith the Lord.

34 For I will defende this cite to save it for mine owne sake, and for Dauid my seruants sake.

35 ¶ And the same night the Angel of the Lord went out and smote in the campe of Assur an hundred foure score and sine thousande: so when they rose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses.

36 So Saneherib king of Assur departed, and went his way, and returned, and dwelt in Nineveh.

37 And as he was in the temple worshipping Nisroch his god, Nabimelech and Shareser his sonnes slew him with the sword: and they escaped into the land of Ararat, and Esarhaddon his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XX.

1 Hezekiah is sick, and receiveth the signe of his health. 12 He receiveth the letter of Belsadach, 13 Sheweth his treasures, and is reproued of Isaiah. 23 He dyeth, and Manasse his sonne reigneth in his stead.

1 About that time was Hezekiah sicke vnto death: and the Prophet Isaiah the sonne of Amos came to him, and sayd vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Add thine house in an order: for thou shalt die, and not liue.

2 Then he turned his face to the wall, and prayed to the Lord, saying,

3 I beseech thee, O Lord, remember now, how I haue walked before thee in truth, and with a perfect heart, and haue done that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiah wept sore.

4 ¶ And as Ieiah was gone out into the middle of the court, the word of the Lord came to him, saying,

5 Turne againe, and tell Hezekiah the captaine of my people: Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, I haue heard thy prayer, & seene thy teares: behold, I haue healed thee, & the third day thou shalt goe vp to the house of the Lord.

6 And I will add vnto thy dayes fifteen yeres, and will deliuer thee and this cite out of the hand of the king of Assur, and will defende this cite for mine owne sake, and for Dauid my seruants sake.

7 Then Ieiah said, Take a lump of figges, and will deliuer thee, and layde it on the boyle, and he recovered.

8 ¶ For Hezekiah had sayde vnto Ieiah, What shall be the signe that the Lord will heale me, and that I shall goe vp into the house of the Lord the third day?

9 And Ieiah answered, This signe shalt thou haue of the Lord, that the Lord will do that he hath spoken, Wilt thou that the shadowe goe forwarde tenne degrees, or goe backe tenne degrees?

10 And Hezekiah answered, It is a light thing for the shadowe to passe forward ten degrees: not so then, but let the shadowe goe backe ten degrees.

11 And Ieiah the Prophet called vnto the Lord, and he brought againe the shadowe ten degrees backe by the degrees wherby it had gone downe in the dial of Ahas.

12 ¶ The same season Belsadach Balaban the sonne of Balaban king of Babel, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard how that Hezekiah was sicke.

13 And Hezekiah heard them, and shewed them all his treasure house, to wit, the silver and the golde, and the spices, and the precious oylment, and all the house of his armour, and all that was founde in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, and in all his realme, that Hezekiah shewed them not.

14 Then Ieiah the Prophet came vnto king Hezekiah, and said vnto him, What said these men? & from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiah said, They be come from a farre countrey, euen from Babel. 15 Then sayde he, What haue they done in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house haue they seene: there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue not shewed them.

16 And Ieiah sayd vnto Hezekiah, Behold the word of the Lord.

17 Behold, the dayes come, that all that is in thine house, & whatsoever thy fathers haue layde by in store vnto this daye, shall be caried into Babel: nothing shall be left, saith the Lord.

18 And of thy sonnes, þ shall procede out of thee, and which thou shalt dege, shall they rake away, & they shall be eunuches in the palace of the king of Babel.

19 Then Hezekiah sayde vnto Ieiah, The word of þ Lord which thou hast spoken, is good: for sayd he, Shall it not be good, if þ peace and truth be in my dayes?

20 Concerning the rest of the actes of Hezekiah, and all his valiant deedes, & how he made a poole & a conduit, and brought 21 And Hezekiah slept with his fathers: & Manasseh his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXI.

3 King Manasseh restoreth idolatrie, 16 And useth great crueltie, 18 He dieth, and Amon his sonne succedeth, 23 Who killed of his owne servants, 26 After his reigneth Iosiah.

1 Manasseh * was twelve yeere olde when he began to reigne, & reigned fiftie & six yeere in Ierusalem: his mothers name also was Hephzibah.

2 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord after the abomination of the heathen, whome the * Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For he went backe and built the hie places, * which Hezekiah his father had destroyed: and he erected by altars for Baal, & made a groue, as did Ahab king of Israel, and worshipped all the hoste of heauen and serued them.

4 Also he * built altars in the house of the Lord, of the which the Lord sayd, * In Ierusalem will I put my name.

5 And he built altars for all the hoste of the heauen in the two courts of the house of the Lord.

6 And he caused his sonnes * to passe through the fire, and gaue him selfe to witchcraft and sorcerie, and he used them that had familiar spirits and were soothsayers, and did much euill in the sight of the Lord to anger him.

7 And he set the image of the grone that he had made, in the house, whereof the Lord had said to Dauid and to Salomon his sonne, * In this house, & in Ierusalem, which I haue chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, will I put my name for ever.

8 Neither will I make the seete of Israel more any more out of the land, which I gaue their fathers: so that they will * observe and do all that I haue commanded them, & according to all the Law that my seruants Moses commanded them.

9 Yet they obeyed not; but Manasseh led them out of the way, to doe more wickedly then did the heathen people, whom the Lord destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 Therefore the Lord spake by his seruants the Prophets, saying,

11 * Because that Manasseh King of Iudah hath done such abominations, and hath wrought more wickedly then all that the Kings (which were before him) did, and hath made Iudah sinne also with his idoles,

12 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Behold, I will bring an euil vpon Ierusalem and Iudah, that who so heareth of it, both his * eares shall tingle.

13 And I will stretch ouer Ierusalem the line * of Samaria, & the plummet of the house of Ahab: and I will wipe Ierusalem, as a man wipeth a dishe, which he wipeth, and turneth it vpside downe.

14 And I will forsake the * remnant of mine inheritance, and deliuer them into the hand of their enemies, and they shall be robbed and spoiled of all their abusers families, 15 Because they haue done euill in my sight, & haue provoked me to anger, since the time their fathers came out of Egypt vntill this day.

16 Therefore Manasseh shed * innocent blood exceeding much, till he replenished Ierusalem from corner to corner, besides his sinne wherewith he made Iudah to sinne, and to doe euill in the sight of the Lord.

17 Concerning the rest of the actes of Manasseh, and all that he did, and his sinne that he sineth, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudah?

18 And Manasseh slept with his fathers, & was buried in the garden of his owne house, euen in the garden of Uzza: and Amon his sonne reigned in his stead.

19 * Amon was two and twentie yeere olde, when he begam to reigne, and he reigned two yeere in Ierusalem: his mothers name also was Asbathemeth the daughter of Hariz of Iudab.

20 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord, as his father Manasseh did.

21 For he walked in al the way, that his father walked in, and serued the idoles that his father serued, and worshipped them.

22 And he forsooke the Lord God of his fathers, & walked not in the way of the Lord.

23 And the seruants of Amon conspired against him, and slew the king in his owne house.

24 And the people of the land slew al them that had conspired against king Amon, and the people made Iosiah his sonne king in his stead.

25 Concerning the rest of the actes of Amon, which he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudah?

26 And * they buried him in his sepulchre in the garden of Uzza: & Iosiah his sonne reigned in his stead.

4 Iosiah repaireth the Temple, 8 Hilkiah findeth the booke of the Lawe, and causeth it to be presented to Iosiah, 12 Who sendeth to Huldah the Prophetesse to inquire the Lords will.

1 Iosiah was * eight yeere olde when he began to reigne, & he reigned one & thirtie yeere in Ierusalem. His mothers name also was Jedidah the daughter of Adaiah of Boscath.

2 And hee did right in the sight of the Lord, and * walked in al the wayes of his father, and bowed neither to the right hand, nor to the left.

3 And in the eighteenth yeere of king Iosiah, the king sent Shaphan the sonne of Azbub the sonne of Meshullum the chamberler to the house of the Lord, saying,

4 Goe vp to Hilkiah the hie Priest, that hee map * summe the silver which is brought into the house of the Lord, which the hie Priests were accustomed to gather of the people.

Some of the Priests were appointed to this office, as Chap.

5 And 22.9.

c From the time of Iosiah for the space of 224. yeres the temple remained without reparation through the negligence of the priests, this declared by they y have a charge, & execute it not, ought to have it taken from the. d So God provided him of faithful servants, seeing he went about so zealously to set forth the worke of God. e This was the copy that Moses left them, as appeareth, 2. Chro. 34. 14: which either by negligence of y priests had bene lost, or els by wickednes of idolatrous kings had bene abolished.

"Scrib. m. d. d."

f Meaning, to some Prophet whom God reveileth y knowledge of things vnto, as Ier. 21. r. though at other times they inquired the Lord by Vrim and Thummim. g Or, the boule of doctrine, which was neere to the temple, & where the learned assembled to entreat y Scriptures, and the doctrine of the Prophets. h The workes of mans hand here signifie all that man inuenteth beside the worde of God, which are abominable in Gods seruice.

i Meaning, that he did repent, as they that do not repent, are sayde so harden their hearts, Psal. 95. 8.

And let them deliver it into the hand of them that doe the worke, and haue the oversight of y house of the Lord: let them give it to them that worke in the house of the Lord, to repair the decayed places of the house:

To wit, unto the artificers & carpenters and masons, & to the timber, and hewed stone to repair the house.

Whereby let no reckoning be made with them of the money, that is delivered into their hands: for they deale faithfully.

And Hilkiah the hie Priest sayde unto Shaphan the chanceller, I haue found the booke of the Law in the house of the Lord: and Hilkiah gaue y booke to Shaphan, and he read it.

So Shaphan the chanceller came to the king, & brought him word againe, and sayde, Thy seruants haue gathered the money, that was found in the house, and haue delivered it unto the hands of them that do the worke, and haue the oversight of the house of the Lord.

Also Shaphan the chanceller shewed the king, saying, Hilkiah the Priest hath delivered me a booke. And Shaphan read it before the king.

And when the king had heard y wordes of the booke of y Law, he rent his clothes.

Therefore the king commanded Hilkiah the Priest, & Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, & Achboi the sonne of Phichaiah, and Shaphan the chanceller, & Ahaziah the kings seruant, saying,

So ye and enquire of the Lord for me, and for the people, and for all Iudah, concerning the wordes of this booke that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is kindled against vs, because our fathers haue not obeyed the wordes of this booke, to doe according vnto all that which is written therein for vs.

So Hilkiah the Priest and Ahikam, & Achboi and Shaphan, & Ahaziah went vnto Iudah the Prophetesse the wife of Shallum, the sonne of Tikvah, the sonne of Iahash keeper of the wardrobe: (and she dwelt in Jerusalem in the s colledge) and they communed with her.

And she answered them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Tell the man that sent you to me,

Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will bring euill vpon this place, and on the inhabitants thereof, even all the wordes of the booke which the king of Iudah hath read.

Because they haue forsaken me, & haue burnt incense vnto other gods, to anger me with all the workes of their hands: my wrath also shall be kindled against this place, and shall not be quenched.

But to the king of Iudah, who sent you to inquire of the Lord, so shall he say vnto him, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, The wordes that thou hast heard, shall come to passe.

But because thine heart did melt, and thou hast humbled thy selfe before the Lord, when thou heardest what I spake against this place, & against the inhabitants of the same, to wit, that it shoulde be destroyed and accursed, and hast rent thy clothes, and wept before me, I haue also heard it, saith the Lord.

Behold therefore, I will gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be put in thy graue in peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the euill, which I will bring vpon this place. Thus they brought the king word againe.

C H A P. XXIII.

Iosiah readeth the Law before the people. 3 He maketh a covenant with the Lord. 4 He putteth downe the idoles, after he had killed their priests. 22 He keepeth passeouer. 24 He destroyeth the conuers. 29 He was killed in Megiddo. 30 And his sonne Iehoiachaz, reigned in his stead. 33 After he was taken, his sonne Iehoiachin was made king.

Then the king sent, and there gathered vnto him all the Elders of Iudah and of Jerusalem.

And the king went vnto the house of the Lord, with all the men of Iudah & all were there, the inhabitants of Jerusalem with him, he knewe the Priests and Prophets, & all the more specie people both small and great: and he read in their eares all the wordes of the booke of the covenant, which was found in the house of y Lord.

And the king stood by the pillar, and which canne made a covenant before the Lord, that come but of they shoulde walke after the Lord, & keep faith, and his commandments, and his testimes, and his statutes with all their heart, the worde of and with all their soule, that they might God. accomplish the wordes of this covenant b Whereby written in this booke. And all the people king had his stood to the covenant.

Then the king commanded Hilkiah the hie Priest and the Priests of the second order, & the keepers of the doore, to bring out of the Temple of the Lord all the vels that were made for Baal, and for the grone, and for all the hoste of heauen, and next in dignitie he burnt them without Jerusalem in the to the hie priest, feldes of Kedion, and caried the poudre of them into Beth-el.

And he put downe y Chemarims, whos which he burnt the kings of Iudah had founded to burne incense in the hie places, and in the cities to Iosiah of Iudah, and about Jerusalem, and also calues. them that burnt incense vnto Baal, to the sunne and to the moone, & to the plas nets, and to all the hoste of heauen.

And he brought out the grone from the Temple of the Lord without Jerusalem vnto the valley Kedion, and burnt it in the valley Kedion, and stamp it to poules graues, and cast the dust thereof vnto the graues of the children of the people.

And he brake downe the houses of the Sodomiters, that were in the house of the Lord, where the women wore hangings to the grone.

Also he brought all the Priests out of the Temple, contrarie to the commandment of the Lord, Deut. 18. 21. or as some read, the similitude of a grone which was hanged in the Temple, both in contempt of the idoles, and because of them which had worshipped them in their liues.

the cities of Iudah, and defiled the hye places where the Priestesses had burnt incense, even from Geba to Beer-sheba, and destroyed the hye places of the gates, that were in the entering in of the gate of Iosiah the gouernour of the citie, which was at the left hand of the gate of the citie.

9 Heuenthelesse the priestesses of the hye places came not by to the altar of the Loyde in Jerusalem, cause onely they did ear of unleavened bread among their brethren.

10 He defiled also the Topheth, which was in the valley of the children of Hinnom, that no man shoulde make his sonne or his daughter passe through fire to Molech.

11 He put downe also the horses that the kings of Iudah had giuen to the sunne at the entering in of the house of the Loyd, by the chamber of Berhan-melech the eunuche, which was ruler of the suburbs, & burnt the charotes of the sunne with fire.

12 And the altars that were on the top of the chamber of Ahaz, which the kings of Iudah had made, and the altars which Manasseh had made in the two courts of the house of the Loyd, did the king breake downe, and hasted thence, and cast the dust of them in the brooke Kedjon.

13 Whoeuer the king defiled the hye places that were before Jerusalem and on the right hand of the mount of corruption (which Salomon the king of Israel had built for Ahijeroth the idole of the Edomians, and for Chemosh the idole of the Moabites, and for Milchom the abominacion of the children of Ammon)

14 And he brake the images in pieces, and cut downe the groues, and filled their places with the bones of men.

15 Furthermore the altar that was at Beth-el, and the hye place made by Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat, which made Israel to sinne, both this altar and also the hye place brake hee downe, and burnt the hye place, and stamped it to powder and burnt the groue.

16 And as Iosiah turned himselfe, he spied the granges, that were in the mount, and sent & toke the bones out of the granges, and burnt them vpon the altar, and polluted it, according to the word of the Loyd that the man of God proclaimed which crept the same wordes.

17 Then he said, What title is that which I see? And the men of the citie sayd vnto him, It is the sepulchre of the man of God, which came from Iudah, and tolde these things that thou hast done to the altar of Beth-el.

18 Then sayde he, Let him alone: let none remouer his bones. So his bones were saued with the bones of the Prophet that came from Samaria.

19 Iosiah also toke away all the houses of the hye places, which were in the cities of Samaria, which the kings of Israel had made to anger the Loyde, and did to them according to all the sacris that hee had done in Beth-el.

20 And he sacrificed all the Priestesses of the hye places, that were there, vpon the altars, and burnt mens bones vpon them, and returned to Jerusalem.

21 ¶ Then the king commaunded all the people, saying, Keepe the passecuer vnto the Loyde your God, as it is written in the booke of this covenant.

22 And there was no Passecuer holden like that from the dayes of the Iudges, that warged Israel, nor in all the dayes of the kings of Israel, and of the kings of the Iudah.

23 And in the rightenth yere of king Iosiah was this Passecuer celebrated to the Loyd in Jerusalem.

24 Iosiah also toke away them that had familiar spirits, and the soothsayers, and the images, and the idoles, & all the abominacions that were cspied in the land of Iudah & in Jerusalem, to performe the wordes of the Lawe, which were written in the booke that Ieremiah the Priest found in the house of the Loyd.

25 Like vnto him was there no king before him, that turned to the Loyde with all his heart, and with all his soule, and with all his might, according to all the Lawe of Moses, neptier after him arose there any like him.

26 Notwithstanding the Loyd turned not from the fiercenesse of his great wrath wherewith hee was angrie against Iudah, because of all the yuoracions wherewith Manasseh had prouoked him.

27 Therefore the Loyd said, I will put Iosiah also out of my sight, as I haue put away Israel, and will call off this citie Jerusalem, which I haue chosen, and the house whercof I sayd, App name haibe there.

28 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iosiah, and all that hee did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Iudah?

29 ¶ In his dayes Pharaoh Nechoh king of Egypt went by against the king of Asshur to the riuer Berath. And king Iosiah went against him, whom when Pharaoh saw, he slew him at Megiddo.

30 Then his seruants caried him dead from Megiddo, and brought him to Jerusalem, and buried him in his owne sepulchre. And the people of the land toke Ichoahaz the sonne of Iosiah, & anoynted him, and made him king in his fathers steade.

31 ¶ Ichoahaz was thide and thentie yere old when he began to reygne, and reigned thide moneths in Jerusalem. And his mothers name alio was Hamutal the flaine, daughter of Jeremiaah of Libnah.

32 And hee did euill in the sight of the Loyd, according to all that his fathers had done.

33 And Pharaoh Nechoh put him in bonds at Riblah in the land of Hamath, while he reigned in Jerusalem, and put the lambe to a tribute of an hundred talents of silver, and a talent of golde.

34 And Pharaoh Nechoh made Eliakim the sonne of Iosiah king in stead of Josiah his father, & turned his name to Jehoiakim, & toke Ichoahaz away, which was

when he came to Egypt, died there.

35 And Jehoiakim gave the silver and the gold to Pharaoh, and took the land to give the money, according to the commandment of Pharaoh: he leuied of every man of the people of the land, according to his value, silver and gold to give unto Pharaoh scribe.

36 Jehoiakim was five and twentie years old, when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. His mothers name also was Zebudah daughter of Beeldiabab of Kinnah.

37 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his fathers had done.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Jehoiakim made subiect to Nebuchad-nezzar, rebellus, 3 The cause of his ruine and all Iudah. 6 Jehoiachin reigneth. 15 He and his people are carried vnto Babylon. 17 Zedekiah is made king.

1 In his dayes came Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel vp, and Jehoiakim became his seruant three years: afterward he turned, and rebelled against him.

2 And the Lord sent against him bands of the Caldees, & bandes of the Aramites, and bandes of the Ammonites, and he sent them against Iudah, to destroy it, according to the worde of the Lord, which he spake by his seruants the Prophets.

3 Surely by the commandement of the Lord came this vpon Iudah, that hee might put them out of his sight for the finnes of Manasse, according to all that he did,

4 And for the innocent blood that he shed, (for hee filled Jerusalem with innocent blood) therefore the Lord would not pardon it.

5 Concerning the rest of the acts of Jehoiakim, and all that he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Iudah?

6 So Jehoiakim slept with his fathers, and Jehoiachin his sonne reigned in his steade.

7 And the king of Egypt came no more out of his land: for the king of Babel had taken from the riuer of Egypt, vnto the riuer of Berach, all that pertained to the king of Egypt.

8 And Jehoiachin was eightene years olde, when he began to reigne, and reigned in Jerusalem thre moneths. His mothers name also was Zebulha, the daughter of Ethnathan of Jerusalem.

9 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father had done.

10 In that time came the seruantes of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel vpon Jerusalem: so the citie was besieged.

11 And Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel came against the citie, and his seruantes did besiege it.

12 Then Jehoiachin the king of Iudah came out against the king of Babel, he, and his mother, and his seruantes, and his princes, and his eunuchs: and the king of Babel tooke him in the eight pere of his reigne.

13 And he carped out thence all the treasures of the house of the Lord, & the treasures of the kings house, and brake all the vessels of golde, which Salomon king of Israel had made in the Temple of the Lord, as the Lord had said.

14 And he carried away all Jerusalem, and all the princes, and all the strong men of warre, even ten thousand into captiuitie, and all the workemen, and cunning men: so none remained sauing the poore people of the land.

15 And he carried away Jehoiachin into Babel, & the kings mother, and the kings wives, and his eunuchs, and the mightie of the land carried he away into captiuitie from Jerusalem to Babel.

16 And all the men of warre, even seven thousand, and carpenters, & locksmithes a thousand: all that were strong and apt for warre, bid the king of Babel bring to Babel captiues.

17 And the king of Babel made Zedekiah his vncle king in his steade, and changed his name to Zedekiah.

18 Zedekiah was one and twentie years old, when he began to reigne, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. His mothers name also was Hamutal daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

19 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord, according to all that Jehoiakim had done.

20 Therefore certainly the wrath of the Lord was against Jerusalem and Iudah until he cast them out of his sight. And Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babel.

CHAP. XXV.

1 Jerusalem is besieged of Nebuchad-nezzar, and taken. 7 The sonnes of Zedekiah are slaine before his eyes, and after are his owne eyes put out. 21 Iudah is brought to Babylon. 25 Gedaliah is slaine. 27 Jehoiachin is exalted.

1 And in the ninth pere of his reigne, the tenth moneth and tenth daye of the moneth, Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel came, he, & all his hoste against Jerusalem, & pitched against it, and they built forties against it round about it.

2 So the citie was besieged vnto the eleuenth pere of king Zedekiah.

3 And the ninth daye of the moneth the famine was sore in the citie, so that there was no bread for the people of the land.

4 Then the citie was broken by, and the men of warre fled by night, by the way of the gate, which is betwene two walles that was by the kings garden: now the Caldees were by the citie round about: and the king went by the way of the wilderness.

5 But the armie of the Caldees pursued after the king, and tooke him in the desert to issue ferts of Jericho, & all his hoste was scatered from him.

6 Then they tooke the king, & carped him vp to the king of Babel to Riblah, where they gaue iudgement vpon him.

7 And they slew the sonnes of Zedekiah before his eyes.

before his eyes, and put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and bounde him in chapnes,
and carped him to Babel.

8 ¶ And in the fift moneth, and seventh day of the moneth, which was the nineteenth peere of king Nebuchad nezzar
king of Babel, came Nebuzar-adan chiefe steward and seruant of the king of Babel, to Jerusalem,

9 And burnt the house of the Lord, and the kinges house, and all the houses of Jerusalem, and all the great houses burnt he with fire.

10 And all the armie of the Caldees that were with hie chiefe steward, brake downe
the walles of Jerusalem round about.

11 And the rest of the people that were left in the cite, and those that were fled and fallen to the king of Babel, with the remnant of the multitude, did Nebuzaradan chiefe steward carpe away captiue.

12 But the chiefe steward left of the pooze of the lande to brysse the vines, and to till the land.

13 ¶ Also the pillars of brysse that were in the house of the Lord, and the bases, and the basen Sea that was in the house of the Lord, did the Caldees breake, and car-ped the brysse of them to Babel.

14 The pottes also and the besones, and the instruments of musicke, and the incense brysses, and all the vessels of brysse
that they ministred in, tooke they away.

15 And the all the pannes, and the basens, and all that was of gold, and that was of silver, tooke the chiefe steward away.

16 With the two pillars, one Sea and the bases, which Salomon had made for the house of the Lord: the brysse of all these vessels was withouton weight.

17 ¶ The height of the one pillar was eigh-teene cubites, and the chapter thereon was brysse, and the height of the chapter was with netwoyke three cubites, and pomegranates vpon the chapter rounde about, all of brysse: and likewise was the second pillar with the netwoyke.

18 And the chiefe steward tooke Seraiah
the chiefe Priest, and Zephaniah the conde Priest, and the thye keepers of the doore.

19 And out of the cite hee tooke an Eu-niche that had the ouersight of the men of warre, and a fine men of them that were in the kings preence, which were founde in the cite, and Sopher captaine of the hoste, who ministred the pros-ple of the lande, and thye soe men of the people of the land, that were founde in the cite.

20 And Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward rooke them, and brought them to the king of Babel to Babilah.

21 And the king of Babel smote them, and slew them at Babilah in the lande of Ba-math. So Judah was carped away cap-tiue out of his owne land.

22 ¶ Whoeber there remained people in the land of Judah, whom Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel left, and made Gedaliah
the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shasphan ruler ouer them.

23 Then when all hie captaines of the hoste,
and their inf heard, that the king of Babel had made Gedaliah gouernour, they came to Gedaliah to Gizzah, to Iur, Ihymael the sonne of Netaniah, and Iohanan the sonne of Harrah, and Seraiah the sonne of Canhumeth the sctos pharize, and Jaazaniah the sonne of Shacharbi, they and their men.

24 And Gedaliah sware to them, and to their men, and said vnto them, Feare not to be the seruants of the Caldees: dwell
in the land, and serue the king of Babel,
and ye shall be well.

25 ¶ But in the seuenth moneth Ihymael
the sonne of Netaniah the sonne of Elishama of the kinges serde, came, and ten men with him, and smote Gedaliah,
and he dyed, and so did he the Iewes,
and the Caldees that were with him at Gizzah.

26 Then all the people both small and great,
and the captaines of the armie arose, and came to Egypt: for they were afrayd
of the Caldees.

27 Notwithstanding in the seuen and thirtieth peere after ¶ Jehoiachin king of Judah was carped away, in the twelft mo-neth & the seuen and twentieth day of the moneth, Evil-merodach king of Babel
in the peere that he began to reigne, did lift vp the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah out of the pylon.

28 And spake kindly to him, and set his throne aboue the throne of the kinges that were with him in Babel.

29 And changed his pylon garments: and he did continually eate bread before him,
all the daies of his life.

30 And his portion was a continual portion ginen him by the king, euery day a certaine, all the daies of his life.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe Iewes comprehend both these bookes in one, which the Grecians because of the length deuide into two: and they are called Chronicles, because they note briefly the histories from Adam to the returne from their captiuitie in Babylon. But these are not those bookes of Chronicles, which are so oft mentioned in the bookes of Kings of Iudah and Israel, which did at large set forth the storie of both the kingdomes, and afterwarde perished in the captiuitie: but an abbridgement of the same, and were gathered by Ezra, as the Iewes write, after their returne from Babylon.

Babylon. This first booke containeth a briefe reherfall of the children of Adam vnto Abraham, Izhak, Iakob, and the twelue Patriarches, chiefly of Iudah and of the reigne of Dauid, becaufe Christ came of him according to the flesh. And therefore it ferueth forth more amply his actes, both concerning ciuill gouernment, and also the administration, and care of things concerning religion, for the good successe whereof he reioyeth, and giueth thanks to the Lorde.

 ben, Simeon, Levi, and Iudah, Is-sachar, and Zebulun.

2 Dan, Joseph, and Benjamin, Naphtali,
 Gad, and Asher.

3 * The sonnes of Iudah, Er, and Onan, and Shelah. These three were boine to him of the daughter of Shua the Canaanite: but Er the eldest sonne of Iudah was evil in the sight of the Lord, and hee slew him.

4 * And Tamar his daughter in law bare him Pharez, and Zerah: so all the sonnes of Iudah were five.

5 * The sonnes of Pharez, Hesron and Hamul.

6 The sonnes also of Zerah were * Timri,
 and * Ethan, * and Heman, and Calcol,
 and Dara, which were five in all.

17 And Bigail bare Amasa: and \bar{p} father of Amasa was Jether an Ishmeelite.

18 ¶ And * Caleb the sonne of Hesron begate Jerioth of Iudah his wife, and her sonnes are these, Jether, and Shobab, and Ardon.

19 And when Iudah was dead, Caleb
 toke unto him Ephraim, which bare him Hur.

20 * And Hur begate Uri, and Uri begate Bezaleel.

21 And afterwarde came Hesron to the daughter of Shachir the father of Gilead, & toke her when he was thise scoie
 peere olde, and she bare him Segub.

22 And Segub begate Jair, which had thise and twentie cities in the lande of Gilead.

23 And Geshur to Kaim toke the townes of Tair: from them, and Kenath and the townes thereof, even thise scoie cities, all these were the sonnes of Shachir, the father of Gilead.

24 And after that Hesron was dead at
 * Caleb Ephraim, then Abiah Hesrons wife bare him also Ashur the \dagger father of Tekoa.

25 And the sonnes of Jerahmeel the eldest sonne of Hesron were Kaim the eldest, then Buhai, and Ozen and Ozen and Abiah.

26 And Jerahmeel had another wife named Marah, which was the mother of Onam.

27 And the sonnes of Kaim the eldest sonne of Jerahmeel were Shazar, and Tamin and Char.

28 And the sonnes of Onam were Shams-mai, & Tada. And the sonnes of Shams-mai, Shadab, and Abihur.

29 And the name of \bar{p} wife of Abihur was called Abiahil, and she bare him Abhan and Sholub.

30 The sonnes also of Shadab were Seled and Appaim: but Seled did without children.

31 And the sonne of Appaim was Ithi, and the sonne of Ithi, Sheshan, and the sonne of Sheshan, * Abiah.

32 And the sonnes of Tada the brother of Shammair were Jether and Jonathan:
 but Jether died without children.

33 And the sonnes of Jonathan were Des-leri and Asa. These were the sonnes of Jerahmeel.

34 And Sheshan had no sonnes, but daughters. And Sheshan had a servant \bar{p} was an Egyptian named Jarha.

35 And Sheshan gaue his daughter to Jarha his servant to wife, and shee bare him Attai.

36 And Attai begate Nathan, and Nathan begate Zabad.

37 And Zabad begate Ephlal, and Ephlal begate Obed.

38 And Obed begate Jehu, and Jehu begate Azariah.

39 And Azariah begate Helez, and Helez begate Eleasah.

40 And Eleasah begate Sisamai, and Si-samai begate Shallum.

41 And Shallum begate Jerhaniah, and Jerhaniah begate Elisama.

42 Also the sonnes of Caleb, the brother of Jerahmeel, were Shesha his eldest sonne, which was the \dagger father of Ziph:
 and the sonnes of Shachirah the father of Geshon.

43 And the sonnes of Geshon were Hojah
 and Tappuah, and Kechem and Shema.

44 And Shema begate Raham the father of Jotham: and Kechem begate Shams-mai.

45 The sonne also of Shammair was Maon:
 and Maon was the father of Beth-ur.

46 And Ephah \dagger a concubine of Caleb bare Haran and Moza, and Gaze: Haran also begate Gaze.

47 The sonnes of Jahdai were Kechem, and Jotham, and Geshan, and Peter, and Ephah, and Shaph.

48 Caleb's concubine Maachah bare goods or money
 Shebey given them.

12 And Eshon begate Beth-rappa, and Balach, and Eshimnah the father of the city of Shabath: these are the men of Reuben.

13 And the sonnes of Kenaz were Athniah and Zeraiah, and the sonne of Shimon, Yathiah.

14 And Shimonai begate Dyrhah. And Seraiah begate Joab the father of the valley of craftsmen: for they were craftsmen.

15 And the sonnes of Caleb the sonne of Jephunneh were Iru, Elah, & Jaalam. And the sonne of Elah was Kenaz.

16 And the sonnes of Jehalel were Aphy, and Zippah, Tiria, and Marael.

17 And the sonnes of Esrah were Aether and Aherod, and Ephra, and Jalou, and he begate Miriam, and Shammui, and Jibbath the father of Eshtemoa.

18 Also his wife Jehudiah bare Jered the father of Gedoy, and Heber the father of Socoy, and Jeruchiel the father of Kanaah: and these are the sonnes of Bithiah daughter of Pharaoh which Merod took.

19 And the sonnes of the wife of Judiah, the sister of Shimon the father of Reiah were the Carmites, and Eshtemoa the Shachathir.

20 And the sonnes of Shimon were Amnon and Kimnah, Ben-hanan and Tilon, and the sonnes of Ithi were Koheth, and Ben-zobeth.

21 The sonnes of Shelah, the sonne of Judah were Et the father of Kechah, and Laadah the father of Acherah, and the families of the householders of them that wrought fine linen in the house of Ahera.

22 And Jokim and Saraph, which had the dominion in Shobab, and Ishubi Asheim. These also are ancient things.

23 These were potters, and dwelt among planters and hedges: & there they dwelt with the King for his worke.

24 The sonnes of Shime were Hemiel, and Iaimin, Jarib, Zerach, and Shaul.

25 Whose sonne was Shallum, and his sonne, Wilsan, and his sonne Shilma.

26 And the sonnes of Shilma, Gamuel was his sonne, Raehur his sonne, and Shime his sonne.

27 And Shime had threene sonnes, & six daughters, but his biethen had not many children, neither was all their familie like to the children of Judah in multitude.

28 And they dwelt at Ber-sheba, and at Moladah, and at Hazar Shual.

29 And at Shiloh, and at Bezer, and at Colah.

30 And at Bethuel, and at Boymah, & at Kiklag.

31 And at Beth marcaboth, and at Hazar Shimon, at Beth-hiri, and at Sharanaim. These were their cities unto the reigne of David.

32 And their townes were Etam, and Ain, Kuniman, and Tachen, and Midan, five cities.

33 And all their townes that were rounde about these cities unto Baal. These are their habitations and the declaration of their genealogie.

34 And Methobab, & Jarneth, & Joshab the sonne of Amathiah.

The birthright taken from Reuben & given to the sonne of Joseph. 3 The genealogie of Reuben, 11 And Gad, 21 And of the half tribe of Manasse.

The sonnes also of Reuben the eldest sonne of Israel (for he was the eldest, but had defiled his fathers bedde, therefore his birthright was given unto the sonnes of Joseph the sonne of Israel, so that the genealogie is not reckoned after his birthright.

For Judah prevailed above his brethren, & of him came the yince, but the birthright was Josephs.)

The sonnes of Reuben the eldest sonne of Israel, were Hanoch and Pallu, Herson and Carmi.

The sonnes of Joel, Shemaiah his sonne, Bog his sonne, and Shime his sonne.

Michah his sonne, Meaiab his sonne, and Baal his sonne.

Beerah his sonne: whom Elgath Wa-nezer king of Ashur carried away: he was a yince of the Reubenites.

And when his brethren in their families reckoned the genealogie of their generations, Ariel and Zechariah were the chiefe.

And Bela the sonne of Hozai, the chiefe of Shema, the sonne of Joel, which dwelt in the land of Aroer, even unto Aroer and Baal-meon.

For the tribe of Simeon was so great in number, that in the time of Ezekiah they sought new dwellings vnto Gedor, which is in the tribe of Dan.

9 Also Castuade he inhabited into the entring in of the wilderness from the river Berath: for they had much cattell in the land of Gilead.

10 And in the dayes of Saul they warred with the Hagarims, which fell by their handes: and they dwelt in their tents in all the East parts of Gilead.

11 And the children of Gad dwelt ouer against them in the land of Basan, vnto Salchah.

12 Joel was the chiefest, and Shaphan the seconde, but Jaani and Shaphat were in Basan.

13 And their brethren of the house of their fathers were Michai, and Geshullam, and Sheba, and Sojai, and Jaran and Xia, and Eber, seven.

14 These are the children of Abihai, the sonne of Huri, the sonne of Iacoh, the sonne of Gilead, the sonne of Michai, the sonne of Jeshihai, the sonne of Jahdo, the sonne of Zus.

15 Whi the sonne of Abdiel, the sonne of Guni was chiefe of the householde of their fathers.

16 And they dwelt in Gilead in Basan, and in the townes thereof, and in all the suburbs of Sharon, by their borders.

17 All these were reckoned by genealogies in the dayes of Ieroboam king of Iudah, & in the dayes of Ieroboam king of Israh.

18 The sonnes of Keuben of Gad, and of halfe the tribe of Manasseh of those that were valiant men, able to beare shield, and sword, and to bialue a bowe, exercised in warre, were foure and fourty thousand, seven hundredeth and thre scoe, that went out to the warre.

19 And they made warre with the Hagarims, with Jerur, and Shaphih, and Robah.

20 And they were holpen against them, and the Hagarims were deliuered into their hand, and all that were with them: for they cryed to God in the battell, and he heard them, because they trusted in him.

21 And they led away their cattell, euen their camels fiftie thousande, & two hundredeth, and fiftie thousand sheepe, and two thousand asses, and of persons an hundredeth thousand.

22 For many fel downe wounded, because the warre was of God. And they dwelt in their steads until the captiuitie.

23 And the children of the halfe tribe of Manasseh dwelt in plaine, from Basan vnto Baal Hermon, and Senir, & vnto mount Hermon: for they increased.

24 And these were the heades of the householde of their fathers, euen Ephraim and Eli, and Eliel, and Eliel, and Jeremah, and Hobaiah, and Jahziel, strong men, valiant and famous, heades of the householde of their fathers.

25 But they transgressed against the God of their fathers, and went a whoring after the gods of the people of the land, whome God had destroyed before them.

26 And the God of Israel stirred by the spirit of Dni King of Mesur, & the spirit of Tigath Phezer King of Mesur, and he carped them away: euen the Remonites, & the Gabites, & the halfe tribe of Manasseh, and brought them vnto Basan, and Gabor, and Gata, and to the river Golan, vnto this day.

3 And the batrel was sore against Saul, & the archers hit him, and he was wounded of the archers.

4 Then saide Saul to his armour bearer, Waile o' it thy sword, and thrust mee through therewith, lest the uncircumcised come and mocke at mee: but his armour bearer would not, for he was sore afrayde: therefore Saul tooke the sword and fell vpon it.

5 And when his armour bearer sawe that Saul was dead, he fell likewise vpon the sword, and died.

6 So Saul died and his three sonnes, and all his house, they died together.

7 And when all the men of Israel that were in the battell, sawe howe they fled, and that Saul and his sonnes were dead, they forsooke their cities, and fled away, and the Philistines came, and dwelt in them.

8 And on the morrow when the Philistines came to spoile them that were slaine, they founde Saul and his sonnes lying in mount Gilboa.

9 And when they had stript him, they tooke his head and his armour, and sent them into the lande of the Philistines rounde about, to publish it unto their idoles, and to the people.

10 And they layde vpon his armour in the house of their god, and set vpon his head in the house of Dagon.

11 When all the people of Iabely Gilead heard all that the Philistines had done to Saul,

12 Then they arose (all the valiant men) and tooke the body of Saul, and the bodies of his sonnes, and brought them to Iabely, and buried the bones of them under an oke in Iabely, and fasted seven daies.

13 So Saul died for his transgression, that he committed against the Lord, even against the word of the Lord, which he kept not, and in that he sought & asked counsell of a familiar spirit.

14 And asked not of the Lord: therefore he slew him, and turned the kingdom vnto David the sonne of Ishai.

C H A P. XI.

3 After the death of Saul David anointed in Hebron. 5 The leuites rebell against David from whom he tooketh the tower of Zion. 6 Iob made captaine. 10 His valiant men.

1 Then all Israel gathered themselves to David vnto Hebron, saying, Behold, we are thy boues & thy keth.

2 And in time past, when Saul was king, thou leddest Israel out and in: and the Lord thy God sayd vnto thee, Thou shalt feede my people Israel, and thou shalt be captaine ouer my people Israel.

3 So came all the Elders of Israel to the king to Hebron, and David made a conenant with them in Hebron before the Lord. And they anointed David king ouer Israel, according to the word of the Lord by the hand of Samuel.

4 And David & all Israel went to Jerusalem, which is Iebus, where were the Jebusites, the inhabitants of the land.

5 And the inhabitants of Iebus (aspe to David, Thou shalt not come in hither. Heretofore David tooke the tower of Zion, which is the cite of David.

6 And David saide, Whosoever smiteth the Jebusites first, shall be the chiefe and captaine. So Iob the sonne of Neriab went first vp, and was captaine.

7 And David dwelt in the towre: thencefore they called it the cite of David.

8 And he built the cite on erup side, from Philo euen round about: and Iob repaired the rest of the cite.

9 And David prospered, and grew: for the Lord of hostes was with him.

10 These also are the chiefe of the valiant men that were with David, and appointed their force with him in his kingdom with all Israel, to make him king ouer Israel, according to the word of the Lord.

11 And this is the number of the valiant men whome David had, Ishobeam the sonne of Neriab, the chiefe among thirtie: he list vpon his speare against thre hundred, whome he slew at one time.

12 And after him was Eleazar the sonne of Dodo the Ishobite, which was one of the thre valiant men.

13 He was with David at Balaammin, and there the Philistines were gathered together to battell: and there was a parcel of ground full of barbe, and the people fled before the Philistines.

14 And they stood in the mids of the field, and saued it, and slew the Philistines: so the Lord gaue a great victorie.

15 And thre of the thirtie captaines went to a rocke to David, into the caue of Adullam. And the armie of Philistines camped in the valley of Kepraim.

16 And when David was in the holde, the Philistines garison was at Beth-lehem.

17 And David longed, and said, Oh, that one would giue me to drinke of water of the well of Beth-lehem: that is at the gate.

18 Then these thre brake through the holde of the Philistines, and drew water out of the well of Beth-lehem that was by the gate, and tooke it, and brought it to David: but David would not drinke of it, but powred it for an oblation to the Lord.

19 And said, Let not my God suffer me to doe this: should I drinke the blood of these men? for they haue brought it with the leopard of their lines: therefore he would not drinke it: these things did these thre mightie men.

20 And Abishai the brother of Iob, he was chiefe of the thre, and he list vpon his speare against thre hundred, and slew them, and had the name among the thre.

21 Among the thre he was more honourable then the two, and hee was their captaine: but he attained not vnto the first thre.

CHAP. XII.

¶ VVho they were that went with Dauid when hee fled from Saul. 14 Their valiant men, 23 They that came vnto him vnto Hebron out of euery tribe to make him king.

¶ These also are they that came to Dauid * Ithiah, while hee was yet kept close, because of Saul the sonne of Achish: and they were among the valiant and helpers of the battell.

2 They were weaponed with bowes, and coule vse the right and the left hand with stones and with arrowes and with bowes, and were of Sauls * brethren, euen of Benjamin.

3 The chiefe were Ahiezer, and Joash the sonnes of Shemaah of Gibeath, and Jeziel, & Helet the sonnes of Ahimaaz, Berachah and Jehu the Antothite,

4 And Ithmah the Gibeonite, a balliant man among thirty, and aboute the thirtie, and Jeremiah, and Jehaziel, and Josabab, and Ioshabab the Gederahite,

5 Elizai, and Jerimoth, and Benaiah, and Shemariah, and Shephatiah the Haruphite,

6 Elkanah, and Ishiah, and Azariel, and Jozer, Ashbeam of Gaborhim,

7 And Joelah, and Zebadiah, the sonnes of Jeroham of Gedoy,

8 And of the Gadites there separated them selues some vnto Dauid into the holde of the wilderness, valiant men of warre, and men of armes, & apt for battell, which coule handle * speare and shielde, and their faces were like the faces of * lions, and were like the cogs in the moumaines in swiftnesse,

9 Ezer the chiefe, Obadiah the second, Esabab the third,

10 * Ishumanah the fourth, Jeremah the fifth,

11 Attai the first, Eliel the seventh,

12 Johanan the eighth, Elhadad the ninth, Jeremah the tenth, Machannai the eleventh.

14 These were the sonnes of Gad, captaynes of the hoste: one of the least coule resist an hundred, and the greatest a thousand.

15 These are they that went ouer Jordan in the * first month when hee had filled ouer all his banks, and put to flight all them of the valley, toward the East and the West.

16 And there came of the children of Benjamin, and Judah to the holde vnto Dauid.

17 And Dauid went out to meete them, and answered and said vnto them, If ye be come peaceably vnto me to helpe mee, mine heart shall be knit vnto you, but if you come to betray me to mine aduersaries, seeing there is no wickednes in mine hands, the God of our fathers desholde it, and reuke it.

18 And the * spirit came vpon Amasai, which was the chiefe of thirtie, & hee saide, Thine are we, Dauid, and with thee, O sonne of Ithai. Peace, peace bee vnto thee, and peace be vnto thine helpers: for the Lord helpeth thee. Then Dauid receiued them, and made them captaynes of the garrison, and went to make him king.

19 And of Manasseh some fell to David, when hee came with the Philistines as gauntt Saul to battell, but they helped them not: for the princes of the Philistines by aduise sent him away, saying, He will fall to his master Saul for our heads.

20 He went to Ziklag, there fell to him of Manasseh, Manah, and Izabab, and Jedaiel, and Michael, and Izabab, and Echin, & Kital, heads of the thousandes that were of Manasseh.

21 And they helped David againtt a that band: for they were all valiant men and were captaines in the hoste.

22 For at that time day by day there came to David to helpe him, untill it was a great hoste, like the hoste of God.

23 And these are the numbers of the captaines that were armed to battell, & came to David to Hebron to turne the kingdom of Saul to him, according to the worde of the Lord.

24 The children of Judah that bare shield and speare, were five thousand and eight hundred armed to the warre.

25 Of the children of Simeon valiant men of warre, seven thousand & an hundred.

26 Of the children of Levi foure thousande and five hundred.

27 And Jehoiada was the chiefe of them of Aaron: and with him thye thousande and seven hundred.

28 And Adob a pong man verie valiant, and of his fathers householde came two and twentie captaines.

29 And of the children of Benjamin the brethren of Saul thye thousande: for a great part of them vnto that time kept the ward of the house of Saul.

30 And of the children of Ephraim twentie thousand, and eight hundred valiant men and famous men in the householde of their fathers.

31 And of the halfe tribe of Manasse eigheteene thousand, which were appointed by name to come and make David king.

32 And of the children of Issachar which were men that had understanding of the times, to knowe what Israel ought to do: the heads of them were two hundred, and all their brethren were at their commandement.

33 Of Zabulon that went out to battell, expert in warre, and in all instruments of warre, fiftie thousande which could for the battell in aray: they were not of a double heart.

34 And of Naphtali a thousand captaines, and with them thye shield and speare seven and thirtie thousand.

35 And of Dan expert in battell, eight and twentie thousand, and five hundred.

36 And of Asher that went out to the battell and were trained in the warres, fourtie thousand.

37 And of the other side of Jordan of the Kenenites, and of the Gaborites, and of the halfe tribe of Manasse with all instruments of warre to fight with, an hundred and twentie thousand.

38 All these men of warre that could in so that his lead an armie, came with bright heart whole hoste to Hebron to make David king over all dreth thye hundred thye twentye and two thousand.

39 And there they were with David thye dayes, eating & drinkeing: for their byes they had prepared for them.

40 Moreover they that were there them untill Issachar, and Zabulon, & Naphtali brought bread upon asses, and on camels, & on mules, & on oxen, coen wheat, & The rest of the flour, figges, and resins, and wine and lfracties, ople, and beves and sheepe abundantly: for there was top in Israel.

CHAP. XLII.

The Arke is brought againe from Kirjath-earim to Ierusalem. Vzza dieth because he touched it.

1 And David counseiled with the captaines of thousandes & of hundredes, and with all the gouernours.

2 And David sayd to all the congregation of Israel, If it seeme good to you, & that it please the Lord our God, we will dayes bene coperend to and fro vnto our brethren, that are left in all the land of Israel (for with them gleeed, are the priests and the leuites in the cities and their suburbs) that they may also sende themselves vnto vs.

3 And we will bring againe the Arke of our God to vs: for we sought not vnto it in the dayes of Saul.

4 And all the Congregation answered, Let vs do so: for the thing seemeth good in the eyes of all the people.

5 ¶ So David gathered all Israel together from Shihon in Egypt: euen vnto the entering of Hamath, to bring the Arke of God from Kirjath-earim.

6 And David went by and all Israel to Baalath, in Kirjath-earim, that was in Judah, to bring by from thence the Arke of God the Lord that dwelleth betweene the Cherubims, where his name is called on.

7 And they carped the Arke of God in a newe cart out of the house of Abinadab: and Vzza and Ahio guided the cart.

8 And David and all Israel played before God with all their might, both with songs and with harpes, and with dances, and with tymbrels and with cymbals, and with trumpets.

9 ¶ And when they came vnto the third thinge scole of Chidon, Vzza put forth his hand to holde the Arke, for the oxen bid shake it.

10 But the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Vzza, and he smote him, because he laped his hand vpon the Arke: so he died there before God.

11 And David was angrie, because the Lord had made a breach in Vzza, and he called the name of that place Perez-vzza vnto this day.

12 And David feared God that day, saying, How shal I bring in to me the Ark of God?

13 Therefore David brought not the Arke to him into the cite of David, but caused it to turne into the house of a Gibeonite, because he had dwelt at 14 So the Ark of God remained in the house of Obed Edom, even in his house three months: and the Lord blessed the house of Obed Edom, and all that he had.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Hiram sendeth wood and workmen to David, 2 The names of his children. 3. 14 By the counsel of God he goeth against the Philistims, & overcometh them. 15 God fighteth for him.

1 Then I sent Hiram the king of Tyre messengers to David, and cedar trees, with masons and carpenters to build him an house.

2 Therefore David knewe that the Lord had confirmed him king over Israel, and that his kingdom was lift up on his, because of his people Israel.

3 Also David took no wives at Jerusalem, and David begate no sonnes and daughters.

4 And these are the names of the children which he had at Jerusalem, Shammua, and Shobab, Nathan, and Salomon,

5 And Ishai, and Ithia, and Elpalet,

6 And Nogah, and Nepheg, and Naphtai,

7 And Elhama, and Berchiah, and Eliphalet.

8 But when the Philistims heard that David was anointed king over Israel, all the Philistims came up to seeke David. And when David heard, he went out as against them.

9 And the Philistims came, & spied their felues in the valley of Keziah.

10 Then David asked counsell at God, saying, Shall I go up against the Philistims, & wilt thou deliver them into mine hand? And the Lord said unto him, Go up: for I will deliver them into thine hand.

11 So they came up to Baal-perazim, and David smote them there: and David said, God hath drubbed mine enemies with mine hand, as waters are drubbed: therefore they called the name of that place, Baal-perazim.

12 And there they had left their gods: and David said, Let them enee be burnt with fire.

13 Again the Philistims came and spied themselves in the valley.

14 And when David asked againe counsell at God, God said to him, Thou shalt not go up after them, but turne away from them, that thou mayest come upon them over against the mulberie trees.

15 And when thou hearest the noise of one going in the toppes of the mulberie trees, then go out to battell: for God is gone forth before thee, to smite the hoste of the Philistims.

16 So David did as God had commanded him: and they smote the hoste of the Philistims from Gibeon even to Gezer.

17 And the same of David went out into all lands, and the Lord brought the feare of him upon all nations.

CHAP. XV.

1 David prepareth an house for the Ark. 2 The number and order of the Levites. 3 The singers are chosen out among them. 15 They bring against the Ark with joy. 19 David dancing before it, & da. 20 David singeth with a psalter.

1 And David made him houses in the Citie of David, & prepared a place for the Ark of God, and purchased for it a tent.

2 Then David said, None ought to carrie the Ark of God, but the Levites: for the Lord hath chosen them to beare the Ark of the Lord, and to minister unto him for ever.

3 And David gathered all Israel together to Jerusalem to bring up the Ark of the Lord unto his place, which he had prepared for it.

4 And David assembled the sonnes of Asron, and the Levites.

5 Of the sonnes of Kohath, Uriel the chief, and his brethren three score.

6 Of the sonnes of Merari, Asaiah the chief, and his brethren two hundred, and twenty.

7 Of the sonnes of Gershom, Joel the chief, and his brethren an hundred and thirtie.

8 Of the sonnes of Elizaphan, Shemaiah the chief, & his brethren two hundred.

9 Of the sonnes of Adoniram, Eliel the chief, and his brethren four score.

10 Of the sonnes of Uzziel, Amminadab the chief, and his brethren an hundred and thirtie.

11 And David called Zadok and Abiathar the Priests, and of the Levites, Uriel, Asaiah, Joel, Shemaiah, and Eliel, and Amminadab:

12 And he said unto them, Ye are the chief fathers of the Levites: sanctifie your selves and your brethren, & bring up the Ark of the Lord God of Israel unto the place that I have prepared for it.

13 For because ye were not there at the first, the Lord our God made a breach among vs: for we fought him not after due order.

14 So the Priests and the Levites sanctified themselves to bring up the Ark of the Lord God of Israel.

15 And the sonnes of the Levites bare the Ark of God upon their shoulders with the barres, as Moses had commanded, according to the word of the Lord.

16 And David spake to the chiefs of the Levites, that they should appoint certaine of their brethren to sing with instruments of musike, with viols and harpes, and cymbals, that they might make a sound, and lift up their voice with joy.

17 So the Levites appointed Heman the sonne of Joel, and of his brethren Asaph the sonne of Berechiah, & of the sonnes of Merari their brethren, Ethan the sonne of Kushaiah, 18 And with them their brethren in second degree, Zachariah, Ben, & Jaaziel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, & Minni, Eliab, & Bernaiah, & Maaseiah, & Shabbethai, & Elipheleth, and Shikneah, and Obed Edom, and Jiel the porter.

19 So Heman, Asaph & Ethan were singers to make a sound with cymbals of brass,

20 And Zachariah, and Ben, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Minni, and Eliab,

1 The Arke being placed, they offer sacrifices. 4 David ordeineth Asaph & his brethren to minister before the Lord. 8 He appointeth a notable psalm to be sung in praise of the Lord.

1 S^d they brought in the Arke of God, and set it in the middes of the Tabernacle that David had pitched for it, & they offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before God.

2 And when David had made an ende of offering the burnt offering and the peace offerings, hee blessed the people in the Name of the Lord.

3 And he dealt to every one of Israel both man and woman, to every one a cake of bread, and a piece of flesh, and a bottell of wine.

4 And hee appointed certaine of the Levites to minister before the Arke of the Lord, and to make a ralle, and to thanke and praise the Lord God of Israel.

5 Asaph the chiefe, and next to him Zachariah, Zeiel, & Shemramoth, and Zeiel, and Berechiah, and Eliab, & Beniamin, and Abiathar, even Zeiel with instruments, viols and harpes, and Asaph, to make a sound with cymbales.

6 And Beniamin & Zachariah, Piestres, with trumpets continually before the Arke of the covenant of God.

7 Then at that time David did appoint at the beginning to give thanks to the Lord by the hand of Asaph and his brethren.

8 Praise the Lord & call upon his Name: declare his works among the people.

9 Sing unto him, sing psalm unto him, & talke of all his wonderfull workes.

3 David is forbidden to build an house vnto the Lord.

12 Christ u promised vnder the figure of Solomon.

18 David giueth thanks, 23 And prayeth vnto God.

1 N Ow after ward when David dwelt in his house, he saide to Nathan the Prophet, Beholde, I dwell in an house of cedar trees, but the Arke of the Loides covenant remaineth vnder curtains.

2 Then Nathan said to David, So al that is in thine heart: for God is with thee.

3 And the same a night euen the woide of God came to Nathan, saying,

4 Goe, and tell David my seruant, Thus saith the Loide, Thou shalt not build me an house to dwell in:

5 For I haue dwelt in no house, since the day that I brought out the children of Israel vnto this day, but I haue bene from a tent to tent, and from habitation to habitation.

6 Wherefore now I haue walked with all Israel, spake I one woide to any of the iudges of Israel (whome I commanded to see in my people) saying, Why haue ye not built me an house of cedar trees?

Now therefore thus shalt thou say vnto my seruant David, Thus saith the Loide of hostes, I tooke thee from the shepheard, and from following the sheep, & Of a shepherd that thou shouldst be a prince ouer my people Israel.

8 And I haue bene with thee whithersoener thou hast walked, and haue destroyed all thine enemies out of thy sight, & haue made thee a name, like the name of the great men that are in the earth.

9 (Also I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and I will plant it, that they may dwell in their place, & more no more: neither shall the wicked people be there any more, as at the beginning,

10 And since the time that I commanded Iudges ouer my people Israel) And I will subdue all thine enemies: therefore I say vnto thee, that the Loide will build thee an house.

11 And when thy dayes shall be fulfilled to goe with thy fathers, then will I raise vp thy seed after thee, which shall be of thy sonnes, and will stablish his kingdom.

12 He shall build me an house, and I will stablish his throne for euer.

13 I will be his father, and he shall be my sonne, and I will not take my mercie away from him, as I tooke it from him that was before him.

14 But I will establish him in mine house, and in my kingdom for euer, and his throne shall be stablished for euer.

15 According to all these woide, and according to all this vision. So Nathan spake to David.

16 ¶ And David the king went in and lay before the Loide and sayde, Who am I, O Loide God, and what is mine house, that thou hast brought me = hither?

17 Yet thou hast esteemed this a small thing, ought to doe O God, hast also spoken concerning the house of thy seruant for a great while, & any benediction hast regarded me according to the estate of a man of = hie degree, O Loide God.

18 What can David desire more of thee for the honoz of thy seruant? for thou knowest the heart of thy seruant.

19 O Loide, for thy seruants sake, euen according to thine heart hast thou done all this great thing to declare all magnificence.

20 Loide, there is none like thee, neither is there any God besides thee, according to all that we haue heard with our eares.

21 For our what one nation in the earth me like the people Israel, whose God went to redeem them to be his people, and to make thy selfe a Name, and to doe great and terrible things by calling out nations from before thy people, whome thou hast deliuered out of Egypt?

22 For thou hast ordered the people Israel to be thine owne people for euer, and thou Lord art become their God.

23 Therefore now Loide, let the thing that thou hast spoken concerning thy seruant and concerning his house, be confirmed for euer, and do as thou hast said,

24 And let thy Name be stable and magnified for euer, that it may be said, The Loide of hostes, God of Israel, is God

1 The battell of Dauid against the Philistines,
2 And against Moab, 3 Zebah, 3 Aram, 13 And Edom.

1 And after this Dauid smote the Philistines, and subdued them, & tooke Beth, and the villages thereof out of the hand of the Philistines.

2 And hee smote Moab, and the Moabites became Dauid's seruantes, and brought gifts.

3 And Dauid smote Hadarezer king of Zobah vnto Hamath, as hee went to stablish his border by the riuer Pesarath.

4 And Dauid tooke from him a thousand charres, and seven thousand horsemen, & twentie thousand footmen, and bestrope all the charres, but hee reserved of them an hundred charres.

5 And then came the Aramites of Damascus to succour Hadarezer king of Zobah, but Dauid slew of the Aramites two and twentie thousand.

6 And Dauid put a garison in Aram of Damascus, and the Aramites became Dauid's seruantes, and brought gifts: and the Ioyce of Iherusalem Dauid wheresoener he went.

7 And Dauid tooke the shieldes of golde that were of the seruantes of Hadarezer, and brought them to Ierusalem.

8 And from Tibhath, and from Chun (cities of Hadarezer) brought Dauid exceeding much blasie, wherewith Salomon made the blasen Sea, and the pillars and the vessels of blasie.

9 And then King of Hamath heard howe Dauid had smitten all the hoste of Hadarezer king of Zobah:

10 Therefore hee sent Hadadom his sonne to King Dauid, to salute him, and to reioyce with him, because hee had fought against Hadarezer, and beaten him (for King Dauid had warre with Hadarezer) who brought all vessels of golde, and silver and blasie.

11 And King Dauid did dedicate them vnto the Ioyce, with the silver and gold that hee brought from all the nations, from Edom, and from Moab, and from the children of Ammon, and from the Philistines, and from Amalek.

12 And Abihai the sonne of Neriah smote of Edom in the salt valley eightene thousand,

13 And hee put a garison in Edom, and all the Edomites became Dauid's seruantes: and the Ioyce of Iherusalem Dauid wheresoener he went.

14 So Dauid reigned ouer all Israel, and executed iudgement and iustice to all his people.

15 And Ioaab the sonne of Neriah was ouer the hoste, and Jehoshaphat the sonne of Achizab recorder.

16 And Zadok the sonne of Achitub, and Abimelech the sonne of Abiathar were Priests, and Shaphan the Scribe.

17 And Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada was ouer the Cherethites and the Gethites: and the sonnes of Dauid were chiefe about the King.

CHAP. XIX.

4 Hannun king of the children of Ammon doeth great iniuries to the seruants of Dauid, 6 Hee prepareth an armie against Dauid, 15 And is ouercome.

1 After this also Nahab the king of the children of Ammon dyed, and his sonne reigned in his stead.

2 And Dauid sayd, I will shewe kinnesse vnto Hannun the sonne of Nahab, because his father shewed kinnesse vnto me. And Dauid sent messengers to comfourt him for his father. So the seruantes of Dauid came into the land of the children of Ammon to comfourt him.

3 And the princes of the children of Ammon sayde to Hannun, Thinke thou that now shewe Dauid doeth honour the father, that hee hath sent comfourt vnto thee? We are not for the same: his seruantes come to thee to searche, and to spye out the land.

4 Wherefore Hannun tooke Dauid's seruantes, & shamed them, and cut off their garments by the halfe vnto buttockes, and sent them away.

5 And there went certaine and tolde Dauid concerning the men: and hee sent to meete them (for the men were exceedingly alhamed) and the King sayd, Tarry at Jericho, vntill your beards be grown: then returne.

6 And when the children of Ammon sawe that they stanke in the sight of Dauid, the embassadors then sent Hannun the children of Ammon a thousande talents of silver to hire bene honoured: them charres & horsemen out of Aram, & out of Edom.

7 And they hired them two and thirtie thousand charres, and the king of Moab his people, which came and pitched before Jabbatha: and the children of Ammon gathered their souldiers together from their cities, and came to the battell.

8 And when Dauid heard, hee sent Ioaab and all the hoste of the valiant men.

9 And the children of Ammon came out, and let their battell in aray at the gate of the cite. And the kings that were come, were by themselves in the fildes.

10 When Ioaab sawe that the front of the battell was against him before and behind, then hee chose out of all the chiefe of the tribe of Israel, and let himselfe in aray to meete yond Iordan.

15 So Joab and the people that was with him, came nere before the Ammonites unto the battell, and they fled before him.

16 And when the children of Ammon saw that the Ammonites fled, they fled also before Abihai his brother, and entered into the cities: so Joab came to Jerusalem.

17 And when the Ammonites saw that they were discomfited before Israel, they sent messengers & caused the Ammonites to come forth that were beyond the river: and Shophach the captain of the hoste of Hadarezer went before them.

18 And whē it was shewed Dauid, he gathered all Israel, and went over Jordan, and came unto them, and put himselfe in aray against them: and when Dauid had put himselfe in battell aray to meete the Ammonites, they fought with him.

19 But the Ammonites fled before Israel, and Dauid destroyed of the Ammonites seven thousand chariots, and fourtie thousand footmen, and killed Shophach the captain of the hoste.

20 And when the servants of Hadarezer saw that they fel before Israel, they made peace with Dauid, and served him. And the Ammonites would no more succour the children of Ammon.

1 Rabbah destroyed. 3 The Ammonites tormented, 4 The Philistines are thrise overcome with their gantes.

1 And when the peere was expired, in the time that kings goe out a warfare, Joab carped out the strength of the armie, and destroyed the countrey of the children of Ammon, and came and besieged Rabbah: (but Dauid carped at Jerusalem) & Joab smote Rabbah and destroyed it.

2 Then Dauid tooke the crowne of their king from off his head, and founde it the weight of a talent of golde, with precious stones in it: and it was set on Dauids head, & he brought away the spoyle of the cities exceeding much.

3 And he carped away the people that were in it, and cut them with sawes, and with harrowes of yron, and with axes: even thus did Dauid with all the cities of the children of Ammon. Then Dauid and all the people came againe to Jerusalem.

4 And after this also there arose warre at Gazer with the Philistines: then Sippai the Gatharite slew Sipsai, of the children of Haraphah, and they were subdued.

And there was yet another battell with the Philistines: and Elhanan the sonne of Jair slew Achish, the brother of Goliath the Gittite, whose speare staffe was like a weavers beame.

And yet againe there was a battell at Gath, where was a man of a great stature, and his fingers were by sixes, even foure & twentie, and was also the sonne of Haraphah.

And when he resisted Israel, Jehonathan the sonne of Shimea Dauids brother did slay him.

These were boyned unto Haraphah at Gath, and fell by the hand of Dauid, and by the handes of his servants.

C H A P. XXI.

Dauid causeth the people to be numbered, and there die fourscore thousand men of the pestilence.

And Satan stood by against Israel, and provoked Dauid to number Israel.

Therefore Dauid sayde to Joab, and to the rulers of the people, Go, and number Israel from Beer-sheba even to Dan, power & bring it to me, that I may know the number of them.

And Joab answered, The Lord encrease his people an hundred times so many as they be, & my loide the King: are they not all my lordes servants? wheresoever I go, whither I go, I will require this thing: why should he be a cause of trespass to Israel?

Nevertheless the kings woide prevailed against Joab. And Joab departed and went through all Israel, and returned to Jerusalem.

And Joab gave the number and summe of the people unto Dauid: and all Israel were eleven hundredth thousand men that drew sword: and Judah was fourtie hundredth and seventie thousand men that drew sword.

But the Levites and Benjamin counted he not among them: for the kings woide was abominable to Joab.

And God was displeased with this thing: therefore he smote Israel.

Then Dauid said unto God, I have sinned greatly, because I have done this thing: but now, I beseeche thee, remove the iniquitie of thy servant: for I have done very foolishly.

And the Lord spake unto Gad Dauids seer, saying,

Go and tell Dauid, saying, Thus sayth the Lord, I offer thee three things: chuse thee one of them, that I may doe it unto thee.

So Gad came to Dauid, and said unto him, Thus sayth the Lord, Take to thee either three yeeres famine, or three monethes to be destroyed before thine adversaries, and the sword of thine enemies to take thee, or else the sword of the Lord and pestilence in the lande three dayes, that the Angell of the Lord may destroy throughout all the coastes

13 And David saide vnto Gad, I am in a wonderfull strait, let me now fall into the hand of the Lord: for his mercies are exceeding great, and let me not fall into the hand of man.

14 So the Lord sent a pestilence in Israel, and there fell of Israel threescore thousand men.

15 And God sent the Angel into Ierusalem to destroy it. And as hee was destroying, the Lord behelde, and repented of the euill, and said to the Angel that destroyed, It is now ynough, let thine hande cease. Then the Angel of the Lord stood by the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite.

16 And David lift vp his eyes, and saw the Angel of the Lord stand betwene the east and the heauen with his sword drawn in his hand, & stretched out toward Ierusalem. Then David and the Elders of Israel, which were clothed in sacke, fell vpon their faces.

17 And David said vnto God, Is it not I that commanded to number the people? It is euen I that haue sinned and haue committed euill, but these sheepe what haue they done? O Lord my God, I beseeche thee, let thine hande be on me, and on my fathers house, & not on the people for their destruction.

18 Then the Angel of the Lord commanded Gad to sape to David, that David should go vp, and set vp an altar vnto the Lord in the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite.

19 So David went vp according to the saying of Gad, which he had spoken in the Name of the Lord.

20 And Ornan turned about, and saue the Angel, & his four sonnes that were with him, his brethren, and Ornan the threshed wheate.

21 And as David came to Ornan, Ornan looked and saue David, and went out of the threshing floore, and bowed him selfe to David with his face to the ground.

22 And David said to Ornan, Sure me the place of thy threshing floore, that I may build an altar therein vnto the Lord: giue it me for sufficient money, that the plague may be stayed from the people.

23 Then Ornan said vnto David, Take it to thee, and let my lord the King doe that which seemeth him good: for, I giue thee bullockes for burnt offerings, and threshing instruments for wood, and wheate for meate offering, I giue it all.

24 And King David saide to Ornan, Not so: but I will bee it for sufficient money: for I will not take that which is thine for the Lord, nor offer burnt offerings without cost.

25 So David gaue to Ornan for that place three hundred shekels of golde by weight.

26 And David built there an altar vnto the Lord, and offered burnt offerings, & peace offerings, and called vpon the Lord, and he answered him by fire from heauen vpon the altar of burnt offering.

27 And when the Lord had spoken to the Angel, he put vp his sword againe into his sheath.

28 At that time when David saw that the Lord had heard him in the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite, then he sacrificed there.

29 (But the Tabernacle of the Lord which Moses had made in the wilderness, and the altar of burnt offering were at that season in the place at Gibeon.)

30 And David could not goe before it to alke counsel at God: for he was afraid of the sword of the Angel of the Lord.)

CHAP. XXII.

1 David prepareth things necessary for the building of the Temple. 6 He commandeth his sonne Salomon to build the Temple of the Lord, which thing he himselfe was forbidden to doe. 9 Vnder the figure of Salomon Christ is prefigured.

1 And David said, This is the house of the Lord God, and this is the altar for the burnt offering of Israel.

2 And David commanded to gather together the strangers that were in the land of Israel, and hee set masons to hew and possey stones to build the house of God.

3 David also prepared much yron for the nailes of the doores and of the gates, and for the turnings, and abundance of brasse passing weight.

4 And cedar trees without number: for the Sidonians and they of Tyus brought much cedar wood to David.

5 And David said, Salomon my sonne is young and tender, and we must build a house for the Lord, magnificent, excellent and of great fame and dignitie throughout all countreys. I will therefore now prepare for him. So David prepared very much before his death.

6 Then he called Salomon his sonne, and charged him to build an house for the Lord God of Israel.

7 And David said to Salomon, My sonne, I purposed to my selfe to build an house to the Name of the Lord my God,

8 But the worde of the Lord came to me, saying, Thou shalt shed much blood, and hast made great battels: thou shalt not build an house vnto my Name: for thou hast shed much blood vpon the earth in my sight.

9 Beholde, a sonne is borne to thee, which shall be a man of rest, for I will giue him rest from all his enemies round about: therefore his name is Salomon: and I will send peace and quietnes vpon Israel in his dayes.

10 He shall build an house for my Name, and hee shall be my sonne, and I will be his father, and I will establish the throne of his kingdom vpon Israel for euer.

11 Now therefore my sonne, the Lord shall be with thee, and thou shalt prosper, and thou shalt build an house to the Lord thy God, as he hath spoken of thee.

CHAP. XXIII.

David assigneth offices unto the sonnes of Aaron.

These are also the divisions of the sonnes of Aaron. The sonnes of Aaron were Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

But Nadab and Abihu dyed before their father, and had no children: therefore Eleazar and Ithamar executed the Priests office.

And David distributed them, even Zadok of the sonnes of Eleazar, and Ahimelech of the sonnes of Ithamar according to their offices in their ministrations.

And there were founde mo of the sonnes of Eleazar by the number of men, then of the sonnes of Ithamar. And they divided them, to wit, among the sonnes of Eleazar, sistene heads, according to the household of their fathers, and among the sonnes of Ithamar, according to the household of their fathers, eight.

Thus they distributed them by lot the one from the other, & so the rulers of the Sanctuary and the rulers of the house of God were of the sonnes of Eleazar and of the sonnes of Ithamar.

And Shemaiah the sonne of Netaneel the scribe of the Levites, wrote them before the king and the princes, and Zadok the Priest, and Ahimelech the sonne of Abiathar, and before the chiefe fathers of the Priests and of the Levites, one familie being reserved for Eleazar, and an other reserved for Ithamar.

And the first lot fell to Jehoiachin, and the second to Jedaiab,

The third to Harun, the fourth to Seorim,

The fifth to Malchiah, the sixt to Shilaimin,

The seventh to Hakkoz, the eighth to Abiath,

The ninth to Ieshua, the tenth to Shecaniah,

The eleventh to Eliahah, the twelfth to Jakini,

These were their orders according to their offices, when they entered into the house of the Lord according to their custom under the hand of Aaron their father, as the Lord God of Israel had commanded him.

And of the sonnes of Levi that remained of the sonnes of Ahran, was Shubael, of the sonnes of Shubael, Jedaiab.

Of Melchiah, even of the sonnes of Melchiah, the first Ithiah,

Of Ithari, Shelomoth, of the sonnes of Shelomoth, Iahath,

And his sonnes Jeriah, the first, Minari, the second, Jahajuel the third, and Jeskamean the fourth,

The sonne of Hysiel was Hichah, the sonne of Hichah was Shannur,

The brother of Hichah was Ithiah, the sonne of Ithiah, Zeshariah,

The sonnes of Merari were Shabhi and Shubhi, the sonne of Shaziah was Senio,

The sonnes of Merari, of Jahaziah were Seno, and Shopham, and Zaccur and Ithi.

Of Shabhi came Eleazar, which had no sonne,

Of Hith, the sonne of Hith was Jerahmeel,

And the sonnes of Shubhi were Wahs, and Eder, and Jerinath: these were the sonnes of the Levites after the household Merari.

And these also cast lots with their brethren, that is, every thien the sonnes of Aaron before king David, and Zadok and Ahimelech and the chiefe fathers of the Priests, and of fell unto him the Levites, even the chiefe of the families by lot.

Jehaiab his sonne, & Joian his sonne, and Zichi his sonne, and Shelonith his sonne.

26 Which Shelonith & his biethien were ouer al the treasures of the dedicate things, which Dauid the King, and the chiefe fathers, the captaines ouer thousandes, and hundredes, and the captaines of the armie had: & dedicated.

27 (For of 8 battels and of the spoiles they did dedicate to maintaine the house of the Lord)

28 And all that Samuel the Seer had dedicate, and Saul the sonne of Kish, and Abner the sonne of Neri, and Joab the sonne of Zeruiab, and whosoever had dedicate any thing, it was vnder the hand of Shelonith, and his biethien.

29 Of the Pharises was Chenaniah & his sonnes, for the businesse without ouer Israel, for officers and for iudges.

30 Of the Hebionites, Abiabiah and his biethien, men of activitie, a thousand, and seven hundred were officers for Israel beyond Jordan Westward, in all the businesse of the Lord, and for the seruice of the King.

31 Among the Hebionites was Jebiah the chiefe, even the Hebionites by his generations according to the families, And in the fortieth parte of the reigne of Dauid they were sought for: and there were founde among them men of activitie at Jaser in Gilead.

32 And his biethien men of activitie, two thousand and seven hundred: chiefe fathers, whome king Dauid made rulers ouer the Keninites, and the Gadites, and the halfe tribe of Manasse, for euery matter pertaining to God, and for the Kings businesse.

CHAP. XXVII.

Of the princes and rulers that ministered vnto the King.

The children of Israel also after their number, even the chiefe fathers and captaines of thousandes and of hundredes, and their officers that serued the King by duers courses, which came in and went out, moneth by moneth throughout all the moneths of the yere: in euery course were foure and twentie thousand.

1 Ouer the first course for the first moneth was Jathobeam the sonne of Zabbiel: and in his course were foure and twentie thousand.

2 Of the sonnes of Perez was the chiefe ouer all the viunces of the armies for the first moneth.

3 And ouer the course of the second moneth was Dabai, an Ephraite, and this was his course, and Abihosh was a captaine, and in his course were foure and twentie thousand.

4 The captaine of the thirde hoste for the third moneth was Benaiab the sonne of Jehoiab: the chiefe: & in his course were foure and twentie thousand.

5 This Benaiab was mightie among the King, and about the shute, and in his course was Hizziabab his sonne.

6 The fourth for the fourth moneth was Habel the brother of Joab, and Zebadiab his sonne after him: and in his course were foure and twentie thousand.

7 The fifth for the fifth moneth was prince Shambuth & Zaphite: and in his course foure and twentie thousand.

8 The sixt for the sixt moneth was Ira the sonne of Ikesh the Etkoite: and in his course foure and twentie thousand.

9 The seventh for the seventh moneth was Hiez the Delonite, of the sonnes of Ephraim: and in his course foure & twentie thousand.

10 The eight for the eighth moneth was Sibs becal the Yushathite of the Arabites: and in his course foure and twentie thousand.

11 The ninth for the ninth moneth was Hiez the Aneithothite of the sonnes of Tenui: and in his course foure and twentie thousand.

12 The tenth for the tenth moneth was Phahai, the Aethophathite of the Arabites: and in his course foure & twentie thousand.

13 The eleuenth for the eleuenth moneth was Benaiab the Pirathonite of the sonnes of Ephraim: and in his course foure and twentie thousand.

14 The twelfth for the twelfth moneth was Hiebai the Aethophathite, of Benjamin: and in his course foure and twentie thousand.

15 The thirteenth for the thirteenth moneth was Hiebai the Aethophathite, of Benjamin: and in his course foure and twentie thousand.

16 The fourteenth for the fourteenth moneth was Hiebai the Aethophathite, of Benjamin: and in his course foure and twentie thousand.

17 Ouer the tribes, Zabadiab the sonne of Kennel: ouer them of Manasse, and Zabok.

18 Ouer Judah, Elithi of the biethien of Dauid: ouer Issachar, Omri the sonne of Michael:

19 Ouer Zebulun, Ishmaiah the sonne of Obadiab: ouer Naphtali, Jerimoth the sonne of Azriel:

20 Ouer the sonnes of Ephraim, Hoshea the sonne of Hazziah: ouer the halfe tribe of Manasse, Joel the sonne of Pedabai:

21 Ouer the other halfe of Manasse in Galilee, Jodo the sonne of Zerchariah: ouer Benjamin, Jaasiel the sonne of Abner:

22 Ouer Dan, Azariel the sonne of Jerah: these are the princes of the tribes of Israel.

23 But Dauid took not the number of his men from twentie yeres olde and vnder, because the Lord had sayde that he would increase Israel like vnto the starres of heauens.

24 And Joab the sonne of Zeruiab began to number: but he finished it not, because make both these there came wach for it against Israel, because neither was the number put into the Chronicles of king Dauid.

25 And ouer the Kings treasures was Hiebaie the sonne of Adiel: and ouer of the bookes, as the treasures in the fields, in the cities touching the and in the villages and in the townes was number of them.

 taine of the kings armie was Joab.

CHAP. XXVIII.

- 3 Because Dauid was forbidden to build the Temple,
 hee willeth Salomon and the people to performe it,
 8 Exhorting him to feare the Lord.
 1 Now Dauid assembled al the princes
 of Israel: the princes of the tribes, and the captaynes of the bands that serued the king, & the captaynes of thous-
 sandes and the captaynes of hundredes,
 and the rulers of all the substance & possession of p king, and of his sonnes, with the eunuches, and the mighty, and al the men of power, vnto Ierusalem.
 2 And king Dauid towe by vpon his seate, and sayde, Heare ye me, my brethren and my people: I purposed to haue built an house of rest for the Arke of the couenant
 of the Lord, & for a footstole of our God,
 and haue made ready for the building,
 3 But God said vnto me, Thou shalt not build an house for my name, because thou hast bene a man of war, & hast shed blood.
 4 Yet as the Lord God of Israel chose me before all p house of my father, to be king ouer Israel for euer (for in Iudah would hee chuse a prince, & of the house of b Judah is the house of my father, and among the sonnes of my father hee belited in mee to make me king ouer all Israel) 5 So of all my sonnes (for the Lord hath giuen me many sonnes) hee hath euen chosen Salomon my sonne to sit vpon
 the throne of the kingdome of the Loyde ouer Israel.
 6 And hee sayde vnto mee, Salomon thy sonne, he shall build mine house and my courtes: for I haue chosen him to be my sonne, and I will be his father.
 7 I will stablish therefore his kingdome

for euer, if hee indouour himselfe to do my commandementes, and my indgementes,
 as this day.

- 8 Nowe therefore in the sight of all Israel
 the Congregation of the Loyde, and in the audience of our God, heere and seker for all the commandementes of the Lord pour out doeth heere, God, p he may possesse this good land, and leaue it for an inheritance for your children after you for euer.
 9 And thou, Salomon my sonne, knowe thou the God of thy father, & serue him with a perfite heart, and with a willing mind: For the Lord searcheth all hearts,
 and understandeth all the imaginations of thoughtes: if thou seker him, he will be found of thee, but if thou forsake him, he will cast thee off for euer.
 10 Take heede now, for the Lord hath chosen thee to build the house of the Sanctuarie: be strong therefore, and do it.
 11 Then Dauid gaue to Salomon his sonne the paternie of the poich and of the houses thereof, and of the closets thereof, and of the galleries thereof, and of the chambers thereof that are within, and of the house of the Mercificate.
 12 And the paternie of all that hee had in his minde for the courtes of the house of the Loyde, and for all the chambers round about, for the treasures of the house of God, and for the treasures of the dedicate
 thinges,
 13 And for the courtes of the Priestes, and of the Leuites, and for all the woorkes for the seruice of the house of the Loyde, and for all the vessels of the ministerie of the house of the Loyde.
 14 He gaue of gold by weight, for the vessel of golde, for all the vessels of all maner of seruice, and all the vessels of silver by weight, for all maner vessels of all maner
 of seruice,
 15 The weight also of gold for the candles
 stickes, and golde for their lampes, with the weight for euery candlesticke, and for the lampes thereof, & for the candlesticks
 of silver by the weight of the candlesticke, and the lampes thereof, according to the
 vse of euery candlesticke, 16 And the weight of the golde for the tables of shewbread, for euery table, and siluer for the tables of silver.
 17 And pure golde for the fleshhookes, and the bowles, and plates, and for balens, golde in weight for euery balen, and for silver balens, by weight for euery balen, 18 And for the altar of incense, pure golde
 by weight, & golde for the paternie of the charret of the Cherubs that stode them selves, and covered the Arke of the couenant of the Loyde:
 19 All said he, by writing sent to me by the hand of the Loyde, which made me vnder-stand all p woynmanship of the paternie.
 20 And Dauid said to Salomon his sonne, Be strong, and of a valiant courage and do it feare not, nor be afraid: for the Lord

C H A P. XXIX.

2 The offering of David & of the princes for the building of the Temple. 10 David giveth thanks to the Lord. 20 He exhorteth the people to do the same. 22 Salomon is created king. 28 David dyeth, and Salomon his sonne reigneth in his stead.

Majour David the King said unto all the Congregation, God hath chosen Salomon mine onely sonne to be my successor, and the work is great for this house is not for man, but for the Lord God.

3 Now I have prepared with all my power for the house of my God, gold & silver vessels of gold, & silver for them of silver, and brass for things of brass, yron for things of yron, and wood for things of wood, and purple stones, and stones to be set, and carbuncle stones, and of divers colours, and all precious stones, and marble stones in abundance.

4 Moreover, because I have delighted in the house of my God, I have of mine owne golde & silver, which I have given to the house of my God, beside all that I have prepared for the house of the Sanctuary.
 5 Even three thousand talents of golde of the golde of Egypt, and seven thousand talents of fined silver to overlaye the wallies of the houses.

6 The golde for the things of golde, and the silver for things of silver, and for all the work by the hands of artificers: and this is "willing" to fill his hande to day unto the Lord.

7 So the princes of the families, and the princes of the tribes of Israel, and the captains of thousands & of hundreds, with the rulers of the kingdome, offered willingly.

8 And they gave for the service of a house of God five thousand talents of golde, and ten thousand talents of silver, & ten thousand talents of brass, and eighteene thousand talents of iron, and one hundred thousand talents of yron.

9 And they with whom precious stones were founde, gave them to the treasure of the house of the Lord, by the hande of Jehiel the Bethshemite.

10 And the people rejoiced when they offered willingly: for they offered willingly unto the Lord, with a perfect heart. And David the king also "rejoiced with great joy."

11 Therefore David blessed the Lord before all the Congregation, and David said, Blessed be thou, O Lord God of Israel our father, for ever and ever.

12 Thine, O Lord, is greatness and power, and glory, and victorie and praise: for all that is in heaven & on earth is thine: thine is the kingdome, O Lord, and thou art left as hee over all.

13 Both riches and honour come of thee, and thou reignest over all, and in thine hand is power and strength, and in thine hande it is to make great, and to give strength unto all.

14 Nowe therefore our God, we thank thee, and praise thy glorious name.

15 But thou art, O Lord, and what is my people, that we should be able to offer willingly after this sorte? for all things come of thee: and of thine owne hande we have given thee.

16 For we are "strangers before thee, and sojourners like all our fathers: our dayes are like the shadow upon the earth, and there is none "abiding."

17 O Lord our God, all this abundance that we have prepared to build thee an house for thine holy name, is of thine hande and all is thine.

18 I know also, O Lord, that thou "tryest the heart, and hast pleasure in righteousnesse: I have offered willingly in the uprightness of mine heart at these things; now also have I sent the people which are found here, to offer unto thee willingly with joy.

19 O Lord God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel our fathers, keep this for ever in thy purpose, & the thoughts of the heart of thy people, and prepare their hearts unto thee.

20 And give unto Salomon my sonne a perfect heart to keep the commandments, thy testimonies, and thy statutes, and to do all things, and to build the house which I have prepared.

21 And David said to all the Congregation, Nowe bless the Lord your God, and all the Congregation blessed the Lord God of their fathers, and bowed downe their heads, and worshipped the Lord and the King.

22 And they offered sacrifices unto the Lord, and on the morrow after that day, they offered burnt offerings unto the Lord, even a thousand pong bullocks, a thousand rammes, & a thousand sheepe, with their "drinke offerings, and sacrifices in abundance for all Israel."

23 And they did eat and drinke before the Lord the same day with great joy, and mingled with them made Salomon the sonne of David their sacrifices, king the second time, and anointed him as wine, oile, &c, prince before the Lord, and Zadok his the priest.

24 So Salomon sat on the throne of the Lord, as king in stead of David his father, and prospered: & all Israel obeyed him.

25 And all the princes and men of power, and all the servants of King David "submitted themselves under King Salomon." And the Lord magnified Salomon in the sight of all Israel, and gave him so glorious a kingdome, as no king had before him in Israel.

26 ¶ Thus David the sonne of Isaac reigned over all Israel.

27 And the space that he reigned over Israel, was fourety yeres: seuen yeres he reigned in Hebron, and thye and thirtie yeres he reigned

h We gave thee nothing of our owne, but that which we have received of thee: for whether the gifts be corporal or spiritual, we receive them all of God, & therefore must give him the glory. 29 Concerning the actes of Dauid the king first and last, behold, they are written in the booke of Samuel the Seer, and in the booke of Nathan the prophete, and in the booke of Gad the Seer, 30 With all his reign and his power, and the names that went over him, & over Israel & over all the kingdomes of the earth.

The booke of Nathan & Gad are thought to have bin lost in the captivitie. p Meaning the troubles and grieues.

The second booke of the Chronicles.

THE ARGUMENT.

THis seconde booke conteyneth briefly in effect that, which is comprehended in the two bookes of the kings: that is, from the reigne of Salomon to the destruction of Jerusalem, and the carrying away of the people captiue into Babylon. In this storie are certaine things declared and set forth more copiously then in the bookes of the Kings, and therefore serue greatly to the vnderstanding of the Prophets. But three things are here chiefly to be considered. First, that the godly kings, when they saw the plagues of God prepared against their country for sinne, had recourse to the Lorde, and by earnest prayer were heard, and the plagues remoued. The seconde, how it is a thing that greatly offendeth God, that such as feare him & profess his religion, should ioyne in amitie with the wicked. And thirdly, howe the good rulers euer loued the Prophetes of God, & were very zealous to set forth his religion throughout all their dominions, & contrariwise the wicked hated his ministers, deposed them, and for the true religion & word of God, set vp idolatrie, & serued God according to the fantasie of men. Thus haue we hitherto the chiefe acts from the beginning of the world to the building againe of Jerusalem, which was the two and thirtieth yeere of Darius, and containe in the whole, three thousand, sixe hundred, three score and eightene yeeres, and sixe moneths.

CHAP. I.

6 The offering of Salomon at Gibeon. 8 He prayeth vnto God to giue him wisdom: 11 Which he giueth him and more. 14 The number of his charrets and horses. 15 And of his riches.

Item Salomon the sonne of Dauid was confirmed in his kingdome: & the Lord his God was with him, and magnified him highly.

2 And Salomon spake vnto all Israel, to the captaynes of thousands, & of hundredes, & to the iudges, & to all the gouernours in all Israel, euen the chiefe fathers.

3 So Salomon and all the Congregation with him went to the hie place that was at Gibeon: for there was the Tabernacle of the Congregation of God which Moses the seruant of the Lorde had made in the wilderness.

4 But the Ark of God had Dauid brought by fro Batiarai: for when Dauid had made preparation for it: for he had pitched a tent for it in Jerusalem.

5 Whereouer the Altar of Incense that Bezaleel the sonne of Uri, the sonne of Hur had made, did he set before the Tabernacle of the Lord: & Salomon and the Congregation sought it.

6 And Salomon offered there before the Lord vpon the Altar of Incense that was in the Tabernacle of the Congregation: euen a thousand burnt offerings offered he vpon it.

7 The same night did God appeare vnto Salomon, and said vnto him, Aske what I shall giue thee.

8 And Salomon said vnto God, Thou hast shewed great mercie vnto Dauid my father, and hast made me to reigne in his stead.

9 Now therefore, O Lord God, let thy promise vnto Dauid my father bee: that I may be as thou hast made mine King over a great people, like to the dust of the earth.

10 Giue me nowe wisdom & knowledge, that I may go out and go in before this people: for who can iudge this thy great people?

11 And God sayde to Salomon, Because this was in thine heart, & thou hast not asked riches, treasures, nor honour, nor the lines of thine enemies, neither yet hast asked long life, but hast asked for thee wisdom & knowledge that thou mightest iudge my people, our whom I haue made this King,

12 Wisdom and knowledge is graunted vnto thee, and I will giue thee riches and treasures and honour, so that there hath not bene the like among the kings which were before thee, neither after thee shall there be the like.

13 Then Salomon came from his place, that was at Gibeon, to Jerusalem from before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and reigned ouer Israel.

14 And Salomon gathered the charrets and horsesmen: and he had a thousande and foure hundred charrets, and twelue thousand horsesmen, whome he placed in the charret cities, and with the king at Jerusalem.

15 And the king gaue silver & golde at Jerusalem as stones, and gaue cedar trees as the wilde figge trees, that are abundant in the plaine. 16 Also Salomon had horses brought out of Egypt and fine linen: the kings merchants receiued the fine linen for a price.

17 They came by also and brought out of Egypt some charret, worth sixe hundred shekels of silver, that is an horse for an horse & a sifter: and thus they brought horses to all the kings of the Hittites, and to the

3 And Salomon sente to Hiram the king of Tyrus, saying, As thou hast done to Dauid my father, and didst send him cedar trees to builde him an house to dwell in, so do to me.

4 Beholde, I builde an house vnto the name of the Lord my God, to sanctifie it vnto him, and to burne sweete incense before him, & for the continuall shewbread, & for the burnt offerings of the morning and evening, on the Sabbath dayes, and in the newe moneths, and in the solemne feasts of the Lord our God: this is a perpetuall thing for Israel.

5 And the house which I build, is great: for great is our God aboue all gods.

6 Who is he then that can be able to build him an house, when the heauen, and the heauen of heauens cannot contayne him? who am I then that I should build him an house? but I doe it to burne incense before him.

b That is, to do that service which he hath commanded, signifying that some are able to honour & serue God in that perfection as his ministe deserueth.

7 Send me now therefore a cunning man that can worke in golde, in silver, and in brasse, and in piron, and in purple, and in crimson, and blew silke, and that can graue in grauen: worke with the cunning men that are with me in Iudah and in Ierusalem, whome Dauid my father hath prepared.

10 And beholde, I will giue to thy seruants the cutters & the hewers of timber twentie thousande measures of beaten wheat, and twentie thousande measures of barley, and twentie thousande baths of wine, and twentie thousande baths of oyle.

e The very heathen confessed that it was a singular gift of God, when he gaue to any nation a king that was wise and of vnderstanding, albeit it appeared that this Hiram had the true knowledge of God.

11 Then Hiram king of Tyrus answered in writing why he sente to Salomon, Because the Lord hath loued his people, he hath made thee king ouer them.

12 Hiram saide moreover, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel which made the heauen and the earth, and that hath giuen vnto Dauid the king a wise sonne, that hath discretion, vnderstanding and vnderstanding to builde an house for the Lord, and a palace for his kingdome.

13 Now therefore I haue sent a wise man, and of vnderstanding of my father Hiram,

14 The sonne of a woman of the daughter of Egitus, & he can skill to worke in golde, in silver, in brasse, in piron, in stone, and in timber, in purple, in blew silke, & in crimson, and can graue in grauen: worke, & hewer in all manner of worke that shalbe giuen him, with thy cunning men, and with the cunning men of my lord Dauid the father.

16 And we will cut wood in Lebanon as much as thou shalt neede, and will bring it to thee in raftes by the sea to Japho, so thou mayest carry them to Ierusalem.

17 And Salomon nointed all the strangers that were in the land of Israel, after the nombing that his father Dauid had nombed them: and they were founde an hundred and thre and fiftie thousande, and six hundred.

18 And he set seuentie thousande of them to the burden, and fourescore thousande to hewe stones in the mountaine, and thre thousande and six hundred ouersers to cause the people to worke.

1 The Temple of the Lord, & the porche are builded, with other things thereto belonging.

1 So that Salomon began to builde the house of the Lord in Ierusalem, in mount

Sion: which had bene declared vnto Dauid his father, in the place that Dauid prepared in the thysingling floode of Dynan the Jebelite.

2 And he began to build in the second moneth & the second day, in the fourth yere of his reigne.

3 And these are the measures, whereon Salomon grounded to builde the house of God: the length of cubites after the first measure was threescore cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites:

4 And the porch, that was before the length of the Temple, in the front of the breadth was twentie cubites, and the height was an hundred and twentie, and he overlapped it with pure golde.

5 And the greater house he decked with firre tree which he overlapped with good golde, and grained thereon palmettes and chapines.

6 And he overlapped the house with precious stone for beauty: and the golde was golde of Paruaun.

7 The house, the frames, postes, and walles thereof, and the doores thereof overlapped he with golde, and grained the rubins vpon the walles.

8 He made also the house of the most holy place: the length thereof was in front of the breadth of the house, twentie cubites, and the breadth thereof of twenty cubites: and he overlapped it with the best golde, of six hundred talent.

9 Now the weight of the naples was fiftie shekels of golde, & he overlapped the chambers with golde.

1 The altar of brasie. 2 The molten Sea. 3 The candlesticks, &c.

- 1 ¶ And he made an altar of brasie twentie cubites long, and twentie cubites broad, and ten cubites he.
2 And he made a molten Sea of ten cubites from hyin to hyin, round in compass, and five cubites he: and a line of thirrie cubites did compass it about.
3 And under it was the facion of oron, which did compass it round about, ten in a cubite compassing the Sea about: two rowes of oron were cast when it was molten.
4 It stood upon twelve oron: thye looked toward the North, and thye looked toward the West, & thye looked toward the South, & thye looked toward the East, and the Sea stood about upon them, and all their hinder partes were inward.
5 And the thickenesse thereof was an hande broad, and the hyin thereof was like the worke of the hyin of a cup, with flowers of hilles: it conterned thye thousande bathes.
6 ¶ He made also tenne caldions, and put five on the right hande, and five on the left, to wash in them, and to cleanse in them that which appertained to the burnt offerings: but the Sea was for the Priests to wash in.
7 ¶ And he made ten candlestickes of gold (according to their forme) and put them in the Temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left.
8 ¶ And he made ten tables, and put them in the Temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left: and he made an hundredth balnes of golde.

6 And King Salomon and all the Congregation of Israel that were assembled vnto him, were before the Arke, offering sheepe and bullockes, which could not be tolde nor nombred for multitude.

7 So the Priestes brought the Arke of the covenant of the Lord vnto his place, into the Dyale of the house, into the most holie place, euen vnder the wings of the Cherubims.

8 For the Cherubims stretched out their wings ouer the place of the Arke, and the Cherubims couered the Arke and the barres thereof aboue.

11 And when the Priestes were come out of the Sanctuarie, for all the Priestes that were present, were sanctified and did not waite by course.

12 And the Leuites the fingers of all sortes, as of Misaph, of Benan, of Jeduthun & of their sonnes and of their wyethen, being clad in fine linnen, stood with cymbals, & with viols, & harpes at the East ende of the altar, and with them an hundred and twenty Priestes blowing with trumpets:

13 And they were as one, blowing trumpets, and singing, and made one sound to be heard in praising and thanking the Lord, and when they lift vp their voyce with trumpets and with cymbals, and with instruments of musike, and when they praised the Lord, singing, & for he is good, because his mercie lasteth for euer, then the house, euen the house of the Lord was filled with a cloude,

14 So that the Priestes could not stand to minister, because of the cloude: for the glory of the Lord had filled the house of God.

CHAP. VI.

1 Salomon blest the people, & he praifeth the Lord, 14. He prayeth vnto God for those that shall pray in the Temple.

1 Then Salomon sayde, The Lord hath sayde that he would dwell in the darke cloude:

2 And I haue built thee an house to dwell in, an habitation for thee to dwell in for euer.

3 And the king turned his face, and blessed all the Congregation of Israel (for all the Congregation of Israel stood there)

4 And he said, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, who spake with his mouth vnto

Dauid my father, & hath with his hand fulfilled it, saying,

5 Since the day that I brought my people out of the land of Egypt, I chose no cite out of all tribes of Israel to build an house, that my name might be there, neither chose I any man to be a ruler ouer my people Israel:

6 But I haue chosen Ierusalem, that my name might be there, and haue chosen Dauid to be ouer my people Israel.

7 And it was in the heart of Dauid my father to builde an house vnto the name of the Lord God of Israel,

8 But the Lord said to Dauid my father, Where as it was in thine heart to builde an house vnto my name, thou diddest well, that thou wait so much.

9 Forwithstanding thou shalt not builde the house, but thy sonne which shall come out of thy loynes, he shall builde an house vnto my name.

10 And the Lord hath performed his word that he spake: and I am risen vp in the roume of Dauid my father, and am set on the throne of Israel as the Lord promised, and haue built an house to the name of the Lord God of Israel.

11 And I haue set the Arke there, wherein is the covenant of the Lord, that he made with the children of Israel.

12 And the king stood before the altar of the Lord, in the presence of all the Congregation of Israel, and stretched out his hands,

13 (For Salomon had made a brasen skafold & set it in the mids of the court, of five cubites long, and five cubites broad, and three cubites of height, & vpo it he stood, and kneeled downe vpo his knees before all the Congregation of Israel, & stretched out his hands toward heauen)

14 And sayd, O Lord God of Israel, there is no God like thee in heauen nor in earth, which keepest covenant, and mercie vnto thy seruants, that walke before thee with all their heart.

15 Thou hast kept with thy servant Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him: for thou spakest with thy mouth, & hast fulfilled it with thine hand, as ope peareth this day.

16 Therefore nowe Lord God of Israel, keepe with thy servant Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him, saying, Thou shalt not want a man in my sight, that shall sit vpon the throne of Israel: so that thy sonnes take heed to their wayes, to walke in my law, as thou hast walked before me.

17 And nowe, O Lord God of Israel, let thy word be verified, which thou spakest vnto thy servant Dauid.

29 Then what prayer and supplication so euer shall be made of any man, or of all thy

his owne plague, and his owne disease, and shall stretch forth his hands toward
this house,

30 Heare thou then in heaven, thy dwelling place, and be mercifull, & giue euery man according vnto all his wayes, as thou doest knowe his heart (for thou owest knowest the hearts of the children of men).

31 That they may feare thee, and walke in thy wayes as long as they liue in the land which thou gauest vnto our fathers.

32 ¶ Moreover, as touching the stranger which is not of thy people Israel, who shall come out of a farre countrey for thy great names sake, and thy might shall be, and thy stretched out arme: when they shall come and pray in this house,

33 Heare thou in heaven thy dwelling place, & do according to all that the stranger calleth for vnto thee, that all the people of the earth may knowe thy name, & feare thee like thy people Israel, and that they may know, that thy name is called vpon in this house which I haue built.

34 ¶ When thy people shall go out to battles against their enemies, by way that thou shalt send them, and they pray to thee, in the way toward this city, which thou hast chosen, even toward the house which I haue built to thy name,

35 Then heare thou in heaven their prayer and their supplication, and iudge their cause.

36 If they sinne against thee (for there is no man that sinneth not) and thou be angry with them and deliver them vnto
the enemies, and they take the and carry them away captiue vnto a land farre offeerer,

37 If they turne againe to their heart in the land whither they be carried in captivities, and turne and pray vnto thee in the lands of their captiue, saying, We haue sinned, we haue transgressed & haue
done wickedly,

38 If they turne againe to thee with all their heart, and with all their soule in the land of their captiue, whether they haue carried them captiues, and waie to-sinned against thee.

40 Now vnto God, I beseech thee, let thine eyes be open, and thine eares attend vnto
the prayer that is made in this place.

sacrifices before the Lord.

5 And king Solomon offered a sacrifice of two and twentieth thousand bullocks, and an hundred and twentieth thousand sheep, so the king and all the people dedicated the house of God.

6 And the priests waited on their offices, and the Levites with the instruments of musike of the Lord, which king David had made to praise the Lord, Because his mercie lasted for ever: when David prayed God by them, the priests also blew trumpets over against them: and all they of Israel stood by.

7 Wherefore Solomon halowed the middle of the court that was before the house of the Lord: for there he had prepared burnt offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings, because he had said which Salomo had made, was not able to receive the burnt offering, and the meat offering, and the fat.

8 And Salomo made a feast at that time of seven dayes, as all Israel with him, a very great Congregation, from the entering in of Hamath, unto the river of Egypt.

9 And in the eighth day they made a solemn assemble: for they had made the dedication of the altar seven dayes, and the feast seven dayes.

10 And the three and twentieth day of the seventh moneth, he sent the people away unto their tents, joyous and with glad heart, because of the goodness that the Lord had done for David and for Salomo, and for Israel his people.

11 So Salomo finished the house of the Lord, and the kings house, and all that came into Salomons heart to make in the house of the Lord: and he prospered in his house.

12 And the Lord appeared to Salomon by night and said to him, I have heard thy prayer, and have chosen this place for my selfe to be an house of sacrifice.

13 If I shut the heaven that there be no raine, or if I command the grasshopper to devour the land, or if I send pestilence among my people,

14 If my people, among whom my name is called upon, doe humble themselves, and pray, and seek my presence, and turne from their wicked wayes, then will I heare in heaven, and be mercifull to their sinne, and will heale their land:

15 Then mine eyes shall be open, and mine eares attent unto the prayer made in this place.

16 For I have now chosen and sanctified this house, that my name may be there for ever: and mine eyes and mine heart shall be there perpetually.

17 And if thou wilt walke before me, as David thy father walked, to doe according unto all that I have commanded thee, and shalt observe my statutes and judgments,

18 Then will I stablish the throne of thy kingdom, according as I made the covenant with David thy father, saying, Thou shalt not want a man to be ruler in Israel.

19 But if ye turne away, & forsake my statutes and my commandments which I have set before you, and shall goe and serve other gods, and worship them,

20 Then will I plucke them up out of my land, which I have given them, and this house which I have sanctified for my name, will I cast out of my sight, I will declare that I make it to be a pious and a common God had more respect to their take among all people.

21 And this house which is most holy, shall salvation, then be an astonishment to every one that to the advance passeth by it, so that he shall say, Wher met of his owne hath the Lord done thus to this land, and as men abule to this house?

22 And they shall answer, Because they forsooke the Lord God of their fathers, which God hath appointed to set Egypt, and have taken helpe on other for his praise, gods, and have worshipped them, and he doth witherred them, therefore hath he brought drawe his graces all this ruine upon them.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The cities that Salomon built, 7 People that were made tributaries unto him. 22 His sacrifices. 27 He sendeth to Ophir.

1 And after twentieth pere when Salomon had built the house of the Lord,
and his owne house,

2 Then Salomon built the cities that his fathers had built, and caused the children of Israel to dwell there.

3 And Salomon went to Hamath Zobab, and overcame it.

4 And he built Tadmor in the wilderness, and repaired all the cities of store which he built in Hamath.

5 And he built Beth-horon the upper,
therefore called and Beth-horon the nether, cities defend ed with walles, gates and barres:

6 Also Baalath, and all the cities of store that Salomon had, and all the chariot cities, and the cities of the horsemen, and every pleasant place that Salomon had munitions and a munition to builde in Jerusalem, and in treasures for the Lebanon and throughout all the lande
of his dominion,

7 And all the people that were left of the paired & fortified
Hittites, and the Amorites, & Perizzites, and the Hivites, & the Jebusites, which they were built

im made tributaries until this day, im. 1. Chro. 6. 68.

8 But of the children of Israel did Salomo make no servants for his worke: for they were men of warre, and his chiefe princes, and the captaines of his char-iots, and of his horsemen.

9 So these were the chiefe of the officers which Salomon had, even two hundred and thirtie that bare rule over the people.

10 Then Salomon brought up his daughter Pharaoh out of the cite of David,
into the house that he had built for her:
for he said, My wife shall not dwell in the house of David king of Israel: for it is charge, reade

came unto it.

 that is, in the feast of * Unleavened bread,

14 And he set the courses of the Priests to their offices, according to the order of David his father, & the Levites in their warches, for to praise and minister before the Priests every day, & the porters by * their courses, at every gate: for so was the commandment of David the man of God.

15 And they declined not from the commandment of the king, concerning the Priestes and the Levites, touching all things, and touching the treasures.

16 ¶ Now Salomon had made provision for all the * worke, from the day of the foundation of the house of the Lord, untill
 it was finished: so the house of the Lord
 was perfite.

17 Then went Salomon to Zion-geber, and to Beth by the * seaside in the land of Chon.

18 And Huraim sent him by the handes of his servants, shippes, and servants that had knowledge of the sea: and they went

C H A P. IX.

1, 9 The Queene of Sheba cometh to see Salomon and bringeth gifts. 13 His yearly revenues. 30 The time of his reigne. 31 His death.

1 AND * when the Queene of Sheba heard of the fame of Salomon, she came to * visite Salomon with hard questions at Jerusalem, with a ve-rie great traine, & camels that bare sweet odours and much golde, and precious stones: and when she came to Salomon, she communed with him of all that was in her heart.

2 And Salomon declared her all her questions: and there was * nothing hid from Salomō, which he declared not unto her.

3 Then the Queene of Sheba saw the wis-dome of Salomon, and the house that he had built.

4 And the meate of his table, and the sitting of his servants, and the order of his wappes, and their apparell, and his butlers, and their apparell, and his * burnt offerings, which he offered in the house of the Lord, and she was * greatly astonished.
 And she saide to the king, It was a true
 word which I heard in mine owne land of the * Capings, and of thy wisdom:

6 Wherein I beleaved not their report, Untill I came, and mine eyes had seene it:
 and behold, the one halfe of thy great wisdom was not tolde me: for thou exceedest the fame that I heard.

7 Haply are thy men, & haply are these thy servants, which stand before thee al-
 way, and hear thy wisdom.

Blessed be the Lord thy God, which loued thee, to let thee on his * throne as king, in the steade of the Lord thy God:
 because thy God loveth Israel, to establish it for ever, therefore hath he made thee king over them, to execute iudges-ment and iustice.

9 Then she gaue the king fixe scope talents of golde, and offwete odours exceeding much and precious stones: neither was there such sweet odours since, as * the Queene
 of Sheba gaue unto king Salomon.

10 And the servants also of Huraim, and the servants of Salomon which brought golde from Ophir, brought * Algummin
 wood and precious stones.

11 And the king made of the Algummin
 wood * staires in the house of the Lord, and in the Kings house, and harpes and viols for singers: and there was no such thing before in the land of Iudah.

12 And king Salomon gaue to the Queene of Sheba every pleasant thing that she asked, * besides for that which she had brought unto the king: so she returned and went to her owne countrey, both she,
 and her servants.

13 ¶ Also the weight of gold that came to Salomon in one pere, was fixe hundredth thyscore and fixe talents of golde.

14 Besides that which chapmen and marchantes brought: and all the kings of Arabia, and the princes of the countrey brought golde and silver to Salomon.

15 And king Salomon made two hundredth targets of beaten golde, and a fixe hundredth shekels of beaten golde went to one target.

16 And thye hundredth sheldes of beaten
 golde: thye hundredth * shekels of golde went to one shield, and the king put them in the house of the wood of Lebanon.

17 And the king made a great throne of purioe and overlape it with pure golde.
 one seemed

18 And the throne had fixe stappes, with a footstole of golde: fastened to the throne, and stapes on epyther side on the place of the seate, and two lions standing by the
 * stapes.

19 And twelue lions stood there on the fixe stappes on epyther side: there was not the like made in any kingdome.

20 And all king Salomons drynking vessels were of golde, and all the vessels of the house of * wood of Lebanon were of pure golde: for silver was nothing esteemed in the dayes of Salomon.

21 For the kings shippes went to Tarshish with the servants of Huraim, every three pere once came the shippes of * Tarshish, and brought golde, and silver, purioe, and apes, and peacockes.

22 So king Salomon excelled all the kings of the earth in riches and wisdom.

23 And all the kings of the earth sought the presence of Salomon, to heare his wisdom that God had put in his heart.

24 And they brought every man his present, vessels of silver, and vessels of golde,
 and rament, armour, & sweet odours,
 hayles, and mules, from pere to pere.

27 And the king gaue silver in Jerusalem, as stones, and gaue cedar trees as the wild figge trees, that are abundant in the plaine.

28 And they brought vnto Salomon hoys
les out of Egypt, and out of all lands.

29 Concerning the rest of the actes of Salomon first and last, are they not written in the booke of Nathian the Prophet, &
in the prophetic of Whiah the Shilonite, and in the visions of ^a Jerbo the Seer against Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat:

30 And Salomon reigned in Jerusalem
ouer all Israel fourtie peeres.

31 And Salomon ^a slept with his fathers,
and they buried him in the cite of Dauid
his father: and Rehoboam his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. X.

4. 1. The rigour of Rehoboam. 13. He followeth his counsell. 16. The people rebell.

1 ^a Then ^b Rehoboam ^c went to Shechem: for to Shechem came all Israel to make him king.

2 And when Jeroboam ^d sonne of Nebat heard it, (which was in Egypt, whither
he had fled from the presence of Salomon
the king) he returned out of Egypt.

3 And they sent and called him: so came Jeroboam and all Israel, and commun-ied with Rehoboam, saying,

4 ^a Thy father ^b made our pokes grieuous:
nowe therefore make thou the grieuous
seruitude of thy father, and his loye pokes, that he ydt vpon vs, lighter, and we will serue thee.

5 And he said to them, Depart yet thyes dapes, then come againe vnto me. And the people departed.

6 And king Rehoboam tooke counsell with the olde men that had stande before Salomon his father, while he yet liued, saying, What counsell giue ye that I may answer this people?

7 And they spake vnto him, saying, If thou be kinde to this people, and please them, and speake louing wordes to them,
they will be thy seruants for ever.

8 But he left the counsell of the ancient men that they had giuen him, and tooke counsell of ^a pong men that were brought vp with him, and ^b waited on him.

9 And he said vnto them, What counsell
giue ye, that we may answer this people, which haue spoken to me, saying, Spake the pokes which thy father had put vpon vs, lighter?

10 And the pong men that were brought vp with him, spake vnto him, saying, Thus shalt thou answer the people that spake to thee, saying, Thy father made our pokes heauie, but make thou it lig-ter: for thus shalt thou say vnto them,

Thy ^a least part shalbe bigger then my fathers lopnes,

11 Nowe where as my father did burden
you with a grieuous pokes, I will yet increase your pokes: my father hath chastissed you with rodde, but I will correct
you with ^b scourges.

12 ^c Then Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam the third day, as the king had appoynted, saying, Come as gaue to me the third day.

13 And the king answered them sharply:
and king Rehoboam left the counsell of the ancient men,

14 And spake to them after the counsell of the pong men, saying, My father made your pokes grieuous, but I will increase
it: my father chastised you with rodde,
but I will correct you with scourges.

15 So the king hearkened not vnto ^a people: for it was the ^b ordynance of God,
that the Lord might perfoyme his saying,
which he had spoken ^c by Whiah ^d Shillonite to Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat.

16 So when all Israel sawe that the king would not heare them, the people answered the king, saying, ^a What portion haue we in Dauid? for we haue none inheritance in the sonne of Ishai. ^b Israel, every man to your tentes: nowe see to thine owne house, Dauid. So all Israel departed to their tentes.

17 Howbeit Rehoboam reigned ouer the children of Israel, that dwelt in the cities of Iudah.

18 Then king Rehoboam sent Yadoam that was ^a ouer the tribute, and the children of Israel stoned him with stones, that he dyed: then king Rehoboam ^b made spede to get him vp to his charret, to flee to Jerusalem.

19 And Israel rebelled against the house of Dauid vnto this day.

CHAP. XI.

4. Rehoboam is forbidden to fight against Jeroboam.
5. Cities which he built. 21. He hath eighteene wives, and threescore concubines, and by them eight and twentie sonnes, and threescore daughters.

^a And ^b when Rehoboam was come to Jerusalem, he gathered of ^c house of Iudah & ^d Benjamin nine scoye thousande chosen men of warre to fight against ^e Israel, & to bring the kingdome
again to Rehoboam.

2 But the word of the Lord came to Shemaiah the man of God, saying,

3 Speake vnto Rehoboam, the sonne of Salomon king

8 And Gath, and Maspha, and Ziph,
9 And Adonai, and Lachish, and Bezek,
10 And Zorah, and Migdal, and Gebon, which were in Judah and Benjamin,
strong cities.

11 And he repaired the strong holdes and put captaines in them, and store of vi-taile, and oyle, and wine.

12 And in all cities he put shieldes and speares, & made them exceeding strong:
so Judah and Benjamin were his.

13 And the priests and the leuites that were in all Israel, rejoyced vnto him out of all their coastes.

14 For the leuites left their suburbs and their possession, and came to Judah and to Jerusalem: for Jeroboam and his somes had cast them out from ministering in the priestes office vnto the Lord.

15 And he ordered him priests for the high places, and for the high places, and for the calues which he had made.

16 And after the leuites there came to Jerusalem of all the tribes of Israel, such as set their hearts to seeke the Lord God of Israel, to offer vnto the Lord God of their fathers.

17 So they strengthened the kingdome of Judah, and made Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon mightie, three yeere long: for three yeere then he walked in the way of Dauid and Salomon.

18 And Rehoboam tooke him Maathai
the daughter of Jeremoth the sonne of Dauid to wife, & Abiah the daughter of Eliab the sonne of Ithai,

19 Which bare him sixe, Ierem, and Sennabai, and Zaban.

20 And after her hee tooke Maakah the daughter of Abiathar which bare him Abiah, and Athai, and Ziza, and Shelonith.

21 And Rehoboam loued Maakah the daughter of Abiathar above all his wives and his concubines: for he tooke eighteen wives, and three score concubines, & begate eight and twentie sonnes,
and three score daughters.

22 And Rehoboam made & Abiah the sonne of Maakah the chiefe ruler among his brethren: for he thought to make him
king.

23 And he taught him: and dispersed all his sonnes throughout all the countreys of Judah and Benjamin vnto euery strong citie: & he gaue them abundance of victualle, and he desired many wives.

CHAP. XII.

1 Rehoboam forsaketh the Lord and is punished by Shishak. 5 Shemaiah reproveth him. 6 He humbled him selfe. 7 God sendeth him succour. 9 Shi-shak taketh his treasures. 13 Hurraim and death.
16 Abiah his sonne succeedeth him.

1 And when Rehoboam had established his kingdome & made it strong,
he forsooke the law of the Lord, &
all Israel with him.

2 Therefore in the fifth yeere of king Rehoboam, Shishak the king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem (because they had transgressed against the Lord)

3 With twelue hundred charrets, & three score thousand horsemen, and the people were without number, that came with him from Egypt, euen pharaohs seruants,
kings, and the Ethiopians.

4 And he tooke strong cities which were of Judah, and came vnto Jerusalem.

5 Then came Shemaiah the prophet to Rehoboam, and to the princes of Judah, that were gathered together in Jerusalem, because of Shishak, and sayde vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, Ye haue forsaken me, therefore haue I also left you in the hands of Shishak.

6 Then the princes of Israel, and the king humbled themselves, and said, The Lord is with us.

7 And when the Lord saw that they humbled themselves, the word of the Lord came to Shemaiah, saying, They haue humbled themselves, therefore I will not destroy them, but I will sende them deli-uerance shortly, and my wrath shall not be poynted out vpon Jerusalem by the hand of Shishak.

8 Neuerthelesse they shalbe his seruants:
for shall they knowe my seruice, and the seruice of the kingdomes of the earth.

9 The Shishak king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem, & tooke the treasures of the house of the Lord, & the treasures of the kings house: he tooke euen all, and he carped away shields of gold: which Salomon had made.

10 In stead whereof king Rehoboam made shields of brasse, and committed them to the hands of the chiefe of the garde, that watched at the doore of the kings house.

11 And when Shishak entred into the house of the Lord, the garde came and bare them and brought them againe vnto the garde chamber.

12 And because he humbled him selfe, the wrath of the Lord turned from him, that he woulde not destroy all together. And also in Judah the things prospered.

13 So king Rehoboam was strong in Jerusalem: & reigned for Rehoboam was one and foure yeere olde, when he began to reigne, and reigned & senenteene yeeres in Jerusalem, the citie which the Lord had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel to put his name there. And his mothers name was Maathai an Am-monitess.

14 And he did evil: for he prepared not his heart to seeke the Lord.

15 The actes also of Rehoboam, first & last,
are they not written in the booke of Shemaiah the prophet, and Iddo the seer, in rehearsing the genealogie: &
there was warre alway betwene Rehoboam and Jeroboam.

16 And Rehoboam slept with his fathers, and was buried in the citie of Dauid, &
Abiah his sonne reigned in his stead.

1 In the eighteenth pere of king Ieroboam began Abiiah to reigne ouer Iudah. 2 He reigned thre pere in Ierusalem: (his mothers name also was 3 Michaiah the daughter of Amiel of Gibe) & there was warre betwene Abiiah and Ieroboam. And Abiiah set his battel in aray with the army of valiant men of warre, even foure hundred thousand chosen men. Ieroboam also set the battel in aray against him with eight hundred thousand chosen men which were strong and valiant. 4 And Abiiah stood by upon mount Zemaraim, which is in mount Ephraim, and sayde, O Ieroboam, and al Israel, heare you me, 5 Ought you not to know the Lord God of Israel hath giuen the kingdome ouer Israel to Dauid for euer, euen to him and to his sonnes by a couenant of salt? 6 And Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat the seruant of Solomon the sonne of Dauid is risen vp, & hath rebelled against his lord: 7 And there are gathered to him seuene men and twelue, and made themselves strong against Ieroboam the sonne of Solomon: for Ieroboam was but a child & reuerend hearted, & could not resist them. 8 Nowe therefore ye thinke that ye be able to resist against the kingdom of the Lord, which is in the hands of the sonnes of Dauid, and ye be a great multitude, and the golden calves are with you which Ieroboam made you for gods. 9 Yane ye not diuine away the priestes of the Lord the sonnes of Aaron and the Leuites, and haue made you priestes like the people of other countreys: whosoever cometh to consecrate with a pong bullocke and seuen rams, the same may be a priest of them that are no gods. 10 But we belong vnto the Lord our God, and haue not forsaken him: & the Priests the sonnes of Aaron minister vnto the Lord, and the Leuites in their office. 11 And they burne vnto the Lord euery morning and euery evening burne of fringes and sweete incense, and the bread is set in order vpon the pure table, and the candlesticke of golde with the lampes thereof, to burne euery evening: for we keepe the watch of the Lord our God: but ye haue forsaken him, 12 And behold, this God is with vs, as a captain, and his Priests with the sounding trumpets, to crye an alarme against you. O ye children of Israel, fight not against the Lord God of your fathers: for ye shal not prosper. 13 But Ieroboam caused an ambusher to compasse, and come behinde them, when they were before Iudah, and the ambusher behinde them. 14 Then Iudah looked, and beholde, the battel was before and behinde them, and they cried vnto the Lord, and the Priests 15 blewe with the trumpets, and the men of Iudah gane a shout: and euen as the men of Iudah shouted, God smote Ieroboam and also Israel before Abiiah and Iudah. 16 And the childre of Israel fled before Iudah and God deliuered them into their hand. 17 And Abiiah and his people slew a great slaughter of them, so that there set downe wounded of Israel fene hundred thousand chosen men. 18 So the childre of Israel were brought vnder at that time: and the childre of Iudah persuaded, because they staid vpon the Lord God of their fathers. 19 And Abiiah pursued after Ieroboam, & took cities from him, euen Beth-el, and the villages thereof, and Jeshamah with her villages, and Ephion with her villages. 20 And Ieroboam recovered no strength againe in the daies of Abiiah, but the Lord plagued him, and he died. 21 So Abiiah ward mightie, and married fourteen wiues, and begat twelve sonnes, and sixteen daughters. 22 The rest of the actes of Abiiah, and his manners and his sayings, are written in the storie of the Prophet Iddo.
C H A P. XLIII.

1 Asa destroyed idolatrie and commandeth his people to serue the true God. 2 He prayeth vnto God whi he should go to fight. 3 He obtineth the victorie. 4 Asa buildeth vpon the altar of the Lord. 5 He buildeth strong cities in Iudah, because the land was in rest, and hee had no warre in those partes: for the Lord had giuen him rest. 6 Therefore he said to Iudah, Let vs build these cities and make wallis about, and towres, gates, & barres, wyles the land is before vs: because we haue sought the Lord our God, we haue fought him, and he hath giue vs rest on euery side: so they build and prospered. 7 And Asa had an armie of Iudah 400 thousand men. 8 And there came our against them Zerah of Ethiopia with an hoste of ten hundred thousand, and three hundred chariots, and came vnto Marthah. 9 Then Asa went out before him, and they set the battel in aray in the valley of Marthah beside Marthah. 10 And Asa cried vnto the Lord his God, and

11 He sheweth that the slaye of al kingdomes & assurance of victories depende vpon our trust and confidence in the Lord. 12 Ebr. daughters 13 Which were planted contrary to the Lawe, Deut. 16. 21. 14 He sheweth that the rest and quietnes of kingdomes standeth in abolishing idolatrie, and aduancing true religion. 15 Whiles were the fulg vernement thereof. 16 The King of Ethiopia or E-rah 17 Which was a citie in Iudah, Iosh. 24. 44 18 where Michaiah the Prophet was borne.

19 As it was appointed in the Law, Exod. 29. 39. 20 Because their enue was good and approved by the Lorde, they doubted not of the successe and victorie. 21 Concerning the good counsel which came of the spirit of God, he thought to haue overcome by deceit.

f Thus the children of God neither trust their owne power or policie, neither feare y strength and subtiltie of their enemies, but consider the cause & see whether their enterprises tend to Gods glory, and thereupon assure themselves of y victorie by him, which is only almightie, and can turn al flesh into dust with the breath of his mouth.

g The Lord had striken them with feare.

a Who was called Obed, as his father was, verſ. 8.

b For the space of twelve yerres vnder Rehobom, and three yerres vnder Aſaiah, religion was neglected and idolatrie planted.

c He sheweth, that notwithstanding the wickednes of tyrants and their rage, yet God hath his, whome he heareth in their tribulation, as he deliuered his from Zerach king of the Ethiopians, Chap. 14. 9, 12, and out of all other dangers, whē they called vpon the Lord.

d Your confidence and trust in God shall not be frustrate. e Called Shisan, conceining part of May and part of Iune.

12 ¶ So the Lojbe smote the Ethiopians before Aſa and before Judah, and the Ethiopians fled.

13 And Aſa and the people that was with him, pursued them vnto Gerar. And the Ethiopians holde was ouertowen, so that there was no life in them: for they were destroyed before the Lojbe and before his hostes: and they caried away a mightie great spoile.

14 And they smote all the cities rounde about Gerar: for the s frare of the Lojbe came vpon them, and they spoiled all the cities, for they were exceeding much spoile in them.

15 And they smote the tents of cattell, and caried away plentie of sheepe and camels, and returned to Jerusalem.

CHAP. XV.

1 The exhortation of Aſaiah, 8 Aſa purgeth his country of idolatrie. 11 He sacrificeth with the people. 14 They iure together to serue the Lord. 16 He depreceth his mother for her idolatrie.

¶ When the Spirit of God came vpon Aſaiah the sonne of Obed.

2 And he went out to inſtre Aſa and ſapd vnto him, o Aſa, and al Judah, and Beniamin, heare me. The Lojbe is with you, while pe be with him: and if pe ſeke him, he will be found of you, but if pe forſake him, he will forſake you.

3 Nowe for a long season Iſrael hath bene without the true God, without Priest to teach, and without Lawe.

4 But whoſoeuer returned in his affliction to the Lojbe God of Iſrael, and sought him, he was found of them.

5 And in that time there was no peace to him, that did go out and goe in: but great troubles were to al the inhabitants of the earth.

6 For nation was destroyed of nation, and cite of cite: for God troubled them with al aduerſitie.

7 Be ye strong therefore, and let not your handes be weak: for pourd woyle shall haue a reward.

8 ¶ And when Aſa heard theſe wordes, and the prophetic of Obed the Prophet, he was encouraged, and took away the abominations out of all the land of Judah, and Beniamin, and out of the cities which he had taken of mount Ephraim, and he renewed the altar of the Lojbe, that was before the porch of the Lojbe.

9 And hee gathered all Judah and Beniamin, and the strangers with them out of Ephraim, and Manasseh, and out of Simeon: for theyr fell many to him out of Iſrael, when they ſawe that the Lojbe his God was with him.

10 So they assembled to Jerusalem in the third moneth, in the ſixtieth yere of the reigne of Aſa.

11 And they offered vnto the Lojbe the same time of ſacrifice, which they had brought, euen ſeven hundred bullockes, and ſeven thousand ſheep.

12 And they made a covenant to ſeke the Lojbe God of their fathers, with al their heart, and with al their ſoule.

13 And whoſoeuer will not ſeke the Lojbe God of Iſrael, ſhall be ſlaine, whether he were ſinall or great, man or woman.

14 And they ſware vnto the Lojbe with a ſoude voyce, and with ſhoutiug and with trumpets, and with corynets.

15 And al Judah reioyced at theſe: for they had ſworne vnto the Lojbe with al their heart, and ſought him with a whole deſire, and hee was found of them. And the Lojbe gaue them reſt round about.

16 ¶ And king Aſa deposed Maacha his mother from her regencie, becauſe ſhe had made an iſole in a grone: and Aſa brake downe her iſole, and ſlamped it, and burnt it at the bycke Midyon.

17 But the high places were not taken away out of Iſrael: yet the heart of Aſa was perfect al his daies.

18 Aſa hee brought into the houſe of God the thinges that his father had dedicate, and that hee had dedicate, ſilver, and gold, and velleſſe.

19 And there was no warre vnto the ſixe and thirtieth yere of the reigne of Aſa.

k Which partly came through lacke of zeale in him, partly through the negligence of his officers, & partly by the ſuperſtition of y people, y al were not taken away. l Becauſe that God was called the God of Iſrael by reaſon of his promes to Isaiah: therefore Iſrael is ſometime taken for Judah, becauſe Judah was his chiefe people. m In reſpect of his predeceſſours.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Aſa for feare of Baasha King of Iſrael, maketh a covenant with Benhadad King of Ararn. 7 He is repayed by the Prophet. 10 Uſham hee putteth in priſon. 12 He putteth his truſt in the Phyſicians. 13 His death.

¶ The ſixe and thirtieth yere of the reigne of Aſa came: Baasha King of Iſrael bp againſt Judah, & built Maachah to let none paſſe out or goe into Maachah king of Judah.

2 Then Aſa brought out ſilver and golde out of the treaſuries of the houſe of the Lojbe, and of the kings houſe, and ſent to Benhadad king of Ararn that dwelt at Maanaſſus, ſaying,

3 There is a covenant betweene me and thee, and betwene my father and thy father: behold, I haue ſent thee ſilver and golde: come, & breake thy league w Baasha king of Iſrael that hee may depart from me.

4 And Benhadad hearkened vnto King Aſa, and ſent the captaynes of the armies which hee had, againſt the cities of Iſrael. And they ſmote Tion, and Dan, and Abel-maim, and al the ſtoye cities of Maachah.

5 And when Baasha heard it, hee left building of Maachah, and let his woyle ceaſe.

6 Then Aſa the king tooke all Judah, and caried away the ſtones of Maachah, and

and the timber thereof, wherewith Aasha did build, and he built therewith Ge-da and Chisphah.

7 And at that same time Hanani the seer came to Aha king of Iudah, and sayde unto him, Because thou hast rested upon the king of Iram, and not rested
in the Loyde thy God, therefore is the hoste of the king of Iram escaped out of thine
hand.

8 The Ethiopians and the Lubims, were they not a great hoste with charres and boyssmen, exceeding many? yet because thou diddest rest upon the Loyde, he delivered them into thine hand.

9 For the eyes of the Loyd behold all the earth: to shew him selfe strong with them
that are of perfect heart towards him:
thou halt them done foolishly in this:
therefore from henceforth thou shalt have warres.

10 Then Aha was wroth with the seer, and put him into a prison: for he was displeased with him, because of this thing. And Aha oppressed certaine of the people at the same time.

11 And beholde, the acres of Aha first and last, for, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Iudah and Israel.

12 And Aha in the nine and thirtieth yere
of his reigne was diseased in his feete,
and his disease was extreme: yet he sought not the Loyd in his disease, but to the physicians.

13 So Aha slept with his fathers, & died in the one and fourtieth yere of his reigne.

14 And they buried him in one of his se-pulchres, which he had made for him
selfe in the cite of David, and layde him in the bedde, which they had filled with sweete odours and divers kindes of spices, made by the arte of the Apothecarie:
& they burnt odours for him with an exceeding great fire.

CHAP. XVII.

Iehothaphat trusting in the Lord, prospereth in riches and honour. 6 He abolisheth idolatrie, 7 And causeth the people to be taught. 11 He receiveth
tributes of strangers, 13 He multiplieth, and men of warre.

1 Aha Iehothaphat his sonne reigned in his steade, and was anointed against Israel.

2 And he put garisons in all the strong cities of Iudah, and set bands in the land of Iudah and in the cities of Ephraim,
which Aha his father had taken.

3 And the Loyde was with Iehothaphat, because he walked in the first wayes of his father David, & sought not Baalim, 4 But sought the Loyd God of his father, and walked in his commandments, and not after the trade of Israel.

5 Therefore the Loyd stablished the kingdome in his hande, & all Iudah brought presents to Iehothaphat, so that he had of riches and honour in abundance.

6 And he lift up his heart unto the waies of the Loyde, and he took away moynner the hye places and the groves out of Iudah.

7 And in the third yere of his reigne he sent his princes, Ben-hail, and Obadiah, and Zachariah, and Jerahmeel, and Mashalah, that they shoulde search in the cities of Iudah,

8 And with them Leuites, Shemaiah, &
Jethaviah, and Zebadiah, and Shaphan, and Shemiramoth, & Jehonathan, and Nodiah, and Tobiah, and Tob-adoni-ah, Leuites, and with them Elihana and Jehozan Hieres.

9 And they taught in Iudah, and had the booke of the Law of the Loyd with them,
and went about throughout all the cities of Iudah, and taught the people.

10 And the feare of the Loyde fell upon all the kingdomes of the landes that were rounde about Iudah, and they fought not against Iehothaphat.

11 And some of the Chaldeans brought Je-thaphat giftes and tribute silver, and the Arabians brought him flockes, seven thousande and seven hundred raimens, and seven thousande and seven hundred bee goates.

12 So Iehothaphat prospered and grew up on his: and he built in Iudah palaces and cities of stone.

13 And he had great woynes in the citie
of Iudah, and men of warre, and valiant men in Jerusalem.

14 And these are the numbers of them after he house of their fathers, In Iudah were captaynes of thousandes, Nabah the captaine, and with him valiant men
three hundred thousand.

15 And at his hande Jehohanan a captaine, & with him two hundred & foures-core thousande.

16 And at his hande Amasai the sonne of Zichri, which willingly offered himselfe unto the Loyde, and with him two hundred thousand valiant men.

17 And of Benjamin, Eliaba a valiant man, and with him armed men with bow and shield two hundred thousand.

18 And at his hande Jehozabab, and with him an hundred & fourescore thousand armed to the warre.

19 These waited on the king, besides those which the king put in the strong cities throughout all Iudah.

people as thy people, and we will joyne with thee in the warre.

4 And Jehoshaphat said unto the king of Israel, Aske counsel. I pray thee, at the word of the Lord this day.

5 Therefore the king of Israel gathered of prophets foure hundred men, and said unto them, Shall we goe to Ramoth Gilead to battell, or shall I cease? And they said, Go up: for God shall deliuer it into the kings hand.

6 But Jehoshaphat sayde, Is there here neuer a Prophet more of the Lord that we might inquire of him?

7 And the king of Israel said unto Jehoshaphat, There is yet one man, by whom we may aske the counsell of the Lord, but I hate him: for he doth not prophesie good unto me, but alway euill: it is Michaiah the sonne of Iulia. Then Jehoshaphat said, Let not the king say so.

8 And the king of Israel called an eunuche, and saide, Call quickly Michaiah the sonne of Iulia.

9 And the king of Israel, and Jehoshaphat king of Iudah sate either of them on his thorne clothed in their apparell: they sate euen in the theying stoope at the entering in of the gate of Samaria: and all the prophets prophesied before them.

10 And Zibiah the sonne of Chenaanah made him ioyures of pylon, and sayde, Thus saith the Lord, With these shalt thou push the Aramites until thou hast consumed them.

11 And all the prophets prophesied so, saying, Go up to Ramoth Gilead, and prosper: for the Lord shall deliuer it into the hand of the king.

12 And the messenger that went to call Michaiah, spake to him, saying, Behold, the wordes of the prophets declare good to the king with one accord: let the word therefore, I pray thee, be like one of theirs, and speake thou good.

13 And Michaiah said, As the Lord liueth, whatsoener my God saith, that will I speake.

14 So he came to the king, and the king said unto him, Michaiah, shall we goe to Ramoth Gilead to battell, or shall I leane off? And he sayde, I see pe vp, and prosper, and they shall be deliuered into your hand.

15 And the king said to him, How oft shall I charge thee, that thou tel me nothing but the truth in the name of the Lord?

16 Then he said, I saw all Israel scattered in the mountaines, as sheepe that haue no shepheard: and the Lord said, There shall be no matter: let them returne euery man to his house in peace.

17 And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, Did I not tell thee, that he would be not prophesie good unto me, but euill?

18 Again he said, Therefore heare ye the word of the Lord: I saw the Lord sit vpon his throne, and all the host of heauen standing at his right hand, and at his left.

19 And the Lord sayde, Who shall persuade Ahab king of Israel, that he may goe up and fall at Ramoth Gilead? And one spake and sayde thus, and another said that.

20 Then there came forth a spirit & stood before the Lord, and sayde, I will persuade him. And the Lord said unto him, Wherein?

21 And he said, I will go out, and be a false spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And he sayde, Thou shalt persuade, and thou shalt also prevail: goe forth and doe so.

22 Howe therefore beholde, the Lord hath put a false spirit in the mouth of these prophets, and the Lord hath determined euill against thee.

23 Then Zibiah the sonne of Chenaanah came neere, and smote Michaiah vpon the cheekes, & sayde, As what way went the spirit of the Lord from me, to speake with thee?

24 And Michaiah sayde, Beholde, thou shalt see that daie when thou shalt goe from chamber to chamber to hide thee.

25 And the king of Israel said, Take ye Michaiah, and carry him to Amon the gouernour of the citie, and to Joash the kings sonne.

26 And say, Thus saith the king, Put this man in the prison house, and feede him with bread of affliction and with water of affliction until I returne in peace.

27 And Michaiah sayde, If thou returne in peace, the Lord hath not spoken by me. And he said, Heare, all ye people.

28 So the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat the king of Iudah went by to Ramoth Gilead.

29 And the king of Israel said unto Jehoshaphat, I will change my selfe, and enter into the battell: but put thou on thine apparell. So the king of Israel changed himselfe, and they went into the battell.

30 And the king of Aram had commanded the captaynes of the charrets that were with him, saying, Fight you not with Israel nor great, but against the king of Israel onely.

31 And when the captaynes of the charrets sawe Jehoshaphat, they sayde, It is the king of Israel: and they compassed about him to fight. But Jehoshaphat cried, and the Lord helped him: & he moved them to depart from him.

32 For when the captaynes of the charrets sawe that he was not the king of Israel, they turned backe from him.

33 Then a certaine man diuer a bowe mightily, and smote the king of Israel betweene the ioynts of his bigaundine: therefore he said to his charreman, Turne thine hand, and carry me out of the holle: for I am hurt.

34 And the battell increased that day: the king of Israel stode still in his charret against the Aramites until euen, and died at the time of the sunne going downe.

CHAP. XIX.

18 ¶ Then Iehoshaphat bowed before the face of the earth, and all Iudah & the inhabitants of Ierusalem fell down before the Lord, worshipping the Lord.

19 And he sent forth the children of the Kohathites, and of the children of the Levites, that they should stand up to praise the Lord God of Israel with a loud voice on his.

20 And when they arose early in the morning, they went forth to the wilderness of Berboa: & as they departed, Iehoshaphat stood and said, Heare ye me, O Iudah, and ye inhabitants of Ierusalem: put your trust in the Lord your God, and ye shall be assured: because his Prophets, and he shall prosper.

21 And when he had consulted with the people, and appointed singers unto the Lord, and when they sang him that is in the beautiful Sanctuary, in going forth before the men of armies, and saying, O Praise ye the Lord, for his mercies are laetish for ever.

22 And when they began to shoute, and to praise, the Lord laped ambushments against the children of Ammon, Moab, and Mount Seir, which were come against Iudah, and they slew one another.

23 For the children of Ammon and Moab rose against the inhabitants of mount Seir, to slay & to destroy them: and when they had made an end of the inhabitants of Seir, every one helped to destroy an other.

24 And when Iehoshaphat came toward Spisay in the wilderness, they looked unto the multitude: and behold, & carriages were fallen to the earth, and none escaped.

25 And when Iehoshaphat and his people came to take away the spoile of them, they founde among them in abundance both of substance and also of bodies laden with precious iewels, which they rooke for themselves, till they could carrie no more: there were thine daies in gathering of the spoile: for it was much.

26 And in the fourth day they assembled them selves in the valley of Serachah: for thence they blessed the Lord: therefore they called the name of that place, The valley of Serachah unto this day.

27 Then every man of Iudah and Ierusalem returned with Iehoshaphat their head, to goe againe to Ierusalem with joy: for the Lord had made them to reioyce over their enemies.

28 And they came to Ierusalem with violas, and with harpes, and with trumpets, even unto the house of the Lord.

29 And the feare of God was upon all the kingdomes of the earth, when they had heard that the Lord had fought against the enemies of Israel.

30 So the kingdome of Iehoshaphat was quiet, and his God gave him rest on every side.

31 ¶ And Iehoshaphat reigned over Iudah, and was six and thirtie yere olde, when he began to reigne: & reigned five and twentie yere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Iehovah the daughter ter of Shilhi.

32 And he walked in the way of Asa his father, and departed not therefrom, doing that which was right in the sight of the Lord.

33 Howbeit his places were not taken away: for the people had not yet prepared their heartes unto the God of their fathers.

34 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iehoshaphat first and last, behold, they are written in the booke of Iehu the sonne of Hanani, which is mentioned in the booke of the kings of Israel.

35 ¶ Yet after this did Iehoshaphat king of Iudah tope himself with Asariah king of Israel, who was given to do evil.

36 And he ioyned with him, to make thippes to goe to Carthib: and they made thippes in Ezion Gaber.

37 Then Eliezer the sonne of Dodanah spake thus to Iehoshaphat, saying, Because thou hast ioyned thy self with Asariah, the Lord hath broken thy workes, and the thips were broken, that they were not able to goe to Carthib.

4 ¶ And Iehojam rose up upon the kingdome of his father, & made himself strong, and slew all his brethren in the sword, and also of the yunges of Israel.

5 Iehojam was two and thirtie yere old, when he began to reigne, and he reigned eight yere in Ierusalem.

6 And he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, as the house of Asa had done: for he had the daughter of Asa to wife, and he wrought evil in the eyes of the Lord.

7 Howbeit the Lord would not destroy the house of David, because of the covenants that he had made with David, and because he had promised to give a light to him, and to his sonnes for ever.

8 ¶ In his dayes Obadiah rebelled from under the hand of Iudah, and made a king over them.

of the houses of David.

4 This is it that ye shall doe, The thirde part of you that come on the Sabbath of the Whistles, and the Levites, shalbe portion of the doores.

5 And another third part toward the kings house, and another third part at the * gate of the foundation, & all the people shalbe
in the courts of the house of the Lord.

6 But let none come into the house of the Lord, save the Whistles, and the Levites that minister: they shall go in, for they are holie: but all the people shall keepe the watch of the Lord.

7 And the Levites shall compass the king round about, and every man with his weapon in his hand, and he that entred
into the house, shalbe slaine, and be you with the king, when he cometh in, and when he goeth out.

8 So the Levites and all Judah did according to all things that Jehoiada the Priest had commanded, and tooke every man his men that came on the Sabbath, with them that went out on the Sabbath: for Jehoiada the Priest did not discharge the courses.

9 And Jehoiada the Priest delivered to the captaines of hundredes speares, and shields, & bucklers which had bene king
Dauids, and were in the house of God.

10 And he caused all the people to stande
(every man with his weapon in his hand)
from the right side of the house, to the left side of the house by the altar and by the house round about the king.

11 Then they brought out the kings sonne, and put upon him the crowne and gave him the testimony, and made him king.
And Jehoiada and his sonnes anoynted
him, and said, God save the King.

12 But when Athaliah heard the noyse of the people running and playing the king, she came to the people into the house of the Lord.

13 And when she looked, behold, the king stood by his pillar at the entring in, & the princes & the trumpets by the king, and all the people of the land reioiced, & blew
the trumpets, and the singers were with instruments of musike, & they that could sing psalms: then Athaliah rent her clothes,
and said, Treason, treason.

14 Then Jehoiada the Priest brought out the captaines of hundredes that were governours of the hoste, and said unto them, Cause her forth of the ranges, and be that followeth her, let him die by the sword: for the Priest had said, Slay her not in the house of the Lord.

15 So they laid hands on her: & when she was come to the turning of the hogewate
by the kings house, they slawe her there.

16 And Jehoiada made a covenant betweene him, and all the people, & the king,
that they would be the Lords people.

17 And all the people went to the house of Baal, and destroyed it, & made his altars and his images, and drew = Spantan

the priest of Baal before the altars.

18 And Jehoiada appointed officers for the house of the Lord, under the hands of the Whistles and Levites, whom David had distributed for the house of the Lord,
to offer burnt offerings unto the Lord,
* as it is written in the Lawe of Moses, Num. 21,
with reioicing & singing by the appointment of David.

19 And he set porters by the gates of the house of the Lord, that none that was uncleane in any thing, should enter in.

20 And hee tooke the captaines of hundreds, and the noble men, and the gover-nours of the people, and all the people of the land, and he caused the king to come downe out of the house of the Lord, and they went through = the chief gate of the 3 And Jehoiada * tooke him two wives, and he begate sonnes and daughters.

4 And afterwarde it came into Joahs

5 And hee assembled the Whistles and the Levites, and said to them, Goe out unto the cities of Judah, & gather of all Je-rael money to repaire the house of your God, from peece to peece, and haile the thing: but the Levites hastied not.

6 Therefore the king called Jehoiada the chiefe, & said unto him, What hast thou not required of the Levites to bring in the 10 So Amaziah separated them, to wit, the armie that was come to him out of Ephraim, to returne to their place: wherefores their wrath was kindled greatly against Iudah, and they returned to their places with great anger.

11 Then Amaziah was encouraged, and led forth his people, and went to the Gilballe, and smote of the children of Seir, tenthousand.

12 And other ten thousand did the children of Iudah take aloue, and caried them to the toppes of a rocke, and caft them down from the toppes of the rocke, and they all burst to peeces.

13 But the men of the armie, which Amaziah sent away, that they shoulde not goe with his people to battell, fell vpon the cities of Iudah from Samaria vnto Beth-hogon, and smote thre thousand of them, and tooke much spoyle.

14 Now after that Amaziah was come from the slaughter of the Edomites, hee brought the gods of the children of Seir, and let them by to be his gods, and woxen shipped them, and burned incense vnto them.

15 Wherefore the Lord was wroth with Amaziah, and sent vnto him a Prophet, which sayde vnto him, Why hast thou sought gods of the people, which were not able to deliuer their owne people out of thine hand?

side of the buriall, which pertained to the kings: for they sayd, ^o He is a leper.
And Iotham his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Iotham reigned, & overcame the Ammonites,
8 ^p He reigne and death. 9 ^q Ahaz, his sonne reigned in his stead.

1 Iotham was fine and twentie yeere old when he began to reigne, and reigned sixtene yeere in Jerusalem, and his mothers name was Jerushah the daughter of Adah.

2 And hee did by night in the sight of the Lorde according to all that his father Izziah did, save that hee entered not into the Temple of the Lorde, and the people did per ^r corrupt their wayes.

3 He built the high gate of the house of the Lorde, and hee built very much on the wall of the castell.

4 Whereas hee built cities in the moun-taines of Iudah, & in the forests hee built palaces and towres.

5 And he fought with the king of the children of Ammon, and prevailed against them. And the children of Ammon gave him the same yeere an hundred talents of silver, and tenne thousand ^s measures of wheate, and ten thousand of barley: this did ^t children of Ammon give him both in the second yeere and the third.

6 So Iotham became mightie ^u because hee directed his way before the Lorde his God.

7 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iotham,
and all his warres and his wayes,
see, they are written in the booke of the kings of Israel and Iudah.

8 He was fine and twentie yeere olde when he began to reigne, and reigned sixtene

they buried him in the cite of David: and Ahaz his sonne reigned in his stead.

His death and successour.

1 Ahaz was twentie yeere olde when he rightly in the sight of the Lorde, like Da-uid his father.

2 But hee walked in the wayes of the kings of Israel and made enen molten images for ^y Baalim.

3 Whereas hee burnt incense in the valley of Ben-hinnom, and ^z burnt his sonnes with fire, after the abominations of the heathen whome the Lorde had cast out before the children of Israel.

4 Hee sacrificed also and burnt incense in the high places, and on hills, and under burnt offerings in the Sanctuary unto the God of Israel.

8 ^d Wherefore the wrath of the Lord hath been on Judah & Jerusalem: & he hath made them a scattering, a desolation, and an hissing, as ye see with your eyes.

9 For to, our fathers are fallen by sword, and our wives, and our daughters, and our wives are in captivity for the same cause.

10 Now ^e I purpose to make a covenant with the Lord God of Israel, that he may turn away his fierce wrath from us.

11 Show me, sonnes, be not deceived: for the Lord hath chosen you to stand before him, to serve him, and to be his ministers, and to burn incense.

12 ¶ Then the Levites arose, Shaphath the sonne of Amasai, and Joel the sonne of Hariah the sonnes of the Kohathites: & of the sonnes of Merari, with the sonne of Abdi, and Hariah the sonne of Jehalel: and of the Gerthmites, Joah the sonne of Zenuah, and Eden the sonne of Joah:

13 And of the sonnes of Elisaphan, Shimri, and Jehiel: & of the sonnes of Alaph, Zechanah, and Mattaniah:

14 And of the sonnes of Yeman, Jehiel, and Shimel: and of the sonnes of Jeduthun, Shemaiah, and Bziel.

15 And they gathered their brethren, and sanctified themselves, as came according to the commandment of the king, and by the wordes of the Lord, for to cleanse the house of the Lord.

16 And the Priests went into the inner partes of the house of the Lord, to cleanse it, & brought out all the uncleannes that they founde in the Temple of the Lord, into the court of the house of the Lord: and the Levites took it, to carie it out unto the brooke Kidron.

17 They began the first day of the first moneth to sanctifie it, & the eight day of the moneth came they to the porch of the Lord: so they sanctified the house of the Lord in eight dayes, and in the thirtieth day of the first moneth they made an ende.

18 ¶ Then they went in to Hezekiah the king, & said, We have cleansed all the house of the Lord & the altar of burnt offering, with all the vessels thereof, and the shewbread table, with all the vessels thereof.

19 And all the vessels which king Achaz had cast away when he reigned, and transgressed, have we prepared and sanctified: and behold, they are before the altar of the Lord.

20 ¶ And Hezekiah the king rose early, and gathered the princes of the citie, and went up to the house of the Lord.

21 And they brought seven bullockes, and seven rams, and seven lambs, and seven he goats, for a sinne offering for the kingdome, and for the Sanctuary, and for Judah. And he commanded the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the Lord.

22 So they slew the bullockes, and the Priests received the blood, and sprinkled

it upon the altar: they slew also the rams, and sprinkled the blood upon the altar, & they slew the lambs, and they sprinkled the blood upon the altar.

23 Then they brought the he goats for the sinne offering before the king and the Congregation, and they layed their hands upon them.

24 And the Priests slew them, and with the blood of them they cleansed the altar to reconcile all Israel: for the king had commanded for all Israel the burnt offering and the sinne offering.

25 Hee appointed also the Levites in the house of the Lord with cymbales, with tympanes, and with harpes, according to the commandment of David, and God the kings Seer, and Asaph the Prophet: for the commandment was by the hand of the Lord, and by the hand of his Prophets.

26 And the Levites stood with the instruments of David, and the Priests with the trumpets.

27 And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt offering upon the altar: and man, but it was when the burnt offering began, the song of the Lord began with the trumpets, and the instruments of David king of Israel.

28 And all the Congregation worshipped, singing a song, and they blew the trumpets: all this continued untill the burnt offering was finished.

29 And when they had made an ende of offering, the king and all that were present with him, bowed them selves, and worshipped.

30 ¶ Then Hezekiah the king & the princes commanded the Levites to playe the Lord with the wordes of David, and of Asaph the Seer. So they played with pipe, and they bowed them selves, and worshipped.

31 And Hezekiah spake, and said, Now we have consecrated our selves to the Lord: come nere and bring the sacrifices, and offerings of praise into the house of the Lord. And the Congregation brought sacrifices, and offerings of praises, and every man that was willing in heart, offered burnt offerings.

32 And the number of the burnt offerings, which the Congregation brought, was sevenie bullockes, an hundred rams, and two hundred lambs: all these were for a burnt offering to the Lord.

33 And for a sanctification five hundred bullockes, and three thousand sheepe.

34 But the Priests were so few, & were not able to slay all the burnt offerings: therefore their brethren the Levites did helpe them, till they had ended the worke, & untill other Priests were sanctified: for the Levites were more upright in heart to sanctifie themselves, then the Priests.

35 And also the burnt offerings were many: with the fat of the peace offerings, and the drinke offerings for the burnt offering. So the service of the house of the Lord was set in order.

That is, the king and the Elders, as Levit. 4. 15, for they that offered a sinne offering, must lay their hands upon it, to signifye that they had deserved that death, and also that they did consecrate it to God to be thereby sanctified, Exod. 29. 10.

C H A P. XXX.

1, 13 The keeping of the Passover by the kings commandment. 6 He exhorteth Israel to imitate the Lords. 18 He prayeth for the people. 24 He oblation and the prince. 27 The Levites bless the people.

1 And Hezekiah sent to all Israel, and Judah, and also wrote letters to Ephraim and Manasseh, that they should come to the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, to keep the Passover unto the Lord God of Israel.

2 And the king and his princes and all the Congregation had taken counsell in Jerusalem, to keep the Passover in the second month.

3 For they could not keep it at this time, because there were not sufficient priests sanctified, neither was the people gathered to Jerusalem.

4 And the thing pleased the king, and all the Congregation.

5 And they decreed to make proclamation throughout all Israel from Beer Sheva even to Dan, that they should come to keep the Passover unto the Lord God of Israel at Jerusalem: for they had not done it of a great time, as it was written.

6 So the postes went with letters by the commission of the king, and his princes, throughout all Israel and Judah, & with the commandment of the king, saying, Ye children of Israel, turne againe unto the Lord God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and he will returne to the remnant that are escaped of you, out of the hands of the kings of Asshur.

7 And be not ye like your fathers, and like your brethren, which trespassed against the Lord God of their fathers: and therefore he made them desolate, as ye see.

8 Be not ye now stiffnecked like your fathers, but give the hand to the Lord, and come into his Sanctuary, which he hath sanctified for ever, & serve the Lord your God, and the fiercenes of his wrath shall turne away from you.

9 For if ye returne unto the Lord, your brethren and your children shall finde mercie before them that led them captives, and they shall returne unto this land: for the Lord your God is gracious & mercifull, and will not turne away his face from you, if ye convert unto him.

10 So the postes went from citie to citie through the land of Ephraim & Manasseh, eue unto Zebulun: but they laughed them to scorn, and mocked them.

11 Nevertheless divers of Asher, and Manasseh, and of Zebulun submitted themselves, and came to Jerusalem.

12 And the hand of God was in Judah, so that he gave them one heart to doe the commandment of the king, and of the rulers, according to the words of the Lord.

13 And there assembled to Jerusalem much people, to keepe the feast of the unleavened bread in the second moneth, a very great assemblie.

14 And they arose, and tooke away the altars that were in Jerusalem: and all those that were incense took they away, and cast them into the brooke Kidron.

15 Afterward they slew the Passover the fourteenth day of the second moneth: and the priests and Levites were ashamed, and sanctified themselves, and brought the burnt offerings into the house of the Lord.

16 And they stood in their place after their manner, according to the Lawe of Moses the man of God: and the priests sprinkled the blood, receiued of the hands of the Levites.

17 Because there were many in the Congregation that were not sanctified, therefore the Levites had the charge of the killing of the Passover for all that were not cleane, to sanctifie it to the Lord.

18 For a multitude of people, eue a multitude of Ephraim, and Manasseh, Issachar and Zebulun had not cleued themselves, yet did eate the Passover, but not as it was written: wherefore Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, The good Lord be mercifull toward him,

19 That he prepareth his whole heart to seek the Lord God, the God of his fathers, though he be not cleued, according to the purification of the Sanctuary.

20 And the Lord heard Hezekiah, & healed the people.

21 And the children of Israel that were present at Jerusalem, kept the feast of the unleavened bread seven dayes with great ioy, and the Levites, & the priests praised the Lord, day by day, singing with lowde instruments unto the Lord.

22 And Hezekiah spake comfortably vnto all the Levites that had good knowledge to sing vnto the Lord: and they did rate in that feast seven dayes, and offered peace offerings, and praised the Lord God of their fathers.

23 And the whole assembly tooke counsell to keep it other seven dayes. So they kept it seven dayes with ioye.

24 For Hezekiah king of Judah had giuen to the Congregation a thousand bullocks, and seven thousand sheepe. And the princes had giuen to the Congregation a thousand bullocks, & ten thousand sheepe: and many sacrifices were sanctified.

25 And all the Congregation of Judah reioyced with the priests and the Levites, and all the Congregation that came out of Israel, & the strangers that came out of the land of Israel, & that dwelt in Judah. It is saying such things in Jerusalem.

26 So there was great ioy in Jerusalem: for since the time of Solomon the sonne of David king of Israel there was not the like thing in Jerusalem.

27 Then the priests & the Levites arose, and blessed the people, and their voice was heard, and their prayer came vnto brauen, to his holy habitation.

4 And he commanded also the people that dwelt in Jerusalem, to give a part to the Priests, & Levites, that they might be encouraged in the Lawe of the Lord.

5 And when the commandment was given, the children of Israel brought abundance of first fruites, of come, wine, and oyle, & honie, and of all the increase of the felde, and the riches of all things brought they abundantly.

6 And the children of Israel and Judah that dwelt in the cities of Judah, they also brought the riches of bullockes and sheepe, and the holy riches which were consecrate unto the Lord their God, and layde them on many heapes.

7 In the thirde moneth they began to lay the foundation of the heapes, and finished them in the seventh moneth.

8 And when Hezekiah and the princes came, and sawe the heapes, they blessed the Lord and his people Israel.

9 And Hezekiah questioned with the Priests and the Levites concerning the heapes.

10 And Azariah the chiefe Priest of the house of Sabab answered him, and sayd, Since the people began to bring the offerings into the house of the Lord, we have eaten and have bene satisfied, and there is left in abundance: for the Lord hath blessed his people, and this abundance that is left.

11 And Hezekiah commanded to prepare chambers in the house of the Lord: and they prepared them.

12 And carped in the first fruites, and the riches, and the dedicate things faithfully: and over them was Conaniah the Leuite, the chiefe, and Shimei his brother the second.

13 And Jehiel and Azariah, and Ahaz, and Elaph, and Jeremoth, & Jozabab, and Eliel, and Imachiah, and Baphai, and Benaiab were officers: by the appointment of Conaniah, and Shimei his brother: and by the commandment of Hezekiah the King, and of Azariah the chiefe of the house of God.

14 And Joze the sonne of Imach the Leuite porter toward the East, was over the things that were willingly offered unto God, to distribute the oblations of the Lord, and the holy things that were consecrate.

15 And at his hand were Eden, and Shisaiamin, and Jeshua, and Shemalab, Azariah, and Shephaniah, in the cities of the Priests, to distribute with fidelitie to their brethren by courses, both to the great and small.

16 Their daily portion: beside their generation being males from thre pere olde and above, even to all that entered into the house of the Lord to their office in their charge, according to their courses:

17 Worth to the generation of the Priests after the house of their fathers, and to the Levites from twentie pere olde and above, according to their charge in their courses:

18 And to the generation of all their children, their wives, and their sonnes and their daughters throughout all the congregation: for by their fidelitie are they partakers of the holy things.

19 Also to the houses of Aaron, the Priests, which were in the feldes and suburbs of their cities, in every cite the men that were appointed by names, shoulde give portions to all the males of the Priests, and to all the generation of the Levites.

20 And thus did Hezekiah throughout all Judah, and did well, and faithfully, and truly before the Lord his God.

21 And in all the workes that he began for the service of the house of God, both in the Lawe and in the commandmentes, to seeke his God, he did it with all his heart, and prospered.

the river that ranne through the middes of the countrey, saying, Why should the Kings of Asshur come, and finde much water?

5 And "he took courage, and built all the broken wall, and made up the towers,
and another wall without, and repaired
the wall in the citie of David, and made many battes and shields.

6 And he set capitaines of warre ouer the people, and assembled them to him in the broad place of the gate of the citie, and spoke comfortably vnto them, saying,

7 Be strong and courageous: feare not,
neither be affraide for the king of Asshur, neither for all the multitude that is with him: for there be none with us, then is with him.

8 With him is an armie of flesh, but with vs is the Lord our God for to helpe vs, and to fight our battels. Then the people were confirmed by the wordes of Hezekiah king of Iudah.

9 After this, did Sanherib king of As-sur sende his seruantes to Ierusalem (while hee was against Lachish, and all his dominion with him) vnto Hezekiah king of Iudah and vnto all Iudah that were at Ierusalem, saying,

10 Thus saith Sanherib the king of As-sur, wherein doe ye trust, that ye will remaine in Ierusalem, during the siege?

11 Worthy not Hezekiah entice you to giue
ouer your selues vnto death by famine and by thirst, saying, The Lord our God shall deliuer vs out of the hande of the king of Asshur?

12 Hark not the same Hezekiah taken as-way his high places and his altars, and commanded Iudah and Ierusalem, saying, Ye shall worship before one altar,
and burne incense vnto it?

13 Knowe ye not what I and my fathers haue done vnto all the people of other countreys? Were the gods of the nations of other landes able to deliuer their land out of mine hand?

14 What is he of all the gods of those nations (that my fathers haue destroyed)
that could deliuer his people out of mine hande? that your God should be able to deliuer you out of mine hand?

15 Now therefore let not Hezekiah deceiue
you, nor seduce you after this sort, neither beleue ye him: for none of all the gods of any nation of kingdome was able to deliuer his people out of mine hand and out of the hand of my fathers:
howe much lesse shall your gods deliuer
you out of mine hand?

16 And his seruantes spake yet more against the Lord God, and against his seruant Hezekiah.

17 He wrote also letters, blaspheming the Lord God of Israel, and speaking against him, saying, As the gods of the nations of other countreys coulde not deliuer their people out of mine hande, so shall not the God of Hezekiah deliuer his people out of mine hand.

18 Then they crept with a loud voice in the Iewes speache vnto the people of Ierusalem that were on the wal, to feare them: so to astonish them, that they might take the citie.

19 Thus they spake against the God of Ierusalem, as against the gods of the people of the earth, euen the workes of manes handes,

20 And Hezekiah the king, and the prophet Iaiiah the sonne of Amoz, played against this and crept to heauen.

21 And the Lord sent an Angel which destroyed all the balliant men, and the princes and captaynes of the hoste of the king of Asshur: so hee returned "with shame to his owne lande. And when he was come into the house of his god, they that came forth of his owne bowels,
slew him there with the sword.

22 So the Lord saved Hezekiah and the inhabitantes of Ierusalem from the hand of Sanherib king of Asshur, and from the hande of all other, and maintained
them on euery side.

23 And many brought offerings vnto the Lord to Ierusalem, and presents to Hezekiah king of Iudah, so that hee was magnified in the sight of all nations from thenceforth.

24 In those dayes Hezekiah was sicke
vnto the death, & played vnto the Lord, who spake vnto him, and gaue him a signe.

25 But Hezekiah did not render according to the rewarde bestowed vpon him:
for his heart "was lift vp, and wrath came vpon him, and vpon Iudah and Ierusalem.

26 Notwithstanding Hezekiah humbled himselfe (after that his heart was lifted
vp) he & the inhabitantes of Ierusalem, and the wrath of the Lord came not vpon
them in the dayes of Hezekiah.

27 Hezekiah also had exceeding much riches and honour, and hee gave him treasures of silver, and of golde, and of precious stones, and of sweete odours, and of shields, and of all pleasant vessels:

28 And of steele houses for the increase of wheate and wine and oyle, and stables for all beastes, and rowes for the stables.

29 And hee made him cities, and had possession of sheepe and oxen in abundance:
for God had giuen him substance exceeding much.

30 This same Hezekiah also stopped the upper water springes of Sion, and led them straight underneath toward the ci-tie of David Westward, so Hezekiah was spared in all his workes.

31 But because of the ambassadours of the princes of Babel, which sent vnto him to enquire of the wonder that was done in the lande, God left him to erie him, and to knowe all that was in his heart.

zekiah, and his goodnesse, beholde, they prophet, the sonne of Amos, in the booke of the kings of Iudah and Israel.

33 So Iezekiah depe with his fathers, and they buried him in the highest sepulchre of the sonnes of Dauid: and all Iudah & the inhabitants of Ierusalem did him honour at his death: and Manassah his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Manassah an idolater. 9 He causeth Iudah to erre. 11 He led away prisoner into Babylon. 12 He prayeth to the Lord, and is deliuered. 14 He abolisheth idolatry. 16 And setteth up true religion. 20 He dyeth. 24 Amon his sonne succedeth. 24 Whome his owne seruants slaine.

1 Manassah was twelue yere old, * when he began to reigne, and he reigned fise and fiftie yere in Ierusalem:

2 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord, like the abominations of the heathen, * whome the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For he went backe and built the hie places, * which Iezekiah his father had broken downe: * and hee set vp altars for Baalim, and made grooues, and worshipped all the hoste of the heauen, and serued them.

4 Also hee built altars in the house of the Lord, whereof the Lord had sayde, * In Ierusalem shall my Name be for euer.

5 And hee built altars for all the hoste of the heauen in the two courtes of the house of the Lord.

6 And hee caused his sonnes to passe through the fire in the valley of Ben-hinnom: he gaue himselfe to witchcraft and to charming, and to sojerie, and he dyed them that had familiar spirites, & sorcerers: hee did verp much euill in the sight of the Lord to anger him.

7 He put also the carued image, which hee had made, in the house of God: whereof God had sayde to Dauid and to Salomon his sonne, * In this house & in Ierusalem, which I haue chosen before all the tribes of Israel, wil I put my Name for euer.

8 Neither wil I make the scote of Israel to remoune any moxe out of the lande which I haue appoynted for your fathers, so that they take heede, and doe all that I haue commanded them, according to the Law and statutes and iudgements by the hand of Moyses.

9 So Manassah made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to erre, and to doe worse then the heathen, whome the Lord had destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 And the Lord spake to Manassah and to his people, but they would not regard.

11 Wherefore the Lord brought vpon them the captaiues of the hoste of the King of Asshur, which tooke Manassah & put him in fetters, and bound him in chaines, and carried him to Babel.

12 And when he was in tribulation, he prayed to the Lord his God, & humbled himselfe greatly before God of his fathers,

13 And prayed vnto him: & God was gracious vnto him, and heard his prayer, and brought him againe to Ierusalem into his kingdom: then Manassah knew that the Lord was God.

14 Nowe after this hee built a wall within the cite of Dauid, on the West side of the house in the valley, euen at the entry of the sigeate, and compassed about the sigeate, and rayfed it verp hie, and put rampiers of warre in all the strong cities of Iudah.

15 And hee tooke away the strange gods and the image out of the house of the Lord, and all the altars that hee had built in the mount of the house of the Lord, and in Ierusalem, and cast them out of the cite.

16 Also he prepared the altar of the Lord, and sacrificed thereon peace offerings, and of thankes, and commanded Iudah to serue the Lord God of Israel.

17 Nevertheless the people did sacrifice still in the hie places, but vnto the Lord their God.

18 Concerning the rest of the acts of Manassah, and his prayer vnto his God, and the wordes of the Seers, that spake to him in the name of the Lord God of Israel, beholde, they are written in the booke of the kings of Israel.

19 And his prayer and howe God was intreated of him, and all his sinne, and his trespasses, and the places whererin hee built hie places, and set grooues and images (before hee was humbled) beholde, they are written in the booke of the Seers.

20 So Manassah slept in his fathers, and they buried him in his owne house: and Amon his sonne reigned in his steade.

21 Amon was two and twentie yere old, when hee began to reigne, and reigned two yere in Ierusalem.

22 But hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, as did Manassah his father: for Amon sacrificed to all images, which Manassah his father had made, & serued them.

23 And hee humbled not himselfe before the Lord, as Manassah his father had humbled himselfe: but this Amon trespassed more and more.

24 And his seruants conspired against him, and slew him in his owne house.

25 But the people of the land slew all them that had conspired against King Amon: and the people of the lande made Iosiah his sonne king in his stead.

(when he was yet a childe) he began to seeke after the God of David his father: and in the twelfth yere he began to purge Judah, and Jerusalem from the he places, and the groues, and the carved images, and molten images:

4 And they brake downe in his sight the altars of Baalim, and he caused to cutt downe the images that were on hie upon them: he brake also the groues, and the carved images, and the molten images, and stampt them to powder, and strawed it upon the graues of them that had sacrificed vnto them.

5 Also he burnt the bones of the priests vpon their altars, and purged Judah and Jerusalem.

6 And in the cities of Shaphan, and Ephraim, and Simeon, euen vnto Manasse, with their maniles they brake all round about.

7 And when he had destroyed the altars and the groues, and had broke and stampd to powder the images, and had cutt downe all the idoles thoroughout all the land of Israel, he returned to Jerusalem.

8 ¶ Then in the eighteenth yere of his reigne when he had purged the land and the Temple, he sent Shaphan the sonne of Azaliah, and Shaphan the gouernour of the citie, and Joah the sonne of Joahaz the recorder, to reparaire the house of the Lord his God.

9 And when they came to Yilkiah the hie Priest, they deliuered h money that was brought into the house of God, which the Leuites that kept the doore, had gathered at the hand of Shaphan, and Ephraim, and of all the residue of Israel, and of all Judah and Benjamin, and of the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

10 And they put it in the handes of them that shoulde doe the worke and had the ouersight in the house of the Lord: and they gaue it to the workemen y wrought in the house of the Lord, to reparaire and amende the house.

11 Euen to the workemen and to the builders gaue they it, to be hewed stone and timber for couples and for beames of the houses, which the kings of Judah had destroyed.

12 And the men did the worke faithfully, and the ouersers of them were Jahath, and Obadiah the Leuites, of the children of Shetari, and Zechariah, and Shethulaim, of the children of the Kohathites to set it forward: and of the Leuites all that could skill of instruments of musike.

13 And they were ouer h beaers of burdes, and they that set forward all the workemen in euery worke: and of the Leuites were scribes, and officers and porters.

14 ¶ And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the Lord, Yilkiah the Priest founde the booke of the Lawe of the Lord given by the hand of Moses.

15 Therefore Yilkiah answered and sayde to Shaphan the chanceller, I haue found the booke of the Lawe in the house of the Lord: and Yilkiah gaue the booke to Shaphan.

16 And Shaphan caried the booke to the king, and brought the king word againe, saying, All that is committed to the hand of thy seruants, that doe they.

17 For they haue gathered the money that was found in y house of the Lord, & haue deliuered it into the handes of the ouersers, and to the handes of the workemen.

18 Also Shaphan the chanceller declared to the king, saying, Yilkiah the Priest hath giuen me a booke, and Shaphan read it before the king.

19 And when y king had heard the wordes of the Lawe, he tare his clothes.

20 And the king commaunded Yilkiah, and Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, and Abdon the sonne of Nibhal, and Shaphan the chanceller, and Aizah the kungs seruant, saying,

21 Goe and enquire of the Lord for me, and for the rest in Israel and Judah, concerning the wordes of this booke that is founde: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is fallen vpon vs, because our fathers haue not kept y word of the Lord, to doe after all that is writte in this booke.

22 Then Yilkiah and they that the king had appoynted, went to Iudah the wydes ydresse the wife of Shaphan, the sonne of Azaliah, the sonne of Yashrah keeper of the wardrobe (and she dwelt in Jerusalem within the college) and they commaunded herof with her.

23 And she answered them, Thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel, Tell ye the man that sent you to me,

24 Thus sayeth the Lord, Beholde, I will bring euill vpon this place, and vpon the inhabitants thereof, euen all the curses, that are written in the booke which they haue read before the king of Judah:

25 Because they haue forsaken me, and burnt incense vnto other gods, to anger me with all the workes of their handes, therefore shall my wrath fall vpon this place, and shall not be quenched.

26 But to the king of Judah, who sent you to enquire of the Lord, so shall he say vnto him, Thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel, The wordes which thou hast heard, shall come to passe.

27 But because thine heart did melt, and thou didest humble thy selfe before God, when thou heardest his wordes against this place and against the inhabitants thereof, and humbledst thy selfe before me and tarest thy clothes, and weptest before me, I haue also heard it, sayeth the Lord.

28 Beholde, I will gather thee to thy fathers, & thou shalt be put in thy grave in peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the destruction, euil, which I will bring vpon this place, and vpon the inhabitants of the same.

r It may appeare that verie few were touched with true repentance, seeing that God spared them for a time onely for the kings sake.

[For as much as neither young nor old could be exempted from the curies cōtēned therein; if they did transgress, he knew it appeared to all, and was his duty to see it read to all sorts, that every one might learn to avoid those punishments by serving God aright, because he had charge over all & must answer for every one; he thought it his duty to see that all should make provision to receive the worde of God.]

32 And he caused all that were founde in Jerusalem, and Benjamin to stand to it: and the inhabitants of Jerusalem did according to the covenant of God, even the God of their fathers.

CHAP. XXXV.

1 Josiah keepeth the Passover. 2 He sitteth fourth Gods service. 30 He fighteth against the king of Egypt, and dyeth. 34 The people bewails him.

1 Messour * Josiah kept a Passover unto the Lord in Jerusalem, & they slew the * Passover in the fourteenth day of the first moneth.

2 And he appointed the Whites to their charges, and encouraged them to the service of the house of the Lord,

3 And he led unto the Levites, & taught all Israel and were sanctified unto the Lord. But the holy Ark in the house which Salomon the sonne of David king of Israel did build: it shalbe no more a burden upon your shoulders: serve now the Lord your God and his people Israel.

4 And prepare your selves by the houses of your fathers according to your courses, as * David the king of Israel hath written, and according to the writing of Salomon his sonne,

5 And stande in the Sanctuary according to the division of the families of your brethren: the children of the people, and after the division of the familie of the Levites:

6 So kill the Passover, and sanctifie your selves, and * prepare your brethren that they may doe according to the wordes of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

7 Josiah also gave to the * people sheepe, lambes and kids, all for the Passover, even to all that were present, to the number of thirtie thousande, and three thousand bullockes: these were of the kings substance.

8 And his princes offered willingly unto the people, to the Whites and to the Levites: Mikiah, and Zechariah, and Jehoiad, rulers of the house of God, gave unto the Whites for the Passover, even two thousande and five hundred sheepe, and three hundred bullockes.

9 * Onanias also and Shemaiah, and Elishaphan his brethren, and Ishababai, and Jeiel, and Joabab, chiefe of the Levites gave unto the Levites for the Passover five thousande sheepe, and five hundred bullockes.

10 Thus the service was prepared, and the Whites stood in their places, also the Levites in their orders, according to the kings commandment:

11 And they slew the Passover, and the Whites sprinkled the blood with their handes, and the Levites flayed them.

12 And they took away from the burnt offering to give it according to the divisions of the families of the children of the people, to offer unto the Lord, as it is written in the booke of Moses, and so of the bullockes.

13 And * they roasted the Passover with fire, according to the custome, but sanctified things they sod in pottes, pannes, and caldrons, & distributed them quickly to all the people.

14 Afterward also they prepared for themselves for the Whites: for the Whites the sonnes of Aaron were occupied in offering of burnt offerings, & the fat untill night: therefore the Levites prepared for the Levites, and for the Whites the sonnes of Aaron.

15 And the singers & sonnes of Asaph stood in their standing * according to the commandment of David, & Asaph, & Heman, and Jeduthun the kings * seer: and the porters at every gate, who might not depart from their service: therefore their brethren the Levites prepared for them.

16 So all the service of the Lord was prepared the same day, to keep the Passover, and to offer burnt offerings upon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandment of king Josiah.

17 And the children of Israel were present, kept the Passover the same time, & the feast of unleavened bread seven dayes.

18 And there was no Passover kept like that in Israel, from the daies of Samuel the Prophet: neither did all the kings of Israel keepe such a Passover as Josiah kept, and the Whites & the Levites, and all Judah, & Israel that were present, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

19 This Passover was as kept in the righte tenth yeere of the reign of Josiah.

20 * After all this, when Josiah had prepared to fight against * Earchemish the * Pharaoh, and Josiah went out against him.

21 But he sent messengers to him, saying, What have I to do with thee, thou king of Judah? I come not against thee this day, but against the house * of mine enemies, and God commandeth me to make haste: leave off so come against * Earchemish, which is with me, lest he destroy thee.

22 But Josiah would not turne his face from him, but changed his apparell to fight with him, and hearkened not unto the wordes of messengers, which were of the mouth of God, but came to fight in the valley of Megiddon.

So that every one, & of all sorts gave of that they had, a liberal portion to the service of God.

O Lord almighty, God of our fathers, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, and of their righteous seede, which hast made heauen and earth with all their ordinance, which hast bounde the sea by the word of thy commandement, which hast shut up the deepe and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious name, whom all doe feare and tremble before thy power: for the maiestie of thy glory cannot be doine, & thine anger thy eating towards sinners is insupportable, but thy mercifull promise is unmeasurable and unsearchable. For thou art the most high Lord, of great compassion, on, long suffering, and most mercifull, and repentest for mans iniquities. Thou, O Lord, according to thy great goodness hast promised repentance and forgiveness to them that turne against thee, and for thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance vnto sinners that they may be saued. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the iust, hast not appointed repentance to the iust, as to Abraham, and Isaac and Jacob, which haue not sinned against thee, but thou hast appointed repentance vnto mee that am a sinner: for I haue sinned above the number of the sande of the sea. My transgressions, O Lord, are multiplied: my transgressions are exceeding many: and I am not worthy to beholde and see the height of the heauens for the multitude of mine iniquities. I am bowed downe with many prison bandes, that I cannot lift up mine head, neither haue any release. For I haue provoked thy wrath and done euill before thee. I did not thy will, neither kept I thy commandements. I haue set by abominations, and haue multiplied offences. Now therefore I bowe the knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace. I haue sinned, O Lord, I haue sinned, and I acknowledge my transgressions: but I humbly beseech thee, forgive me: O Lord, forgive me, and destroy me not with my transgressions. Be not angry with me for ever by refusing euill for euill: neither condemne me into the lower partes of the earth. For thou art the God, thou the God of them that repent: and in me thou wilt shewe all thy goodness: for thou wilt saue mee that am vniuersally, according to thy great mercie: therefore I will praise thee for ever all the dayes of my life. For all the power of the heauens praise thee, and thine is the glory for ever and ever, Amen.

Ezra.

THE ARGUMENT.

As the Lord is ever mercifull vnto his Church, and doeth not punish them, but to the incen-
they shoulde see their owne miseries, and be exercised vnder the crosse, that they might contemne the worlde and aspire vnto the heauens: so after that hee had visited the Jewes and kept them now in bondage seuentie yeeres in a strange country among infidels and idolaters, he remembered his tender mercies and their infirmities, and therefore for his owne sake raysted them vp a deliverer, and moved both the heart of the chiefe ruler to pitee them, and also by him punished such which had kept them in seruitude. Notwithstanding lest they should growe into a contempt of Gods great benefite, he keepeth them still in exercise, and raiseth domestical enemies, which endeouour as much as they can to hinder their most wortheie enterprises: yet by the exortation of the Prophets they went forward by little and little till their worke was finished. The author of this booke was Ezra, who was Priest, and Scribe of the Lawe, as chap. 7. 6. He returned to Ierusalem the sixt yeere of Darius, who succeeded Cyrus, that is, about fiftie yeeres after the returne of the first vnder Zerubbabel, when the Temple was buylt. Hee brought with him a great company, and much treasures, with letters to the kings officers for all such things as should be necessarie for the Temple: and at his coming he redressed that which was amisse, and set the things in good order.

arose, & began to builde the house of God
at Jerusalem, and with them were the prophets of God, which helped them.
3 At the same time came to them Tarnai, which was captaine bepon the Ki-uer, and Shether Boznai and their com-pansions, and said thus vnto them, Who hath giuen you commandement to build this house, and to lay the foundations of these walles?

4 Then said we vnto them after this manner, What are the names of the men that build this building?

5 But the spirit of their God was vpon
the Elders of the Jewes, that they could not cause the to cease, till the matter came to Darius: and then they answered by letters therunto.

6 The copie of the letter, that Tarnai captaine bepon the Kiuer, and Shetherboznai & his companions, Elpharbaia, (which were bepon the Kiuer) sent vnto
king Darius.

7 They sent a letter vnto him, wherein it was written thus, VNTO DARIUS
the King, all grace.

8 We it knowen vnto the King, that wee went vnto the Iourne of Judea, to the house of the great God, which is builded with great stones, and beames are laide
in the walles, and this worke is wrought speedily, and prospereth in their hands.

9 Then asked we those Elders, and saide
vnto them thus, Who hath giuen you commandement to build this house, and to lay the foundation of these walles?

10 We asked their names also, that wee might certifie the, & that we might write the names of the men that were their rulers.

11 But they answered vs thus, and sayde,
We are the seruants of the God of heauen and earth, and builde the house that was build of olde and many yeeres agoe, which a great King of Israel builded,
and founded it.

12 But after that our fathers had promoted the God of heauen vnto iustice, he gave them ouer into the hands of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel the Caldean, & he destroyed this house, and caried the people away captiue vnto Babel.

13 But in the first yeere of Cyrus king of Babel, king Cyrus made a decree to build this house of God.

14 And the vessels of golde and silver of the house of God, which Nabuchadnezzar tooke out of the Temple that was in Jerusalem, and brought them into the Temple of Babel, these did Cyrus the king take out of the Temple of Babel, and they gave them vnto one Shelbazasar by his name, whome hee had made captaine.

15 And he saide vnto him, Take these vessels and go the way, and put them in the Temple that is in Jerusalem, and let the house of God be build in this place.

16 Then came the same Shelbazar, and laide the foundation of the house of God, which is in Jerusalem, and saide that came even until now, hath it bene in building, yet is it not finished.

17 Now therefore if it please the King, let there be searche made in the house of the Kings treasures, whether there is in Babel, whether a decree hath bene made by king Cyrus, to build this house of God in Jerusalem, and let the King send his mind concerning this.

C H A P. VI.

At the commandments of Darius King of Persia, after the Temple was builded and dedicate, the children of Israel kept the first of solemnized feasts.

1 Then king Darius gave commandment, and they made searche in the treasure of the treasures, which were there layed up in Babel.

2 And there was found in a coffer (in the palace that was in the Iourne of the Medes) a volume, & therein was it thus written, as a memoriall.

3 IN THE FIRST YEERE of king Cyrus,
king Cyrus made a decree for the house of God in Jerusalem, let the people bee built, even the place where they offered sacrifices, and let the walles thereof be topped together: let the height thereof be three score cubits, and the breadth thereof three score cubits.

4 These orders of great stones, and one order of timber, and let the expenses bee
giuen of the Kings house.

5 And also let them render the vessels of the house of God (of golde and silver, which Nabuchadnezzar tooke out of the Temple which was in Jerusalem, & brought vnto Babel) and let him goe vnto the Temple that is in Jerusalem to his place and put them in the house of God.

6 Therefore Tarnai captaine bepon the Kiuer, and Shether Boznai, (and their companions Elpharbaia, which are bepon the Kiuer) bee ye free from thence.

7 Suffer ye the work of this house of God, that the captiue of the Jewes and the Elders of the Jewes may build this house of God in his place.

8 For I have giuen a commandment
what ye shall doe to the Elders of these Jewes, for the building of this house of God, that of the revenues of the King,
which is of the tribute bepon the Kiuer,
there be indifferently expenses giuen
vnto these men that they cease not.

9 And that which they shall haue made off,
let it be giue vnto them day by day, whether it be pong bullockes, or rannes, or lambs for the burnt offerings of the God of heauen, wheate, salt, wine, and oyle, ac-

16 ¶ And the children of Israel, the Priests, and the Levites, and the residue of the children of the captivity, kept the dedication of this house of God with joy.

17 And offered at the dedication of this house of God an hundred bullockes, two hundred rams, foure hundred lambs, and runcie goats, for the sinne of all Israel, according to the number of the tribes of Israel.

18 And they set the Priests in their order, and the Levites in their canticles, over the service of God in Jerusalem, as it is written in the booke of Psalms.

19 And the children of the captivity kept the dedication on the fourteenth day of the first moneth.

20 ¶ For the Priests and the Levites were purged altogether, and they killed the Passover for all the children of the captivity, and for their brethren the Priests, and for themselves.

21 ¶ So the children of Israel which were come againe out of captivity, as all such as had separated themselves unto them, from a habitation of the heathen of Iland, to serve the Lord God of Israel, did eate.

22 And they kept the feast of unleavened bread seven dayes with joy: for the Lord had made them glad, & turned the heart of the king of Assyria unto the restoration of the house of the house of God, even the God of Israel.

4 Of the sonnes of Zababai Noah, Elisheai, the sonne of Zechariah, and with him two hundred males.

5 Of the sonnes of Sherebania, the sonne of Ithaziel, and with him three hundredie males.

6 And of the sonnes of Adin, Ebed the sonne of Jonathan, and with him fiftie males.

7 And of the sonnes of Elam, Zechariah the sonne of Abihai, and with him seuentie males.

8 And of the sonnes of Shephathia, Zechariah the sonne of Shihai, and with him fourscore males.

9 Of the sonnes of Ithar, Zababai the sonne of Zechiel, and with him two hundredie and eightie males.

10 And of the sonnes of Shephathia the sonne of Iosaphai, and with him an hundredie and threescore males.

11 And of the sonnes of Zebai, Zechariah, the sonne of Zebai, & with him eightie and twenty males.

12 And of the sonnes of Hagab, Johanan the sonne of Hakatan, and with him an hundredie and ten males.

13 And of the sonnes of Adonikam, these were the last, whose names are these: Eliphelet, Zechiel, and Shemaiah, and with them threescore males.

14 And of the sonnes of Bignai, Zebai, & Zabdai, and with them seuentie males.

15 And I gathered them to the River that goeth towarde Shalman, and there abode we three daies: then I viewed the people, and the Priests, and found there none of the sonnes of Levi.

16 Therefore sent I to Eliezer, to Ariel, to Sheimeiah, and to Eleazar, and to Asarib, and to Elathai, and to Nathan, & to Zechariah, & to Shihallai the chief, and to Zachariah, and to Eleazar, men of understanding.

17 And I gave them commandment, to Ido the chiefest at the place of Galatia, and I tolde them the words that they should speake to Ido, & to his brethren the Aethiopes at the place of Galatia, that they should call the ministers of the house of our God to come unto vs.

18 So by the good haud of our God which was upon vs, they brought us a man of understanding of the sonnes of Zababai the sonne of Eli the sonne of Israel, and Sherebia with his sonnes and his brethren, even eightie.

19 Also Zababai, and with him Zechariah of the sonnes of Ithar, with his brethren, and their sonnes twenty.

20 And of the Aethiopes, whome David had set, and the Princes for the service of the Levites, two hundredie and twenty of the Aethiopes, which all were named by name.

21 And there at the river, by Ahava, I proclaimed a fast, that we might humble our selves before our God, and seeke of him a right way for vs, and for our children, and for all our substance.

22 For I was ashamed to require of the King an armie & horsemen, to helpe us against the enemy in the way, because we had soken to the king, saying, The hand of our God is upon all them that seek him in goodnes, but his power & his wrath is against all them that forsake him.

23 So we fasted, & besought our God for this: and he was intreated of vs.

24 Then I separated twelue of the chief of the priests, Sherebiah, and Zababai, & ten of their brethren with them,

25 And weighed them the silver and the golde, and the vessels, even the offering of A. ii.

27 And threety basins of golde, of a thousand dynammes, & two vessels of shining brasse very good, and precious as gold.

28 And I said unto them, Ye are consecrate unto the Lorde, and the vessels are consecrate, and the gold and the silver are freely offered unto the Lorde God of your fathers.

29 Watche ye, and keepe them untill I weigh them before the chiefe Priests and the Levites, and the chiefe fathers of Israel in Jerusalem in the chambers of the house of the Lorde.

30 So the Priests & the Levites received the weight of the silver and of the golde, and of the vessels to bring them to Jerusalem, unto the house of our God.

k This declared that their journey was full of danger, and yet God deliuered them according to their prayer.

31 Then we departed from the River of Ahava on the twelfth day of the first month, to go unto Jerusalem, and the hand of our God was upon vs, and deliuered vs from the hande of the enemy, and of such as layde a waite by the way.

32 And we came to Jerusalem, and abode there three dayes.

33 And on the fourth daye was the silver weighed, and the gold & the vessel in the house of our God by the hande of Serephoth the sonne of Biah the Priest, and with him was Eleazar the sonne of Phinehas, and with them was Josabad the sonne of Iehshua, and Shobadiah the sonne of Binnui the Levites.

l This was a token of a good conscience and of his integrity, that he would haue witnesses of his fidelitie.

35 Also the children of the captiuitie, which were come out of captiuitie, offered burnt offerings unto the God of Israel, twelue bullockes for all Israel, ninetie and six rammes, seuentie and foure lambs, and twelue he goats for sinne: all was a burnt offering of the Lorde.

36 And they deliuered the kinges commission unto the kinges officers, and to the captaines beyonde the River: and they pronounced the people, and the house of God.

1 When as these things were done, rulers came to me, saying, The people of Israel, and the Priests and the Levites are not separated from the people of the landes, as touching their abominations: for we, of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, & Jebusites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites,

For they haue taken their daughters to themselves, and to their sonnes, and they haue mixed the holy seede with the people of the landes, and the hand of the princes and rulers haue bene chiefe in this trespasse.

3 But when I heard this saying, I rent my clothes and my garment, and pluckt off the heare of mine head, & of my beard, and sat downe astonished.

4 And there assembled vnto mee all that feared the wordes of the God of Israel, because of the transgression of them of the captiuitie. And I sat downe astonished vntill the evening sacrifice.

5 And at the evening sacrifice I arose by from mine heavinesse, and when I had rent my clothes and my garment, I fell vpon my knees, and spiedde out mine hands vnto the Lord my God,

6 And said, O my God, I am confounded and ashamed, to lift vp mine eyes vnto thee my God: for our iniquities are increased ouer our head, and our trespasse is growne vp vnto the heauen.

7 From the dayes of our fathers haue we bene in a great trespasse vnto this day, and for our iniquities haue we, our kinges, and our Priests bene deliuered into the hand of the kinges of the landes, into the sword, into captiuitie, into a spoile, and into confusion of face, as appeareth this day.

8 And nowe for a little space grace hath bene shewed from the Lorde our God, in causing a remnant to escape, & in giuing vs a temple in his holy place, that our God may light our eyes, and giue vs a little treading in our enemies.

10 And nowe, our God, what shall we say after this? for we haue forsaken thy commandements,

11 Which thou hast commanded by thy seruantes the Prophets, saying, * The land wherunto ye go to possesse it, is an vncleane lande, because of the filthines of the people of the landes, which by their abominations, and by their vncleannesse haue filled it from corner to corner.

12 Nowe therefore shall ye not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shall ye take their daughters vnto your sonnes, nor seek their peace nor wealth for ever, that ye may be strong & eat the goodwille of the land, and leaue it for an inheritance to your sonnes for ever.

13 And after all that is come vpon vs for our euill deedes, & for our great trespases, (seeing that thou our God hast stayed vs from being brought to us for our iniquities, & hast giuen vs such deliuerance)

14 Should we returne to breake thy commandements, and to playne in affinitie with the people of such abominations? wouldst not thou be angry toward vs till thou haddest consumed vs, so that there should be no remnant nor any escaping?

1 Whyres ^a Ezra prayed thus, and confessed himselfe weeping, and falling downe before the house of God, there assembled vnto him of Israel a very great Congregation of men and women and children: for the people wept
with a great lamentation.

2 Then Sheshbaziab ^b sonne of Jehiel one of the sonnes of Elam, answered, and said to Ezra, We haue trespassed against our God, and haue taken strange wives of the people of the lande, yet now there is ^b hope in Israel concerning this.

3 Nowe therefore let vs make a couenant
with our God, to put away ^c al^h wives, (and such as are borne of them) according to the counsell of the Lord, & of those that feare the commandments of our God, & let it be done according to ^d his law.

4 Answe: for the matter ^d belongeth vnto thee: we also will be with thee: be of counsell, and do it.

5 Then arose Ezra, and caused the chief Priests, the Leuites, and all Israel, to swear that they would doe according to this word. So they swore.

6 And Ezra rose vp frō before the house of God, & went into ^e his chamber of Ioha-nan the sonne of Eliah: he went euen thither, but he did eate neither bread, nor drinke water: for he mourned, because of the transgression of them of the captiuitie.

7 And they caused a proclamation to goe
throughout Iudah and Ierusalem, vnto ^e all them of the captiuitie, that they should assemble themselves vnto Ierusalem.

8 And whosoever would not come within thre daies according to the counsell of the Princes and Elders, all his substance should be ^f forsaite, and he should be separate from the Congregation of them of the captiuitie.

9 Then all the men of Iudah and Beniamin assembled themselves vnto Ieru-salem within thre daies, which was the twentieth day of the ^g ninth moneth, and all the people came in the street of the house of God, trembling for this matter, and for the ^h rayne.

10 And Ezra the Priest stood vp, and said
vnto them, Ye haue transgressed, & haue taken strange wives, to ⁱ increase the trespass of Israel.

11 Nowe therefore ⁱ giue vnto the Lord God of your fathers, & doe his will,
and separate your selues from the people of the land, and from the strange wives.

12 And all the Congregation answered, and said with a loud voice, So will we doe
according to thy wordes vnto vs.

13 But the people are many, and it is a day like this, & we are not able to stand without, neither is it the worke of one day or two: for we are many that haue offended in this thing.

14 Let our rulers stand therefore ^j before al^l
the Congregation, and let al^l them which haue taken strange wives in our cities,
come at the time appointed, & with them
the Elders of euery citie and the Judges thereof, til the fierce wrath of our God for this matter turne away from vs.

15 Then were appointed Jonathan the sonne of Eliash, & Jahaziah the sonne of Elihu, and the Levites helped them.

16 And they of the captiuitie did so, & departed, euen Ezra the Priest, and the men that were their fathers to the familie of their fathers by name, and came downe in the first daie of the tenth moneth to examine the matter.

17 And vntill the first daie of the first mo-neth they were finishing the busines with al^l the men that had taken strange wives.

18 And of the sonnes of the Priests there were men some, that had taken strange wives, to wit, of the sonnes of Jehuza, the sonne of Jozabab, and of his brethren, Maasiah, Eliezer, and Jazab, and Es-

NEHEMIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

God doeth in all ages and at all times set vp worthie persons for the commoditie and profite of this Church, as now within the compass of fewtie yeres he raised vp diuers excellent men for the preservation of his people, after their returne from Babylon, as Zerubbabel, Ezra, and Nehemiah. Whereof the first was their captaine to bring them home, and provided that the Temple was builded: the second reformed their manners, and planted religion: and the third builded vp the walles, deliuered the people from oppression, and provided that the Lawe of God was put in execution among them. He was a Godly man and in great authoritie with the King, so that the King fauoured him greatly, and gaue him most ample powers for the accomplishment of all things which he could desire. This booke is also called of the Linges the second of Ezra, because he was the writer thereof.

c Meaning, in Iudea.

3 And they said vnto me, The residue that are left of the captiuitie there in the prison, are in great affliction and in reproche, and the wall of Ierusalem is broken downe, & the gates thereof are burnt with fire.

4 And when I heard these wordes, I sate downe and wept, and mourned certaine daies, and I fasted and prayed before the God of heauen.

De 34.

5 And said, O Lord God of heauen, the great and terrible God, that keepeth constant mercie for them that loue him, and obserue his commandments,

6 I pray thee, let thine eares be attent, and thine eyes open to heare the prayer of thy seruant, which I pray before thee dayly, daye and night for the children of Israel thy seruantes, and confesse the sinnes of the children of Israel, which we haue sinned against thee, both I and my fathers house haue sinned:

De 34, corrupt.

7 We haue grieuously sinned against thee, and haue not kept the commandments, nor the statutes, nor the iudgements which thou commandedst thy seruants to do.

8 I beseech thee, remember the word that thou commandedst thy seruants, saying, Ye will transgress, and I will scatter you abroad among the people.

Dm. 29. 11, 28.

9 But yet we turne vnto thee, O Lord God, for thou art mercifull, and gracious, though thou scatterest abroad, yet wilt thou gather them out of thence, yet wilt thou gather them out thence, and wilt bring them vnto the place that I haue chosen, to place my name there.

10 Nowe these are thy seruants and thy people, whom thou hast redeemed by thy great power, and by thy mightie hand.

11 O Lord, I beseech thee, let thine eares now hearken to the prayer of thy seruant, and to the prayer of thy seruantes, who beseech thee to spare thy name, and I pray thee, cause thy seruants to prosper this day, and giue them fauour in the presence of this man: for I was the kings butler.

3 And I said vnto the king, God sent me the king for mee: why should not my countenance be sad, when the city & house of the sepulchres of my fathers lye in waste, and the gates thereof are denoted with fire?

4 And the king said vnto mee, For what thing dost thou require? Then I prayed vnto the God of heauen.

5 And sate vnto the king, If it please the king, as if thy seruants haue founde fauour in thy sight, I desire that thou wouldest send me to Iudah vnto the cite of the sepulchres of my fathers, & I may build it.

ner unto the shepegate, fortified the goldsmiths and the marchants.

C H A P. III.

7 The building of Ierusalem is hindered, 15 But God breaketh their enterprise. 17 The Jews bulde with one hand, and holde their weapons in the other.

But when Sanballat heard that we bulld the wall, then was he wroth & sore grieved, & mocked the Jews,

2 And said before his brethren & the armie of Samaria, thus he said, What doe
these weake Jewes? will they fortifie themselves? will they sacrifice? will they finish it in a day? will they make stones whole againe out of the brayes of dust,
seeing they are burnt?

3 And Tobiah the Ammonite was beside him, and saide, Although they build, yet
if a fox goe by, he shall euen breake
downe their stonie wall.

4 Heare, O our God (for wee are despised) and turne their shame upon their owne head, and gine them into a praye
in the land of their captiuitie,

5 And couer not their iniquitie, neither let their sinne be put out in thy presence:
for they haue prouoked vs before the bullders.

6 So we built the wall, and all the wall was ioynd unto the halfe thereof, and the heart of the people was to worke.

7 But when Sanballat, & Tobiah, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Ashdodites heard that the walles of Ierusalem were repaired, (for the beas-tes began to be stopped) then they were very wroth,

8 And conspired all together to come & to fight against Ierusalem, and to hinder
them.

9 Then we prayed vnto our God, and set watchmen by them, day and night, because of them.

10 And Iudah said, The strength of beasters is weakened, & there is much earth,
so that we are not able to bulde the wall.

11 Also our aduersaries had sayde, They shall not knowe, neither see, till we come into the middes of them and slay them,
and cause the worke to cease.

12 But when the Jewes (which dwelt beside them) came, they tolde vs 3rd time times, & from all places whence ye shall returne, they will be vpon vs.

13 Therefore let I in the lower places behind the wal vpon the toppes of stones,
and placed the people by their families,
with their swordes, their speares & their bowes.

14 Then I behelde, and rose vp, and said vnto the Princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, Be not afrayd of them: remember the great Lord, and fearfull, & fight for your brethren, your sonnes, & your daughters, your wives,
and your houses.

15 And when our enemies heard that it was knowne vnto vs, then God brought their counsell to nought, and we turned all againe to the wall, every one vnto his worke.

16 And from that day, halfe of young men did the labour, and the other halfe part of them held the speares, and shields, and bowes, and habergeins: and the rulers &
stode behinde all the house of Iudah.

17 They that bulded on the wal, and they
that their workes

19 Then saide I vnto the princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The worke is great and large, and we are separated vpon the wall, one farre from another.

20 In what place therefore ye heare the sounde of the trumpet, & resort ye thither vnto vs: our God shall fight for vs.

21 So we laboured in the worke, and halfe of them helde the speares, from the appearing of the morning, till the starres came forth.

22 And at the same time saide I vnto the people, Let euery one with his seruant lodge within Jerusalem, that they may bee a watche for vs in the night, and labour in the day.

23 So my brother I, nor my brethren, nor my seruantes, nor the men of the warde, (which followed me) none of vs did put off our clothes, sawe any one put them off for washing.

CHAP. V.

1 The people are oppressed and in need. 6 Nehemiah remembered it. 14 He took not the portion of others that had ruled before, lest he should grieve the people.

1 Now there was a great crye of the people, and of their wiues, against their brethren the Iewes.

2 For there were I saide, widdes, our sonnes and our daughters are many, therefore we take vp coine, & we maye rate a line.

3 And there were that sayd, We must gage our landes, and our vineyardes, and our houses, and take vp coine for the famine.

4 There were also that sayd, We haue borrowed money for the things & tribute vpon our landes and our vineyardes.

5 And now our flesh is as the flesh of our brethren, & our sonnes as their sonnes: and loe, wee dyng into subiection our sonnes, and our daughters, as seruantes, and there is of our daughters nowe in subiection, and there is no power in our handes: for other men haue our landes and our vineyardes.

6 Then was I very angry when I heard their crye and these wordes.

7 And I thought in my minde, and I rebuked the princes, & the rulers, and saide vnto them, You lay & burdens euery one vpon his brethren: and I set a great assemblie against them.

8 And I said vnto them, Wee (according to our abilitye) haue redeemed our brethren the Iewes, which were solde vnto I heard then: & will you sell your brethren againe, or shall they bee sold vnto vs? Then held they their peace, and coude not answer.

1 Against the riches, which oppressed them. 2 This is the complaint of people, shewing to what extremities they were brought vnto. 3 To pay our tribute to the king of the Persians, which was exacted yetely of vs. 4 By nature the rich is no better than the poore. 5 We are not able to redeme the but for powerie are constrained to hire them to others. 6 You presse the with vsurie, and seeke downe to bring all things into your hands. 7 Both because they should be moued with pity, seeing howe many were by them oppressed, & also because the iudgement of others, which should bee as it were witnesses of their dealing toward their brethren. 8 Seeing God hath once deliuered them from the bondage of the heathen, shall we make them our slaves?

9 I said also, That which ye doe is not good. Might ye not to walke in the feare of our God, for the & rejoyce of the brethren our enemies?

10 For when I, my brethren, and my seruantes doe lend them money and coine: I praye you, let vs leaue off this burden.

11 And so, I praye you, vnto them this day their landes, their vineyardes, their olives, and their houses, and reuise the hundredth parte of the silver and of the coine, of the wine, and of the oyle: that ye exacte of them.

12 Then said they, We will restore it, & will not require it of them: we will do as thou hast saide. Then I called the priests, and caused them to sweare, that they should do according to this promise.

13 So Iooke up I layde, and said, So let God shake out euery man that will not performe this promise from his house, and from his labour: euen thinsler haue shaken out, and empyied. And all the congregation sayde, Amen, and prayed the Lord: and the people did according to this promise.

14 And from the time that the King gaue mee charge to bee gouernour in the lande of Iudah from the twentieth yere, vnto the two and thirtieth yere of king Artaxerthes, that is twelue yere, I, and my brethren haue not eaten the wages of the gouernour.

15 For the founer gouernours that were before me, had bene chargeable vnto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, besides fouerty shekels of silver: prei, and their seruantes bare rule ouer the people: but so did not I, because of the feare of God.

16 But rather I fortified a portion in the worke of this wall, and we bought no lande, and all my seruantes came thither together vnto the worke.

17 For our there were at my table an hundred and fifty of the Iewes, and rulers, which came vnto vs from among the brethren that are about vs.

18 And there was prepared dayly an oxe, and fire choslen sheepe, and birdes were prepared for me, and within ten dayes time for all in abundance. Yet for all this I required not the bread of the gouernour: for the bondage was grievous vnto this people.

19 Remember me, O my God, in goodness, according to all that I haue done for this people.

CHAP. VI.

8 Nehemiah answered with great wisdom, & toke so his aduersarie, as he was not discouraged by the false prophets.

1 And when Sanballat, & Tobiah, and the rest of our enemies heard that I had built the wall, and that there were no breaches therein (though at that time I had not yet set by the doors vpon the gates) 2 Then sent Sanballat and Tobiah vnto me, saying, Come, thou that thou maye meete together in the villages in the plaine.

1 Meaning, Nehemiah. 2 Who by this occasion will blaspheme the Name of God, seeing that our actes are no better than theirs. Or, vsurie.

1 Which ye take of them for the long.

1 I received not that portion and diet, which the gouernours, that were before me, exacted: wherein he declared that he rather sought the wealth of the people, than his owne commoditie.

1 Or, once in ten dayes. 2 Whereas at other times they had by measure, at this time they had most liberally.

Therefore I sent messengers vnto them,

I can not come downe: why should the worke cease, whilst I tane it, and come

downe to you?

But they sent vnto me foure times after this sort. And I answered them after the same manner.

Then sent Sanballat his seruant after this sort vnto me the fifth time, with an open letter in his hand,

Wherein was written, It is reported

among the heathen, and Calumni hath said, that thou and the Jewes thinke

to rebel, for the which cause thou buildest

the wall, and thou wilt be their king according to these words.

Thou hast also ordeined the Prophets

to preach of thee at Ierusalem, saying,

There is a King in Iudah: and now according to these wordes it shall come to the kinges eares: come now therefore, and let vs take counsell together.

Then I sent vnto him, saying, It is not done according to these wordes that thou

saiest: for thou fastest them of thine owne

heart.

For all they asrayed vs, saying, Their

handes shall be weakened from the worke,

and it shall not be done: nowe therefore incourage thowme.

And I came to y house of Shemaiah

the sonne of Delaiah the sonne of Sheb-etababel, and he was shut vp, and he said,

Let vs come together into the house of God in the middes of the Temple: for they will come to slay the: yea, in the night

will they come to kill thee.

Then I sayde, Should such a man as I, bee? Who is he, being as I am, that would goe into the Temple to live? I will not goe in.

And loe, I perceived, that God had not sent him, but that he pronounced this prophetic against me: for Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him.

Therefore was he hired, that I might be afraide, and doe thus, and sinne, and that they might haue an euill report that they might rejoyce in.

App God, remember thou Tobiah, and Sanballat according vnto their their workes, and shobiah the Prophete also,

and the rest of the Prophets that would haue hurt me in seare.

For notwithstanding the wall was finished on the five and twentieth day of Elul, in two and fiftie dayes.

And when all our enemies heard thereof, even all the heathen that were about

vs, then were afraide, and their courage failed the: for they knew, that this worke

was wrought by our God.

And in these dayes were there many of the priests of Iudah, whose letters went vnto Tobiah, and those of Tobiah came vnto them.

For there were many in Iudah, that were sworne vnto him: for hee was the sonne in law of Shechaniah, the sonne of Arab: and his sonne Jehonathan had the daughter of Shebthullah, the seruice of As-rechiah.

Yea, they spake in his praise before me,

and tolde him my wordes, and Tobiah

sent letters to put me in feare.

CHAP. VII.

After the wall was builded, is the watch appointed, 6 They that returned from the captiuitie are numbered.

When the wall was builded, and I had set by the doores, and the fingers and the Les-

ures were appointed,

Then I commanded my brother Hanani

and Hananiah the priince of the palace

in Ierusalem: for he was double a faith-

full man, and feared God above many.

And I sayd vnto them, Let not the gates of Ierusalem be opened, vntill the heate

of the sunne: and whilst they stande by,

let them shut the doores, and make them fast: and I appointed wardes of the inhabitants of Ierusalem, euery one in his warde, and euery one ouer agaynst

his house.

Nowe the citie was large and great, but the people were few therein, and the houses were not builded.

And my God put into mine heart, and I gathered the priences, and the rulers, and the people, to count their genealogies: for

I found a booke of the genealogie of the,

which came vp at the first, I found writen

therein,

These are the sonnes of the prouince that came vp fro the captiuitie that was caried away (whom Gedulchabnezar

73 And the priests and Levites, and the porters and the singers and the rest of the people and the scribes, and all Israel dwelt in their cities: and when the seventh moneth came, the children of Israel were in their cities.

CHAP. VIII.

2 Ezra gathereth together the people, and readeth to them the Lawe. 12 They reioyce in Israel for the knowledge of the words of God. 15 They keepe the feast of Tabernacles or bootes.

1 And all the people assembled themselves together, in the strate that was before the watergate, & the scribe vnto Ezra the scribe, that he would bring the booke of the Lawe of Moses, which the Lord had commanded to Israel.

2 And Ezra the priest brought the Lawe before the Congregation both of men and women, and of all that could heare and vnderstande it, in the first day of the seventh moneth.

3 And hee read therein in the strate that was before the watergate (from the morning vntill the midday) before men and women, and them that vnderstode it, and the eares of all the people hearkened vnto the booke of the Lawe.

4 And Ezra the scribe stode vpon a pulpit of wood, which he had made for the preaching, & beside him stode Parthiasah, & Sbrina, & Niamiah, & Yehiah, and Mikhiyah, & Adasiah on his right hande, and on his left hand Idobaiyah, & Shihaziel, and Shalchiah, and Galhani, & Galshabana, & Zeriahah, and Meshullam.

5 And Ezra opened the booke before all the people: for hee was above all the people: and when he opened it, all the people stode vp.

6 And Ezra prayed the Lord the great God, and all the people answered, Amen, Amen, with lifting vp their handes: and then bowed themselves, and worshipped the Lord with their faces toward the ground.

7 Also Ieshua, and Bani, and Sherebiyah, Iannih, Akub, Shabbethai, Yobiah, Shaleiah, Relai, Zariah, Zozabab, Gaman, Adasiah, and the Levites caused the people to vnderstande the Lawe, and the people stood in their place.

8 And they read in the booke of the Lawe of God distinctly, and gave the sense, and caused them to vnderstand the reading.

9 Then Nehemiah (which is Tirhatha) and Ezra the priest and scribe, and the Levites that instructed the people, sate vnto all the people. This day is holy vnto the Lord your God: mourne not, neyther weepe: for all the people wept, when they heard the wordes of the Lawe.

10 He said also vnto them, Go, and eate of the sacre, and drinke the sweete, and send part vnto them, for whome you are prepared: for this day is holy vnto our Lord: be ye not sorrow therefore: for the hope of the Lord is your strength.

11 And the Levites made silence throughout all the people, saying, Holde your peace: for the day is holy, bee not sadde therefore.

12 Then all the people went to eate and to drinke, and to send away part, & to make great ioye, because they had vnderstande the wordes that they had taught them.

13 And on the seconde day the chiefe fathers of all the people, the priests & the Levites were gathered vnto Ezra the scribe, that he also might instruct them in the wordes of the Lawe.

14 And they founde written in the Lawe, (that the Lord had commanded by Moses) that the children of Israel shoulde dwell in bootes in the feast of the seventh moneth.

15 And that they shoulde cause it to be declared & proclaimed in all their cities, and in Jerusalem, saying, Go forth vnto the mount, & bring olive branches, and pine branches, and branches of myrtus, and palme branches, and branches of thicke trees, to make bootes, as it is written.

16 So the people went forth and brought them and made them bootes, every one vpon the roofe of his house, and in their courtes, and in the courtes of the house of God, and in the streets by the waters gate, and in the strate of the gate of Ephraim.

17 And all the Congregation of them that were come againe out of the captiuitie, made bootes, & sate vnder the bootes: for since the time of Iehoiu the sonne of Iehoiada vnto this day, had not the children of Israel done so, and there was very yeeres great ioy.

18 And hee read in the booke of the Lawe of God euery day, from the first day vnto the last day. And they kept the feast seuen dayes, and on the eighth day a solemn assembly, according vnto the manner.

CHAP. IX.

1 The people repent, and forsake their strange wives. 5 The Levites exhort them to praise God. 6 Declaring his wonder. 26 And their ingratitude. 30 And Gods great mercies toward them.

1 In the foure and twentieth day of this moneth the children of Israel were assembled with fasting, & with sackes, cloth, and earth vpon them.

2 (And they that were of the seede of Israel were separated from all the strange men) and they stode and confessed their sinnes & the iniquities of their fathers.

3 And they stode vp in their place & read in the booke of the lawe of the Lord their God foure times on the day, and they confessed & worshipped the Lord their God foure times.

4 Then stode vp vpon the staires of the Levites Ieshua, and Bani, Kadmiel, Sherebiyah, Shani, Sherebiyah, Bani and Etenani, and cried with a loud voice vnto the Lord their God.

5 And the Levites said, even Ieshua and Kadmiel, Shani, Galshabiah, Sherebiyah, Yobiah, Sherebiyah & Bethabiah, stand vp, & praise the Lord your God for ever and ever, and let them praise thy glorious name, O God, which excellently above all thanksgiving and praise.

6 Thou art alone: thou hast made heaven, & the heaven of all heavens, & all their host, the earth, and all things that are therein, the sea, & all that are in them, and thou piercest them all, & the host of the heaven worshippeth thee.

7 Thou art, O Lord, the God, that hast chosen Abram, and broughtest him out of Ur in Caldea, and madest his name Abraham,

8 And foundest his heart faithfull before thee, and madest a covenant with him, to give unto his seed the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, and Perizzites, and Jebusites, and Girgathites, and hast performed thy wordes, because thou art true.

9 Thou hast also considered the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heard their cry by the red Sea,

10 And shewed tokens and wonders upon Pharaoh, and on all his servants, and on all the people of his land: for thou knewest that they dealt proudly against thee: therefore thou madest that a name, as appeareth this day.

11 For thou diddest breake by the sea bes fore them, & they went through the mids of the Sea on dry land: and those that pursued them, hast thou cast into the bottomes as a stone, in the nightie waters:

12 And diddest them in the day with a pillar of a cloude, & in the night with a pillar of fire to guide them light in the way that they went.

13 Thou camest down also upon mount Sinai, and spakest unto them from heaven, and gavest them right iudgements, and true lawes, ordinances & good commandments,

14 And declaredst unto them thine holy Sabbath, and commandedst them precepts, and ordinances, and lawes, by the hand of Moses thy servant:

15 And gavest them bread from heaven for their hunger, and broughtest forth water for them out of the rocke for their thirst: and thou promisedst them that they should go in, & take possession of the land: for the which thou haddest life by thine hand for to give them.

16 But they & our fathers behaved them selves proudly, & hardened their necke, so that they hearkened not unto thy commandments,

17 But refused to obey, and would not remember thy marvellous woordes that thou haddest done for them, but hardened their neckes, and had in their heades to returne to their bondage by their rebellion: but thou, O God of mercies, gracions and full of compassion, of long suffering and of great mercie, yet forsookest them not.

18 Wherefore, when they made them a molten calfe, and said, This is thy God that brought thee up out of the land of Egypt, and committed great blasphemies,

19 Yet thou for thy great mercies forsookest them not in the wilderness: the pillar of the cloude departed not fro them by day to leade them the way, neither the pillar of fire by night, to shewe them light, and the way wherby they should go.

20 Thou gavest also thy good Spirit to instruct them, and withholdest not thy M A N from their mouth, and gavest the water for their thirst.

21 Thou diddest also fede them fourtie yeeres in the wilderness: they lacked nothing: their clothes waxed not old, and their feete swelled not.

22 And thou gavest them kingdomes and people, and scatteredst them into corners: so they possessed the land of Shon and the land of the King of Ushon, and the land of the King of Aschan,

23 And thou diddest multiplie their children, like the starrs of the heaven, & broughtest them into the land, wherof thou haddest spoken unto their fathers, that they should go, and possess it.

24 So the children went in, and possessed the land, and thou subdest before them the inhabitants of the land, even the Canaanites, & gavest them into their hands, with their kings & the people of the land, that they might do with them what they would.

25 And they took their strong cities & the fat land, and possessed houses, full of all goods, cisternes digged out, vineyardes, and olives, and trees for feede in abundance, and they did eate, and were filled, and became fatte, and lived in pleasure through thy great goodness.

26 Yet they were disobedient, and rebelled against thee, and cast thy Lawe behind their backs, and slew thy Prophetes (which thou promisedst among them to turne them unto thee): & committed great blasphemies.

27 Therefore thou deliveredst them into the hande of their enemies that vexed them: yet in the time of their affliction, when they cryed unto thee, thou heardest them from the heaven, and through thy great mercies thou gavest them saviours, who saved them out of the hand of their adversaries.

28 But when they had rest, they returned to do evill before thee: therefore ledest thou them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the dominion over them, yet when they comered & cryed unto thee, thou heardest them from heaven, and deliverdest them according to thy great mercies many times.

29 And protestdest among them that thou mightest bring the againe unto thy Law: but they behaved themselves proudly, and hearkened not unto thy commandments, but sinned against thy iudgements (which a man should do as line in them) and spulled away the shewer, and were stiffnecked, and would not beare.

30 Yet thou diddest forsake them many yeeres, and protestdest among them by thy Spirit, even by the hand of thy Prophetes, many yeeres.

CHAP. XIII.

- 1 The Lawe is read. 2 They separate from them all strangers. 3 Nehemiah reprimandeth them that break
the Sabbath. 30 An ordinance to serve God.

1 And on that day did they reade in booke of Moses, in the audience of the people, and it was founde wyteten therein, that the Ammonite, and the Moabite should not enter into the Congregation of God.

2 We cause they met not the children of Israel with bread and with water, but his red Balaiam against them, that he should curse them: and our God turned the curse
into a blessing.

3 Nowe when they had heard the Lawe, they separated from Israel: all those that were mixed.

4 And before this had the Priest Elishib the oversight of the chamber of the house of our God, breing a Kuseman to Tobiah;

5 And he had made him a great chamber,
and there had they asorinne lard the of-frings, the incense, and the vessels, & the tythes of corne, of wine, and of oyle (appointed for the Levites, & the singers, and the porters) & the offerings of the Priests.

6 But in all this time was not I in Jerusalem: for in the two and thirtieth yere of Artahastir king of Babel, came I unto the King, and after certaine dayes
I obtreived of the king.

7 And when I was come to Jerusalem, I understoode the euill that Eliahb had done for Tobiah, in that he had made him
a chamber in the court of the house of God.

8 And it grieved me sore: therefore I call forth all the vessels of the house of Tobiah
out of the chamber.

9 And I commanded them to cleanse the chambers: and thus they brought I againe
the vessels of the house of God with the meate offering and the incense.

10 And I perceived that portions of the Leuites had not bene giuen, & that euerie
one was fled to his land, even the Levites and singers that erected the worke.

11 Then reioyned I the rulers & said, Why is the house of God forsaken? And I assembled them, and set them in their place.

12 Then brought all Iudah the tythes of corne and of wine, & of oyle unto the treasures.

13 And I made treasurers over the treasures, Shemiah the Priest, and Zabod the scribe, & of the Levites, Hedaliah, and Ibner their hand: and Hanan & some of the Leuites: for some of the Levites were counted faithful, and their office was to distribute unto their brethren.

14 Remember me, O my God, herein, and wipe not out my kindnesses that I haue shewed on the house of my God, and on the officers thereof.

15 In those dayes satue I in Iudah them,
that trode wine presses on the Sabbath,
and that brought in theaues, and which laded asses also with wine, grapes, and figges, and al burdens, and brought them into Jerusalem upon the Sabbath daye:
and I protested to them in the day that they shold viuailes.

16 There dwelt men of Tyne also there:
in which brought fish and all wares, and solde on the Sabbath unto the children of Judah euen in Jerusalem.

17 Then reioyned I the rulers of Iudah, & said unto them, What euill thing is this that ye do, and breake the Sabbath daye?

18 Did not your fathers thus, & our God brought all this plague vpon you, & vpon
this cite: yet ye increase the wrath vpon
Israel, in breakeing the Sabbath.

19 And when the gates of Jerusalem began to be darke before the Sabbath, I commanded to shut the gates, & charged that they should not bee opened till after the Sabbath, and some of my seruants set
I at the gates, that there should no burden be brought in on the Sabbath day.

20 So the chapmen and marchantes of all marchantes remanend once or twice all night without Jerusalem.

21 And I protested among them, and said vnto them, Why tarre ye all night about the wall? If ye doe it once againe, I will laye hands vpon you. From that time came they no more on the Sabbath.

22 And I said vnto the Levites that they should cleanse themselves, and that they should come & keepe the gates, to sanc-tifie the Sabbath day. Remember me, O my God, concerning this, and pardon me
according to the great mercie.

23 In those daies also I sawe Tewes that marped wines of Shihob, of Ammon,
and of Moab.

24 And their childe spake halfe in the speech of Shihob, & could not speake in the Iewes language, and according to the language of the one people, and of the other people.

25 Then I reprimed them, & cursed the,
and wrote certaine of them, & pulled off their heare, and tooke an othe of them by God, They shall not giue their daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shall ye take of their daughters vnto your sonnes, nor for your seruants.

26 And bid Salomon the king of Israel
sinne by these things: yet among many nations was there no king like him: for he was beloved of his God, and God had made him king ouer Israel: yet strange women caused him to sinne.

27 Shall we then obey vnto you, to do all this great euill, and to transgresse against our God, euen to marrie strange women?

28 And one of the sonnes of Tobiah the euill example, some of Eliahb the hye Priest was the sonne in lawe of Sanballath the Hyonite:

THE ARGUMENT.

BEcause of the diversitie of names, whereby they vsed to name their Kings, & the supputation of yeeres, wherein the Hebrewes, & the Grecians do varie, diuers authors write diuersly as touching this Ahashuerosh, but it seemeth, Daniel 6. 1. & 9. 1. that he was Darius King of the Medes, and some of Ashtages, called also Ahashuerosh, which was a name of honour, & signified great & chief, as chiefe head Herin is declared the great mercies of God toward his Church: who neuer faileth them in their greatest dangers, but when al hope of worldly helpe faileth, he euer stirreth vp some, by whom he sendeth comfort, and deliuerance. Herin also is described the ambition, pride & crueltye of the wicked, when they come to honour, and their sudden fall when they are at highest: and how God preferreth, and preferreth them which are zealous of his glorie, and haue a care & loue toward their bretheren.

d Which they vsed in those countreis in stead of tables.

e As was becomming for so magnificent a king.
f None might be compelled to drink more then it pleased him.

g Which was the last day of the feast that the king made for the people, as verse 3.

In the dayes of Ahashuerosh (this is Ahashuerosh) reigned, fro India euen vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred and twenty yonities.
2 In those daies when the king Ahashuerosh eate on his throne, which was in the palace of Shushan.
3 In the third yere of his reigne, he made a feast vnto all his princes & his seruants, euen the power of Persia and Media, and to the captaynes and gouernours of the prouinces which were before him.
4 That he might shew the riches and glorie of his kingdom, and the honour of his great maiestie many dayes, euen an hundred and foure score dayes.
5 And when these dayes were expired, the king made a feast to all the people that were found in the palace of Shushan, both vnto great and small, seven dayes, in the court of the garden of the kings palace.
6 Vnder an hangi ng of white, Greene, and blew clothes, fastened with cordes of fine linnen and purple, in silver rings, & pillars of marbyle: the beddes were of golde, & of silver vpon a pavement of porphyre, and marbyle & alabastrer, and blew colour.
7 And they gaue them drinke in vessels of golde, and changed vessel after vessel, and royal wine in abundance according to the power of the king.
8 And the drinke was by an order, none might compell: for to the king had appointed vnto all the officers of his house, that they shoulde doe according to every mans pleasure.
9 The Queene Valstis made a feast also for the women in the royal house of king Ahashuerosh.
10 Vpon the seventh day when the king was merie with wine, he commanded Behuman, Bigtha, Garbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Thethar, & Carcas, the seven eunuches, (that serued in the presence of king Ahashuerosh)

11 To bring Anene Valstis before the king with the crowne royall, that he might shewe the people & the princes her beautie: for she was faire to looke vpon.
12 But the Queene Valstis refused to come at the kings wyde, which he had given in charge to the eunuches: therefore the king was very angry, & his wrath kindled in him.
13 Then the king said to the wise men, that knewe the times (for so was the kings manner towardes all that knewe the lawe and the iudgement):
14 And the next vnto him was Carshena, Sherar, Admatha, Tachub, Sereb, Bartenia and Spenuch: the seven princes of Persia & Media, which sawe the kings face, and sat the first in the kingdom.
15 What shal we do vnto the Queene Valstis according to the lawe, because she did not according to the word of the king Ahashuerosh by the commiission of the eunuches?
16 Then Spenuch answered beseege the king and the princes, The Queene Valstis hath not onely done euill against the king, but against all the princes, and against all the people that are in all the prouinces of king Ahashuerosh.
17 For the acte of the Queene shall come abroad vnto all women, so that they shall despise their husbands in their owne eyes, & shall saue. The king Ahashuerosh commanded Valstis the Queene to be brought in before him, but she came not.
18 So shall the princesses of Persia and Media thus daue Cape vnto all the Kings Princes, when they heare of the acte of the Queene: thus shall there be much displeasure and wrath.
19 If it please the king, let a royall decree proceede from him, & let it be written among the statutes of Persia, and Media (and let it not be transgressed) that Valstis shal come no more before king Ahashuerosh: and let the king giue her royal estate vnto her companion that is better then she.
20 And when the decree of the king which shalbe made, shalbe published throughout all his kingdom (though it be great) all the women shall giue their husbands honour, both great and small.
21 And this saying pleased the king and seven counsaill

CHAP. II.

- 1 After this Queen was put away, certain young maidens were brought to the King. 17 After pleafeth the King, and made Queen. 25 Mordecai difpleafeth unto the King theſe that would betray him.

1 After theſe things, when the watch of king Mithroeroſh was appealed, he remembered Wahti, and what ſhe had done, and what was decreed * againſt her.

2 And the kinges ſervants that miniſtered unto him, ſaid, let them ſeeke for the king beautilfull pong virgins.

3 And let þ king appoint officers through all the provinces of his kingdome, and let them gather all the beautilfull pong virgins unto the palace of Shuſhan, into the houſe of the women, under the hande of Hege the kinges eunuche, & keeper of the women, to give them their thinges * for purification.

4 And the maide that ſhall pleaſe the king, let her reigne in the ſtead of Wahti. And this pleaſed the king, and he did ſo.

5 ¶ In the citie of Shuſhan, there was a certaine Jewe, whoſe name was Spoydecrai the ſonne of Jair, & ſonne of Shimir, the ſonne of Biſh a man of Jeruſalem.

6 Which had bene carped away from Jeruſalem * with the captivitie that was caried away with Zekemiah king of Judah (whoſe Geduchabnezzar king of Babel had caried away)

7 And he nourished Habbaſah, that is Eſter, his uncles daughter: for ſhe had neither father nor mother, & the mapde was faire, & beautilfull to looke on: & after the death of her father & her mother, Spoydecrai tooke her for his owne daughter.

8 And when the kinges commandement, and his decree was publiſhed, and many maidens were brought together to the palace of Shuſhan, under the hand of Hege, Eſter was brought alſo unto the kinges houſe under the hande of Hege the keeper of the women.

9 And the mapde pleaſed him, & ſhe founde favour in his ſight: therefore he cauled her thinges for purification to bee given her freely, & her * attire, and ſeven conſels maidens to be given her out of the kinges houſe, and he gave charge to her & to her maidens of þ beſt in the houſe of þ women.

10 But Eſter ſheved not her people and her kindred: for Spoydecrai had charged her, that ſhe ſhould not tell it.

11 And Spoydecrai walked every day before the court of the womens houſe, to knowe if Eſter did well, and what ſhould be done with her.

12 And when the courſe of every mapde came, to go in to king Mithroeroſh, after that ſhe had bene twelue months according to the manner of the women (for ſo were the dayes of theſe purifications accompliſhed, ſixe months with oyle of myrrhe, and ſixe months with ſweete odours & in the purifying of the women: 13 And thus went the mapdes unto the king) what ſeeker the required was given her, to go with her out of þ womens houſe unto the kings houſe.

14 In the evening he went, and on the morrow he returned into the ſecond houſe of the women under the hand of Shabſhag the kinges eunuche, which kept the conſorbines: ſhe came in to ſee the king no more, except the pleaſed the king, and that ſhe were called by name.

15 Nowe when the courſe of Eſter the daughter of Abſhail þ uncke of Spoydecrai (which had taken her as his owne daughter) came, that ſhe ſhould go in to þ king, ſhe deſired nothing, but what * Hege the kinges eunuche the keeper of the women ſapde: and Eſter founde favour in the ſight of all them that looked upon her.

16 ¶ So Eſter was taken unto king Mithroeroſh into his houſe to reſide in the tenth month, which is the month Tebeth, in the ſeventh yere of his reigne.

17 And the king loved Eſter above all the women, and ſhe found grace and favour in his ſight more then all the virgins: ſo that hee let the crowne of the kingdome upon her head, and made her Queene in ſtead of Wahti.

18 Then the king made a great feaſt unto all his princes, and his ſervantes, which was the feaſt of Eſter, & gave reſt * unto the provinces, and gave gifts, according to the power of a king.

19 And when the virgins were gathered the ſecond time, then Spoydecrai ſate in the kings gate.

20 Eſter had not yet ſheved her kindred nor her people, as Spoydecrai had charged her: for Eſter did after þ word of Spoydecrai, as whẽ he was nourished with him.

21 ¶ In thoſe dayes when Spoydecrai ſate in the kinges gate, two of the kinges eunuches, Bigthan & Terſh, which kept the doore, were wroth, and ſought to laye a hand on the king Mithroeroſh.

22 And the thing was knowne to Spoydecrai, and he told it unto Aſuene Eſter, and Eſter certained the king thereof in Spoydecraies name: and when inquiſition was made, it was founde ſo: therefore they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the booke of the * Chronick: before the king.

repentent Haman: for the king had so commanded concerning him: but Mordecai bowed not himself: neither did reverence.

Then the kinges servants which were at the kings gate, sayde unto Mordecai, Why trailest thou thou the kings commandement?

And albeit they spake thus unto him,
yet he would not heare them: therefore they told Haman, that they might see how Mordecais matters would stand: for he had tolde them, that he was a Jewe.
And when Haman sawe that Mordecai bowed not the knee unto him, nor did reverence unto him, then Haman was full of wrath.

Nowe he thought it too little to lay handes onely on Mordecai: and because they had shewed him the people of Mordecai, Haman sought to destroye all the Jewes that were throughout the whole kingdome of Chabthroth, even the people of Mordecai.

In the first moneth (that is the moneth Nisan) in the twelfth yere of king Cha-stroth, they call Darius (that is a lot) be-foze Haman, from day to day, and from moneth to moneth, unto the twelfth mo-neth, that is the moneth Nisan.

Then Haman sayd unto king Chabthro-
th, There is a people scattered & dispersed among the people in all the pounces of thy kingdome, and their lawes are divers from all people, and they doe not obserue the kings lawes: therefore it is not the kings profit to suffer them.

If it please the king, let it be written that they may be destroyed, & I will pay ten thousand talents of silver by the hands of them that have the charge of this busines to bring it into the kings treasurie.

Then the king tooke his ring from his hand and gave it unto Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite the Jewes adversarie.

And the king said unto Haman, Let the silver be thine, and the people to doe with them as it pleaseth thee.

Then were the kings scribes called on the thirteenth day of the first moneth, and there was written (according to all that Haman commanded) unto the kinges officers, and to the captaines that were ouer euer pounce, and to the rulers of euer people and to euer pounce,
according to the writing thereof, & to euer
people according to their language:
in the name of king Chabthroth was it written, and sealed with the kings ring.

And the letters were sent by post
into all the kings pounces, to rote out,
to kill and to destroy all the Jewes, both young and old, children & women, in one day upon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, (which is the moneth Nisan) and to spoyle them as a pray.

The contents of the writing was, that there should be given a commandement
in all pounces, & published unto all people, that they should be readie against the same day.

And the postes compelled by the kings commandement went forth, and the commandement was given in the palace at Shushan: and the king and Haman were drinking, but the cite of Shushan was in perplexitie.

CHAP. III.

Mordecai sheweth the Queens knowledge of the cruell decree of the King against the Jewes. 16 She writeth
that they pray for her.

Nowe when Mordecai perceived all that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes, & put on sackcloth & ashes,
and went out into the middes of the cite,
and cried with a great cry, and a bitter.

And he came euen befoze the kings gate,
but he might not enter within the kings
gate, being clothed with sackcloth.

And in euery pounce, & place, whither
the kings charge & his commission came,
there was great sorrow among the Jewes,
and fasting, & weeping & mourning, and many lay in sackcloth and in ashes.

Then Esters maides & her eunuches came and told it her: therefore the maide was very heauie, and she sent rapment to clothe Mordecai, and to take away his sackcloth fro him, but he received it not.

Then called Ester Hathach one of the kings eunuches, whome he had appointed to serue her, and gave him a commandement unto Mordecai, to knowe what it was,
and why it was.

So Hathach went forth to Mordecai unto the streete of the cite, which was be-foze the kings gate.

And Mordecai told him of all that which had come vnto him, & of the summe of the silver that Haman had promised to pay vnto the kings treasures, because of the Jewes, for to destroy them.

Also he gaue him the copie of the writ-ting and commission that was given at Shushan, to destroy them, that he might shewe it vnto Ester & declare it vnto her,
and to charge her, that she should go into the king, & make petition and supplication befoze him for her people.

So when Hathach came, he tolde Ester
the wordes of Mordecai.

Then Ester sayde vnto Hathach, & commanded him, to say vnto Mordecai,

All the kings seruantes and the people of the kings pounces do know, that whos-soeuer man or woman, that cometh to the king into the inner court, which is not called, there is a lawe of his, that he shall dye, except him to whom the king holdeth out the golden rod, that he may live. Now I haue not bene called to come vnto the king these thirte daies.

And they certified Mordecai of Esters
wordes.

And Mordecai sayde, that they should answer Ester thus, Think not with thy selfe that thou shalt escape in the kinges house, more then all the Jewes.

For if thou holdest thy peace at this time, comfort and deliverance shall ap-peare to the Jewes out of another place,
but thou & thy fathers house shall perish:
but thou & thy fathers house shall perish.

Then Ester commanded to answer Mordecai.

Go and assemble all the Jewes that are found in Buthan, and fast ye for me, and eate nor, nor drinke in thine dayes, daye nor night. I also and my maides will fast likewise, and so will goe in to the king, which is not according to the Lawe: and if I perish, I perish.

So Mordecai went his way, and did according to all that Ester had commaunded him.

CHAP. V.

Ester entred into the Kings, and biddeth him and Haman to a feast. 14 Haman prepareth a gallie for Mordecai.

As on the thirde day Ester put on her apparel, and stood in the court of the kings palace within, ouer against the kings house: and the king sate vpon his royal throne in the kings palace ouer against the gate of the house.

And when the king saw Ester the Queene standing in the court; she founde fauour in his sight: and the king held out the golden scepter that was in his hande: so Ester bowed nere, and touched the toppe of the scepter.

Then said the king vnto her, What wilt thou, Queene Ester? and what is thy request? it shall be euen giuen: that to the halfe of the kingdome.

Then said Ester, If it please the king, let the king and Haman come this day vnto the banquet, that I haue prepared for him.

And the king said, Cause Haman to make haste that he may doe as Ester hath saide. So the king & Haman came to the banquet that Ester had prepared.

And the king said vnto Ester at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? and what is thy request? it shall euen be performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

Then answered Ester, and said, Appetition and my request is,

If I haue founde fauour in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to giue me my petition, and to performe my request, let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I shall prepare for them, and I will doe to morowe according to the kings saying.

Then went Haman forth the same day ioyfull and with a glad heart. But when Haman saw Mordecai in the kings gate, that he stood not vp, nor moued for him, then was Haman full of indignation at Mordecai.

Nevertheless Haman refrayned himselfe: and when he came home, he sent and called for his friends, & Zeresh his wife.

And Haman tolde them of the glorie of his riches; and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherewith the king had promoted him: and howe that he had set him aboue the princes & seruants of the king.

Hamani saide moreover, Pea, Ester the Queene did let no man come in with the king to the banquet that he had prepared, saue me: and to morowe am I hidden vnto her also with the king.

But all this both nothing answere, as long as I see Mordecai the Jewe sitting at the kings gate.

Then saide Zeresh his wife and all his friends vnto him, Let them make a tree of sike: embutes yis, & to morowe speake thou vnto the king; that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then shalt thou goe ioyfull with the king vnto the banquet. And the thing pleased Haman, & he caused to make the tree.

CHAP. VI.

The King turneth ouer the Chronicles, and findeth the falsitie of Mordecai, 10 And commandeth Haman to cause Mordecai to be had in honour.

The same night the king slept not, & he commanded to bring the booke of the recordes and the Chronicles: and they were read before the king.

Then it was founde written that Mordecai had tolde of Bigana, and Zeresh, two of the kings eunuchs, keepers of the doore, who sought to laye hands on the king & his household.

Then the king saide, What honour and dignitie hath bene giuen to Mordecai for this? And the kings seruants that ministered vnto him, saide, There is nothing done for him.

And the king saide, Who is in the court? (saue Haman) who came into the inner court of the kings house, that he might speake vnto the king to hang Mordecai on the tree that he had prepared for him.)

And the kings seruants saide vnto him, Neholbe. Haman standeth in the court. And the king saide, Let him come in.

And when Haman came in, the king saide vnto him, What shall be done vnto the man, whom the king will honour? Then Haman thought in his heart, To whom would the king do honour more then to me?

And Haman answered the king, The man whom the king would honour.

Let them bring for him royal appaerell, which the king vseth to weare, & the horse that the king rideth vpon, and that the king croune royall may be set vpon his head.

And let the raiment and the horse be delivered by the hande of one of the kings most noble princes, and let them appaerell the man whom the king will honour: & cause him to ride vpon the horse though the streete of the citie, and proclaim before him, Thus shall it be done vnto the man, whom the king will honour.

Then the king saide to Haman, Speake haste, take the raiment & the horse as thou hast saide, and doe so vnto Mordecai the Jewe, that standeth at the kings gate: let nothing faile of all that thou hast spoken.

So Haman took the raiment and the horse, and arrayed Mordecai, and brought him on horsebacke, though the streete of the citie, & proclaimed before him, Thus shall it be done to the man, whom the king will honour.

3 The Queene biddeth the King and Haman againe, and prayeth for her selfe and her people. 6 She ac-

had prepared for Mordecai.

1 S O the King and Haman came to handel with the Queene Ester.

2 And the King said againe vnto Ester
on the second day at the banket of wine,
What is thy petition, Queene Ester, that it may be giuen thee: and what is thy request? It shall be euen performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

3 And Ester the Queene answered, & said,
If I haue founde fauour in thy sight, & king, and if it please the king, let my life be giuen me at my petition, and my people
at my request.

4 For we are solde, I, and my people, to be destroyed, to be slaine and to perish: but if we were solde for seruants, and for handmynes, I would haue helde my tongue:
although the aduersarie coulde not recompense the kings losse.

5 Then King Mithroeroh answered, and said vnto the Queene Ester, Who is he?
where is he? at what tyme cometh he to do this?

6 And Ester said, The aduersarie is enemy is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afraid before the king & the Queene.

7 And the King arose from the banket of wine in his wrath, and went into the palace garden: but Haman doode vpon, to make request for his life to the Queene Ester: for he sawe that there was a mischief prepared for him of the King.

8 And when the king came againe out of the palace garden, into the house where they dranke wine, Haman was fallen vpon the bed whereon Ester lay: therefore the king said, Will he force the Queene also before me in the house? As the word wrote out of the kings mouth, they covered Haman with furs.

9 And Harbonah one of the euniches, standing in the presence of the king, Behold, there standeth yet the tree in Hamans house fittie cubites high, which Haman had prepared for Spodercat, that spake good for the king. Then the king saide, Hang him thereon.

10 So they hanged Haman on the tree, that he had prepared for Spodercat: then
was the kings wrath pacified.

CHAP. VIII.

1 After the death of Haman was Mordecai exalted,
24 Comfortable letters are sent vnto the lewes.

1 T he same daye bid King Mithroeroh
giue the house of Haman y aduersariof the Jewes vnto the Queene Ester.

2 And Spodercat came before the king: for Ester tolde what he was vnto her.

3 And the king tooke off his ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gaue it vnto Spodercat: and Ester let Spodercat ouer
the house of Haman.

4 And Ester spake yet more before y king, and fell downe at his feete weeping, and besought him that hee woulde put away
the wickednesse of Haman the Agagite, and his deuice that hee had imagined against the Jewes.

5 And the king helde out the golden scepter towards Ester. Then arose Ester, and doode before the king.

6 And said, If it please the king, & if I haue founde fauour in his sight, and the thing be acceptable before the king, and I please him, let it be written, that the letters of the deuice of Haman the sonne of Ammeda-tha the Agagite may be called againe, which he wrote to destroy y Jewes, that are in all the kings prouinces.

7 For howe can I suffer and see the euill, that shall come vnto my people? Howe can I suffer and see the destruction of my kinred?

8 And the king Mithroeroh saide vnto the Queene Ester, & to Spodercat the Jewe, Beholde, I haue giuen Ester the house of Haman, whome they haue hanged vpon
the tree, because he lapde hand vpon the Jewes.

9 Write ye also for the Jewes, as it liketh

10 Then were the kings scribes called at y

uinces, which were from India euen vnto Ethiopia, an hundredth and seven and twentie prouinces, vnto euery prouince, according to the writing thereof, and to euery people after their speech, and to the Jewes, according to their writing, and a fewe letters by postes on horsebacke,

and that rode on beastes of yce, as byrones
baries and coltes of marce.

12 Wherein the king graunted the Jewes

themselues together, & to stand for y life, and to rote out, to slay and to destroy all the power of the people and of the yve-rner that bereth them, both children and

^a This was by Gods great providence, who turneth the ioy of the wicked into sorrow, and the teares of the godly into gladnesse.

^b Did them honour, & shewed them friendship.

^c Which had conspired their death by the permission of the wicked Haman.

^d Besides those three hundred, that they slew the second day,

as verse 15.

^e Wherby they declared that this was Gods iust judgement upon the enemies of his Church, foras-

much as they sought not their owne gain, but to execute his vengeance,

13 The copie of the writing was, how there should be a commandement given in all and euery prouince, published among all the people, and that the Jewes should be ready against that daye to ^a auenge themselves on their enemies.

14 So the postes rode vpon beastes of price, and byancebaries, and went forth with speede, to execute the kings commandement, and the decree was giuen at Shushan the palace.

15 And Mordecai went out from the King in roppall apparel of birlu, and white, and with a great crowne of golde, and with a garment of fine linnen and purple; and the citie of Shushan reioyced and was glad.

16 And vnto the Jewes was come light and ioy and gladnes, and honour.

17 Also in all and euery prouince, and in all and euery citie & place, where the kings commandement and his decree came, there was ioy and gladnes to the Jewes, a feast and good daye, and many of the people of the lande ^b became Jewes: for the feare of the Jewes fell vpon them.

CHAP. IX.

1 At the commandement of the King, the Jewes put their adversaries to death. 24 The tenne sonnes of Haman are hanged. 27 The Jewes keep a fast in remembrance of their deliuerance.

1 ^c So in the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth Nisan, vpon the thirtieth day of the same, when the kings commandement and his decree were nere to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Jewes hoped to haue power ouer them, but it ^d turned contrarie: for the Jewes had rule ouer them that hated them.

2 The Jewes gathered them selues together into their citie throughout all the prouinces of the king Mithrasroth, to lay hands on such as sought their hurt, and no man coude withstand them: for the feare of them fell vpon all people.

3 And all the rulers of the prouinces, and the princes and the captaines, and officers of the King ^e exalted the Jewes: for the feare of Mordecai fell vpon them.

4 For Mordecai was great in the kings house, and the report of him wet through all the prouinces: for this man Mordecai was greater and greater.

5 Thus the Jewes smote all their enemies with strokes of the sword & slaughter, and destruction, and did what they would vnto those that hated them.

6 And at Shushan the palace slew the Jewes ^f destroyed ^g five hundred men,

7 And Parthandatha, and Dalphon, and Abathpa,

8 And Voizatha, and Abaila, and Nisidatha,

9 And Marmashta, and Mifai, and Mibai, and Matesatha,

10 The ten sonnes of Haman, the sonne of Ammedatha, the aduersarie of the Jewes slew them: but they layed not their hands ^h on the people.

11 On the same daye came the number of those that were slayne, vnto the palace of Shushan before the King.

12 And the King layde vnto the Aueue Ester. The Jewes haue slayne in Shushan the palace and destroyed five hundred men, and the tenne sonnes of Haman: what haue they done in the rest of the kings prouinces? and what is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? or what is thy request inuowner, that it may be performed?

13 Then layde Ester, If it please the King, let it be graunted also to inuowne to the Jewes that are in Shushan, to do according vnto this dayes decree, that they may hang vpon the tree Hamans tenne sonnes.

14 And the King charged to doe so, and the decree was giuen at Shushan, and they hanged Hamans tenne sonnes.

15 So the Jewes that were in Shushan, assembled them selues vpon the fourteenth day of the moneth Nisan, and slew three hundred men in Shushan, but on the people they layde not their hand.

16 And the rest of the Jewes that were in the kings prouinces assembled themselves, and stood for their liues, and had rest from their enemies; and sure of them that ⁱ hated them, sentencie and fine thousand: but they layde not their hands on the people.

17 This they did on the thirtieth day of the moneth Nisan, and rested the fourteenth daye thereof, and kept it a day of feasting and ioy.

18 But the Jewes that were in Shushan, assembled them selues on the thirtieth daye, and on the fourteenth thereof, and they rested on the fifteenth of the same, & kept it a day of feasting and ioy.

19 Therefore the Jewes of the villages that dwelt in diuallied towines, kept the fourteenth daye of the moneth Nisan with ioy and feasting, even a iopfull day, and euery one sent presents vnto his neighbour.

20 And Mordecai wrote these wordes, and sent letters vnto all the Jewes that were through all the prouinces of the king Mithrasroth, both nere and farr.

21 Inuowning them that they should keep the fourteenth day of the moneth Nisan, and the fifteenth daye of the same, euery peere,

22 According to the dayes wherinn the Jewes rested from their enemies, and the moneth which was turned vnto them from ioy to ioy, and from mourning into a iopfull day, to keep them ^j dayes of feasting, and ioy, and ^k to sende presents euery man to his neighbour, and gifts to the poore.

23 And the Jewes promised to doe as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written vnto them.

24 Because Haman the sonne of Ammedatha the Magiste of the Jewes aduersarie, had imagined against the Jewes, to destroy them, and had ^l call vnto (that is a lot) to consume and destroy them,

^f This the re- quireth, not for desire of vengeance, but with a seale to see Gods iudgements executed against his enemies.

^g Reade Chap. 8. 11. ^h Meaning, that they laid hands on none, that were not the enemies of God. ⁱ Meaning, in all places sauing in Shushan.

^k As the Jewes doe, euen to this day, calling it in the Persians language Purim, that is, the day of lots.

^l The Jewes gather hereof that Mordecai wrote this storie, but it seemeth that he wrote but onely these letters, and decrees that follow.

^m He setteth before our eyes the life of this feast, which was for remembrance of gods deliuerance, the maintenance of mutual friendship, and reliefe of the poore.

ⁿ Reade Chap. 25 And 3-2.

- o That is, Ester. 25 And when he came before the king, he continued by letters, let his wicked denice (which he imagined against the Jewes) turne upon his owne head, and let them hang him and his sonnes on the tree.
- p These are the wordes of the kings commandement to disaoul Haman wicked enterprife.
- 26 Therefore they called these dayes Purim, by the name of Pur, and because of all the wordes of this letter, and of that which they had seene besides this, and of that which had come unto them.
- 27 The Jewes also desired, and promised for them and for their seide, and for all that is pured unto them, that they would be not so faple to observe those two dayes: euerp peere, according to their witting, & according to their season.
- 28 And that these dayes should be renewed, and kept throughout euerp generation and euerp familie, and euerp yuolence, and euerp cite: euen these dayes of Purim should not faile among Jewes, and the memorials of them should not perish from their seide.
- 29 And the Queene Ester the daughter of Abihail and Mordecai the Jewe wrote with all authority (to confirme this letter of Purim the second time)
- 30 And he sent letters unto all the Jewes

to the hundredth and seven and twentie prouinces of the kingdome of Shalherol, with wordes of peace and truth.

31 To confirme these dayes of Purim, according to their seasons, as Mordecai the Jewe, and Ester the Queene had appointed them, and as they had promised for them selves and for their seide with fasts, and prayer.

32 And the decree of Ester confirmed the wordes of Purim, and was written in the booke.

Iob.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN this historie is set before our eyes the example of a singular patience. For this holy man Iob was not onely extremely afflicted in outward things and in his bodye, but also in his minde, and conscience by the sharpe tentations of his wife, and chiefe friends: which by their vehement wordes, and subtil disputations brought him almost to despair: for they set forth God as a seuerer Iudge, and mortall enemy vnto him, which had cast him off, therefore in vaine he should seeke vnto him for succour. These friends came vnto him vnder pretence of consolation, and yet they tormented him more then did all his affliction. Notwithstanding he did constantly resist them, and at length had good successe. In this storie wee haue to marke that Iob mainteined a good cause, but handled it euill: againe his aduersaries haue an euill matter, but they defende it craftily. For Iob helde that God did not alway punish men according to their finnes, but that hee had secrete iudgements, whereof man knewe not the cause, and therefore man could not reason against God therein, but he should be conuicted. Moreover, he was assured that God had not reiected him, yet through his great tormentes and affliction, he brasteth forth into many inconveniences both of wordes and sentences, and sheweth him selfe as a desperate man in many things, and as one that would resist God: and this is his good cause which he doeth not handle well. Againe the aduersaries maintaine with many goodly arguments, that God punisheth continually according to the trespass, grounding vpon Gods prouidence, his iustice, and mans finnes, yet their intention is euill: for they labour to bring Iob into despair, and so they mainteine an euill cause. Ezekiel commendeth Iob as a iust man, Ezekiel 14. 14. and Iames setteth out his patience for an example, Iames 5. 11.

Angels, which we called the sonnes of God,
because they are willing to execute his will.
l Because our infirmities cannot comprehend God
in his maiesty,
he is set forth vn
to vs as a King,
that our capacity may be able to understande
that which is spoken of him.

m This declareth
that although Satan
be aduersarie to God,
yet he is compelled to obey him, and
doe him all homage,
without whose permission
and appointment
he can do nothing.

n This question is asked for our infirmities: for God knew whence he came. o Herein is described y nature
of Satan, which is euer ranging for his pray, 1. Pet. 5. 8. p He feareth thee
not for thine owne
sake, but for the commodity that he recei-
ueth by thee. q
Meaning, the grace of God, which served Iob, as a rampare against all tentations. r
This significeth that Satan is not able to touch vs,
but it is God that must doe it. s Satan noteth the vice, whereunto
men are commonly
subiect: that is,
to hide their rebellion, and to be content with God in the time
of prosperitie, which vice is disclosed
in the time of aduersitie. t God
giueth not Satan
power ouer man
to graue him, but
to declare that hee hath no power
ouer man, but that which God
giueth him. u
That is, went to execute that which God had permitted him
to do for els he can neuer go out of Gods presence. x That is,
the Arabians. y
Which thing was allotted by the crafft of Satan,
to tempt Iob the
more grievously,
forasmuch as he might see, that not onely men
were his enemies,
but that God
made warre
against him.

were gone about, Iob sent, and sanctified them, and role vp eareps in the morning, and s offered burnt offerings according to the number of them all. For Iob thought, It may be that my sonnes have sinned, and s blasphemed God in their hearts: thus did Iob s euerp day.

6 I Aroue on a day when the s children of God came and stood before the Loyde,
Satan s came also among them.

7 Then the Loyde sayde vnto Satan, Whence s comest thou? And Satan answered the Loyd, saying, s From conspiring the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

8 And the Loyde sayde vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Iob, how none is like him in the earth: s an upright and iust man, one that feareth God,
and escheweth euill?

9 Then Satan answered the Loyde, and said, Woerth Iob feare God s for nought?

10 I said thou not made s an hedge about him and about his house, and about all that he hath on euery side: thou hast discussed the worke of his handes, and his substance is increased in the lande.

11 But stretch out nowe thine hande and s touch all that he hath, to see if he will not blaspheme thee to s thy face.

12 Then the Loyde sayde vnto Satan, Ior,
all that he hath is in s thine hande: onely
upon him selfe shalt thou not stretch out thine hande. So Satan departed from the s presence of the Loyde.

13 I And on a day, when his sonnes and his daughters were eating, and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

14 There came a messenger vnto Iob, and sayde, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding in their places,

15 And the s Shabeaus came violently, and tooke them: yea, they haue slaine
the seruantes with the edge of the sword: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

16 And whyles hee was yet speaking, an other came, and sayde, The s fire of God is fallen from the heaue, and hath burnt vp the sheepe and the seruantes, and destroyed them: but I onely am escaped alone, to tell thee.

17 And whyles hee was yet speaking, another came, and sayde, The Chaldeans set out three bandes, and fell vpon the cannels, and haue taken them, and haue slayne the seruantes with the edge of the sword: but I onely am escaped alone to
tell thee.

18 And whyles hee was yet speaking,
came another, and sayde, Thy s sonnes,
and thy daughters were eating, and drinking wine in their eldest brothers
house,

19 And beholde, there came a great winde
from bronde the wilderness, and smote
the foure corners of the house, which fell vpon the children, and they are dead, and I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

20 Then Iob arose, s rent his garment,
and shaned his head, and fell down vpon
the ground, and worshipped,

21 And sayde, s Shaked cause I out of my mothers wombe, and naked shall I returne s thither: the Loyd hath giuen, and the Loyde hath taken it: s blessed be the name of the Loyde.

22 In all this did not Iob fume, nor charge
God s foolishly.

Eccl. 5. 14. s. tim. 6. 7. d That is, into the bellie of the earth, which is the matter of all. c Hereby he confesseth that God is iust, and good, although his hand be fore vpon him. d But declareth that God did all things according to iustice and equitie.

CHAP. II.

6 Satan hath permission to assault Iob s His wife tempteth him to forsake God. 11 His three friends visit him.

1 A And on a day the s children of God s came and stood before the Loyde, and Satan s came also among them, and stood before the Loyde.

2 Then s Loyd sayd vnto Satan, Whence comest thou? And Satan answered the Loyde, and sayde, From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

3 And s Loyd sayd vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Iob, howe
none is like him in the earth: s an upright and iust man, one that feareth God, and escheweth euill: s for yet he continueth in his vprightness, s although thou mouest him against him, to destroy him s without cause.

4 And Satan answered the Loyd, and said,
s Skinne thou him, and all that euer a man hath, will he giue for his life.

5 But stretch now out thine hand, s touch his s houses and his stock, to see if he will not blaspheme thee to the face.

6 Then the Loyd sayde vnto Satan, Ior,
he is in thine hand, but saue s his life.

7 So Satan departed fro the presence of the Loyd, s smote Iob with soe s boiles, f Meaning, his owne person. g Thus Satan can goe no further in punishing, then God hath limited him. h This fore was most vehement, herewith s Iob God plagued the Egyptians. Exod. 9. 20. and threateth to punish the rebellious people, Deut. 28. 27. i that this tentation was most grievous: for if Iob had measured Gods fauour by the vehemencie of his disease, he might haue thought that God had call him off.

2 The last plague declar-
eth, that when one plague is past, which seemeth hard to be borne, God can send vs another
farre more grie-
uous, to tne his
and teach thevs
obedience.

a Which came not of impaci-cie, but declareth that
the children of God are not in-feri-
ble like blockes,
but that in their patience they
feele affliction,
and griete of minde: yet they keepe a meane
herein, and re-
bell not against God, as the wicked doe.

gels, as Cap. 1. 6.

c He proueth
Iobs integritie
by this that he ceased not to feare God when his plagues were griuously vpon
him.
d That is when thou hadst
nought against him, or when thou wast not able to bring thy purpose to passe.
e Hereby he meaneth a manners skinnie is dearer vnto him
then another mans.

i As desirous of all other helpe
and meanes, and wonderfully afflicted with the sorrow of his disease.

k Sara vseth the same instrument against Job, as he did against Adam.

l Meaning, what gaineft thou to serue God, seeing he thus plagueth thee as though hee were thine enemy?

This is the most griuous tenta-
tion of the faithful, when their faith is assailed,
and when Saraa
goeth about to perswade them,
that they trust
in God in vaine.

m For death
was appointed to the blasphemers, and so she meant that he should be soone rid out of his paine.

n That is, to be pacient in aduersitie, as we reioyce when he sendeth prosperitie, and so to acknowledge him to be both mercifull and iust.

o He so bridled his affections,
that his tongue through impaciencie did not murmur against God.
p Which were men of auctoritie, wise and learned, and as the Septuagint write, Kings, & came to comfort him, but while they saw how he was visited, they conceived an euil opinion of him, as though he had bin but an hypocrite, & so iustly plagued of God for his finnes.

q This was also a ceremonie, which they vied in those countreys, as the renting of their clothes in signe of sorrow, &c.

r And therefore thought that he would not have hearkened to their counsell.

CHAP. III.

1 Job complaineth and curseth the day of his birth.
2 He desireth to die, as though death were the end of all mans misery.

1 Afterward Job opened his mouth,
and cursed his day.

2 And Job cried out, and said, Let the daye perishe, wherein I was boorne, and the night when it was sayde,
There is a man childe conceived.

4 Let that day be darkenesse, let not God regarde it from aboue, neyther let the light shine vpon it.

5 But let darkenesse, and the shadowe of death staine it: let the cloude reuaine vpon
it, and let them make it fearefull as a bitter day.

6 Let darkenesse possesse that night, let it not be lapped into the dapes of the pere, nor let it come into the count of the monethes.

7 Yea, desolate be that night, & let no hope
be in it.

a The seven
dayes ended,

ginneeth to fee-
le his great imperfection in this battel betweene

flesh, Rom. 7. 18.

c & after a maner
yeeldeth, yet in the ende he get-
teth victorie,

in the meane
time greatly wounded.

d Men ought not to be wearie
of their life, and
curse it, because of the infemities that it is subiect vnto, but because they are giuen to sinne & rebellion against God.

e Let it not haue the light of the sunne to separate it from the night.
f That is, most obscure darkenesse, which maketh the afraid of death,
that are in it.

8 Let them that curse the day, (being reason to censure their mourning) curse it.

9 Let the starres of that twilight be dimme through darkenesse of it: let it looke for light, but haue none: neither let it see the dawning of the day.

10 Because it shut not up the doores of my mothers wombe: nor hid sorrowe from mine eyes.

11 Why dyed I not in the birth? or why dyed I not, when I came out of the wombe?

12 Why did the knees prevent mee? and why did I sucke the dymalles?

13 For I should haue knowne haue I lpen and bene quiet, I should haue slept then, and bene at rest.

14 With the kings and counsellors of the earth, which haue builded them felous desolate places:

15 Or with the pyres that had galbe, and
haue filled their houses with sluer.

16 Why was I not hid, as an untimely birth, eyther as infants, which haue not sente the light?

17 The wicked haue there ceased from their tyrannie, and there they that labored valiantly, are at rest.

18 They prisoners rest together, and heare
not the voyce of the oppressour.

19 There are small and great, and the seruant is free from his master.

20 Wherefore is the light giuen to him that is in miserie? and life vnto them
that haue braue hearts?

21 Which long for death, and if it come not, they would euen searce it in more then treasures:

22 Which lope for gladnesse, and reioyce,
when they can finde the graue.

23 Why is the light giuen to the man whose waye is hid, and whome God hath heged in?

24 For my sighing cometh before I eat, and my roarings are poured out like the
water.

25 For the thing I feared, is come vpon me, and the thing that I was afraid of,
is come vnto me.

26 I had no pence, neither had I quietnesse, neither had I rest, a yet trouble is come.

1 That is, by death the crueltie of the tyrants haue ceased. All they that sustaine any kinde of calamitie & miserie in this world which he speaketh after judgement of the flesh. He sheweth that the benefices of God are more comfortable, except the heart

uidence. p In my perserpence I looked out for a sal, as is come now to passe. q The feare of troubles & shuld encrease, caused my propensity to seme to me as nothing, & yet I am not excepted fro trouble.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Job is reprehended of impietie, and of the presumption of his owne righteousness.

1 Then Eliphaz the Temanite answere
d, and sayd,

2 Ioue asay to communicate with thee, wilt thou bee grieved? but who can a seeing this withhold himselfe from speaking?

3 Soholde, thou hast taught many, and en-dost.

that curse vpon
this night.

sions, he is not

b Thou hast comforted others in their afflictions, & canst not now comfort thy selfe.

c This he concludes that Iob was but an hypocrite, and had no true love nor trust in God.

d He concludes that Iob was reproved, seeing that God handled him so extremely, which is the argument that the carnall men make against the children of God.

e They that doe euill, cannot but receive euill.

f He sheweth that God needeth no great preparation to destroy his enemies: for he can doe it with the blast of his mouth.

g Though men according to their office doe not punish tyrants, whom for their crueltye he compares to Lyons, and their children to their whelps: yet God both is able, and his iustice will punish them.

h A thing that I knew not before, was declared vnto me by vision: that is, that whosoever thinketh himselfe iust, shall be found a sinner, when he cometh before God.

i In these visions which God sheweth to his creatures, there is euer a certaine feare ioyned, that the autoritie thereof might be had in greater reuerence.

k When all things were quiet, when the feare was somewhat asswaged, as God appeared to Elisha, 1. King. 19. 12.

l Hee prooueth that if God did punish the innocent, the creature should bee more iust then the Creator, which were a blasphemie.

m If God finde imperfection in his Angels, when they are not maintained by his power, howe much more shall he be able to maintaine them, when he would inflame himselfe against God?

n That is, in this mortal body, subiect to corruption, 1. Cor. 15. 1.

o They see death continually before their eyes, and daily approaching toward them.

p No man for all this doeth consider it.

q That is, before that any of them were so wise as to thinke on death.

CHAP. V.

1. 3. Eliphaz sheweth the difference betweene the children of God and the wicked. 3. The fall of the wicked. 9. Gods power, who destroyeth the wicked, and deliuereth his.

1 Call moue, if any will: and to which of the Saints wilt thou thine?

2 Ponticelle: angry killeth the foolish, and enue flaueth the idle.

3 I haue seene the foolish well rooted, and suddenly I cursed his habitation, saying,

4 His children shall be farre from saluati on, and they shall be destroyed in the gates, and none shall deliuer them.

5 The hungry shall rate by his harvest: yea, they shall take it from among the thornes, and the thistle shall binke by their substance.

6 For miserie commeth not forth of the bryar, neither doeth affliction spring out of the thorn.

7 But man is boyme vnto trouble, as the sparks flie vnto the thorn.

8 But I would enquire at God, & turne my talke vnto God:

9 Which doeth great things & vnsearchable, and marvellous things without number.

10 He giueth raine vpon the earth, and powereth water vpon the streets,

11 And setteth by milke thim that he low, that the sowfull map be exalted to fals nation.

12 He scattereth the denices of the craftie: so that their handes can not accomplish that which they doe enterprise.

13 He taketh the wise in their craftines, & light vpon their counsell of the wicked to make foolish.

14 They meete with darkness in the day: by publike time, and grope at noone day, as in the night.

15 As he saweth the raine from his throne, from their sinne, and from the hande of the trouble maker.

16 So that the vaine hath his hope, but miserie shall stop her mouth.

17 Beholde, blessed is the man whome God correcteth: therefore refuse not thou the chastising of the Almighty.

18 For he maketh the wound, and bindeth it by his smiteth, and his handes make whole.

19 Yet shall deliuer thee in fire trouble, and in the fiercenes the euill that thou comest.

20 In famine hee shall deliuer thee from a which death: and in battell from the power of the sword.

21 Thou shalt bee hid from the scourge of rapt nature: fur before him thou shalt bee hid.

22 If I suffered as thou doest, I would seeke vnto God.

23 He counsellet Iob to humble himselfe vnto God, to whom all creatures are subiect, & whose works declare that man is inexcusable, except hee glorie God in all his workes: in He sheweth by particular examples, what the workes of God are.

2. Cor. 3. 19.

a In things plaine and euident they shewe themselves foolish in sleade of wise men.

b This declareth that God punisheth the worldly wise, as he threatened, Deu. 18. 29.

c That is, he that humbleth himselfe before God.

d He compares the slaughter of the wicked to sharpe swordes.

e If the wicked bee compelled at Gods workes to stoppe their mouth, much more they that professe God.

f He will send trouble after trouble, that his children may not for one time, but continually trust in him: but they shall have a comfortable issue, even in the greatest and the last, which is here called the seventh.

Whereas the wicked lament in their troubles, thou shalt have occasion to rejoice.

When we are in Gods favour, all creatures shall serve vs, x God shall so bleſſe thee, that thou shalt have occasion to rejoice in all things, and not to be offended. y Though the children of God have not alwaies this promiſe performed, yet God doeth recompence it otherwiſe to their advantage. z Wee have learned theſe poyntes by experience, that God puniſheth not the innocent, that man cannot compare in iuſtice with him, that the hypocrites ſhall not long prosper, and that the aſſidion which man ſuſtēneth, commeth for his owne ſinne.

the tongue, and thou ſhalt not be afraid of deſtruction when it cometh. But thou ſhalt laugh at deſtruction and death, and ſhalt not be afraid of the beaſt of the earth.

For the ſtones of the ſilde ſhall be in league with thee, and the beaſtes of the ſilde ſhall be at peace with thee.

And thou ſhalt know, that peace ſhall be in thy tabernacle, & thou ſhalt viſite thine habitation, and ſhalt not ſinne.

Thou ſhalt perceive alſo, that thy ſeed ſhall be great, & thy poſteritie as the graſſe of the earth.

Thou ſhalt goe to thy grave in a full age, as a ricke of come cometh in due ſeaſon into the barn.

So, & thus have we enquired of it, and ſo it is: heare this and know it for thy ſelfe.

CHAP. VI.

Job anſwereth, that his paine is more grievous then his fault. He wiſheth death. He complaineth of his friends.

He Job answered, and ſaide, Why that my griefe were wel weighed, and my miſeries were layde together in the ſcale?

For it woulde be nowe heavier then the ſande of the ſea: therefore my wordes are ſwallowed up.

For the arrowes of the Almighty are in me, the vermine wherof doeth drinke by my ſpirit, and the terroures of God fight againſt me.

Doeth the wilde aſſe bray when he hath graſſe? or lowly the oxe when he hath fodder?

That which is vſanerie, ſhall it be eaten without ſalt? or is there any taſte in the white of an egge?

Such thinges as my ſoule reſuſed to touch, as were ſoyowes, are my meate.

What ſhall I wight haue up? deſire, and that God woulde graunt me the thing that I long for!

That is, that God woulde deſtroy me: that he woulde let his hande goe, and cut me off.

Then ſhould I yet haue comfort, (though I burne with ſoyow, leſſer than not ſpare) because I haue not deſpised the wordes of the Holy one.

What power haue I that I ſhould endure? or what is mine ende, if I ſhould prolong my life?

Is my ſtrength the ſtrength of ſtones?

way with thinges that are vſanerie to the mouth. f. Herein he ſinneth double, both in wiſhing through impatience to dye, and alſo in deſiring of God a thing which was not agreeable to his will. g. That is, let mee dye at once, before I come to diſturb in Gods promiſe through mine impatience. h. Hee ſearcheth leaſt hee ſhoulde bee brought to inconueniences, if his ſoyowes ſhoulde continue.

or is my ſtrength of hyſſe?

Is it not ſo, where there is in me no helpe? Is that ſtrength is taken from me?

Is that is in miſerie, ought to be comforted of his neighbour: but men haue ſoſaken the feare of the Almighty.

Why dyeth hee haue deſerted mee as a brooke, and as the riſing of the riuer ſhall paſſe away.

Which are blackiſh with pee, & wheres in the ſnowe to hid.

But in ſinne they are dyed by wrytheate and are conſumed: and when it is hot, they ſalle out of their places.

Or they depart from their way & courſe, yea, they vaniſh and periſh.

They that goe to ſenna, I conſidered them, and they that goe to ſheba, wayped for them.

But they were confounded: when they hoped, they came together and were aſhamed.

Surely nowe are ye like vnto it: ye haue ſeene my fearefull plague, and are aſtayed.

Was it because I ſayde, Blyng vnto me: or giue a reward to mee of pour? ſtand ſtance?

And deliuer mee from the enemies hande, or ransome me out of the hande of tyrantes?

Teach me, & I will holde my tongue: and cauſe me to vnderſtande, wherein I haue erred.

Howe ſteadfaſt are the wordes of righteouſe: and what can any of you multiply reſpōne?

Woe pe imagine to reſpōne vnto wordes: that the talke of the afflicted ſhoulde bee as the wiſde?

Ye make pour wrytheate to fall vpon the ſhalterleſſe, and big a pit for pour friende.

Nowe therfore be content to ſeeke by on me: for I will not lie before pour face.

Turne, I praye you, let there be none miſquyte: returne, I ſaye, and ye ſhall ſee part of their goodes, and ſeech more cheere, which would not giue him comfort.

forſeable wordes. b. Shewe me wherein I haue erred, and I will confeſſe my fault. p. He that hath a good conſcience, doeth not ſhrinke at the ſharpe wordes or reaſonings of others, except they be able to perſwade him by reaſon. q. Doe you call at my wordes, becauſe I ſhoulde be thought to ſpeake fooliſhly, which am nowe in miſerie? r. Conſider whether I ſpeake as one that is driuen to this impatience through very ſoyow, or as an hypocrite, as you condemne me.

CHAP. VII.

Job ſheweth the ſhortnet and miſerie of manlyfe.

Is there not an appointed time to man as hired ſervant? and are not his dayes as the dayes of an hireling?

As a ſervant longeſt for the ſhadowe, and as an hireling loneſt for the ende of his worke,

So haue I had as an inheritance the moneths of vantage, & payne ſhall I haue: haue bene appointed vnto me.

If I ſayde mee done, I ſayde, when hath continued from moneth to moneth, and I haue looked for hope in vaine, ſhall

c This signifieth
that his iudice
was rare and
not horrible.
d Thus he spea-
keth in respect of breuite of man life, which passeth without hope of returne
in confidenc-
tion, whereof
he desireth God
to haue compassion on him.

e I shon behold
me in thine an-
ger. I shall not be able to stand
in thy presence.
f I shall no more
enoy this mortal
life.

g Seeing I can
by none other meanes comfort
my selfe, I will declare my griefe by words:
and thus he speakes as one that cometh
with griefe of minde.
h Am not I a
poore wretch?
what needest
thou then to lay
so much paine
on me?

i So that I can
haue no rest,
neither day,
nor night. k He speakes in uicere, coming with solomon, and of judgement, or of the examination
of his faith.

l Seeing my terme of life is short, let me
haue some rest
and ease. m Seeing that man of him
selfe is so vile, why
dost thou goue him that honour to contend against him? lob
vseth al kindes
of persuasion
with God, that he might lay his hand. n After al temptations
faith breaseth
forth, and leadeth
Iob to repentance:
yet it was not in
such perfection,
that he coule
bridle him selfe
from reasoning
with God, because that he still
tried his faith.

o That is, I shall be dead.

shall I arise: and measuring the morning,
I am cūen full with rolling, to and fro
vnto the dawning of the day.

5 App he is clothed with woiuines, & fil-thinesse of the dust: my skin is rent, and become horrible.

6 My daies are swifter then a weaners
hurtle, and they are spent without hope.

7 Remember that my life is but a wonder,
and that mine eye shall not returne to see plastrure.

8 The eye that hath seene me, shall see mee
no more: thine eyes are vpon mine, and I shall be no longer.

9 As the clowde baniseth and goeth as vapour, so be that goeth downe to dust, shall come vp no more.

10 Ye shall retire no more to his house, neither shall his place knowe him any more.

11 Therefore I will not spare my mouth,
but will speake in the trouble of my spirit,
and make in the bitterness of my minde.

12 Alas I a lea of a walesfish, that thou
keepest me in ward?

13 When I say, My couch shall releeue me,
and my bed shall bring comfort: my minde
is derided.

14 Then fearest thou mee with dreames,
and thoult me with visions.

15 Therefore my soule chuseth rather to be strangled, to die, then to be in my bowels.

16 I abhorre it, I shall not line alway:
I spare me then, for my daies are but a little.

17 What is man, that thou dost magnifie him, and that thou settest thine heart
vpon him?

18 And dost visite him euery morning, and
triest him euery moment?

19 How long will it bee, ere thou depart from mee? thou wilt not let mee alone
whiles I may twaine my spittle.

20 I haue sinned, what shall I doe vnto thee? O thou preseruer of mee, why hast thou set me as a marke against thee, so that I am a burden vnto thy selfe?

21 And why dost thou not pardon my tres-
passe? and take away mine iniquitie?
for now shall I sleepe in the dust, and if thou sekest me in the morning, I shall
not be found.

22 And why dost thou not pardon my tres-
passe? and take away mine iniquitie?
for now shall I sleepe in the dust, and if
thou sekest me in the morning, I shall
not be found.

23 And why dost thou not pardon my tres-
passe? and take away mine iniquitie?
for now shall I sleepe in the dust, and if
thou sekest me in the morning, I shall
not be found.

24 And why dost thou not pardon my tres-
passe? and take away mine iniquitie?
for now shall I sleepe in the dust, and if
thou sekest me in the morning, I shall
not be found.

25 And why dost thou not pardon my tres-
passe? and take away mine iniquitie?
for now shall I sleepe in the dust, and if
thou sekest me in the morning, I shall
not be found.

26 And why dost thou not pardon my tres-
passe? and take away mine iniquitie?
for now shall I sleepe in the dust, and if
thou sekest me in the morning, I shall
not be found.

27 And why dost thou not pardon my tres-
passe? and take away mine iniquitie?
for now shall I sleepe in the dust, and if
thou sekest me in the morning, I shall
not be found.

28 And why dost thou not pardon my tres-
passe? and take away mine iniquitie?
for now shall I sleepe in the dust, and if
thou sekest me in the morning, I shall
not be found.

29 And why dost thou not pardon my tres-
passe? and take away mine iniquitie?
for now shall I sleepe in the dust, and if
thou sekest me in the morning, I shall
not be found.

30 And why dost thou not pardon my tres-
passe? and take away mine iniquitie?
for now shall I sleepe in the dust, and if
thou sekest me in the morning, I shall
not be found.

and he hath sent them into the place of
their iniquitie.

5 Yet if thou wilt care, seke vnto God,
and pray to the Almightie.

6 If thou be pure and vnguilt, then surely he will awake vnto thee, and he will make the habitation of thy righteousness prosperous.

7 And though the beginning be small,
yet the latter end shall greatly increase.

8 Inquire therefore, I pray thee, of the former age, & prepare thy selfe to search of
their fathers.

9 For wee are but of yester day, and are ignorant: for our daies vpon earth are but a shadowe.

10 Shall not they teach thee and tell thee,
and utter the wordes of their heart?

11 Can a rui growe without water? or can the grasse growe without water?

12 Though it were in greene and not cutte
downe, yet shall it wither before any other herbe.

13 So are the paths of all that forget God,
and the hope of their heart shall perish.

14 His confidence also shall be cut off, and his trust shall be as the house of a spider.

15 He shall lean vpon his house, but it shall not stand: he shall holde him fast by
it, yet shall it not endure.

16 The tree is greene before the sunne,
and the branches spreade out the garden thereof.

17 The roots thereof are wrapped about the fountaine, and are fastened about the house of stones.

18 If any plucke it from his place, and it
drieth, saying, I haue not seene thee.

19 Behold, it will reioyce by this means,
that it may growe in another moude.

20 Behold, God will not cast away an iust man, neither will he take the wisdom from his hand.

21 Till he haue filled thy mouth with laug-ter, and thy lips with ioy.

22 They that hate thee, shall see thee clothed
with shame, and the dwelling of the ius-
ted shall not remaine.

23 They that hate thee, shall see thee clothed
with shame, and the dwelling of the ius-
ted shall not remaine.

24 They that hate thee, shall see thee clothed
with shame, and the dwelling of the ius-
ted shall not remaine.

25 They that hate thee, shall see thee clothed
with shame, and the dwelling of the ius-
ted shall not remaine.

26 They that hate thee, shall see thee clothed
with shame, and the dwelling of the ius-
ted shall not remaine.

27 They that hate thee, shall see thee clothed
with shame, and the dwelling of the ius-
ted shall not remaine.

28 They that hate thee, shall see thee clothed
with shame, and the dwelling of the ius-
ted shall not remaine.

29 They that hate thee, shall see thee clothed
with shame, and the dwelling of the ius-
ted shall not remaine.

30 They that hate thee, shall see thee clothed
with shame, and the dwelling of the ius-
ted shall not remaine.

31 They that hate thee, shall see thee clothed
with shame, and the dwelling of the ius-
ted shall not remaine.

32 They that hate thee, shall see thee clothed
with shame, and the dwelling of the ius-
ted shall not remaine.

b That is, haue
rewarded them,
according to
their iniquitie
meaning, that Iob ought to be warned by the examble of his children, that he offend not God.

c That is, I shon
behold me in thy anger, while God cal-
leth thee to repentance.

beginnings be
not so pleasant,
as thou wouldest desire, yet in the ende thou shalt
haue sufficient occasion to com-
tent thy selfe.

antiquitie, and

true which hee
here sayeth.

to haue the experience of our fathers, but to be confirmed by the examples of the fathers of

C H A P. IX.

1 Iob deplareth the mightie power of God, and that manes righteousness is nothing.

2 Then Iob answered, and saide,
I knowe verily that it is for my hurt, & Iob here an-swereth to that point of Blaphas
and Bildads, oration, touching
the iustice of God and his innocencie, confessing
God to be infinite
in iustice, and man
to bee nothing in respect. b Of a thousand things,
which God coule
lay to his charge,
man can not an-
swere him one.

3 If he would dispute with him, he coule not answere him one thing of a thousand.

4 Iob somtimes haue sinned against him,

4 Iob

e He declareth what is the infirmie of man by the mightie and incomprehensible power that is in God, shewing what he could doe, if he would set forth his power.

d These are the names of certaine starrs, whereby he meaneth that all starrs both knowne and vnkowne are at his appointment. e I am not able to comprehend his workes, which are common, and daily before mine eyes, much lesse in those things which are hid & secret.

f He sheweth that when God doth execute his power, he doeth it iustly, forasmuch as none can controule him.

g God will not be appeased for ought that man can lay for him selfe for his iustification.

h That is, all the reasons that men can lay to approve their cause.

i How should I were him by eloquence? whereby he noteth his friends, that albeit they were eloquent in talke, yet they felt not in heart, that which they spake. k Meaning, in his own opinion, signifying, that man will sometime flatter himself to be righteous, which before God is abomination. l Whiles I am in my pangs, I can not but brast forth into many incoueniences, although I know still that God is iust. m I am not able to feele my finnes so great, as I feele the weight of his plagyes: and this hee speaketh to conuenie his guiltines, and to iustifie God. n After he hath accused his own weaknesse, he continueth to iustifie God and his power. o If I would stande in mine own defence; yet God hath iust cause to condemne me, if he examine mine heart, and conscience. p If God punish according to his iustice, he will destroy all the that are counted pious, as the that are wicked. q To wit, the wicked. r This is spoke according to our apprehensions, as though he would say, If God destroy but the wicked. s Chap. x. why should he suffer the innocents to be so long tormented by them?

4 Hee is wise in heart: and mightie in strength: who hath bene fierce against him and hath prospered?

5 He remoueth the mountains, and they feele not when he ouerthroweth them in his wrath.

6 He remoueth the earth out of her place, that the pillars thereof doe shake.

7 He compasseth the firme, and it riseth not: hee closeth vp the starres, as vnder a signe.

8 He himselfe alone spreadeth out the heauens, and walketh vpon the height of the sea.

9 He maketh the starres: Mercurius, Venus, and Pleiades, and the climates of the South.

10 He doeth great things, and vnsearchable: yea, marvellous thinges without number.

11 For when hee goeth by mee, I see him not: and when he passeth by, I perceiue him not.

12 Behold, when he taketh a pray, I who can make him to release it: who shall say vnto him, What dost thou?

13 God will not withdrawe his anger, and the most mightie helpe: doe stoupe vnder him.

14 How much lesse shall I answer him: or howe shoulde I shide out my woides with him?

15 For though I were iust, yet coulde I not answer, but I would make supplications vnto my Iudge.

16 If I cry, as he answer me, yet woulde I not believe, that he heard my voice.

17 For hee destroyeth mee with a tempest, and woundeth me without cause.

18 He will not suffer me to take my breath, but filleth mee with bitterness.

19 If we speake of strength, behold, hee is strong: if we speake of iudgement, who shall bring me in to pleade?

20 If I woulde iustifie my selfe, mine owne mouth shall condemne mee: if I woulde be persiue, hee shall iudge me wicked.

21 Though I were persiue, yet I knowe not my wile: therefore abhorre I my life.

22 This is one paine: therefore I said, Hee destroyeth the persiue and the wicked.

23 If the scourge should suddenly shape, shoulde God laugh at the punishment of the innocent?

24 The earth is giuen into the hande of the wicked: hee couereth the faces of the iustices thereof: if not, where is he? of who is he?

25 They daies haue bene moze swift then a poste: they haue fled, and haue ferre no good thing.

26 They are passed as with the most swift shippes, and as the eagle that flieth to the pray.

27 If I say, I wil forget my complaint, I wil cease from my wryth, and my soule forget me.

28 Then I am ascaped of all my sorowes, knowing that thou wilt not iudge me innocent.

29 If I be wicked, why labour I thus in vaine?

30 If I walke my life with shewe was in durt, and purge mine handes most cleare.

31 Yet that thou plunge me in the pit, and mine owne clothes shall make me filthy.

32 For he is not a man as I am, that should answer him, if we come together to iudgement.

33 Whether is there any vniuersity that might lay his hand vpon both.

34 Let him take his rod away from me, and let not his feare astonish me:

35 Then will I speake, and feare him not: but because I am not so, I hold me still.

a Which might make an accord betweene God and me, speaking of impaciencie, & yet consoling God to be iust in punishing him.

b Signifying that Gods iudgements keepe him in awe.

CHAP. X.

1 Job is wearie of his life, and setteth out his fragilitie before God. 20 He desireth him to fly his hande.

21 Adversities of death.

22 My soule is cut off: though I live: I will leave my complaint vpon my selfe, and will speake in the bitterness of my soule.

23 I will say vnto God: Condemne me not: shewe mee, wherefore thou contendest with me.

24 Thinkest thou it good to oppresse me, & to cast off the labour of thine hands, and to floure the countenance of the wicked?

25 Hast thou carnall eyes? or dost thou see as man seeth?

26 Are thy daies as mans daies? or thy proceeding as the time of man?

27 That thou inquest of mine iniquities, and searchest out my sinne?

28 Thou knowest that I can not doe: wite thyne hand. 29 None can deliuer mee out of the wicked hand.

30 Wilt thou be without compassion? wilt thou persecute the wicked and condemne me? 31 Dost thou this of thy friends, to morrow an enemy? 32 By affliction thou hast set me as in a prison, and restrainest me from doing euill, whereby thou hast set me at libertie. 33 In these eight verses following hee sheweth the mercie of God in the wonderful creation of man, and thereon groundeth that God should not thus be angry with him.

him, that they

wisdom is common to all, and

such as the very

brute beasts do

daily teach.

¶ Or, flesh.

f He exhorteth

them to be wise

in judging, and

as well to know

why God hath

given them

eyes, as he hath done a mouth.

g Though men

by age, and continuance of time

attaine to wise-

dom, yet it is not comparable to Gods wisdom,

nor able to comprehend his judgements,

wherein he an-

swereth to that,

which was alleged, Cha. 8.

h He sheweth

that there is no

thing done in this world without Gods will &

ordainance: for

else he should not be almighty.

i He taketh

wisdom from

them.

k He abatech

the honour of princes, & bringeth them into the subiection of others.

l He causeth

their wordes

have no credit,

which is, when he will punish

sinne.

m In this dis-

courte of Gods wonderfull

workes, Iob sheweth

that whatsoever

is done in this worlde,

both in the order & change of things,

is by Gods will & appointment,

wherein he declareth,

that he thinketh

well of God, & is as able to 6 The tabernacles of robbers do prosper,

and they are in safetie, that provoke God,

whom God hath enriched wth his hand.

7 Aske now the beasts, & and they shall teach thee, and the fowles of the heauen,

and they shall tell thee:

8 Or speake to the earth, and it shall shewe thee: or the fishes of the sea, and they shall declare vnto thee,

9 Who is ignorant of all these, but that the hand of the Lord hath made these?

10 In whose hande is the soule of euery

living thing, and the breath of all mans kinde.

11 Doeth not the earra discerne his wordes?

and the mouth taste meate for it selfe?

12 Among the ancient is wisdom, and in the length of dayes is vnderstanding.

13 With him is wisdom and strength: he hath counsell and vnderstanding.

14 Beholde, he will breake downe, and it cannot be built: he shutteth a man vp, &

he cannot be loosed.

15 Beholde, he withholdeth the waters, and they drye vp: but when he sendeth them out, they besetp the earth.

16 With him is strength and wisdom, &

he that is deceyued, and that deceueth,

are his.

17 He causeth the counsellors to goe as foolles, and maketh the iudges fooles.

18 He looseth the collar of kings, & giveth their loppes wth a girle.

19 He breaketh awap the princes as a play,

and overthroweth the mighty.

20 He taketh awap the speache from the saftyfull counsellors, and taketh awap the iudgement of the ancient.

21 He pouereth contempt vpon princes, &

maketh the strength of his mightie weake.

22 He discomereth the deepe places from their darknesse, and bringeth forth the shadow of death to light.

23 He increaseth the people, & destroyeth them: he enlargeth the nations, and

bringeth them in againe.

24 He taketh awap the hearts of them that are the chiefe ouer the people of the earth,

and maketh them to wander in the wil-

dernes out of the way.

25 Therp grope in the darke without light:

and he maketh them to stagger like a drie

then man.

courte of Gods wonderfull workes, Iob sheweth

is by Gods will & appointment,

wherein he declareth,

that he thinketh well of God, & is as able to

CHAP. XIII.

1 Iob compareth his knowledge wth the experience of his friends. 16 The penitent shalbe saved, and the hypocrite condemned. 20 He prayeth vnto God that he would not handle him rigorously.

1 Lord, mine eye hath serue all this:

mine eare hath heard, and vnder-

standeth it.

2 I knowe also as much as thou knowest:

I am not inferiour vnto thou.

3 But I will speake to the Almighty, and

I desire to dispute wth God.

4 For in deede he forge lieth, and all you are hypocrites of no value.

5 Oh, that thou wouldst hold vpon tongue, &

it might be imputed to thee for wisdom:

6 Now heare my disputation, and giue

care to the arguments of my lips.

7 Will ye speake wickedly for Gods defence, and talke deceitfull for his cause?

8 Will ye accept his person? or will ye contend for God?

9 Is it well that he should seke of you?

will you make a lye for him, as one lieth

for a man?

10 He will surely repprooe you, if ye do secretly accept any person.

11 Shall not his excellencie make you as frayde? and his feare fall vpon you?

12 Pour memories map bee compared vnto albes, and pour bodys to bodys

of clay.

13 Holde your tongues in my presence,

that I may speake, and let come vpon

what will.

14 Wherefore doe I take my flesh in my teeth, and put my soule in mine hand?

15 Doe, though he shap me, yet will I trust in him, and I will reposit my waies in his sight.

16 He shalbe my saluation also: for the hy-

poците shall not come befoze him.

17 Heare diligently my wordes, & marke

my talke.

18 Beholde now: if I prepare me to iudgement, I knowe that I shalbe: misstified.

19 Who is he, that will pleade wth me?

for if I notue holde my tongue, I die.

20 But do not these two things vnto me:

then will I not hide my selfe from thee.

21 Withdraw thine hande from me, and let not thy feare make me afrayde.

22 Then call thou, and I will answer: or let me speake, and answer thou me.

23 Howe many are mine iniquities and sinnes? shewe me my rebellion, and my

sinne.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and ta-

kelt me for thine enemy?

25 Wilt thou breake a lease dyne to and fro? & wilt thou pursue the dyte stubble?

26 For thou wyrest bitter thinges agaynst me, and makest me to possesse = the ini-

quities of my pounth.

27 Thou puttest my feete also in stocks,

and lookest narrowly vnto all my pathes,

& makest the print thereof in the heles

of my feete.

28 Such one consumeth like a rotten thing,

and as a garment that is moth eaten.

God doth thus punish me for my sinnes. I if I defende

my cause, euery man will condemne me. k He sheweth

that whatsoever is done in this worlde, both in the order & change of things,

is by Gods will & appointment, wherein he declareth, that he thinketh well of God, & is as able to for soorth his power in wordes,

as they that reasond agaynst, were.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Job describeth the shortness and misery of the life of man. 24 Hope susteineth the gaily. 25 The denudation of man's life.

Man that is borne of woman, is of thyor continuance, and full of trouble.

2 The flourisheth forth as a flower, and is cut downe: he flourisheth also as a shadow, and continueth not.

3 And yet thou openest thine eyes upon such a one, and causest mee to enter into indigement with thee.

4 Who can bring a cleane thing out of filthinesse: there is not one.

5 Are not his daies determined: the number of his moneths are with thee: thou hast appointed his bounds, which he can not passe.

6 Turne from him that he may cease until his desired day, as an hireling.

7 For there is hope of a tree, if he be cut downe, that it will yet putfoure, and the branches thereof will not craie.

8 Though the roote of it waie olde in the earth, and the stocke thereof be dead in the ground,

9 Yet by the sent of water it will budde, & bring forth boughes as like a plaine.

10 But man is sicke, and dierth, and man perissheth, and where is hee?

11 As the waters passe from the sea, and as the flood decapeth and dyerth vp,

12 So man slepeth and riseth not: for he shall not wake againe, nor be rayled from his sleape til the heauen be no more.

13 Wh that thou wouldest hide mee in the grane, and keape mee secrete, until thy wraoth were past, and wouldest giue mee terme, and remember me!

14 If a man dye, shall he liue againe: till the daies of mine appointed time wilt I waite, till I am changing shall come.

15 Thou shalt call me, and I shall answer thee: thou lovest the woorth of thine owne handes.

16 But now thou nombest my steps, and doest not delay my finnes.

17 Mine iniquitie is sealed up, as in a bag, and thou addest vnto my wickednes.

18 And surely as the noise that sallet, cometh to nought, and the rocke that is remoued from his place:

19 As the water breaketh the stones, when thou ouerflowest the things which grow in the dust of the earth: so thou destroyest the hope of man.

20 Thou peruertest alway against him, so that he passeth away: hee chaungeth his face when thou callest him away.

21 And he knoweth not if his finnes shall be honorable, nepthee shall he understand concerning them, whether they shall be of lowe degree.

22 I shall seele thy mercies, and answer when thou callest me.

23 Thou layest them all together and suffrest none of my finnes unpunished. Thou minnest through the impaciencie of the flesh against God, as though he were as great seueritie against him as against the hard rockes, for waters that ouerflow, so that hereby all the occasion of his hope is taken away.

23 But while his flesh is upon him, he shall be sorrowfull, and while his soule is in him, it shall mourne.

CHAP. XV.

1 Eliphaz, reprehendeth Job, because he ascribeth wisdom, and power to himselfe. 16 Job describeth the curse that falleth on the wicked, reckoning Job to be one of the number.

Then answered Eliphaz the Temanite, and said,

2 Shall a wise man speake wordes of the wynde, and kilie his help with the East winde?

3 Shall he dispute with wordes not comely: or with talke that is not profitable?

4 Surely thou hast call off feare, and restrapest prayer before God.

5 For thy mouth declareth thine iniquitie, seeing thou hast chosen the tongue of the craftie.

6 Thine owne mouth condemneth thee, & nor I, and thy lippes testifie against thee.

7 Art thou the first man, that was borne: and wast thou made before the hills?

8 Hast thou heard the secrete counsell of God, and dost thou restrayne wisdom?

9 What knowest thou that we know not: and understandest that is not in vs?

10 With vs are both auncient & very aged men, farre older then thy father.

11 Seeme the consolations of God small vnto thee: is this thing strange vnto thee?

12 Why doest thou heart take thee as the waie, and what do thine eyes meane,

13 That thou answerest to God at thy pleasure, and bygest such wordes out of thy mouth?

14 What is man, that he should be cleame: and he that is borne of woman, that he should be iust?

15 Beholde, he found no stedfastnesse in his sayntes: yea, the beausties are not cleame in his sight.

16 Howe much more is man abominable, and filthie, which byngeth antiquitie like thou stande in water?

17 I will tell thee dreare me, and I will declare that which I haue seene.

18 Which wise men haue tolde, as they haue heard of their fathers: and haue not kept it secrete:

19 To whome alone the land was giuen, and no stranger passed through them.

20 The wicked man is continually as one that traueleth of childe, and the number of perres is hid from the tyant.

21 A sound of feare is in his eares: and in his prosperitie the destroyer shall come vpon him.

22 Hee belermeth not to retaine out of his darkenesse: for he seeth the sword before him.

23 He wandereth to and fro for bread, and stranger invaded them, & so the land seemed to be giuen to them alone.

1 Then Eliphaz the Temanite answers
 Iob, and said,

2 What a man bee ^a profitable vnto
 God, as he that is wise, may be profitable

h That so much the more by that excellent worke thou mayest feare God, and reverence him. i He reproveth Job as though he denied Gods providence, and that he could not see 3 things that were done in this world. k Howe God hath punished them from the beginning? l He proueth Gods providence by the punishment of the wicked, whome he taketh away before they can bring their wicked purposes to passe. m He answereth to Job which he had said, Chap. 11. 7. that the wicked have prosperie in this world: desiring that he might not be partaker of the like. n The iust reioyce at the destruction of the wicked for two causes: first, because God sheweth himselfe iudge of 3 world, & by this meanes continueth his honour & glory: secondly, because God sheweth that he hath care over his, in that he punisheth their enemies. o That is, the state and preservation of the godly is hid vnder gods winges. p Meaning, of the wicked, q He exhorted Job to repentance and to returne to God. r God will restore vnto thee all thy substance. f Which shall be in abundance like dust. t That is, the fauour of God. u God will deliuer his when the wicked are destroyed round about them, as in the flood and in Sodom. x God will deliuer a whole countrey from perill, euen for the iust mans sake.

behold the height of the 3 starres how hee they are. 13 But thou sapest, Howe shouldst thou knowe? can he iudge through the darke cloudes? 14 The cloudes hide him that hee can not see, and hee walketh in the circle of heauen. 15 Hast thou marked the way of the voyd, 3 wherein wicked men haue walked? 16 Which were 1 cut downe before 3 time, whose foundation was as a riuier that ouerflowed: 17 Which said vnto God, Depart from vs, and asked what the Almighty could do for them. 18 Yet hee 3 filled their houses with good things: but let the counsell of the wicked be farre from me. 19 The righteous shall see them, and shall reioyce, 3 and the innocent shall laugh them to scorn. 20 Surely 3 our substance is hid: but the fire hath deuoured the remnant of 3 them. 21 Therefore acquaint thy selfe, 3 reioyce, 3 with him, and make peace: therewith thou shalt haue prosperie. 22 Reioyne, 3 reioyce, 3 the lawe of his mouth, 3 lay by his voydes in thine heart. 23 If thou returne to the Almighty, thou shalt 3 be built vp, and thou shalt put misquere farre from thy Tabernacle. 24 Thou shalt lay by golde for 3 dust, and the golde of 3 pyrite, as the fumes of the riuers. 25 Yea, the Almighty shall be thy defence, and thou shalt haue plentie of siluer. 26 And thou shalt then delight in 3 Almightye, and lift vp thy face vnto God. 27 Thou shalt make thy prayer vnto him, and hee shall heare thee, and thou shalt reuerber thy voyces. 28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, and hee shall establish it vnto thee, and the 3 light shall shine vpon thy wayes. 29 When others are cast downe, then shalt thou sape, 3 I am lifted vp: and God shall save the humble person. 30 The innocent shall deliuer the 3 plumb, and it shall be preferred by the purenesse of thine handes.

CHAP. XXIII.

3 Job affirmeth that he both knoweth and feareth the power and sentence of the Iudge, 10 And that he is not punished onely for his finnes.

1 But Job answered, and saide, 2 Though my talke be this day in 3 bits termes, & my plague greater then my groining, a He sheweth the iust cause of his complaining, & as touching that Eliphaz had exhorted him to returne to God, Chas. 22. 21. he declareth that he desireth nothing more: but it seemed that God would not be found of him.

3 Wouldst thou yet 3 knowe howe to finde him, 3 I would enter vnto his place. 4 I would plead the cause before him, 3 fill my mouth with arguments. 5 I would know the voydes, that he would 3 answer me, and would vnderstand what he would 3 say vnto me. 6 Would he 3 plead against mee with his great power? 3 No, but hee would 3 strengthen in mee. 7 There the righteous might reason with him, so 3 I should be deliuered for euer from my Iudge. 8 Behold, if I goe to the East, he is not there: if to the West, yet 3 I cannot perscrue him: 9 If to the South where hee worketh, yet 3 I cannot see him: he will hide himselfe in the South, and 3 I cannot beholde him. 10 But he knoweth my 3 way, and erreth in me, and 3 I shall come forth like the golde. 11 My foot hath followed his steppes: his way haue I kept, and haue not declined. 12 Neither haue I departed from the commandement of his lips, & 3 I haue 3 clenwed the voydes of my mouth more then mine appointed foode. 13 Yet hee is in one minde, and who can 3 turne him? yea, hee doth what his minde briseth. 14 For he will performe that, which is decreed of mee, and 3 many such thinges are with him. 15 Therefore I am troubled at his presence, and in considering it, I am afrayde of him. 16 For God 3 hath softened mine heart, & the Almighty hath troubled me. 17 For I am not cut off in 3 darkenes, but he hath hid the darkenes from my face,

g His worde is more precious vnto me, then the meate which the bodie is sustayned. h Job confesseth that at this present he felt not Gods fauour, and yet was assured, that he had appointed him to a good ende. i In many pointes man is not able to attaine to Gods iudgements. k That I should not be without feare. l He sheweth the cause of his feare, which is, that hee being in trouble, seeth none ende, neither yet knoweth the cause.

CHAP. XXIIII.

3 Job describeth the wickednesse of men, and sheweth what curse belongeth to the wicked, 13 Howe all thinges are gouerned by Gods providence, 17 And the destruction of the wicked.

1 How should not 3 pines be hid from the 3 Almighty, seeing that they which know him, see not his 3 dayes? 2 Some reioyne the lande markes, that rob the flockes and feede thereof. 3 They leade away the asse of the fathers: and take the widowes ore to pledge. 4 They make the poore to turne out of the way, so that the poore of the earth hide themselves together. 5 Behold, others as wilde asses in the wilde deruelle, goe sooth to their businesse, and 3 rife earley for a prey: the wilde deruelle geth the godly. b When he punisheth the wicked and rewardeth the good. c And for cruelitie and oppression dare not showe their faces. d That is, spare no diligence.

C H A P. XXV.

Bi'ad proueth that no man is cleane nor without sinne
before God.

Then answered Bisdab the Shnphite,
and said,

1 Power and feare is with him, that maketh peace in his hie places.
2 Is there any number in his armies: and vpon whom shall not his light arise?
3 And howe may a man be iustified with God: or how can he be cleane, that

G H A P. XXVI.

Job sheweth that man cannot helpe God, and proueth

1 But Job answered, and said,
2 Whome helpest thou? him that hath no power: faintest thou the arme
that hath no strength?

3 Whome counselest thou? him that hath no wisdom: or thou? helpest right well as the thing is.

4 To whome dost thou declare these wordes?
of whose spirit cometh out of thee?

5 The dead things are foimied vnder the waters, and there into them.

6 The graue is naked before him, & there is no conering for destruction.

7 He stretcheth out the earth ouer the

and the cloud is not broken vnder them.

uens, & his hand hath formed the crooked serpent.

C H A P. XXVII.

The confidence and perfumess of Iob. 13 The reward of the wicked and of the tyrants.

1 Moreouer Iob proceeded and continued his parable, saying,

2 The lining God hath taken away my iudgement: for the Almighty hath put my soule in bitterness.

3 Yet so long as my breath is in mee, and the spirit of God in my nostrils,

4 My lips surely shall speake no wickednes, & my tongue shall utter no deceit.

5 God forbid, that I should iustifie pour: but I will neuer take away mine innocencie from my selfe.

6 I will keepe my righteousness, and will not forsake it: mine heart shall not reprove me of my dayes.

7 Mine enemy shall be as the wicked, and he that riseth against mee, as the vniuersiteous.

8 For what hope hath the hypocrite when he hath heaped up riches, if God take away his soule?

9 Will God heare his crye, when trouble cometh vpon him?

10 Will he let his delight on the Almighty? will he call vpon God at all times?

11 I will reache you what is in the hand of God, and I will not conceale that which is with the Almighty.

12 Beholde, all ye pour felices haue scene it: why then do you thus vaunt in vanity?

13 This is the portion of a wicked man with God, and the heritage of tyrants, which they shall receive of the Almighty.

14 If his children be in great number, the sword shall destroy them, and his posteritie shall not be satisfied with bread.

15 His remnant shall be buried in death, and his widowes shall not weere.

C H A P. XXVIII.

Iob sheweth that the wisdom of God is unsearchable.

1 The silver surely hath his brine, and he gold his place, where they take it.

2 Iron is taken out of the dust, and brasse is molten out of the stone.

3 God putteth an end to darkness, and he stretcheth the perfection of all things: he setteth a bonde of darkness, and of the shadow of death.

4 The flood breaketh out against the inhabitant, and the waters are forgotten of the soote, being higher then man, are gone away.

5 Out of the same earth cometh bread, and under it, as it were fire is turned up.

6 The stones thereof are a place of sapphires, and the drake of it is golde.

7 There is a path which no foule hath knowne, neither hath p hies epe scene it.

8 The lions whelps haue not walked it, nor the lyon passed thereby.

9 He putteth his hand vpon the rocks, and overthroweth the mountains by the roots.

10 He breaketh rivers in the rocks, and his epe seeth euery precious thing.

11 He bindeth the floods, that they doe not ouerflow, and the thing that is hid, bringeth he to light.

12 But where is wisdom founde? and where is the place of understanding?

13 Man knoweth not the price thereof: for it is not found in the land of the living.

14 The deepth saith, It is not in mee: the sea also saith, It is not with me.

15 Golde shall not be giuen for it, neither shall silver bee weighed for the price thereof.

16 It shall not be valued with the wedge of golde of Ophir, nor with the precious onie, nor the saphir.

17 The golde nor the crysfall shall be equall vnto it, nor the exchange shalbe for place of fine golde.

18 No mention shall be made of corall, nor of the gabby: for wisdom is more precious then perles.

19 The Topaz of Ethiopia shall not be equall vnto it, neither shall it be valued with the lorde of pure golde.

20 Whence then cometh wisdom? and where is the place of understanding,

21 Seeing it is hid from the eyes of all the living, and is hid from the soules of the heauen?

22 Destruction and death say, We haue heard the same thereof with our eares.

23 But God understandeth the way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.

24 For he beholde the ends of the world, and seeth all that is under heauen,

25 To make the weight of the windes, and to weigh the waters by measure.

26 When he made a bed for the raine, and a way for the lightning of the thunders,

27 Then did he see it, and counted it: he prepared it and also considered it.

28 Then did he see it, and counted it: he prepared it and also considered it.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Elihu reprimandeth storm of follo. 3 Age maketh not a man wise, but the Spirit of God.

1 ¶ These three men ceased to answer Job, because hee "esteemed himselfe
just.

2 Then the wrath of Elihu the sonne of Barachel the Buzite, of the familie of Ram, was kindled: his wrath, for, was kindled against Job, because hee iustified
himselfe: more then God.

3 Also his anger was kindled against his three friends, because they could not finde
an answer, and yet condemned Job.

4 ¶ Nowe Elihu had waited till Job had spoken: for they were moze auncient in yeeres then he.

5 So when Elihu sawe, that there was none answer in the mouth of the three men, his wrath was kindled.

6 Therefore Elihu the sonne of Barachel
the Buzite answered, and sayde, I am young in yeeres, and ye are auncient: therefore I forbode, and was asrapde to shew
you mine opinion.

7 For I sayd, The "daues shal speake, & the multitude of yeeres shal teach wisdom.
8 Surely there is a spirit in man, but the inspiration of the Almighty giueth vnderstanding.

9 Great men are not alway wise, neither do
the aged alway vnderstand hidement.

10 Therefore I saye, Heare me, and I will shew alio mine opinion.

11 Behold, I did waite vpon your wordes,
and hearkened vnto your knowledge,
whyles you sought out reasons.

12 ¶ Now, when I had considered you, for there was none of you that reprimoued
Job, nor answered his wordes:

13 Least ye shoulde say, We haue "founde wisdom: for God hath cast him downe,
and no man.

14 ¶ Yet hath he not directed his wordes to me, neither wil I answer "him by your
wordes.

15 Then they fearing, answered no moze, but left off their talke.

16 ¶ When I had waited for thesp speake not,
but stood still, and answered no moze.

17 Then answered I in my turne, and I shewed mine opinion.

18 ¶ For I am full of "matter, and the spirit within me compelleth me.

19 Beholde, my help is as the wine, which hath no vent, and like the newe bottels that burst.

20 Therefore wil I speake, that I may take breath: I will open my lippes, and will answer.

21 I wil not now accept the person of man,
neither wil I giue titles to man.

22 ¶ For I may not giue "titles, least my speaker shoulde take me awap suddenly.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Elihu accuseth Job of ignorance. 14 He sheweth that God hath diuers means to instruct man and to draw him from sinne. 29. 39 He afflicth man, & suddenly deliuereth him. 26 Man being deliuered, giveth thanks to God.

1 ¶ Yet soe, Job, I pray thee, heare my talke: & hearken vnto al my
wordes.

2 Beholde now, I haue opened my mouth: my tongue hath spoken in my mouth.

3 My wordes are in the brightness of mine heart, and my lippes shal speake pure knowledge.

4 The "spirit of God hath made mee,
and the breath of the Almighty hath gi-
uen me life.

5 If thou canst giue me answer, prepare thy selfe and stand before me.

6 Beholde, I am according to thy wish in Gods steade: I am also sinned of the clape.

7 Beholde, my terror shall not feare thee, neither shall mine hand: be heaue vpon
thee.

8 Doublesse thou hast spoken in mine eares, and I haue heard the voyce of thy
wordes.

9 I am "cleane, without sinne: I am innocent, and there is none iniquitie in me.

10 ¶ Nowe, he hath founde occasions against me, and counted me for his enemye.

11 He hath put my feete in the stocks, and looketh narrowly vnto al my pathes.

12 Beholde, in this hast thou not done right: I will answer thee, that God is greater then man.

13 Why dost thou strine against him? for he doeth not: giue account of al his maters.

14 For God speaketh "once or twice, and one seeth it not.

15 In dreames and "visions of the night, when sleepe fallerth vpon men, and they sleepe vpon their beds,

16 Then he openeth the eares of men, euen
by their corrections, which he "had sealed,

17 That he might cause man to turne away from his enterprise, & that he might hide the "pride of man,

18 And keepe backe his soule from the pit,
and that his life shoulde not passe by the fluyde.

19 He is also stricken with sorow vpon his bed, and the griefe of his bones is sore,

20 So that his "life causeth him to abhorre bread, and his soule daintie meate.

21 His flesh faileth that it can not be seene,
and his bones which were not seene,
clatter.

22 So his soule draweth to the grane, and his life "to the buriers.

23 ¶ If there be a "messenger with him, or only, either by visions to reache vs the cause of his iudgements, or els by afflictions, or by his messenger. h That is, determined to send vpon them. i He sheweth for what end God sendeth afflictions: to beate downe mans pride, and to raine from euill.
k That is, his painefull and miserable life. l To them that shall burie him. m A man sent of God to declare his will.

a I confesse the power of god, & am one of his, therefore thou oughtest to heare me.
b Because Job had wished to dispute his cause with God, Chap. 16. 21. so that he might do it with our feare, Elihu saith, be wil reason in Gods steade, whom he needeth not to feare, because he is a man made of the same matter that he is.
c I will not handle these so roughly as these others haue done.
d He repeateth Iobs wordes, whereby he protested his innocencie in diuers places, but specially in the 13. 16. & 30. Chap.
e The cause of his iudgements is not alway declared to man.
f Though God by sundry examples of his iudgements speake vnto man, yet the reason thereof is not knowe: yea, and though God shoulde speake, yet he is not vnderloode.
g God, saith he, speaketh com-

n A singular man, and as one chosen out of a thousand, which is able to declare the great mercies of God vnto sinners: & wherein mans righteousness standeth, which is through the iustice of Iesus Christ and faith therein. o He sheweth that it is a sure token of Gods mercie toward sinners, when he causeth his word to be preached vnto them. p That is, the minister shall by the preaching of the worde promise vnto him the forgiveness of his finnes. q He shall see Gods fauour & reioyce: declaring hereby, wherein standeth the true ioye of the faithful: and that God will restore him to health of body, which is a token of his blessing. r God will forgive his finnes and accept him as iust. s That is, done wickedly. t But my sinne hath bene the cause of Gods wrath toward mee. u God will forgive the penitent sinner. x Meaning, oft times, euen as oft as a sinner doeth repent. y If thou doubt of any thing, or see occasion to speake against it. z That is, to shewe thee, wherein mans iustification consisteth.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

5 Elihu chargeth Job, that he called himselfe righteous. 12 He sheweth that God is iust in his iudgements. 24 God destroyeth the mightie. 30 By him the hypocrite reigneth.

a Which are esteemed wise of the worlde. b Let vs examine the matter vprightly. c That is, hath afflicted me with our measure. d Should I say, I am wicked, being an innocent? e I am sorer punished, then my sinne deserueth. f Which is compelled to receive the reproch and scornes of many for his foolish words.

g Meaning, that Job was like to the wicked, because he seemed not to glorifie God, and submit himselfe to his iudgements. h He wretcheth Iobs words, who saye that Gods children are oft times punished in this worlde, and the wicked goe free. i That is, line godly, as Gen. 5. 22.

an interpreter, one of a thousand to declare vnto man his right conscience. 24 Then will he haue mercie vpon him, and will say, I deliuer him, that hee goe not downe into the pit: for I haue receyued a reconciliation. 25 Then shall his flesh bee as fresh as a childes, and shall returne as the dapes of his youth. 26 He shall pray vnto God, and he will be fauourable vnto him, and he shall see his face with ioy: for he will render vnto man his righteousnes. 27 He looketh vpon men, and if one say, I haue sinned, and peruerced righteousnesse, and it did not profite me, 28 He will deliuer his soule from going into the pitte, and his life shall see the light. 29 For, all these things will God wotke twice vpon thise with a man. 30 That hee may turne backe his soule from the pit, to be illuminare in the light of the liuing. 31 Marke well, O Job, and heare me: keepe silence, and I will speake. 32 If there be yet matter, answer mee, and speake: for I desire to iustifie thee. 33 If thou hast not, heare mee: holde thy tongue, and I will teach thee wisdom.

10 Therefore hearken vnto mee, ye men of wisdom, God forbid that wickednesse should be in God, and iniquitie in the Almighty. 11 For he will render vnto man according to his worke, and cause euery one to finde according to his way. 12 And certainly God will not doe wickedly, neither will the Almighty peruert iudgement. 13 Whome hath he appointed ouer the earth beside him selfe? or who hath placed the whole worlde? 14 If he set his heart vpon man, & gather vnto himselfe his spirit, & his breath, 15 All flesh shall perish together, and man shall returne vnto dust. 16 And if thou hast vnderstanding, heare this: and hearken to the voyce of my wordes. 17 Shall he that hateth iudgement, be gouerned? and wilt thou iudge him wicked that is most iust? 18 Wilt thou saye vnto a King, Thou art wicked? or to princes, Ye are vngodly? 19 Howe much leste to him that accepteth not the persons of princes, and regardeth not the riche, moe then the poore? for they be all the worke of his handes. 20 They shall bee suddenly, and the people shall bee troubled at midnight, and they shall passe soothly and take away the mightie without haue. 21 For his eyes are vpon the wapes of man, and he seeth all his goings. 22 There is no darknesse nor shadowe of death, that the workers of iniquitie might be hid therein. 23 For hee will not lap on man to mirth, that hee should enter into iudgement with God.

24 He shall breake him mightie without: hee shall set by other in their steade. 25 Therefore shall he declare their wordes: he shall turne the might, and they shall be deliuered. 26 He striketh them as wicked men in the places of the seers. 27 Because they haue turned backe from him, & would not consider all his wordes: so that they haue caused the voyce of the poore to come vnto him, and hee hath heard the crye of the afflicted. 28 And when hee giueth quietnesse, who can make trouble? and when hee hideth his face, who can beholde him, whether it be vpon nations, or vpon a man onely? 29 Because the hypocrite doeth raigne, and because the people are snarred. 30 Surety I apperaine vnto God: to say, I haue pardoned, I will not deliuer. 31 But if I see not, teach thou me: if I haue done wickedly, I will be no more. 32 Will hee perforce me the thing though I be? for thou hast rejoyced in it, because

36 I desire that Job may bee d rped, vnto
the ende touching the answeres for wisked men.
37 For he addeth rebellion vnto his sinne:
he clappeth his handes among vs, and multiplieth his wordes against God.

CHAP. XXXV.

6 Neither doeth godliness profite, or vngodlines hurt God; but man. 13 The wicked crieth vnto God, and is not heard.

1 E lihu spake moreouer, and said,
I thinke thou thus right, that thou hast said, I am more righteous then God?

3 For thou hast sayde, What profiteth it thee and what availeth it ine, to purge me
from my sinne?

4 Therefore wilt I answer thee, and thy companiones with thee.

5 Looke vnto the heauen, & see, and behold
the cloudes which are pier then thou.

6 If thou sinnest, what doest thou d against him, pra, what thy sinnes be many, what doest thou vnto him?

7 If thou be righteous, what ginnest thou vnto him? or what receiveth he at thine
hand?

8 Thy wickednes may hurt a man as thou art: and thy righteousness may profite the same of man.

9 They cause many that are oppressed, to crpe, which crpe out for the violence of the mighty.

10 But now saith, Where is God p made me, which ginneth songs in the night?

11 Which teacheth vs more then p beastes
of the earth, & giveth vs more wisdom
then the foules of the heauen.

12 Then they crpe because of the violence of the wicked, but he answereth not.

13 Surely God will not heare vanities, neither will he almightie regarde it.

14 Although thou sapest to God, Thou wilt not regarde it, & yet iudgement is before him: trust thou in him.

15 But now because his anger hath not bitted, nor called to count the coill with great extremite.

16 Therefore Job d openeth his mouth in baine, and multiplieth wordes without knowledge.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Elihu sheweth the power of God, 6 And his insult, 9 And wherefore he punisheth. 13 The properties of the wicked.

1 E lihu also proceeded and said, Suffer me a litle, and I will instruct thee: for I have yet to speake on Gods behalf.

3 I will fetch v my knowledge a farre off,
and will attribute righteousness vnto my spaker.

4 For truly my wordes shall not be false,

& he that is p perfite in knowledge, speaketh with thee.

5 Beholde, the mightie God easeth atony none that is p mightie and valiant of con-rage.

6 He mainteineth not the wicked, but he ginneth iudgement to the afflicted.

7 He withdraueth not his spres from the righteous, but they are with e things in the thymone, where he placeth them for ener: thus they are exalted.

8 And if they be bound in fetters and tied with the cordes of affliction,

9 Then will he shewe them there f woyle
and their sinnes, because they haue bene ypoude.

10 He openeth also their eare to discipline,
and commandeth them that they retorne
from iniquitie.

11 If they obey and serue him, they shall ende their daies in prosperitie, and their yeeres in pleasures.

12 But if they wil not obey, they shal passe
by the swoorde, and perishe s without knowledge.

13 But the hypocrites b of heart increase the wiath: for they call not when he bindeth them.

14 Their soule dieth in p pouth, and their life among the whoremongers.

15 He deliuereh the poore in his affliction,
and openeth their eare in trouble.

16 Euen so would hee haue taken thee out of the straight place into a byoad place and not shut by beneath: and that which resteth vpon thy table, had bene full of fat.

17 But thou art full of the m iudgement of the wicked, though iudgement and equite maintaine all things.

18 For Gods wiath is, least he should take thee away in thine abundance: for no unli-
tude of gifts can deliuer thee.

19 Will he regard thy riches? he regardeth
not golde, nor all them p excell in strenght.

20 Be not carefull in the night, howe he destroeyeth the people out of their place.

21 Take thou heede: looke not to th iniquitie: for thou hast chosen it rather then affliction.

22 Beholde, God exalteth by his powet:
what teacher is like him?

23 Who hath appointed to him his way?
or who can say, Thou hast done wicekedly?

24 Remember that thou magnifie his woyle,
which men beholde.

25 Still men see it, and men beholde it, & a farre off.

26 Behold, God is excellent, and we know him not, neyther can the number of his pceres be searcht out.

wicked: for thou doest murmure against the justice of God.

n God doeth punish thee, least thou shouldst forget God in thy wealth, and so perishe. o Be not thou curious in seeking the cause of Gods iudgements, when he destroyeth any. p And lo murmure against God through impaciencie. q The workes of God are so many, that a man maye see them a farre off, and knowe God by the same. r Our infirmities hindreth vs so, that

And this also mine heart is astonished,
and is moued out of his place.

2 Heare the sound of his voyce, and the noise that goeth out of his mouth.
3 Hee directeth it vnder the whole hea
uen, and his light vnto the endes of the winde.

4 After it a noise soundeth: hee thundereth
with the voyce of his maiestie, and he wil
not stay: then when his voyce is heard, 5 God thundereth marvellously with his voyce: hee worketh great things, which we knowe not.

6 For hee saith to the snow, Be thou vpon
the earth: & likewise to the small raime
and to the great raime of his power.

7 With the force thereof hee shitteth vp euery man, that all men may knowe his work.

8 Then the beastes go into the denne, and
remaine in their places.

9 The whirlewinde commeth out of the South, and the colde from the North
winde.

10 At the breath of God the frost is giuen,
and the breadth of the waters: & is made narrowe.

11 He maketh also the clouds to labour to water the earth, and scattereth the cloude
of his light.

12 And it is turned about by his gouernes
ment, that they may doe whatsoeuer hee
commandeth them vpon the whole world:

13 Whether it be for punishment, or for his kinde, or of mercie, hee causeth it to come.

14 Hearken vnto this, O Iob: stand & con sider the wonderful works of God.

15 Didst thou knowe when God disposed them: and caused the light of his cloudes
to shine?

16 Hast thou knowen the varieties of the cloud, & the wonderful workes of him,
that is perfect in knowledge?

17 Or how the clothes are warme, when hee maketh the earth quiet through the South winde?

18 Hast thou stretched out the heauens,
which are strong, & as a molten glasse?

19 Tell vs what we shall say vnto him: for we can not dispute our matter because of darkenesse.

20 Shal it be tolde him when I speake:
or shal man speake when hee shal be

21 And now men see not the light, which shineth in the clouds, but the winde pas
seth and cleareth them.

22 The brightnesse commeth out of the North: the praise thereof is to God, which is terrible.

23 He is the Almighty: we cannot finde him:
or shal man speake when hee shal be strope?

24 Let men therefore feare him: for hee wil

 u Canst thou cause the hea. vonly bodies to have any power over the earthly thereof, and darkenness as the swadling bandes thereof?

10 When I established my commandment upon it, and set barres and doores,

11 And sayde, hitherto shalt thou come, but no farther, and here shall it stay thy yonder waies.

12 Hast thou commanded the morning since thy dayes? hast thou caused the morning to know his place?

13 That it might take holde of the corners of the earth, and that the wicked might be shaken out of it?

14 It is turned as clay to facion, and all stand up as a garment.

15 And from h wicked their light shall be taken away, & the fire arme shall be broken.

16 Hast thou entered into the bottomis of the sea? or hast thou walked to seeke out the depth?

17 Hast the gates of death bene opened unto thee? or hast thou scene the gates of the shadowe of death?

18 Hast thou perceived the heahty of the earth? tell if thou knowest all this.

19 Where is the way where light dwelleth? and where is the place of darkness,

20 That thou shouldst receive it in the boundes thereof, and that thou shouldst know the paths to the house thereof?

21 Knowest thou it, because thou wast there borne? because the number of thy dayes is great?

22 Hast thou entered into the treasures of the snow? or hast thou scene the treasures of the haille,

23 Which I have hid agaynst the time of trouble, against the day of warre & batell?

24 As whar was is the light part, which scattereth the East wind upon the earth?

25 Who hath divided the spowes for the raine? or the way for the lightning of the thunders,

26 To cause it to raine on the earth where no man is, and in the wilderness where there is no man,

27 To fulfill the wilde & waste place, and to cause h bud of the herb to spring forth?

28 Who is the father of the raine? or who hath begotten the droppes of the dewe?

29 Out of whose wombe came h ice? who hath engendred the froit of the heaven?

30 The waters are hid y as with a stone: and the face of the depth is frozen.

32 Canst thou bring forth Sparrowth in their time? canst thou also guide Accurs with his sonnes?

33 Knowest thou the course of heauen, or canst thou set the rule thereof in earth?

34 Canst thou lift up thy voice to the cloudes that the abundance of water may cover thee?

35 Canst thou sende the lightnings that they may walke, and say unto thee, for here we are?

36 Who hath put wisdom in h crines? or who hath given h heart understanding?

37 Who hath given h heart understanding? x In the secret partes of man.

37 Who can number cloudes by wisdom? y That is, the one who can cause to craze the bottels of cloudes, wherein the water is contained, as in bottels.

38 When the earth groweth into hardnes, and the clothes are fast together?

39 For when God doeth not open these bottels, the earth commeth to this inconvenience.

CHAP. XXXIX.

The bountie and providence of God, which extends huen to the yong ranem, groweth wian full occasion to put his confidence in God. 37 Job curseth and hime selfe.

11 Beholde now, his strength is in his loynes, and his force is in the nauill of his belly. 12 When he taketh pleasure, his tayle is like a cedar: the shewes of his stones are waite together. 13 His bones are like stauces of brasse, and his small bones like stauces of iron. 14 He is the chiefe of the wayes of God: he that made him, will make his sword to appoche vnto him. 15 Surely the mountaines bring him forth graske, where all the beasts of the field play. 16 Lierh he vnder the trees in the court of the reede and fennes? 17 Can the trees couer him with their shadowe? or can the willowes of the river compasse him about? 18 Behold, he spoyleth the river, and harshesth not: hee trusteth that hee can drawe by Toeden into his mouth. 19 He taketh it with his eyes, & thrusteth his nose thowow what former meeteth him. 20 ¶ Canst thou drawe out Lulathian with an hooke, and with a line which thou shalt cast bowne vnto his toungue? 21 Canst thou cast an hooke into his nose? canst thou perce his iawes w an angle? 22 Will hee make many prayers vnto thee, or speake the sapie? 23 Will hee make a couenant with thee? and wilt thou take him as a seruāt for euer? 24 Wilt thou play with him as w a bird? or wilt thou binde him for thy mapes? 25 Shall the companions bancket with him? shall they deuide him among the marchantes? 26 Canst thou fill the barker with his skin? or the fishpauer with his head? 27 Lay thine hand vpon him: remember the battell, and do no more so. 28 Behold, his hope is in vaine: for shall not one perishe euen at the sight of him?

2 Who is he that hideth counsell without knowledge? therefore haue I spoken that I vnderstoode not, & euery thyng too wonderfull for me, & which I knew not.

the eare, but now mine eye seeth thee.
Therefore I abhorre my selfe, and repent in dust and albes.
6 Nowe after that the Lord had spoken these wordes vnto Iob, the Lord said vnto Eliphaz the Temanite, Eliphaz I will kindle against thee, and against thy two friends: for ye haue not spoken of me the thing that is right, like my seruant Job.
7 Therefore take vnto you now seven bullockes, and seven cammes, and goe to my seruant Job, and offer vp for your selues a burnt offering, and my seruant Job shall pray for you: for I will accept him, lest I shoulde put you to shame, because ye haue not spoken of me the thing, which is right, like my seruant Job.
8 So Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite went, & did according as the Lord had sayde vnto them, and the Lord accepted Job.
9 Then the Lord turned the captivity of Job, when he prayed for his friends: also the Lord gaue Job twise so much as he had before.
10 Then came vnto him all his brethren, and all his sisters, & all they that had bene of his acquaintance before, and did eate bread with him in his house, & had compassion of him, & comforted him for all the evil that the Lord had brought vpon him, and euery man gaue him a piece of money, and euery one an earring of golde.
11 So the Lord blessed the last daies of Job more then the first: for he had fourteene thousand sheepe, and five thousand cammes, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she asses.
12 Hee had also seven sonnes, and three daughters.
13 And he called the name of one Temima, and the name of the seconde Keziah, and the name of the thirde Kerem, and the name of the foureth Hophni, and the name of the fiftie Iachan, and the name of the sixte Hiram.
14 And after this time Iob was without fault in his latter dayes, and he was without blame in all that he did.
15 And after this time Iob was without fault in his latter dayes, and he was without blame in all that he did.
16 And after this time Iob was without fault in his latter dayes, and he was without blame in all that he did.

THE *PSALMES OF DAVID.

THE ARGUMENT.

THIS booke of Psalmes is set fourth vnto vs by the holy Ghost to bee esteemed as a most precious treasure, wherein all thinges are conteyned that appertayne to true felicitie: as well in this life present as in the life to come. For the riches of true knowledge, and heavenly wisdom are here set open for vs, to take thereof most abundantly. If we would knowe the great, and hye maiestie of God, here we may see the brightest thereof shine most clearly. If we would seeke his incomprehensible wisdom, here is the scholl of the same profession. If we would comprehend his inestimable bountie, and approue neere thereunto, and fill our handes with that treasure, here we may haue a most liuely, and comfortable taste thereof. If we would knowe wherein standeth our saluation, and howe to attayne to life eueralsting, here is Christ our onely Redeemer, and mediator most evidently described. The riche man may learne the true vse of his riches. The poore man may finde full contentation. Hee that will reioyce, shall knowe the true ioye, and howe to keepe measure therein. They that are afflicted and oppressed, shall see wherein standeth their comfort, and howe they ought to praise God when he sendeth them deliverance. The wicked and the persecuters of the children of God shall see how the hande of God is euert against them: and though he suffer them to prosper for a while, yet hee brideleth them, in so much as they can not reach an heare of ones head, except he permit them, and howe in the ende their destruction is most miserable. Briefly, here we may haue most present remedies against all tentations, & troubles of minde and conscience, so that being well practised herein, we may be assured against all dangers in this life, liue in the true feare and loue of God, and at length attaine to that incorruptible crowne of glory, which is layde vp for all them that loue the comming of our Lord Iesus Christ.

P S A L M. I.

Whether it was Esdras, or any other that gathered the Psalm into a booke, it seemeth he did set this Psalm first in manner of a Preface, to exhort all godly men to studie, and meditate the heavenly wisdomes. For the effect hereof, 1 That they be blessed, which give themselves wholly all their life to the holy Scriptures. 4 And that the wicked contemptors of God, though they seeme for a while happy, yet at length shall come to miserable destruction.

a When a man hath given once place to euill counsel, or to his owne concupiscence, he beginneth to forget him selfe in his sinne, and so falleth into contempt of God, which contempt is called y^e seate of the corners, Deu. 6. 6, iosh. 1. 8. prom. 6. 20.
b In the holy Scriptures, Leu. 17. 8.
c Gods children are so moistened euer with his grace, that whatsoever cometh vnto them, tendeth to their saluation. d Though the wicked seeme to beare y^e swing in this world, yet the Lord driueth them downe that they shall not rise nor stand in the company of the righteous. e But tremble when they feelee Gods wrath. f Doe not approve and prosper, like as not to know, is to reprove and reiect.

Blessed is the man that doth not walke in the counsell of the wicked, nor stande in the way of sinners, nor sit in the seate of the scornfull:

But his delight is in the Law of the Lord, and in his Law doth he meditate day and night.

For he shall be like a tree planted by the riuers of waters, that will bring forth her fruite in due season: whose leafe shall not fade: so whatsoeuer he shall doe, shall prosper.

The wicked are not so, but as the chaffe, which the winde bineth away.

Therefore the wicked shall not stande in the iudgement, nor sinners in the assembly of the righteous.

For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous, and the way of the wicked shall perish.

P S A L II.

The Prophet Dauid reioyceth that notwithstanding his enemies rage, yet God will continue his kingdom for euer, and aduance it euen to the end of the world. 10 And therefore exhorteth Kings and rulers, that they would humbly submit them selves vnder Gods yoke, because it is in vaine to resist God. Herein is figured Christs kingdom.

Why doe the heathen rage, and the people murmure in vaine?

The Kings of the earth haue taken them selves, and the princes are assembled together against the Lord, and against his Christ.

Let vs breake their bandes, & cast their cordes from vs.

But he that dwelleth in the heauen shall laugh: the Lord shall haue the in derision.

Then shall he speake vnto them in his wrath, and berate them in his fure displeasure, saying,

Even I haue set my King vpon Zion.

Prou. 1. 26. c Gods plagues will declare that in resisting his Christ, they sought against him.

a The conspiracy of the Gentiles, the murdering of the Iewes, & power of Kings can not preuaile against Christ. Actes 4. 25.
b Or, assembled.
c Thus the wicked say, that they will cast off the yoke of God and of his Christ.

mine holpe mountaine,

I will declare the decree: that is, the Lord hath said vnto me. Thou art my Sonne: this day haue I begotten thee.

Aske of mee, and I shall giue thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the ends of the earth for thy possession.

Thou shalt crush them with a scepter of yron, and breake them in pieces like a potters vessel.

We will nower therefore, ye kings: be learned ye Judges of the earth.

Serue the Lord in feare, and reioyce in trembling.

Kisse the Sonne, least he be angrie, and ye perish in the way, when his wrath shall suddenly burne, blessed are all that trust in him.

f Not onely the Iewes but the Gentiles also. Rom. 2. 37. g He exhorteth all rulers to repent in time. h In signe of homage, i When the wicked shall say, Peace & rest, seeming yet to be but in the midway of their purposes, then shall destruction suddenly come. 1. Thel. 5. 3.

P S A L III.

Dauid driven forth of his kingdom, was greatly tormented in minde for his sinnes against God. 4 And therefore calleth vpon God, & waxeth bold through his promises against the great ragings & terrours of his enemies, yet, against death it selfe, which he sawe present before his eyes. 7 Finally he reioyceth for the good success, that God gave him, & all the Church. 8 A Psalm of Dauid, when he fled from his Sonne Absalon.

Lord, howe are mine aduersaries increased: how many rise against me:

My paine lay to my soule, There is no helpe for him in God. Selah.

But thou Lord art a buckler for me: my glory, and the lifter vp of mine head.

I did call vnto the Lord with my voice, and he heard me out of his holy mountaine. Selah.

I layed me downe and slept, and rose vp againe: for the Lord susteineth me.

I will not be afraid for ten thousand of the people, y^e should breke me round about.

O Lord, arise: helpe me, my God: for thou hast smitten all mine enemies vpon the cheeke bone: thou hast broken the teeth of the wicked.

Saluation belongeth vnto the Lord, and thy blessing is vpon thy people. Selah.

uailously. d Be the dangers neuer so great or many, yet God hath euer meane to deliuer his.

P S A L. IIII.

When Saul persecuted him, he called vpon God, trusting most assuredly in his promises, and therefore boldly reproacheth his enemies, who wilfully resisted his dominion. 7 And finally preferreth the fauour of God before all worldly treasures.

d To shew that my vocation to the kingdom is of God. Actes 13. 23, 25. e That is to say, as touching his knowledge, because it was the first time that Dauid appeared to God. So is applied to Christ in his first coming & manifestation to the world.

O Lord my God, in this I put my trust: I shall not be confounded, for I have trusted in the Lord.
2 Least he deuoure my soule like a lion, & reare it in pieces, while there is none to helpe.
3 O Lord my God, if I haue done this thing, if there bee any wickednes in mine handes,
4 If I haue rewarded euill unto him that had peace with me, (for I haue deuoured him that vaxed me without cause)
5 Then let the enemy persecute my soule & take it: yea, let him treade my life downe vpon the earth, and lay mine honour in the dust. Selah.
6 Wile, O Lord, in thy wrath, and lift vp thy selfe against the rage of mine enemies, and awake for me according to thy iudgement: that thou hast appointed.
7 O shall the Congregation of the people compass thee about: for their sakes therefore I returne on his.
8 The Lord shall iudge the people: iudge thou me, O Lord, according to my righteousness, and according to mine innocencie, that is in me.
9 Why let the malice of the wicked come to an ende: but guide thou the iust: for the righteous God trieth the hearts and repnes.
10 Thy defence is in God, who preferreth the upright in heart.
11 God iudgeth the righteous, and him that contemnerth God, in euery day.
12 Except he turne, hee hath whet his sword: he hath bent his bowe and made it readie.
13 He hath also prepared him deadly weapons: hee will opene his arrowes for them that persecute me.
14 Behold, he shall traunsaile with wickednes: for he hath concurred in mischief, but he shall bring forth a lye.
15 He hath made a pit and digged it, and is fallen into the pit that he made.
16 His mischief shall returne vpon his owne head, and his crueltie shall fall vpon his owne pate.
17 I will praise the Lord according to his righteousness, and will sing praise to the Name of the Lord most high.

1 In keeping faithfully his promises with me, P S A L. VIIII.

When I beheld thine heavens, even the workes of thy fingers, the moone and the starres which thou hast ordeined,
1 What is man, say I, that thou art mindful of him? and the sonne of man, that thou buishest him?
2 For thou hast made him a little lower then God, and crowned him with glorie and worship.
3 Thou hast made him to haue dominion in the workes of thine handes: thou hast put all things vnder his feete:
4 All sheepe & oxen: yea, and the beasts of the field:
5 The foules of the aire, and the fish of the sea, and that which passeth through the pathes of the seas.
6 O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy Name in all the world!
 which he hath by his regeneration through Christ.

P S A L. IX.
After hee had giuen thanks to God for the sundrie victories that hee had sent him against his enemies, and also proued by manifold experience howe readie God was at hande in all his troubles: 14. He being neuer likewise in danger of new enemies desired God to helpe him according to his wont, 37. And to destroy the malicious arrogancie of his adversaries.
To him that exelleth vpon Gubry Labben. A Psalm of Dauid.

I will praise the Lord with my whole heart: I will speake of all thy maruallous workes.
2 I will be glad, & reioyce in thee: I will sing praise to thy Name, O most high.
3 For that mine enemies are turned backe: they shall fall, and perish at thy presence.
4 For thou hast mainteyned my right vpon me: thou art set in the throne, and indigest right.
5 Thou hast rebuked the heathen: thou hast destroyed the wicked: thou hast put out their name for euer and euer.
6 O enemy, destructions are come to a perpetuall ende, and thou hast destroyed the cities: their memoriall is perished with them.
7 But the Lord shall sit for euer: he hath prepared his throne for iudgement.
8 For hee shall iudge the world in righteousness, and shall iudge the people with equitie.
9 The Lord also will be a refuge for the poore, a refuge in due time, euen in affliction.
10 And they that know thy Name, will trust in thee: for thou, O Lord, hast not failed them that seeke thee.
11 Sing praises to the Lord, which dwelleth in Zion: shew the people his workes.
12 For when hee maketh inquisition for blood, hee remembreth it, and forgetteth not the complaint of the poore.
13 Haue mercie vpon me, O Lord: consider my trouble, which I suffer of them that hate me, thou that liftest me vp from the gates of death.
14 That I map shew all thy praises within the gates of the daughter of Zion, & reioyce in thy salvation.

For God over-throweth the wicked in their enterprises.

The mercy of God toward his Saints must be declared, & the fall of the wicked must always be considered.

For this is worthy to be noted.

God promisseth not to help vs before we haue felt the crosse.

Which they can not learne without the feare of his iudgement.

PSAL. X.

1 He complaineth of the fraude, rapine, tyranny, & all kindes of wrong, which worldly men vsing the cause thereof, that wicked men being as it were drunken with worldly profusion, and therefore setting apart all feare & reverence towards God, think they may do all things without controuling. 15 Therefore he calleth vpon God to sende some remedie against these desperate evils, 16 And at length comforteth himselfe with hope of deliverance.

17 Whp standest thou farre off, O Lord, and hidest thee in due time, euen in affliction?

2 The wicked with pride doeth persecute the poore: let them be taken in the craftes that they haue imagined.

3 For the wicked hath made boast of his owne heartes desire, and the countenances bleaseth himselfe: he contemneth the Lord.

4 The wicked is so poudre that he seeketh not for God: he thinketh alwayes, There is no God.

5 His wayes alway prosper: thy iudges urits are his aboute his sight: therefore he defiect he all his enemies.

6 We safetie in his heart, I shall neuer be moued, nor be in danger.

7 His mouth is full of curling and decrite and fraude: under his tongue is mischief and iniquitie.

8 He lieth in waite in the billages: in h secrete places doth he murder the innocent: his eyes are bent against the poore.

9 He lieth in waite secretly, euen as a lion in his denne: he lyeth in waite to spoile the poore: he doeth spoile the poore, when he draweth him into his net.

10 He croucheth and boweth: therefore he prayes of the poore do fall by his might.

11 He hath said in his heart, God hath forgotten, he hideth away his face, and will neuer see.

12 Arise, O Lord God: lift vp thine hand: forget not the poore.

13 Wherefore doeth the wicked contemne God: he is safetie in his heart, Thou wilt not regard.

By the hypocisie of them that haue authoritie, the poore are deuoured, I he calleth to God for helpe, because wickednes is so farre ouergrown, that God must now helpe or neuer. Therefore thou must needs punish this their blasphemie.

14 Yet thou hast sene it: for thou beholdest mischief and wrong, that thou mapst take it into thine hands: the poore committe himselfe vnto thee: for thou art the helper of the fatherlesse.

15 Breake thou the arme of the wicked and malicious: scatter his wickednesse, and thou shalt saue a none.

16 The Lord is King for euer and euer: the heathen are despoiled footst of his lande.

17 Lord, thou hast heard the desire of the poore: thou prepairst their heart: thou brendest thine eare to them,

18 To iudge the fatherlesse and poore, that earthly man cause to feare no more.

PSAL. XI.

1 This Psalm containeth two partes. In the first David sheweth howe hard assaults of tentation he suffered, and howe great anguish of minde he was, when Saul did persecute him, 4 Then next he rejoyceth that God sent him succour in his necessitie, declaring his iustice as well in gouerning the good, as the wicked man, as the whole worlde.

To him that exelleth. A Psalme of David.

1 As the Lord put I my trust: how saye I then to my loue, I feare to pour minde tame as a bird?

2 For loe, the wicked bend their bowe, and make ready their arrowes vpon the string, that they may secretly shooe at them, which are vnsight in heart.

3 For the foundations are cast downe: what hath the righteous done?

4 The Lord is in his holie palace: the Lordes throne is in the heauen: his eyes wall consider: his eye liddes will trie the children of men.

5 The Lord will tpe the righteous: but the wicked and him that loueth iniquitie, doeth his soule hate.

6 Vpon the wicked he shall rapine shames, & fire, and bynition, and stormie tempest: this is the portion of their cup.

7 For the righteous Lord loueth rightnesse: his countenance doeth beholde the iust.

dom and Gomorra, f Which they shall drinke euen to the dregges, Ezek. 23. 34.

PSAL. XII.

1 The Prophet lamenting the miserable estate of the people, and the decay of all good order, desireth God speedily to send succour to his children, 7 Then comforting himselfe & others with the assurance of Gods helpe, he commendeth the constant veritie that God abideth in keeping his promises.

To him that exelleth vpon the right tune. A Psalm of David.

1 Heve Lord, for there is not a godly man left: for the faithfull are sapled from among the children of men.

2 They speake deceitfully eury one with flatterers of the his neighbour, & flatterer with their lippes, and speake with a double heart.

3 The Lord cut off all flatterer lippes, and the tongue that speaketh poudre then with their thynge:

h To iudge betweene the right and the wrong, i For thou hast utterly destroyed him.

k The hypocrites, or such as lue not after Gods lawe, shall be desitue.

l God helpech when mans help cealeth.

m Or, desitue no more man vpon the earth.

a This is the wicked countell of his enemies to him and his companions, to drive him from the hope of Gods promes.

b All hope of succour is taken away.

c Yet am I innocent and my cause good.

d Though all things in earth be out of order, yet God will execute iudgement from heauen.

e As in the destruction of So-

dom and Gomorra, f Which they shall drinke euen to the dregges, Ezek. 23. 34.

g Which dare defend & shew mercy to the oppressed.

h He meaneth flatterers of the court, which hurt him more then their tongues.

i And then with their weapons.

c They thinke themselves able to periswade whatsoever they take in hand. d The Lord is moued with the complaints of his, & deliuereth in the ende from all dangers. e Because the Lords word and promes is true & vchangeable, he will performe it, and preferre the poore from this wicked generation. f That is, thine, though he were but one man. g For they suppress the godly, and maintain the wicked.

PSAL. XIIII.

1 David as it were overcome with sundrie and newe afflictions, fleeth to God as his only refuge, 3 And so at the length being encouraged through Gods promise, he conceiveth most sure confidence against the extreme humours of death.

g To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

a He declareth that his afflictions lasted a long time, and that his faith fainted not. b Changing my purpose as the sicke man dooth his place. c Which might come to Gods dishonour, if he did not defend his. d The mercie of God is the cause of our salvation. e Both by the benefices past and by others to come.

H ow long wilt thou forget mee, O Lord, a for ever: how long wilt thou hide thy face from me? b How long shall I take counsell within mine selfe, having wearied daily in mine heart: how long shall mine enemie be exalted above me? c Beholde, and heare me, O Lord my God: lighten mine eyes, that I sleepe not in death: d Let mine enemie say, I have overcome against him: and they that afflict mee, rejoyce when I sleepe. e But I trust in thy mercie: mine heart shall rejoyce in thy salvation: I will sing to the Lord, because he hath dealt lovingly with me.

PSAL. XIIII.

1 He describeth the perversenesse of man, which were so grown to licentiousnes, that God was brought to utter contempt, 7 For the which thing although he was greatly grieved, yet being persuaded that God would send some present remedie, he comforteth him selfe and others.

g To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

1 The fool hath sayde in his heart, a There is no God: they have corrupted, and done an abominable worke: there is none that doeth good. b The Lord looked down from heaven upon the children of men, to see if there were any that would understande, & seeke God. c All are gone one of the way: they are all corrupt: there is none that doeth good, no not one. d Do not all the workers of iniquitie know that they eate by my people, as they eate bread: they call not upon the Lord.

But S. Paul speaketh thus: Some of all men naturally, Ro 1

1 There they shall be taken with feare, because God is in the generation of the iust. 2 Thou hast made a mocke at the counsel of the poore, because the Lord is his trust. 3 Whither shall I turne? when the Lord turneth the captivity of his people, then Iacob shall rejoyce, and Iacob shall be glad.

¶ Note that of this 14 Psalm, the 3. 6. and 7. verses which are put into the common translation, and may seeme unto some to be left out in this, are not in the same Psalm in the Hebrew text; but are rather put in, more fully to expresse the manners of the wicked: and are gathered out of the 5. 140. and 141. Psalms, the 59. of the Prophet Isaiah, and the 34. Psalm, and are alledged by S. Paul, and placed together in the 3. to the Romanes.

PSAL. XV.

1 This Psalm teacheth on what condition God did chuse the Levites for his peculiar people, and wherefore he placed his Temple among them, which was to the intent that they by living uprightly and godly, might witness that they were his speciall and holy people.

A Psalm of David.

1 Lord, who shall dwell in thy Tabernacle: who shall rest in thine holy mountaine? 2 He that walketh uprightly and doeth his rightnesse, & speaketh the truth in his heart. 3 He that slandereth not with his tongue, nor doeth euill to his neighbour, nor receiveth a false report against his neighbour. 4 In whose eyes a vile person is contemned, but he honoureth them that feare the Lord: he that sweareth by his owne conscience, and changeth not. 5 Hee that is grieved not by his money into blishe, nor taketh reward against the innocent: he that doeth these things, a shall neuer be moved.

PSAL. XVI.

1 David prayeth to God for succour, not for his workes, but for his faiths sake, 4 Protesting that he hateth all idolatrie, taking God only for his comfort and felicitie, 8 VVho suffereth him to lacke nothing.

A Psalm of David.

1 Preserve me, O God: for my trust is in thee. 2 O my soule, thou hast sayde unto the Lord, Thou art my Lord: my blessing extendeth not to thee, 3 But to the Saints that are in the earth, in him, and to the excellent: all my delight is in them. 4 The sorowes of them, that offer to another god, shall be multiplied: 4 their offerings of blood will I not offer, neither will I make mention of their names with my lips. 5 The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance, and of my cuppe: thou shalt maintaine my lot. 6 Thy lines are fallen vnto mee in pleasant places: yea, I have a faire heritage. 7 I will praise the Lord, who hath given me meat nor in mouth consent to their idolatries, e Wherewith my portion is measured.

Where they thinke themselves able to mocke at them: but they shall be ashamed: for they shall have put their trust in God, whose whole church whom he is assisting: red God will deliver: for none but he only can do it.

A First God requieth uprightnes of life, next doing well to others, & thirdly truth, and simplicity in our wordes. b He that slandereth not his neighbour in their wickednes. c To the habitation of his neighbour. d That is, shall not be call forth of the Church as hypocrites.

PSAL. XVIII.

1 ¹ This Psalm is the first beginning of his gratulation on, and thanksgiving in the entering into his kingdome, wherein he extollth and prayeth most highly the marvellous mercies & grace of God, who hath thus preserved and defended him. 32 Also he testifieth forth the image of Christes kingdom, that the faithfull may be assured that Christ shall alwayes conquer and ouercome by the vnspokeable power of his Father, though all the whole world should strive thereagainst.

the seruant of the Lord, which spake vnto
the Lord the wordes of this song (in the day that the Lord deliuered him from the hands of all his enemies, and from the yad of Saul and Iahb).

I will loue thee dearly, O Lord my strength.

2 ² The Lord is my rocke, and my fort-resse, and he that deliuereth me, my God and my strength: in him wilt I trust, my shield, the boue also of my saluation, and

3 I will call vpon the Lord, which is wof-full to be praised: so shall I be safe from mine enemies.

4 The ³ rayes of death compassed me,
and the floods of wickedness made me
afraide.

5 The ⁴ rayes of the graue haue com-

overtook me.

6 But in my trouble did I call vpon the Lord, and cried vnto my God: he heard my voyce out of his Temple, and my cry
did come before him, euen into his eares.

7 ⁵ Then the earth trembled, and quaked:
the foundations also of the mountaines
moued & shooke, because he was angry.

8 Smoke went out of his nostrils, and a consuming fire out of his mouth: coles were kindled therat.

9 He bowed the heauens also and came
downe, and darkness was vnder his fete.

and he came flying vpon the wings of the m Out of sundry and great dangers.

n To wit, Saul.

o Therefore God sent me succour.

p The cause of Gods deliuerance is his onely fauor and loue to vs.

q Dauid was sure of his righteous cause and good behauiour toward Saul and his enemies, and therefore was assured of Gods fauor and deliuerance.

r For all his dangers, he exercised himselfe in the Law of God.

s Neither gave place to their wicked tentations, nor to mine or mine affections.

t Here he speaketh of God according to our capacity, who sheweth mercy to his and punisheth y wicked, as is said also, Leuit. 26. 31, 34.

u When their sinne is come to the full measure.

x He attributeth it to God, that he both gate the victory in the field, & also destroyed the cities of his enemies.

y Be the dangers neuer so many or great, yet Gods promises must take effect.

z Hee giueth good successe to all mine enterprises.

a As couters and forts, which heooke out of the hands of Gods enemies.

b To defend me from dangers.

c He attributeth the beginning, continuance and increase in welsdoing, onely to Gods fauour.

d Dauid declareth that he did nothing besides his vocation, but was stirred vp by Gods spirit to execute his iudgements.

15 And the channels of waters were seene, and the foundations of the woilde were discovered at the rebuking of the Lord, at the blasting of the breath of thy noisels.

16 He hath sent downe from aboue and taken me: he hath drawen me out of many waters.

17 He hath deliuered me from my strong enemy, and from them which hate mee: for they were too strong for me.

18 They presented me in the day of my calamitie: but the Lord was my stay.

19 He brought mee forth also into a large place: he deliuered me because he fauoured me.

20 The Lord rewarded mee according to my righteousness: according to the pureness of mine handes he recompensed me.

21 Because I kept the wayes of the Lord, and did not wickedly against my God.

22 For all his lawes were before me, and I did not cast away his commandments from me.

23 I was vpright also with him, and haue kept me from my wickednes.

24 Therefore the Lord rewarded mee according to my righteousness, and according to the pureness of mine handes in his sight.

25 With the Lord thou wilt shewe thy selfe goodly: with the vpright man thou wilt shew thy selfe vpright.

26 With the pure thou wilt shew thy selfe pure, and with the srowarde thou wilt shewe thy selfe sroward.

27 Thus thou wilt saue the poore people, and wilt cast downe the proud lookes.

28 Surely thou wilt light my candle: the Lord my God will lighten my darkness.

29 For by thee I haue broken through an hoste, and by my God I haue leaped ouer a wall.

30 The waie of God is incorrupt: the word of the Lord is tried in the fire: he is a shield to all that trust in him.

31 For who is God besides the Lord? and who is mightie saue our God?

32 God girdeth me with strength, and maketh my way vpright.

33 He maketh my feete like hinds feete, and setteth my vpon mine high places.

34 Hee teacheth mine handes to fight: so that a bow of brass is broken with mine armes.

35 Thou hast also giuen mee the shield of thy saluation, and thy right hande hath stayed mee, & thy louing kindnesse hath caused me to increase.

36 Thou hast enlarged my steppes vnder me, and mine heeles haue not slid.

37 I haue pursued mine enemies, and taken them, and haue not turned againe till I had consumed them.

38 I haue wounded them, that they were not able to rise: they are fallen vnder my feete.

b To defend me from dangers.

c He attributeth the beginning, continuance and increase in welsdoing, onely to Gods fauour.

d Dauid declareth that he did nothing besides his vocation, but was stirred vp by Gods spirit to execute his iudgements.

39 For thou hast girded me with strength to battell: thou hast rose against me, thou hast subdued vnder me.

40 And thou hast giuen mee the neckes of mine enemies, that I might destroy them that hate me.

41 They cryed, but there was none to saue them, euen vnto the Lord, but he answered them not.

42 Then I did beate them small as the dust before the winde: I did tread them flat as the clay in the streetes.

43 Thou hast deliuered me from the contentions of the people: thou hast made mee the head of the heathen: a people, whom I haue not knowe, shall serue me.

44 As soone as they heare, they shall obey me: the strangers shall be in subiection to me.

45 Strangers shall shynke away, & feare in their pynne chambers.

46 Let the Lord be, and blessed bee my strength, and the God of my saluation be exalted.

47 It is God that giueth mee power to asuerge me, and subdueth the people vnder me.

48 I am deliuered from mine enemies, euen thou hast let me go from them, that rose against me: thou hast deliuered me from the cruel man.

49 Therefore I will praise thee, O Lord, among the nations, and will sing vnto thy name.

PSAL. XXI.

David in the person of the people praiseth God for the victory, as trusting in to God, & not in the strength of man. VVhen the holy Ghost doth thus the psalmist is Christ, who is the perfection of this kingdom.

To him that exalteth in Psalmes of David.

1 The King shall reioyce in thy strength, O Lord: yea, how greatly shall he reioyce in thy salvation!

2 Thou hast given him his hearts desire, and hast not druped him the request of his lips. Selah.

3 For thou didest prevent him with liberal blessings, & didest set a crowne of pure gold upon his head.

4 He asked life of thee, and thou gavest him a long life for ever and ever.

5 His glory is great in thy saluation: because thou hast thou laid upon him.

6 For thou hast let him as a blessing for ever: thou hast made him glad with the top of thy countenance.

7 Because the King trusted in the Lord, and in the mercie of the most High, he shall not slide.

8 Thine hande shall finde out all thine enemies, and the right hand shall finde out them that hate thee.

9 Thou shalt make them like a fire oven in time of thine anger: the Lord shall destroy them in his wrath, and the fire shall devoure them.

10 Thine enemies shall despise from the earth, and their seed from the children of men.

11 For they intended evil against thee, and imagined mischief, but they shall not prevail.

12 Therefore shalt thou put them apart, and the strong of thy bowe shalt thou make ready against their faces.

13 Be exalted, O Lord, in thy strength: so will we sing and praise thy power.

David complained because he was brought into such extremities, that he was past all hope, but after hee had rehearsed the sorowes and griefes, wherewith he was vexed, so he recovereth himselfe from the bottomlesse pit of temptation, and groweth in hope. And here under his worse paines he foresheweth the figure of Christ, whom he did suffer by the Spirit of prophesie, that he should manfully, and strangely be crucified, and should be sowne his Father should raise and exalt him againe.

To him that exalteth upon Azielah. Psalmes of David.

M For God, my God, why hast thou forsaken mee, and art so farre from mine healeth, and from the words of my roaring?

2 O my God, I cry by day, but thou hearest not, & by night, but I have no audience.

3 But thou art holy, and dost inhabit faith and desperation. b Being tormented with extreme guilt. c Or, I was not.

a When he shall overcome his enemies, and so be assured of his vocation.

b Thou deservest thy liberal favour toward him before he prayed.

c David did not onely obtaine life, but also assistance that his posteritie should reigne for ever.

6 His going out is from the ende of the heaven, and his compass is unto the ende of the same, and none is hid from the heate thereof.

7 The Law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soule: the testimony of the Lord is sure, and giveth wisdom unto the simple.

8 The statutes of the Lord are right and reioyce the heart: the commandment of the Lord is pure, and giveth light unto the eyes.

9 The feare of the Lord is cleane, and endureth for ever: the iudgements of the Lord are truth: they are righteous all together.

10 And more to be desired then golde, yea, then much fine golde: sweeter also then honie, and the honie combe.

11 Whoemer by them is the servant made circumpect, & in keeping of them there is great reward.

12 Who can understand his faults: cleanse me from secret fautes.

13 Keep thy servant also froe presumptuous sinnes: let them not reigne over me: so shall I be upright, and made cleane from much wickednes.

14 Let the wordes of my mouth, and the meditation of mine heart be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my redeemer.

15 Then there is no reward of dutie, but of grace: for where there is, there death is the reward.

16 Which are done purposely and of malice, as if thou stoppest my wicked affections by thine holy spirit. o That I may obey thee in thought, word and deede.

PSAL. XX.

1 A prayer of the people unto God, that it would please him to heare their King, and receive his sacrifices, which he offered before he went to battell against the Ammonites.

To him that exalteth. Psalmes of David.

1 The Lord heare thee in the day of trouble: the Name of the God of Jacob defend thee.

2 Send thee helpe from the Sanctuary, and strengthen the out of Zion.

3 Let him remember all thine offerings, and receive thy burnt offerings into albes. Selah.

4 And grant thee according to thine heart, and fulfill all thy purpose.

5 That we may reioyce in thy saluation, and set by the banner in the Name of our God, when the Lord shall performe all thy petitions.

6 Now know I that the Lord will helpe his anointed, and will heare him from his Sanctuary, by the multitude helpe of his right hand.

7 Some trust in chariots, and some in horses: but we will remember the Name of the Lord our God.

P S A S. XXV.

1 The Prophet touched with the consideration of his sinnes, and also grieved with the cruell malice of his enemies, 6 Prayeth to God most fervently to haue his sinnes forgiven, 7 Especially such as he had committed in his youth. He beginneth every verse according to the Hebrew letters two or three except.

A Psalme of Dauid.

1 For thy name sake, O Lord, be merciful but to mine iniquitie, for it is great. 2 What man is he that feareth the Lord? him will he recompense: for he shall be chaste. 3 His soule shall dwell at ease, and his seede shall inherit the land. 4 The secret of the Lord is reueiled to them, that feare him: a his conuenant to giue them vnderstanding. 5 Mine eyes are euer toward the Lord: for he will bring my feete out of the net. 6 Turne thy face vnto me, and haue mercie vpon me: for I am desolate & poore. 7 The sorrowes of mine heart are enlarged: drawe me out of my troubles. 8 Looke vpon mine affliction & my tanel, and forgiue all my finnes. 9 Beholde mine enemies, for they are many, and they hate me with cruell hatred. 10 Keepe my soule, and deliuer me: let me not be confounded, for I trust in thee. 11 Let p mine vprightnesse and equitie praise me: for mine hope is in thee. 12 Deliuer Israel, O God, out of all his troubles.

sed, the more nere felt he Gods helpe. p For as much as I haue behaued my selfe vprightly toward mine enemies, let them know that thou art the defender of my iust cause.

P S A L. XXVI.

1 David oppressed with many iniuries, finding no helpe in the world, calleth for ayde from God: and assured of his integrity towards Saul, desireth God to be his iudge, and to defende his innocence. 6 Finally he maketh mention of his sacrifice, which he will offer for his deliuerance, and desireth to be in the company of the faithfull in the Congregation of God, whiche he was banished by Sauls transgressing integrity of life, and open prayer and thanksgiving.

A Psalme of Dauid.

1 Iudge me, O Lord, for I haue walke in mine innocencie: my trust hath bene also in the Lord: therefore shall I not slide. 2 Proue me, O Lord, & trie me: examine mine reines, and mine heart. 3 For thy lovingkindnesse is before mine eyes: therefore haue I walked in thy truth. 4 I haue not dainted with vaine persons, neither kept company with the dissemblers. 5 I haue hated the assemble of the euill, and haue not companied with the wicked. 6 I will wash mine hands in innocencie, O Lord, and remembre thine altar. 7 That I may declare with the voyce of thanksgiving, and let forth all thy wondrous workes. 8 O Lord, I haue loued the habitation of thine house, and the place where thine honour dwelleth. 9 Whether not my soule with the sinners, nor my life with the bloody men:

PSAL. XXVII.

1 Dauid maketh this Psalm being deliuered from great perils, as appeareth by the praises and thankes-giving annexed: 6 Wherein we may see the constant faith of Dauid against the assaults of all his enemies: 7 And also the ends wherefore he desireth to live and to be deliuered, onely to worshippe God in his Congregation.

A Psalm of Dauid.

a Because he was assured of good successe in all his dangers,
& that his salua-
tion was surely
layd vp in God,
he feared not tyrannie of his enemies.
b That God will deliuer me, and give my faith
the victorie.
c The losse of
country, wife,
and all worldly commodities
griue me not in respect of this
one thing, that I may not praise
thy name in the middles of the congregation.
d Dauid assured
himselfe by the Spirit of prophetic, that he should ouer-
come his enemies and serue
God in his Tabernacle.
e He groundeth

mise, & sheweth

ment.
f He magnifieth

wards his, which farre passeth the most tender loue

wardes their children.
g But either pa-
cifie their wrath, or bridle their rage. h In this present life before I die, as Isa. 38. 11. i. He exhorteth himselfe to depende on the Lord, seeing he neuer sayled in his promises.

1 The Lord is my light and my saluation, whome shall I feare: the Lord is the strength of my life, of whome shall I be affraid?
2 When the wicked, even mine enemies & my foes came vpon me to rate, by my flesh, they stumbled and fell.
3 Though an hoste pitched against me,
mine heart should not be affraid: though warre be rapied against mee, I will trust
in this.
4 One thing haue I desired of the Lord,
that I will require, even that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the dayes of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord,
and to visite his Temple.
5 For in the time of trouble he shall hide
mee in his Tabernacle: in the secret place of his pavilion shall he hide me, and set me
vp vpon a rocke.
6 And now shall he lift vp mine head as housewaine enemies rounde about mee:
therefore will I offer in his Tabernacle sacrifices of ioy: I will sing and praise the Lord.
7 Hearken vnto my voyce, O Lord, when I cry: haue mercy also vpon me & heare me.
8 When thou saidst, Seeke ye my face, mine heart answered vnto thee, O Lord, I will seeke thy face.
9 Hide not therefore thy face from mee, nor cast thy seruant away in displeasure: thou hast bene my succour: leaue me not, neither forsake me, O God of my saluation.
10 Though my father and my mother should forsake me, yet the Lord will gather me vp.
11 Teache me thy way, O Lord, and leade me in a right path, because of mine enemies.
12 Gine me not vnto the lust of mine ad-uersaries: for there are false witnesses risen vp agaynst mee, and such as speake cruelly.
13 I should haue fainted, except I had beleeued to see the goodnesse of the Lord in the land of the living.
14 Hope in the Lord: be strong, and he shall comfort thine heart, and trust in the Lord.

PSAL. XXVIII.

1 Bring in great fears and tremblings of heart to the God dishonoured by the wicked, he desireth to be rid of them, 4 And cryeth for vengeance against this and at length offereth himselfe, that God hath heard his prayer. 9 Vnto whose mission he commendeth
all the faithful.

A Psalm of Dauid.

Vnto thee, O Lord, do I cry: O my strength, be not deafe toward mee, least, if thou answer me not, I be like them that goe downe into the pit.
2 Heare the voyce of my petitions, when I cry vnto thee, when I holde vp mine hands towards thee: hold me.
3 Draw me not away with the wicked,
with the workers of iniquitie: which speake friendly to their neighbours, when malice is in their hearts.
4 Reward them according to their doings, and according to the wickednesse of their inimities: recompense them after the wole of their hands: render them their reward.
5 For they regarde not the workers of the Lord, nor the operation of his hands:
therefore shall they be broken downe, and builde
themselves not vp.
6 I praised be the Lord, for he hath heard
the voyce of my petitions.
7 The Lord is my strength and my shield:
mine heart trusted in him, & I was bre-
ke through: for mine heart shall reioyce, &
with my song will I praise him.
8 The Lord is their strength, and he is the strength of the deliuerances of his anome tribe.
9 Same thy people, and blesse thine inheritance: feede them also, & exalt the foyr cuer, the assurance of Gods helpe in his heart, his mouth was opened to sing his prayes. g Meaning, his soldiers, who were a means, by whome God declared his power.

PSAL. XXXIX.

1 The Prophet exhorteth the princes and rulers of the worlds, (which for the most part thinke there is no God) 3 At the least to feare him for the thunder &
tempests, for feare whereof all creatures tremble. 11
And though thereby God threateth sinners, yet he always mercifull to hu, and moueth them thereby to praise his Name.

A Psalm of Dauid.

earth: gine vnto the Lord glory
and strength.
2 Gine vnto the Lord glory due vnto his Name: worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuarie.
3 The voyce of the Lord is vpon waters:
the God of glory maketh it to thunder:
the Lord is vpon the great waters.
4 The voyce of the Lord is mighty: the voyce
of the Lord is glorious.
5 The voyce of the Lord breaketh the cedars: yea, the Lord breaketh the cedars of Libanon.
6 He maketh them also to leape like a calf:
Libanon also and Bashiron like a pomegranate.
7 The voyce of the Lord denudeth the cedarboke: breaketh the most strong trees, & shall men
be able to resist God? d Called also Hermon.

P S A L. XXX.

1 When David was deliuered from great danger, he reuered thanks to God, exhorting others to doe the like, and to learne by his example, that God is rather mercifull then seuer, and rigorous towards his children. 7 And also that the fall from prosperitie to aduersitie is sudden. 8 This done, he returneth to prayer, promising to praise God for euer.

9 • A Psalm or song of the ^h dedication of the house of Dauid.

1 I will imagine thee, O Lord: ^h for thou hast exalted mee, and hast not made my foes to reioyce ouer me.

2 O Lord my God, I crept vnto thee, and thou hast ^h reford me.

his example to trust in God, to feare and serue him:

14. VVho defendeth the godly with his angels, 15. And utterly depreyeth the wicked in their sinnes.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid, when he changed his behauiour before Achimelech, who dyone him away, and he departed.

1 I will alway giue thanks vnto the Lorde: his praye shall be in my mouth continually.

2 My soule shall glorie in the Lorde: the humble shall heare it and be glad.

3 My praye for the Lorde with me, and let vs magnifie his name together.

4 I sought the Lorde, and he heard me: he deliuered me out of all my feare.

5 They shall looke vnto him, and runne to him: and their faces shall not bee ashamed, saying,

6 This poore man cried, and the Lorde heard him, and saued him out of all his troubles.

7 The Angel of the Lord pitcheth round about them, that feare him, and deliuereth them.

8 Take ye and see, how gracious the Lorde is: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.

9 Feare the Lorde, ye his Saints: for no thing is wanting to them that feare him.

10 The Lions doe lacke and suffer hunger, but they, which seeke the Lorde, shall want nothing that is good.

11 Come children, hearken vnto me: I will teach you the feare of the Lord.

12 What in me is, that desireth life, and longeth long dayes for to see good?

13 Keepe thy tongue from euill, & thy lips, that they speake no guile.

14 Eschew euill and do good: seeke peace & follow after it.

15 The eyes of the Lord are vpon the righteous, & his eares are open vnto their crye.

16 But the face of the Lord is against them, that do euill, to cut off their remembrance from the earth.

17 The righteous crye, and the Lorde heareth them, and deliuereth them out of all their troubles.

18 The Lorde is nere vnto them that are of a contrite heart, and will saue such as be afflicted in spirit.

19 Great are the troubles of the righteous: but the Lorde deliuereth him out of them all.

20 We keepe his bones: not one of them is broken.

21 But malice shall slay the wicked: & they that hate the righteous, shall perish.

22 The Lord & redermeth the soules of his seruants: and none, that trust in him, shall perish.

23 When they seeme to be swallowed vp with afflictions, then God is at hand to deliuer them. m And as Christ sayeth, all the heares of his heart.

n Their wicked enterpryses shall turne to their owne destruction. o For when they seeme to be overcome with great dangers and death it selfe, then God sheweth himselfe their redemer.

PSAL. XXXV.

1 So long as Saul was enemy to Dauid, all that had any authoritie vnder him to slatter their king (as was the custome of the world) did also most cruelly persecute Dauid: against whom he prayeth God to plade and to avenge his cause, & That they may be taken in their nettes & snares, which they layed for him, that his innocencie may be declared, 27 And that the innocent, which taketh part with him, may reioyce & prayse the name of the Lorde, that thus deliuereth his seruant. 28 And so he promitteth to speake forth the iustice of the Lord, and to magnifie his name all the dayes of his life.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

1 Plead thou my cause, O Lorde, with them that strue with me: fight thou against them, that fight against me.

2 Lay hand vpon the shield and buckler, and stand by for my helpe.

3 Wing out also the fyre and stoppe the way against them, that persecute me: lay vnto my soule, I am thy saluation.

4 Let them be confounded & put to shame, that seeke after my soule: let them be turned backe, and brought to confusion, that imagine mine hurt.

5 Let them be as chaffe before the winde, & let the Angel of the Lord scatter them.

6 Let their way be darke and slippery: and let the Angel of the Lord persecute them.

7 For without cause they haue hid the pit & their net for me: without cause haue they digged a pit for my soule.

8 Let destruction come vpon him at his bedchamber, and let his net, that he hath layed priuily, take him: let him fall into the same destruction.

9 Then my soule shall be ioyfull in the Lord: it shall reioyce in his saluation.

10 All my bones shall say, Lorde, who is like vnto thee, which deliuerest the poore from him, that is too strong for him? pea, the poore, and him that is in miserie, from him that spoyleth him!

11 Cruell witnesses did rise vp: they asked of me things that I knew not.

12 They rewarded mee euill for good, to haue spoiled my soule.

13 Yet I, when they were sicke, I was clothed with sacke: I humbled my soule with fasting: and my prayer was turned vpon my bosome.

14 I behaued my selfe as to my friend, or as to my brother: I humbled my self, mourning as one that bewaileth his mother.

15 But in mine aduersitie they reioiced, & gathered themselves together: the aduersers assembled themselves against me, & I knew not: they tare me & ceased not.

16 With the false shoflers at me & banishers, gnashing their teeth against me.

17 Lord, how long wilt thou beholde this? deliuer my soule from their tumult, euen my desolate soule from the lions.

18 So will I giue thee thanks in a great Congregation: I will praise thee among much people.

19 Let not them that are mine enemies, all comfort, and brought me into despaire. I prayed for them with inward affection, as I would haue done for my selfe, I declared mine affection with bowing downe mine head. m When they sawe me readie to slip, and as one that halted for infirmities, tut, and gnaweth his tēth against him.

13 But the Loyde shall laugh him to scorn: for he seeth that his day is coming.

14 The wicked haue bialwen their Loyde, and haue bent their bowes, to cast downe the poye and merie, and to slap such as be of vpright conuersation.

15 But their Loyde shall enter into their owne heart, & their bowes shall be broken.

16 x Small thing vnto the iust man is better, then great riches to the wicked and nightie.

17 For harmes of the wicked shall be bjo- ken: but the Loyd upholdeth the iust men.

18 The Loyde knoweth the dayes of vpright men, and their inheritance shall be perpetual.

19 They shall not be confounded in the pe- rillous time, and in the dayes of fauour they shall haue m^{uch} prouph.

20 But the wicked shall perish, and the ene- mies of the Loyd shall be consumed as the fat of lambs: euen with the smoke shall they consume away.

21 The wicked boweth and payeth not againe: but the righteous is mercifull, and o^{pen} giueth.

22 For such as be blessed of God, shall inhe- rite the laude, and they that be curied of him, shall be cut off.

23 r The pathes of man are directed by the Loyd: for he loneth his way.

24 Though he q fall, he shall not be cast off: for the Loyd putteth vnder his hand.

25 I haue bene pong, and am idle: yet I sawe neuer the righteous forsaken, nor his seede begging bread.

26 But he is euer mercifull and lendeth, and his seede enioyeth the blessing.

27 flee from euill and doe good, and dwell for euer.

28 For the Loyd loneth iudgement, and for- sageth not his Samtes: they shall be pre- serued for euer more: but the seede of the wicked shall be cut off.

29 The righteous men shall inherit the land, and dwell therein for euer.

30 The mouth of a righteous will speake of wisdom, and his tongue will talke of iudgement.

31 For the Lawe of his God is in his heart, and his steppes shall not slide.

32 The wicked watcheth the righteous, and seeketh to slap him.

33 But the Loyde will not leane him in his hande, nor condemne him, when he is iudged.

34 Waite thou on the Loyde, and kepe his way, and he shall traist thee, that thou shalt inherit the land: when the wicked men shall perish, thou shalt see.

35 I haue seene the wicked strong, & spre- ading himselfe like a greene bay tree.

36 Yet he x passed away, and loe, he was gone, and I sought him, but he could not be found.

u For though it be sometime so expedient both for Gods glorie and their saluation, yet he will approue their cause, and reuenge their wrong. x So that the prosperitie of the wicked is but as a cloude, which vanisheth away in a moment.

37 y Sparke the vpright man, and beholde y He exhorteth the iust: for the ende of that man is peace, the faithfull to marke diligently the examples both of Gods mercies, and al- men shall be of the Loyde: hee shall be their strength in the time of trouble.

40 For the Loyd shall helpe them, and de- uer shall deliuer them from the wicked, and shall saue them, because they trust in him.

z He sheweth that the patient hope of the god- ly is neuer in vaine, but in the ende hath good successe, though for a time God proue them by sundry tentations.

PSAL. XXXVIII.

1 David being sicke of some grievous disease, acknow- ledgeth himselfe to be chastised of the Lord for his sinne, and therefore prayeth God to turne away his wrath. 5 Hee uttereth the greatnes of his griefe by many words & circumstance, as wounded with the arrows of Gods ire, forsaken of his friends, & con- treated of his enemies. 23 But in the ende with firme confidence he commendeth his cause to God, and hopeth for speedie helpe at his hand.

1 Psalmine of Dauid for remembrance.

1 O Loyd, rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chastise me in thy wrath.

For thine arrows haue lighted vpon me, and thine hand lieth vpon me.

2 There is nothing sounde in my flesh, be- cause of thine anger: neither is there rest in my bones because of my sinne.

3 For mine iniquities are gone ouer mine head, and as a weighty burden they are too heauie for me.

4 My woundes are putrified, and corrupt because of my foolishnesse.

5 I am bowed, and crooked very sope: I go mourning all the day.

6 For my reines are full of burning, and there is nothing sound in my flesh.

7 I am weakened & sore broken: I sroare for the very griefe of mine heart.

8 My heart is pained: my strength faileth me, and the light of mine eyes, euen they are not mine owne.

9 My louers & my friends stand aside from my plague, and my kinsmen stand a farre off.

10 They also, that seeke after my life, lape snares, and they that goe about to do me euil, talke wicked things and imagine de- ceite continually.

11 But I as a deafe man heare not, and am as a dumme man, which openeth not his mouth.

12 Thus am I as a man, that heareth not, and in whose mouth are no reuerences.

13 For on thee, O Loyd, doe I waite: thou wilt heare me, my Loyd, my God.

14 For I haide, Heare me, least they reioyce vnto God with sure trust for deliuerance.

15 My sight faileth me for very foreuore. I Partly for feare, & partly for pride they denied al duety & friendship. k For I can haue no audience before me, & therefore patiently wait for thy help of God.

1 David uttereth with what great griefe and bitterness of mind he was driuen to these outrageous complaints of his infirmities. 2 For hee confesseth that when he had determined silence, that he brast forth yet into words that he would not, through the greatness of his griefe. 4 Then hee rehearseth certaine requestes which talke of the infirmities of man, 8 And mixeth with them many prayers: but all do shewe a munde wonderfully troubled, that it may plainly appeare howe hee did strive mightily against death and desperation.

A Psalm of David.

I thought, I will take heede to my lapides, I will shun not with my tongue: I will keepe my mouth hidde, while the wicked is in my sight. 2 I was dumme & spake nothing: I kept silence even from good, and my sorrowe was more stirred. 3 Mine heart was hotte within mee, and while I was musing, the fire kindled, and I spake with my tongue, saying, 4 Lord, let me knowe myne end, and the measure of my dayes, what it is: let mee know how long I haue to liue. 5 Behold, thou hast made my dayes as an hand breadth, and mine age as nothing in respect of thee: surely euery man in his best state is altogether vauitie. Selah. 6 Doubtlesse man walketh in a shadowe, and disquieeth himselfe in vaine: he heareth by riches, and cannot tell who shall gather them. 7 And now Lord, what waite I for: mine hope is euen in thee. 8 Deliuere me from all my transgressions, & make me not a rebuke vnto the foolish. 9 I should haue bene dumme, & not haue opened my mouth, because thou didst it. 10 Take the plague aways from me: for I am consumed by stroke of thine hande. 11 When thou with rebukes dost chastise man for iniquitie, thou as a moth hast hest his beautie to consume: surely euery man is vauitie. Selah. 12 Heare my prayer, O Lord, and hearken vnto my crye: keepe not silence at my teares, for I am a stranger with thee, and a sojourner as all my fathers. 13 Stamp thine anger from me, that I may not be recouer my strength, before I go hence and be not. 14 keeth away all that is desired in this worlde. k For his sorowe caused him to thinke that God would destroy him vtterly: where by we see how hard it is for the very Saintes to keepe a measure in their wordes, when death and deipaie assaile them.

P S A L. XL.

1 David deliuered from great danger, doth magnifie and praise the grace of God for his deliuerance, and commendeth his prebendence towards all mankind. 5 Then doth he promise to giue himselfe wholly to Gods seruice, and so declareth how God is truly worshipped. 14 After as he giueth thanks and prayeth a Though God God, & hauing complained of his enemies, with good deferred helpe, yet he patiently abode, till he was heard.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

I waited patiently for the Lord, and he inclined vnto me, and heard my cry. 2 He brought me also out of the horrible pitte, out of the myrie clay, & set my foete vpon the rocke, and ordered my goinge. 3 And he hath put in my mouth: a newe song of praise vnto our God: many shall praise him: for see it and feare, and shall trust in the Lord. 4 Blessed is the man that maketh the Lord his trust, and regardeth not the poynde, nor lieth as turne aslie to lies. 5 O Lord my God, thou hast made thy wonderful works so many, that none can count in order to thee thy thoughtes: to which hee shall ward vs: I would declare, & speake of thee, but they are more than I am able to expresse. 6 Sacrifice and offering thou diddest not desire: (for mine eares hast thou ypeaseth) burnt offering and shure offering hast thou not required. 7 Then said I, Lo, I come: for in the rolle of the booke it is written of me. 8 I desired to do thy good wil, O my God: thy lawe is within mine heart. 9 I haue declared thy righteousness in the great Congregation: for, I will not restraime my lips, O Lord, thou knowest. 10 I haue not hid thy righteousness with in mine heart, but I haue declared thy truth and thy saluation: I haue not in order, concealed thy mercie and thy truth from the great Congregation. 11 With blawes not thou thy tender mercie from me, O Lord: let thy mercy and thy truth alway prelerne me. 12 For innumerable troubles haue compassed me: my times haue taken such holbe vpon me, that I am not able to looke vp: yea, they are more in number than the spiritual service. g When thou haddest opened mine eares and heard, I was ready to obey thee, being assured that I was written in the booke of thine elect for this end. h In the Church assembled in the Sanctuary, I David here nombred three degrees of our saluation: Gods mercy whereby he pitieth vs, his righteousness, which signifieth his coönnal protection, & his truth, whereby he gareth his constant fauour, so I hereof proceedede in our saluation.

a This was one of the chiefe singers, 1.Chro.16. 141. b Albeit he had appointed with himselfe patiently to haue taried Gods leasure, yet the vehemencie of his paine caused him to break his purpose. c Though when the wicked ruled, he thought to haue kept silence, yet his meale cause him to change his minde. d He confesseth that he grudged against God, considering the greatness of his sorowes, and the thourne of his life. e Yet David offended in that that hee reasoued with God, as though that he were too severe towards his weake creature. f Make me not a sucking stock to the euil, or wrappe mee not vp with the wicked, when they are come to shame. g Seeing my troubles came of the providence, I ought to haue endured them patiently. h Though thine open plagues light not euermore vpon them, yet thy secret curse continually fretteth them.

As touching the judgement of the flesh I was utterly desolate of all counsel I yet say in my inward moue mine heart to pray. I desire that Gods mercie may contend for him against the rage of his enemies. m Let the same shame & confusion light vpon them, which they intended to haue brought vpon me. n As the faithfull alwayes praise God for his benefices: so the wicked mocke Gods children in their afflictions.

PSAL. XLII.

David being grievously afflicted, blest them that put him safe, & And complaineth of the treachery of his own friends & familiars, as come to passe in Iudas, Ioh. 13. 18. After hee feeling the grante mercies of God gently chastising him, and not suffering his enemies to triumphe against him, 13 Growth most heartie thanks vnto God.

To him that exalteth. A Psalm of Dauid.

Blessed is he that indgeth wisely of the spoore: the Lord shall deliver him in the time of trouble. The Lord will keepe him, and preserve him alme: he shall be blessed vnto the earth, and thou wilt not deliver him vnto the will of his enemies. The Lord will strengthen him vpon the bed of sorrow: thou hast turned all his bed in his sickness. Therefore I sayd, Lord haue mercy vpon mee: heale my soule, for I haue sinned against thee. Mine enemies speake euill of me, saying, When shall he die, and his name perish? And if hee come to see mee, hee speaketh lies, but his heart heapech iniquitie within him, and when he commeth forth, he telleth it. All they that hate me, whisper together against mee: euen against me do they imagine mine hurt. A mischefe is light vpon him, and he that pereth, shall no more rise. Pray, my familiar friends, whome I trusted, which did eate of my bread, & hath lifted vp the heele against me. Therefore, O Lord, haue mercie vpon me, and raise me up: for I shall reward them. By this I knowe that thou fauourest mee, because mine enemies doeth not trisuntly against me. And as for me, thou byholdest me in mine integritie, and dost set me before thy face for ever.

13 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, because without end. O be it, euen so be it.

By this petition hee sheweth vnto the faithfull to praise God.

PSAL. XLIII.

The Prophet grievously complaineth, that being letted by his persecutors, hee could not be present in the Congregation of Gods people, protesting that although he was separated in bodie from them, yet his heart was thisherward affixed. And last of all he sheweth, that he was not so farre overcome with these sorowes and thoughts, but that he continually put his confidence in the Lord. To him that exalteth. A Psalm to give instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah.

As the hart diapeth for the riuers of which were water, so I panteth my soule after the number of thee, O God.

My soule thirsteth for God, euen for the living God: when shall I come and appeare before the presence of God?

My teares haue bene my meate daye and night, while they dayly say vnto him, Where is thy God?

When I remembered these things, I poynded out my very heart, because I had gone with the multitude, and led them into the house of God with the voice of singing, and psalms, as a multitude that keepeth a feast.

Why art thou cast downe, my soule, and inquierest within me? wait on God: for I will per gine him thanks for the helpe of his presence.

O Lord, my soule is cast downe within me, because I remember thee, from the lande of Jordan, and Hermonim, and from the mount Sizar.

One deepe calleth another deepe by the sorowes of thy waters pourses: all thy waues and thy floods are come ouer me.

The Lord will graunt his louing kinnesse in the daye, and in the night shall I sing of him, euen a psalter vnto the God of my life.

I will say vnto God, which is my rocke, Why hast thou forgotten mee? why grieueth mourning, when the enemies oppresse me?

O Lord, bones are cut asunder, while mine enemies reproach me, saying dayly vnto me, Where is thy God?

Why art thou cast downe, my soule? and why art thou disquieted within me? waite on God: for I will per gine him thanks: he is my present helpe, and my God.

Upon me, that I felt my selfe as overwhelmed: yet there is no end of our miserie, till God bee pacified, and send remedie. He assureth himselfe of Gods helpe in tyme to come. That is, I am most grievously tormented. This repetition doeth declare that Dauid did not overcome at ones to reache vs to bee constant, forasmuch as God will certainly deliuer his.

PSAL. XLIII.

Hee prayeth to be deliuered from them, which despise against him, that he might lawfully praise God in his holy congregation.

3. With the sword be upon thy thigh, O most mightie, to win the worship and the glory, and prosper with the glory: & ride vnder the voyde of strength and of meeknes, and of righteousness: in the right hande shall reache thee terrible things.

4. Thine arrows are sharpe to pearce the heart of the kings enemies: therefore the people shall fall vnder thee.

5. Thy rhisme, O God, is for ever and ever: the scepter of thy kingdom is a scepter of righteousness.

6. Whom thou hast righteousnesse, and hatest wickednesse, because God, even thy God hath appointed thee with people of gladnes above thy fellows.

7. Thy garments smell of myrrour and aloes, and cassia, when thou comest out of the people palaces, & where thy haire is made thee glad.

8. Kings daughters were among thine honorable viues: upon thy right hand did stand the queen in a vestire of golde of Saba.

9. Hearken, O daughter, and consider, and incline thine care: forget also thine own people and thy fathers house.

10. So shall the king haue pleasure in thy beautie: for he is thy Lord, and reverence thou him.

11. Wilt thou O daughter of Saba, with the riches of the people shall do homage before thee with precious.

12. The kings daughter is all glorious within her clothing of hyssop and gold.

13. She shall bee brought vnto the king in rapture of noble worke: the virgins that follow after her, and her companions shall bee brought vnto thee.

14. With ioye and gladnesse shall they bee brought, & shall enter into the kings palace.

15. In stead of thy fathers shall thy children be: thou shalt make them princes through all the earth.

16. I will make thee a name to be remembered through all generations: therefore shall the people give thanks vnto thee with without end.

1. To him that excelleth upon a thousand a strong committer to the corners of Iosiah.

2. God is our hope & strength, and helpe in trouble, ready to be found.

3. Therefore will not we be feare, though the earth be moued, as though the mountains fall into the muddes of the sea.

4. Though the waters thereof rage and be troubled, and the mountains shake at the surges of the same, we shall.

5. Yet there is a river, whose streames shall make glad the citie of God: even the Sanctuary of the Tabernacles of a most high.

6. God is in the mids of it: therefore shall it not be moued: God shall helpe it verp early.

7. When the nations rage, and the kingdome toerke amoues, God shall iudge, and the earth melted.

8. The Lord of hostes is with vs: the God of Iacob is our refuge. Selah.

9. Come, and behold the woorkes of the Lord, & what desolations he hath made in the earth.

10. He maketh warres to cease vnto the endes of the world: he breaketh the bowe and cutteth the spear, and burneth the chariots with fire.

11. We shall and knowe that I am God: I will be exalted among the heathen, and I will be exalted in the earth.

12. The Lord of hostes is with vs: the God of Iacob is our refuge. Selah.

a Which was either a musical instrument or a solene time, vnto the which this Psalm was sung.

b In all manner of troubles God sheweth his speedie mercie and power in defending his.

c That is, we will not be overcome with feare.

d Though the afflictions rage neuer so much, yet the rivers of Gods mercies bring sufficience comfort to his.

e The river of Shiloah, which passed through Ierusalem: meaning, though the defence seeme neuer so small, yet if God haue appointed it, it is sufficient.

PSAL. XLVII.

1. The Prophet extolleth all people to the worship of the true and everlasting God, commending the mercie of God toward the posteritie of Iacob: & after prophesie of the kingdome of Christ in the time of the Gospel.

1. To him that excelleth, & a name committer to the corners of Iosiah.

2. All people, clapp your hands: sing loud vnto God with a ioyfull voyce.

3. For the Lord is high, and exorable: a great king ouer all the earth.

4. He hath subdued the people vnder vs, & the nations vnder our feet.

5. He hath chosen our inheritance for vs: euen the glory of Iacob vpon hee loued.

6. Sing praise to God, sing praises: sing praises vnto our king, sing praises.

7. For God is the king of all the earth: sing praises euery one of halie understanding.

8. God hath chosen vs about all other nations to enjoy a most glorious inheritance. d He doth allude vnto y trumpets that were blown at solenne feastes: but he doeth further signifie the triumph of Christ & his glorious ascension into y heauens.

PSAL. XLVIII.

1 A notable deliuerance of Ierusalem from the hands of many kings is mentioned, for the which thanks are giuen to God, & the state of that citie is praised, that hath God so presently at all times ready to defende them. The Psalm seemeth to be made in the time of Abas, Iosaphat, Asa, or Elzebul: for in these times chiefly was the citie by foreine princes assailed.

2 A song or Psalm committed to the sonnes of Asaph.
3 Great is the Lord, & greatly to be praysed, in the Citie of our God, euen vpon
his holy Mountaine.

4 Mount Zion, lying Southwarde, is faire
in situation: it is the hope of the whole earth, and the citie of the great King.

5 In the palaces thereof God is known for a refuge.

6 For loe, the kings were gathered, and went together.

7 When they saw it, they marvelled: they were affrighted, & suddenly broken backe.

8 Feare came there vpon them, & forsooke
as vpon a woman in trauaile.

9 As with an Eastwinde thou breakest the shapes of Cartailly, so were they destroyed.

10 As we haue heard, so haue we seene in the Citie of the Royde of hostes, in the Citie
of our God: God will stablish it for euer. Selah.

11 We waite for thy loving kindnesse, O
God, in the middes of thy temple.

12 O God, according vnto thy Name, so is thy people vnto thee: thy worldes endes: thy right handes full of righteousnes.

13 Let mount Zion reioyce, & the daughters of Iubah bee glad, because of thy iudgements.

14 Compassion about Zion, and goe round about it, and tell the towres thereof.

15 Marke well the wall thereof: behold her towres, that ye may tell your posteritie.

16 For this God is our God for euer, and eternall: he shall be our guide vnto the death.

PSAL. XLIX.

1 The body of this Psalm is all men to the consideration of many life, 7. Shewing them not to be most blessed,
that are most wealthy, & therefore not to be feared:
but considering if he lifteth up our minds to consider how all things are ruled by Gods providence: 14.
For he as he lighteth these worldly matters in euery thing, 15. So doth he preferre his, & will reward them in the day of his reformation. 2. Th. 1. 6.

To him that exalteth. A Psalm committed to the sonnes of Asaph.

1 Heare a this, all ye people: giue eare,
that ye may dwell in the land.

2 As well lowe as high, both rich and poore.

3 My mouth shall speake of wisdom, and the meditation of mine heart is of knowledge.

4 I will incline mine eare to a parable, and better my graue matter vpon the harpe.

5 Wherefore shoulde I be feare in the end
dayes, when iniquitie shall compass me about, as as mine helles?

6 They trust in their goods, & boast them-
selues in the multitude of their riches.

7 Yet a man can by no means redeeme his brother: hee can not giue his ransom to God.

8 So precious is the redemption of their soules, & the continuance for euer.

9 That he may live still for euer, and not see the grave.

10 For he seeth that wise men die, and also fool that the ignorant and foolish perish, and leane their riches for others.

11 Yet they thinke, their houses, and their habitations shall continue for euer, euen from generation to generation, and call their lands by their names.

12 But man shall not continue in honour:
he is like the beastes that die.

nes: yet their posteritie: I better in this brueth them, and the righteous shall haue domination ouer them in the morrow.

In that time
they shall goe from their house to graue.

15 But God shall deliuer my soule from the power of the graue: for he will re-deeme me. Selah.

16 Be not thou affraid when one is made rich, and when the glorie of his house is increased.

he dieth, neither shall his pompe descend
after him.

PSAL. XLIX.

1 Because the church is alwaye full of hypocrites, &
which doe imagine that God will be worshipped with outwards ceremonies only, without the heart: and especially the Lawes were of this opinion, because of their figures and ceremonies of the Lawe, thinking that their sacrifices were sufficient. 23 Therefore the Prophet doth reprove this gross error, & pronounceth the Name of God to be blasphemy, where holiness is set in ceremonies. 23 For hee declareth the worship of God to be spiritual, whereof are two principall partes, invocation, and thanksgiving.

¶ A Psalm of David.

THE God of gods, even the Lord hath spoken and called the earth from the rising up of the Sunne unto the going downe thereof.

Out of Zion, which is the perfection of beautie, hath God shined.

Our God shall come and shall not keepe silence: a fire shall denoure before him, and a mightie tempest shall bee mooued rounde about him.

He shall call the heauen above, and the earth to iudge his people.

Gather vp Saints together vnto mee, those that make a covenant with mee with a sacrifice.

And the heauens shall declare his righteousness: for God is Iudge himselfe.

Selah.

Hear, O my people, and I will speake: heare, O Israel, and I will testifie vnto thee: for I am God, euen thy God.

I will not reprove thee for thy sacrifices, of thy burnt offerings, that haue not bene continually before mee.

I will take no bullock out of thine house, nor goates out of thy foldes.

For all the beastes of the forest are mine, and beasts on a thousand mountaines.

I knowe all the foules on the mountaines: and the wilde beastes of the wilde are mine.

If I be hungry, I will not tell thee: for the world is mine, and all that therein is.

Will I eat of flesh of bulles: or drinke the blood of goates?

Offer vnto God praise, and paye thy vowes vnto the most High.

And call vpon me in the day of trouble: so will I deliuer thee, and thou shalt glorifie mee.

But vnto the wicked said God, What hast thou to doe to declare mine ordinances, that thou shouldest take my covenant in thy mouth,

Seeing thou hatest to be reformed, and hast cast my wordes behind thee?

For when thou seest a thiefe, thou runnest with him, & thou art partaker with the adulterers.

Thou quench thy mouth to enill, and with thy tongue thou forgettest deceit.

¶ Though man life for the infirmities thereof hath neede of food, yet God, whose life quickeneth all the world, hath no neede of such meanes.

I shewe thy selfe mindefull of Gods benefites by thankesgiuing.

Why dost thou saie to bee of my people, and talkest of my covenant, seeing thou art but an hypocrite?

And to lye according to my word.

He sheweth what are the fruites of them that contemne Gods wordes.

20 Thou sittest, and speakest against thy brother, and slanderest thy mothers sonne.

These things hast thou done, and I held my tongue: therefore thou thoughtest that I was like thee: but I will reprove thee, and set them in order before thee.

Consider this, ye that forget God, lest I teare you in pieces, and there be none that can deliuer you.

Verily offere praise, shall glorifie me: and to him, that disposeth his way aright, will I shewe the saluation of God.

¶ Under the which is contained sayth and imprecation. As God hath appoynted. That is, declare my selfe to be his Saviour.

4 Thus will I magnifie thee all my life, and lift vp mine hands in thy name.

5 My soule shalbe satisfied, as with mas rowe and farnesse, and my mouth shall praise thee with topfull tippees.

6 When I remember thee on my bed, and when I thinke vpon thee in the night watches.

7 Because thou hast bene mine helper, therefore vnder the shadow of thy wings will I reioyce.

8 My soule cleanness vnto thee: for thy right hand vpholdeh me.

9 Therefore thep that seeke my soule to destroy it, thep shall goe into the lowest partes of the earth.

10 Thep shall cast him downe with the edge of the sword, and thep shalbe a posion for forres.

11 But the King shall reioyce in God, and all that sweare by him shall reioyce in take his part, him: for the mouth of them that speake trues, shalbe stopped.

1 Dauid prayeth against the false and false reports of his enemies, 7 He declareth their punishment & destruction, 10 To the comfort of the iust, and the glory of God.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

1 Heare my voyce, O God, in my prayes: My prayer my life from feare of the enemye.

2 Hide mee from the conspiracie of the wicked, and from the rage of the workers of iniquitie.

3 Which haue whet their tongue like a sword, and shot for their arrowes bitter wordes:

4 To shoote at the vpright in secrete: thep shoot at him suddenly, and feare not.

5 Thep encourage themselves in a wicked purpose: thep commune together to laye snares vnylly, and say, Who shall see them?

6 Thep haue sought out iniquities, and haue accomplished that which they sought out, then enter one s his secreet feare of God and the depth of his heart.

7 But God will shoote an arrow at them suddenly: their strokes shalbe at once.

8 Thep shall cause their owne tongue to fall vpon them: and whoformer shall see them, shall see away.

9 And all men shall see it, and declare the voyke of God, and thep shall vnderstand, what he hath wrought.

10 But the righteous shall bee glad in the voyke of God, and trust in him: and all that are vpright of heart, shall reioyce.

hure, which they inuented not for his destruction. h To seee Gods beaue iudgements against them, and howe he hath caught them in their owne snares. i When they shall consider that hee will be fauourable to them, as he was to his seruant Dauid.

e He imputeth it to his finnes, and to the finnes of the people, that God, who was accustomed to afflict them, withdraweth his succour from them. f He sheweth that there is no part nor creature in y^e worlde, which is not go- verned by Gods power and providence. g He sheweth forth of his mercy and of his clemency. h To wit, with raine. i That is, Shi- loah, wher the raine. j Thou halt appointed y^e earth to bring forth foode to mans vie. k By this description he sheweth that all the order of nature is a testimonie of Gods love towards vs, who cause all creatures to serve our necessitie. l That is, the dumme creatures shall not onely reioyce for a time for Gods benefices, but shall continually sing.

PSAL. LXVI.

1 He prometheth all men to prayse the Lord, & to consider his workes. 6 He setteth forth the power of Gods affray the rebels. 10 And sheweth howe God hath deliuered Israel from great bondage and afflictions. 13 He prometheth to giue sacrifice. 16 And prouoketh all men to heare what God hath done for him, and to praise his Name.

To him that excelleth in song, or Psalmie.

Reioyce in God, a all ye inhabitants of the earth.

2 Sing forth the glorie of his Name: make his praise glorious.

3 Say vnto God, Howe terrible art thou in thy workes! though the greatnesse of thy power shall thine enemies be in sub- iection vnto thee.

4 All the world shall worship thee, and sing vnto thee, even King of thy Name. Selah.

5 Come and behold the workes of God: he is terrible in his doing towards the sonnes of men.

6 He hath trenched the Sea into drye lande: they passed through the river on foote: there did we reioyce in him.

7 He ruleth the world with his power: his eyes beholde the nations: the rebellious shall not exalt themselves. Selah.

8 Praise our God, ye people, and make the voyce of his praise to be heard.

9 Which holdeth our soules in life, & suste- neth not our feete to slip.

10 For thou, O God, hast proued vs, thou hast tried vs as silver is tryed.

11 Thou hast brought vs into the snare, and layed a strait chaine vpon our loynes.

12 Thou hast caused men to ride ouer our heads: wee went into fire, and into wa- ter, but thou broughtest vs out into a wialthe place.

13 I will go into thine house with burnt offerings, and will pay thee my bowes.

14 Which my vppes haue promised, & my mouth hath spoken in mine affliction.

15 I will offer vnto thee the burnt offerings of fat rammes with incense: I will pre- pare bullockes and goates. Selah.

16 Come and hearken, all ye that feare God, and I will tell vpon what he hath done to my soule.

17 I called vnto him with my mouth, and he was exalted with my tongue.

18 If I regard wickednes in mine heart, the Lord will not heare me.

19 But God hath heard me, and considered the voyce of my prayer.

20 Pleased be God, which hath not put back my prayer, nor his mercy from me.

of the saythfull is here described, which are neuer vnmindfull so render God prayse for his benefices. i It is not ynough to haue receyued Gods benefices and to bee mindfull thereof, but also we are bound to make others to profite thereby, and prayse God. k If I delite in wickednesse, God will not heare me: but if I con- fesse it, he will receiue me.

PSAL. LXVII.

1 A prayer of the Church to obtaine the fauour of God and to be lightened with his countenance. 2 To the ends that his way and iudgements may bee knowne throughout the earth. 7 And finally is declared the kingdom of God, which should be vniuersally called at the coming of Christ.

To him that excelleth in song, or Psalmie.

God be mercifull vnto vs, and blesse vs. Selah.

2 That the people may knowe thy waie vpon earth, and thy saving health among all nations.

3 Let the people praise thee, O God: let all the people praise thee.

4 Let the people be glad and reioyce: for thou shalt iudge the people righteously, and gouerne the nations vpon the earth. Selah.

5 Let the people praise thee, O God: let all the people praise thee.

6 Then shall the earth bring forth her increase, and giue thanks for the great benefices that they haue receyued vnder the kingdom of Christ. d He sheweth that where God fauoureth, there shall be abundance of all other things.

e He proueth that God will castend his grace also to the Gen- tiles, because he punisheth among them such as will not obey his call- ing. f He signifieth some special be- nefice, that God had shewed to his Church of the Iewes, in de- liuering them from some great danger: wherof or of the like hee prometheth that the Gentiles shall be parta- kers. g The condition of the Church is here described, which is, to be led by gods pro- vidence into trou- bles, to be sub- iect vnder ty- rants, and to en- tice into manifold dangers. h The durcie of our hearts with his holy Spirit, that we may feeble his fauours towards vs. b That both Iewes and Gen- tiles may knowe Gods covenent made with them. c By these oft repetitions he sheweth, I the people can neuer reioyce suffici- ently.

a He prophesi- eth that all nati- ons shall come to the knowledge of God, who then was only know- en in Iudea. b As the faith- full shall obey Gods willingnesse the infidels for feare shall dis- semble them- selves to bee fithfull. c He toucheth the durcie of man, who is colde in the consideration of Gods workes. d His providence is wonderfull in maintaining their estate.

1 The complaints, prayers, seruent zeale & great anguish of Dauid is set forth as a figure of Christ and all his members: 21 The malicious crueltie of the enemies, 22 And their punishment also, 26 VV here Iudas and such traitours are accused, 30 the gaubrets courage in his affliction, & offeth prayes vnto God, 32 VVhich are more acceptable then all sacrifices: wherof all the afflicted may take comfort, 35 Finally her death prouoke all creatures to prayes, prophesying of the kingdom of Christ, and the preservation of the Church, where all the faithful, 37 And their seeds shall dwell for ever.

To him that recelleth vpon a Shothanum. A Psalm of Dauid.

1 Sent me, O God: for the waters are entered euen to my soule.

2 I sticke fast in the deepe mire, where no flap is: I am come into deepe waters, and the streames runne ouer me.

3 I am wearie of crying: my throte is drye: mine eyes faile, whiles I wayte for my God.

4 They that hate me without a cause, are mo then the heares of mine head: they that would bestron me, and are mine enemies: faill, are mightie, so that I restles red that which I tooke not.

5 O God, thou knowest my foolishnesse, and my faults are not hid from thee: let not them that trust in thee, O Lord: God of hostes, bee ashamed for me: let not those that seeke thee, bee confounded through me, O God of Israel.

6 For the sake haue I suffered reproofe: thame hath couered my face.

7 I am become a stranger vnto my bres then, euen an aliant vnto my mothers sonnes.

8 For the zeale of thine house hath eaten me, and the rebukes of them that rebuked thee, are fallen vpon me.

9 I wept and my soule fasted, but that was to my reproofe.

10 I put on a sacke also: and I became a prouerbe vnto them.

11 Then that I fate in the gate, spake of me, and the dauidards sang of me.

12 But Lord, I make my prayer vnto thee: an acceptable time, euen in the multitude of thy mercie: O God, heare me in the truth of thy saluation.

13 Deliver me out of the myre, that I sinke not: let me bee deliuered from them that hate me, and out of the deepe waters.

15 Let not the water flood broune me, neith ther let the deepe swallow me vp: and let not the pit shut her mouth vpon me.

16 Heare me, O Lord, for thy leuing kindness is good: turne vnto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

17 And hide not thy face from thy seruant, for I am in trouble: make haste and heare me.

18 Make no reuerence vnto me, and reuerence it: deliuer me because of mine enemies.

19 Thou hast knowne my reproofe and my shame, and my dishonour: all mine aduersaries are before thee.

20 Rebuke hath broken mine heart, and I am full of heavinesse: & I looked for some to haue pittie on me, but there was none: and for comforters, but I found none.

21 For they gaue me gall in my meate, & in my thirst they gaue me vinegar to drinke.

22 Let their table be a snare before them, and their prosperitie their ruine.

23 Let their eyes be blinded: & they see not: & make their sorowes alway to tremble.

24 Vnto me out thine anger vpon them, & let thy wrathfull displeasure take them.

25 Let their habitation be voyde, and let none dwell in their tents.

26 For they persecute him, whome thou hast smitten: & they adde vnto the sorow of them, whom thou hast wounded.

27 Lay iniquitie vpon their iniquitie, and let them not come into thy righteousness.

28 Let them bee put out of the booke of life, neither let them be written with the righteous.

29 When I am poore and in heavinesse, thine helpe, O God, shall exalt me.

30 I will praise the name of God with a song, & magnifie him with thanksgiving.

31 This also shall please the Lord better then a yong bullocke, that hath homies and hooves.

32 The humble shall see this, and they that seeke God, shall bee glad, and your heart shall liue.

33 For the Lord heareth the poore, and despiseth not his pitiencers.

34 Let heauen and earth praise him: the seas and all that therein are.

35 For God will save Zion, and build the cities of Iudah, & men may dwell there and haue it in possell on.

36 The seede also of his seruants shall inherite it: and they that loue his name, shall dwell therein.

they be of the reprobate. x They which seemed by their profession to haue bene written in thy booke, yet by their fruites proue the contrarie, let them be knowne as reprobate. y There is no sacrifice, which God more esteemeth, then thanksgiving for his benefices. z For as bee deliuered his seruant Dauid, so will hee doe all that are in distresse, and call vpon him. a Vnder the temporall promes of the lande of Canaan, bee comprehendeth the promes of life euertlasting to the faithful and their posteritie.

PSAL. LXX.

1 He prayeth to be right speedily deliuered. 2 He desireth the shame of his enemies. 3 And the iustall comfort of all those that seeke the Lord.

6 Therefore pride is as a chaine vnto them,
and crueltie couereth them as a garment.
7 Their eyes stand out for faulnes: they haue more then heart can with.
8 They are licentious, & speake wickedly of their oppylession: they talke presumptu-ously.
9 They set their mouth against heauen, &
their tongue walketh through the earth.
10 Therefore his people turne further: for waters of a full cup are turning out to the.
11 And they say, How doeth God knowe
it: or is there knowledge in most high?
12 See, these are the wicked, yet prosper
they alway, and increaseth in riches.
13 Certainly I haue cleend mine heart in vaine, and washed mine hands in innocence.
14 For I haue bene punished, and challenged euery morning.
15 If I say, I will iudge thus, behold the generation of the children: I haue trespassed.
16 Then thought I to knowe this, but it was too painefull for me, 17 vntill I went into the Sanctuary of God: then understood I their end.
18 Surely thou hast set them in slipperie places, and castest them downe into desolation.
19 How suddenly are they destroyed, yes-
tified and gloriously consumed, 20 As a draine when one awaketh! I loyde, when thou rapst vs vp, thou shalt make their image despid.
21 Certainly mine heart was vexed, and I was pined in my reines:
22 So foolish was I and ignorant: I was a beast before thee.
23 Yet I was alway: with thee: thou hast holden me by my right hand.
24 Thou wilt guide mee by thy counsell,
and after ward receive me to glorie.
25 Whom haue I in brauen but thee? and I haue desired none in the earth with
thee.
26 My flesh faileth and mine heart also:
but God is the strenght of mine heart, and
my portion for euer.
27 For loe, they that withdrau themselves from thee, shall perish: thou dost troope all them that goe a whoying from thee.

b The wicked in this life liue at pleasure, and are not drawn to death like prisoners: that is, by sicknes, which is death to many.
ger.
c They glorie in their prau. as sione do in their

crueltie, as some
do in apparell.
d They blaspheme God and fear not his power, and rayle
vpon men, because they esleme them-
selues aboue
all others.
e Nor onely the reprobate, but also the people of God oftentimes
fall backe,
seeing the pro-
perous estate of the wicked, and are ouerwhel-
med w sorowes,
thinking God
considereth not aright the state
of the godly.
f Thus the flesh
mooueth euen
the godly to dispute with God
touching their poore estate and the prosperite of
the wicked.
g If I giue place
to this wicked thought, I offend
against thy providence, seeing thou disposdest
all things most wisely, & preferredst
thy children in their greatest dangers. h Vntill I entred into thy scholl and learned by thy worde and holy Spirit, that thou
orderest all things
most wisely & iustly.
i By thy fearefull iud-gement. k When thou openest our eyes to consider thy heauenly
felicitie, we contene
all their vaine pompe.
l For the more
that man goeth about
by his owne reason to seeke out Gods
iudgements, the more doth he declare himselfe a beast. m By faith I was assured that thy prouidence
did watch alwayes
ouer me to preserue
me. n Hee sought neither helpe nor comfort of any
sue of God onely. o
He teacheth vs to
denie our selues,
to haue God our whole sufficiency,
and onely contentment.
p That is, forsake
thee to seeke others.

g Though all
the world thinke
from God, yet
he prometh to trust in him, and to magnifie his workes.

28 As for me, it is good for me to praise
nere to God: therefore I have put my trust in the Lord God, that I may declare all thy workes.

PSAL. LXXXIII.

1 The faithful complaint of the destruction of the Church and true religion, 2 Under the name of Zion, and the Temple destroyed, 3 And trusting in the might and free mercies of God, 20 By his command, 21 They require helpe and succour for the glory of Gods holy Name, for the salvation of his poore afflicted seruantes, 23 And the confusion of his proude enemies.

¶ A Psalm to give instruction, committed to Asaph.

a The Church of God being oppressed by the tyrannie either of the Babylonians,
or of Antiochus,
prayeth to God by whose hand this yoke
was layde vpon
them for their sinsnes.

b Which inheritance thou hast measured out for thy selfe as with
a line or rod,
Or, fide.

c They haue destroyed thy true
religion, & spred
their banners in
signe of defiance.
d He commen-
deth y Temple
for the costly
matter, the excellent worke-manship & beau-
tief therof, which notwithstanding
the enemies did destroy.

e They encouraged one another to crueltye, that not onely Gods
people might be destroyed, but also his religion
viterly in all places suppressed.
f They lament
that they haue
no Prophet among them to shewe them how long their miserie shoulde endure. g They ioyne their deliue-rance with Gods glorie and power, knowing that the punishment of the enemye should be their deliuerance. h Meaning, in the sight of all the worlde. i To wit, Pharaohs armie. k Which was a great moaster of the sea, or whale, meaning Pharaoh. l His destruction did reioyce them as meate refresheth the body. m Seeing that God by his prouidence gouerneth and disposeth all things, he gathereth that he will take care chiefly for his children,

1 O God, why hast thou put vs away for euer? why is thy wrath kindled as gainst the shepe of thy pasture?

2 Thinke vpon thy Congregation, which thou hast possessed of old, and on the b of
of thine inheritance, which thou hast redeemed, & on this mount Zion, wherem thou hast dwelt.

3 Lift vp thy strokes, that thou mayest foreuer destroy euery enemye that doth enill to the Sanctuarye.

4 Thine aduersaries roare in the middes of thy Congregation, and c set by their banners for signes.

5 Hee that d lifted the axes vpon the thicke trees, was renowned, as one, h brought a thing to perfection:

6 But now they brake downe the carued
woike thereof with axes and hammers.

7 They haue cast thy Sanctuarye into the fire, and raised it to the ground, and haue defiled the dwelling place of thy Name.

8 They saide in their heartes, let vs destroy them altogether: they haue burnt
all the Synagogues of God in the land.

9 We saw not our signes: there is not one I prophete more, nor any with vs that knoweth how long.

10 O God, howe long shall the aduersarie
reproche thee? shall the enemye blaspheme thy Name for euer?

11 Why withdrauest thou thine hande, e nen thy right hande? drawe it out of thy bosome, and g consume them.

12 Euen God is my king of olde, working saluation h in the middes of the earth.

13 Thou didst breinde the sea by thy power: thou brakest h heads of the dragons
in the waters.

14 Thou brakest the head of i Iamathan in pieces, and gauest him to be i meate for the people in wildernesses.

15 Thou brakest vp the fountaine and ri-uer: thou breidest vp mightie riuers.

16 The m day is thine, & the night is thine:
thou hast prepared the light & the sunne.

17 Thou hast set all the borders of e earth:
thou hast made sommer and winter.

18 Remember this, that the enemye hath reproched the Lord, and the foolish people hath blasphemed thy Name.

19 Gine not the soule of thy o turtle dove
vnto the beast, and forget not the Congregation of thy poore f i euer.

20 Consider thy covenant: for o the darke places of the earth are full of the habitations of the cruell.

21 Oh let not the oppressed returne ashamed, but let the poore and needie praise thy Name.

22 Arise, O God: maintaine thine v olue cause: remember thy dayly reproche vpon
the foolish man.

23 Forget not the voyce of thine enemies:
for the iunill of them, that rise against thee, ascendeth continually.

PSAL. LXXV.

1 The faithful doe praise the name of the Lord, a VVhich shall come to iudge at the time appointed,
2 VVhen the wicked shall be put to confusion, and drinke of the cuppe of his wrath. 10 Their pride shall be abated, and the righteous shall be exalted to honour.

¶ To him that excelleth. a Destroy not.
A Psalm or song committed to Asaph.

1 We will praise thee, O God, we will praise thee, for thy Name is nere:
therefore b thy will declare thy wonderous workes.

2 When I shall take a convenient time,
I will iudge righteously.

3 The earth and all the inhabitants thereof are dissolued: but I will establish the pillers d of it. Selah.

4 I said vnto the foolish. Be not so foolish, and to the wicked, lift not vp the hyne.

5 Lift not up your o home on high, neither speake with a stiffe necke.

6 For to come to prefermet is neither from the East, nor from the West, nor from the South.

7 But God is the iudge: he maketh love
and he maketh hie.

8 For in the hand of the Lord is a cup, and the wine is red: it is full must, & he powereth out of the same: surety all the wicked of the earth shal wyng out and dyne the dregges thereof.

9 But I will declare for ener, & sing prays-es vnto the God of Iacob.

10 All the homes of the wicked also will I breake: but the hoynes of the i righteous shal be exalted.

gainst Gods people, seeing that God at his time destroyeth them that rule wickedly. f Gods wrath is compared to a cuppe of strong and delicate wine, wherewith the wicked are made drunke, that by drinking all they come to the very dregges, they are viterly destroyed. g The godly shall better prosper by their innocent simplicitie, then the wicked shall by all their craft and subtiltie.

in the day of battell.

10 They kept not the covenant of God, but refused to walke in his law,

11 And forgate his statutes, & his wonderfull
workes that he had shewed them.

12 He did maruelous thinges in the sight of their fathers in the lande of Egypt:
euen in the field of Zoan.

13 He deuided the sea, & led them through:
he made also the waters to stande as an heap.

a cloude, and all the night with a light of fire.

15 He clane the rockes in the wilderness, &
gaue them drinke as of the great deepes.

16 He brought fountaines also out of the stony rocke, so that he made the waters to descend like the riuers.

17 Yet they sinned still against him, and provoked the Highest in the wilderness, 18 And tempted God in their heartes in requiring meate for their lust.

19 They spake against God also, saying,
Can God prepare a table in the wil-dernes?

20 As holbe, he smote the rocke, that the water gusheth out, and the steames as ne flowed: can he giue bread also? or prepare flesh for his people?

21 Therefore the Lord heard and was angry, & the fire was kindled in Isaacob,
and also wrath came vpon Israel.

22 Because they beleieued not in God, and trusted not in his helpe.

23 Yet he had commanded the cloudes as bone, & had opened the drooes of heauen,

24 And had rained downe man vpon them for to eate, and had giuen them of the wheate of heauen.

25 When hee ate the bread of Angels: hee
sent them meate enough.

26 He caused the Eastwinde to passe in the heauen, and through his power hee brought in the Southwinde.

27 He rained flesh also vpon them as dust,
& feathered fowle as the sand of the sea.

28 And hee made it fall in the middes of their campe, euen round about their habitations.

29 So they did eate and were well filled:
for he gaue them their desire.

30 They were not turned from their lust,
but the meate was per in their mouthes,

31 When the wrath of God came euen vpon them, & flew the strongest of them, and smote downe the chosen men in Israel.

32 For all this, they sinned still, and be-leued not his wonderous workes.

33 Therefore their dapes did hee consume
in banitic, and their peris halship.

34 And when he flew them, they fought him and they returned, and fought God earnestly.

35 And they remembered that God was their strength, and the most high God their redeemer.

36 But they flattered him with their mouth, and dissembled with him with their tongue.

37 For their heart was not bright with him: neyther were they faithfull in his covenant.

38 Yet hee being mercifull forgave their iniquitie, and despitied them not, but oft times called backe his anger, and did not stirre vp all his wrath.

39 For hee remembered that they were flesh:
yea, a vaine that passeth and commeth
not againe.

40 How oft did they provoke him in the wildernes: & grieue him in the desert?

41 Pea, they returned, and tempted God,
and limited the Holp one of Israel.

42 They remembered not his haire, nor the day when he deliuered them from the enemie.

43 Nor him that set his signes in Egypt,
his wonders in the field of Zoan,

44 And turned their riuers into blood, and their floods that they could not drinke.

45 He sent a swarme of flies among them, which deuoured them, and frogs, which despoiled them.

46 He gaue also their fruites vnto the caterpiller, & their labour vnto the graile hopper.

47 He despoiled their vines with hable, &
their wild figgetrees with the hailestone.

48 He gaue their cattel also to the hable, &
their flockes to the thunderboltes.

49 He cast vpon them the fiercenesse of his anger, indignation and wrath, & verration by the sending out of small Angels.

50 He made a wap to his anger: he spared neither.

55 • He cast out the heathen also before them, and caused them to fall to the lor of his into dwell in their tabernacles.

mitie and oppression that they suffered by Gods enemies, 8 And confesseing their sinnes, 10 • Because their calamities were ioynd with the contempt of his Name, 13 For the which they promise to be ¶ A Psalm committed to Asaph.

1 O God, the heathen are come into thine inheritance: thine holy Temple haue they desied, and made Jerusalem heapes of stones.

2 The dead bodies of thy seruants haue they giuen to be meat vnto foules of the heauen: and the flesh of thy Sauntes vnto
the beasts of the earth.

3 Their blood haue they shed like waters round about Ierusalem, and there was 4 We are a reproche to our • neighbours, euen a scoine and derision vnto them that are round about vs.

5 Lord, how long wilt thou be angry, for euer: shall thy ielsonie • burne like fire?

6 • Polme out thy wrath vpon the heathen that haue not knowen thee, and vpon the kingdomes that haue not called vpon thy Name.

7 For they haue deuoured Zaakob and made his dwelling place desolate.

8 Remember not against vs the • former iniquities, but s make hast and let thy tender mercies preuent vs: for we are in great miserie.

9 Helpe vs, O God of our saluation, for the glory of thy Name, and deliuer vs,
and be mercifull vnto our sinnes for thy Names sake.

10 Wherefore shoulde the heathen saie,
Where is thy God? let them be knowne among the heathen in our sight by the vengeance of the blood of thy seruants that is shed.

11 Let the sighing of the • prisoners come before thee: according to thy mightie
arme presterie the children of death.

12 And tender to our neighbours four fold
into their dosome their reproche, wheres with they haue reproched thee. O Lord.

13 So we thy people, and shepe of thy pasture shall praise thee for euer: and from generation to generation: we will set forth thy praise.

14 And say not till we haue recompensed for our sinnes, b Seeing we haue none other Sauour, neither can we helpe our selues, and also by our saluation thy Name shall be praised, therefore, O Lorde, helpe vs. i Who though in respect of God they were iustly punished for their sinnes, yet in consideration of their cause, were vniuily murdered. k Which were captiues among their enemies, and could looke for nothing but death. l We ought

a This Psalme was made as a prayer for to desire God to be mercifull to the ten tribes.

b Thou house their hearts that they may returne to worship God aright: that is, in the place where thou hast appointed.

c Loyne they whole people & all thy tribes together againe.

d The faithfull feare Gods anger, when they perceiue y their prayers are not forthwith heard.

e Our neighbours continuall strife and warre against vs. f Because that repentance only commeth of God, they most instantly and oft times call to God for as a meane, whereby they shalbe freed.

g Seeing that of thy mercy thou hast made vs a most deare possession to thee, & we through our finnes are made open for wilde beasts to declare agayne thy loue, and finish the worke that thou hast begonne.

h Eb. Cedars of God

1 Care, & thou Shepherd of Israel, thou that leadest Joseph like sheepe: shewe thy brightness, thou that livest betwene the Cherubims.

2 Before Ephraim and Benjamin & Manasse shew thy strength, and come to helpe vs.

3 Turne vs againe, O God, & cause thy face to shine, that we may be saved.

4 O Loyde God of hostes, how long wilt thou be angry against the prayer of thy people?

5 Thou hast fedde them with the bread of teares, and given them teares to drinke with great measure.

6 Thou hast made vs a strife vnto our neighbours, and our enemies laugh at vs among themselves.

7 Turne vs againe, O God of hostes: cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

8 Thou hast bought a vine out of Egypt: thou hast cast out the heathen, and planted it.

9 Thou hast made rowme for it, and biddest cause it to take roote, and it filled the land.

10 The shadowes were covered with the shadowe of it, and the boughes thereof were like the goodly cedars.

11 She streched out her branches vnto the Sea, and her boughes vnto the River.

12 Why hast thou then broken downe her hedges, so that all they, which passe by the way, haue plucked her?

13 The wilde bores out of the woode hath destroyed it, and the wilde beastes of the field haue eaten it up.

14 Kerne we beseeche thee, O God of hostes: looke downe from heauen and beholde and visite this vine.

15 And the vinegarde, that thy right hand hath planted, and the pong vine, which thou hast made strong for thy selfe.

16 It is burnt with fire and cut downe: and they perish at the rebuke of thy countenance.

17 Let thine hand be vpon the right hand, & vpon the foine of man, whom thou hast made strong for thine owne selfe.

18 So will not we goe backe from thee: we reuise thou vs, and we shall call vpon thy name.

19 Turne vs againe, O Loyde God of hostes: cause thy face to shine & we shalbe saved.

20 An exhortation to praise God both in heart & voyce for his benefits, & to worship him only. 11 God sheweth their ingratitude, 12 And sheweth what great benefits they haue left through their own malice.

21 To him that exalteth vpon Sittith. A Psalme committed to Asaph.

1 Singe joyfully vnto God our strength: singe loude vnto the God of Iacob.

2 Take the long and bring forth the tabret, the pleasant harpe with the viose.

3 Blow the trumpet in the new moon, & in the full moon appointed, at our feast day.

4 For this is a statute for Israel, and a law for the God of Iacob.

5 He set this in Joseph for a testimonie, when he came out of the lande of Egypt where I heard a language, that I vnderstande not.

6 I haue withdrawen his shoulder from burden, & his hands haue left the pots.

7 Thou calledst in affliction and I drunke the cup, and answered thee in the secret of the timber: I proued thee at the waters of Meribah, Selah.

8 I heare, O my people, and I will protest vnto thee, O Israel, if thou wilt hearken vnto me.

9 And wilt thou haue no strange god in thee, neither worship any strange god,

10 For I am the Loyde thy God, which brought thee out of the lande of Egypt: open thy mouth wide and I will fill it.

11 But my people would not heare my voyce, and Israel would none of me.

12 So I gaue them vp vnto the hardnesse of their owne heart, and they haue walked in their owne counsels.

13 Why my people had hearkened vnto me, and Israel had walked in my wayes:

14 I would soone haue humbled their enemies, & turned mine hand against their aduersaries.

15 The haters of the Loyd should haue bene subiect vnto him, and their iune should haue endured for euer.

16 And God would haue fed them with the fatte of wheate, and with honie out of the rocke would I haue sufficed thee.

17 Or, contention, Exod. 17. 7. h He contendeth with all assemblies, where the people are not attentive to heare Gods voyce, & to his obedience to the same. i God accuseth their incredulitie, because they opened not their mouthes to receive Gods benefits in such abundance as he powreth them out. k God by his word calleth all, but his secret elects appointeth who shal heare & fruit. l If their finnes had not letted, m If the Israelites had not broken covenants with God, he would haue giue them victorie against their enemies.

9 Thou Psalme committed to Asaph.

10 God standeth in the assembly of gods: the iudger among gods.

11 How long wilt thou iudge vniustly, & as receiue the persons of the wicked? Selah.

12 Doe right to the poore and fatherlesse: doe iustice to the poore and needy.

13 Deliuer the poore and needy, cause them to rise from the hand of the wicked.

14 They know not, & vnderstand nothing: the cause of the godly cannot be heard.

c Not only when they cry for helpe, but when their cause requireth ayde and support.

h It seemeth that Asaph was appointed for iudgement feasts and assemblies of the people, to whom at that time there ceremonies were ordeined, but now vnder the Gospel are abolished.

PSAL. LXXXIII.

The people of Israel pray vnto the Lord to deliver them from their enemies both at home and abroad, which imagining nothing but their destruction. And they desire that all such wicked people may, according as God was accustomed, be stricken with the flames of his wrath. That they may knowe that the Lord is most high upon the earth.

A song, or Psalm committed to Asaph.

KEepe not thou silence, O God: be not still, and cease not, O God. For loe, thine enemies make a tumult: and they that hate thee, haue lifted vp the head. They haue taken craftie counsel against thy people, and haue conspired against thy secret ones. They haue sayde, Contrie and let vs cutt them off from being a nation: and let the name of Israel bee no more in remembrance. For they haue consulted together in heart, and haue made a league against thee: The Tabernacles of Edom, & the Ishmaelites, Moab and the Agarim: Gebal and Ammon, and Amalech, the Philistines with the inhabitants of Cyprus: Ashur also is ioynd with them: they haue bene an arme to the children of Lot. Selah. Doe thou to them as vnto the Midianites: as to Sissera and as to Habin at the river of Euphrat. They perished at En-doj, and were dung for the earth. Spake them, euen their princes like Rebekah and like Zeeb: yea, all their princes like Rebekah and like Zalmunna. Which haue sayde, Let vs take for our possession the habitations of God. O up God, make them like vnto a where, and as the stubble besoye the wind. As the fire burneth in foyest, and as the flame setteth the mountaynes on fire: So persecute them with thy tempest, & make them asfrape with thy storme. Fill their faces with thaine, that they provoked these other nations to fight against the Israelites their brethren. PSAL. LXXXV.

Because God withdrew not his reddin from his Church, after their vtterance from Babylon, first they put him in minde of their dilatorance, to this in tend at he should not loose the works of his grace vnto them. Next they complain of their long exile.

affliction: 8 And thirdly they reioyce in hope of felicitie promised. 9 For their deliuerance was a figure of Christes kingdom, vnder the which should be perfect felicitie.

To him that excellently: 11 Psalm committed to the sonnes of Iosab.

a They confesse that Gods free mercie was the cause of their deliuerance, because he loued the land which he had chosen. b Thou hast buried them that they shall not come into judgement. c Not onely in withdrawing thy rod, but in forgiving our sinnes, and in touching our hearts to confesse them. d As in times past they had felt Gods mercies: In now being oppressed by the long continuance of euils, they pray vnto God, that according to his nature he would be mercifull vnto them. e He confesseth that our saluation cometh onely of Gods mercie. f He will send all prosperitie to his Church, when he hath sufficiently corrected them. Also by his punishments the faithfull shall learne to beware that they returne not to like offences. g Though for a time God thus exercise them with his rods, yet vnder the kingdom of Christ they shoulde haue peace and ioye. h Iustice shall then flourish and haue free course and passage in euery place.

P S A L. LXXXVI.

1 David sore afflicted and forsaken of all, prayeth for deliuerance: sometimes rehearsing his miseries, 5 Sometimes the mercies received, 11 Desiring also to be inuolued of the Lords, that hee may see him and glorifie his Name. 14 He commendeth also of his aduersaries, and requesteth to be deliuered from them.

A Prayer of David.

a David persecuted of Saul, thus prayed, leaving the same to the Church as a monument, how to seek redresse against their miseries. b I am not enemie to them, but pitee them, though they be cruell toward me. c Which was a sure token that he beleued that God would deliuer him. d He doth confesse that God is good to all, but only mercifull to poore sinners.

1 Decline: thine ear, O Ioyde, and heare me: for I am poore and needie. 2 Preferne thou my soule, for I am mercifull: my God, saue thou thy seruant, that trusteth in thee. 3 Be mercifull vnto mee, O Ioyde: for I cry vpon thee continually. 4 Reioyce the soule of thy seruant: for vnto thee, O Ioyde, doe I lift vp my soule. 5 For thou, Ioyde, art good and mercifull, though they be cruell toward me. c Which was a sure token that he beleued that God would deliuer him. d He doth confesse that God is good to all, but only mercifull to poore sinners.

and of great kindnes vnto all them, that call vpon thee.

6 Give care, Ioyde, vnto my prayer, and hearken to the voyce of my supplication. 7 In the day of my trouble I will call vpon thee: for thou hast heard me. 8 Amongst the gods there is none like thee, O Ioyde, and there is none that can doe like thy workes. 9 All nations, whome thou hast made, shall come and worship before thee, O Ioyde, and shall glorifie thy Name. 10 For thou art great and doest wondrous things: thou art God alone. 11 Teach me thy way, O Ioyde, and I will walke in thy truth: knit mine heart vnto thee, that I may feare thy Name. 12 I will praise thee, O Ioyde my God, with all mine heart: yea, I will glorifie thy Name for ever. 13 For great is thy mercie toward me, and thou hast deliuered my soule from the lowest graue. 14 O God, the yfonde are risen against me, and the assemblies of violent men haue fought my soule, and haue not let thee before them. 15 But thou, O Ioyde, art a pitiful God and mercifull, slow to anger and great in kindnes and truth. 16 Turne vnto me, and haue mercie vpon mee: giue thy strength vnto thy seruant, and saue the soule of thine handmaide. 17 Shew a token of thy goodnesse toward me, that they which hate mee, may see it, and bee ashamed, because thou, O Ioyde, hast holpen me and comforted me.

P S A L. LXXXVII.

1 The holy Ghost promitteth that the condition of the Church, which was in miserie after the captiuitie of Babylon, should be restored to great excellencie, 4 So that there should be nothing more comfortable, then to be numbered among the members thereof.

A Psalm or Song committed to the sonnes of Iosab.

1 God layed his foundations among the high mountains. 2 The Lord loveth the gates of Iosab: the hills to the aboute all the habitations of Iacob. 3 Glorious things are spoken of thee, O God, in Iosab. 4 I will make mention of Iacob & Ioseph glorious euent betwixt them that knowe me: betweene do not yett ap- phalestina and Tyris with Ethiopia, peare, yett with patientia, and God will accom- pish his promes. e That is, Egypt and these other countreys shall come to the knowledge of God. d Iacob sayd of him, that is regenerate and come to the Church, this is as one that was borne in the Church.

e Out of quarters they shall come into the Church, and be counted as citizens. 7 When he calleth by his word the into the Church, whom he had elected and written in his booke. g The Prophet fetcheth his whole affections and comfort in the Church.

P S A L LXXXVIII.

1 A grievous complaint of the faithfull, sore afflicted by sickness, persecutions and adversities. 7 Being as it were left of God without any consolation: 13 Yet hee calleth on God by faith and strength against desperation. 18 Complaining himselfe to be forsaken of all earthly helpe.

2 A song or psalme of Heman the Ezrahite to give instruction, committed to the sones of Iosaphat for him that excellently vpon Salath & Leannoth.

1 O Lord God of my saluation, I crye day and night before thee.

2 Let my prayer enter into thy presence: incline thine eare vnto my cry.

3 For my soule is filled with enuie, and my life draweth nere to the graue.

4 I am counted among them that goe downe vnto the pitte, and am as a man without strength:

5 Free among the dead, like the slayne lying in the graue, whome thou rememberest no more, and they are cut off from thine hand.

6 Thou hast layed me in the lowest pit, in darkness, and in the deepe.

7 Thine indignation bereth vpon mee, and thou hast bered me with all thy waues.

8 Thou hast put alwaye mine acquaintance farre from me, and made mee to be abhorred of them: 9 I am shut vp, and can not get forth.

10 Mine eye is sorrowfull through mine affliction: Lord, I call daily vpon thee: I stretch out mine hands vnto thee.

11 Wilt thou shewe a miracle to the dead? or shall the dead rise & praise thee?

12 Shall thy loving kindeesse bee declared in the graue? or thy faithfullnesse in destruction?

13 Shall thy wondrous workes bee knowne in the darker? and thy righteousness in the land of obliuion?

14 But vnto thee haue I cryed, O Lord, & earlie shall my prayer come before thee.

15 For thou dost thou reiect my soule, and hidest thy face from me?

16 I am afflicted and at the point of death: from my pouth I suffer thy terrors, whereby he partly punisheth and partly trieth his.

g I see none end of my sorowes. h Mine eyes & face declare my sorowes. i He sheweth that the time is more conuenient for God to helpe, when men call vnto him in their dangers, then to tarie till they be dead and then raise them vp againe.

k That is, in the graue, where onely the body lieth without all sense and remembrance. l I am neuer in great dangers and sorowes, as though my life should vtterly be cut off euery moment.

doubting of my life.

16 Thine indignations goe ouer mee, and thy feare hath cut me off.

17 They came round about me daily like water, and compassed me together.

18 My louers and friends haue put away from mee, and mine acquaintance hid themselves.

"Ely. v. 11. in darknesse."

P S A L LXXXIX.

1 With many wordes doeth the Prophet praise the goodness of God. 23 For his testament and covenant, that he had made betwixt him and his elect by Iesus Christ the sone of David: 38 Then doeth hee complain of the great vniuers, and desolation of the kingdom of David, so that to the outward appearance the promise was broken. 46 Finally he prayeth to be deliuered from his afflictions, making mention of the shortnes of mans life, and confirming himselfe by Gods promises.

2 A psalme to give instruction, of Ethan the Ezrahite.

1 I will sing the mercies of the Lord for ever: with my mouth will I declare thy truth from generation to generation.

2 For I have said, Mercie shall be set by for ever: thy truth shall thou stablish in the deep heauens.

3 I haue made a covenant with my chosen: I haue sowne to David my servant,

4 Thy seede will I stablish for ever, and set them by thy throne from generation to generation. Selah.

5 O Lord, euen the heauens shall praise thy wondrous workes: pra, thy truth in the congregation of the Saints.

6 For who is equal to the Lord in the heauens? and who is like the Lord among the sones of the gods?

7 God is very terrible in the assembly of the Saints, and to be reuerenced aboue all, that are about him.

8 O Lord God of hosts, who is like vnto thee, which are a mightie Lord, and thy truth is about thee?

9 Thou rulest the raging of the sea: when the waues thereof arise, thou stillest them.

10 Thou hast braten downe Rahab as a man slaine: thou hast scattered thine enemies with thy mightie arme.

11 The heauens are thine, the earth also is thine: thou hast layed the foundation of the world, and all that therein is.

12 Thou hast created the North and the South: 13 Taboz and Yernon shall reioyce in thy name.

14 Thou hast a mightie arme: strong is thine hand, and high is thy right hand.

15 Righteousnesse and equitie are thy statutes. 16 If the Angels tremble before Gods maiestie and infinite iustice, what earthly creature by oppressing the Church dare for himselfe against God?

17 For as he deliuered the Church by the red Sea, and by destroying Rahab, that is, the Egyptians who will be euenso deliuer it, when the danger be great. k Taboz is a mountaine Westward from Ierusalem, & Hermon Eastward: so the Prophet significth that all partes and places of the world shall obey Gods power for the deliuerance of his Church.

18 For hereby he iudgeth the world, and sheweth himselfe a mercifull Father and faithfull protectour vnto his.

P S A L. XCII.

1 This Psalm was made to bee sung on the Sabbath, to stirre up the people to acknowledge God, and to praise him in his workes: the Prophet reioyceth therein. 6 But the wicked is not able to consider that the vngodly, when he is most flourishing, shall most speedily perish. 12 In the ende is described the felicity of the saint, planted in the house of God to praise the Lords.

A Psalm or song for the Sabbath day.

1 It is a good thing to praise the Lord, and to sing vnto thy Name, O most High.
 2 To declare thy louing kindenesse in the morning, and thy truth in the night.
 3 Vpon an instrument of tenne strings, and vpon the viol, with the song vpon the harpe.
 4 For thou, O Lord, hast made mee glad by thy workes, and I will reioyce in the workes of thine handes.
 5 O Lord, howe glorious are thy workes! and thy thoughts are very deepe.
 6 Men vntill man knoweth it not, and a foole doth not vnderstand this.
 7 When the wicked growe as the grasse, and all the workers of wickednesse doe flourish: that they shall be destroyed for ever.
 8 But thou, O Lord, art most high for evermore.
 9 For loe, thine enemies, O Lord: for loe, thine enemies shall perish: all the workers of iniquitie shall be destroyed.
 e That is, the wicked consider not Gods workes, nor his iudgements against them, & therefore most iustly perish. f Thy iudgements are most constant against the wicked, and passe ouer their heads.

a Which teacheth that the use of Sabbath standeth in praising God, & not onely in ceasing from worke.
 b For Gods mercie and fidelitie in his promises toward his, bind them to praise him continually both day and night.
 c These instruments were them permitted, but at Christs coming abolished. d He sheweth what is the use of the Sabbath day: to wit, to meditate Gods workes.

PSAL. XCIII.

1 He prayeth vnto God againſt the violence and arrogancie of tyrants. 10 Warning them of Gods iudgements. 12 Then doeth hee comfort the afflicted by the good iſſue of their ſuccions, as hee ſelt in himſelfe, and diſſee in others, and by the ruine of the wicked. 23 Vpon whom the Lord will deſtroy.

O Loyde God the auenger, & God the auenger, ſhew thy ſelfe clearly. 2 Exalt thy ſelfe, & Iudge of the world, & render a rewarde to the pious. 3 Loyde, howe long ſhall the wicked, howe long ſhall the wicked triumph? 4 They ſpate and ſpake ſkerely: all the workers of iniquitie damne themſelues. 5 They ſmite downe thy people, & Loyde, and trouble thine heritage. 6 They ſlap the widowe and the ſtranger, and ſmutter the fatherleſſe. 7 Yet they ſay, The Loyde ſhall not ſee: neither will the God of Iacob regard it. 8 Underſtand ye vniuſe among the people: and ye ſouldes, when will ye be wiſe?

9 Hee that planted the care, ſhall hee not heare? or he that ſowne the ſeede, ſhall hee not ſee? 10 Hee that chaſtiſeth the nations, ſhall hee not correct? hee that teacheth man knowledge, ſhall hee not knowe? 11 The Loyde knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanitie. 12 Bleſſed is the man, whome thou chaſtiſeſt, & Loyde, and teachest him in thy Lawe. 13 That thou maieſt giue him reſt from the dapes of euill, whiles the pit is digged for the wicked. 14 Surely the Loyde will not faile his people, neither will hee ſoake his inheritance. 15 For iudgement ſhall returne to iuſtice, and all the vpyght in heart ſhall followe after it. 16 Who will riſe vp with mee againſt the wicked? or who will take my part againſt the workers of iniquitie? 17 If the Loyde had not holpen mee, my ſoule had almoſt dwelt in ſilence. 18 When I ſayde, I ſpote ſpeth, thy mercie, & Loyde, ſhaped me. 19 In the multitude of my thoughts in mine heart, thy comfortes haue reioiced my ſoule. 20 Hath the throne of iniquitie fellowes? ſhip with thee, which ſorgeth wrong for a Lawe? 21 They gather them together againſt the ſoule of the righteous, and condemne the innocent blood. 22 But the Loyde is my refuge, & my God would not ſake the rocke of mine hope. 23 And hee will recompence them their thoughten wickedneſſe, and deſtroy them in their owne malice: yea, the Loyde our God ſhall deſtroy them.

I neuer founde thy preſent helpe. n Though the wicked might pretend iuſtice in oppreſſing the Church, yet they haue not that authoritie of God. o It is a great token of Gods iudgement, when the purpoſe of the wicked is broken, but moſt, when they are deſtroyed in their owne malice.

PSAL. XCV.

1 An earnest exhortation to praſſe God, & forthe gouernement of the worlde, and the diſſenſe of the Church. 8 An admonition not to followe there: bill on of the olde fathers, that tempted God in the wilderneſſe. 11 For the which they might not enter into the land of promiſe.

Come, let vs reioyce vnto the Loyde: let vs ſing a loude vnto the rocke of our ſaluation. 2 Let vs come before his face with praife: let vs ſing loud vnto him with ſalmes. 3 For the Loyde is a great God, and a great King aboue all gods. 4 In whoſe hande are the deepe places of the earth, and the brights of the mountaynes are his: 5 To whom y Sea becometh long: for hee made it, and his hands ſhaped the dye lande. 6 Come, let vs worſhip and fall downe, gouerned by his providence. d By theſe three words he ſignifieth one thing: ſaying, y they muſt wholly giue theſſes to ſerue God.

f He ſheweth that it is impoſſible but God ſhould heare, ſee, & knowe the thoughts of his wickednes. g If God ſhould knowe the thoughts of their finnes, it is meeke ſay for any one man or els a fewe to thinke that God will ſpare them. h God hath care ouer his church, & chaſtiſeth them for their wickednes, that they ſhould not periſh for euill with y wicked. i God will reſtore the ſtare and gouernement of things to their right vie, & doe the goodly thing cheerfully. k He completh neth of theſe, which would ſe help him to reſiſt the enemies ſoule of the righteous, yet was aſſured that God hee would not ſake. l When I was in my trouble and diſſenſe, hee ſhould heare, ſee, & knowe the thoughts of his wickednes. m In my trouble and diſſenſe, hee ſhould heare, ſee, & knowe the thoughts of his wickednes. n Though the wicked might pretend iuſtice in oppreſſing the Church, yet they haue not that authoritie of God. o It is a great token of Gods iudgement, when the purpoſe of the wicked is broken, but moſt, when they are deſtroyed in their owne malice. p He ſheweth that it is impoſſible but God ſhould heare, ſee, & knowe the thoughts of his wickednes. q If God ſhould knowe the thoughts of their finnes, it is meeke ſay for any one man or els a fewe to thinke that God will ſpare them. r God hath care ouer his church, & chaſtiſeth them for their wickednes, that they ſhould not periſh for euill with y wicked. s God will reſtore the ſtare and gouernement of things to their right vie, & doe the goodly thing cheerfully. t He completh neth of theſe, which would ſe help him to reſiſt the enemies ſoule of the righteous, yet was aſſured that God hee would not ſake. u When I was in my trouble and diſſenſe, hee ſhould heare, ſee, & knowe the thoughts of his wickednes. v In my trouble and diſſenſe, hee ſhould heare, ſee, & knowe the thoughts of his wickednes. w He ſheweth that it is impoſſible but God ſhould heare, ſee, & knowe the thoughts of his wickednes. x If God ſhould knowe the thoughts of their finnes, it is meeke ſay for any one man or els a fewe to thinke that God will ſpare them. y God hath care ouer his church, & chaſtiſeth them for their wickednes, that they ſhould not periſh for euill with y wicked. z God will reſtore the ſtare and gouernement of things to their right vie, & doe the goodly thing cheerfully.

PSAL. XCVI.

1 An exhortation both to the laies and Gentilitie to praise God for his mercie. And thus specially ought to be referred to the kingdomes of Christ.

2 Sing vnto the Lorde a new song : sing
vnto the Lorde, all the earth.

3 Sing vnto the Lorde , and praie his Name : declare his saluation from dape
to dape.

4 Declare his glory among all nations,
and his wonderis among all people.

5 For the Lorde is ^b great and much to be praised: he is to be feared above all gods.

6 For all the gods of the people are ^b idola:
but the Lorde ^c made the heauens.

7 Strength and glory are before him : power and beautie are in his Sanctuarie.

8 Gue vnto the Lorde , ye families of the people : gue vnto the Lorde glory and power.

9 Gue vnto the Lorde the glory of his Name: bring ^d an offering, and enter into his courts.

10 Worshipp the Lord in the glorious Sanctuarie: tremble before him all the earth.

11 Say among the ^e nations, The Lorde
reigneth: surely the world shall be stable, and not moue, and hee shall iudge the people ^f in righteousnesse.

12 Let the heauens reioyce, and let the earth be glad : let the Sea roare, and all that therein is.

13 Let the field be topfull , & all that is in it:
let all the ^g trees of the wood then reioyce.

14 Before the Lorde : say hee cometh : say hee cometh to iudge the earth: hee will iudge the world with righteousnesse, and the people in his trueth.

to him. ^f By offering vp your selues wholly vnto
to you worship him onely. ^g He prophesieth that he will be parakers with the Tewes of Gods promes.
Generate them anew with his Spirit, and restore them to God. ⁱ The insensible creatures shall haue cause to God appeareth, much more we, from whom he didion and sinne.

PSAL. XCVII.

2 The Prophet exhorteth all to reioyce for the com-ming of the kingdome of Christ, 7 Dreadfull to the rebels and idolaters, 8 And ioyfull to the iust, whom he exhorteth to innocencie, 12 To reioycing and thanksgiving.

The Lord reigneth: let the earth rejoice: let the multitude of the people be glad.
Clouds and darkennes are rounde about him: righteousness and iudgement
are the foundation of his throne.
There shall go a fire before him, & burne
up his enemies round about.
His lightnings gaue light vnto his people:
the earth sawe it and was afraid.
The mountains melted like waxe at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.
The heauens declare his righteousness,
and all the people for his glorie.
Confounde'd be all they that sette
graven images, & that glorie in idoles: woe
be vnto him that saile on ships.
 Zion heard of it, and was glad: and the daughters of Iudah reioiced, because of thy iudgements, O Lord.
 For thou, Lord, art most high aboue
all the earth: thou art much exalted aboue
all gods.
 But that thine the Lord, hate enill: he preserueth the soules of his Saints: he will deliuer them from the hande of wicked.
 Light is shewn for the righteous, and hope for the vpright in heart.
 Reioyce ye righteous in the Lord, and grieue thanks for his holie & righteousnes.
 He sheweth where God reigneth, there is ad-felicitie and spiri-
tualioy.
 For the Gos-
pell shall not be only preach'd
in Iudea, but through all yles
and countreys.
 He is thus described to keepe
his enemies in fear, which co-
monly cōtēnne
Gods power.
 This feare bringeth not y
wicked to true obedience, but ma-
keth them to run away from God.
 He signifieth
Gods iudge-
ments are in a readines to destroy the idola-
ters.
 Let all that which is in thee

fall down before him. g The Iewes shall haue occasion to reioyce that the Gentiles are made partakers with them of Gods fauour. h He requireth two things of his children: the one that they detest vice, the other, that they put their trust in God for their deliuerance. i Though Gods deliuerance appeare not suddenly, yet it is sowne and laid vp in store for them. k Be mindfull of his benefites, and only trust in his defence.

PSAL. XCVIII.

1 An earnest exhortation to all creatures to praise the Lord for his power, mercie and fidelitie in his promises by Christ. 20 By whom he hath communicated his saluation to all nations.

¶ In Psalm.

1 Sing vnto the Lord a new song: for he hath done maruallous things: * his right hande, and his holie b arme haue gotten him the victorie.

2 The Lord declared his c saluation: his righteousness hath he reuelled in the sight of the nations.

3 He hath remembred his mercie and his trustworth toward the house of Israel: all the endes of the earth haue seene the saluation of our God.

4 All the earth, sing ye laud vnto the Lord:
 cry out and reioice, and sing praises.

5 Sing psalms to the Lord vpon the harpe,
 euen vpon the harpe with a singing voyce.

6 With c shalmes and sound of trumpets
 sing loud before the Lord the King.

7 Let the sea roar, and all that therein is,
 the world, and they that dwell therein.

8 Let the floods clap their handes, and let the mountaines reioice together

9 Before the Lord: for he is come to iudge
 the earth: with righteousnes shall he iudge
 the world, and the people with equitie.

¶ instruments, and also of the diuine creatures, he signifieth that the world is neuer able to praise God sufficiently for their deliuerance.

¶ That is, some sōg newly made
 in token of their wonderfull deli-
 uerāce by Christ.
 1549. 16.

¶ He preferreth
 his Church miraculously.

¶ For the deli-uerance of his Church.

¶ God was mo-
 ued by none other meanes to gather his Church of the Jewes and Gentiles, but because he would per-forme his promise.

¶ By this repeci-
 tion and earnest
 exhortation to giue praises with instruments.

PSAL

PSAL. XCIX.

- a When God deliuereth his Church, all the enemies shall haue cause to tremble.
- 1 He commendeth the power, equitie and excellencie of the kingdom of God by Christ our the Lawes and Gentiles. 5 And promoueth them to magnifie the same and to serue the Lord. 6 Following the example of the ancient Fathers, Moses, Aaron, Samuel, who calling vpon God, were heard in their prayers.
- 1 The Lord reigneth, let the people tremble: he is siteth betwene the Cherubims, let the earth be moued.
- 2 The Lord is great in Zion, & he is high above all the people.
- 3 They shall praise thy great and fearful Name (for it is holp)
- 4 And the kings power, that louth indurgeth: for he hath prepared equitie: thou hast executed iudgement & iustice in Iacob.
- 5 Exalt the Lord our God, and fall downe before him: for he is holp.
- 6 Moses & Aaron were among his Priests, and Samuel among such as call vpon his Name: these called vpon the Lord, and he heard them.
- 7 He spake vnto the in the cloudbie pillar: they kept his testimonies, and the lawe that he gaue them.
- 8 Thou heardest them, O Lord our God: thou wast a fauourable God vnto them, though thou diddest take vengeance for their inuentions.
- 9 Exalt the Lord our God, and fall downe before his holp Mountaine: for the Lord our God is holp.
- d Vnder these three he comprehendeth the whole people of Israel, with whome God made his promise. e For the more liberally that God dealeth with his people, the more doeth he punish them that abuse his benefices.

PSAL. C.

- a He prophesieth that Gods benefite in calling the Gentiles, shalbe so great, that they shall haue wonderfull occasion to praise his mercie, and reioyce.
- b He chiefly meaneth, touching the spiri- tual regeneration, whereby we are his sheepe and people. c He sheweth that God will not be worshipped, but by that means, which he hath appointed. d He declareth that we ought neuer to be wearie in praising him, seeing his mercies towards vs last for ever.
- 1 He exhorteth all to serue the Lord. 3 VWho hath chosen vs and preferred vs. 4 And to enter into his assemblies to praise his Name.
- 1 Sing & praise vnto the Lord, all the earth.
- 2 Serue the Lord with gladnes: come before him with ioyfullnesse.
- 3 Knowe ye that euen the Lord is God: he hath made vs, & not we our selues: we are his people, & the sheepe of his pasture.
- 4 Enter into his gates with praise, and into his conctes with reioicing: praise him and blesse his Name.
- 5 For the Lord is good: his mercie is everlasting, and his trueth is from generation to generation.

PSAL. CL.

- a David comforteth what gouernment he will obserue in his house and kingdom. 5 He will punish and correct by rooting forth the wicked. 6 And cherishing the godly persons.
- 1 I will sing merce and iudgement: vnto thee, O Lord, will I sing.
- 2 I will boe wisely in the perfit way in the throne, promising openly, that he would be mercifull & iust.

- b If thou comest to me: I will walke in the vprightnes of mine heart in the midst of mine house.
- 3 I will let no wicked thing before mine eyes: I hate the worke of them that fal away: it shall not cleane vnto me.
- 4 A froward heart shall depart from me: I will know none euill.
- 5 My heart that printeth & slandereth his neighbour, will I destroe: him that hath a proud heart, I cannot suffer.
- 6 Mine eyes shall be vnto the faithful of the land, that they may dwell with me: he that walketh in a perfit way, he shall serue me.
- 7 There shall no deceitfull person dwell within mine house: he that telleth lyes, shall not remaine in my sight.
- 8 Betimes will I destroe all the wicked of the lande, & I may cut off all the workers of iniquitie from the cite of the Lord.
- he will punish all. e Hee sheweth what is the true vie of the sword: to punish the wicked, and to mainteine the good. Magistrates must immediately punish vice, least it growe to further inuconuenience: and if heathen Magistrates are bound to do this, howe much more they that haue the charge of the Church God?

PSAL. CIL.

- 1 It seemeth that this prayer was appointed to the faithful to pray in the captiuitie of Babylon. 16 A consolation for the building of the Church: 18VV heresollution for the praise of God to be published vnto all posteritie. 22 The conversion of the Gentiles, 28 And the stabilitie of the Church.
- 1 O prayer of the afflicted, when he shall be in distress, and pouer soothly his meditation before the Lord.
- 2 O Lord, heare my prayer, and let my cry come vnto thee.
- 3 Hide not thy face from me in time of my trouble: incline thine eares vnto me: when I call, make haste to heare me.
- 4 For my bones are consumed like a thistle, and my bones are burnt like an herb.
- 5 Mine heart is smitten & withereth like grasse, because I forgate to eat my bread.
- 6 For the voyce of my groaning my bones doe cleane to my skinne.
- 7 I am like a pellicane of the wilderness: I am like an owle of the deserts.
- 8 I watche and am as a sparrowe alone vpon the house topp.
- 9 Mine enemies reuile me daily, and they that rage against mee, haue sworn against mee.
- 10 Surely I haue eaten asphes as bread, & mingled my drinke with weeping.
- 11 Because of thine indignation and thy wrath: for thou hast deaued me vp, and cast me downe.
- 12 My daies are like a shadow that fadeth, and I am withered like grasse.
- 13 But thou, O Lord, dost remaine for euer, casting out fearefull cries. f Haue conspired my death. g I haue not risen out of my mourning to take my refection. h He sheweth that the afflictions, did not onely thus moue him, but chiefly the feeling of Gods displeasure. i Howsoeuer we be fraile: yet thy promise is sure, and the remembrance thereof shall confirme vs for euer.

k That is, the seventy yeeres,
which by the Prophet Iere-
mie thou diddest
appoint, Iere. 29.
11 The more that the Church is in miserie and desolation, I more ought the sayth-
full to love and pity it.
12 That is, when he shall have drawne his Church out of the darkenesse of death.
13 The delate-
rance of the Church is a most excellent benefit, and therefore he com-
pareth it to a new creation: for in their banishment
the bodie of the Church seemed to have bene dead, which by difference was
as it were crea-
red anew.
14 Who now in
their banishment
could looke for nothing but death.
15 He sheweth
that Gods name
is more more
prayed, when religion flourisheth, and the Church increaseth:
which thing is chiefly accomplished vnder the kingdom of Christ.
16 The Church laments that they see not the time of Christ, which was promised, but haue but fewe yeeres and short dayes. 17 If licious and earth perishe, much more man shall perishe: but the Church by reason of Gods promise endureth for euer. 18 Seeing thou hast chosen thy Church out of the world, & ioyned into thee, it cannot but continue for euer: for thou art everlasting.

PSAL CIII.

1 He promyseth all to prayse the Lords, which hath pardoned his finnes, deliuered him from destruction, and giuen him sufficient of all good things. 10 Then he addeth the tender mercies of God, which he sheweth like a most tender Father towards his children.
14 The frailtie of manlyfe. 20 An exhortation to man and Angels to prayse the Lord.

A Psalm of David.

1 Mercie, prayse thou the Lord, and all that is within me, praise his power by name.
2 My soule, praise thou the Lord, and foig-et not all his benefites.
3 Healeth all thyne iniquities, and blesseth all thyne miseries.
b This is the beginning and chiefest of all benefits: remission of sinne.

4 Which redemeth thy soule from the c graine, and crowneth thee with mercie and compassions.
5 Which filleth thy mouth with good things: and thy pourth is reined like the egles.
6 The Lord executeth righteousness and iudgement to all that are oppressed.
7 He made his wayes knowne vnto spices, and his woorkes vnto the chie-bren of Israel.
8 The Lord is full of compassion and
clemencie, slow to anger, and of great kindnesse.
9 He will not alwaye chide, neither keepe
his anger for euer.
10 He hath not dealt with vs after our sinnes, nor rewarded vs according to our iniquities.
11 For as high as the heauen is aboue the earth, so great is his mercie toward them
that feare him.
12 As farre as the East is from the West:
so farre hath he remooued our sinnes
from vs.
13 As a father hath compassion on his children, so hath the Lord compassion on them that feare him.
14 For he knoweth whereof we be made:
he remembereth that we are but dust.
15 The dayes of man are as grasse: as a flower of the field, so flourisheth he.
16 For the tyme goeth ouer it, and it is gone, and the place thereof shall knowe it
no more.
17 But the louing kindnesse of the Lord endureth for euer: & enter vpon them that feare him, and his righteousness vpon
his children.
18 Vnto them that keepe his commandment, and thinke vpon his commandments to do them.
19 The Lord hath prepared his throne in heauen, and his kingdometh ruleth ouer all sinnes.
20 Praise the Lord, ye his Angels, that erect in strength, that doe his commandment in obeying the voyce of his voyde,
nothing in him.
21 Praise the Lord, all ye his hostes, ye his seruants that do his pleasure.
22 Praise the Lord, all ye his workes, in all places of his dominion: my soule, praise thou the Lord.
k His iust and saythfull keeping of his promys.
l Ye whome he giueth grace to feare him, and to obey his word.
m In that that we, which naturally are slowe to prayse God, exhort the Angels, which willingly do it, we stirre vp our selues to consider our dutie, and awake out of our sluggishnesse.

PSAL CIII.

creation of the world, and the gouernance of the same by his many and prouident, 35 Wherein the Prophet prayeth against the wicked, who are accus-

that God gaue them, profited not, but made them pine away, because God cursed it. i. By the greennes of the punishment the hainous offence may bee considered: for they that rise against Gods ministers, rebell against him.

18 And the fire was kindled in their assembly:
the flame burnt up the wicked.
19 They made a calf in Horeb, and worshipped the molten image.
20 Thus they turned their glorie into the similitude of a bullocke, that eateth grasse.
21 They forgate God their Saviour, which had done great things in Egypt, 22 Wonderous workes in the lande of Ham, & fearefull things by the red Sea.
23 Therefore hee minded to destroy them, had he not Moses his chosen stande in the breach before him to turne away his wrath, lest he should destroy them.
24 Also they contemned that pleasant land, and beleueed not his word, 25 But murmured in their tentes, and hearkened not vnto the voice of the Lord.
26 Therefore he lifted vp his hande against them, to destroy them in the wilderness, 27 And to destroy their seed among the nations, and to scatter them throughout the countries.
28 They topped them selues also vnto Baal-peor, and did eate the offerings of the dead.
29 Thus they prouoked him vnto anger with their owne inventions, and the plague brake in vpon them.
30 But Phinehas stood vp, and executed iudgement, and the plague was stayed.
31 And it was imputed vnto him for righteousness from generation to generation for ever.
32 They angered him also at the waters of Meribah, so that Moses was punished for their sake.
33 Because they bered his spirit, so that he spake vnadvisedly with his lippes.
34 Neither destroyed they the people, as the Lord had commanded them.
35 But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their workes,
36 And served their idoles, which were their ruine.
37 Yea, they offered their sonnes, and their daughters vnto devils,
38 And shed innocent blood, euen the blood of their sonnes, and of their daughters, whom they offered vnto the idoles of Canaan, and the lande was defiled with blood.
39 Thus were they stained with their owne workes, and went a whoying with their owne inventions.
40 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and he abhorred his owne inheritance.
41 And he gaue them into the hande of the heathen: and they that hated them, were lordes over them.

42 Their enemies also oppressed them, and they were humbled vnder their hand.
43 When a time did he deliuer them, but they prouoked him by their counsels: therefore they were brought downe by their iniquitie.
44 Yet he saue when they were in affliction, and he heard their crye.
45 And hee remembered his covenant toward them, and repented according to the multitude of his mercies,
46 And gaue them saueur in the sight of all them that led them captiues.
47 Saue vs, O Lord our God, and gather vs from among the heathen, that we may praise thine holy Name, and glorie in thy people.
48 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel for ever and euer, and let all the people saye, Sobert, Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CVII.

1 The Prophet exhorteth all those that are redeemed by the Lord, to gather vnto him, & to give thanks.
9 For this merciful prouidence of God, governing all things at his good pleasure, 20 Sending good and all praise thereto, 42 Therefore as the righteous thereat raise, so shall the wicked have their mouths stopped.
1 Praise the Lord, because he is good: for his mercy endureth for euer.
2 Let them, which haue their redemption of the Lord, shew how he hath deliuered them from the hand of oppression.
3 And gathered them out of the landes, from the East and from the West, from the South and from the North.
4 When they wandered in the desert and wilderness out of the way, and founde no citie to dwell in,
5 Both hungerie and thirstie, their soule fainted in them.
6 Then they cried vnto the Lord in their trouble, and he deliuered them from their distresse,
7 And led them forth by the right way, that they might goe to a citie of habitation.
8 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindness, & his wonderful workes before the sonnes of men.
9 For he hath satisfied the thirstie soule, and filled the hungry soule with goodnes.
10 They that dwell in darkness and in the shadowe of death, being bound in misery and pylon.
11 Because they rebelled against the wordes of the Lord, and despised his counsell of the most high,
12 When hee humbled their heart with heauines, then they fell downe and there was no helper.
13 Then they cried vnto the Lord in their trouble, and he deliuered them from their distresse.

hereby all are exhorted to descend into themselves, forasmuch as none are punished, but for their finnes. e Hee sheweth that the cause why God doeth punish vs extremely, is because we are brought vnto him by none other means.

f When there seemeth to mans judgement no recovery, but all things are brought to despair, then God chiefly sheweth his mighty power g They that have no feare of God, by his sharp rods are brought to call vpon him, & to finde mercie, h By healing them he declarerh his goodwil toward them.

i Meaning, their diseases, which had almost brought them to the graue and corruption.

k Praise & confession of Gods benefits are the true sacrifices of the godly.

l He sheweth by this: Sea what care God hath our man, for in that that he deliuereth them from the great dangers of the sea, he deliuereth them, as it were, from a thousand deaths.

m Their feare and danger is so great.

n When their arte and means faile them, they are compelled to confesse that onely Gods providence doth preserve them.

o Though before they were drop seemed to fight one against another, yet at his commandement they are as still, as though they were frozen.

p This great benefice ought not onely to be considered particularly, but magnified in all places and often times.

q For the lone that he beareth to his church, he changeth the order of nature for their commoditie. r Continual increase & yete. s As God by his providence doth exalt men, so doth he also humble them by afflictions to keepe themselves, 14 Ye brought them out of darkenes, and out of the shadowe of death, and brake their bands asunder.

15 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindnes, and his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men.

16 For he hath broken the gates of brass, and brest the barres of yron a sunder.

17 s Fools by reason of their transgression, and because of their iniquities are afflicted.

18 Their soule abhorreth all meate, and they are brought to deaths doore.

19 Then they cry vnto the Lord in their trouble, and he deliuereth them from their distresse.

20 h Hee sendeth his woode and health them, and deliuereth them from their i graues.

21 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindnes, and his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men.

22 And let them offer sacrifices of k praise, and declare his workes with reioicing.

23 They that go down to h sea in ships, and occupie by the great waters,

24 They see the workes of the Lord, and his wonders in the deepe.

25 For hee commaundeth and rapeth the storme wind, and it lieth by the waues thereof.

26 They mount by to the heauen, and descende to the deepe, so that their soule i macketh for trouble.

27 They are tossed to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man, and all their c causing is gone.

28 Then they cry vnto the Lord in their trouble, and hee bringeth them out of their distresse.

29 He turneth the storme to calme, so that the waues thereof are still.

30 When they are quieted, they are glad, and hee bringeth them vnto the haven, where they would be.

31 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindnes, and his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men.

32 And let them exalt him in the r Congregation of the people. and praise him in the assemblie of the Elders.

33 He turneth floods into a wilderness, and the springs of waters into dimitt.

34 And a fruitfull land into barrennes for the wickednes of them that dwell therein.

35 Again hee i turneth the wilderness into pools of water, and the drye lande into waters (springes).

36 And where hee placeth the hungrie, and they build a cite to dwell in.

37 And sow the fields, & plant vineyardes, which bring forth fruitfull i increase.

38 For hee blesteth them, and they multiplie exceedingly, and hee diminisheth not their cattell.

39 s Hee gaine men are diminished, & brought low by oppression, and all for euill.

40 Hee powreth contempt vpon princes, and causeth them to erre in desert places out of the way.

41 Yet hee rapeth by the poore out of miserie, and maketh him families like a flocke of sheepe.

42 The righteous shall see it, and reioice, and all iniquitie shall stop her mouth.

43 Who is wise, that he may obserue these things? for they shall vnderstand the loving kindnes of the Lord.

This Psalm is composed of two other Psalms before, the seven and fiftieth and the sixtieth.

matter here continued, v. 1 That David giueth him selfe with heart and voyce to praise the Lord, 7 And a fourth himselfe of the promises of God concerning his kingdom ouer Israel, and his power against other nations: 11 Who though he seeme to forsake vs for a time, yet hee alone will in the ende cast downe our enemies.

¶ I long for Psalm of David.

1 O God, mine heart is prepared, so is my tongue: I will sing and giue praise.

2 Awake viol and harpe: I will awake eartrape.

3 I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people, & I will sing vnto thee among the nations.

4 For thy mercie is great aboue the heauens, and thy truth vnto the cloudes.

5 c Exalt thy selfe, O God, aboue the heauens, and let thy glorie bee vpon all the earth,

6 That thy beloued may bee deliuered: d helpe with thy right hande and feare mee.

7 God hath spoken in his hotines wherefore I will reioice, I shall denide the enemies, and I shall measure the valley of Succoth.

8 Gilead shall be mine, and Dan shall be mine: Ephraim also shall be the strength of mine hand: Iuda is my lawe giuer.

9 s Moab shall be my washpot: ouer Edom will I cast out my shoe: vpon Palestina will I triumph.

10 Who will leade mee into the strong citie: who will bring me vnto Edom?

11 i Walke not thou, O God, which habdest forsaken vs, and biddest not go forth, O God, with our armies?

12 Giue vs helpe against trouble: for vaine is the helpe of man.

13 Through God we shall doe valiantly: for hee shall erre deliue our enemies. To desire him to continue and finish his graces, as he hath spoken to Samuel concerning me, so will he shew himselfe constant, and holie in his promise, so that these nations following shall be subiect vnto me. Psal. 60. 8. f From the last verse of this Psalm vnto the last, read the exposition in the 60. Psalm, and fift verse.

P S A L. CIX.

1 David being falsly accused by flatterers vnto Saui, prayeth God to helpe him and to destroy his enemies. 8 And vnder them hee speaketh of Iudas the traitor vnto Iesus Christ, and of all the like enemies of the child of God: 27 And desireth to be deliuered, that his enemies may knowe the works to be of God. 30 Then doth hee promise to giue praises vnto God.

¶ To him that erreth. A Psalm of David.

a Though al the world condemne me, yet thou wilt approue mine innocencie, and that is a sufficient praye to me.

b To declare that I had none other refuge, but thee, in whom my confidence was at rest.

c Whether it were Doeg or Saal, or some familiar friend I had betrayed him, he prayeth not of priuate affliction, but moued by Gods spirit, that God would take vengeance vpon him.

d As to the elect, all things turne to their profite: so to the reprobate, euen those things that are good, turne to their damnation.

e This was chiefly accomplished in Iudas, Acts 1. 30.

f He declareth that the curse of God lyeth vpon the extortioners who thinking to enrich their children by their vnlawfull gotten goods, are by Gods iust iudgement depriued of all.

g Thus punisheth the Lord so the third, and fourth generation the wickednesse of the parents in their wicked children.

h Hee sheweth that God accuseth them after a longer sort, hat shewe them selues cruell towards others.

i Thus giueth the Lord to euery man the thing, wherein hee desireth, that the reprobate cannot accuse God of wrong, when they are giuen vp to their lusts and reprobate minde.

k For being deliuered of mans helpe, he fully trusted in the Lord, that he would deliuer him.

l As thou art named mercifull, gracious and long suffering, so shewe thy selfe in effect.

Hidest not thy tongue, O God of my prayer.

For the mouth of the wicked, and the mouth full of deceipt are opened vpon mee: they haue spoken to me with a lying tongue.

They compassed mee about also with wordes of hatred, and fought against me without a cause.

For my friendship they were mine aduersaries, but I gaue my selfe to prayer. And they haue rewarded mee euill for good, and hatred for my friendship.

Set thou the wicked ouer him, and let the aduersarie stand at his right hand.

When he shall be indged, let him be condemned, and let his prayer be turned into sinne.

Let his dayes bee fewe, and let another take his charge.

Let his children bee fatherlesse, and his wife a widow.

Let his children bee vagabondes and begge and seeke bread, coming out of their places destituted.

Let the extortioner catche all that hee hath, and let the strangers spoyle his labour.

Let there be none to extend mercie vnto him: neither let there be any to shewe mercie vpon his fatherlesse children.

Let his posteritie bee destituted, and in the generation following let their name be put out.

Let the iniquitie of his fathers be had in remembrance with the Lord: and let not the sinne of his mother be done away.

But let them alway bee before the Lord, that he may cut off their memoriall from the earth:

Because hee remembered not to shewe mercie, but persecuted the afflicted and poore man, and the sorrowfull hearted to slay him.

As hee loued cursing, so shall it come vnto him, and as hee loued not blessing, so shall it be farre from him.

As hee clothed himselfe with cursing like a raiment, so shall it come into his bowels like water, and like oyle into his bones.

Let it bee vnto him as a garment to cover him, and for a girdle, wherewith hee shall be alway girded.

Let this bee the reward of mine aduersaries from the Lord, and of them, that speake euill agaynst my soule.

But thou, O Lord my God, deale with mee according vnto thy name: deliuer me, (for thy mercie is good)

Because I am poore and needie, and mine heart is wounded within me.

I depart like the shadow that declineth, and am shaken off as the grasshopper.

My knees are weak through fasting, and my flesh is hath lost all fatnesse.

I became also a rebuke vnto them: they that looked vpon mee, shaked their heads.

Helpe me, O Lord my God: save me according to thy mercie.

And they shall knowe, that this is thine hand, and that thou, Lord, hast done it.

Though they curse, yet thou wilt lesse: for they shall arise and bee confounded, but thy servant shall rejoice.

Let mine aduersaries bee clothed with shame, and let them curre themselves with their confusion, as with a cloke.

I will giue thanks vnto the Lord greats with my mouth, and praise him among the multitude.

For he will stand at the right hande of the poore, to liue him from them that would condemn his soule.

but also in declaring it before all the Congregation. Hee sheweth that he had not to do with them, that were of his power, but with the iudges and princes of the world.

PSAL. CX.

David prophesieth of the power and euerslaking kingdom giuen to Christ, 4. And of his Priesthood, which should put an end to the Priesthood of Levi.

A Psalm of David.

Thou saidst vnto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool.

The Lord shall send the rodde of thy power out of Zion: be thou ruler in the mides of thine enemies.

The people shall come willingly at the time of assembling: thine armie in holp beautie: the poult of thy wounds shall be as the morning dewe.

The Lord shall and will not repent, thou art a Priest for euer after the order of Melchizedek.

The Lord, that is at thy right hande, shall wound kings in the day of his wrath.

He shall be Judge among the heathen: he shall fill all with dead bodies, and smite the head ouer great countreys.

Hee shall drinke of the bydoyne in the way: therefore shall he lift up his head.

be assembled into thy Church, whose increase shall be so abundant and wonderfull, as the drops of the dewe. As Melchizedek the figure of Christ was both King and Priest: so the effect can not be accomplished in any King, save onely in Christ, Hebr. 7. 26. e No power shall be able to resist him. f Under this multitude of a captaine, that is so greedie to destroy his enemy, that he will not scarce drinke by the way, he sheweth how God will destroy his enemies.

PSAL. CXI.

He giueth thanks to the Lord for his mercifull workes towards his Church, 10. And declareth wherein true wisdom and right knowledge consisteth.

g Psalme

Praise ye the Lord.

a The Prophet declares that he will praise God both privately & openly, and that from the heart, as he that consecrates himself wholly and only unto God.
b He sheweth that Gods works are a sufficient cause wherefore we should praise him, but chiefly his benefits towards his Church.
c God hath given to his people all that was necessary for them, & will do still more for his covenants sake: and in this sense the Hebrew words are taken, Prou. 30.8. and 31.15. Or, pray, and Jews. d As God promised to take the care of his Church: so in effect doeth he declare himself iust and true in the government of the same.
e They only are wise, that fear God, and none haue understanding, but they that obey his worde. f To wit, his commandments, as ver. 7.

PSAL. CXII.

1 Her prayeth the felicitie of them that feare God,
10 And condemneth the cursed state of the contempters of God.

Praise ye the Lord.

1 Blessed is the man, that feareth the Lord, and delighteth greatly in his commandments.
2 His seed shall be mighty upon earth: the generation of the righteous shall be blessed.
3 Riches & treasures shall be in his house, and his righteousness endureth for euer.
4 Unto the righteous ariseth light in darkness: he is mercifull and full of compassion and righteous.
5 A good man is mercifull and lenderh, and will measure his affaires by iudgement.
6 Surely hee shall neuer bee mooued: but the righteous shall be had in euertlasting remembrance.
7 He will not be aspayde of euill tidings: for his heart is fixed, and belongeth in the Lord.
8 His heart is stablished: therefore he will not feare, vntill he see his desire upon his enemies.
9 He hath distributed and giuen to the poore: his righteousness remaineth for euer: his house shall be exalted with glory.
e The godly pinche not niggardly, but distribute liberally, as the necessity of the poore requireth, and as his power is able. f His power and prosperous estate.

10 The wicked shall see it and bee angrie: the blessing hee shall gnash with his teeth, and a conspice of God vpon his sinne awaie: the desire of the wicked shall perish.

PSAL. CXIII.

1 An exhortation to praise the Lords for his providence, 7 In that that conuerts to the course of nature he worketh in his Church.

Praise ye the Lord.

1 Praise, O ye seruantes of the Lord, praise the name of the Lord.
2 Blessed bee the name of the Lord, from henceforth and for euer.
3 The Lordes name is praised from the rising of the sunne vnto the going downe of the same.
4 The Lord is high aboue all nations, and his glorie aboue the heauens.
5 Who is like vnto the Lord our God, that hath his dwelling on high!
6 Who abaseth himselfe to behold things in the heauen and in the earth.
7 Hee raiseth the needie out of the dust, and lieth vp the poore out of the dung.
8 That hee may set him vnto the princes, euen with the princes of his people.
9 He maketh the barren woman to dwell with a familie, and a iopfull mother of children. Praise ye the Lord.

a By this often repetition he stirreth vpon our cold dulcitie to praise God, seeing his workes are so wonderful, and that we are created for the same cause.
b If Gods glorie shine through all the world, and therefore of all ought to be praised, what great condemnation with a familie, and a iopfull mother of were it to his people among whom chiefly it shineth, if they should not earnestly extoll his name?
c By preferring the poore to high honour, and giuing the barren children, he sheweth that God worketh not onely in his Church by ordinarie means, but also by miracles.

PSAL. CXIII.

1 Howe the Israelites were deliuered forth of Egypt, and of the wonderful miracles that God wrought at that time, which put vs in remembrance of Gods great mercie towards his Church, who, when the course of nature faileth, performeth his miraculously.

1 When Israel went out of Egypt, and the house of Iacob from the barbarous people.
2 Iudah was his sanctification, and Israel his dominion.
3 The Sea sawe it and fled: Jordan was turned backe.
4 The mountains leaped like rams, & the hilles as lambs.
5 What ailed thee, O Sea, when thou fleddest? O Jordan, why wast thou turned backe?
6 Ye mountains, why leaped ye like rams, and ye hilles as lambs?
7 The earth trembled at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Iacob.
8 Which turneth the rocks into waters, pooles, and the flint into a fountaine of water.
c That is, from them that were of a strange language.
d The whole people were witnesses of his holily maiestie, in adopting them, and of his mighty power in deliuering them.
e Seeing that these dead creatures felt Gods power, and after a sort sawe it, much more his people ought to consider it & glorify him for the same.
f Ought then his people to be insensible, when they see his power and maiestie? g That is, caused miraculously water to come out of the rocks in most abundance, Exod. 17.6.

PSAL. CXV.

1 A prayer of the faithfull oppressed by idolatrous tyrants, against whom they desire that God would succour them, 9 Trusting most constantly that God will preserve them in this their neede, seeing that he hath adopted & redeemed them to his favour, 18 Promising finally that they will not be ashamed of his great benefite, if it would please God to heare their prayer, and deliuer them by his omnipotent power.

Not vnto vs, O Loyde, not vnto vs, but vnto thy s^hane giue the glorie, for thy louing mercie and for thy truthes sake.

Wherefore shal the heathen say, Where is now thy God? But our God is in heauen: hee doeth whatsoeuer he will.

Their idoles are ^d silver and golde, euen the worke of mens hands.

They haue a mouth & speake not: they haue eyes and see not.

They haue eares and heare not: they haue noses and smell not.

They haue hands and touch not: they haue feete and walke not: neither make they a sound with their throte.

They that make them are like vnto them: so are all that trust in them.

O Israel, trust thou in the Loyde: for he is their helpe and their shield.

O house of Aaron, trust pe in ^d Loyde: for he is their helpe and their shield.

Pe that feare the Loyde, trust in the Loyde: for hee is their helper and their shield.

The Loyde hath bene mindefull of vs: hee will blesse, he will blesse the house of Israel, he will blesse the house of Aaron.

He will blesse them that feare the Loyde, both finally and great.

The Loyde will increase his graces toward pou, euen toward pou and toward your children.

Pe are blessed of the Loyde, which made the heauen and the earth.

The heauens, euen the heauens are the Loydes: but he hath giuen the earth to the sonnes of men.

The dead praise not the Loyde, neither any that goe downe into the place of silence.

But wee will praise the Loyde from henceforth and for euer. Praise ye the Loyde.

God as instructors & teachers of faith and religion for others to followe, h That is, he will continue his graces towards his people. i And therefore doth still gouerne and continue all things therein. k And they declare inough his sufficiency, so that the worlde serue him nothing, but to shewe his fatherly care towards men. l Though the dead set forth Gods glorie, yet he meaneth here, that they praise him not in his Church and Congregation.

PSAL. CXVI.

David being in great danger of Saul in the desert of Maon, perceiving the great and insupportable love of God towards him, magnifyeth such great mercies.

And protesteth that he will be thankfull for the same.

I alone the Loyde, because he hath heard my voyce and my prayers.

For he hath inclined his eare vnto me, when I did call vpon him in my dayes.

When the snares of death compassed me, and the griefs of the grane caught me: when I founde trouble and sorrow.

Then I called vpon the name of the Loyde: and thou hast delivered me from all my troubles.

That is, in convenient time to seeke helpe, which was when he was in danger.

Loyd, saying, I beseech thee, O Loyde, deliuer me from mine enemies.

The Loyde is mercifull and righteous, and our God is full of compassion.

The Loyde preferreth the simple: I was in miserie and he saved me.

Returne vnto thy rest, O my soules: for the Loyd hath bene beneficiall vnto thee.

Because thou hast deliuered my soule from death, mine eyes from teares, and my feete from falling.

I shall walke before the Loyde in the land of the living.

I belorne, therefore did I speake: for I was sore troubled.

I said in my feare, All men are liars.

What shall I render vnto the Loyde for all his benefites toward me?

I will take the cup of saluation, and call vpon the name of the Loyde.

I will pay my vowes vnto the Loyde, euen now in the presence of all his people.

Meritorious in the sight of the Loyde is the death of his Saintes.

Behold, Loyde: for I am thy seruant, and the sonne of thine handmaide: thou hast broken my bonds.

I will offer to thee a sacrifice of praise, & will call vpon the name of the Loyde.

I will pay my vowes vnto the Loyde, euen now in the presence of all his people.

In the court of the Loydes house, euen is in the muddes of the, O Ierusalem, vanitie, yet I will praise the Loyde.

felt the contrarie. h In the Lawe they vsed to make a banquet, when they gaue solemne thanks to God, and to take the cup and drinke in signe of thanksgiving. i I perceive that God hath care ouer his, so that he doth dispose their death, and take account. k I will thanke him for his benefites: for that is iust payment, to confesse that we owe all to God.

& The Prophet exhorteth the children of God to the Lord heard me, and set me at large.

6 The Lord is with mee: therefore I will not feare what a man can do vnto me.

7 The Lord is with mee among them that helpe mee: therefore shall I see my desire vpon mine enemies.

8 It is better to trust in the Lord, then to haue confidence in man.

9 It is better to trust in the Lord, then to haue confidence in princes.

10 All nations haue compassed mee: but in the name of the Lord shall I destroy them.

11 They haue compassed mee, yea, they haue compassed me: but in the name of the Lord I shall destroy them.

12 They came about me like bees, but they were quenched as a fire of thornes: for in the name of the Lord I shall destroy them.

13 Thou hast thynt foie at mee, that I might fall: but the Lord hath holpen me.

14 The Lord is my strength and I song: for he hath bene my deliuerance.

15 The voice of ioy and deliuerance shall be in the Tabernacles of the righteous, saying, The right hand of the Lord hath done valiantly.

16 The right hand of the Lord is exalted: the right hande of the Lord hath done valiantly.

17 I shall not die, but liue, and declare the wonders of the Lord.

18 The Lord hath chastened mee foie, but he hath not deliuered me to death.

19 Open ye vnto me the gates of righteousness, that I may goe into them, and praise the Lord.

20 This is the gate of the Lord: the righteous shall enter into it.

21 I will praise thee: for thou hast heard me, and hast bene my deliuerance.

P S A L. CXXIII.

1 A prayer of the faithfull, which were afflicted either in Babylon or under Antiochus by the wicked worldlings and contemners of God.

1 I lift up mine eyes to thee, that dwellest in the heavens.
2 Behold, as the vices of servants looke unto the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a mapen unto the hand of her mistress: so our eyes were upon the Lord our God, until he have mercy upon us.
3 When all other helpe faile, God is ever at hand, and like himselfe.

1 He accompanieth the Church to reioyce though it be afflicted. 4 For by the righteous Lord it shal be deliuered. 6 And the enemies for all their glariu shon, shall suddenly be destroyed.

A Song of degrees.

1 They haue oftentimes afflicted me fro my yowth (map) Israel noly say)
They haue oftentimes afflicted me from my yowth: but they coulde not preuaile against me.

3 The plowes plowed vpon my backe, and made long furrowes.

4 But the righteous Loyde hath cut the cordes of the wicked.

5 They that hate Zion, shalbe all ashamed and turned backward.

6 They shalbe as the grasse on the house tops, which wythereth afore its cometh forth.

7 Whereof the mower fillet not his hand, neither the glaiuer his lap.

8 Neither they, which go by, say, The blessing of the Loyde be vpon you, or, We blesse you in the shame of the Loyde.

a The Church now afflicted ought to remember, how her condition hath ever bene such from the beginning, to be molested most grievously by the wicked yet in time it hath ever bene deliuered.
b Because God is righteous, he cannot but plague his adversaries, and deliuer his, to euen one of the plowe.

1 The faithfull grounding on Gods promise made vnto Dauid, perswade that he would establish the same, both as touching his posteritie and the building of the Temple: pray there as was foretold, Gen. 12.5.

A Song of degrees.

1 O We remember Dauid with all his affliction.

2 Who ware vnto the Loyde, and how great difficulty he came to the kingdom, and with howe great zeale and care he went about to builde the Temple.

3 I will not enter into the tabernacle of mine house, nor come vpon my pale or bed.

4 Nor suffer mine eyes to sleepe, nor mine eyes lids to slumber.

5 Vntill I finde out a place for the Loyde, an habitaco for the mighty God of Israel.

6 For we heard of it in Ephraim, and found it in the fields of the forst.

7 We will enter into his Tabernacles, and worship before his footstool.

8 Arise, O Loyde, to come into thy rest, thou, and the Arke of thy strength.

9 Let thy Ministers be clothed with righteousness, and let thy Saints reioyce.

10 For thy seruants Dauids sake refuse not the face of thine Anointed.

12 If thy sonnes keepe my covenant, and my testimonies, that I shall teach them, their sonnes also shall sit vpon thy throne for euer.

13 For the Loyde hath chosen Zion, and we will dwell in it, saying.

14 This is my rest for euer: here will I dwell, for I haue a desire therein.

15 I will surely blese his habitacles, and will satiffie her poore with bread.

16 And will clothe her with precious stones, and her Saints shall flourish for euer.

13 This is my rest for euer: here will I dwell, for I haue a desire therein. 14 I will surely blese her habitacles, and will satiffie her poore with bread,

15 And will clothe her with iustitie, and her Saints shall shout for ioy. 16 There will I make the house of Dauid to budde: for I haue ordeined a light for mine Anointed.

17 His enemies will I clothe with shame, but on him his crowne shall flourish. 18 Glem, because that afterwarde his Arke should remoue to none other place. f Let the effect of thy grace both appeare in the Priestes and in the people. g As thou first madest promise to Dauid, h continue it to his posteritie, that whatsoever they shall aske for their people, it may be granted. i Because this cannot be accomplished but in Christ, it followeth that the promise was spirituall. k Meaning, for his owne sake, and not for the plentifulnesse of the place: for hee promisth to blese it, declaring before, that it was barren. l That is, with my protection, whereby they shall be safe. m Though his force for a time seemed to be broken, yet hee promisth to restore it.

19 Psalm. CXXXIII.

1 This Psalm containeth the commendation of brotherly amitie among the seruants of God.

A song of degrees or Psalmes of Dauid.

Behold, howe good and howe comely a thing it is, brethren to dwell together.

a That is, with how great difficulty he came to the kingdom, and with howe care he went about to builde the Temple. b Because the chiefe charge of the King was to set forth Gods glorie, he sheweth, i he coulde take no rest, neither would go about any worldly thing, were it neuer so necessarie, before he had executed his office. c That is, the Arke, which was a signe of Gods presence. d The common brute was that the Arke should remaine in Ephraim, in Beth-lehem, a plentiful place: but after, we perceived that thou wouldst place it in Ierusalem, which was barren as a forest, and compassed about onely with hills. e That is, Ierusalem, because that afterwarde his Arke should remoue to none other place. f Let the effect of thy grace both appeare in the Priestes and in the people. g As thou first madest promise to Dauid, h continue it to his posteritie, that whatsoever they shall aske for their people, it may be granted. i Because this cannot be accomplished but in Christ, it followeth that the promise was spirituall. k Meaning, for his owne sake, and not for the plentifulnesse of the place: for hee promisth to blese it, declaring before, that it was barren. l That is, with my protection, whereby they shall be safe. m Though his force for a time seemed to be broken, yet hee promisth to restore it.

a Because the greatest part were against David, though some favoured him, yet when he was established King, at length they joyed all together like brethren: and therefore he sheweth by these similitudes the commoditie of brotherly love. b The oymntment was a figure of the graces which come from Christ the head vnto his Church. c By Hermon and Zion he meaneth the plentifull country about Ierusalem. d Where there is such concord.

together.

2 It is like to the precious oymntment vpon the head, that runneth downe vpon the beard, euen vnto Harons beard, which went downe on the border of his garments:

3 And as the dewe of Hermon, which falleth vpon the mountaines of Zion: so there the Lord appointed the blessing and life for euer.

4 Like brethren: and therefore he sheweth by these similitudes the commoditie of brotherly love. b The oymntment was a figure of the graces which come from Christ the head vnto his Church. c By Hermon and Zion he meaneth the plentifull country about Ierusalem. d Where there is such concord.

PSAL. CXXXIII.

1 He exhorteth the Levites, watching in the Temple, to praise the Lord.

¶ Of degrees.

a Ye that are Levites, & chiefly appointed to this office.

b For their charge was not onely to keepe the Temple, but to pray there and to give God thanks. c And therefore hath all power, blese thee with his fatherly love declared in Zion. Thus the Levites vied to praise the Lord, and blese the people.

1 Behold, praise ye the Lord, all ye servants of the Lord, ye that by night stand in the house of the Lord.

2 Lift vp your hands to the Sanctuary, and praise the Lord.

3 The Lord, that hath made heauen and earth, blese thee out of Zion.

PSAL. CXXXV.

1 He exhorteth all the faithful, of what estate so euer they be, to praise God for his marvellous workes. 2 And specially for his graces towards his people, wherein he hath declared his mercie. 3 To the confusion of all idolaters, and their idolles.

¶ Praise ye the Lord.

a Ye Levites that are in his Sanctuary.

b Meaning the people: for the people and Levites had their courtes, which were places of the Temple separate. c That is, hath exceedingly loved the posteritie of Abraham. d He ioyneth Gods power with his will: to the intent that we should not separate them: and hereby lie willeth Gods people to depend on his power, which he confirmeth by examples.

1 Praise the name of the Lord: ye servants of the Lord, praise him. 2 Ye that stand in the house of the Lord, and in the courtes of the house of our God. 3 Praise ye the Lord: for the Lord is good: sing praises vnto his name: for it is a comely thing. 4 For the Lord hath chosen Iakob to himselfe, and Israel for his chiefe treasure. 5 For I knowe that the Lord is great, and that our Lord is about all things. 6 Whatsoever pleased the Lord, that did he in heauen and in earth, in the sea, and in all the depthes. 7 Hee bringeth vp the cloudes from the edges of the earth, & maketh the lightnings with the rapier: he bloweth forth the winde out of his treasures. 8 He smote the first borne of Egypt both of man and beast. 9 He hath sent tokens and wonders into the midst of the Red Sea, vpon Pharaoh, and vpon all his servants. 10 He smote many nations, and heweth mightie kings: 11 As Sion king of the Amorites, and Og king of Bashan, and all the kingdomes of Canaan: 12 And he gaue their laude for an inheri-

20 Praise the Lord, ye house of Levi: ye that feare the Lord, praise the Lord.

21 Blessed bee the Lord out of Zion, which dwelleth in Ierusalem, praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXXXVI.

1 A most earnest exhortation to give thanks vnto God for the creation and continuance of all things, which standeth in testimony that hee gaue vs all his mercie liberally.

1 Praise ye the Lord, because he is good: for his mercie endureth for euer.

2 Praise ye the God of gods: for his mercie endureth for euer.

3 Praise ye the Lord of lords: for his mercie endureth for euer.

4 Which onely doeth great wonders: for his mercie endureth for euer.

5 Which by his wisdome made the heauens: for his mercie endureth for euer.

6 Which hath stretched out the earth vpon the waters: for his mercie endureth for euer.

7 Which made great lights: for his mercie endureth for euer.

8 As the sunne to rule the day: for his mercie endureth for euer.

9 The moon, and the starres to gouerne the night: for his mercie endureth for euer.

10 Which smote Egypt with their first borne: for his mercie endureth for euer.

11 And brought out Israel from among them: for his mercie endureth for euer.

12 With a mightie hande and stretched out arme: for his mercie endureth for euer.

13 Which drenched the Red Sea in two parts: for his mercie endureth for euer.

14 And made Israel to passe through the muddes of it: for his mercie endureth for euer.

15 And ouerthrew Pharaoh and his hoste in the Red Sea: for his mercie endureth for euer.

16 Which led his people through the wilderness: for his mercie endureth for euer.

17 Which smote great kings: for his mercie endureth for euer.

18 And heweth mightie kings: for his mercie endureth for euer.

19 And he gaue their laude for an inheri-

PSAL. CXXXVII.

The people of God in their banishment seeing Gods true religion decay, liued in great anguish & sorrow of heart: the which grieues the Chaldeans did so little pittie: 3 That they rather increased the same dayly with taunts, reproches and blasphemies against God. 7 Wherefore the Israelites desire God, first to punish the Edomites, who prouoked the Babylonians against them 8. And moued by the Spirit of God, prophesie the destruction of Babylon, where they were held: & so tyrannously.

a That is, we abode a long time: & albeit that the country was pleasant, yet could it not stay our teares, nor turne vs from the true seruice of our God.
 b Towit of that country.
 c The Babylonians spake thus in mocking vs, as though by our silence we should signifie that we hoped no more in God.
 d Albeit the faithfull are troubled with their particular griefs, yet the common sorrowe of the Church is most precious vnto them, and is such as they can not but remember and lament.

1 B By the rivers of Babel we sate, and there we wept, when we remembered Zion.
 2 We hangd our harpes vpon the wilowes in the middes thereof.
 3 Then shew that led vs captiues, & requisred of vs songs and mirth, when we had hangd vp our harpes, saying, Sing vs one of the songs of Zion.

4 How shal we sing, sayd we, a song of the Lord in a strange land?

5 If I forget thee, O Ierusalem, let my right hand forget to play.

6 If I doe not remember thee, let my tongue cleane to the roofof my mouth: yea, if I preferre not Ierusalem to my chiefe ioy.

7 Remember the children of Edom, O Lord, in the dape of Ierusalem, which sayde, Wase it, rase it to the foundation thereof.

8 O daughter of Babel, worthis to bee destroyed, blessed shall he be that rewardeth thee, as thou hast serued vs.

9 Blessed shall he be that raketh and dasheth thy children against the stones.

10 The decay of Gods religion in their country was so grievous, that no ioy could make them glad, excepte it were restored.

f According as Ezechiel 25. 13. and Ieremie 49. 7. verse prophesied: & Obadias vers. 10. sheweth that the Edomites, which came of Esau, conspired with the Babylonians against their brethren & kinsfolke.

g When thou diddest visite Ierusalem. h He alludeth to Isaies prophesie ch. 23. & 16. ver. promising good successe to Cyrus and Darius, whom ambition moued to fight against Babylon: but God vied them as his rods to punish his enemies.

PSAL. CXXXVIII.

1 David with great courage prayeth the goodness of God towards him, the which vs great. 6 That it is knowne to foreyne princes, who shall praye the Lord together with him. 6 And hee is assured to haue like comfort of God in the time following, as he hath had heretofore.

A Psalm of David.

1 I will praise thee O Lord my whole heart: euen before the Gods will I praise thee.

2 I will worshippe thee with thine holy Temple and praise thee O Lord, because of thy loving kinde and for thy trust:

3 For thou hast magnified thy name above all things by thy woys.

4 When I called, then thou hearest me, & hast increased strength in my soule.

5 All the Kings of the earth shall praise thee, O Lord: for they haue heard the woyses of thy mouth.

6 And they shall sing of the woyses of the Lord, because the gloie of the Lord is great.

7 For the Lord is high: yet he beholdeth the lowly, but the pious he knoweth afarre off.

8 Though I walke in the middes of trouble, yet wilt thou runne mee: thou wilt stretch forth thine hand vpon the wrath of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall saue me.

9 The Lord will performe his worke towards me: O Lord, thy mercie endureth for euer: for sake not the woys of thine habitation.

10 Though mine enemies rage neuer so much, yet the Lord, which hath begunne his worke in me, will continue his grace to the ende.

PSAL. CXXXIX.

David to cleanse his heart from all hypocrisis, sheweth that there is nothing so hid, which God seeth not. 13 Which he confirmeth by the creation of man. 24 After declaring his scale & feare of God, he protesteth to be enuie to all them that contemne God.

1 O Lord, thou hast tryed me & knowest mee.

2 Thou knowest my sitting and my rising: thou understandest my thought as farre off.

3 Thou compassest my paths, and my lying downe, and art accustomed to all my waies.

4 For there is not a word in my tongue, but thou knowest it when I say, O Lord.

5 Thou holdest me strait behind and before, and layest thine hand vpon me.

6 Thy knowledge is too wonderful for me: it is so high that I cannot attaine vnto it.

7 Whither shall I goe from thy spirit: or whither shall I flee from thy presence?

8 If I ascend into heauen, thou art there: if I be downe in hell, thou art there.

9 Let mee take the wings of the morning, & dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea:

10 Yet thither shall thine hand leade me, & thy right hand hold me.

11 If I saye, Per the darknesse shall hide me, euen the night shall be light about me.

12 Yea, the darknesse hideth not from thee: me, that I can but the night shineth as day: the darknesse and light are both alike.

13 Though darknesse be an hinderance to mans sight, yet it seeth with thine eyes as well as the light.

h Thou hast made me in all partes, and therefore must needs knowe me, i Considering thy wonderfull worke in forming me, I cannot but prayse thee, and feare thy mightie power, k That is, in my mothers wombe: which he compareth to the inward parts of the earth, l Seeing that thou diddest know me before I was composed of either flesh or bone, much more now must thou know me when thou hast fashioned me. m How oughe we to esteeme the excellent declaration of thy wisdom in creation of man! n I continually see new occasions to meditate in thy wisdom & to praise thee. o He teacheth vs boldly to censure all the hatred of the wicked, & friendship of the world, when they would let vs to serue God sincerely. p Or any heinous way or rebellious meaning, that though he were subiect to sinne: yet was he not giuen to wickednes and to prouoke God by rebellion. q That is, continue thy fauour towards me to the end.

13 For thou hast possessed my regnes: thou hast covered mee in my mothers wombe.
14 I will praise thee, for I am fearefully & wonderfully made: marvellous are thy workes, and my soule knoweth it well.
15 Thy bones are not hid from thee, though I was made in a secreete place, & fashioned beneath in the earth.
16 Thine eyes did see mee, when I was without foune: for in thy booke were all things written, which in continuance were fashioned, when there was none of them before.
17 How beare therefore are thy thoughts vnto me, O God! how great is the summe of them!
18 If I should count them, they are more then the sand: when I wake, I am still with thee.
19 Whither thou wouldst flap, O God, the wicked and bloodie men, to whom I say, Depart ye from me:
20 Which speake wickedly of thee, and bring thine enemies are lifted up in baite.
21 Do not I care them, O Lord, that hate thee: and do not I earnestly contend with those that rise vp agaynst thee?
22 I hate them with an vnspiced hatred, as they were mine viter enemies.
23 Trye me, O God, & knowe mine heart: proue me and know my thoughts,
24 And consider if there bee any waye of wickednes in me, & leade me in the waye of thy truth.
I continually see new occasions to meditate in thy wisdom & to praise thee. o He teacheth vs boldly to censure all the hatred of the wicked, & friendship of the world, when they would let vs to serue God sincerely. p Or any heinous way or rebellious meaning, that though he were subiect to sinne: yet was he not giuen to wickednes and to prouoke God by rebellion. q That is, continue thy fauour towards me to the end.

PSAL. CXL.

1 David complayneth of the cruelty, falsehood and injuries of his enemies. 8 Against the which he prayeth vnto the Lord, and assureth himselfe of his helpe and succour. 12 Wherefore he prouoketh the will to prayse the Lord, and to assure themselves of his suitours.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of Dauid.

a Which persecuteth me of malice and without cause. b That is, by their false cauations and lyes they kinde the hatred of the wicked agaynst me. c He heareth what weapons the wicked vse, when power and force faile them. d He declareth what is the remedie of the godly, when they are oppressed by the wrongdoers.

art my God: heare, O Lord, the voyce of e He calleth to my prayers. God with lively faith, being assured of his mercies, because he had beforetime proued, that God helped him euer in his dangers. f For it is in Gods hand to overthrow the counsels and reueries of the wicked. g It seemeth that he alludeth to Saul. h To wit, God: for Dauid saith that they were reprobate, and that there was no hope of repentance in them. i Gods plagues shall light vpon him in such sort, that he shall not escape. k That is, shalbe defended and preferred by thy fatherly prouidence and care.

PSAL. CXLI.

1 David being grievously persecuted under Saul, only fleeth vnto God to haue succour. 3 Desiring him to breake his afflictions, that he may patiently abide till God take vengeance of his enemies.

A Psalm of Dauid.

O Lord, I call vpon thee: haste thee vnto mee: heare my voyce, when I crye vnto thee. a He heareth that there is none other refuge in our necessities, but onely to flee vnto God for comfort of soule. b He meaneth his earnest reuerence & gellure, which hee vied in prayer, alluding to the sacrifices, which were by Gods commandement offered in the wilde lawe. c He desireth God to keepe his thoughts and wayes euer from thinking at executing vengeance. d Let not their prosperitie alume me to be wicked as they are. e He could abide all corrections, that came of a louing heart. f By patience I shall see the wicked so sharply handled, that I shall for pittie pray for them. g The people, which followed their wicked rulers in persecuting y Prophet, shall repent, and turne to God, when they see their wicked rulers punished. h Here appeareth y Dauid was miraculously deliuered out of many deaths, as 2 cor. 1. 9, 10. i Into Gods net, whereby he catcheth the wicked in their owne malice. k So that none of them escape.

PSAL.

PSAL. CXLII.

1 The Prophet neither assuaged with fears, nor eased away with anger, nor forced by desperation, would kill Saul: but with a quiet mind directed his ownest prayer to God, who did preserve him.

2 Psalm of Dauid, to give instruction, and a prayer, when he was in the caue.

3 I cried vnto the Lord with my voice: with my voice I prayed vnto the Lord. I poured out my meditation before him, and declared mine affliction in his presence.

4 Though my spirit was in perplexitie in mee, yet thou knewest my path: in the way, wherein I walked, haue thy pinnes laid a snare for me.

5 I looked vpon my right hande, and behelde, but there was none that would knowe me: all refuge failed me, and none cared for my soule.

6 Then cried I vnto thee, O Lord, and sayd, Thou art mine hope, and my portion in the land of the liuing.

7 Hearken vnto my crye, for I am brought very lowe: deliuer me from my persecuters, for they are too strong for me.

8 Bring my soule out of prison, that I may praise thy name: then shall the righteous come about mee, when thou art beneficiall vnto me.

PSAL. CXLIII.

1 An earnest prayer for remission of sinnes, acknowledging that the enemies did thus cruelly persecute him by Gods iust iudgement. 2 He desireth to be restored to grace, 3 To be governed by his holy Spirit, that he may spend the remnant of his life in the true feare and seruice of God.

4 Psalm of Dauid.

5 Hearke my prayer, O Lord, and hearken vnto my supplication: answer me in thy truth and in thy right requies.

6 And enter not into iudgement with thy seruant: for in thy sight shall none that is true, be iustified.

7 For the enemy hath persecuted my soule: he hath smitten my life downe to the earth: he hath laid me in the darkenesse, as they that haue bene dead a long age.

8 And my spirit was in perplexitie in mee, and mine heart within me was amazed.

9 Yet doe I remember the time past: I meditate in all thy workes, yea, I doe not disdaine in the workes of thine handes.

10 I stretch forth mine handes vnto thee: my soule desireth after thee, as the thirstie land desireth.

11 Heare me speedily, O Lord, for my spirit

faileth: hide not thy face from me, else I shall be like vnto them that goe downe into the pit.

12 Let me heare thy louing kindnesse in the morning, for in thee is my trust: shew me the way, that I should walke in, for I lift vp my soule vnto thee.

13 Deliuer me, O Lord, from mine enemies: for I hid me with thee.

14 Teach me to do thy will, for thou art my God: let thy good Spirit lead me vnto the land of righteousness.

15 Stricken me, O Lord, for thy finnes sake, and for thy righteousness bring my soule out of trouble.

16 And for thy mercie say mine enemies, and destroy all them that oppresse my soule: for I am thy seruant.

17 Obedience of Gods will cometh by the Spirit of God, who teacheth vs by his word, giueth vnderstanding by his Spirit, and frameth our hearts by his grace to obey him. 1 That is, iustly and aright: for so soone as we decline from Gods will, we fall into error. 2 Which shall be a signe of thy fatherly kindnesse toward me. 3 Resigning my selfe wholly vnto thee and trusting in thy protection.

PSAL. CXLIIII.

1 Hee prayeth the Lord with great affliction and humilitie for his kingdom restored, & for his victorie obtained. 2 Demanding helpe and the destruction of the wicked. 3 Promising to acknowledge the same with songs of praise. 4 And declareth wherem the felicity of any people consisteth.

5 A Psalm of Dauid.

6 Blessed be the Lord my strength, which teacheth mine hands to fight, and my fingers to battle.

7 Hee is my goodness, and my fortress, my towne and my deliuerer, my shield, and in him I trust, which subdueth my people vnder me.

8 Lord, what is man that thou shouldst regard him! or the sonne of man that thou shouldst hearken vnto him!

9 Man is like to vanitie: his dayes are like a shadow, that vanisheth.

10 How thine enemies, O Lord, & come downe: touche the mountaynes and they shall smoke.

11 Call forth the lightning & scatter them: shoote out thine arrowes; and consume them.

12 Send thine hande from above: deliuer me, and take me out of the great waters, and from the hand of strangers.

13 Whose mouth talketh vanitie, and thire right hand is a right hand of falsehood. 14 I will sing a newe song vnto thee, O God, and sing vnto thee vpon a vial, and an instrument of ten strings.

15 It ishee that giueth deliuerance vnto

g: That is, speedily and in due season.

h Let thine holy Spirit counsel me how to come forth of these great cares and troubles.

i I hid my selfe vnder the shadow of thy wings, that I might be defended by thy power.

k He confesseth that both the knowledge and obedience of Gods will cometh by the Spirit of God, who teacheth vs by his word, giueth vnderstanding by his Spirit, and frameth our hearts by his grace to obey him. 1 That is, iustly and aright: for so soone as we decline from Gods will, we fall into error. 2 Which shall be a signe of thy fatherly kindnesse toward me. 3 Resigning my selfe wholly vnto thee and trusting in thy protection.

l Who of a poore shepherd hath made me a valiant warrior and mighty conquerour.

m Ibr, my deliuerer vnto me: for the Prophet cannot satisfie himselfe with any wordes.

n He confesseth that neither by his owne autoritie, power nor policie his kingdom was quiet.

o To giue vnto God iust praise, is to confesse our felices to be vnto God, and worthy of so excellent benefits, and that he bestoweth them

vpon vs of his free mercie. d He desireth God to continue his graces and to send helpe for the present necessitie. e By these manner of speeches hee sheweth that all the lets in the world can not hinder Gods power, which hee apprehended by faith. f That is, deliuer me from the tumults of them that should be my people, but are corrupt in their iudgement & enterprises, as though they were strangers. g For though they shake hands, yet they keepe not promises. h That is, a rare and excellent song, as thy great benefits deserve.

h h, ii kings,

a Dauid's patience and iust prayer to God condemneth their wicked rage, which in their troubles either despaire and murther against God, or els seeke to others, then to God, to haue redress in their miseries. b Ibr, as Ibr is wrapped in me: meaning, as a thing that could haue no suffer. c Or, sought for my fault.

d Though all men failed him, yet he knew that God would neuer forsake him. e For he was on all sides beater with his enemies, as though he had bene in a most straight prison. d Either to reioyce at my wonderful deliuerance, or to let a crowne vpon mine head.

a That is, as thou hast promised to be faithful in thy promises to that trust in thee. b That is, according to thy free goodnes, whereby thou defendest thine. c He knoweth that his afflictions were Gods mercies, for he calleth him to repentance for his sinnes, though toward his enemies hee was innocent, and that in Gods sight all men are sinners. d Hee acknowledgeth that God is the onely and true physician to heale him: and that he is able to raise him to life, though he were dead long age, and turned to ashes. e So that onely by faith, and by the grace of Gods Spirit hee was vpholden. f To wit, thy great benefits of olde, and the manifold examples of thy fauour toward thine.

1 Though he vi-

fiere them by affliction, hunger,
imprisonment,
& such like, yet
his faith, yet his love and pity never faileth them,
yea rather, so his
these are signes of his love. ^a Meaning all them, that are deliuit of worldly meanes & succour: h He assuredly the Church that God reigneth for ever for the preferuacion of y same.

1 I loueth the righteous.

9 The Lord keepeth the strangers: he reliently the fatherles and widowe: but he ouerthroweth the way of the wicked.
10 The Lord shall reigne for euer: & Zion, thy God endureth from generation to generation. Praise ye the Lord.

^a Meaning all them,
that are deliuit of worldly meanes & succour: h He assuredly the Church that God reigneth for ever for the preferuacion of y same.

PSAL. CXLVII
1 The Prophet prayeth the heauenly wisdom, power, iustice, and providence of God upon all his creatures,
2 But specially upon his Church, which he gathereth together after their dispersion. 19 Declaring his word and iudgements so onto them, as he hath done
to none other people.

Praise ye the Lord, for it is good to sing unto our God: for it is a pleasant thing, and praise is comely.

The Lord hath builded up Jerusalem, &
gathered together the dispersed of Israel.

3 He healeth those that are broken in heart, and bindeth up their soles.
4 He counteth the number of the starres,
and calleth them all by their names.

5 Great is our Lord, and great is his power:
his wisdom is infinite.

6 The Lord relieth the necke, & abaseth
the wicked to the ground.

7 Sing unto the Lord with psalm: sing
upon the harpe unto our God.

8 Which counteth the heauen in cloudes, and prepareth raine for the earth, and maketh the grasse to growe vpon the mountaines:

9 Which giveth to beastes their foods, and to the pong rauen the crye.

10 Hee hath not pleasure in the strength of an horse, neither delighteth he in the legs
of man.

11 But the Lord delighteth in them that feare
him, and attend vpon his mercie.

12 Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem: praise thy God, O Zion.

13 For hee hath made the barres of thy gates strong, & hath blessed thy children within thee.

14 He setteth peace in thy borders, and sa-tisfieth thee with the floure of wheate.

15 He sendeth forth his commaundement vpon earth, and his voyde runneth very swiftly.

16 He giveth snow like to wolle, & scattereth
the hoare frost like ashes.

17 He casteth forth his ice like mysets:
who can abide the colde thereof?

^a For their crying is as it were a confession of their neede, which cannot be re-lieued, but by God only: then if God shew himselfe mindful of the most contemptible foules, can he suffer them to die with famine, whom he hath assured of life euerlasting? h Though to vse lawfull meanes is both profitable and pleasurable God, yet to put our trust in them, is to defraude God of his honour. i He doeth not only surround his Church with all things necessarie, but preferueth also the same, and maketh it strong against all outward force. ^k Ebr. sat.

18 His secret working in all creatures is as a commaundement to keepe them in order, and to giue them mouing and force. l For immediatly and without resting, all things obey him,

18 Hee sendeth his voyde & melteth them: m As before he he cansteth his winde to blowe, & the waters flowe.

19 He sheweth his wondrous to Iacob, his statutes and his indignities vnto
Israel.

20 He hath not delt so with euery nation, neither haue they known his iudges-ments. Praise ye the Lord.

his Church as a most precious treasure. n The cause of this difference is Gods free mercie, which hath elected his in his Sonne Chr Iesus to saluation: and his iust iudgement, whereby he hath appointed the reprobate to eternall damnation.

PSAL. CXLVIII
1 He prouoketh all creatures to praise the Lords in heauen and earth and all places. 14 Specially his Church for the power that he hath giuen to the same after that he had chosen them and signed them vnto
him.

Praise ye the Lord.
Praise ye the Lord from the heauen: a Because they are members of the same bodie,
he setteth them
before our eyes,
which are most willing hereunto,
and by their prompt obedience teach vs to do our due tie.

Praise ye him in the high places.
Praise ye him, all ye his Angels: b In that Gods glorie shineth in these insensible creatures, this their beaurie is as a continuall
praying of God.
c Not that there are diuers hea-
uens: but because of the spheric
and of the situation of the fixed starres and planets, he compre-hendeth by this praise the whole
heauen.

Praise ye him, all his armie.
Praise ye him, sunne and moone: praise
ye him all bright starres.

Praise ye him, heauens of heauens, &
waters, that be aboue the heauens.

Let them praise the name of the Lord: d That is, in the middle of Israel, a people
raie, which is in the middle region of the aire,
which hee here
comprehendeth vnder the name of the heauens.

And he hath established them for euer: e Which come not by chance or fortune, but by Gods appointed ordinance. f For the greater gifts that any hath receyued, and the more high that one is preferred, the more bounden is hee to praye God for the same: but neither he nor low condition or degree can be exempted from this due tie. h That is, the dignitie, power and glory of his Church. i By reason of his covenants made with Abraham.

And he hath made an ordinance, which shall not passe.

Praise ye the Lord from the earth, ye dragons and all depths:

Fire and hail, snow and vapours, stoy-
mie winds, which execute his voyde:

Mountaines & all hilles, fruitfull trees
and all cedars:

Beastes and all cattell, creeping things
and feathered foules:

Kings of the earth and all people, yms
ces and all indges of the world:

Pong men and inaperns, also olde men
and children:

Let them praise the name of the Lord: e
For his name only is to be exalted, & his benedict by this praise aboue the earth and the heauens.

b In that that they were preferred before all other nations, it was as a new creation, and therefore, Psal. 95.7. they were called the sheep of Gods hands. c For God as he is the Creator of the foule and body, so will be that both two sense him, and that his people be continually subiect vnto him, as to their most lawfull King. d He aludeth to that continuall rest & quietnes, which they should haue, if they would suffer God to rule them. e This is chiefly accomplished in the Kingdome of Christ, when Gods people for iust causes execute Gods iudgements agaynst his enemies: and it giueth no libertie to any to reuenge their priuate iniuries. f Not only the people, but the kings that were their enemies should be destroyed. g Here by God bindeth the handes and mindes of all his to enterpraise no farther then he appointeth.

2 Let Israel reioyce in him that made him, and let the children of Zion reioyce in their King.
 3 Let them praise his name with the lutes: let them sing psalms vnto him with the timbrell and harpe.
 4 For the loude hath pleasure in his people: hee will make the ierke glorious by deliuerance.
 5 Let the Saints be ioyfull with glorie: let them sing loude vpon their beddes.
 6 Let the high Arcies of God bee in their mouth, and a two edged sworde in their handes.
 7 To execute vengeance vpon the heathen, and corrections among the people:
 8 To binde their kings in channes, and their nobles with fetters of iron,
 9 That they may execute vpon them the iudgement that is written: this honour shall be to all his Saines.
 10 Praise the Lord.

PSAL. CL.
 An exhortation to praise the Lord without craft by all manner of wayes for all his mightie and wonderfull workes.

Praise ye the Lord.
 1 Praise ye God in his Sanctuarie: praise ye him in the firmament of his power.
 2 Praise ye him in his mightie Arces: praise ye him according to his excellent greatness.
 3 Praise ye him in the sound of the tympan: praise ye him vpon the viole and the harpe.
 4 Praise ye him with timbrell and flute: praise ye him with virginalles and organs.
 5 Praise ye him with sounding cymbales: praise ye him with high sounding cymbales.
 6 Let euery one that hath breath praise the Lord. Praise ye the Lord.

a That is, in the heaven.
 b For his wonderfull power appeareth in the firmament, which in Hebrew is called a stretching out, or spreading abroad, whereas the mightie worke of God shined.
 c Exhorting the people onely to reioyce in praising God, hee keeth mention of those instruments, which by Gods commandement were appointed in the olde Lawe, but vnder Christ the vse thereof is abolished in the Church. d He sheweth that all the order of nature is bounde to this duteie, and much more Gods children, who ought neuer to cease to praise him, till they bee gathered into that kingdome, which he hath prepared for his, where they shall sing euermoluing praise.

*This word prouerbe, or parable, signifieth a graue & notable sentence, worthe to be kept in memorie: and is sometime taken for a mock, or scoffe

The *Prouerbes of Salomon.

THE ARGUMENT.

The wonderfull loue of God towards his Church is declared in this booke: forasmuch as the summe and effect of the whole Scriptures is here set forth in these brieue sentences, which partly containe doctrine, and partly maners, and also exhortations to both. Whereof the nine first Chapters are as a preface full of graue sentences, and deepe mysteries, to allure the hearts of men to the diligent reading of the parables that follow: which are left as a most precious iewel to the Church, of those three thousand parables mentioned 1. King. 4. 32, and were gathered & committed to writing by Salomons seruants, and indited by him.

CHAP. I.

1 The power and vse of the words of God. 7 Of the feare of God and knowledge of his worde. 10 VVayes may not consent to the iustings of sinners. 20 VVisdome complaineth that she is contemned. 24 The punishment of them that contemne her.

a That is, what we ought to know & follow, and what we ought to refuse. b Meaning, the worde of God, wherein is the only true knowledge. c To learne to submit our selues to the correction of those that are wise. d By liuing iustly, and rendering to euery man that which apperteyneth vnto him. e To such as haue no discretion to rule themselves. f As hee sheweth that these parables, comeyning the effect of religion as touching maners and doctrine, do apperteyne to the simple people: so doeth he declare, that the same is also necessarie for them that are wise and learned.

1 He Parables of Salomon the sonne of Dauid King of Israel.
 2 To knowe wisdom, and instruction, to vnderstand the wayes of knowledge,
 3 To receiue instruction to do wisely, by iustice and indgement and equitie,
 4 To giue vnto the simple sharpenesse of witte, and to the child knowledge and discretion.
 5 A wise man shall heare and increase in learning, and a man of vnderstanding shall attaine vnto wise counsells,

6 To vnderstand a parable, and the interpretation, the wordes of the wise, & their darke sayings.
 7 The feare of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge: but fooles dispise wisdom and instruction.
 8 Approue, heare thy fathers instruction, and forsake not thy mothers teaching.
 9 For they shall be a comely ornament vnto thee: as channes for thy necke.
 10 Approue, if sinners do dislike thee, consent thou not.
 11 If they say, Come with vs, we will pay wages for blood, & lie ynnuile for the innocent without a cause:
 12 We will swallowe them vp alive like a grate enen whole, as those that goe downe into the pit:
 13 We shall finde all pericious riches, and fill our houses with spoyle:

14 Increase of grace. i To wit, the wicked, which haue not the feare of God. k Hee speaketh not onely of the shedding of blood with hande, but of all craftie practises which tend to the detriment of our neighbour. l As the grate is most satiate, so the auarice of the wicked and their crueltie hath none end.

m He sheweth whereby the wicked are allowed to joyne together, because they have every one part of the spoyle of the innocent.

n That is, have nothing at all to do with them.

o He sheweth there is no cause to moue these wicked to spoile the innocent, but their auarice and cruelty.

p Whereby he concludeth that the covetous man is a murderer.

q This wisdom is the eternal word of God.

r So that none can pretende ignorance.

s Wisdom reproveth three kinds of men: the foolish or simple, which erre of ignorance, and mockers, that cannot suffer to be taught, and the foolish which are drowned in worldly lutes, and hate the knowledge of godlines.

t This is spoken according to our capacite, signifying that the wicked, which mocke and iest at Gods word, shall have the just reward of their mocking.

u That is, your destruction, which thing you feared.

x Because they fought not with an affection to God but for ease of their owne griefe.

y Shewing that without faith and obedience we can not call vpon God aright.

z They shall feele what commoditie their wicked life shall give them.

a That is, the prosperitie and sensuallitie wherein they delight.

14 Cast in thy lot among vs: toke will all haue one ^a purie:

15 ^b My sonne, walke not thou in the way with them: reframe thy foote from their ^c path.

16 For their fate runne to euill, and make halte to slead blood.

17 Certainly as without cause the net is spred before the eyes of all that hath wing:

18 So they lap wayte for blood and lie yntill for ^d their lues.

19 Such are the wayes of enery one that is greedy of game: hee woulde take away the ^e life of the owners thereof.

20 ^f A Wisdome crieth without: she vttereth her voyce in the ^g streets.

21 She calleth in the hie hooce, among the people in the entringes of the gates, and vttereth her wordes in the cite, saying,

22 O ye ^h foolish, how long will ye loue foolishnes: and the scornfull take their pleasure in scoffing, & the foolles hate knowledge?

23 ⁱ Turne pou at my correction: lo, I will poure out my minde vnto pou, and make pou vnderstand my wordes.

24 Because I haue called, and ye refused: I haue stretched out mine hand, and none would regard.

25 But ye haue despised all my counsell, and would none of my correction.

26 I will also laugh at your destruction, and mocke, when your feare commeth.

27 When ^j your feare commeth like sudden desolation, & your destruction shall come like a whirlewinde: when affliction and anguish shall come vpon pou,

28 Then shall they say vpon me, but I will not answer: they shall seeke me earie, but they shall not ^k finde me.

29 Because they hated knowledge, and did not chuse the feare of the Lord.

30 They woulde none of my counsell, but ^l despised all my correction.

31 Therefore shall they eate of the ^m fruit of their owne way, and be filled with their owne deuices.

32 For ⁿ ease slappeth the foolish, & the pious peritie of foolles destroyleth them.

33 But he that obeyeth me, shall dwell safely, and be quiet from feare of euill.

^o and crieth for vnderstanding:

4 If thou seekest her as silver, & searchest for her as for ^p treasures,

5 Then shalt thou vnderstand the feare of the Lord, & finde the ^q knowledge of God.

6 For the Lord giveth wisdom, out of his mouth cometh knowledge and vnderstanding.

7 He ^r preferreth the state of a righteous: he is a shield to them that walk by righte.

8 That they may keepe ^s wayes of iudges ment: and hee preferreth the way of his ^t Saints.

9 Then shalt thou vnderstand righteousness, and iudgement, and equite, & enery ^u good path.

10 ^v When wisdom entred into thine heart, and knowledge drieth thy soule,

11 Then shall ^w counsell presee thee, & vnderstanding shall keepe thee,

12 And deliuer thee from the euill way, and from the man that ^x speaketh frowarde things.

13 And from them that leane the ^y wayes of righteousnes to walke in the wayes of darkenes:

14 Which reioyce in doing euill, and delight in the frowardnes of the wicked.

15 Whose wayes are crooked and they are lewde in their paths.

16 And it shall deliuer thee from the strange ^z woman, even from the stranger, which flattereth with her wordes.

17 Which forsaketh ^a guides of her youth, and forgetteth the ^b covenant of her God.

18 Surety her ^c house tenderly to death, & her paths vnto ^d the dead.

19 All they that goe vnto her, retorne not againe, neither take they holde of the ^e wayes of life.

20 Therefore walke thou in the way of good men, and keepe the wayes of the ^f righteous.

21 For the iust shall dwell in the ^g land, and the vpright men shall remaine in it.

22 But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressors shall be rooted out of it.

1 Which is, the promise made in marriage.

2 Her acquaintance with her familiars, & them that haue her.

3 To them that are dead in bodie and soule.

4 They shall enioy the temporall and spirittual promises of God, as the wicked shall be voyde of them.

CHAP. III.

1 The word of God giveth life.

2 Trust in God.

3 Feare him.

4 Honour him.

5 Suffer his correction.

6 To them that follow the word of God, all things shall succede well.

7 My sonne, forget not thou my lawes,

8 but let thine heart ^a keepe my counsell.

9 For they shall increace the length of thy ^b dayes and the paces of life, & thy pious ^c peritie.

10 Let not ^d mercy and truth forsake thee: binde them on thy ^e necke, and write them vpon the table of thine ^f heart.

11 By mercie and truth, he meaneth the commandments of the first and second table: or els the mercy and faithfulness that wee ought to shew toward our neighbours.

m Not onely from them to whome the possession belongeth, but also thou shalt not keepe it from them, which haue neede of the vse thereof.
n That is, puttrh his trust in thee.

4 So shalt thou finde sauour and good vnderstanding in the sight of God and man.
5 ¶ Trust in the Lord with all thine heart, and leane not vnto thine owne wisdom.
6 In all thy wayes acknowledge hym, and he shall direct thy wayes.
7 ¶ Be not wise in thine owne eyes: but feare the Lord, and depart from euill.
8 So health shall be vnto thy personell, and marow vnto thy bones.
9 Honour the Lord with thy riches, and with the first frutes of all thine increase.
10 So shal thy barnes be filled with abundance, and thy presses shall be burst with newe wine.
11 ¶ If thou sonne, refuse not the chattering of the Lord, neither be grieved with his correction.
12 ¶ For the Lord correcteth him, whome hee loueth, euen as the father doeth the child in whom he delighteth.
13 Blessed is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth vnderstanding.

1 An exhortation to wisdom and to the words of God, ^s Which will preserve vs from the harlot, ⁶ Whose manners are described.

M^p Come, keepe my wordes, & hide my commandements with thee.

Keepe my commandements, and thou shalt live, and mine instruction as the ^t apple of thy eyes.

Bind them upon thy fingers, and write them upon the table of thine heart.

Say vnto wisdom, Thou art my sister: and call vnderstanding thy kinneswoman,

That they may keepe thee from the strange woman, euen from the stranger that is smooth in her wordes.

6 ^h As I was in the window of mine house, I looked through my window.

And I saw among the foales, & considered among the children a pong man beset of vnderstanding.

10 He passed through the streete by her corner, and went toward her house,

9 In the twilight in the evening, when the night began to be ⁱ blacke and dark.

10 And beholde, there met him a woman with an harlots ^j behaviour, and ^k subtil in heart.

11 (She ^l is babbling and loud: whose feet can not abide in her house.

12 Now she is without, now in ^m strates, and is yet in waite at euery corner)

13 So she caught him and kissed him and ⁿ with an impudent face laide vnto him,

14 I haue peace offerings: this ^o day haue I vnder my bowes.

15 Therefore came I forth to meete thee, that I might seeke thy face: and I haue founde thee.

16 I haue deckt my bed with ornaments, ^p carpets and laces of Egypt.

17 I haue perfumed my bed with myrrhe, aloes, and cinnamon.

18 Come, let vs take our fill of loue vntill the morning: let vs take our pleasure in baliance.

19 For mine husbände is not at home: he is gone a iourney farre off.

20 He hath taken ^q with him a bagge of silver, and will come home at the day appointed.

21 Thus with her great craft shee caused him to peride, and with her flatterring lippes shee enticed him.

She pretend no ignorance, forasmuch as God calleth to all men by his word, and by his ^d voyces, to followe vertue and to flee from vice.

b Where the people did most resort, & which was the place of iustice.
c Meaning, that the word of God is easie vnto all that haue a desire vnto it, and which are not blinded by the prince of this world.
d That is, except a man haue wisdom, which is true knowledge of God, he can neither be prudent, nor good counseller.
e So that he that doeth not hate enill, feareth not God.
f Whereby he declareth that honors, dignities, or riches come not of mans wit or industrie, but by the providence of God.
g That is, study the worde of God diligently, and with a desire to profite.
h Signifying, that he chiefly meaneth the spiri- tual treasures and heavenly riches.
i For there can be no true iustice or iudgement, which is not directed by this wisdom.
k He declareth hereby that the diuine and eternitie of this wisdom, which hee magnifieth and praisheth through this booke, meaning thereby the eternal Sonne of God Iesus Christ our Sauour, whome S. Iohn calleth the word that was in the beginning.
l He declareth the eternitie of the Sonne of God, which is ment by this word Wisdom, who was before all time, and euer present with the Father,

3 She crieth besides the gates before the citie at the entrie of the doores,
 4 O men, I call vnto you, & vnto my voice to the children of men.
 5 O ye foolish men, vnderstande wisdom, and ye, O fooles, be wise in heart.
 6 Give eare, for I will speake of excellent things, & the opening of my lippes shall teach things that he right.
 7 For my mouth shall speake the trueth, and my lippes abhorre wickednes.
 8 All the wordes of my mouth are righteous: there is no lawlesnes, nor frowardnes in them.
 9 They are all plaines to him that wil vnderstand, & streight to them that woulde finde knowledge.
 10 Receive mine instruction, and not siluer, and knowledg rather then fine golde.
 11 For wisdom is better then precious stones: & all pleasures are not to be compared vnto her.
 12 I wisdom dwell with piuidence, and I finde forth knowledg and counsels.
 13 The feare of the Lord is to hate enill: as pride, and arrogancie, and the euill way: and a mouth that speaketh lrowde thinges, I doe hate.
 14 I haue counsell and wisdom: I am vnderstanding, and I haue strength.
 15 By me kings reign, and princes decree iustice.
 16 By me princes rule, and the nobles, and all the iudges of the earth.
 17 I loue them that loue me: and they that seeke me earlie, shall finde me.
 18 Riches and honour are with me: yea, euendurable riches and rightiounesse.
 19 My fruit is better then golde, euen then fine golde, and my reuerences better then fine siluer.
 20 I cause to walke in the way of righte- oulnes, and in the middes of the parties of inderment.
 21 That I may cause them that loue me, to inherite substance, and I will fill their treasures.
 22 The Lord hath possessed me in the be- ginning of his way: I was before his woorkes of olde.
 23 I was set vp from everlasting, from the beginning and before the earth.
 24 When there were no depths, was I be- gotten, when there were no fountaines: abounding with water.
 25 Before the mountains were settled: & before the hilles, was I begotten.
 26 Hee had not yet made the earth, nor the open places, nor the bright of the sun in the world.
 27 When he prepared the heauens, I was there, when he set the compass vpon the deepe:
 28 When he established the clouds aboue, when he confirmed the fountaines of the deepe:
 29 When he gaue his decree to the sea, that the waters shoulde not passe his commaundement: when hee appointed the foundations of the earth, 30 Then was I with him as a nourisher, and I was daily his delight reioycing al- way before him,

 31 And tooke up solace in the compasse of his earth: and my deliue is with the children of men.
 32 Therefore now hearken, O children, vnto mee: for blessed are they that keepe my wayes.
 33 Heare instruction, and be ye wise, and refuse it not: blessed is the man that hea- reth me, watching daily at my gates, and giuing attendance at the postes of my doores.
 34 For he that findeth me, findeth life, and shall obtaine fauour of the Lord.
 35 But he that sinneth against me, hurteth his owne soule: and all that hate me, loue death.
 36 By earth he meaneth man, which is the worke of God in whom wisdom tooke pleasure: in so much as for mans sake the Diuine Wisdom tooke mans nature, & dwelt among vs, & filled vs with vnspokeable treasures: and this is that: solace & pastime wherewith is here spoken.

CHAP. IX.

1 Wisdom callith all to her Iust. 7 The former will not be corrected. 10 The feare of God. 13 The conditions of the barlot.

Wisdom hath builded her a house, & she hath prepared her seven pillars.
 She hath killed her vitalls, & drunke her wine, and she hath prepared her table.
 She hath sent forth her maidens, and crieth vpon the highest places of the citie, saying,
 Who so is simple, let him come hither, and to him that is destitute of wisdom, she sayth,
 Come, and eate of my meat, and drinke of the wine that I haue drunke.
 For sake your way, ye foolish, and ye shall liue: and walke in the way of vnderstand- ing.
 He that reponeth a scoomer, purchaseth to himselfe shame: and hee that rebuketh the wicked, getteth himselfe a blot.
 Rebuke not a scoomer, lest hee hate thee: but rebuke a wise man, and hee will loue thee.
 Give admonition to the wise, and hee will be the wiser: teach a righteous man, and hee will increase in learning.
 The beginning of wisdom is the feare ran- ce, & is voyde of the malice, and the knowledge of holy things, is vnderstanding.
 For the dapes shalbe multiplied by me, and the peeces of thy life shall be augmented.
 If thou be wise, thou shalt be wise for thy selfe, and if thou be a scoomer, thou shalt nourish thy seruants in his house, which is the Church.
 For the wicked will contemne him & labour to defame him. A Mean- ing, them that are incorrigible, which Christ calleth dogges and swine, or bespeaketh this in comparison, not that the wicked should not be rebuked, but he sheweth their malice, and the small hope of profit.
 He sheweth what true vnderstanding is, to know the will of God in his worde, which is ment by holy things.
 & Thou shalt haue the chief profite and commoditie thereof.

alone

- a'one shalt suffer.
- 13 ¶ A foolish woman is troublesome: she is ignorant, and knoweth nothing.
- 14 But she sitteth at the doore of her house on a seat in the high places of the citie.
- 15 To call them that passe by the way, that goe right on their way, saying,
- 16 Woe is so simple, let him come hither, and to him that is destitute of wisdom, the sayeth also,
- 17 Spollen waters are sweete, & hid beead is pleasant.
- 18 But he knoweth not, that the dead are there, and that her gyftes are in the depth of hell.
- are but mens traditions, which are more pleasant to the flesh then the worde of God: and therefore they themselves boast thereof.

C H A P. X.

In this chapter and all that follows unto the thirtieth, the wise man exhorteth by diuers sentences, which he calleth parables, to follow a vertue, and flee vice: and sheweth also what profit cometh of wisdom, and what hinderance proceedeth of foolishnesse.

THE PARABLES OF SALOMON.

- A Wise man sonne maketh a glad father: but a foolish sonne is an heavinesse to his mother.
- 2 The treasures of wickednes profit nothing: but righteousness deliveth from death.
- 3 The Loyde will not famillie the soule of the righteous: but he casteth away the substance of the wicked.
- 4 A thoughtfull hand maketh poore: but the hand of the diligent maketh rich.
- 5 He that gathereth in summer, is the sonne of wisdom: but he that sleepeth in harvest, is the sonne of confusion.
- 6 Blessings are vpon the head of the righteous: but iniquitie shall couer the mouth of the wicked.
- 7 The memoriall of the iust shall be blessed: but the name of the wicked shall rotte.
- 8 The wise in heart will receive commendements: but the foolish in talke shall be beaten.
- 9 He that walketh vprightly, walketh boldly: but he that peruertereth his wayes, shall be known.
- 10 He that winketh with the eye, worketh sorowe, and hee that is foolishly in talke, shall be beaten.
- 11 The mouth of a righteous man is a wellspring of life: but iniquitie couereth the mouth of the wicked.
- 12 Heared sturreth by cōtentions: but loue couereth all trespasses.
- 13 In the lippes of him that hath vnderstanding, wisdom is found, and a rod shall be for the backe of him that is destitute of wisdom.
- 14 Wise men lay vp knowledge: but the mouth of a foole is a present destruction.
- 15 The rich mans gods are his strong citie: but the feare of the Lord is their strength.
- 16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life: but the reuenues of the wicked to sinne.
- 17 He that regardeth instruction, is in the way of life: but he that refuseth correction, goeth out of the way.

- 18 Hee that discerneth hatred with lying lippes, and hee that innocently slander, is a foole.
- 19 In many wordes there can not want iniquitie: but he that refraineth his lips, is wise.
- 20 The tongue of the iust man is as fined silver: but the heart of the wicked is little worth.
- 21 The lippes of the righteous doe feed many: but fooles shall die for want of wisdom.
- 22 The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich, and he doeth adde no sorrowes with it.
- 23 It is as a pasture to a foole to doe wickedly: but wisdom is understanding to a man.
- 24 That which the wicked feareth, shall come vpon him: but God will graunt the desire of the righteous.
- 25 As a whirlwinde passeth, so is the wicked no more: but the righteous is as an everlasting foundation.
- 26 As vinegar is to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, so is the thoughtfull to them that send him.
- 27 The feare of the Lord increaseth dayes: but the peres of the wicked shall be diminished.
- 28 The patient abiding of the righteous shall gladdnesse: but the hope of the wicked shall perill.
- 29 The way of the Lord is strength to the vpright man: but feare shall bee for the workers of iniquitie.
- 30 The righteous shall neuer be remoued: but the wicked shall not dwell in the land.
- 31 The mouth of the iust shall be fruitful in wisdom: but the tongue of the froward shall be cut out.
- 32 The lips of the righteous knowe what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked speaketh froward things.

C H A P. XI.

- False balances are an abomination vnto the Lord: but a perfitte weight pleaseh him.
- 2 When pride cometh, then cometh shame: but with the lowly is wisdom.
- 3 The vprightnesse of the iust shall guide them: but the frowardnesse of the transgressors shall destroy them.
- 4 Riches anale not in the day of wrath: but righteousness deliveth from death.
- 5 The righteousness of the vpright shall direct his way: but the wicked shall fall in his owne wickednes.
- 6 The righteousness of the iust shall deliuer them: but the transgressors shall bee taken in their owne wickednesse.
- 7 When a wicked man dieth, his hope perisheth, and the hope of the vniuert shall perill.
- 8 The righteous escapeth out of trouble, and the wicked shall come in his stead.
- 9 An hypocrite with his mouth hurtyeth his neighbour: but the righteous shall be deliuered by knowledge.
- 10 In the prosperitie of the righteous the friend is as a priuie counsellor.

For they speak truth and edify many by exhortations, admonition & counsel.

Meaning, worldly things bring care, and sorrow, whereas they that feele the blessings of God, haue none.

He is but a trouble & grief to him that seeth him about any business.

The time of their prosperitie shall be short, because of their great falschough they seeme to liue long.

They enioy in this life by faith and hope, their euertlasting life.

Vnder this worde he conuinceth all false weights, measures and deceit.

When man soe weigheth himselfe, and thinketh to be exalted above his vocation, then God bringeth him to confusion.

riches are as a priuie counsellor.

e. The country is bladded, where there a godly man, and they ought to reioyce wile a wicked are taken away.
 f. Will not make light report of others.
 g. Where God giueth shew of men of wisdom, and counsell.
 h. Whole consideration bee knoweth not.
 i. He that doeth without iudgement, and consideration of the circumstances put him in danger, as Chap. vi.
 k. Is both good to himselfe, and to others.
 l. Though they make neuer so many friends, or thinke themselves neuer so sure, yet they shall not escape.
 m. They can take for nothing but Gods vengeance.
 n. Mewing them by liberalitie, whom God blesteth.
 o. That is the rigarde.
 p. That proudly desireth for the vif of them that are in needfull.
 q. The covetous men that spare their riches to the hinderance of their families, shall be deprived thereof miserably.
 r. For though the wicked bee rich, yet are they but slaves to the godly, which are the true possessors of the gifts of God.
 s. That is, bringeth them to y knowledg of God. t. Shall be punished as he deserueth, 1. Pet. 4. 18.

C H A P. XII.

Hee that loneth instruction, loneth knowledge: but hee that hateth correction, is a foole.

A good man getteth fauour of the Lord:

but the man of wicked imaginations will be condemne.

A man can not be established by wickednes: but the roote of the righteous shall not be moued.

A vertuous woman is the crowne of her husband: but she that maketh him as shamed, is as corruption in his bones.

The thoughts of the iust are right: but the counsels of the wicked are deceitfull.

The talking of the wicked is to lye in waite for blood: but the mouth of the righteous will deliuer them.

God ouerthroweth the wicked, and they are not: but the house of the righteous shall stande.

A man shall be commended for his wiues doine: but the frowarde of heart shall be despised.

Hee that is despised, and is his owne seruant, is better then hee that boasteth himselfe and lacketh bread.

A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast: but the mercies of the wicked are cruell.

Hee that tilleth his land, shall satisfie with bread: but he that followeth the idle, is destitute of vnderstanding.

The wicked desireth the net of enuils: but the roote of the righteous groweth fruite.

The enill man is snared by the wickednes of his lips, but the iust shall come out of aduersitie.

A man shall be faciate with good things by the fruite of his mouth, and the recompence of a mans handes shall God giue vnto him.

The way of a foole is right in his owne eyes: but hee that heareth counsell, is wise.

A foole in a day shall be knowne by his anger: but hee that couereth shame, is wise.

He that speaketh truth, will shew righteousness: but a false witnesse vetch deceit.

There is that speaketh wordes like the pickings of a sword: but the tongue of wise men is health.

The lippe of truth shall bee stable for euer: but a lying tongue varyeth continually.

Deceit is in the heart of them that imagine enill: but to the counsellors of peace shall be ioie.

There shall none iniquitie come to the iust: but the wicked are full of enill.

The lying lippes are an abomination to the Lord: but they that deale truly are his delite.

A wise man concealeth knowledge: but the heart of the fooles publisheth foolishnesse.

The hande of the diligent shall beare rule: but the idle shall be vnder tribute.

Heauinesse in the heart of man doeth bring it downe: but a good woide reioyseth it.

The righteous is more excellent then his neighbour: but the way of a wicked

a They are so grounded in the fauour of God, that their roote shall prosper continually.
 b As their conscience is vpright, so shall they be able to speake for themselves against their accusers.
 c The poore mans is contented, and yet liueth of his own traualle.
 d Is mercitull, euent to the very beast that doeth him seruite.

 g. Continually.

h. Which bridelath his affections, as a couetous minde killeth him.

i. That is, words of comfort, or a cheerful mind.

j. Which is declared by his words, reioyseth a man, as a couetous minde killeth him.

k. That is, more liberal in giuing.

m Although he get much by vnlawfull means, yett will he not spend it vpon himselfe.

will deceiue them.

- 27 The deceitfull man roseth not that hee is rooke in hunting: but the riches of the diligent man are precious.
- 28 Life is in the way of righteousness, and in that pathway there is no death.

CHAP. XIII.

- 1 A wise sonne will obey the instruction of his father: but a scorner will heare no rebuke.

- 2 A man shall eate good thinges by the fruite of his mouth: but the soule of the trespassers shall suffer violence.

- 3 He that keepeth his mouth, keepeth his life: but hee that openeth his lippes, destruction shalbe to him.

- 4 The sluggard^b hideth, but his soule hath nought: but the soule of the diligent shall haue plentie.

- 5 A righteous man hateth lying wordes: but the wicked cansteth slander & shame.

- 6 Righteousnes preserveth the bright of life: but wickednesse ouerthroweth the sinner.

- 7 There is that maketh himselfe rich, and hath nothing, and that maketh himselfe poore, hauing great riches.

- 8 A man will giue his riches for the raine: soine of his life: but the poore can not heare the reioyce.

- 9 The light of a righteous reioyseth: but the candle of the wicked shalbe put out.

- 10 Swell by pride^d doth a man make contention: but with the well aduised is wisdom.

- 11 The riches of vanitie shall diminish: but hee that gathereth with the hand, shall increase them.

- 12 The hope that is deferred, is the fasting of the heart: but when the desire cometh, it is as a tree of life.

- 13 He that despiseth the word, he shalbe destitute: but he that feareth the commandment, he shalbe rewarded.

- 14 The instruction of a wise man is as the wellying of life, to turne away from the snares of death.

- 15 God vnderstanding maketh acceptable: but the way of the disobedient is hated.

- 16 Every wise man will worke by knowledge: but a foole will spread abroad folly.

- 17 A wicked messenger falleth into euil: but a faithfull ambassadour is preservation.

- 18 Donerrie and shame is to him that refuseth instruction: but he that regardeth correction, shalbe honoured.

- 19 A desire accomplisheth delighteth the soule: but it is an abomination to scowles to depart from euil.

- 20 Hee that walketh with the wise, shall be wise: but a companion of foolles shall be afflicted.

- 21 Affliction followeth sinners: but vnto the righteous God will recompense good.

- 22 The good man shall giue inheritance vnto his childrens children: & the riches of the sinner is layd by for the rust.

- 23 A chary foode is in the field of the poore: but the field is destitute without discretion.

- 24 He that spareth his robbe, hateth his soule: but he that scourgeth him, challengeth him betime.

- 25 The righteous eareth to the contentation of his minde: but the belie of the wicked shal want.

CHAP. XIII.

- A wise woman^a buildeth her house: but the foolish destroyeth it with her owne hands.

- 2 He that walketh in his righteousness, feareth the Lord: but he that is lewde in his wayes, despiseth him.

- 3 In the mouth of the foolish is the robbe of pride: but the lippes of the wise preserue them.

- 4 Where none oren are, there the crib is empty: but much increase cometh by the strength of the ore.

- 5 A faithfull witness will not lie: but a false record will speake lies.

- 6 A scorner^c seeketh wisdom, & findeth it not: but knowledge is easie to him that will vnderstand.

- 7 Depart from the foolish man, when thou perceuest not in him the lippes of knowledge.

- 8 The wisdom of the prudent is to vnderstand his way: but the foolishnesse of the fool is deceit.

- 9 The foole maketh a mocke of sinne: but among the righteous there is fauour.

- 10 The heart knoweth the bitterness of his soule, & the stranger shal not meddle with his ioy.

- 11 The house of the wicked shalbe destroyed: but the tabernacle of the righteous shal flourish.

- 12 There is a way that seemeth right to a man: but the issues thereof are wayes of death.

- 13 Euen in laughing the heart is sorrowful, and the ende of that mirth is heavinesse.

- 14 The heart that declineth, shall be scate with his owne wayes: but a good man shall depart from him.

- 15 The foolish will beloeue euery thing: but the prudent will consider his sayings.

- 16 A wise man feareth, and departeth from euil: but a foole rageth, and is careless.

- 17 He that is angry, comitteth folly, and a brawling body is hated.

- 18 The foolish doe inherit folly: but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.

- 19 The euil shall bowe before the good, and the wicked at the gates of the righteous.

- 20 The poore is hated euen of his owne neighbour: but the friendes of the riche are many.

- 21 The sinner despiseth his neighbour: but hee that hath mercie on the poore, is blessed.

- 22 Doe not they erre that imagine euill: but to them that thinke on good thinges, shalbe mercie and truth.

- 23 In all labour there is abundance: but the talke of the lips bringeth only want.
- 24 The crowne of the wise is their riches, and king.

a That is, shee paine to provide for her familie &c. &c. doe that which concerneth her duetie in her house.

b That is, in vprightnes of heart and without hypocrisie.

c By the ore is meant labour &c. by the crib the barn: meaning without labour there is no profit.

e For the maintenance of his owne ambition, & not for Gods glory, as Sima Magus.

f Doeth he know the gronoules thereof, nor Gods iudgements against the same.

g As a mans conscience is witness of his owne griefe: so man can not feeble the ioy and comfort, which a man feelth in him selfe.

h He is weedy the allowance vnto some leueth sweetest, but the ende thereof is destruction.

i He that hateth God, shalbe punished, and made weare of his finnes when he dieth.

k If this were not daily in passe, we must consider that it is because of our finnes, which let Gods blessing and king.

a If he vse his tongue to Gods glory, and the promise of his neighbour, God shall blesse him.

b He euer desireth, but taketh no paines to get any thing.

*Ebr. way.

c For his power, he is not able to escape the threatenings, which the cruell oppressors vse against him.

d While as euery man contendeth to haue the preeminence, and will not giue place to another.

e That is, goods euill gotten.

f That is, with his owne labour.

g Meaning, the worde of God, whereby he is admonished of his duetie.

h Chap. 35. 13.

i Bringeth many inconueniences both to himselfe and to others.

j As he is partaker of their wickednes, and beareth with their vices, so shall he be punished alike as they are.

k Read Job 27. 16. 17.

l God blesseth labour of the poore, and comforteth their goods which are negligent, because they thinke they haue enough.

and the follie of foolen is foolishness.

25 A faithfull witness delivereth soules: but a deceiver speaketh lyes.

26 In the feare of the Lorde is an assured strength, and his children shall haue hope.

27 The feare of the Lorde is as a wellspring of life, to auoide the snares of death.

28 In the multitude of the people is the honour of a king, & for the want of people cometh the destruction of the prince.

29 He is slow to wrath, is of great wisdom: but he that is of an halie minde, exalteth follie.

30 A sound heart is the life of the flesh: but enue is the rotting of the bones.

31 He that oppresseth the poore, reproacheth him that made him: but he honoureth him, that hath mercie on the poore.

32 The wicked shall bee cast away for his malice: but the righteous hath hope in his death.

33 Wisdom retereth in the heart of him that hath understanding, and is knowne in the middes of foolen.

34 Iustice exalteth a nation, but sinne is a shame to the people.

35 The pleasure of a king is in a wise seruant: but his wrath shall be toward him that is lewde.

CHAP. XV.

1 A soft answer turneth away wrath: but grievous words stirre up anger.

2 The tongue of the wise vnderstandeth aright: but the mouth of foolen babbleth out foolishnes.

3 The eyes of the Lorde in euery place beholde the euill and the good.

4 A wholesome tongue is as a tree of life: but the frowardnesse thereof is the deauiling of the minde.

5 A fool despiseth his fathers instruction: but he that regardeth correction, is prudent.

6 The house of the righteous hath much treasure: but in the riches of the wicked is trouble.

7 The lips of the wise doe spread abroad knowledge: but the heart of the foolish doeth not so.

8 The sacrifice of the wicked is abomination to the Lorde: but the prayer of the righteous is acceptable vnto him.

9 The wap of the wicked is an abomination vnto the Lorde: but he loueth him that followeth righteousness.

10 Instruction is euill to him that forsaketh the wap, and he that hateth correction, shall die.

11 Wrath and destruction are before the Lorde: how much more the hearts of the conuers of men?

12 A scorner loveth not him that rebuketh him, neither will he go vnto the wise.

13 A foolish heart maketh a cheerful countenance: but by the sorow of the heart the minde is heauie.

14 The heart of him that hath understanding, seeketh knowledge: but the mouth of the fool is fed with foolishnes.

15 All the dayes of the afflicted are euill: but a good conscience is a continual feast.

16 Better is a litle in the feare of the Lorde,

then great treasure & trouble therewith.

17 Better is a dinner of greene herbes where loue is, then a stalled oxe and fatted shees with.

18 An angrie man stirreth by strife: but he that is slow to wrath, appeareth strife.

19 The wap of a foolish man is as an hedge of thornes: but the wap of the righteous is plaine.

20 A wise sonne reuoceth the father: but a foolish man despiseth his mother.

21 Foolishnesse is top to him that is destitute of understanding: but a man of understanding walketh uprightly.

22 Without counsell thoughts come to nought: but in the multitude of counsellers there is steadfastnes.

23 A top cometh to a man by the answer of his mouth: and before good is a wise man in due season.

24 The wap of life is on high to the proud, to an abysm of hell beneath.

25 The Lorde will destroy the house of the proud men: but hee will stablish the borders of the widowes.

26 The thoughts of the wicked are abomination to the Lorde: but thy pure heart is pleasant words.

27 He that is greedy of gain, troubleth his owne house: but he that hateth gifts, shall liue.

28 The heart of the righteous standeth to answer: but the wicked mans mouth babbleth euill things.

29 The Lorde is farre off from the wicked: but he heareth the prayer of the righteous.

30 The light of the eyes reuoceth the heart, and a good name maketh the bones far.

31 The eare that hearkeneth to the correction of life, shall lodge among the wise.

32 Hee that refuseth instruction, despiseth his owne soule: but he that obeyeth correction, getteth understanding.

33 The frare of the Lorde is the instruction of wisdom: and before honour goeth humilitie.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The preparations of the heart are in man: but the answer of the tongue is of the Lorde.

2 All the wapes of a man are cleane in his owne eyes: but the Lorde pondereth the spirits.

3 Commit thy woorkes vnto the Lorde, and thy thoughts shall be directed.

4 The Lorde hath made all things for his owne sake: yea, euen the wicked for the day of euill.

5 All that are proude in heart, are an abomination to the Lorde: though haue ioyne in hand, he shall not bee unpunished.

6 By mercie and trust iniquitie shall be forgiven, and by the feare of the Lorde they depart from euill.

7 When the wapes of a man please the Lorde, he will make also his enemies at peace with him.

8 Better is a litle with righteousness, than a great portion with vnquietnes.

9 The sacrifice of the righteous is his glorie, euen in the destruction of the wicked.

10 The upright & repeating life shall be a token that their sinnes are forgiven.

9 The heart of man purpoiseth his way:
but the Lord boeth direct his steppes.

10 All diuine sentence shalbe in the lippes
of the King: his mouth shall not transgresse
in inbngment.

11 A true weight and balance are of the Lord: all the weightes of the bagge are his woike.

12 It is an abomination to Kings to commit wickednesse: for the throne is stabilished by iustice.

13 Righteous lips are the delite of Kings, and the King loueth him that speaketh
right things.

14 The wrath of a King is as messengers
of death: but a wise man will pacifie it.

15 In the light of the Kings countenance is life: and his fauour is as a cloud of the latter raine.

16 How much better is it to get wisdom then golde: and to get vnderstanding, is more to be desired then siluer.

17 The path of the righteous is to decline from euill, and he keepeth his soule, that keepeth his way.

18 Wide goeth before destruction, and an high minde before the fall.

19 Better it is to be of humble minde with the lowly, then to drinde p spoiles with the younge.

20 He that is wise in his businesse, shal find good: and he that trusteth in the Lord,
he is blessed.

21 The wise in heart shalbe called prudent:
and the sweetenes of the lippes shal increase doctrine.

22 Vnderstanding is a twelving of life: vnto them that haue it: and the instruction
of foolles is follie.

23 The heart of a wise guideth his mouth
with, and addeth doctrine to his lippes.

24 Faple wordes are as an honie combe, sweetenes to the soule, and health to the bones.

25 There is a war that seemeth right vnto man: but the issue therof are the wapes
of death.

26 The person that traueleth, traueleth
for him selfe: for his mouth craueth it of him.

27 A wicked man diggeth by euill, and in his lippes is like a burning fire.

28 A froward person soweth strife: a tale
teller maketh diuision among princes.

29 A wicked man deceiveth his neighbour, &
leaseth him into a way that is not good.

30 He shutteth his eyes to denie wickednesse: hee moneth his lippes, and byingeth
euill to passe.

31 Age is a crowne of glorie, when it is foind
in the way of righteousness.

32 He that is slowe vnto anger, is better
then the mightie man: and he that ruleth his owne minde, is better then hee that winneth a citie.

33 The lot is cast into the lappe: but the whole disposition thereof is of the Lord.

Better is a drie morsell, if peace bee
with it, then an house full of sacrifices with strife.

A discrete seruant shall haue rule ouer
a lewd sonne, and he shall drinde the heritage among the brethren.

As is the sining pot for siluer, and the fol-
lence for gold, so is the Lord true to the heart, and he wicked guilty hee to false lips, &
a lie hearkeneth to the naughtie tongue.

Hee that mocketh the poore, reprocheth
him, that made him: a hee that reioiceth
at destruction, shall not be unpunished.

Childrens children are the crowne of the elders: and the glorie of the children are
their fathers.

Hee that talke becommeth not a foole, much lesse a lying talke a prince.

A reward is as a stone pleasant in the eyes of them that haue it: it profiteth, whi-therouer it turneth.

He that couerth a transgression, seareth
loue: but he that repeareth a matter, se-parateth the prince.

A reioice entred more into him that hath vnderstanding, then an hundred stripes into a foole.

A seditious person seeketh onely euill,
and a cruell messenger shall bee sent as gapint him.

It is better for a man to meete a beare robbed of her whelpes, then a foole in his folle.

He that rewardeth euill for good, euill
shall not depart from his house.

The beginning of strife is as one that openeth the waters: therefore of the contention be merked with, leaue off.

He that nistheth the wicked, hee that condemneth the iust, euen they both are abomination to the Lord.

Wherefore is there a price in the hand of the foole to get wisdom, and hee hath none heart?

A friend found at all times: and a by-ster is boyne for aduersitie.

A man destitute of vnderstanding trouseth the hands, and becommeth suretie
for his neighbour.

He loueth transgression, that loueth strife:
and hee that exalteth his gate, seareth destruction.

The froward heart findeth no good:
and hee that hath a naughtie tongue, shall fall into euill.

Hee that beggeth a foole, getteth himselfe sorrow, and the father of a foole can haue
no ioy.

A topfull heart canseth good health: but a sorrowfull mind dieth the bones.

A wicked man taketh a gift out of the bosome to wrest a wape of indngment.

Wisdom is in the face of him that ruleth vnderstanding: but the eyes of a foole are in the corners of the world.

A foolish sonne is a griefe vnto his father, & a heauinesse to her that bare him.

Surely it is not good to condemne the iust, nor that the princes should smite such a foole equitie.

- 27 He that hath knowledge, spareth his wordes, and a man of understanding is of an excellent spirit.
- 28 Euen a foole (when hee holdeth his peace) is counted wise, and he that stoppeth

CHAP. XVIII.

For the desire thereof he will separate himselfe to seeke it, and occupie him
selfe in all wisdom.

- 1 A foole hath no desire in understanding:
but that his heart may be discovered.
- 2 When the wicked communeth, then cometh contempt, and with the vile man reproche.

3 The wordes of a mans mouth are like deepe waters, and the wel spring of wis-dome is like a flowing riuer.

4 It is not good to accept the person of the wicked, to cause the righteous to fall
in iudgement.

5 A fooles lippes come with strife, and his mouth calleth for stripes.

6 A fooles mouth is his owne destruction,
and his lippes are a snare for his soule.

7 The wordes of a tale bearer are as flatsterings, and they goe downe into the bowels of the deffice.

8 Hee also that is southfull in his worke, is ruen the brother of him that is a great waster.

9 The shame of the Lord is a strong tower:
the righteous runneth vnto it, and is exalted.

10 The rich mans riches are his strong cittie: and as an his wall in his unagination.

11 Before destruction the heart of a man is haughty, and before glorie goeth lowlyness.

12 Hee that answereth a matter before he heare it, it is follie & shame vnto him.

13 The spirit of a man will susteine his infirmities: but a wounded spirit, who can beare it?

14 A wise heart getteth knowledge, and the care of the wise seeketh learning.

15 A mans gift enlargeth him, and lea-deth him before great men.

16 He that is first in his owne cause, is last:
then communeth his neighbour, and ma-
keth iniquities of him.

17 The lot causeth contentions to cease, and maketh a partition among the mightie.

18 A brother offended is harder to winne
then a strong citie, and their contentions are like the barre of a palace.

19 With the fruite of a mans mouth shall his belie be satisfied, & with the increase of his lippes shall he be filled.

20 Death and life are in the power of the tongue, and they that loue it, shall eate
the fruite thereof.

21 If a controuersie cannot otherwise be decided, it is best to call letters to knowe whose the thing shall bee, m. Appealeth their controuersie, which are so stout that can not otherwise bee puffed. n. Which for the strength thereof will not bowe nor yelde. o. By the vsing of the tongue well or euill, commeth the fruite thereof either good or bad.

22 He that kndeth a wife, kndeth a good thing, and receiueth fauour of the Lord.

23 The poore speaketh with papers: but the riche answereth roughly.

24 A man that hath frindes, ought to shew
himselfe friendly: for a friend is neuer
q then a brother.

q That is, of times such are found which are more ready to doe pleasure then he that is more bound by due tie.

CHAP. XIX.

Better is the poore that walketh in his vprightnes, then he that abuseth
his lippes, and is a foole.

2 For without knowledge the minde is not good, and hee that hasteth with his feete, sinneth.

3 The foolishnes of a man peruerteth his way, and his heart fretteth against the Lord.

4 Riches gather many frindes: but the poore is separated from his neighbour.

5 A false witnesse shall not bee unpun-ished: and he that speaketh lyes, shall not escape.

6 Shew reuerence the face of the prince,
and enerie man is friend to him that giveth
gifts.

7 All the brethren of the poore doe hate him: howe much more will his frindes depart farre from him? though he be instant with wordes, yet they will not.

8 He that possedeth understanding, & knoweth his owne soule, and keepeth with-dome to finde goodnes.

9 A false witnesse shall not be unpunished:
and he that speaketh lyes, shall perish.

10 Pleasure is not comely for a foole, much lesse for a seruant to haue rule ouer
princes.

11 The discretion of man deferreth his anger: and his gloie is to passe by an offence.

12 The kings wrath is like the roaring of a lion: but his fauour is like the dewe
vpon the grasse.

13 A foolish sonne is the calamitie of his father, & the contentions of a wife are like a continuall bopping.

14 Honie and riches are the inheritance of the fathers: but a prudent wife cometh of the Lord.

15 Sloathfulness causeth to fall a sleepe,
and a deceitfull person shall be afflicted.

16 Hee that keepeth the commandment, keepeth his owne soule: but he that despiseth
his wordes, shall die.

17 He that hath mercie vpon the poore, lendeth
vnto the Lord: and the Lord will recompense him that which he hath giuen.

18 Chasten thy sonne while there is hope,
and let not thy soule spare for his murmuring.

19 A man of much anger shall suffer punishment: and though thou beluist him, yet will his anger come againe.

20 Heare counsell, and receiue instruction,
that thou mayest bee wise in thy latter ende.

When thou sittest to eat with a ruler, ^a consider diligently what is before thee, ^b And put the knife to thy throat, if thou be a man given to the appetite. ^c See not desirous of his dentie meates: for it is a deceitfull meate. ^d Trauaile not too much to bee rich: but cease from thy wise doine. ^e While thou cast thine eyes vpon it, which is nothing: for riches taketh her to her winges, as an eagle, and flieth into the heauen. ^f Eat thou not the bread of him that hath an euill eye, neither desire his dentie meates. ^g For as though he thought it in his heart, so will he say vnto thee, Eat and drinke: but his heart is not with thee. ^h Thou shalt vniuite thy mouthes that thou hast eaten, and thou shalt lose thy sweete wordes. ⁱ Speake not in the eares of a foole: for hee will despise the wisdom of thy wordes. ^j Keenome not the ancient boundes, and enter not into the fields of the fathers lesse. ^k For hee that redemeth them, is mightie: he will defende their cause agaynst thee. ^l Applie thine heart to instruction, & thine eares to the words of knowledge. ^m Worthfull not correction from a child: for thou shalt smite him with the rodde, he shall not die. ⁿ Thou shalt smite him with the rod, and shalt deliuer his soule from hell. ^o Suffer some, if thine heart bee wise, mine heart shall reioyce, and I also. ^p And thy reines shall reioyce, when thy lippes speake righteous things. ^q Let not thine heart be enuious agaynst sinners: but let it be in the feare of the Lord continually. ^r For surely there is an end, and thy hope shall not be cut off. ^s When thy sonne heare, and be wise, and guide thine heart in the way. ^t Keepe not company with drunkards, nor with gluttons. ^u For the drunkard and the glutton shall be poore, & the sleeper shall be clothed with ragges. ^v When thy father that hath begotten thee, and despise not thy mother when she is olde. ^w Buye the truth, but sell it not: likewise wisdom, and instruction, and vnderstanding. ^x The father of the righteous shall greatly reioyce, & hee that begetteth a wise childe, shall haue top of him. ^y Thy father and thy mother shall be glad, and the that dare thee, shall reioyce. ^z When some, give me thine heart, and let thine eyes delight in my wordes. ^a For a whole is as a deepe ditch, and a strange woman is as a narrowe pit. ^b As the lily in waie as for a praye, and the croceale the transgressors

among men.

^c To whom is two? to whom is sojourne? to whom is strife? to whom is murmuring? to whom are woundes with our cause? and to whom is the rebelle of the eyes? ^d Euen to them that tarie long at the wyne, to them that goe, and seeke mirth. ^e Looke not thou vpon the wine, when it is red, and when it sheweth his colour in the cup, or goeth downe pleasant. ^f In the ende thereof it will bite like a serpent, and hurt like a cockatrice. ^g Thine eyes shall looke vpon strange women, & thine heart shall speake lewde things. ^h And thou shalt bee as one that sleepe in the middes of the sea, and as he that sleepe in the top of the mast. ⁱ They haue stricken me, shall thou say, but I was not sicke: they haue beaten me, but I knewe not, when I awoke: therefore will I seeke it yet still.

CHAP. XXIIII.

Be not thou enuious agaynst euill. ^a Bitter, neither desire to be with them. ^b For their heart imagineth destruction, and their lippes speake mischief. ^c Though wisdom is an house builded, and with vnderstanding it is established. ^d And by knowledge shall the chambers bee filled with all precious and pleasant riches. ^e A wise man is strong: for a man of vnderstanding increaseth his strength. ^f For which counsell thou shalt enterprise thy warre, and in the multitude of them that can counsell, is health. ^g Wisdom is hye to a foole: therefore he cannot open his mouth in the gate. ^h He that imagineth to do euill, men shall call him an author of wickednes. ⁱ The wicked thought of a foole is sinne, and the scojner is an abomination vnto men. ^j If thou be faint in the day of aduersitie, thy strength is small. ^k Weluer them that are drawen to death: and wilt thou not preferre them that are led to be slaine? ^l If thou say, Beholder, we knowe not of it: hee that pondereth the hearts, doth not hee vnderstande it? and hee that keepeth thy soule, knoweth hee it not? will not hee also recompense euery man according to his workes? ^m When some, eat of honie, for it is good, and the honey combe, for it is sweete vnto thy mouth: ⁿ So shall the knowledge of wisdom bee vnto thy soule, if thou finde it, & there shall bee an ende, and thine hope shall not be cut off. ^o Lay no waie, O wicked man, agaynst the house of the righteous, and spoile not his resting place. ^p For a iust man shall be seuen times, and richer againe: but the wicked shall into miserie. ^q Be thou not glad when thine enemye

I THESE ARE ALSO PARABLES
of Salomon, which the men of Iherusalem King of Iudah copied out.
The glorie of God is to concale a thing secret: but the Kings honour
is to search out a thing.
The heauens in height, and the earth in deepenes, and the Kings heart can no man search out.
Take the blossome from the floure, and there shall procede a vessell for the King.
Take away the wicked from the King,

and his thron shall be stablished in righte-ousnesse.
6 Woe it not thy selfe before the King, and stand not in the place of great men.
7 * For it is better, that it be sayde vnto thee, Come vp hither, then thou to bee put lower in the presence of the prince whom thine eyes haue seene.
8 Do not soothie thine selfe, least thou
knowe not what to doe in the ende thereof, when thy neighbour hath put thee to shame.
9 Debate thy matter with thy neighbour,
and discouer not the secret to another,
10 Least he p heareth it, put thee to shame,
and thine infamie do not cease.
11 A word spoken in his place, is like apples of golde with pictures of silver.
12 He that reioyseth the wise, and the obedient eare, is as a golden eare ring and an ornament of fine golde.
13 As the colde of the snowe in the time of harvest, so is a saythfull vnderling to them that send him: for he refresheth the soule of his masters.
14 A man that boasteth of false liberalitie,
is like a cloudes a winde without raine.
15 A prince is pacified by staying of anger,
and a soft tongue breaketh the bones.
16 If thou haue founde home, eate that is sufficient for thee, least thou be purrill,
and vomite it.
17 Withdrowe thy foote from thy neighbours house, lest hee bee wearie of thee,
and hate thee.
18 A man that beareth false witness against his neighbour, is like an hammer
and a sword, and a sharpe arrowe.
19 Confidence in an vnfaithfull man in time of trouble, is like a broken tooth and a sitting foote.
20 Yee that takest away the garment in the cold season, is like vinegar powred vpon
a nitre, or like him that singeth songs
to an heauie heart.
21 * If he that hateth thee be hungry, giue him bread to eate, and if he be thirsty, giue
him water to drinke.
22 For thou shalt lay a pole vpon his head, and the Lord shall recompense thee.
23 As the northwinde bloweth away the raime, so doeth an angrie countenance the flaunting tongue.
24 * It is better to dwell in a corner of the house top, then with a contentious wicked man in a wide house.
25 As are the cold waters to a thierie soule,
so is good newes from a farre countrey.
26 A righteous man falling downe before the wicked, is like a troubled well, and a corrupt spring.
27 It is not good to eate much homie: * so
to search their owne glorie is not glorie.
28 A man that refraineth not his appetite,

15 The southfull hddeth his hand in his bosome, and it grieveth him to put it as gaine to his mouth.

19 So dealeth the deceitfull man with his friend, and sayeth, I am not I in sport.

20 Without wood the fire is quenched, and without a talebearer strife ceaseth.

21 As the cole maketh burning coles, and wood a fire, so the contentious man is apt to kinde strife.

22 The wordes of a talebearer are as flatterings, & they go downe into the bowels of the besle.

23 As stur dyoste overlaped upon a potsherd, so are burning typpes, and an enill heart.

24 He that hateth, will counterfayt with his typpes, but in his heart hee lapeth wyldecept.

25 Though he speake favourably, beleue him not: for there are s seven abominations in his heart.

26 Hatred map be covered by deceit: but the malice thereof shall be discovered in the congregation.

2 Let another man prayse thee, and not is offered, thine owne mouth: a stranger, and not thine owne typpes.

3 A stone is heauie, and the sande weigheth: but a foolles warty is heauier then thine body.

4 Anger is cruel, and warty is raging: but who can stand before s enue?

5 Open rebuke is better then secret lone.

6 The woundes of a louer are saythfull, and the kisses of an enemie are s pleasant.

7 The person that is full, despyseth an e honp combe: but vnto the hungrie soule enery butter thing is swerte.

9 As ointment and perfume reioyce the heart, so doeth the sweetnesse of a mans friend by hearty counsell.

10 Thine owne friend & thy fathers friend saye thou not: neper enter into thy brothers house in the day of thy calas.

11 A neighbour that is any worldly minie: for better is a neighbour that is minie, then a brother farre off.

14 Hee that prayseth his friende with a loud voyce, ryng: early in the morning, it shalbe curiured to him as a curle.

25 The deep discovereth it selfe, and the graffe appeareth, and the herbes of the mountabes are gathered.

16 The 2 laundes are for thy clothing, and the goates are the price of the sicke.
17 And let the milke of the goates be sufficient for thy foode, for 3 fode of thy famill, & for the sustenance of thy maidens.
18 He requirith of him for the preservation of his giftes.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 Because their I wine conscience scoweth them,
2 The state of the common weale is often times changed,

1 The wicked 2 flee when none pursueth: but the righteous are bold as a lion.

2 For the transgression of the laud 3 there are many princes thereof: but by a man of understanding and knowledge a realme likewise endureth long.

3 A poore man, if he oppresse the poore, is like a raging raine, that leaueth no foode.

4 They that forsake the lawe, praple the wicked: but they that keepe the lawe, let themselves against them.

5 Wicked men understande not iudgement: but they that seeke the loyde, understand all things.

6 * Better is the poore that walketh in his uprightness, then he that peruertereth his wayes, though he be rich.

7 He that keepeth the lawe, is a childe of understanding: but he that feareth the ghumts, shaueth his father.

8 He that increaseth his riches by iniurie & interest, gathereth them for him that will be mercifull vnto the poore.

9 He that turneth away his care from heareing the lawe, euen his prayer shall be 4 abominable.

10 He that causeth the righteous to goe as strap by an euill way, shall fall into his owne pit, and the vppright shall inherite good things.

11 The rich man is wise in his owne conceit: but the poore that hath understanding, can trie 5 him.

12 * When righteous men reioyce, there is great glorie: but when the wicked come vpp, the man 6 is tried.

13 He that hideth his sinnes, shall not prosper: but he that confesseth, and forsaketh them, shall haue mercy.

14 Blessed is the man that 7 feareth alway: but he that hardeneth his heart, shall fall into euill.

15 As a roaring lion, and an hungrie beare, so is 8 a wicked ruler ouer the poore people.

16 A prince destitute of understanding, is also a great oppressour: but he that hateth conuoculnes, shall prolong his dayes.

17 A man that doeth violence against the blood of a person, shall flee vnto 9 a grave, and they that will not 10 stay him.

18 He that walketh vpprightly, shall be saved: but he that is froward in his wayes, shall once fall.

19 * He that tilleth his land, shall be satisfied with bread: but he that followeth the sle, shall be filled with pouertie.

20 A faithfull man shall abounde in blessings, and he that maketh haste to be rich, shall not be innocent.

21 To haue respect of persons is not good:

for that man will transgresse for a peece of bread.

22 A man with a wicked 1 eye hateth to be rich, and knoweth not, that pouertie shall come vpon him.

23 He that rebuketh a man, shall finde that he hateth to be rich, then he that flattereth with his tongue.

24 He that robeth his father and mother, and saith, It is no transgression, is the companion of a man that destroyeth.

25 He that is of a proud heart, stirreth up strife: but he that trusteth in the loyde, shall be 2 far.

26 He that trusteth in his owne heart, is a foole: but he that walketh in wisdom, shall be 3 deliuered.

27 He that giveth vnto the poore, shall not lacke: but he that hideth his eyes, shall haue many curles.

28 * When the wicked rise vp, men hibe themselves: but when they perish, the righteous increase.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 A span 4 hardeneth his necke, when he is rebuked, shall suddenly be destroyed and cannot be cured.

2 * When the righteous 5 are in autoritie, the people reioyce: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people sigh.

3 A man that longeth wisdom, reioyceth his father: * but he that feareth harlots, wasteth his substance.

4 A king by iudgement magnifieth the countrey: but a man receiuing giftes, destroyeth it.

5 A man that flattereth his neighbour, spreadeth a net for his steps.

6 In the transgression of an euill man is his snare: but the righteous doth sing and reioyce.

7 The righteous knoweth the cause of the poore: but the wicked regardeth not knowledge.

8 Scofnful men bying a citie into a snare: but wise men turne away wjath.

9 If a wise man contend with 10 a foolish man, whether he be angrie or laugh, there is no rest.

10 Bloody men hate him that is vppright: but the iust haue care of his soule.

11 A foole pouerth out all his minde: but a wise man keepeth it in till afterward.

12 Of a prince that hearkeneth to lies, all his seruants are wicked.

13 * The poore and the vnnere mete together, and the loyde lighteneth both their eyes.

14 * A king that iudgeth 15 poore in trueneth, his throne shall be established for euer.

15 The rod and correction giue wisdom: but a childe set at libertie, maketh his mother ashamed.

16 When the wicked are increased, transgression increaseth: but the righteous shall see their fall.

17 Correct thy sonne and he will giue thee rest, and will giue pleasures to thy soule.

18 * Where there is no vision, the people decay: but he that keepeth the lawe, is blessed.

Ecclesiastes, or the Preacher.

THE ARGUMENT.

Salomon, as a Preacher and one that desired to instruct all in the way of saluation, describeth the deceivable vanities of this worlde, that man should not be addicted to any thing vnder the sunne, but rather inflamed with the desire of the heavenly life: therefore he comforteth their opinions, which see their felicitie, cyther in knowledge, or in pleasures, or in dignitie and riches, shewing that mans true felicitie consisteth in that that he is vnitied with God, & shall enioye his presence: so that all other things must be reiected, saue in as much as they further vs to attaine to this heavenly treasure, which is sure and permanent, and can not bee founde in any other saue in God alone.

CHAP. I.

All things in this world are full of vanitie, and of none endurance. 12 All mans wisdom is but follie & grief.

1 The woodes of the Preacher, the sonne of Danid king in Ierusalem.

2 Vanitie of vanities, sayeth
the Preacher: vanitie of vanities, all is vanitie.

3 What remaineth vnto man in all his trauaille, which hee suffereth vnder the sunne?

4 One generation passeth, and another generation succeedeth: but the earth remaineth
for ever.

5 The sunne riseth, and the sunne goeth downe, and dwaleth to his place, where he riseth.

6 The winde goeth towarde the South, and compasseth toward the North: the winde goeth rounde about, & returneth
by his circuites.

7 All the rivers goe into the sea, yet the sea is not full: for the rivers goe vnto the place, whence they retorne, and goe.

8 All things are full of labour: man can not utter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the eare filled with hearing.

9 What is it that hath bene: that that shall be: and what is it that hath bene done: that which shall be done: and there is no new thing vnder the sunne.

10 As there any thing, wherof one may proue out springe and returne into the sea againe, of times and seasons, and things done in them, which as they haue bene in times past, so come they to passe againe.
saye.

e By the sunne,
winde & rivers,
he sheweth that
the greatest labour and longest hath an ende, and therefore there can bee no felici-
tie in this worlde.

of, the which

saye.

h Solomon is here called a Preacher, or one that assemblen
the people, because he tea-
ched the true
knowledge of God, & how men
ought to passe
their life in this transitory world
b He conuen-
teth the opinions
of all men that see felicitie in any thing, but in God alone, seeing that in this worlde
all things are as vanitie and nothing. c Salomon
doeth not condemne
mans labour or diligence, but sheweth
that there is no
full contentation
in any thing vnder
the heauen, nor in any creature, for
asmuch as all things
are transitory. d
One man dieth
after another, &
the earth remaineth
longer, vnto the last day, which yet
is subject to corruption.

h He proueth that if any could haue attained to felicitie in this world by labour and studie, he chiefly should haue obtained it, because he had giftes and aides of God therunto aboute all other.

i Man of nature hath a desire to know, and yet is not able to come to the perfection of knowledge, which is the punishment of sin, to humble man, & to teach him to depend onely vpon God.

k Man is not able by al his diligence to cause things to go otherwise then they do: neither can he number the faults that are committed, much lesse remedie them. 1 That is, vaine things, which serued vnto pleasure, wherein was no commoditie, but griefe and trouble of conscience. m Wisdome and knowledge can not be come by without great paine of bodie and minde: for when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his minde neuer fully content: therefore in this world is no true felicitie.

CHAP. II.

Pleasures, sumptuous buildings, riches and possessions are but vanitie. 14 The wise and the foole haue both one end, touching the bodily death.

a Salomon maketh this discourse with him selfe, as though he would trie whether there were contentation in ease and pleasures.

14 Draw my flesh to wine.

Cap. Behold this, it is newe: it hath bene 8 alreadie in the olde time that was before vs.

11 There is no memoire of the former, neether shall there bee a remembrance of the latter that shall bee, with them that shall come after.

12 ¶ The Preacher haue bin King ouer 9 Israel in Ierusalem:

13 And I haue giuen mine heart to search and find out wisdom by all things that are done vnder the heauen: (this sage trauaile hath God giuen to the sonnes of men, to humble them thereby)

14 I haue considered all the wayes that are done vnder the sunne, and beholde, all is vanitie, and vexation of the spirit.

15 That which is crooked, can none make straight: and that which sapleth, cannot be nombred.

16 I thought in mine heart, and said, Behold, I am become great, & excell in wisdom: all them that haue bene before mee in Ierusalem: and mine heart hath scene much wisdom and knowledge.

17 And I gaue mine heart to know wisdom, and knowledge, 1 madnes and foolishnes: I knew also that this is a vexation of the spirit.

18 For in the multitude of wisdom is much griefe: and hee that increaseth knowledge, increaseth sorrowe.

1 That is, vaine things, which serued vnto pleasure, wherein was no commoditie, but griefe and trouble of conscience. m Wisdome and knowledge can not be come by without great paine of bodie and minde: for when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his minde neuer fully content: therefore in this world is no true felicitie.

Pleasures, sumptuous buildings, riches and possessions are but vanitie. 14 The wise and the foole haue both one end, touching the bodily death.

1 Said in mine heart, So to now, I will proue: that with tope: therefore take thou pleasure in pleasant things: and behold, this also is vanitie.

2 I said of laughter, Thou art mad: and of tope, What is this that thou doest?

3 I sought in mine heart: to giue my selfe to wine, and to leade mine heart in wisdom, and to take holde of follie, till I might see where is that goodnesse of the children of men, which they enioy vnder the sunne, the whole number of the dayes of their life.

4 I haue made my great wayes: I haue built mee houses: I haue planted mee vineyardes.

5 I haue made me gardens & orchardes, and planted in them trees of all fruite.

6 I haue made mee cisternes of water, to water therewith the woods that growe with trees.

7 I haue gotten seruautes & maides, and had children borne in the house: also I had great possession of herbes & sheepe aboute all that were before mee in Ierusalem.

8 That is, vaine things, which serued vnto pleasure, wherein was no commoditie, but griefe and trouble of conscience. m Wisdome and knowledge can not be come by without great paine of bodie and minde: for when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his minde neuer fully content: therefore in this world is no true felicitie.

9 That is, vaine things, which serued vnto pleasure, wherein was no commoditie, but griefe and trouble of conscience. m Wisdome and knowledge can not be come by without great paine of bodie and minde: for when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his minde neuer fully content: therefore in this world is no true felicitie.

I haue gathered into me also silver and golde, and the chiefe treasures of Kings and prouinces: I haue plumed mine fingers and women fingers, & the delites of the sonnes of men, as a woman taken captiue, and women taken captiues.

9 And I was great, & increased aboute all that were before mee in Ierusalem: also my wisdom remained with me.

10 And whatsoever mine eyes desired, I withheld it not from them: I withheld not mine heart from any tope: for mine heart reioiced in all my labour: and this was my portion of all my trauaile.

11 Then I looked on all my wayes that mine handes had wrought, and on the trauaile that I had laboured to doe: and beholde, all is vanitie and vexation of the spirit: and there is no profite vnder the sunne.

12 And I turned to behold wisdom, and madnesse and folly: (for who is the man that will come after the King in things, which men now haue done?)

13 Then I saw that there is profite in wisdom, more then in folly: as the light is more excellent then darkness.

14 For the wise mans eyes are in his head, but the foole walketh in darkness: yet I know also that the same condition falleth to them all.

15 Then I thought in mine heart, It befalleth vnto me, as it befalleth to a foole: Why therefore doe I then labour to be more wise? And I said in mine heart, that this also is vanitie.

16 For there shall bee no remembrance of the wise, nor of the foole: foruer: for that that now is, in the dayes to come shall all be forgotten. And how depeth the wise man, as doeth the foole?

17 Therefore I hated life: for the wayes that is wrought vnder the sunne is grievous vnto mee: for all is vanitie, and vexation of the spirit.

18 I hated also all my labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder the sunne, which I shall leaue to the man that shall be after mee.

19 And who knoweth whether he shall be wise or foolish? yet shall he haue rule ouer all my labour, wherein I haue trauailed, and wherein I haue shed my selfe vnder the sunne. This is also my griefe.

20 Therefore I went about to make mine heart: to abhorre all the labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder the sunne.

21 For there is a man whose trauaile is in wisdom, and in knowledge, and in equitie: yet to a man that hath not trauailed herin, shall hee give his portion: this also is vanitie and a great griefe.

22 For what hath man of all his trauaile and griefe of his heart, wherein he hath trauailed vnder the sunne?

23 For all his dayes are sorrowes, and

f For all this God did not take his gift of wisdom from me, I was the trust of all my labour, a certain pleasure mine with care, which he calleth vanitie in these verses.

h I thought with my selfe whether it were better to follow wisdom, or mine owne affections and pleasures, which he called madnes.

10 Or, compared with the King, Prov. 17. 24. I foresaw things, which I foole can not intelliege, lacke of wisdom.

k For both he and are forgotten, as ver. 16. yet they both shall haue prosperitie or aduerfitee.

his trample griefe : his heart also taketh not rest in the night : which also is vanitie.

24 There is no profite to man : but that he eate, & drinke, and delight his soule with the profite of his labour : I sawe also this, that it was of the hande of God.

25 For who could eate, & who could haue to outward things more then I?

26 Surely to a man that is good in his sight, God giueth wisdom, and knowledg, and ioye : but to the sinner he giueth payne, to gather, and to heape to giue to him that is good before God : this is also vanitie, and vexation of the spirit.

CHAP. III.

1 All things haue their time. 2 The workers of God are pacif, and cause vs to fear him. 3 God shall iudge both the iust and vniust.

4 All things there is an appointed time, and a time to euery purpose vnder the heauen.

5 A time to be borne, and a time to die : a time to plant, and a time to plucke vp that which is planted.

6 A time to slay, and a time to heale : a time to bryake downe, and a time to builde.

7 A time to weper, and a time to laugh : a time to mourne, and a time to dance.

8 A time to cast awaye stones, and a time to gather stones : a time to embrace, and a time to be farre from embracing.

9 A time to seeke, & a time to lose : a time to kepe, and a time to cast awaye.

10 A time to rent, and a time to sowe : a time to kepe silence, and a time to speake.

11 A time to loue, and a time to hate : a time of warre, and a time of peace.

12 What profite hath he that woiketh, of the thing wherein he traualleth?

13 I haue seene the traualle that God hath giuen to the sonnes of men, to bumble them thereby.

14 He hath made euery thing beautifull in his time : also he hath set the woikde in their heart, yet can not man finde out the woikde that God hath wrought from the beginning euen to the ende.

15 I knowe that there is nothing good in them, but to reioyce, and to doe good in his life.

16 And also that euery man eateth and drinketh, and seeketh the commoditie of all his labour : this is the gift of God.

17 I knowe that whatsoeuer God shall do, it shall be for euery : to it can no man adde, and from it can none diminish : for God hath done it, that they shoulde feare before him.

18 What is that that hath bene : that is nowe : and that that shall bee, hath nowe bene : for God requieth that which is past.

19 And moreover I haue seene vnder the sunne the place of indignement, where was wickednesse, and the place of iustice where was iniquitie.

20 I thought in mine heart, God will iudge the iust and the wicked : for time is there for euery purpose and for euery woikde.

21 I considered in mine heart the state of the children of men, that God had purposed them : yet to see to, they are in their times as beasts.

22 For the condition of the children of men, and the condition of beasts are as one : condition vnto them. As the one dyeth, so dyeth the other : for they haue all one breath, and there is no excellencie of man aboue the beast : for all is vanitie.

23 All goe to one place, and all was of the dust, and all shall retorne to the dust.

24 Who knoweth whether the spirit of man ascende vpwarde, and the spirit of the beast descende downewarde to the earth?

25 Therefore I see that there is nothing better then that a man shoulde reioyce in his affaires, because that is his portion. For who shall bring him to see what shall be after him?

6 Wherefore I wepted the dead which now are dead, aboue the liuing, which are yet aliue.

7 And I count him better then them both, which hath not yet bene : for he hath not seene the euill woikde which are wrought vnder the sunne.

8 Also I beheld all traualle, and all persection of woikde, that this is the enuie of a man against his neighbour : this also is vanitie and vexation of spirit.

When man hath all labour, he can get no more then food, and refreshing, yet hee considereth also that this cometh of Gods blessing, as Chap. 3. 13. g Meaning, to pleasures.

He speaketh of this diuersitie of time for two causes, first to declare that there is nothing in this worlde perpetuall : next to teach vs not to be prouided, if we haue not all things at once according to our desires, neither enjoy them so long as we would will. b Reade Chap. 1. 11. c God hath giuen vs a desire, and affection to seeke out the things of this world, and to labour therein. d Reade Chap. 2. 24. and these places declare that we shoulde do all things with sobrietie, and in the feare of God, forasmuch as he giueth not his gifts to yntermeddle that they shoulde be abused. e That is, man shall neuer be able to le: Gods woikde, but as he hath determined, so it shall come to passe. f God only can see that, which is past, present,

18 What is that that hath bene: the name thereof is now named: and it is known that it is man: and he cannot sceme with him that is stronger then he.

19 And if hee had liued a thousand peeres wise tolde, and had forme no good, shall not all goe to one place?

20 All the labour of man is for his mouth: yet the soule is not filled. For what hath the wise man more then the fool? what hath the poore that knoweth how to walke before the liuing?

21 The sight of the eye is better then to walke in the lutes: this also is vanitie, and vberation of spirit.

22 What is that that hath bene: the name thereof is now named: and it is known that it is man: and he cannot sceme with him that is stronger then he.

23 And if hee had liued a thousand peeres wise tolde, and had forme no good, shall not all goe to one place?

24 All the labour of man is for his mouth: yet the soule is not filled. For what hath the wise man more then the fool? what hath the poore that knoweth how to walke before the liuing?

25 The sight of the eye is better then to walke in the lutes: this also is vanitie, and vberation of spirit.

26 What is that that hath bene: the name thereof is now named: and it is known that it is man: and he cannot sceme with him that is stronger then he.

27 And if hee had liued a thousand peeres wise tolde, and had forme no good, shall not all goe to one place?

28 All the labour of man is for his mouth: yet the soule is not filled. For what hath the wise man more then the fool? what hath the poore that knoweth how to walke before the liuing?

29 The sight of the eye is better then to walke in the lutes: this also is vanitie, and vberation of spirit.

30 What is that that hath bene: the name thereof is now named: and it is known that it is man: and he cannot sceme with him that is stronger then he.

31 And if hee had liued a thousand peeres wise tolde, and had forme no good, shall not all goe to one place?

32 All the labour of man is for his mouth: yet the soule is not filled. For what hath the wise man more then the fool? what hath the poore that knoweth how to walke before the liuing?

33 The sight of the eye is better then to walke in the lutes: this also is vanitie, and vberation of spirit.

34 What is that that hath bene: the name thereof is now named: and it is known that it is man: and he cannot sceme with him that is stronger then he.

35 And if hee had liued a thousand peeres wise tolde, and had forme no good, shall not all goe to one place?

11 Be not thou of an hasty spirit to be angry: for anger retereth in the bosome of fools.

12 Say not thou, Why is it that the former dayes were better then these: for thou dost not inquire wisely of this thing.

13 Wisdom is good with an imperitance, and excellent to them that see the sunne.

14 For man shall rest in the shadow of wisdom, & in the shadow of flouer: but the excellencie of the knowledge of wisdom giveth life to the possessor thereof.

15 Behold the worke of God: for who can make straight that which he hath made crooked?

16 In the day of welth be of good comfort, and in the day of affliction consider: God also hath made this contrary to that, to prevent that man should find nothing after him.

17 I have seene all things in the dayes of my vanitie: there is a time man that periseth in his iustice, and there is a wicked man that continueth long in his malice.

18 Be not thou iust overmuch, neperther make thy selfe overwise: wherefore shouldest thou be desolate?

19 Be not thou wicked overmuch, neperther be thou foolish: wherefore shouldest thou perish not in thy time?

20 It is good that thou lay holde on this: but per with a we not thine hande from thy char: for he that feareth God, shall come forth of them all.

21 Wisdom shall strengthen the wise man more then een mightie princes that are in the citie.

22 Surely there is no man iust in party, free, that doeth good and sinneth not.

23 Gue not thine heart also to all the wayes that men speake, lest thou do heare thy seruant cursing thee.

24 For oftentimes also thine heart knoweth that thou likewise hast cursed as others.

25 All this have I proued by wisdom: I thought I will be wise, but it went farre from me.

26 It is farre off, what man it be: and it is a profound deepnes, who can finde it?

27 I have compassed about, both I and to reuine heart to knowe & to enquire and to search wisdom and reason, and to know the wickednes of folie, and the foolishnes of mindnesse.

28 And I finde more bitter then death the woman whose heart is as a snare, & her hands, as bands: he that is god them, before God, shall be deliuered from her, but the sinner shall be taken by her.

29 Behold, saith the preacher, this haue I found, seeking out by one to finde the count:

30 And yet my soule seeketh, but I finde it not: I haue founde one man of a thousand: but a woman among them all haue I not founde.

31 This is to come to a conclusion.

b Whereas be-

c That is, that

thou shalt make
for the same cause.
d With frowne

2 I aduertise thee to take heed to the mouth of the king, and to the word of the orye of God.

e That is, when

should obey.

3 Waste not to goe forth of his sight:
stand not in an euill thing: for he will doe
whatsoever pleaseth him.

f Man of him

ble, and therefore ought to do

crease the same,
but to worke all things by wis-
dome and coun-
sell.

4 Where the word of the king is, there is

doest thou?

g Man hath no
power to saue
his owne life, &
therefore must not rashly cast
himselfe into danger.

5 Hee that keepeth the commaundement,
shall know none euill thing, and the heart of the wise shall know the time & iudge-
ment.

h As cometh
oft times to tyrants, and wicked rulers.

6 For to euery purpose there is a time and iudgement, because the iudgement of man is great vpon him.

i That is, others
as wicked as they.

7 For he knoweth not that which shall be:
for who can tell him when it shall be?

k They that feared God, and worshipped him
according as he had appointed.

8 Man is not lord ouer the spirit: to returne the spirit: neyther hath he power in the day of death, nor deliuerance in the battell, neyther shall wickedness deliuer
the possessor thereof.

l Where iustice
is delayed, there
some reignei.

9 When this haue I seene, and haue giuen mine heart to euery worke, which is wrought vnder the sunne, and I haue a time that man ruleth ouer man to his owne hurt.

m Which are punished as though they were wicked,
as Chap. 7. 17.

10 And likewise I saw the wicked buried,
and they returned, and yet that came from the holy place, were yet forgotten in the citie where they had done right:
this also is vanitie.

n Reade Chap.
1. 11.

11 Because sentence against an euill worke is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the children of men is fully set in them to doe euill.

12 Though a sinner doe euill an hundred times, and God prolongeth his dayes, yet
I knowe that it shall bee well with them that feare the Lord, and doe reuerence before him.

13 But it shall not bee well to the wicked, neither shall he prolong his dayes: he shall like a shadowe, because he feareth not before God.

14 There is a vanitie, which is done vpon
the earth, that there be righteous men to whom it cometh according to the worke
of the wicked: and there be wicked men to whom it cometh according to the worke of the iust: I thought also that this is vanitie.

15 And I praised joy: for there is no goodnes to man vnder the sunne, saue to eate and to drinke and to reioyce: for this is adorned to his labour: the dayes of his life that God hath giuen him vnder the
sunne.

16 When I applied mine heart to knowe wisdom, and to behold the busines that is done on earth, that neyther day nor night the eyes of man take sleepe,

17 Then I beheld the whole worke of God,
that man can not find out the worke that is wrought vnder the sunne: for which man labourerh to seeke it, & can not finde it: yea, and though the wise man thinke to knowe it, he can not finde it.

C H A P. IX.

1 By no outward thing can man knowe whom God
loseth or hateth. 12 No man knoweth his end. 16
Vniuersall excellēt strength.

1 I haue surely giuen mine heart to all this, and to declare all this, that the iust, and the wise, and their workes are in the hande of God: and no man knoweth either lone or hatred of all that is before them.

2 All things come alike to all: and the same condition is to the iust and to the wicked, to the good and to the pure, and to the polluted, and to him that sacrificeth, and to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good,
so is the sinner, yea that sweareth, as hee
that feareth an othe.

3 This is euill among all that is done vnder
the sunne, that there is one condition on to all, and also the heart of the sinner is full of euill, and madness is in the godly: their heartes while they liue, and after that, they go to the dead.

4 Surely whosoever is turned to all this,
there is hope: for it is better to a li-
uing dog, then to a dead lion.

5 For the liuing knoweth that they shall die,
but the dead know nothing at all: neither haue they any more a rewarde: for their remembrance is forgotten.

6 Vnto their loue, and their hatred, & their enemie is now perished, and they haue no more portion for euer, in all that is done
vnder the sunne.

7 Go, eat thy bread with ioy, and drinke thy wine with a cheerefull heart: for God
now accepteth thy workes.

8 At all times let thy garments be white,
and let not oyle bee lacking vpon thine
head.

9 Reioyce with the wife whome thou hast loued all the dayes of the life of thy vanitie, which God hath giuen thee vnder
the sunne all the dayes of thy vanitie: for vile perishe in this life, and in the travell wherewith thou labourst vnder the sunne.

10 All that thy hand shall find to do, do it with all thy power: for there is neyther worke nor invention, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, nor grace with her that goeth
in abundance, neither yet fauour to men of knowledge: but time and chance cometh to them all.

11 Speake the wicked bellie gods. Ecce, regard the life.
Thus the worldlings say to proue that all things are done by the providence of God.

That is, he doth not forget
that that come.

12 For neither doeth man know his time,
but as the fishes which are taken in anes
will net, and as the birdes that are caught in the snare: so are the children of men snared in the evil time when it saileth by on them suddenly.

13 I haue also scene this wisdom under the sunne, and it is great vnto me.

14 A litle citie and fewe men in it, & a great king came against it, and compassed it as sieur, and builded fortres against it.

15 And there was founde therein a poore
and wise man, and he deliuered the citie
by his wisdom: but none remembred
this poore man.

16 Then said I, Better is wisdom then strength: yet the wisdom of the poore is despised, and his words are not heard.

17 The wordes of the wise are more heard in quietnes, then the cry of him that risseth among foolles.

18 Better is wisdom then weapons of war: but one sinner destroyeth much good.

CHAP. X.

1 The difference of foolishnes and wisdom. 11 A flanderer is like a serpent that can not bee charmed.
16 Offishish King, and drunken prince, 17 And of good Kings and princes.

1 Dead flies cause to stinke, and putrefie
the opintment of the aporicarie: so doeth a litle folle him that is in estimation for wisdom, and for glory.

2 The heart of a wise man is at his right hand: but the heart of a foole is at his left hand.

3 And also when a foole goeth by the way,
his heart faileth, and he p^retelseth vnto all that he is a foole.

4 If the spirit of him that ruleth, rple up against thee, leane not thy place: for gentlenes pacifieth great sinnes.

5 There is an euill chat I haue scene under the sunne, as an error that p^rocedeth
from the face of him that ruleth.

6 Folle is set in great excellencie, and the rich set in the lowe place.

7 I haue scene seruants on horses, & princes walking as seruants on the ground.

8 He that biggeth a pit, shall fall into it,
and he that breaketh the hedge, a serpent
shall bite him.

9 He that reasoneth stones, shall hurt him
selfe thereby, and hee that cittereth wood,
shall be in danger thereof.

10 If the p^rion be blunt, and one hath not whet the edge, he must then p^rnt to more strength: but the excellencie to direct a thing is wisdom.

11 If the serpent bite, when he is not charmed: no better is a babler.

12 The wordes of the mouth of a wise man
haue grace: but the lips of a foole deuoure himselfe.

13 The beginning of the wordes of his mouth is foolishnes, and the latter end of his mouth is locked madnes.

14 For the foole multiplieth wordes, saying,
I knowe more then what shall be: and who can tell him what shall be after him?

15 The labour of a foolish doth weary him:
for he knoweth not to go into the s^till.

16 Doe to thee, O land, when thy king is a child, and thy princes eat in the moyning.

17 Blessed art thou, O lande, when thy king is the sonne of nobles, & thy princes eat in time, for strength and not for drunkennes.

18 By slothfulnesse the rooffe of the house
goeth to decay, and by the plene of the hands the house diuopeth through.

19 They prepare bread for laughter, and wine comforteth the lining, but siner an-swereth to all.

20 Curse not a king, nor not in thy thought,
neither curse the rich in thy bed chamber:
for the soule of the poore shall cry the vopce, and that which hath wings shall decate the matter.

CHAP. XI.

1 To be liberal to the poore. 4 Not to doubt of Gods providence. 8 All worldly prosperitie is but vani-
tie. 9 God will iudge all.

1 Cast thy bread vpon the waters: for after many dayes thou shalt finde
it.

2 Give a portion to seven, & also to eight:
for thou knowest not what euill shall bee
vpon the earth.

3 If the cloudes be full, they will poure forth raine vpon the earth: and if the tree doe fall toward the South, or toward the North, in the place that the tree saileth,
there it shall be.

4 He that obserueth the windes, shall not sow, and he that regardeth the cloudes, shall not reape.

5 Whether knowest not which is the way of the spirit, nor how the bones doe growe
in the wombe of her that is with childe, sa thou knowest not the woike of God
that woiketh all.

6 In the morning sowe thy seede, and in the evening let not thine hands rest: for thou knowest not whether shall prosper this, or that, or whether both shall be like good.

7 Surely the light is a pleasant thing: and it is a good thing to the eyes to see the sunne.

8 Though a man line many yeeres, and in them all he remoue, yet he shall remember the dayes of darkness, because they are many, all that cometh is vanitie.

9 Reioyce, O yong man, in thy youth, and let thine heart cheere thee in the dayes of thy youth: & walke in the wapes of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but knowe that for all these things, God will bring thee to indignation.

10 Therefore take away griefe out of thine heart, and cause enill to depart from thy flesh: for childhood and youth are vanitie.

11 To we, anger, and enuie, & Maning, carnall lustes whereunto youth is giuen.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN this Song, Salomon by most sweete and comfortable allegories and parables describeth the perfit loue of Iesus Christ, the true Salomon and king of peace, and the faithfull soule or his Church, which he hath sanctified and appointed to be his spouse, holy, chaste, and without re-prehension. So that here is declared the singular loue of the bridegrome towards the bride, and his great and excellent benefices wherewith hee doeth enrich her of his pure bountie and grace without any of her desertings. Also the earnest affection of the Church which is inflamed with the loue of Christ, desiring to be more and more joynted to him in loue, and not to be forsaken for any spot or blemish that is in her.

CHAP. I.

Church. 2 The damnable enemies that persecute the Church.

all is vanitie.

9 And the more wise the preacher was,
the more he taught people knowledge,
and caused them to heare, and searched
forth, and prepared many parables.

10 The preacher sought to finde out pleasant wordes, and an vniuersall writing,
even the wordes of truth.

11 The wordes of the wise are like goads,
and like naples: fastned by the masters of the assemblies, which are giuen by one pastour.

12 And of other things besides these,
my sonne, take thou heede: for there is none ende in making many bookes, and much reading is a wearinesse of the flesh.

Christ speake to his Church, bidding them that are ignorant, to go to the pallours to learne.
 7 For thy spirit will beate and excite thee, there was no worldly treasure to be compared vnto thee.
 8 The Church sayeth that she is admitted to the companie of Christ.
 9 He shall be most deere vnto me.
 10 Christ accepteth his Church, he commendeth her beate.
 11 That is, the heart of the faithfull wherein Christ dwelleth by his spirit.

CHAP. II.

3 The Church desireth to rest vnder the shadowe of Christ. 8 She heareth his voice. 14 She is compared to the dore. 15 And the men to the fowls.

1 Thou Christ preferrest his Church above all other things.
 2 The spouse respecteth her great desire toward her husband, but her strength faileth her, & therefore she desireth to be comforted, and felt.
 3 Christ chargeh them which haue sold in the church, as it were by a holme oke, I they croule not the quicenes thereof.
 4 This is spoken of Christ, who tooke vpon him our nature to come to helpe his Church.
 5 Forasmuch as his Church was his deare, he will vnder the shilde of our flesh.
 6 So that we can knowe full knowledge of him in this life.
 7 That is, faith and charite is drawn backe by the coming of Christ, which is here described by the spring time, when all things flourish.

11 If thou knowest not, O thou the fairest among women, get thee forth by the steps of the flocke, and seeke thy kiddes by the tents of the shepheards.
 12 I haue compared thee, O my loue, to the troupe of horses in the chariots of Pharaon.
 13 Thy cheekes are comely with rosetes of flowers, and thy necke with chaynes.
 14 We will make thee borders of gold with studdes of silver.
 15 Whiles the King was at his repast, my spikenard gaue the smell thereof.
 16 My welbeloued is as a bundle of myrrhe vnto mee: hee shall lye betwene my breasts.
 17 My welbeloued is as a cluster of camphire vnto me in the vniuers of Engedi.
 18 My loue, beholde, thou art: saye: hee holde, thou art saye: thine eyes are like the dowers.
 19 My welbeloued, beholde, thou art faire and pleasant: also our bed is greene.
 20 The beames of our house are cedars, our rafters are of firs.

k The Church desireth Christ to be most ready to helpe her in all dangers.

CHAP. III.

1 The Church desireth to be rayned in spiritally to Christ her husband. 6 Her fulminance out of the wilderness.

1 I my bed by night I sought him that my soule loued: I sought him, but I found him not.
 2 I will rise before now, and go about in the cities, by the streetes and by the open places, & will seeke him that my soule loueth: I sought him, but I found him not.
 3 The watchmen that went about the citie, found me: whom I sayde, haue you seene him, whom my soule loueth?
 4 When I had past a little fro them, then I found him whom my soule loued: Iooke on him and left him not, till I had brought him vnto my mothers house: to the chamber of her that conceived me.
 5 I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalem, by the roses and by the hedges of the field, that ye stirre not by, nor waken my loue until the pleafe.
 6 Who is shee that cometh by out of the wilderness, like pillars of smoke perfumed with myrrhe and succense, and with all the spices of the marchant?
 7 Beholde his bed, which is Salomons: his chamber strong men are round about it, of the valliant men of Israel.
 8 Then all handle the sword, & are expert in warre, every one hath his sword bygon his thigh for the feare.
 9 King Salomon made himselfe a palace of the trees of Lebanon.
 10 He made the pillars thereof of silver, the parauent thereof of golde, the hangings thereof of purple, whose mid was paved with the loue of the daughters of Ierusalem.
 11 Come forth, ye daughters of Zion, and beholde the King Salomon with the crowne, wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his marriage, and in the day of the gladnes of his heart.

1 The priests of the Church. 7 She is without blemish because Christ is his light. 9 The loue of Christ is in her.

1 Beholde, thou art: faire, my loue: be comely, thou art faire: thine eyes are methinks like the dowers: among thy locks thine is like.

b He hath respect to the multitude of faithfull, which are many in a nobel.

heare is like the flocke of goates, which looke downe from the mountaine of Sion.

2 The teeth are like a flock of sheepe in good order, which goe by from the washing: which enery one bring out twinnies, and none is barren among them.

3 The lips are like a rhynde of scarlet, and the talk is comely: the lips are as a pomegranate.

4 The necke is as the towre of David built for defence: a thousand sheldes hang therein, and all the targats of the strong men.

c Wherein are knowledge, and reale, two precious jewels.

5 The two breastes are as two pong roses that are twinnies, feeding among hilles.

6 Until the day breake, and the shadowes flee away, I will go into the mountaine of myrthe, and to the mountaine of incense.

7 Thou art all faire, my loue, and there is no spot in thee.

d Christ premised his Church to call his faithfull from all the corners of the worlde.

8 Come with mee from Lebanon, my spouse, even with mee from Lebanon, and looke from the top of Amanah, from the toppe of Shenir and Hermon, from the denues of the Lyons, and from the mountaines of the leopards.

e Christ calleth his Church sister in respect that he had taken the flesh of man.

9 My sister, my spouse, thou hast wounded mine heart: thou hast wounded mine heart with one of thine eyes, and with a chaine of thy necke.

f In that he made his church beautifull and rich, he loved his gistes in her.

10 My sister, my spouse, howe faire is thy loue: howe much better is thy loue then wine: and the fauour of thine ornaments then all spices?

g Because of thy confession and shankespaing.

11 The lips are as a bed of spires, as a honey combe: honie and milke are under thy toungue, and the fauour of thy garments is as the fauour of Lebanon.

16 Arise, & blowe on my garden that the spices thereof may flowe out: let my welbeloued come to his garden, and eate his pleasant fruites.

CHAP. V.

1 Christ calleth his Church to the participation of all his treasures, & she heareth his voice, & she confesseth her nakednes, & she prayeth Christ her husband.

a The garden significth the kingdom of Christ, where he preparerth the banquet for his elect.

1 I am come into my garden, my sister, my spouse: I gathered my myrthe with my spices: I ate mine honey combe with mine honie, I dranke my wine with my myrthe: eate, & friends, drinke, and make me merry, & welbeloued.

b The spouse saith she is troubled with the cares of worldly things, which is meant by sleeping.

2 I sleepe, but mine heart waketh, it is the voyce of my welbeloued that knocketh, saying, Open unto me, my sister, my loue, my dove, my undefiled: for mine head is full of dewe, and my lockes with myrrhe.

the dayes of offe night.

3 I have put off my coat, howe shall I put it on? I have washed my feet, howe shall I dresse them?

4 My welbeloued put in his hande by the hole of the doore, and mine heart was affectioned toward him.

5 I rose up to open to my welbeloued, and mine hands did drop downe myrrhe, and my fingers pure myrrhe upon the panels of the barre.

6 I opened to my welbeloued: but my welbeloued was gone, & past: mine heart was gone when he did speake: I sought him, but I could not finde him: I called him, but he answered me not.

7 The watchmen that went about the cite, found me: they smote me & wounded mee: the watchmen of the walles tooke away my baple from me.

8 I charge pon, & daughters of Jerusalem, if you finde my welbeloued, that you tell him that I am sick of loue.

9 The fairest among women, what is thy welbeloued more then other welbeloued? what is thy welbeloued more then another loue, & then dost thou charge us?

10 My welbeloued is white and ruddie, the chiefe of ten thousand.

11 His head is as fine gold, his lockes curled, and blacke as a raven.

12 His eyes are like dones upon the riuers of waters, which are washed with milke, and remaine by the full vessels.

13 His cheekes are as a bed of spires, & as sweete flowers, and his lips like hilles dropping downe pure myrthe.

14 His handes as rings of golde set with chrysolite, his bellie like white yorie couered with sapphire.

15 His legges are as pillars of marble, set upon lockets of fine gold: his countenance as Lebanon, excellent as the cedars.

16 His mouth is as sweete things, and he is wholely desirable: this is my welbeloued, and this is my loue, & daughters of Jerusalem.

17 The fairest among women, whither is thy welbeloued gone? whither is thy welbeloued turned aside, that we may seeke him with thee?

CHAP. VI.

1 The Church asseureth her selfe of the love of Christ, how to find him.

2 The prayes of the Church, & she is but one and undefiled.

3 My welbeloued is gone downe into his garden to the beddes of spices, to feede in the gardenes, and to gather hies.

4 I am my welbeloued, and my welbeloued is mine, who feedeth among hilles.

5 Thou art beautifull, my loue, as a faire city, comely as Jerusalem, terrible as an armed towne with battiers.

6 Turne away thine eyes fro me: for they overcome me: thine heare is like a flocke of goates, which looke down from Gilad.

THE ARGUMENT.

GOD, according to his promise, Deut. 18. 15. that hee would never leave his Church destitute of a Prophet, hath from time to time accomplished the same: whose office was not onely to declare unto the people the things to come, whereof they had a speciall revelation, but also to interpret and declare the Lawe, and so to apply particularly the doctrine contained briefly therein,

to the

to the vilitie and profie of those, to whom they thought it chiefly to appertene, and as the time and state of things required. And principally in the declaration of the Lawe they had respect to three things, which were the ground of their doctrine: First to the doctrine contained briefly in the two tables: secondly to the promises and threatnings of the Law: and thirdly to the covenant of grace and reconciliation grounded vpon our Sauour Iesus Christ, who is the ende of the Lawe. Whereunto they neither added nor diminished, but faithfully expounded the sense and meaning thereof. And according as God gaue them vnderstanding of things, they applied the promises particularly for the comfort of the Church and the members thereof, and also denounced the menaces against the enemies of the same: not for any care or regard to the enemies, but to assure the Church of their safeguard by the destruction of their enemies. And as touching the doctrine of reconciliation, they haue more clearly intreated it then Moses, and set forth more lucly Iesus Christ, in whom this covenant of reconciliation was made. In all these things Isaiah did excell all the Prophets, and was most diligent to set out the same, with most vehement admonitions, reprobations, and consolations: seuer applying the doctrine, as he saw that the disease of the people required. He declareth also many notable prophecies which hee had receiued of God, as touching the promises of the Messiah, his office, and his kingdome. Also of the fauour of God toward his Church, the vocation of the Gentiles, & their vniou with the Iewes. Which are as most principall pointes contained in this booke, and a gathering of his sermons that he preached. Which after certaine daies that they had stand vpon, on the Temple doore (for the manner of the Prophets was to set vp the summe of their doctrine for certaine daies that the people might the better marke it as Isa. 8.1. and Habak. 2.2.) the Priestes tooke it downe and referred it among their registers: and so by Gods providence these booke were preferred as a monument to the Church for ever. As touching his person and time, he was of the kings stocke (for Amoz his father was brother to Azariah king of Iudah, as the best writers agree) and prophesied more then 64. yeeres from the time of Vaziah vnto the reigne of Manasseh, whose father in lawe he was (as the Hebrewes write) and of whom he was put to death. And in reading of the Prophets this one thing among other is to be obserued, that they speake of things to come as though they were nowe past, because of the certaintie thereof, and that they could not but come to passe, because God had ordeined them in his secret counsell, and so reucaled them to his Prophets.

CHAP. I.

- 1 Isaiah reproveth the Iewes of their ingratitude and stubbornesse, that neither for benefites nor punishments would amend. 11 He sheweth why their sacrifices are refused, and wherem Gods true service standeth. 24 He prophesieth of the destruction of Ierusalem. 25 And of the resurrection thereof.

a That is, a revelation or prophetic, which was one of the two means, whereby God declared himselfe to his seruants in old time, as Nomb. 12.6. and therefore the Prophets were called Seers, 1 Sam. 9.9. b Isaiah was chiefly sent to Iudah & Ierusalem, but not one-ly for in this booke are prophecies concerning other nations also.

- 1 Vision of Isaiah, the same of Amoz, which he saw concerning Iudah and Ierusalem: in the daies of Vaziah, Iosatham, Ahaz & Hezekiah kings of Iudah. 2 Hearce, & hearken, & hearken, & hearken: for the Lord hath said, I haue nourished and brought vp children, but they haue rebelled against me. 3 The Lord knoweth his owner; & the afflictor his masters cribbe, but Israel hath not known: my people hath not vnderstand. 4 Ah, sinful nation, a people laden with iniquitie: a seed of the wicked, corrupt children: they haue forsaken the Lord: they haue provoked the holp one of Israel to anger: they are gone backeward. 5 Wherefore should hee see a smitten any more? for hee see fall away more and more:

^h That they may acknowledge their finnes and turne to him.

ⁱ He sheweth the fruit of the peace, which the Gospel should bring: to wit, that men should doe good one to another, whereas before they were enemies.

^k Hee speaketh not against the vse of weapons and lawfull warre, but sheweth how the heartes of the godly shall bee affected one toward another: which peace and loue doeth begin and growe in this life, but shall be perfected, when we are ioynd with our head Christ Iesus.

^l Seeing the Gentiles will be so rastle, make you haile and shewe them the way to worship God.

^p The Prophet first condemneth their superstition and idolatrie: next their couetousnes, and thirdly, their vaine trust in worldly meanes.

n He noteth the nature of the idolaters, which are neuer satisfied in their superfluities.

r Thus the Prophet saith, being inflamed w the zeale of Gods glory, and that he might feare them with Gods iudgement.

f Meaning, as soone as God shal begin to execute his iudgements.

e By high trees and mountaines are meant them that are proude, and loffie, and thinke themselves most strong in this world.

w He condemneth their vaine confidence, which they had in strong holdes & in their riches & in their merchandise, which brought in vaine pleasures, wherewith mens mindes became effeminate.

9 And a man bowed himselfe, and a man humbled himselfe: therefore I spare them not.

10 Enter into the rocks, & hide thee in the dust from before the feare of the Lord, and from the glory of his maiestie.

11 The hee looker of man shalbe humbled: & the loftines of men shalbe abased, and the Lord onely shalbe exalted in that day.

12 For the day of the Lord of hostes is upon all the ypponde & hautie, & vpon all that is exalted: and it shalbe made lowe.

13 Euen vpon all the cedars of Lebanon, that are hee and exalted, and vpon all the oaks of Bashan.

14 And vpon all the high mountaines, & vpon all the hills that are lifted vp.

15 And vpon euery high tower, and vpon euery strong wall.

16 And vpon all the ships of Tarshish, & vpon all pleasant pictures.

17 And the hauntnesse of men shalbe brought lowe, and the loftinesse of men shalbe abased, and the Lord onely shal be exalted in that day.

18 And the idoles will he utterly destroy.

19 Then they shal go into the holes of the rocks, & into the caues of the earth, from before the feare of the Lord, and from the glorie of his maiestie, when hee shal arise to destroy the earth.

20 At that daye shall man cast away his silver idoles, and his golde idoles (which they had made themselves to worshippe them): to the moones and to the backes.

21 To go into the holes of the rocks, and into the caues of the ragged rocks, from before the feare of the Lord, and from the glorie of his maiestie, when hee shal arise to destroy the earth.

22 Craise pon from the man whose breath is in his nostrils: for wherein is he to be esteemed?

y Call off your vaine confidence of man, whose life is so frayle, that if his nose be stopped, he is dead, & consider that you haue to do with God.

CHAP. III.

1 For the sinne of the people God will take away the wisdom, and giue them foolish princes. 14 The courtousness of the gouernours. 16 The pride of the women.

1 For so, the Lord God of hostes will take away from Ierusalem a from Iudah the stay, and the strength: euen all the stay of bread, and all the stay of water.

2 The strong man, and the man of warre, the iudge and the prophet, the prudent and the aged.

3 The captaine of fiftie, and the honourable, and the counsellor, and the cunning artifice, and the eloquent man.

4 And I will appoint children to be their princes, and babes shal rule ouer them.

5 The people shall bee oppressed one of another, & euery one by his neighbour: the children shal presume against the ancient, and the vile against the honourable.

6 When euery one shal take holbe of his brother of the house of his father, and say, Thou hast clothing: thou shalt bee our prince, & let this fall be vnder thine hand:

7 In that daye shall I sweare, saying, I cannot be an helper: for there is no bread in mine house, nor clothing: therefore make me up ynnie of the people.

8 Doubtes Ierusalem is fallen, and Iudah is fallen downe, because their tongue and wopkes are against the Lord, to prouoke the eyes of his glorie.

9 The trial of their countenance resisteth against them, yea, they declare their sinnes, as Sodom: they hide them not. Where bee vnto their loules: for they haue rewarded euill vnto themselves.

10 I say ye, Surely it shalbe wel with the iust: for they shal eate the fruite of their workers.

11 Where be the wicked, it shalbe euill with him: for the rewards of his handes shal be giuen him.

12 Children are captiues of their people, and women haue rule ouer them: I say people, they that leade thee, cause thee to erre, & destroy the way of thy pathes.

13 The Lord standeth vp to pleade, yea, he standeth to iudge the people.

14 The Lord shal enter into iudgement with the wickednes of his people and the pynnes thereof: for ye haue eaten by the vineyard: the people of the poore is in your houses.

15 What haue ye to doe, that ye brate my people to pieces, & maid grinde the faces of the poore, sayth the Lord, euen the Lord of hostes?

16 The Lord also sayeth, Because the daughters of Zion are hautie, and walke with stretched out neckes, and with wandering eyes, walking and singing as they go, and making a tinkling with their feete.

17 Therefore shal the Lord make the headres of the daughters of Zion bald, and the Lord shal discover their secret pates.

18 In that daye shal the Lord take away the ornament of the suppers, and the calles, and the round tierce,

19 The swete balles, and the byacclets, & the boumets.

20 The tyres of the head, and the shoppes, and the head bands, and the tabrets, and the earrings.

21 The rings and the muskers,

22 The colly apparel and the balles, and the wimples, and the crisping pynnes,

23 And the glasses, and the fine linnen, preferred it, according to their desire. m That is, ye doe all crueltie against them. n He meneth the people, because of the arrogancie and pride of their women, which giue themselves to all wantonnesse and dissolution. o Which declared their pride. p As a signe, that they were not chaste. q Which shewed their wantonnesse. r They delired then in sinners that did creake, or had litle places sowed vpon them, which would they went.

and the hooes, and the saumes.

- 24 And in steade of sweete savour, there
shalbe stinke, & in steade of a girdle, a rent,
and in steade of girdling of the beare, baldnes, & in steade of a stomacher, a girding of sackcloth, and burning in steade of brairie.
25 Thy men shall fall by the swoorde, and thy strength in the barrill.
26 Then shall thy gates mourne and blaspheme, and thy being desolate, shall sit upon the ground.

beautiful and glorious, and the fruite of the earth shalbe excellent and pleasant for them that are escaped of Irael.

3 Then he that shall be left in Ierusalem, and he that shall remaine in Ierusalem, shall be called holy, and every one shall be a witnes among the living in Ierusalem.

4 When the Loyd shall walke the filthines of the daughters of Zion, and purge the blood of Ierusalem out of the middes thereof by the spirit of indignement, and by the spirit of burning.

5 And the Loyd shall create upon every place of mount Zion, and upon the assemblies thereof, a cloud and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for upon all the glory shall be a defence.

on shoulde appeare in every place. ⁱ The faithfull are called the glory of God, because his image, and tokens of his grace shine in them. ^k God promitteth to be the defence of his Church against all troubles and dangers.

CHAP. V.

- 1 Under the similitude of the vine he describeth the state of the people. 8 Of their auarice. 11 Their drunkennes. 13 Of their carpitie.

1 The Prophet
by this long
do let before
the peoples eyes
their iniquities, and Gods
mercy.

1 Now we will sing to our belovd a song of us belovd to his vineyard, which belovd had a vineyard in a very fruitful hill.

2 And he digged it, and gathered out the stones of it, and hee planted it with the best plants, and hee built a towne in the middes thereof, and made a vineyard therein: then hee looked that it should bring forth grapes: but it brought forth wild grapes.

3 Now therefore, inhabitants of Ierusalem and men of Iudah,udge, I pray
you, betwene me, and my vineyard.

4 What could I have done unto mine vineyard? I have not done unto it: wpp have I looked that it should bring forth grapes, and it bringeth forth wild grapes?

5 And now I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard: I will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be eaten by:
I will breake the wall thereof, and it shall be troden downe:

6 And I will lay it waste: it shall not be cutte, nor digged, but byers, and the ires shall growe up: I will also command the clouds that they raine no raine upon it.

7 Surely the vineyard of the house of Iosias is the house of Irael, and the men of Iudah are his pleasant plant, and hee looked for iudgement, but hee brought forth wickednesse, but hee brought a crying.

8 And unto the that is my house to house,
and lap field to field, all therefore no place,
that he may be placed by pour selmes in the middes of the earth.

9 This is mine earres, saith the Loyd of houses. Surely many houses shalbe desolate, even great and faire, without inhabitant.

10 For I will see acres of vines shall yeeld one bath, and the seed of an ephah shall yeeld an ephah.

11 And unto them, that rise by earth to followe drunkennes, and to them that continue until a night, all the wine doe inflame them.

12 And the harpe and viole, and pipe, & wine are in their feastes: but they regard not the voice of the Loyd, neither consider the worke of his hands.

13 Therefore my people is gone into captivity, because they had no knowledge,
and the glorie thereof are men famished,
and the multitude thereof is dyed by
with thirst.

14 Therefore he hath enlarged it self, and hath opened his mouth, without measure, and their glorie, and their multitude,
as their poyne, and hee that reproveth
among them, shall descende into it.

15 And man shall be brought downe, and man shall be humbled, even the eyes of the proude shall be humbled.

16 And the Loyd of houses shalbe exalted in indgement, and the help of God shalbe sanctified in iustice.

and excellent pleasures: but we all meane to prouoke to the same.
^r They regarde not the provident care of God over them, nor for what ende he hath created them. ^s That is, shall ceru-nely go: for so the Prophets use to speake, as though the thing which shall come to passe, were done already. ^t Because they would not obey the worde of God. ^u Meaning, the graue shall swallow vp them that shall die for hunger and thirst, and yet for all this great destruction it shall never be satiate.

 cart ropes:

19 Which say, Let him make speede: let him hasten his worke, that we may see it:
 and let the counsell of the help one of Israel by, we nere and come, that we may know it.

20 Woe unto them that speake good of will, and euill of good, which put backes nes for light, and light for darkness, that put bitter for sweete, & sweete for bitter.

21 Woe unto them that are wise in their owne eyes, & prudent in their owne sight.

22 Woe unto them that are wightie to drinke wine, and to them that are strong
 to powre in strong drinke:

23 Which iustifie the wicked for a reward,
 and take away the righteousness of the righteous from him.

24 Therefore as the flame of fire deuoureth
 the stubble, and as the chaffe is consumed of the flame: so their roare shalbe as rorenesse, and their dust shall rise up like dust, because they haue cast off the lawe of the Lord of hostes, and contemned the word of the holy one of Israel.

25 Therefore is the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and he hath stretched out his hand vpon them, and hath smitten them: then the monuments did tremble: and their carnelles were come in the muddes of the streets, and for all this his wrath was not turned away, but his hand was stretched out still.

26 And he will lift vp a signe vnto the nations as a scare, & will hide vnto them from the ende of the earth: and behold, they shall come backe with speede.

27 None shall say: I faint not: fall among them:
 none shall shudder nor sleepe, neither shall the girle of his loines be loosed, nor the lappet of his shames be broken.

28 Whose arrows shall be sharpe, and all his bowes bent: his horse hooves shalbe thought like flint, and his wherles like a whirlewinde.

29 His roaring shalbe like a lyon, & he shall roare like lions whelpes: they shall roare, and lap hold of the prey: they shall take
 it away, and none shall deliuer it.

30 And in that day they shall roare vpon them, as the roaring of the sea: and if they looke vnto the earth, behold dark-nesse, and fogwe, and the light shall be darkened in their time.

fore his plagues must come, till they begin to feele them. f He will make the Babylonians to come against them at his becke, and to fight vnder his standard. g He shalbe prompt, and lustie to execute Gods vengeance. h The enemy shall haue none implement. i Whereby is declared the crueltie of the enemy. k The Jewes shall finde no succour. l In the lande of Iudah.

CHAP. VI.

1 I sheweth his vocation by the vision of the di-mine maiestie. 9 He sheweth the oblatione of the people. 11 The destruction of the lande. 13 The summe of the vision.

1 In the peere of the death of king Ioyshiah, a God
 I laboure also the Lord sitting vpon an high throne, & lifted up, and the lower partes thereof filled the temple.

2 The Seraphims stood vpon it: euer
 one had six wings: with twaine he coured his face, and with twaine he coured his feete, & with twaine he did a fir.

3 And one cried to another, and said, Woe is holp, holp is the Lord of hostes: the whole world is full of his glorie.

4 And the lawels of p doze shakes in the dore of him that cryed, and p a house was filled with smoke.

5 Then I said, Woe is me: for I am vnidone, because I am a man of polluted lippen, and I dwell in the muddes of a people of polluted lippen: for mine eyes
 haue seen the king and Lord of hostes.

6 Then shew one of the Seraphims
 to me with an hore role in his hande, which he had taken from the altar with
 the tongs:

7 And he touched my mouth, and said, Lo,
 this hath touched thy lippen, and thine iniquitie shalbe taken away, & thy sinne in the loze
 shalbe purged.

8 Also I heard the doore of the Lord say, Light is set to
 ing, whome shall I send? & who shall go for vs? Then I said, Here am I, send me.

9 And he said, Goe, and say vnto this people, O ye shall heare in deede, but ye shall not vnderstand: ye shall plainly see, and not perceiue.

10 Spake the heart of this people far, make their eares heauie, & shut their eyes, lest they see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and vnderstande with their hearts, and conuert, and he shall them.

11 Then saide I, Lord, how long? And he answered, Until the cities be wasted without inhabitant, and the houses without man, and the lande be utterly desolate.

12 And the Lord hath remoued men farre away, and there be a great desolation in the muddes of the land.

h This oft repetition signifieth, that the holy Angels cannot suffice themselves in praising God, to teach vs that in all our should giue our selues to the continuall prayse of God. i His glorie doth not onely appeare in the heauen, but through all the world, and therefore all creatures are bound to prayse him.

k Which things were to confirme the Prophet, that it was the voyce of man: and by the smoke was signified the blasphemy that shoulde come vpon the leues. l He speaketh this for causes: the one, because he that was a mortall creature, & therefore had more neede to glorifie God then the Angels, did it not and the other, because the more nere that man approacheth to God, the more doeth he knowe his owne sinne and corruption.

m Of the burnt offerings, where the fire neuer went out. n This declareth that man can not render true obedience to God, all haue purged vs. o Whereby is declared that for the million of man God will not immediately take away his worlde, but he not learne thereby to obey his will, and be saved: hereby is 4 For before the childre shall haue knowledge to crie, My father, and my mother, I haue shall take awaye the riches of Damascus and the spoyle of Samaria, before the King of Asshur.

5 And the Lord spake yet againe vnto me, saying,

6 Because this people hath refused the waters of Shiloah that runne softly, and reioyce with Azzin, and the sonne of Kemaliah,

7 Therefore beholde, the Lord himselfe vpon them the waters of the River mightie and great, even the King of Asshur with all his glory, and hee shall come vp vpon all their rivers, and goe out all their banks,

9 Gather together on heapes, O peple, and ye shall bee broken in peeces, and hearken all ye of farre countreys: gird your selves, and you shall bee broken in peeces: gird your selves, and you shall bee broken in peeces.

10 Take counsel together, yet it shall bee brought to nought: pronounce a decree, yet shall it not stand: for God is with vs.

11 For the Lord spake thus to mee in taking of mine hand, and taught mee, that I should not walke in the waye of this people, saying,

12 Sayper not, a confederacie to all them, to whom this people sayeth a confederacie, neither feare you their feare, nor be afraide of them.

13 Sanctifie the Lord of hostes, & let him bee your feare, and let him be your dread.

14 And he shall bee as a Sanctuary: but as a stumbling stone, and as a rocke to fall vpon, to both the houses of Israel, and as a snare and as a net to the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

15 And many among them shall stumble, and shall fall, and shall be broken and shall be snared, and shall be taken.

18 Beholde, I and the children whom the Lord hath giuen me, are as signes and as wonders in Israel, by the Lord of hostes, which dwelleth in mount Zion.

19 And when they shall say vnto you, Enquire at them that haue a spirit of divination, and at the soothsayers, which whisper and murmur, Beholde not a people enquire at their God from the living to the dead?

20 To the Lawe, and to the testimonie, if they speake not according to this word; it is because there is no light in them.

21 Then he that is afflicted and famished, shall goe to and fro in it: and when hee shall bee hungry, hee shall euen eat him selfe, and curse his King and his gods, and shall looke vponward.

22 And when hee shall looke to the earth, at him be holbe trouble, & darkenesse, veracion and anguish, & he is dynen to darkenesse.

2 The people that walked in darkenesse, haue sene a great light: they that dwelt in the lande of the shadowe of death, vpon them hath the light shined.

3 Thou hast multiplied nation, & not increased their ioy: they haue reioyced because they haue increased their ioy in harvest, & which they sate as men reioyce whif they deuile a people, freed afterward.

He speaketh of the deliverance of his Church, which he hath delivered miraculously from his enemies, but specially by the coming of Christ, of whom he prophesieth in the next verse.

The author of enemies, and by whom the Church and every member thereof shall be preferred for ever, and have immortal life.

His singular love & care for his elect.

This is an other prophetic against them of Samaria, which were mockers and contemners of Gods promises and menaces.

We were weak, when the enemy overcame vs, but we will make our selves so strong, that we will neither care for our enemies, nor feare Gods threatenings.

Rezin king of Syria, who was in league with Israel, was slain by the Assyrians, after whole death, Aram, that is, the Syrians were against Israel, which on the other side were assailed by the Philistines.

with noise, & with tumbling of garnets in blood: but this shall be: with burning and devouring of fire.

For unto us a Child is borne, and unto us a Sonne is given: and the governement is upon his shoulder, and he shall call his Name Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The prince of peace.

The increase of his government & peace shall have none end: he shall sit upon the throne of David, & upon his kingdome, to order it, and to establish it with judgement and with justice, from hence forth, even for ever: the scale of the Royde of hostes will performe this.

The Royde hath sent a word unto Iahob, and it hath lighted upon = Iahob.

And all the people shall knowe, even Ephraim, and the inhabitant of Samaria, that say in the pride and presumption of the heart,

The briches are fallen, but we will binde it with heven stones: the wilde figge trees are cut downe, but we will change them into cedars.

Nevertheless the Royde will raise up the adversaries of = Rezin against him, and iopine his enemies together.

Krain before and the Philistines besinde, and they shall brounce Israel with open mouth: yet for all this his wyath is not turned away, but his hande is stretched out still.

For the people turneth not unto him that smiteth them, neyther doe they seek the Royde of hostes.

Therefore will the Royde cut off from Israel head and taple, branch and rully in one day.

The ancient and the honorable man, he is the head: and the prophet that teacheth lives, he is the taple.

For p leaders of the people cause them to erre: and they that are ledde by them, are denoured.

Therefore shall the Royde have no pleasure in their pong men, neither will hee have compassion of their fatherlesse and of their widowes: for every one is an hypocrite and wicked, and every mouth speaketh follie: yet for all this his wyath is not turned away, but his hande is stretched out still.

For wickedness burneth as a fire: it devoureth the byers and the thornes, and will kinde in the thicke places of the forest: and then shall mount up like the rising tip of smoke.

By the wyath of the Royde of hostes shall the land be darkened, and the people shall be as the meate of the fire: no man shall spare his brother.

And he shall snatche at the right hand, and be hungry: and he shall eat on the left hand, and shall not be satisfied: every one shall eat the flesh of his owne arme.

Spanasseth, Ephraim: and Ephraim shall destroy one another.

Their greediness shall be insatiable, so that one brother shall eat up another, as though he should eat his owne flesh.

Spanasseth, and then both shall be against Judah: yet for all this his wyath is not turned away, but his hande is stretched out still.

CHAP. XIII.

The Medes and Persians shall destroy Babylon.

The burden of Babel, which Isaiah the sonne of Amoz did see.
1 Lift up a Randarde upon his mountaine: lift up the voyce unto them: wagge the hand, that they may go into the gates of the nobles.
2 I have commanded them that I have sanctified: and I have called the mighty to my wrath, and therein shall they receive in my glory.
3 The noise of a multitude is in the moun-
4 taines, like a great people: a tumultuous voice of the kingdoms of the nations gathered together: the Loide of hostes nombreth the hoile of the battell.
5 They come from a farre countrey, from the ende of the heauen: even the Loide with the weapons of his wrath to destroy the whole land.
6 Howle thou, for the day of the Loide is at hande: it shall come as a destroyer from the Kingdome.
7 Therefore shall all handes be weakened, and all mens hearts shall melt.
8 And they shall be as rappe: anguish and sorow shall take them: and they shall haue paine, as a woman that travaileth: every one shall bee amazed at his neighbours, and their faces shall be like flames of fire.
9 Beholde the day of the Loide cometh, cruell, with wrath and fierce anger to lay the lande waste: and he shall destroy the sinners out of it.
10 For the barres of heauen and the planets thereof shall not give their light: the sunne shall be darkened in his going forth, and the moone shall not cause her light to shine.
11 And I will visite the wickednesse upon the wicked, and their iniquitie upon the wicked, and I will cause the arrogancie of the proud to cease, & will cast downe the pride of septians.
12 I will make a man more precious then fine golde, euen a man aboute the wedge of golde of Ephir.
13 Therefore I will shake the heauen, and the earth shall remouee out of her place in the wrath of the Loide of hostes, and in the day of his fierce anger.
14 And it shall bee as a chased doe, and as a sheepe that no man taketh by, every man shall turne to his owne people, and flee the one to his owne land.
15 Every one that is founde, shall be stricken through: and whosoever Iopneth him selfe, shall fall by the sworde.
16 Their children also shall be broken in pieces before their eyes: their houses shall be spoiled, and their waires ransacked.
17 Beholde, I will stirre up the Medes against them, which shall not regarde silver, nor be desirous of golde.
18 With bowes also shall they destroy the children, and shall haue no compassion upon the fruite of the wombe, and their eyes shall not spare the children.
19 And Babel the glory of kingdomes, the beautie and pride of the Chaldeans, shall bee as the destruction of Sodom, and Gomorrah.
20 It shall not be inhabited for ever, neyther shall it bee dwelled in from generation to generation: neither shall the Arabian pitch his tentes there, neyther shall the shepherdes make their foldes there.
21 But Zinn shall lodge there, and their houses shall bee full of thynn: Striches shall dwell there, and the Scarpies shall dwel there, and such like.
22 And fantasie.

e The armie of the Medes and the Persians against Babylon.
1 Ye Babylonians, grieve ye, for the day of the Loide is at hande: it shall come as a destroyer from the Kingdome.
2 Therefore shall all handes be weakened, and all mens hearts shall melt.
3 And they shall be as rappe: anguish and sorow shall take them: and they shall haue paine, as a woman that travaileth: every one shall bee amazed at his neighbours, and their faces shall be like flames of fire.

17 And fantasie.

23 And Inn shall ere in their palaces, and dragons in their pleasant palaces: and the time thereof is ready to come, and the dapes thereof that not be prolonged.

CHAP. X. 11111.

1 The returne of the people from captiuitie. 4 The death of the King of Babylon. 11 The death of the King. 29 The destruction of the Philistines.

1 For the Lorde will haue compassion of Iacob, and will per chise Iſrael, and cause them to rest in their owne land: and the stranger shall ioyne himselfe vnto them, and they shall cleaue to the house of Iacob.

2 And the people shall receive them and bring them to their owne place, and the house of Iſrael shall possesse them in the land of the Lorde, for seruantes & handmaidens: and they shall take them prisoners, whose captiues they were, & haue rule ouer their oppressours.

3 And in that day when the Lorde shall giue the rest from thy sorrow, and from thy feare, and from the sore bondage, wherein thou bidest serue,

4 Then shalt thou take vp this prouerbe against the king of Babel, and say, How hath the oppressor reled? and the golde thirle Babel reled?

5 The Lorde hath broken the robbe of the wicked, and the scepter of the rulers:

6 Which smote the people in anger with a continual plague, and ruled the nations in toytch: if any were persecuted, hee did not let.

7 The whole world is at rest & is quiet: they sing for ioy.

8 Also the fire trees reioyce of thee, and the cedars of Lebanon, saying, Since thou art laide downe, no fiewer came vp against vs.

9 Yet beneath is moued for thee to make thee at thy coming, rapsing up & dead for thee, even all the pyntes of the earth, and hath rased from their thrones all the kings of the nations.

10 All they shall crie, and say vnto thee, Art thou become wake also as we? art thou become like vnto vs?

11 Thy pompe is brought downe to the graue, and the sounde of thy viols: the woman is spread vnder thee, and the women couer thee.

12 How art thou fallen from heauen, Lucifer, sunne of the morning: and cut downe to the grounde, which bidest cast lottes vpon the nations?

13 Yet thou saydest in thine heart, I will ascende into heauen, and eralt my throne aboue beside the starres of God: I will sit also vpon the mount of the Congregation in the sides of the North.

14 In stead of thy costly carpets & coverings,

15 Thou that thoughtest thy selfe most glorious, and as it were placed in the heauen: for the morning starre, that goeth before the sunne, is called Lucifer, to whom Nebuchad-nezzar is compared.

16 Meaning, Ierusalem, whereof the Temple was on the North side, as Psalm. 48. 2. whereby hee meaneth that tyrantes fight against God, when they persecute his Church, and would set themselves in his place.

14 I will ascende aboue the height of the cloudes, and I will be like the most high.

15 But thou shalt be brought downe to the graue, to the sides of the pit.

16 They that see thee, shall looke vpon thee and consider thee, saying, Is this the man that said I will be like the most high, and that did shake the kingdomes?

17 He made the world as a wilderness, & destroyed the cities thereof, & opened not the house of his prisoners.

18 All the kings of the nations, even they all sleepe in glope, euery one in his owne house.

19 But thou art cast out of thy graue like the tapenut of those that are flame, and shalt show thyselfe with a sword, which goe downe to the stones of the pit, as a carkef troden bus der sette.

20 Thou shalt not be ioynd with them in the graue, because thou hast destroyed thine owne land, and flame thy people: the seede of the wicked shall not be renowned for ever.

21 Prepare a slaughter for his children, for the iniquitie of their fathers: let thine not rise vp nor possesse the land, nor fill the face of the world with enemies.

22 For I will rise vp against them (saith the Lorde of hostes) and will cut off from vengeance, Babel the name & the remnant and the sonne, and the nephew, sayth the Lorde.

23 And I will make it a possession to the hedgehog, and pooles of water, and I will sweep it with the besome of destruction, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

24 The Lorde of hostes hath sworne, saying, Surely like as I haue purposed, so the Assyrian shall it come to passe, and as I haue conceived, it shall stand:

25 That I will breake to pieces Asshur in my lande, and vpon my mountaines, when I tread him under foote: so that shall deliuer my pole shall depart from them, and his burden shall be taken from off their shoulders.

26 This is the counsell that is consulted vpon the whole world, and this is the hand stretched out ouer all the nations,

27 Because the Lorde of hostes hath determined it, and who shall disannull it? & his hande is stretched out, and who shall turne it away?

28 In the perre that King Nibaz dard, was this a burden.

29 Reioyce not, (thou whole of Palestina) because the robbe of him that did beate thee, is broken: for out of the serpentee roote shall come forth a cockatrice, and the fruite thereof shall be a spiee flying serpent.

30 For the first borne of the poore shall be fedde, and the needy shall hee downe in safetie: and I will kill thy roote with famine, and it shall flap thy remnant.

31 Howle, & gate, crie & crie: thou whole lande of Palestina art dissolved, for there shall come from the North a smoke, and none shall be alone, at his time appointed.

In maruelling at thee.

libertie: seeing his cruelty.

Thou wast not buried in the sepulchre of thy father, thy ramme was abhorred.

He calleth vnto the Medes and all those that execute Gods vengeance.

Or, terris.

As I haue begun to destroy, so the Assyrian I continue, and I will destroy them wholly, when I shall deliuer my pole from Babylon.

2 They shall answer, that the Lord doth defend his Church, and them that ioyne themselves therewith.

C H A P. XV.

A prophetic against Moab.

Read chap. 13. 1.

The chief cause, whereby the whole country was meant.

The Moabites shall see to their idoles for incour, but it shall be too late.

Which were cities of Moab. For as in the West partes the people vied to let their heare grow long, when they mourned, so in East partes they cut it off.

The Prophet speaketh this in the person of the Moabites, or as one that felt the great iudgement of God's should come vpon them.

Meaning, that it was a city that enuied in pleasure, and neuer felt sorrow.

He describeth the miserable dissipation and flight of the Moabites.

To hide them selves, and their goods there.

Of them that are slayne. I so that by no means they should scape the hande of God: thus will God punish the enemies of his Church.

That is, offer a sacrifice: whereby he denieth their delay, which would not repent, when the Lord called them, showing them that it is now too late, seeing the vengeance of God is vpon them.

There is no remedy, but you must see.

He sheweth what Moab should haue done, when Israel their neighbour was in affliction, to whom because they would give no shewe nor comfort, they are now left comfortlesse.

The Assyrians shall oppress the Israellites, but for a while.

32 What shall then one answer the messengers of the Gentiles? That the Lord hath established Zion, and the people of his people shall trust in it.

The burden of Moab. Surely the Re of Moab was destroyed, & brought to silence in a night: intire hair of Moab was destroyed, and brought to silence in a night.

He shall go up to the temple, and to Dibon to the high places to weep: for Jacob and for Sebeba shall Moab howle: vpon all the high places shall be baldnesse, and every beard shallauen.

In their streets shall they be girded with sackcloth: on the toppes of their houses, & in their streets every one shall howle, and come downe with weeping.

And Heihon shall cry, & Elealeh: their voice shall be heard vnto Jahas: therefore the warriors of Moab shall howle, the soule of every one shall lament in himself. Spine heart shall cry for Moab: his fugitives shall see vnto Zoar, & an herder of three peece ob: for they shall goe by with weeping by the mounting vp of Luhith: and by the wap of Bozraim they shall raise by a cry of destruction.

For the waters of Rimm shall be dryed by: therefore the graffe is withered, the herbes consumed, and there was no greene herbe.

Therefore what every man hath left, and their substance shall they beare to the brooke of the willowes.

For the cry went rounde about the borders of Moab: and the howling thereof vnto Eglaim, and the skrying thereof vnto Beer Elun.

Because the waters of Dimon shall full of blood: for I will bring more vpon Dimon, enim lions vpon him that escapeth of Moab, and to the remnant of the lande.

Of them that are slayne. I so that by no means they should scape the hande of God: thus will God punish the enemies of his Church.

C H A P. XVI.

The causes wherefore the Moabites are destroyed.

Send a lamb to a ruler of Idumea from the rocks of the wilderness, vnto the mountain of the daughter Zion. For it shall be as a bird that is fieth, and a nest forsaken: the daughters of Moab shall be at the fowdes of Idumea.

Gather a counsell, execute indigent: make thy shadow as the night in the midday: hide them that are chased out: bewayp not him that is fed.

Let us banished dwell with thee: Moab be thou their court from the face of the destroyer: for the extortioner shall guide:

He sheweth what Moab should haue done, when Israel their neighbour was in affliction, to whom because they would give no shewe nor comfort, they are now left comfortlesse. The Assyrians shall oppress the Israellites, but for a while.

the destroyer shall be consumed, and the oppressor shall cease out of the lande.

And in mercie shall the throne be prepared, and he shall sit vpon it in iustitias, in the tabernacle of David, iudging, and seeking iudgement, and having iustice.

We haue heard of the pride of Moab, (he is very pious) even his pride, & his arrogancie, and his indignation, but his lies shall not be so.

Therefore shall Moab howle vnto Moab: every one shall howle: for the foundations of Iair-harseth shall peimourne, yet they shall be striken.

For the vineyardes of Heihon are cut downe, & the vine of Sibmah: the lords of the heathen haue broken the principall vines thereof: they are come vnto Jaaser: they wounded in the wilderness: her goodly branches stretched out the sides, and went ouer the sea.

Therefore will I weep with the weeping of Jaaser, and of the vine of Moab, & Heihon: and Elealeh, I will make thee drinke with my teares, because vpon the summer fruites, and vpon thy harvest I haue howling to fallow.

And gladnesse is taken away, and top out of the plimfull field: and in the vineyardes shall be no singing nor shouting: for top: the reeder shall not treade wine in the wine presses: I haue caused the reioyng to cease.

Wherefore, my bowels shall sounde like an harp for Moab, & mine inward parts for Iair-harseth.

And when it shall appeare that Moab shall be wearie of his high places, then shall he come to his temple to pray, but he shall not be heard.

This is the worde that the Lord hath spoken against Moab since that time.

And now the Lord hath spoken, saying, In three peeces, as the peeces of an hireling, and the glorie of Moab shall be contained in al the great multitude, and the remnant shall be verie small and feeble.

seeke helpe of their idoles & all in vaine: for Chemosh their great god shall not be able to helpe them. He appointed a certaine time to punish his enemies in. Who will obserue iustly the time, for the which he is hyral, and krue no longer, but will ouer long for it.

C H A P. XVII.

A prophetic of the destruction of Damascus and E-phraim. 7. Calanitic month to represent war.

The burden of Damascus. Behold, a Rede Chap. 13. 1.

Damascus is taken away from being a citie, for it shall be a ruinous heap.

The cities of Aroer shall be forsaken: they shall be for the flocke: for they shall lie there, and none shall make them afraid.

The ministration also shall cease from Ephraim, and the kingdome from Damascus, and the remnant of Israel shall be as the glorie of the chambers of Israel.

declaring the destruction of these two Kings, of Syria and Israel, when as they had conspired the ouerthrow of Iudah. The un tribes gloried in their multitude, and alliance with other nations: therefore he sayth they shall be brought downe & the Syrians also.

Meaning, Christ.

Their vaine confidence, and proude bragges that deceiue them, as Ierem. 48. 1.

For all your mourning, yet the citie shall be destroyed, even vnto the foundations.

That is, the Assyrians, & other enemies.

Meaning, that the country of Moab was now destroyed, and all precious things thereof were carried into the borders, yea into other countries, and ouer the sea.

He sheweth that their plague was so great, that it would haue moved any man to lament with them, as Psal. 141. 5.

The enemies are come vpon thee, and thou art for ioy, when they carry thy commodities from thee, as Iere. 48.

For verie sorrowe and compassion.

They shall see all meanes to 1 He sheweth that the sea and the rivers shall be dried up, whereby they thought themselves most safe, should not be able to defend them from his anger, but that he would send a deluge among them, that should wipe them vnder the waters.

2 For Nilus ran into the sea by divers streames, so though they went to many rivers.

3 The Ebrove was in mouth, whereby they made a spring, out of the which the water gusheth as out of a mouth.

4 The Hebrews were described the definition of a country by taking wayes of the commoditie thereof, as by rice, fish, fish, and such other things, whereby answers are called.

5 And also famous cities.

6 The Hebrews were of Pharaoh's persuasion, whereby the king became wise, and night, and day, and was not wakened, and he feared his lawless, crying, lawless.

7 Of Memphis, then Alexandria, & now called the great Cair.

8 The principal cities thereof are the chiefest cause of their destruction.

9 The spirit of wisdom he hath made them drunken & giddy with the spirit of error. o Neither the great nor the small, the strong nor the weak.

10 Considering that through their occasion he loves made not God their defence, but put their trust in them, and were therefore now punished, they shall feare least he will put them to death.

11 Shall make one confession of faith, and profess to serve God right.

12 Meaning, of the service of GOD, and the first remaine in their hearts, and to the sixth part there should be but

1 Then the waters of the sea shall be capte, and the river shall be dried up, & waited.

2 And the rivers shall goe farre away: the rivers of defence shall be emptied and dried up: the reedes and flagges shall be cut downe.

3 The grasse in the river, and the head of the rivers, and all that groweth by the river, shall wither, and be gyven away, and be no more.

4 The fishers also shall mourne, and all they, that cast angle into the river, shall lament, and they that spread their net upon the waters, shall be wakened.

5 Moreover, they that worke in flaxe of divers sorts, shall be confounded, and they that weare nets.

6 For their nettes shall be broken, and all they that make poyndes, shall be shame in heart.

7 Surely the princes of Noan are fooles: the counsell of the wise counsellors of Pharaoh is become foolish: howe say ye vnto Pharaoh, I am the sonne of the wise: I am the sonne of ancient kings?

8 Where are now thy wise men, that they may tell thee, or may knowe what the Lorde of hostes hath determined as against Egypt?

9 The princes of Noan are become fooles: the princes of Egypt are deceived, they have deceived Egypt, even the corners of the cities thereof.

10 The Lorde hath mingled among them the spirit of error: and they have caused Egypt to erre in every worke thereof, as a drunken man erreth in his vomite.

11 Neither shall there be any worke in Egypt, which the head may doe, nor the caple, the branch nor the rush.

12 In that day shall Egypt bee like vnto women: for it shall be afrayde & feare because of the moorning of the hande of the Lorde of hostes, which he shaketh ouer it.

13 And the lande of Indal shall be a feare vnto Egypt: men one that maketh mention of it, shall be afrayde thereof, because of the counsell of the Lorde of hostes, which he hath determined, vpon it.

14 In that day shall fine cities in the land of Egypt: I speake the language of Canaan, and shall sweare by the Lorde of hostes: one shall be called the cite of destruction.

15 In that day shall the altar of the Lorde bee in the middes of the lande of Egypt, &

16 And a pillar by the border thereof vnto the Lorde.

17 And it shall be for a signe & for a witnesse vnto the Lorde of hostes in the land of Egypt: for they shall cry vnto the Lorde, because of the oppressors, and he shall send them a Saviour and a great man, and he shall deliuer them.

18 And the Lorde shall be knowne of the Egyptians, and the Egyptians shall knowe the Lorde in that day, and doe sacrifice and oblation, and shall bowe downe vnto the Lorde, and forsake them.

19 So the Lorde shall smite Egypt, hee shall smite and heale it: for he shall returne vnto the Lorde, and he shall be merciful vnto them, and he shall heale them.

20 In that day shall there bee a path from Egypt vnto Assyrie, and Assyrie shall come into Egypt, and Egypt into Assyrie: so shall the Egyptians shall worship the Assyrie.

21 In that day shall Israel bee the third with Egypt and Assyrie, even a blessing in the middes of the land.

22 For the Lorde of hostes shall bless it, saye the spirituall men. Blessed bee my people Egypt and service vnder Assyrie, the worke of mine handes, and Israel mine inheritance.

earth shall disclose her blood, and shall no more hide her shame.

CHAP. XXVII.

Apopheli against the kingdom of Sathan, 3 And of the joy of the Church for their deliverance.

a At the time appointed.
b That is, by his mightie power and by his word.
He prophesieth here of the destruction of Sathan & his kingdome vnder the name of Liliathan, Affur and Egypt.

c Meaning, of best wine, which is the vineyard, is the Church, should bring forth as most agreeable to the Lord.

d Therefore he will destroy the kingdom of Sathan, because he loveth his Church for his own mercies sake, & can not be angry with it, but willeth it may powre his anger vpon the wicked infidels, whom he meaneth by vipers & thornes.

e He marvleth that Israel will yet come by gentleness, except God make them to see his rods, & so bring them unto him.

f Though I afflict and diminish my people for a time, yet shall the roote spring againe and bring forth in great abundance.

g He sheweth that God punisheth his in mercie, and his enemies in iustice.

h That is, thou wilt not destroy the roote of thy Church, though the branches thereof seeme to perish by the shape vnder affliction.

i He sheweth that there is no true repentance, nor full reconciliation to God, till the heart be purged from all idolatrie, and the monuments thereof destroyed.

k Notwithstanding his favour that he will shewe them after, yet Ierusalem shall be destroyed, and graffe for cattell shall growe in it.

l God shall not have neede of mightie enemies: for the verie women shall doe it, to their great shame.

m Hee shall destroye all those Euphrates to Nilus: for same fled toward Egypt, thinking to have escape.

n That is, thou wilt not destroy the roote of thy Church, though the branches thereof seeme to perish by the shape vnder affliction.

one by one, children of Israel.

13 In that day also shall the great trumpet be blowne, and they shall come, which were perished in the land of Asshur: and they that were chased into the lande of Egypt, and they shall worship the Lord in the holy mount at Jerusalem.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Against the pride and drunkenness of Israel, 9 The unprofitableness of them that should learn the words of God, 24 God death all things in time and place.

W as to the crowne of pride, the dunhards of Ephraim: for his glorious beautie shall bee a fading of the valley of them that be fat, and are ouercome with wine.

2 Wherefore, the Lord hath a mightie and strong hoste, like a tempest of haile, and a whirlwinde that overthroweth, like a tempest of mightie waters that overfloweth, which shall overthrow the ground.

3 They shall be troben vnder foote, even ley of them that had abundance of worldly riches.

4 For his glorious beautie shall bee a fading flower, which is vpon the head of as it were, the valley of them that be fat, and as the bawle fruite afore summer, which when he that looketh vpon it, seeth it, while it is in his hand, he eateth it.

5 In that day shall the Lord of hostes bee for a crowne of glorie, and for a diademe of beautie vnto the residue of his people.

6 And for a spirit of iudgement to him that sitteth in iudgement, and for strength vnto them that turne away the battell to the gate.

7 But they have erred because of wyne, and are out of the way by strong drinke: the priest and the prophet haue erred by strong drinke: they are swallowed by wine: they haue gone astray through strong drinke: they faile in vision: they stumble in iudgement.

8 For all their tables are full of filthie vomiting: no place is cleane.

9 Whome shall hee teache knowledge, and whome shall hee make to vnderstande the things that hee heareth: them that are weined from the milke and bawle from the breasts.

10 For they shall be vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a little, and there a little.

11 For with a stammering tongue and with a strange language shall hee speake vnto this people.

12 Vnto whome hee saide, This is the

which is here meant by drunkenness and vomiting. For there was none that was able to vnderstande any good doctrine: they were foolish, and as vnnecesse as young babes. 1 They must haue one thing of times tolde. k Let one teache what hee can, yet they shall no more vnderstande him, then if hee spake in a strange language. l That is, the Prophet, whome God thought fit to send.

m This is the doctrine, whereupon ye ought to stay and rest.

1. Show to them that are weary and haue neede of reſt, what is the true reſt.

2. Becauſe they will not receiue the word of God when it is offered, it cometh of their owne malice, if after they haue beene ſo hardned, that they care not for it, as before, Chap. 69.

3. They thought they had buſies to aſſeſſe Gods iudgements, and that they could eſcape though al other perſhed.

4. Though the prophets condemned their idoles, vaine trifles, falſhood, and vaine, yet the wicked thought in themſelues that they would truſt in theſe things.

5. That is, Chriſt, by whom all the building muſt be tried, and vpholden, Phil. 1. 12. 1. Tim. 3. 16. 1. Cor. 10. 1. 1. Pet. 1. 6.

6. He ſhall be quiet, and ſeeketh more other remedies, but be content with Chriſt.

7. In the reſtitution of his Church, judgement and iuſtice ſhall reigne, a Gods corrections and aſſiſtion.

8. Affliction ſhall diſcouer their vaine confidence, which they kept ſecret to themſelues. 9. Terror and deſtruction ſhall make you to learne that, which exhortations and gentlenes could not bring you vnto. 10. Your affliction ſhall be ſo fore, that you are not able to endure it. 11. When David ouercame the Philiftines, 2. Sam. 5. 20. 1. Chron. 14. 1. 12. Where Iſoſhua diſcomfited the Kinges of the Amorites, Iſoſhua 10. 12. 13. c. As the plowe man hath his appointed time, and diuers inſtruments for his labour, ſo hath the Lord for his vengeance: for hee puniſheth ſome at one time, and ſome at another, ſome after one ſort, and ſome after another, ſo that his choſen ſeede is beaten, and tried, but not broken, as are the wicked.

reſt: a giue reſt to him that is to weary: and this is the reſtreſhing, but they woulde not heare.

13. Therefore ſhall the word of the Lord be vnto them precept vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a little and there a little, that they may go, and fall backward, and be broken, and be ſuared and be taken.

14. Wherefore, heare the word of the Lord, ye ſcornfull men that rule this people, which is at Ieruſalem.

15. Becauſe ye haue ſaide, We haue made a couenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement: though a ſcurge runne ouer, and paſſe through, it ſhall not come at vs: for we haue made ſalues, haue our refuge, and vnder ſhadowe are we hid.

16. Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, Beholde, I will lay in Zion a ſtone, a tryed ſtone, a precious corner ſtone, a ſure foundation. He that belieueth, ſhall not make haſte.

17. Iudgement alſo will I lay to the rule, and righteouſneſſe to the balance, & the ſcale ſhall ſwepe away the vaine confidence, and the waters ſhall ouerflowe the ſecret place.

18. And your couenant with death ſhall be diſſaulted, and your agreement with hell ſhall not ſtand: though a ſcurge runne ouer and paſſe through, then ſhall ye be trode downe by it.

19. When it paſſeth ouer, it ſhall take you away: for it ſhall paſſe through euery morning in the day, and in the night, and there ſhall be onely a ſcare to make you to vnderſtand the hearing.

20. For the bedde is a ſtreight that it cannot ſuffice, and the covering narrow that one cannot wrap himſelfe.

21. For the Lord ſhall ſtande as in mount perſian: he ſhall be worth as in the valley of Gibeon, he may do his worke, his ſtrange worke, and bring to paſſe his acte, his ſtrange acte.

22. Nowe therefore be ye mockers, leaſt your bondes increaſe: for I haue heard of the Lord of hoſtes a conſumption, euen determined vpon the whole earth.

23. Hearken ye, and heare my ſpeech: hearken ye, and heare my ſpeech.

24. Worth the plowman plowe all the day, to ſow: both he open, and breake the clottes of his ground?

25. When he hath made it a plaine, will he not then ſow the ſeeds, and ſow cummin, and caſt in wheate by meſure, and the appointed barley and rye in their places?

26. For his God both inſtruct him to haue diſcretion, and both teache him.

27. For ſickles ſhall not be theſhed with a theſhing inſtrument, neyther ſhall a cart wheele be turned about vpon the cummin: but the ſickles are beaten out with a ſtaffe, and runneth with a rodde.

28. Head come when it is theſhed, hee doth not alway theſh it, neyther doth the wheele of his cart ſtil make a noiſe, neyther will hee breake it with the teeth thereof.

29. This alſo cometh from the Lord of hoſtes, which is wonderfull in counſell, and excellent in worke.

CHAP. XXIX.

1. A prophesie againſt Ieruſalem. 13. The vengeance of God on them that follow the traditions of man.

2. A altar, altar of the citie that Dauid built in: adde perſe vnto perſe: let them kill lambs.

3. But I will bring the altar into diſtreſſe, and there ſhall be ſeueritie, and ſoueraignty, and it ſhall be vnto me like a altar.

4. And I will bring the altar as a citie, ſight againſt thee on a mount, and will call by ramparts againſt thee.

5. So ſhalt thou be humbled, and ſhalt ſpeake out of the ground, and thy ſpeech ſhall be as out of the duſt: the voice alſo ſhall be out of the ground like him that hath a ſpirit of diuination, and thy talking ſhall whiſper out of the duſt.

6. Moreover, the multitude of thy ſtrangers ſhall be like ſmall duſt, and the multitude of ſtrong men ſhall be as chaſſe that paſſeth away, and it ſhall be in a moment, euen ſuddenly.

7. Thou ſhalt be viſited of the Lord of hoſtes with thunder, and ſhaking, and a great noyſe, a whirlewinde, & a tempeſt, and a flame of a denouncing fire.

8. And the multitude of all the nations perſe, ſo that they that fight againſt the altar, ſhall be as a diuine or bulſon by night: euen all they that make the warre againſt it, and ſtrong holdes againſt it, and lape ſiege vnto it.

9. And it ſhall be like an hungry man ſhabe deſtroyed, and hee eateth: ſhe eateth: and as duſt or when hee awaketh, his ſoule is emptie: chaſſe in a whiſle of like as a chriſtian man dreameth, and lo, winde.

10. He is drinking, and when hee awaketh, hee holde, he is faint, and his ſoule length: ſo that I will bring ſhall the multitude of all nations be that fight againſt mount Zion, and that, which thou makeſt ſure, and make you blinde: they are vaine truſt, ſhall drunken, but not with wine: they ſhall come at wars, euen as a dreame in the night. a The Ebrewe word Ariel ſignifieth the Lion of God, & ſignifieth a altar, becauſe the altar ſeemed to deuoure ſacrifice that was offered to God, as Ezek. 43. 16.

b Your vaine confidence ſhall be as out of the duſt: the voice alſo ſhall be out of the ground like him that hath a ſpirit of diuination, and thy talking ſhall whiſper out of the duſt.

CHAP. XXX.

Spirit of slumber, and hath shut by your eyes: the Prophets, & your chiefe Seers hath he covered.

11 And the vision of them all is become vnto poyn, as the woordes of a booke that is sealed vp, which they deliuer to one that can reade, saying, Reade this, I pray thee. When shall he saye, I can: not: for it is sealed.

i Meaning, that it is all alike, eyther to reade, or not to reade, except God open the heart to vnderstand.

k Because they are hypocrites

& not sincere in hart, as Mat. 13. 8

l That is, their religio was learned by mans doctrine, and not by

my worde,

m Meaning, that where as God is not worshipped

according to his word, both magistrates and ministers are but fooles, and without vnderstanding.

n This is spoken of them, which in hart despised Gods word, and mocked at the admonitions,

but outwardly bare a good face.

o For all your craft, sayth the Lorde, you can not be able to escape mine handes, no more then the clay, that is in the potters handes, hath power to deliuer it selfe.

p Shall there not be a change of all things? and Carmel, that is a plentiful place in respect of that it shall be then, may be taken as a forest, as Chap. 32. 15. and thus he speaketh to comfort the faithfull.

q They went about to finde fault with the Prophets words, and would not abide admonitions, but would intangle them and bring them into danger. r Signifying, that except God giue vnderstanding, and knowledge, man cannot but fall erre, and murmure against him,

12 And the booke is giuen vnto him that can not reade, saying, Reade this, I pray thee. And he shall say, I can not reade.

13 Therefore the Lorde sayde, Became this people come nere vnto me with their mouth, and honour me with their lippes, but haue renoued their heart farre from me, and their feare towards me was taught by the precept of men.

14 Therefore beholde, I will againe doe a maruelous worke in this people, euen a maruelous worke, and a wonder: for the wisdome of their wise men shall be perishe, and the vnderstanding of their prudent men shall be hid.

15 Whoe vnto them that seeke deepe to hide their counsell from the Lorde: for their woorkes are in darkenes, and they say, Who seeth vs? and who knoweth vs?

16 Pour turning of denices shall it not be esteemed: as the potters clay: for I shall the worke say of him that made it. I see made mee not: of the thing formed, say of him that fashioned it, We had none vnderstanding.

17 Is it not yet but a litle while, and I behas non shall be turned into Carmel: and Carmel shall be counted as a forest?

18 And in that day shall the beaue heare the woordes of the booke, and the eyes of the blinde shall see out of obscuritie, and out of darkenes.

19 The meke in the Lorde shall receiue ioy againe, and the poore men shall reioyce in the help one of Israel.

20 For the cruell man shall cease, and the scoynfull shalbe consumed: and all that hastned to inquitrie, shalbe cut off.

21 Which made a man to sinne in the waye, and tooke him in a snare: which reioyned them in the gate, and made the iust to fall without cause.

22 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde vnto the house of Iacob, euen hee that redeemed Abraham, Iacob shall not now be comforted, neither now shall his face be pale.

23 But when hee seeth his children, the waye of mine handes, in the nuddes of hunt, they shall sanctifie my name, and sanctifie the holy one of Iacob, and shall feare the God of Israel.

24 Then they that erred in spirit, shall haue vnderstanding, and they that murmured, shall learne doctrine.

Hee reproveth the leues which in their aduersitie vsed their owne counsils, 2 And sought helpe of the Egyptians, 10 Despising the Prophets, 16 Therefore he sheweth what destruction shal come vpon them, 18 But offereth mercy to the repentant.

Woe to the rebellious children, saith the Lorde, that take counsel, but not of me, and couer with a courting, but not by my spirit, that they may lap slime vpon slime:

2 Which walke forth to goe downe into Egypt (as haue not asked at my mouth) to strengthen themselves in the strength of Pharaoh, and trust in the shadowe of Egypt.

3 But the strength of Pharaoh shall be your shame, and the trust in the shadowe of Egypt your confusion.

4 For his princes were at Noan, and his Ambassadors came vnto Ianes.

5 They shalbe all ashamed of the people, that cannot profite them, nor helpe nor doe them good, but shalbe a shame and al to a reproche.

6 The burden of the beastes of the South, in a land of trouble and anguish, from whence shall come the pong and olde byon, the viper and fire siping serpent agaynst them that shall beate their riches vpon the shoulders of the coltres, and their treasures vpon the bounches of the Camels, to a people that can not profite.

7 For the Egyptians are hamitis, and they shall helpe in vaine. Therefore haue I cryed vnto her, Their strength is to sit still.

8 Nowe goe, and toyle: it before them in a table, and note it in a booke that it may bee for thy last daye for euer and euer.

9 That it is a rebellious people, lying children, and children that would not heare the Lawe of the Lorde.

10 Which say vnto the Seers, See not: and to the Prophets, Prophesie not: vnto vs right things: but speake flattering things vnto vs: prophesie: & so our.

11 Depart out of the way: goe asid out of the path: cause the help one of Israel to cease from vs.

12 Therefore thus sayeth the holy one of Israel, Became poueane call off their woide, and trust in violence, and wickednes, and stay thereupon.

13 Therefore this inquitrie shall bee vnto poueane as a heache that fasheth, or a snell whiling in an he wall, whose breaking cometh suddenly in a moment.

14 And the braking thereof is like the God, that braketh of a potters pottre, which is broken without pite, and in the brasen led: breaking thereof is not founde: as a thred to take fixe out of the hearty, or to take war

a Oft times by his Prophetes he put you in remembrance of this, y^e you should only depend on him.
 b We will trust to escape by our horses.
 p Whereas all the trees are cut downe save two or three to make staves.
 q He commendeth great mercies of God, who wth patience waiteth for sinners to repentance.
 r Not only in punishing, but in vying moderatly in his time, as Ier. 12. 34. & jo. 11. 40. y^e y^e shall direct alwayes, and appoint thee how to go. y^e the hither or thither.
 s He shall cast away your idoles, which you have made of gold, & silver, with all y^e belonging vnto them, as a most filthy thing, and polluted.
 t Shewing that there can be no true repentance, except both in heart and deede we throw our felles enemies to idolatrie.
 x By these diuers manner of speech he sheweth that the falsitie of Church shalbe so great, that none is able sufficiently to expresse it.
 y When the Church shalbe reformed, y^e glory thereof shall passe seuen times the brightness of the sunne: for by the sunne and moone, which are two excellent creatures, he sheweth what shall bee the glorie of the children of God in the kingdom of Christ. z This threatening is against the Assyrians, the chief enemies of the people of God.

ter out of the pit.
 15 For thus saide the Lorde God, the hope of Israel, In rest and quietnesse shall pe bee saued: in quietnesse and in confidence shall bee your strength: but ye would not.

16 For ye haue sayde, No, but we will flee away vpon horses. Therefore shall ye flee. Wee will ride vpon the swiftest. Therefore shall your persecuters bee swifter.

17 As thou stande as one shall see at the rebuke of one: at the rebuke of five shall pe flee, till pe bee left as a fynge maist vpon the top of a mountaine, and as a bea-ken vpon an hill.

18 Yet theretoyle will the Lorde waite, that he may haue mercie vpon you, & theretoyle will he be spoken, that he may haue compassion vpon you: for the Lorde is the God of iudgement. Blessed be all they that waite for him.

19 Surely a people shall dwell in Zion, and in Ierusalem: thou shalt weep no more: hee will certainly haue mercie vpon thee at the voyce of thy cryes when hee heareth thee, hee will answere thee.

20 And when the Lorde hath giuen you the bread of aduerfitee, and the water of affliction, the rayne shall bee no more kept backe, but thine eyes shall see thy rayne.

21 And thine eares shall heare a voyce beside thee, saying, This is the way. I walke ye in it, when thou turnest to the right hand, and when thou turnest to the left.

22 And ye shall pollute the cornering of the images of silver, and the riches of ornament of thine images of golde, and cast them away as a mensstruons cloth, and thou shalt sape vnto it, Get thee hence.

23 Then shall hee giue rayne vnto the seede, when thou shalt sowe the grownde, and bread of the increase of the earth, and it shall bee fatte and as ople: in that day shall thy cattell be fedde in large pastures.

24 The oxen also and the yong asses, that till the grownde, shall eate cleane piousens, which is mowowed with the thorne and with the thanne.

25 And vpon euery hie mountaine, and vpon euery hill shall there bee riuers and streames of waters, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towres shall fall.

26 Moreover, the light of the moone shall bee as the light of the sunne, & the light of the sunne shall bee as cleane as the light of the sunne, and like the light of seuen dayes in the daye that the Lorde shall binde by the beache of his people, and deale the stroke of thier wound.

27 Behold, the name of the Lorde comes: for thus saide the Lorde God, the hope of Israel, In rest and quietnesse shall pe bee saued: in quietnesse and in confidence shall bee your strength: but ye would not.

28 And his spirit is as a river that ouersloweth top to the necke: it brendeth as sunner, to famie the nations with the fame of vanitie, and there shall be a bys-ble to cause them to erre in the chalyues of the people.

29 But there shall bee a song vnto you as in the night, when a solennis feast is kept: and gladnesse of heart, as hee that cometh with a pipe to goe vnto the mount of the Lorde, to the mightie one of Israel.

30 And the Lorde shall cause his glorious voyce to bee heard, and shall declare the lighting downe of his arme with the anger of his countenance, and flame of a deuouring fire, with scattering and tempest, and haile stones.

31 For with the voyce of the Lorde shall Asshur bee destroyed, which smote with the rodde.

32 And in euery place that the staffe shall passe, it shall cleane fast, which the Lorde shall lap vpon him with tabrets and harpes: and with battels, and lifting vp of handes shall hee fight against it.

33 For Tophet is prepared of olde: it is euen prepared for the King: hee hath made it deepe and large: the burning thereof is fire and much wood: the breath of the Lorde, like a riuier of brimstone, doeth kinde it.

he declareth the condition of the wicked after this life.

He curseth them that forsake God, and seake for the helpe of man.

W^ho vnto them that goe downe into Egypt for helpe, and flap vpon horses, and trust in chariots, because they are many, and in horsemen, because they be very strong: but they looke not vnto the holp one of Israel, nor seke vnto the Lorde.

2 But he peris: & will not turne backe his voyce, but hee will arise against the house of the wicked, And against the helpe of the shak worke vanitie.

3 For the Egyptians are men, and not God, and their horse fleshe, and not spirit: and when the Lorde shall stretch out his hande, the helper shall fall, and hee forget the benefite of his holpen fall, and they shall be together faile.

4 For thus hath the Lorde spoken vnto me, The helion of lions whelpes roareth vpon his piage, against whome if a mule stande of shepherdes bee called, hee will not be afrayde at their voyce, neither will hee humble him selfe at their nops: so shall the Egyptians, and so

CHAP. XXXII.

The conditions of good rulers and officers described by the gouernment of Hezekiah, who was the figure of Christ.

B Holde, a King shall reigne in iustice, and the princes shall rule
in iudgement.

2 And that man shall be
as an hynding place
from the winde, and as a refuge for the tempest: as riuer of water in a dry
place, and as the shadowe of a great rocke in a weary land.

3 The eyes of the serpung shall not bee shut, and the eares of them that heare, shall hearken.

4 And the heart of the foolish shall vnderstande
knowledge, and the tongue of the stutterers shall bee readye to speake distinctly.

5 The nigarde shall no more be called liberall, nor the churle riche.

6 But the nigarde
will speake of nigardnesse, and his heart will
woyke iniquitie,
and doe wickedly,
and speake
falsely against the Royde, to make empye the hunger soule,
and to cause the brynke of the
churle to faile.

7 For the weapons
of the churle are wicked: he deuise-
th wicked counsels,
to vnder-
doe the poore
with lying wordes,
and to speake
against the poore
in iudgement.

8 But the liberall
man will deuise
of liberall things,
and he will continue his liberallitie.

inquire of peace. n These are the wordes of the Assyrians, when they returne from Saneherib. o Which was a plentiful countrie, meaning, that Saneherib would destroye all. p To helpe and deliver my Church. q This is spoken against the enemies, who thought he all was their owne: but he sheweth that their enterprise shall be in vaine, and that the fire, which they had kindled for others, should consume them. r His vengeance shall be great, that all the worlde shall calke thereof. s Which doe not verance. t Meaning, that God will be a sure defence to all them that are true to his worde.

wickedly, e they shall doe wickedly as gaunt this.

2 d Joye, banne mercie upon us, we have waited for thee: bee thou, which wait their arme in the morning, our helpe also in time of trouble.

3 At the noise of the tumult, the people fled: at thine exalting the nations were scattered.

4 And your spoyle shall bee gathered like the gathering of caterpillers: and he shall goe against him like the leaping of grasshoppers.

5 The Joye is exalted: for he dwelleth on his: he hath filled Zion with iudgement and justice.

6 And there shall bee stabilitie of thy times, strength, saluation, wisdom and knowledge: for the feare of the Joye shall be his treasure.

7 Beholde, i their messengers shall crye without, & the ambassadours of peace shall weep bitterly.

8 The gates are waste: the wapsaring man crieth: the hath broken the con-nant: he hath contemned the cities: he regarded no man.

9 The earth mourneth and fainteth: Jerusalem is ashamed, and betwen downe: Saron is like a wilderness, and Bashan is shaken and Carmel.

10 Nowe will I exalt, nowe will I lift up my selfe.

11 I will contemne chaffe, and bring forth stubble: the fire of your breath shall be-nourish you.

12 And the people shall bee as the burning of lime: and as the thornes cut by, shall they be burnt in the fire.

13 Heare, ye that are farre off, what I have done, and ye that are nere, knowe
my power.

14 The sinners in Zion are aspride: a feare is come upon the hypocrites: who among vs shall dwell with the demon-ing fire: who among vs shall dwell with the curialling burnings?

15 He that walketh in justice, and openeth righteous rhings, refusing gaine of oppression, shaketh his hands from taking of gifts, stopping his eares from hearing of blood, and shutting his eyes
from seeing euill.

16 He shall dwell on: he: his defence shall be the munitions of rocks: bray shall be given him, and his waters shall be sure.

17 This is the thing in his: they shall glorie: they shall behold the land farre off.

18 Thy heart y shall meditate feare,
where is the scribe: & where is the re-citer: & where is he that counted the towres?

19 Thou shalt not see a fierce people, a people of a dark speech, that thou shalt not perceiue, and of a stammering tongue that thou shalt not understand.

20 Look upon Zion the cite of our solemne feastes: thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a tabernacle that can not be removed: and the stakes thereof can neuer bee taken away: neither shall any of the cordes thereof be broken.

21 For liuely there the mightie Joye will bee unto us, as a place of floodes and broades, rivers, waters shall passe no shippe with oares, neither shall great shippe passe thereby.

22 For the Joye is our iudge, the Joye is our labourer: the Joye is our King, he will saue us.

23 Thy cordes are loosed: they coulde
not well strengthen their mark, neither are they spreade the fable: then shall the people bee deliued for a greater people: yea, the laue shall take away the playe.

24 And none inhabitant shall feare, I am sicke: the people that dwell therein, shall haue their iniquitie forgiven.

river of Shiloah, and not deluge the great streams and rivers, whereby the ene-

tion as they that perish by shipwacke. b Hee comforteth the Church, and sheweth that they shalbe enriched with all benefices both of bodily and soule.

their stink shall come by out of their do-ries, and the iniquities shall be melted with their blood.

4 And all the hope of them shall bee
dissolued, and the beames shall bee

6 And I will deliuer thee out of the hand of the King of Asshur, and this cite: for I will defend this cite.

7 And this signe shalt thou haue of the Lord, that the Lord wil do this thing that he hath spoken.

8 Behold, I will bring againe the shadow of the degrees, (whereby it is gone downe in the diall of Ahaz by the sunne) tenne degrees backward: so the sunne returned by tenne degrees, by the which degree it was gone downe.

9 The writing of Hezekiah King of Iudah, when he had bene sicke, and was recovered of his sickness.

10 I sayd in the cutting off of my dayes, I shall goe to the gates of the graue: I am depriued of the residue of my yeeres, where he reigned, and we see what a tyrant he was, c He doeth not only trouble to prolong his life, but to give him self and his people from the Assyrians, who might haue subdued their armes to reuenge their former discomfure. d For Hezekiah had asked for the confirmation of his faith, a signe, as verse 22. and a. king. 20. 8. where-
 11 I sayd, I shall not see the daye, euen the Lord in the land of the liuing: I shall see man no more among the inhabitants of the world.

12 Mine habitation is departed, and is reuolued from mine, like a shepherdes tent: I haue cut off like a weaner my life: hee will cut mee off from the height of my daye: to night, thou wilt make an ende of me.

13 I reckoned I to be mourning; but hee brake it in all my bones, like a yone: fro day to night thou wilt make an ende of me.

14 Like a crane or a swallow, so did I chatter: I did moue as a dove: mine eyes were lift up on high: O Lord, it hath oppressed mee, comfort mee.

15 What shall I say? for hee hath broken it to mee, and he hath done it: I shall waile weakly all my dayes in the bitterness of my soule.

16 O Lord, to them that ouerlure them, and to all that are in them, the life of my spirit shall be knowne, that thou canst not see to stepe, and hast giuen life to me.

17 Beholde, for I grieue: I had bitter griefe, but it was the pleasure of my soule from the pit of corruption: for thou hast cast all my sinnes behind thy backe.

18 For the graue can not confesse thee, to all that are in them, the life of my spirit shall be knowne, that thou canst not see to stepe, and hast giuen life to me.

19 But the liuing, the liuing, bee shall confesse thee, as I do this day: the father to the children shall declare the truth.

20 The Lord be ready to saue me: thyre, and griefe both soe we will sing my song all the dayes of our life in the house of the Lord.

21 Then said Isaiah, Take a huise of figges, and lay it vpon the soyle, and he shall recover.

22 Also Hezekiah had said, What is the signe, that I shall goe vnto the house of the Lord?

1 I shall have no release, but continually sorrowes while I liue.

2 They that shall ouerlure the mee that are now alioe, and all they that are in these yeeres shall acknowledge this benefite.

3 That after that thou hadst condemned me to death, thou hast restored me to life.

4 Whereas I thought to haue liued in paine and cast, being deliuered from my enemy, I had griefe vpon griefe.

5 Hee comforted mee more the remission of his sinnes, & Gods labour, than a thousand liues.

6 For as much as God hath placed man in this worlde to glorify him, the goodly take it as a signe of his wrath, when their dayes were shorened, eyther because that they seemed vnto them for their sinnes, so liue longer in his seruice, or for their zeale to Gods glorie, seeing that there are so fewe in earth, that doe regard it, as Psal. 65. and 116. 17.

7 All posteritie shall acknowledge, and the fathers according to their due tie towards their children shall instruct them in thy graces, and merites, 1. 1. 1. 1.

8 Hee sheweth what is the vie of the Congregation and Church, to wit, to sing the Lordes thanks for his benefites, 1. 1. 1. 1.

9 As verse 1. 1. 1. 1. 1.

10 Hezekiah is restored, because he thought his troubles vnto the ambassadors of Babylon.

11 The same time, Merodach King of Babylon, the sonne of Baladan, King of Assyria, sent his ambassadors to Hezekiah, saying, We haue heard of thy power, and how thou hast overcome the Assyrians in the tenth yeere of thy regne.

By my sinne I haue provoked God to take my life from me.

That is, in one daye, or shortly.

1 Over night I thought that I should liue till morning, but my panges in the night persuaded me the contrary: he sheweth the horour, that he haue, when they apprehend Gods iudgement, a gaynt their sinne.

2 I was so oppressed with sorrow that I was not able to vter my wordes, but only to groane and sigh.

3 To wit, sorrowe, and griefe both of bodie and minde.

4 God hath comforted by his Prophet, that I should therefore I will yeelde vnto him.

5 To wit, sorrowe, and griefe both of bodie and minde.

6 God hath comforted by his Prophet, that I should therefore I will yeelde vnto him.

a tent to dwell in.

23 Hee bringeth the princes to nothing,
& maketh the iudges of the earth, as vanity.

24 As though they were not planned, as though they were not sown, as though their stocke tooke no roote in the earth: for he did euen - blowe vpon them, and they withered, and the whirlewinde will take them away as stubble.

25 To whom now will liken me, that I should be like him, sayth the Holp one?

26 Lift vp your eyes on him, and beholde who hath created these things, and thus geth out their armies by number, and callest them all by names: by the great nesse of his power and mightie strength
nothing faileth.

27 Whp speest thou, O Iakob, and spea-kest, O Israel, O woe is hid from the Lorde, and my iudgement is passed ouer of my God?

28 Knowest thou not? or hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord hath created the ends of the earth: he neither faileth, nor is wearie: there is no
searching of him - understanding.

29 But hee giveth strength vnto him that fainteth, and vnto him that hath no strength, he encreaseth power.

30 Enter the pong men shal faint, and he wearie, and the pong men shall stumble and fall.

31 But they that waite vpon the Lorde,
shall renewe their strength: they shall lift up the wings as the eagles: they shall runne, and not be wearie, and they shall walke and not faint.

f They that trust in their owne vertue, and doe not acknowledge that all cometh of God.

1 Gods mercie in chusing his people, 6 Their idolatrie.
27 Deliuance promised to Zion.

1 KEepe silence before mee, O plaudes, and let the people renewe their strength: let them come nere, and let them speake: let vs come together into iudgement.

2 Who rapied by? iustice from the East, & called him to his foote: and gaue the nations before him, and subdued the kings: & he gaue them as dust to his (woyde, & as scattered stubble vnto his bowe.

3 He pursued them, & passed safely by the partem of Gods iustice In deliuering his Church) from the idolatrie of the Chaldeans to go to and fro at his commandement,
and placed him in the land of Canaan?

a God, although I pleaded his cause with al nations, required silence, that he may be heard in his iudg.

c Who called Abraham (who was the partem of Gods iustice In deliuering his Church) from the idolatrie of the Chaldeans to go to and fro at his commandement,
and placed him in the land of Canaan?

inay that he had not gone with his sister.
Who hath wrought a nd done it? he that callest the generations from the beginning. I the Lorde am the first, and with the last I am the same.

5 The plea saue it, and did feare, and the endes of the earth were abashed, by the neere, and s cause.

6 Euen man helped his neyghbour and sayd to his brother, O be strong.

7 So the woymen comforted the feimber, and he that knote with the hammer, him that smore by couer, saying, It is rabbie for the soldering, and hee fastened it with nailes that it should not be moued.

8 But thou, Israel, art my seruant, and thou Iakob, whome I haue chosen, the serde of Abraham my friend.

9 For I haue taken thee from the endes of the earth, and called thee before the shepe thereof, and sayd vnto thee, Thou art my seruant: I haue chosen thee, and not cast thee away.

10 Feare thou not, for I am with thee: bee not afrapde, for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee, s helpe thee, s will susteine thee with the right hand of my iustice.

11 Behold, all they that prouoke thee, shall be ashamed, and confounded: they shall be as nothing, s they that strue with thee,
shall perish.

12 Thou shalt seeke them: & shalt not finde them: to wit, the men of thy strife, for they shall be as nothing, s the men that waite against thee, as a thing of nought.

13 For I the Lorde thy God will holde thy right hand, laying vnto thee, Feare not,
I will helpe thee.

14 Feare not, thou - woyme, Iakob, & ye men of Israel: I will helpe thee, sayth the Lord s thy redeemer s holp one of Israel.

15 Behold, I will make thee a roller, and a new threshing instrument hauing teeth:
thou shalt thresh the mountaines, and bring them to powder, and shalt make the hilles as chaffe.

16 Thou shalt saue them, and the winde shall carie them away, and the whirle-winde shall scatter them: and thou shalt reioyce in the Lorde, and shalt glorie in the holp one of Israel.

17 When the poore and the needie seeke water, and there is none (their tongue faileth for thirst: I the Lorde will heare them: I the God of Israel will not forsake
them)

18 I will open riuers in the toppes of the hilles, and fountaines in the middes of the valleys: I will make the wilderness
as a pool of water, and the waste & land
as springes of water.

19 I will let in the wildernesses the cedar, the shittah tree, and the myrrhe tree, and the pine tree, and I will let in the wildernesses
the fir tree, the elme and the bore tree
together.

10 He biddeth the idolaters to proue their religion, and to bring forth their idoles, that they may be tried whether they know all things, and can do all things which if they cannot doe, he concludeth that they are no gods, but vile idoles.

11 So that a man can not make an idole, but he must doe that, which God desireth and abhorreth: for he sheweth his owne deuices, & forsaketh the Lords.

12 Meaning, the Chaldeans.

13 That is, Cyrus, who shall do all things in my Name, and by my direction: whereby he meaneth, that both their captie, and deliuerance shall be ordered by Gods providence and appoyntment. x Both of the Chaldeans and others. y Meaning, that none of the Gentiles gods can worke any of these things. z That is, the Israelites, which returne from the captiuitie. a To wit, a continuall succession of Prophetes and iustifiers. b When I looked whether the idoles could do these things, I found that they had neither wilcome nor power to doe any thing: therefore he concludeth that all are wicked, that trust in such vanitie.

CHAP. XLII

1 The obedience and humilitie of Christ. 6 Why he was sent into the world. 11 The vocation of the Gentiles.

a That is, Christ, i whose respect of his manhoode he called here Christe. The Prophetes vse to make mention of Christ after that they have declared any great promes, because he is the foundation whereupon all the promises are made and ratified. b For I have committed all my power to him, as to a most faithfull steward. Some reade, I will establish him: to wit, in his office, by giuing him the fulnes of my Spirit. c He only is acceptable vnto me, and they that come vnto me by him: for there is no other meane of reconciliation, Matth. 12. 18. cphe. 1. 4. d He shall declare himselfe gouernour ouer the Gentiles, and call them by his worde, and rule them by his Spirit. e His coming shall not be with pompe and noyse, as earthly princes, 20 Therefore let them see & knowe, and let them consider and vnderstande together that the hand of the Lord hath done this, & the holy one of Israel hath created it.

21 And to pour cause, sayth the Lord: bring forth your strong reasons, sayth the King of Iacob.

22 Let them bring them forth, and let them tell vs what shall come: let them shew the former things what they bee, that we may consider them, and knowe the latter ende of them: ept they declare vs things for to come.

23 Shew the things that are to come hereafter, that we may knowe that you are gods: for, do good or do euill, that you may declare it, and behold it together.

24 Beholde, ye are of no value, and your making is of nought: man hath chosen an adoration by them.

25 I have railed vp: from the North, & hee shall come: from the East sunne shall he call vpon my name, and shall come vpon princes as vpon claps, and as the porter treadeth nyre vnder the foot.

26 Who hath declared from the beginning, that we may knowe: or beforetime, that we may say, He is righteous: Surely there is none that sheweth: surely there is none that declareth: surely there is none that heareth your voyces.

27 I am the first, that saw to Zion, Beholde, beholde: then: & I will giue to Ierusalem: one that shall bring good tidings.

28 But when I beheld, there was none, and when I inquired of them, there was no counsellour, and when I demanded of them, they answered not a word.

29 Beholde, they are all vanitie: their worke is of nothing, their images are winds and confusion.

his voyce to be heard in the streets.

30 I blessed reede shall he not breake, and the smoking of a flaxe shall he not quench: he shall bring forth iudgement in t'ruth.

31 He shall not faile nor be discouraged till he haue set iudgement in the earth: and the peoples shall waite for his labo.

32 Thus sayth God the Lord (he that created the heauens and spied them aboarde: he that stretcheth forth the earth, and the buddes thereof: he that giueth breath vnto the people vpon it, and spirit to them that walke thereon)

33 The Lord haue called thee in: righte outlieste, and will holde = thine hand, and I will keepe thee, and giue thee for a = conuerter of the people, and for a light of the Gentiles,

34 That thou mayest open the eyes of the blind, and bring out the prisoners from the prison: and them that sit in darkness, out of the prison house.

35 I am the Lord, this is my name, and my glorie will I not giue to another, neither my praise to grauen images.

36 Beholde, the former things are come to passe, and newe things do I declare: beseege thee therefore things, I tell you of them.

37 Sing vnto the Lord a new song, and his praise from the ende of the earth: ye that are bowedowne to the sea, and all that therein: the Isles and the inhabitants thereof.

38 Let the wilderness and the cities thereof lift up their voice, the towne that & Bebar: dwell in the cities thereof: let the inhabitants of the rockes sing: let them shout from the top of the mountaines.

39 Let them giue glorie vnto the Lord, and declare his praise in the plands.

40 The Lord shall goe forth as a = spant: he shall stirre by his courage like a man of warre: he shall shout and cry, and shall my glorie against his enemies.

41 I haue a long time holden my peace: I shall haue bene still & refrained my selfe: nowe will I erie like a trembling woman: I will destroy and demoure at once.

42 I will make waste mountaines & hills, and dye up all their herbes, and I will make the floods planders, and I will dye up the pooles.

43 And I will bring the blind by a way, that they knowe not, and lead them by paths that they haue not known: I will make darkness light before them, & crooked things straight. These things will I do vnto them, and not forsake them.

44 They shall be turned backe: they shall be greatly alighted, that trust in grauen images, and saye to theuallent images, We are our gods.

45 Heare, ye deafe: and ye blinde, regard, that ye may see.

CHAP. XLIII.

1 The Lords comforteth his people. He promiseth deliverance to the Jews. 2 There is no God but one alone.

- a After these threatenings he promisseth deliverance to his Church, because he hath regenerated them, adopted them, and called them.
- b When thou shalt dangers and conspiracies on all sides, remember this benefit and the love of thy God, and it shall encourage thee.
- c By water and fire, he meaneth all kind of troubles and perils.
- d I returned Samaria from the captivity, and made them to suffer that affliction which thou shouldst have done, it is were the punishment of thy rancour. Chap 37. 9. e I will not spare any man rather then thou shouldst perish: for God more esteemeth one of his faithful, then all the wicked in the world. f He peopled the earth of the deliverance from the captivity of Babylon, and so of the calling of the universal Church, that which is the world. Chap 49. 3. g Meaning, thine condition be as miserable as that of those, except he would ascribe his own Name and glory.
- 1 Be not wise thine saith the Lord, who created thee, O Jacob: and he that joined thee, O Israel: feare not: for I have redeemed thee: I have called thee by thy name, thou art mine.
- 2 When thou shalt through the waters, I will be with thee, & through the floods, that they doe not overflow thee. When thou walkest through the deep fire, thou shalt not be burnt, neither shall the flame kindle upon thee.
- 3 For I am the Lord thy God, the holy one of Israel, thy Saviour: I gaue Egypt for thy ransome, Ethiopia, and Seba for thee.
- 4 Because thou wast precious in my sight, and thou wast honourable, and I loued thee, therefore will I gaue: man for thee, and people for thy sake.
- 5 Feare not, for I am with thee: I will bring thee from the East, and gather thee from the West.
- 6 I will say to the North, Come: and to the South, Keep not back: bring my sonnes from farre, and my daughters from the endes of the earth.
- 7 Every one shall be called by my name: for I created him for my glory, joined him and made him.
- 8 I will bring forth the blinde people, and they shall haue eyes, and the deafe, and they shall heare.
- 9 I will not spare any man rather then thou shouldst perish: for God more esteemeth one of his faithful, then all the wicked in the world. f He peopled the earth of the deliverance from the captivity of Babylon, and so of the calling of the universal Church, that which is the world. - 14 Thou shalt the Lord your redeemer, the when God shall holp one of Israel, for your sake I haue kept by his love to Sabel, and brought in deliverance words.
- 15 I am the Lord your holy one, the whom I haue chosen, I am the Lord, the Lord which maketh a way in the Sea, & a path in the waters.
- 16 When he bringeth out the chariot and the horse, the armie and the power is together, and shall not rise: they are extinct, and quenched as towne.
- 17 I remember ye not the former things, neither regard the things of old: 18 Beholde, I do new things: now shall it come forth: shall you not know it? I will even make a way in the desert and floods in the wilderness.
- 19 The wilde beasts shall honour me, the dragons and the ostriches, because I gaue water in the desert and floods in the wilderness to give drink to my people, even to mine elect.
- 20 This people haue I formed for my selfe: they shall bring forth my praise.
- 21 And thou hast not: called upon me, O Jacob, but thou hast wearied me, O Israel.
- 22 Thou hast not brought me the shepe of thy burnt offerings, neither hast thou honoured me with the sacrifices. I haue heard that thou hast not raised thee to serve with an offering, nor wearied thee with incense.
- 23 I haue heard that thou hast not brought me the shepe of thy burnt offerings, neither hast thou honoured me with the sacrifices. I haue heard that thou hast not raised thee to serve with an offering, nor wearied thee with incense.

CHAP. XLIIII.

The Lord promitteth comfort, and that he will assemble his Church of diuers nations. 9 The vanitie of idols. 17 The beaillines of idolaters.

1. Yet now heare, O Iakob my seruāt, and Israel, whom I haue chosen.

Thus saith the Lord, that made thee, and formed thee from the wombe: hee will helpe thee. Feare not, O Iakob, my seruāt, and thou righteous, whose I haue chosen.

For I will polue water vpon the thirre, and floods vpon the drie ground: I will polue my spirit vpon the sea, and my blessing vpon the budbes.

And thou shalt growe as among the grassse, and as the willowes by the riuers of waters.

Which I say, I am the Lord: another shall be called by the name of Iakob: and another shall subscribe with his hand vnto the Lord, and name himselfe by the name of Israel.

Thus saith the Lord the king of Israel and his redeemer, the Lord of hostes, I hurte the selfe, and I am the last, and with out me is there no God.

With who is like me, that shall call, and shall declare it: and let it in order before me. I appointed the ancient people: and what as a thing, and what things are to come: let them shewe vnto them.

For I tolde thee of old, and haue declared it: children are euen my witnesses: whether there be a God beside mee, and that there is no God that I knowe not.

All they that make an image, are banished: and their detestable things shall be sūmed.

By this seruice of prestes he meaneth one thing, that is, that the people shall be holy and receiue the true religion of God, as Psal. 87. 3. I am alwayes like my selfe, that is, mercifull towards my Church, and most able to maintaine it, as chap. 41. 4. and 48. 11. xuel. 1. 17. and 2. 13. g. Hee will hew him down cedars, and take the pine tree and the oke, and taketh courage among the trees of the forest: hee planteth a firre tree, and the vine doth flourish in.

And man burneth thereof: for hee will take thereof and warme himselfe: he also taketh thereof and baketh bread, yet hee maketh a god, and worshippeth it: hee maketh it an idol and boweth vnto it.

He burneth the halfe thereof euen in the fire, and vpon the halfe thereof he eateth flesh: he roasteth the roste and is satisfied: also he warmeth himselfe and saith, I am warme, I haue bene at the fire.

And hee buildeth thereof he maketh a god, euen his idle: he boweth vnto it & worshippeth it, and prayeth vnto it, and saith, O deliver me: for thou art my god.

They haue not known: nor vnderstand: they cannot see, and their heartes, that they cannot understand.

And none considereth in his heart, neither is there knowledge nor vnderstanding to say: I haue burnt halfe of it, euen in the fire, and haue halde the halfe also vpon the coles thereof: I haue roasted flesh, and eaten it, and shall I make the residue of it for an abominacion: shall I bowe to the stocks of a tree?

Yee faileth: of althes a seduced heart hath deceived him, that he cannot deliver his soule, nor say, Is there not a lie in my right hande?

brouer the legge, and passe through the floodes.

3 Thy stiches shall be discovered, and thy shame shall see: I will take vengeance,
and I will not merce thee as a man.

4 Remember, the Lord of hostes is his name, the Gole one of Israel.
5 Sit still, and get thee into darkenes,

gloued in pleasures, and dwellst carelesse,

CHAP. XLIX.

1 The Lord exhorteth all nations to believe his promise. 6 Christ is the salvation of all that believe, and will deliver them from the tyranny of their enemies.

1 Care for me, O ples, and hearken, ye people from farre. The Loyde hath called me from the wombe, and made mention of my name from my mothers belly.

2 And he hath made my mouth like a sharpe sword: under the shadowe of his hande hath he hidde me, and made me a chosen shaft, and hid me in his quiver, and said unto me, Thou art my servant, Israel: for I will be glorious in thee.

3 And I said, I have laboured in vaine: I have spent my strength in vaine: for nothing: but my indignation is with the Loyde, and my woeke with up God.

4 And now saith the Loyde, that foined me from the wombe to be his servant, that I map bring Iacob againe to him: (though Iacob bee not gathered, & yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the Loyde: and up God shall be my strength)

5 And he sayde, It is a small thing that thou shouldest be my servant, to rapie up the tribes of Iacob, and to restore the desolations of Israel: I will also give thee for a light of the Gentiles, that thou maist bee my saluation unto the ende of the world.

6 Thus saith the Loyde the redeemer of Israel, and his help one, to him that is despised in soule, to a nation that is abhored, to a servant of rulers, kings that sell, and arise, and princes shall worship, because of the Loyde, that is faithful: and the Holie one of Israel, which hath chosen thee.

7 Thus saith the Loyde, In an acceptable time have I heard thee, and in a day of saluation have I helped thee: and I will preserve thee, and wil give thee for a covenant of the people, that thou mapst raise up the earth, and obtaine the inheritance of the desolate heritages:

8 That thou mapst say to the prisoners, Go forth: and to them that are in darknesses, Setewe your selves: they shall feede in the wapes, and their pastures shall be in all the tops of the hills.

9 They shall not bee hungrie, neither shall they bee thirstie, neither shall they heat smite them, nor the sunne: for he that hath compassion on them, shall lead them: quen to the springs of waters shall he drinke them.

10 And I will make all my mountains,

as a way, and my paths shall be trailed.

12 Behold, these shall come from farre: and lo, these from the North & from the West, and these from the land of Sinim.

13 Keiope, & beatus: and bee topfull, & earth: blast forth into praise, & mountaines: for God hath comforted his people, & will have mercy upon his afflicted.

14 But Zion saide, The Loyde hath forsaken me, and up Loyd hath forgotten me.

15 Can a woman forget her childe, and not remember what the fisher hath forgotten, yet will I not forget thee.

16 Beholde, I have grauen thee upon the palm of mine hands: thy walls are as a citie, and thy gates as a strong hold.

17 Thy builders make haste: thy destroyers, and they that make thee waste, are departed from thee.

18 Lift up thine eyes rounde about and behold: all these gather them selves together, and come to thee: as I live, saith the Loyde, thou shalt surely put them all by thee as a garment, and gude thy selfe with them like a bride.

19 For thy desolations, and thy waste places, and thy lande destroyed, shall surely be now narrowe for them that shall dwell in it, and they that did denounce thee, shall be farre away.

20 The children of thy barrennesse shall say: I was in mine eares, The place is strait for me: give place to mee that I map dwell.

21 Then saith thou say in thine heart, Why hath begotten me these, seeing I am barren and desolate, a captive and a wanderer: to and fro? and who hath nourished them? beholde, I was left alone: whence are these?

22 Thus saith the Loyde God, Beholde, I will lift up mine hande to the Gentiles, and will set up my standard to the people, and spirit, they that bying the sonnes in their armies: the daughters shall be carried upon their shoulders.

23 And kings shall bee thy nursing fathers, and Queenes shall bee thy nurses: they shall worship thee with their faces toward the earth, and like up the butt of the fete: and thou shalt knowe that I am the Loyde: for they shall not be ashamed that waite for me.

24 Shall I say be taken from the night: or the last captivitie diminished?

25 But thus saith the Loyde, When the captivitie of the mightie shall be taken away, and the play of the tyrants shall be destroyed: for I will contend with them that contend with thee, and I will save thy children.

26 And will feede them that sople thee, with their owne flesh, and they shall bee drunken with their owne blood, as with wine.

27 Hee maketh this as an oblation, although the Caldeans were strong, and had them in lust possession: This is the vengeance of their oblation: that none is stronger then the Loyde: neither shall a more lust vnto them. f This will cause them to destroy another, as Iudg. 7. 22. Chron. 20. 23. Chap. 12. 2.

a This is spoken in the person of Christ to assure the faithful, that these promises should come to passe: for they were all made in him, and in him should be performed.

b This is meant of the time that Christ should be manifested to the world, as Psalm. 2. 7.

c By the sword & shaft, he signifieth the vertue and efficacie of Christs doctrine.

d God hath taken mee to his protection & defence: this chiefly is meant of Christ, and may also be applied to the ministers of his word.

e By Israel is meant Christ, and all the body of the faithful, as the members and their head.

f Thus Christ in his members complaine, that his labour, and preaching take none effect, yet he is contented that his doings are approved of God.

g Though the Jewes refuse my doctrine, yet God will approve my ministerie.

h To declare my Gospell to the Gentiles, Chap. 42. 6. 2des 1. 3. 47. Luke 2. 32.

i Meaning, the Jewes, whom tyrans kept in bondage, k The benefit of their delivrance shall be great, that great and small shall acknowledge it, and reverence God for it.

l Thus hee speaketh of his Church, when he would shew his mercie toward it, 2. Cor. 6. 2.

m Meaning, Christ alone. n Signifying, that before Christ renue the earth by his word, there is nothing but confusion and disorder.

o To them that are in the prison of sinne, and death, p Being in Christs protection, they shall be safe against all dangers, and free from the feare of the enemies. q Meaning, that there should be nothing in their way from Babylon, that should hinder or hurt them: but this accomplished spiritually.

1 Meaning, the South country, so that Christ shall deliver us from all the parts of the world.

1 Reade Chap. 44. 23.

1 Hee oblieth what the fisher hath forgotten, their long affliction, and murther them to comfort us, with a small power, similar to a full of confidence.

1 Because I would not let us gether, the good order of police and discipline.

1 I have no small care to builde them up againe, and to destroy their enemies.

1 He sheweth what meritis names of the Church: but none of the children, which are attended by Israel.

widow.

Thus saith the Lord, he here is that bill of your mothers' iniquities, whom I have cast off: O ye who is the creditor: to whom I have sold? Behold, for your iniquities are sold, and because of your transgressions is your mother forsaken.

Wherefore I cause I, and there was no man: I called, and none answered: is mine hand to be shortened, that it can not help? O ye have I no power to deliver?
Behold, at my rebuke I drye up the sea;
I make the floods desert: their fish rotte for want of water, and drye up their pools.

I clothe the heavens with darkness, and make a sack their covering.

The Lord God hath given me a tongue

1 God taketh away the god, that hee should not see the horrible plagus to come. 3 Of the wicked idolaters. 9 And their vaine confidence.

a From 7 plague that is at hande, and also because God will punish the wicked. b The soule of the righteous dwelle in joy, & their body shall rest in the graue vnto the time of the resurrection because they walked before the Lord. c He threateth the wicked hypocrites, who under the presence of 7 name of Gods people, denied Gods worde and his promises: boasting openly that they were the children of Abraham, but because they were not faithfull and obedient as Abraham was, he called them bastards, and the children of forerers, which forsake God and bel to wicked men as for succour.

2 b Ipece shall come: they shall rest in their beds, every one that walketh before him. 3 But you wretched children, come hither, the seede of the adulterer and of whorers. 4 On whom haue ye rested? upon whom haue ye gaped? thrust out your tongue: are not ye rebellious children, and a false seede?

5 Inflamed is idoles under every graine tree: and sacrificing in the children in the valleys under the toppes of the rocks.

6 The portion is in the smooth stones of the river: they, they are thy lot: run to them hast thou poured a drinke offering: thou hast offered a sacrifice. Shouldst thou delight in these?

7 Thou hast made thy bed upon a verry high mountaine: thou wentest by thy cher, and thither wentest thou to offer sacrifice. 8 Behind the idoles also 3 postes hast thou set vnto thy remembrance: for thou hast discovered thy selfe to another then me, & wentest by, and diddest enlarge thy bed, and make a covenant betweene thee and them, and lovedst their bed in every place where thou wastest.

9 Thou wentest to the kings with ople, and diddest increase thine ornaments and send thy messengers farre off, and diddest humble thy selfe vnto hell.

10 Thou wastest thy selfe in the manie founteynes, yet saydest thou not, 11 There is no hope: thou hast founde life by thine hande, therefore thou wast not grieved.

12 And whome diddest thou reuerence of feare, sleeping thou hast 3 bedes vnto mee, and hast not remembered mee, neither set thy minde thereon: is it not because I holde my peace, and that of long time? therefore thou fearedst not me.

13 I will declare thy righteousness and thy wayes, and they shall not profite thee.

f In the sacrifices which you, offering before the idoles, thought you did ferue God. g Towit, thine altars in an open place like an impudēt harlot that careth not for the sight of her husband. h In stead of setting vp the worde of God in the open places on the postes and doores to haue it in remembrance, Deut. 4. 9. and 37. thou hast set vp signes & markes of thine idolatrie in every place. i That is, diddest increase thine idolatrie more and more. k Thou diddest seeke the fauour of the Assyrians gifts and preferres, to helpe thee against the Egyptians when they layed, thou soughtst to the Babylonians, and more and more, diddest torment thy selfe. l Although thou wastest all thy labours to bee in vaine, yet wouldst thou neuer acknowledge thy fault and leave off. m Hee deniest thy vnprofitable sacrifices which thought to haue made all sure, and yet were damned. n Broken promises with mee. o Meaning, that the wicked shoulde Gods loue and growe to farther wickedness. p That is, the magicians, idolaters and impietie: which the wicked call Gods seruice: thus he deniest their obstinacie.

13 When thou criest, let them that thou hast gathered together deliuer thee: but the wind shall take them all away: vaine shall thou thinke them: but hee that trusteth in me, shall inherite the land, and shall possesse mine holp for evermore.

14 And he shall say, Cast by, cast by: prepare the waye: take by the stumbling blocks out of the way of my people.

15 For thus saith he, that is hee and exulteth: hee that inhabiteth the eternitie, whose name is the Holp one, I dwell in the hee and holp place: with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit to reuine the spirit of the humble, & to giue life to them that are of a contrite heart.

16 For I will not contend for ever, neither will I bee alwayes wroth: for the spirit should faile before me: and I haue made the heath.

17 For his wicked countenances I am angrie with him, and haue smitten him: I hid me and was angrie, yet he went as a way, and turned after the way of his owne heart.

18 I haue seene his wayes, and will heale him: I will leade him also, and reuise comfort vnto him, and to those that lament him.

19 I create the fruite of the lippes to bee peace: peace vnto them that are here: there off, and to them that are nere, sayeth the Lord: for I will heale him.

20 But the wicked are like the raging sea, that can not rest, whose waters shall by mine and dict.

21 There is no peace, sayeth my God, to the wicked.

2 Per thep sicke me daily, and dost know my wayes, run as a nation that did righteousness, and had not forsaken the statutes of their God: they are of uske the ordinances of iustice: they will dratue nere vnto God, saying,

3 Wherefore haue we fasted, & thou seest it not? we haue punished our selues, and thou regardedst it not. Before, in the day of your fast you will seke 4 your will, and require all your desires.

4 Behold, ye fast in strife and debarr, and to smite with the fist of wickedness: ye shall not fast as ye do to day, to make your voice to be heard about.

5 Is it such a fast that I haue chosen, that a man shoulde afflict his soule for a daye, and to toire doling his bread, as a bull rush, and to lie downe in sackcloth, and aches: withtout this a fasting, is an acceptable day to the Lord.

6 Is not this the fasting, that I haue chosen, that ye shoulde loose your fast, and your prayer shall not be heard.

the spiders webbe:
hee that eateth of
their egges, dieth,
and that which is
trodd upon, weaketh out into a serpent.

23 Their webbe is like a spiders
webbe: hee that toucheth it, is caught in the snare.

24 Therefore shall
they be as
the spider, which toucheth his
owne webbe, and
shall be caught
in the snare.

25 Therefore shall
they be as
the spider, which
toucheth his
owne webbe, and
shall be caught
in the snare.

26 Therefore shall
they be as
the spider, which
toucheth his
owne webbe, and
shall be caught
in the snare.

27 Therefore shall

30 Therefore shall
they be as
the spider, which
toucheth his
owne webbe, and
shall be caught
in the snare.

6 Their webbes shall be no garment, nether shall they couer them: stripes with their labours: for their works are works of iniquitie, and the woyle of crueltie is in their hands.

7 Their feete run to euill, & they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are wicked thoughts: desolation and destruction is in their paths.

8 The way of peace they know not, & there is none equitie in their goings: they haue made them crooked paths: wolsour
goeth therein, shall not knowe peace.

9 Therefore is iudgement farre from vs,
neither doth iustice come neere vnto vs:
we waite for light, but loe, it is darkenesse:
for brightnesse, but wee walke in darkesnesse.

10 We grope for the wall like the blinde,
and we grope as one without eyes: wee stumble at a noone day as in þ twilight:
we are in solitarie places, as dead men.

11 We roare al like beastes, & moune like bodies: wee looke for equitie, but there is none: for health, but it is farre from vs.

12 For our trespasses are many before thee, and our sinnes testify against vs: for our trespasses are with vs, and we know our iniquities.

13 In trespassing & lying against the Lorde, and wee haue departed away from our God, and haue spoken of crueltie and rebellion, conceiuing and uttering out of the heart false matters.

14 Therefore iudgement is turned backe warde, and iustice remberth farre off: for truth is fallen in the streete, and equitie can not enter.

15 Pea, truerth failerth, & he that refrained from euill, maketh himselfe a yag: and when the Lorde saue it, it displeased him,
that there was no iudgement.

16 And when he saw that there was no redemption, hee was wroth, and hee wondered that none would offer himselfe. Therefore his arme did saue it, and his righteousness hee did sustaine it.

17 For he put our righteousnesses, as an ha-bergeon, and as a helmet of saluation vpon his head, & he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, & was clad with zeale as a cloke.

18 As to make recompence, as to requite
the furie of the aduersaries with a recom-
pence to his enemies: he will fully repay
the yplands.

19 So shall they feare the name of the Lorde from the West, and his glorie from the rising of the sunne: for the enemies shall come like a flood: but the Spirit of the Lorde shall chafe him away.

20 And the Redeemer shall come vnto Xi-on, and vnto them that turne from in-iquitie in Iacob, saith the Lorde.

21 And I will make this my conuenant with them, saith the Lorde, My Spirit that is vpon thee, and my words, which I haue put in thy mouth, shall not decease, y Because the doctrine is made profitable to the spirit, hee ioyne the one with the other, and giue them both to his Church for euer.

22 Therefore shall
they be as
the spider, which
toucheth his
owne webbe, and
shall be caught
in the snare.

23 Therefore shall
they be as
the spider, which
toucheth his
owne webbe, and
shall be caught

C H A P. LX.

The Gentiles shall come to the knowledge of the Gospel. 8 They shall come to the Church in abundance. 16 They shall have abundance, though they suffer for a time.

Arise, O Jerusalem: be bright, for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee.

2 For behold, darknesse shall cover the earth, and grosse darknesse the people: but the Lord shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee.

3 And the Gentiles shall walke in thy light, and Kings at the brightness of thy rising up.

4 Lift up thine eyes round about, and behold: all thy enemies are gathered, and come to thee: thy enemies shall come from farre, and thy daughters shall be nourished at thy side.

5 Then thou shalt see and shine: thine heart shall be enlarged, because the multitude of the sea shall be converted unto thee, and the riches of the Gentiles shall come unto thee.

6 The multitude of camels shall cover thee: and the dromedaries of Arabia and of Ephraim: all they of Sheba shall come: they shall bring golde & incense, and shew forth the praises of the Lord.

7 All the sheepe of Kedar shall be gathered unto thee: the rams of Arabia shall serve thee: they shall come up to be accepted upon mine altar: and I will beautifie the house of my people.

8 Who are these that flee like a cloud, & as the doves to their windows?

9 Surely the Isles shall wait for me, and the shippes of Tarshish, as at the beginning, that they may bring thy sonnes from farre, and their silver, and their gold with them, unto the fame of the Lord thy God, and to the help one of Israel, because he hath glorified thee.

10 And the fountaines of strangers shall build up thy walles, and their Kings shall minister unto thee: for in my wrath I had compassion on thee.

11 Therefore thy gates shall be open continually: neither day nor night shall they be shut, that men may bring unto thee the riches of the Gentiles, and that their Kings may be brought.

12 That is, the Arabians that have great abundance of cattell. 13 Because the altar was a figure of Christ, Hebr. 13. 10: he sheweth that nothing can be acceptable to him, which is not offered to him by this altar, who was both the offering and the altar itself. 14 Showing what great number shall come to the Church, and with what great diligence and zeale. 15 The Gentiles that are now enemies, shall become friends and feters forth of the Church. 16 Meaning, Cyrus and his successors: but chiefly this is accomplished in them that serve Christ, being converted by his Gospel.

12 For the nation and the kingdom, that will not serve thee, shall perish: and those nations shall be utterly destroyed.

13 The glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, the firre tree, the cedar and the bore tree together, to beautifie the place of my Sanctuary: for I will glorifie the place of my people.

14 The fountaines also of them that afflicted thee, shall come and bowe unto thee: and all they that despised thee, shall fall & bow down at the soles of thy feet: and they shall call thee, The city of the Lord, Zion of the Holy one of Israel.

15 Where as thou hast bene forsaken and hated, so that no man went by thee, I will make thee an eternall glory, and a hope from generation to generation.

16 Thou shalt also sucke the milke of the Gentiles, and shalt sucke the breasts of Kings: and thou shalt knowe, that I the Lord am thy Saviour, & thy Redeemer, the mighty one of Jacob.

17 For I will bring golde, and silver upon thee, I will bring silver, and for wood I will make thee government: peace, and thine enemies shall be cut off.

18 Violence shall no more be heard of in thy land, neither desolation, nor destruction within thy borders: but thou shalt call saluation, thy walles, and praise thy gates.

19 Thou shalt have no more sunne to shine by day, neither shall the brightness of the moonne shine unto thee: for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and the Lord thy glory.

20 Thy sunne shall never goe downe, neither shall thy moone be hid: for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and the dayes of thy joy shall be ended.

21 Thy people also shall be all righteous: they shall possess the land for ever, as the graffe of my planting shall be the worke of mine hands, that I may be glorified.

22 A little one shall become as a strong nation: a small one as a strong nation: I the Lord will hasten it in due time.

23 In all, as Revel. 21. 23 & 23. 5. 24 The children of the Church, x Meaning, that the Church should be miraculously multiplied.

2 To preach the acceptable year of the Lord, and the day of vengeance of our God, to comfort all that mourne.

3 To send him to distribute, 4 To them that are lively touched with the feeling of their finnes. 5 Which are in the bondage of sinne. 6 The time when it pleased God to shewe his good favour to man, which S. 1 Which were dedicated to thy service and to call vpon thy Name. m Wherein we reioyced and worshipped thee. n That is, at the contempt of thine owne glorie: though our sinnes had deformed this, yet thou wilt not suffer thy glorie thus to bee diminished.

C H A P. LXV.

1 The vocation of the Gentiles and the reuision of the lawes. 13 The way of the elect and the punishment of the wicked.

a Meaning, the Gentiles which knew not God, should seeke after him when he had moved their hearts with his holy spirit, Rom. 10. 20.
b He sheweth the cause of the reuision of the lawes, because they would not obey him for any admonition of his Prophets, by whom he called them continually, and stretched out his hand to drawe them.
c He sheweth that to delight in our owne fantasies is the declining from God and the beginning of all superstitious and idolatry.
d Which were dedicate to idols.
e Meaning their altars, which he thus nameth by contempt.
f To consult with spirits and to conjure devils, which was forbidden, Deut. 18. 11.
g Which was contrary to Gods commandment, Leuit. 11. 7. Deut. 14. 8.
h He sheweth that hypocrisie is ever ioynd with pride and contempt of others. i Their punishment shall neuer haue ende. k So that the remembrance thereof can not be forgotten. l Shalbe both punished together: and this declareth how the children are punished for their fathers fautes: to wit, when the same fautes or like are founde in them. m That is, it is profitable: meaning, that God will not destroy the faithfull branches of his vineyard, when he destroyeth the rotten stockes, that is, the hypocrites. n Which was a plentiful place in Iudea to feede sheepe, as Ashur was for cattell.

sought me.
11 But ye are they that haue forsaken the Loyde, and forgotten mine holp: yea, and haue prepared a table for the multitude, and furnished the dunkeles of the fringes vnto the number.
12 Therefore will I remember you to the sword, & all you shall be downe to the slaughter, because I called, and ye did not answer: I spoke, and ye heard not, but did euill in my sight, & did chuse that thing which I would not.
13 Therefore thus saith the Loyde God, Beholde, my seruants shall eate, and ye shall be hungry: beholde, my seruants shall drinke, and ye shall be thirstie: because I will holde, my seruants shall reioyce, and ye shall be ashaamed.
14 Beholde, my seruants shall sing for ioy of heart, & ye shall crye for sorrowe of heart, and shall howle for vexation of minde.
15 And ye shall leave your name as a curse vnto my chosen: for the Loyde God shall slap you and call his seruants by another name.
16 He that shall blesse in the earth, shall curse himselfe in the true God, & he that sweareth in the earth, shall sweare by the true God: for the former troubles are forgotten, and shall secretly hide themselves from mine eyes.
17 For I, I will create a new heauens and a new earth: and the former shall not be remembered nor come into minde.
18 But be ye glad and reioyce for ever in the things that I shall create: for beholde, I will create Jerusalem as a reioicing, and her people as a ioy.
19 And I will reioyce in Jerusalem, and my ioy in my people, and the voyce of weeping shalbe no more heard in her, nor the voyce of crying.
20 There shall be no more there a child of periers, nor an olde man that hath killed his dayes: for hee that shall be an hundred yeeres olde, shall die as a young man: but the sinner being an hundred yeeres olde shall be accursed.
21 And they shall build houses and inhabit them, and they shall plant vineyards, and eate the fruit of them.
22 They shall not build, and another inhabit: they shall not plant, and another eat: for as the dayes of the tree are the dayes of my people, and mine elect shall inuoy in old age the worke of their hands.
23 Then shall not labour in vaine, nor bring forth in feare: for they are the seede of Iudea, but the blessed of the Loyde, and their budde.

x I will no more suffer my Church to be desolate as in times past. y I will soalter and change the state of my Church, that it shall seeme to dwell in a newe worlde. z Meaning, in this worlde full reuastation of the Church, there should be no weaknes of youth, nor infirmities of age, but all should be free, and flourishing: and this is accomplished in the heavenly Ierusalem, when all sinnes shall cease, and the teares shall be wiped away.
a Whereby he sheweth that the infidels and vaine persons haue no part of this benediction. b Hee prophecies to the faithfull the blessings which are conserued in the Lawe, and in vnder temporal things comprehendeth the spiritual promises.

with them.

24. Pea, before they call, I will answer, and whiles they speake, I will heare.

25. The Wolfe and the lambe shall feed together, and the ypon shall eate strawe like the bullocke: and to the serpent dust shall hee meate. They shall no more hurt nor destroy in all mine holy Mountaine, saith the Lord.

CHAP. LXVI.

1. God dwelleth not in temples made with hands. 3. He desireth sacrifices done without meere and feyne. 5. God comforteth them that are troubled for his sake. 19. The vocation of the Gentiles. 23. The perpetuall Sabbath. 24. The punishment of the wicked in everlasting.

1. Thus saith the Lord, * The heauen is my throne, & the earth is my footstool: where is that house that pee will build vnto mee? and where is that place of my rest?

2. For all these things hath mine hande made, and all these things haue bene, saith the Lord: & to him will I looke, euen to him, that is poore, and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth at my wordes.

3. Ye that killen a bullock, is as if hee slawe a man: he that sacrificeth a sheepe, as if hee cut off a dogges necke: he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered swines blood: he that remembereth incense, as if he blessed an idole: yea, they haue chosen their owne waies, and their soule desireth in their abominations.

4. Therefore will I chase out their delusions, and I will bring their feare vpon them, because I called, and none would answer: I spake and they would not heare: but they did euill in my sight, and chose the things which I would not.

5. Heare the woide of the Lord, al ye that tremble at his word. Pour vnto them that hated you, and cast you out for my names sake, said, Let the Lord be glorified: but he shall appeare to pour top, and they shall be ashamed.

6. A voice pouerth from the citie, euen a voice from the Temple, the voice of the Lord, that recompenseth his enemies full.

7. Before the trauailed, the brought forth: and before her paine came, shee was deliuered of a man child.

8. Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seene such things? shall the earth be brought forth in one day? or shall I make a nation be borne at once? or as soon as I command, shall they be brought forth here? saith the Lord.

9. Shall I come to trauaile, and nor bring forth? shall I come to bring forth, and shall be barren, saith the Lord?

10. Reioyce ye with Jerusalem, & bee glad with her, all ye that loue her: reioyce for ion with her, all ye that inuaine for her.

11. That ye may sucke, & bee satisfied with the breastes of her consolation: that ye may milke out and bee delited with the brightness of her gloire.

12. For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will extend my peace ouer her like a flood, and the gloire of the Gentiles like a flowing stream: then shall pee sucke, pee shall be bouie vpon her sides, and be ioyned full vpon her knees.

13. As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you, and ye shall be comforted in Jerusalem.

14. And when ye for this, pour heart shall reioyce, & your bones shall flourish like an herbe: and the hand of the Lord shall be known among his seruants, and his indignation against his enemies.

15. For beholde, the Lord will come with fire, and his chariots like a toprite winder, that he may recompense his anger with wrath, & his indignation with the flame of fire.

16. For the Lord will iudge with fire, and with his sword, all flesh, and the flame of the Lord shall man.

17. They that sacrifice themselves, and purifie themselves in the gardens beside one tree in the mudden eating, & swines flesh, and such abomination, euen the moule, shall be consumed together, saith the Lord.

18. For I will visite their wickednes, and their imaginations: for it shall come that I will gather all nations, and tongues, and they shall come, and see my gloire.

19. And I will set a signe among them, I will send those that escape of them, vnto the nations of Tarsus, & Pul, & Lud, and to them that dwelle in the house of Tubal, and of Haman, yea, a signe off, that haue not heard my name, neyther haue seene my gloire, and they shall declare my gloire among the Gentiles.

20. And they that bring all your brethren for an offering vnto the Lord out of all
